1963--- The Year In Review

January

JANUARY—The sixth annual United Fund Drive of Jensen and Rio got under way. The Lions had a broom sale. Jensen Bank re-elected all officers and directors. Rio residents fought rezoning land for use as a gas storage plant. Harry Hoke was made honorary chairman of the board of First Federal Savings and Loan of Martin County. New shuffleboard courts were completed at Langford Hall Park.

This month, Frank A. Wacha was re-elected chairman of the county commission, and Henry Kindred was re-elected chairman of the school board. Ed Miller and J. H. Bruner were sworn in as new members of the commission, Henry Gunn and Mrs. Jeanette Odom of the school board.

The county was recommended for inclusion in the disaster livestock feed program as a result of the December 13 freeze disaster.

The first of the big citrus land purchases predicted after the December freeze was recorded with the purchase by Minute Maid Grove Corp. of 4,630 acres for $1,389,900 at Indiantown.

February

FEBUARY—The Community Church dedicated the new cross and chimes at the church. The Jensen Rio United Fund went over the top for the sixth straight year. Maury Powers purchased Jensen Beach Bowling Lanes. Ocean Breeze Park celebrated its 25th anniversary. Trinity Methodist Church layed its cornerstone in the new church building. Al Palmer purchased Sampley's Variety Store.

And then there was the inclusion of Martin County in the 33rd Senatorial District made up of Martin, Okeechobee and Osceola Counties, with Senator Milo Bronson in office, caused some political commotion.

Circle T Ranch Rodeo played to 15,000 fans, a record.

Negotiations for a new beach park between the Hobe Sound Co. and the county were announced as "underway".

Judge C. Pfeiffer Trowbridge ruled in favor of the county, petitioner in suit against the Florida East Coast Railroad in right-of-way fight at Alice Ave., Rio.

Martin Memorial Hospital opened its new $1 million wing for public inspection and announced $250,000 drive for more funds.

Indiantown heard report of incorporation committee.

March

MARCH—Senator Milo Bronson visited Jensen Beach after accepting it as part of his new district, including Martin, Okeechobee and Osceola Counties. Work was begun on the new east relief bridge on Jensen Causeway. The Jensen Chamber of Commerce held a successful regatta. The Community Church began a bond drive. Frank Forsberg was elected president of the Chamber of Commerce. The fabulous Yacht Club Restaurant opened at Manatee Marina featuring a million dollar art exhibit.

The incorporation for Indiantown died after one meeting of the public.

Martin County Fair broke attendance records.

US 1 four-laning and the construction of St. Lucie Canal bridge was placed at the top of the county's State Road Dept. priority lists.

April

APRIL—The voters pressured the county not to put on a utility tax. Riptide Players gave their first of a series of excellent performances. James Dean was elected president of the Lions Club. Warner B. Tilton Jr. died following a long illness. Another season of slow pitch softball got under way in Jensen.

In addition, Eva Seabold was charged with intent to commit murder in connection with the shooting of her husband, Bobbie Lee Seabold.

Sale of Bessemer Port Mayaca groves for $3,750,000 announced. New owner, trusteeship involving many individuals.

County hires new zoning director-engineer, Mosely C. Collins Jr.

Indiantown post office contract defaulted, re-started.

May

MAY—Port St. Lucie's plan of annexation of their local property to the City of Port St. Lucie was opposed successfully by groups here. Al Hendry and Barbie Hoke became man and wife. Ocean Breeze Park annexed the Hendry property adjoining it and filed for a 1000 foot bulkhead. Mrs. Calvin Wilbur was elected Garden Club president.

And Lake Okeechobee division bill, which eventually passed, giving this county and others a share of lake, started in House of Representatives by Rep. William E. Owens.

In Leon County Circuit Court, $2,7 million refunding bond issue validated, to permit freeing of funds for new Jensen Beach Bridge to the ocean.

Ten miles of paving on Martin Grade promised as early SRD project.

Bond issue rate was favorable, $2,7 million rate was 3,83 per cent.

NEA preliminary study of school conditions completed.

June

JUNE—Tolls are removed from the bridges to the ocean. Jensen Beach received nationwide publicity in an article in Publisher's Auxiliary about the Mirror. Fishing was excellent and people crowded the beaches on "turtle watches".

New Tags Go On Sale Today

Florida automobile license tags will be considerably more expensive this year as a result of the enactment of the new 13-month plan and raise by the 1963 Legislature.

Motorists will be purchasing tags for 13 months instead of the usual 12.

The plan resulted after an attempt by the Legislature to move the tag sale opening to July 1. In 1965, tags will go on sale Febuary 1, in 1966 on March 1, and so on, for six years until the July 1 date arrives. This is to make the tag revenue more manageable in the state budget.

Tag buyers are cautioned to bring money and the car registration slip in order to save the clerks time in looking up registration data.

This year passenger car tags will cost $14.04 for a "D" tag, formerly $10.50; $22.17 for a plain tag, formerly $15.50; $30.29 for a "W" tag, last year $20.50; and $38.42 for a "WW" tag, that was $25.50 previously.

Truck tags are also more costly.

Building Permits Tops $7,000,000

Over seven million dollars in building permits have been issued in Martin County in 1964 setting a new record.

The total for the county, $7,220,000.00, was boosted by the recent Grumman $250,000 permit issued in December.

THREE DAY DELUGE DESTROYS SEAWALL AND FLOODS STREETS

The south wooden bulkhead at Jensen's beach was washed out at about 9 a. m. on Tuesday morning, as three days of hard, driving rain poured over ten and one half inches of water on Jensen beaches.

Jack Cammack, chief lifeguard, reported that the heavy seas and deluge of rain added stresses to the already weakened seawall and washed it, with the lifeguard stand, out. Cammack closed the beach to swimming on Tuesday morning, and issued warnings to motorists on the danger of parking at the beachfront parking area which has become unsafe with the loss of the seawall.

Martin County had just completed construction of a concrete seawall on the north portion of the beach pavilion a few months ago after unusual tides washed out that portion of wooden seawall. The south portion of that wooden seawall washed out in the rain this week will necessitate the completion of concreting seawalls at Jensen beaches pavilion.

The three day downpour ended Tuesday afternoon, after ten and 60/100 inches of windblown rain on streets, into stores and homes caused considerable water damage to merchants finding flooded floors upon opening stores Tuesday morning.

Talent Show Audition Tonight

Talent is still needed for the sixth annual benefit variety show, according to assistant director Laura Stuckey. Applications for audition will be accepted until tonight, January 2, at 7 p. m., the start of the auditioning to be held at Parker Elementary School.

Scheduled for January 29 and 30 in the Lyric Theatre, the show is sponsored by the Martin County Association for Retarded Children.

If you are interested in trying out for the performance, contact either Barbara Britton, AT 7-2020, or Laura Stuckey, AT 7-1550.

NEW YEAR'S EVE START IS QUIET

Martin County got off to a good start in 1964 as the people celebrating the event in the county gave sheriff's deputies an easy night, with no accidents reported.

GETTING READY---Donald Armstrong, left, architect, and Tom Crook, school superintendent, stand in front of the new brick sign at the entrance to the all new Martin County High School. On a guided press tour of the facility, Armstrong and Crook explained the new plant. The full story on this new addition to the school plant in Martin County is "Inside the Mirror" this week.

LEAVE IT TO SANDY CLAUS---Members of the Community Church Youth Fellowship produced, acted and helped to create a play, "Leave It To Sandy Claus", written by Mrs. Newton Tweedy. The play is a story of Christmas and Santa in the future, and features a giant robot and an astronautical Santa, and was played last Sunday night at the Community Church.

Chris Kalb Is Installed Worshipful Master

Christian Kalb of Jensen Beach was installed worshipful master of Acacia Lodge No. 163, F & AM, in ceremonies Friday night.

Past district deputy grand master Judge Evans Crary Jr. was installing officer.

A delegation from New York, former home of Kalb, attended the installation.

Also installed with Kalb were John C. Gray, senior warden; Joseph Henderson, junior warden; James Foster, PM, treasurer; Charles Rue, PM, secretary; Fred Niebling, senior deacon; Lloyd Proper, junior deacon; Artie Dubberly, senior steward; Irvin Rhodes, junior steward; Carl Dykes, marshal; and Paul Moore, tyler.

Symbol Tree Was Erected

"A Christmas tree with symbols instead of the traditional ornaments and tinsel is not only festive and beautiful for Christmas, but contributes to something worthwhile to the spirit of worship during the holy season," Reverend Donald K. Schroeder, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church, said last week.

Descriptively, Rev. Schroeder went on to explain the 25 symbols of the tree that was on display for the public as well as members of the church. "All of the symbols refer to Christ in some way," he said. "They are copies of the design carved or drawn by some of the earliest Christians as they told of Christ."

"They were found in various places... some on jewelry and utensils and others on doors or in catacombs or in buildings.

"They were used by the early Christians to identify themselves to each other and to show unbelievers in whom they believed," he continued.

All of the 25 symbols employed in the tree required many hours of tedious work, all were hand made.

Rev. Schroeder expressed his gratitude for the efforts of Mrs. Junette Jensen and Mrs. Edith Tressler for inaugurating the custom.

All the symbols are made in white and gold-white, the liturgical color for Christmas, referring to the Lord's purity and His perfection; gold refers to His majesty and glory. Only white lights are used on the tree.

There are basic symbols and combinations of basic symbols on the tree.

The circle is a symbol of eternity. Alpha and Omega, the first and last letters of the Greek alphabet are there, and the Greek letter Chi, the first letter of Christ in the Greek language.

The Cross and the Crown and the Ball with the cross on top of it and the Sun and the Rose and the butterfly are there.

An explanation of the symbols and a description of them is available at the church, in order that visitors may understand the tree and its meaning.

Rev. Schroeder said the public is welcome to visit the church from 8 a. m. until 10 p. m. from now until January 6.

Mrs. Clara Elizabeth Fogarty

Mrs. Clara Elizabeth Fogarty, 71, a resident of 310 Indian River Drive, Jensen Beach, died in Martin Memorial Hospital last Wednesday, following a lengthy illness.

A native of Sandusky, Ohio, she had made her home here for the past 22 years. She was a member of Saint Joseph's Catholic Church of Stuart.

She is survived by husband, William R. Fogarty, Jensen Beach; one son, John R. DeHart, West Port, Conn.; one sister, Mrs. Catherine Stevens, Jensen Beach; and three grandchildren.

A rosary was said in Johns Funeral Home Chapel Thursday at 8 in St. Joseph's Church Friday at 9:30 a. m.

Burial was in All Saints Cemetery in Jensen Beach.

Donations Received By Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Brown, Port Sewell, have contributed an additional amount of $11, 800 to the Martin Memorial Hospital Fund drive, according to chairman Roland Merrell.

The total contribution by this couple, Merrell said, is $29, 000.

He also announced the contribution of $5, 000 by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew D. Berkey, Port Sewall, to the fund, bringing the total contribution to the fund during Christmas season to $30, 000.

Fire In Salerno

A brush fire that swept from a point near US 1 south of Salerno nearly across to A1A in the south side of Port Salerno kept Port Salerno fireman and men from the county truck busy Thursday afternoon.

Firemen turned the blaze away from the small Negro community well out in the brushlands south of Van's Flower Farm as the fire moved eastward.

No reports of damages to dwelling or outbuildings were known.

Ruth O'Halloran Visits In Jensen

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heritage are having an exceptionally fine holiday this year because her sister, Ruth O'Halloran, who was severely ill, recovered and flew down to be with them for the holidays.

In addition, their niece, Patsy, is home from Orlando to be with her mother, uncle, and aunt.

A Grateful Thank You

A grateful thank you from Mrs. Harry Heritage who delivered, purchased, and sorted the food orders, clothing, and toys to 28 underprivileged children of Jensen Beach. Those who helped with the donations are as follows: The Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department, Frances Langford Foundation, Lions International, Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce, Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of WWI, Cub Scout Pack No. 401 headed by Mrs. Harper Quinn, Lentz Fruit Groves, The Thrift Shop of Jensen Beach Community Church, "Santa" Harry Heritage, and several other generous individuals who prefer to remain anonymous.

Mrs. Heritage also wishes to extend a thank you to the girl scouts, headed by Mrs. Richard Carroll, who accompanied Santa and sang Christmas carols for our elderly folk in Indian River Nursing Home when he delivered a huge box of fruit and candy to them to add to their Christmas cheer.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Grant and children, Kay and Curt, New Egypt, N. J., are spending two weeks at Jensen Beach Trailer Court and are being entertained by Grant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Woyke, Ocean View Circle.

Wally Gardner, Hibiscus Rd., joined his son, Douglas Gardner, Kay Biscayne, on a trip to Ormound Beach December 24 where they spent the Christmas holiday with W. Gardner's daughter, Mrs. Eddy Lincoln and family.

Gardner and his son returned December 26.

Q: Are employees at my residence covered under the liability section of my Homeowner's policy in any manner?

A: Domestic servants are covered for the medical payments section of your policy and also you have coverage for Employer's Liability in the event the domestic should sue you due to their being injured while working at your home.

Q: My young son recently was playing ball and the ball hit my neighbor's sliding glass doors and broke one. Do I have any coverage for this under my Homeowner's policy?

A: You have coverage for damage to the property of others as long as it is not willful and done with intent of malice. The limit of liability is usually $250 under most policies.

Q: Can I add coverage for my outboard boat and motor to my homeowner's policy?

A: Yes, the liability is covered at no extra charge by many of the companies, and the coverage for a boat, motor and trailer can usually be added directly to the policy at a reduced rate.

Waves Wreak Havoc On Jensen's Beaches County Will Seek Federal Aid For Erosion

UNITED FUND President Zola Swarthout and Drive Chairman Al Palmer, have their plans underway for the forthcoming drive January 13 through 20.

Federal aid for Martin County's beach erosion problem was asked this Wednesday in a telephone conversation with Congressman Paul Rogers by County Commission Chairman Frank Wacha. Asking for emergency aid for the ever increasing washout of sand from the beaches, Wacha said that there was not enough money in the budget this year for any but emergency actions by the county. He added, in a conversation with the Mirror, that any action should be of a permanent nature, rather than expensive temporary measures.

Just a few months ago, the county put in a concrete seawall at the Jensen Beach pavilion as waves undercut and washed out the wooden retaining wall.

United Fund Kickoff Monday; Goal $7,000

By Zola Swarthout

The Rev. Neil M. Gunsalus, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church, will be the speaker at the seventh annual Jensen Beach-Rio United Fund Association's "Kick-Off Breakfast".

The breakfast will be held on Monday at 8:00 a.m. at Milan's Restaurant on SR 707, and marks the start of the week long drive for 10 agencies with a goal of $7,000.

"All members and workers of the 'All For One and One For All' drive", said Mrs. Zola Swarthout, president, "are invited to attend."

Mrs. Helen Richardson is program chairman, with Richard Campbell as emcee. Mrs. Rick Carroll is in charge of the breakfast. Members of the Jensen Beach Girl Scouts will serve.

Others participating in the program are the Rev. Norman B. Feaster, the Rev. Jack Fernandez, and the Rev. Newton Tweedy.

Al Palmer, drive chairman, will give a brief talk.

"The officers and directors", said Mrs. Swarthout, "inspired by the leadership of drive chairman Al Palmer, are confident that we will meet our goal of $7,000".

Since the first United Fund drive was held in 1957, the association has "gone over the top" every year.

Agencies which requested to be included in the United Fund drive are the Martin County Red Cross Chapter; Martin County Retarded Children's Association; Martin County Crippled Children and Adults; Martin County Assoc. for Mental Health.

The Martin County Animal Rescue League; Langford-Park Assoc.; Rio and Jensen Beach Boy Scouts; Rio and Jensen Beach Girl Scouts.

Jensen Beach Samitarians (free community ambulance); Jensen Beach Community Center; Jensen Beach-Rio Emergency Fund for community use.

Members of the Rio-Jensen Beach Boy Scouts will distribute the informative letter to all residents prior to the drive, under the direction of J. D. Lookadoo.

The drive will be held January 13th to 20th.

The "Victory Dance" will be held February 7 at Seymour's Inn, with William J. Weiss and Mrs. Gus Fredricks in charge.

Allocation of funds will be determined by the executive committee, which is composed of Mrs. Swarthout, Vice presidents Campbell, Palmer and Mrs. Richardson, and Martin Wahl, Secretary-Treasurer.

Register For Adult School Classes Before January 16

Registration in the Martin County Adult School will continue for the remainder of this week and through next week, according to E. B. Horton, director of adult education.

New registrations should be made prior to January 16.

Those who plan to continue courses started in the first semester need not re-register, but will resume the same classes on the same nights of the week.

The following adult centers will be conducting courses for the second semester: Martin County High School, Warfield, Booker Park, Hobe Sound, Dumbar, Port Salerno Elementary and Carver Gardens.

All adults in the county who do not have high school diplomas have an opportunity to enroll in these courses leading to high school graduation. These diplomas are recognized by universities and colleges, industries and businesses as being equal to the diplomas earned by students in the regular school program.

Special funds for the local adult educational program are available under the state's minimum foundation program. These funds may not be used for regular educational purposes, and if not used here, are used in other counties.

The next set of GED tests to be given for a diploma will be offered in March, Horton said.

Panthers Kill Prize Peacocks At Evinrudes'

Two prize Peahen, Peacock and a Turkey on the Evinrude estate were obvious victims of marauding panthers last Friday night. The panthers first appeared on the estate two weeks ago, according to Jack Scranton, who is in charge of the estate grounds. At that time, a workman, Henry McKinny, heard a Peahen cry out, and upon investigation, saw a panther dragging the bird into the bushes.

McKinny shot at the cat, but missed. Later investigation showed large footprints, and McKinny said the cat had a long tail and was very large in the darkness.

Then, last Friday, two prize Peahens, a Peacock and a 35 pound Turkey were missing. Tracks of a panther, smaller than the previous tracks, were found, and it was discovered that the birds were dragged into the brush.

Traps set by Evinrude employees for the panthers have been found sprung, but no fur or blood on the traps was indicated, meaning that the panthers were not wounded, or that some other animals tripped the traps.

The Evinrude estate is a showplace of Martin County, and the gardens at the estate are recog-

Cunninghams' Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Will Cunningham, known to everyone in our town as "Mom and Pop", celebrated their 43rd wedding anniversary on January 4th.

The couple, natives of Cleveland, Ohio, came here fifteen years ago to make their permanent home.

Cunningham was a policeman and later constable of Rocky River, Ohio. After retirement from his duties, he and Mrs. Cunningham joined friends in the carnival business and travelled with the shows for six years.

In 1946, a friend suggested that Cunningham accompany him to Florida in a moving van destined for this area. He made the trip and upon his return, told "Mom" he had found the perfect spot for their retirement.

They bought a trailer, which, Mom said, "Looked immense to us then, but was actually a fourteen footer."

The Cunninghams chose a spot under a huge mango tree at Pitchfords Camp, settled down to enjoy these many years of contentment among their friends and neighbors, and that same spot is their home today.

1st Federal Reports 1963 Successful

First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Martin County has reported that 1963 was a successful year for them, according to James A. Garvey, executive vice-president of First Federal.

Total assets held as of Dec. 31, 1963, were $11,614,869, an increase of over $1,800,000 from assets held last year.

First Federal Savings depends almost entirely on public savings for the resources with which to make home mortgage loans in the community. During 1963, net savings gains, the amount by which new savings exceeded withdrawals, totaled $1,553,963, bringing total savings at the end of the year to $10,164,658. These savings funds provide a basic non-inflationary source of capital for the construction of the many new private homes and community facilities which are needed each year, Garvey said.

First Federal distributed record total dividends to savers in 1963. Dividend payments totaled $384,727 based on a basic rate of four and a quarter percent. Since the association opened its offices in 1956, a total of $1,427,715 has been paid in dividends to savings accountholders. Savings accounts are insured up to $10,000 for each account by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp., a federal agency established by Congress for this express purpose.

Total lending volume during 1963 reached $2,730,791, a 38% gain over 1962's volume.

amaritans Reports 183 Calls During '63

The Jensen Ambulance Samaritans handled 183 calls during the year of 1963 as compared with 125 calls in 1962 and 40 calls in the first year of operation in 1957, according to Martin Wahl, president of the organization.

Wahl attributed the steady increase to changes in population occurring in the Jensen Beach area. Many lives have been saved by applying oxygen and taking care of calls as quickly as possible, he added.

The service is presently accomplished with the aid of two or three volunteer teams of helpers on each case 24 hours per day, seven days a week, with driver chairmen in different sections of Jensen Beach who have teams of helpers on call at all times. The sectionalization of the area requires the help of 30 men.

In addition to providing ambulance service, the Jensen Area Samaritans, Inc., loan out hospital beds, crutches, walkers, wheel chairs, and many other things necessary for those in need.

The Samaritans are soley supported by the Jensen-Rio United Fund Ass'n., but also accept donations for refilling shortages in loan items.

The Jensen Beach Post Office personnel are supplying the gas and oil during the month of January for the ambulance. They are part of the group that maintains the ambulance throughout the year.

Nine other sources contribute on a rotation basis.

Netto Construction Submits Low Bid On Salerno School

Netto Construction Co., Vero Beach, was apparent low bidder for the Carver Gardens Junior-Senior High School addition contract at Port Salerno.

Seven bids were opened Friday morning at a special school board meeting exposing Netto's base bid of $352,826, with 270 days for completion.

Netto is nearing completion of the new Martin County High School on Indiantown Rd.

Bids on the Carver Gardens project included 11 alternates in addition to the base bid.

School Architect Donald Armstrong will tabulate the bids and report back to the school board, which is expected to award the contract at a special meeting at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Other bidders were: Southeastern General Corporation of Miami, $355,827; John B. Tschirgi, West Palm Beach, $359,000; Stobs Brothers Construction Co. of Miami, $363,432; Snead Construction Corporation of Fort Lauderdale, $369,900; M. R. Chermin Construction, Inc., North Miami, $364,460; and Development Corporation of America, Hollywood, $376,000.

The purchase of 392 combination locks for student lockers, costing $960, was also approved by the board for the new high school.

DANCE IS SET FOR JANUARY 18

Order of Demolay, Acacia Chapter, is sponsoring a Sweetheart dance January 18, from 8 to 12 p. m.

Dress is semi-formal, dates only. A large band and refreshments are featured. Two dollars each couple.

ALIENS TO REPORT DURING JANUARY

Annual alien address reporting is again under way, according to District Director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service Edward P. Ahrens.

In 1963, 185,000 aliens reported their addresses last year in Florida, he said. A smaller figure is expected for 1964, attributed to the cessation of airline flights from Cuba.

Address reports are required by law and willful failure to comply with these requirements may lead to serious consequences, the Immigration official pointed out.

Report forms are available at all Post Offices and Immigration and Naturalization Service offices. Personnel will be on hand to answer any question regarding immigration and naturalization matters at the Immigration and Naturalization Service offices, but will not be available at the Post Offices.

SOCIAL SECURITY

By R. C. Gehrken Jr.
District Manager

wooden seawall south of the concrete structure holding k the sand fill under the Jensen ch pavilion. Continuous action the waves and ocean tides have en cutting back the beach, drag- sand out into the Atlantic.

Already the loss of beach has n measured at six feet, and rror photographs show on this the loss of three feet at the er mark of the sand on the crete seawall since its con- ction.

E GUARD STAND GONE

Waves undermined a permanent guard stand, eight feet square, stood in the middle of the pavilions. The tides dragged stand out into the surf, broke twisted it into pieces, and threw it back on the shore some two hundred yards to the north. Tides are still battering the sand seawall, and what is left of the wooden seawall, bent over and collapsing into the continuous eroding motion of the ocean.

Danger to the south Jensen Beach pavilion is becoming more and more evident as the tides dig into and cut away sand from under the building. Temporary shoring is planned by the county to hold the building up, according to Wacha.

"We must do this right," Wacha said in a Mirror interview. "The money we would spend on temporary holding actions is not there. We do not have enough in the budget to get a seawall built.

"Our appeal will be made as Congress reconvenes on Wednesday, and we sincerely hope that Congressman Rogers can get emergency funds to allow federal aid to fix the beaches.

"It is not just a problem at Jensen's beaches", he added. "The problem extends to public beaches up and down Hutchinson Island. Something must be done, and the county is not in a position to afford the cost of such construction. Also, it must be done now, while we can save the public facilities available at both the Jensen and Stuart beaches.

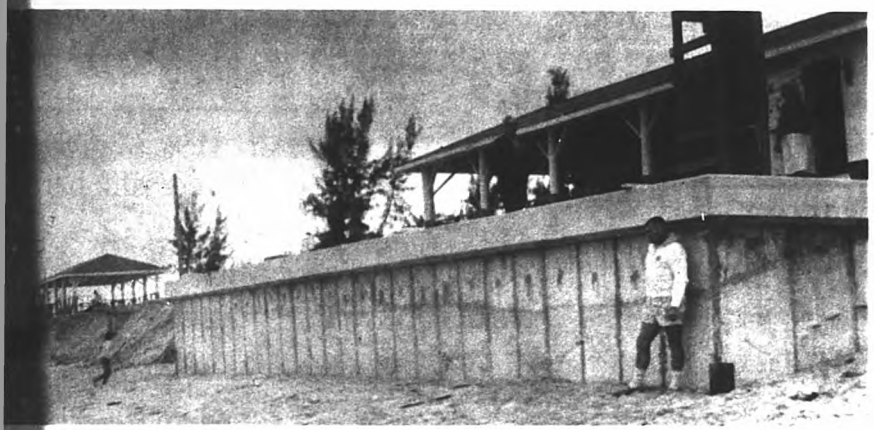
CAMMACK CONCERNED

Jensen Beach head lifeguard, Jack Cammack, expressed concern over the condition of the beaches. "I have reported the seawall going and the danger of losing the pavilion to the county. I only hope that they can get it done in time. We have a good beach here."

Cammack has been improving the beach conditions since taking over the post in the past year. He has installed the flag system showing beach conditions, and has suggested changes to make the beach more safe, receiving full cooperati on for the county commission.

"They (the county commission) have been very good to me," Cammack said. "They gave me everything I wanted, within reason. The new signs, flags, painted pavilions and bulkheading has made the beach 100% better," he added.

Details on the request for federal aid were not available at Mirror presstime, as Wacha was placing the telephone call Wednesday morning.



HOWING EROSION--Head lifeguard Jack Cammack stands at the base of the newly constructed concrete seawall, showing the six foot op in sand, and (at his wrist) the sand line marking the depth of sand lost to the sea in Martin County's erosion problem.

READY TO GO--Emergency action by the county will be taken to shore up the pavilion pictured above, already in dangerous condition by the undercutting action of the tides. Remains of the formidable seawall washed out by the tides of the past few months are seen turning out into the beach at left. The county hopes for federal aid to permanently save the beachfront in public areas.

COMPLETELY GONE--The wooden seawall which once supported the sand fill and parking area for automobiles at the beach is completely ed away at this point on the beach. The old sand line is shown in the three foot drop from the steps at the recently built concrete ll. Autos have been warned to park away from the edge of the weakened sand bank for fear of cave-ins.

TWISTED BEAMS--All that remains of an eight foot square lifeguard stand is these twisted timbers and the roof, after being pulled from the shore by tides and waves, tossed and tumbled over 200 yards to a point north of the pavilion, seen at the top of the picture.

9 MILLION GOOF

The Mirror erred on the First Federal Savings and Loan Association advertisement last week, reporting a figure $9 million short. The first mortgage loans should have read $9,980,559.35. The error is corrected in this edition of the Mirror.

OH, SO SERIOUS—At the briefing following the kickoff breakfast at Milan's Restaurant, drive chairman Al Palmer explains a point to Mrs. Gus Fredrichs (Mike) as they plan their canvassing for the United Fund Drive this week.

United Fund Gets $1,350. Boost At Kickoff Meeting

The Jensen Beach—Rio United Fund was kicked off Monday morning as 45 volunteers heard reports of donations of $900 collected, and volunteer workers themselves set the mood by pledging over $450 to the drive.

The UF goal for 1964 is $7,000. Workers began canvassing the Jensen Beach, Rio, Walton and Eden areas for funds Monday Eden areas for funds Monday morning for the drive, which will last through next Monday. The volunteers were headed by drive chairman Albert Palmer, and his assistant drive Chairman Dick Campbell, and Mrs. Charles Hall of Rio.

The program, held at Milan's Restaurant, was opened by UF president Zola Swarthout. The invocation was by the Rev. Norman B. Feaster. The program chairman, Mrs. Helen Richardson, introduced Rev. Malcolm Tweedy, who used magic in showing the volunteers how to make money appear out of the air, and a small printing press that would produce one dollar and ten dollar bills from scrap paper.

Dick Campbell, the master of ceremonies, introduced Martin Wahl, secretary treasurer of UF, who reported on expenditures of the past year. Al Palmer, drive chairman, was then introduced and he presented each chairman. The featured speaker, Rev. Neil Gunsalus of the Trinity Methodist Church, talked on the identity of the United Fund as being a way of doing good in the community.

Following the talk by Gunsalus, special gifts were announced. Also, volunteer workers made their pledges. The total was from $1350 to $1450 in the late afternoon by a $100 donation from First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Martin County.

Monday evening the officers of the United Fund met in the Kick-off Coffee of the Mars Hill area. Mrs. Alice Dixon and William Delancy were introduced, along with their area chairmen for the district. Rev. Malcolm Tweedy of the Community Church presented a program of magic. Thirty persons were present at the meeting.

By Tuesday morning many volunteer workers were canvassing their districts, some already completing areas after an all day Monday canvass.

County Approves 200 Ft. Bulkhead To Save Jensen Beach Pavilion In Erosion

ELECTED—New vice-president of Jensen Beach Bank, and cashier, is Robert Smith, elected at the annual stockholder meeting of the bank on Tuesday.

The Jensen Beach Bank this year reported assets of $2,458,385.43 in the period ending December 31, 1963.

Martin County commissioners quickly jumped into the spirit of an emergency situation as they received a report of the dangerous erosion at Jensen Beach, the loss of a lifeguard stand, and the possible loss of a pavilion as tides and waves undermine and wash out sand from the beach.

$5600 was appropriated with $5000 coming from capital outlay and $600 coming from District A. They awarded, on the emergency basis, a contract to Charles Smith Construction Company to build the 200 feet of 16' concrete bulkhead at $28 per foot.

County Engineer Fred Bell entered the article on the dangerous situation as was reported first by the Jensen Beach Mirror last week. The article and accompanying pictures will be used to record the necessity of the bulkhead, and will be used as evidence in future studies of the beach erosion problem, according to Bell.

The county presently plans appeals to the state and national governments for assistance in the erosion on Hutchinson Island.

AIR CRASH KILLS TWO

The investigation into the causes of the crash of a two-engine de Haviland Dove 11-passenger aircraft here last Thursday was concluded Tuesday afternoon at the Stuart airport.

Two pilots, William E. Martin, 24, of Concord, N. H., and Russel E. Wells, 42, Edgartown, Mass., died in the crash. Vernon Skelton, Port Sewall, who was driving his truck on A1A west of the airport when the plane crashed, is in Martin Memorial Hospital recuperating from injuries suffered when the falling aircraft drove his truck into a ditch.

The investigation ended without announcement last Tuesday afternoon.

Wells was at the controls, investigators believe, when the crash occurred.

The plane will be released to the insuring company in a few days, it was believed Tuesday.

Rivers Tournament Set For Jan 18, 19

The Stuart Sailfish Club will sponsor the second annual Rivers Tournament January 18 and 19. Fishing will be restricted to rod and reel only, one rod to each angler, and the longest fish take the prizes, in most cases.

Snook, spotted sea trout, bluefish, sheepshead and weakfish only will be eligible for the length prizes, but a special weight category goes to the heaviest fish of any species except sharks or rays.

Some of the top anglers in the area have entered, including Tiny Hopkins, a snook specialist; Don Diehl, the same; Chuck Kindred, president of the Izaak Walton League chapter here, Tom Crook, superintendent of schools; Jack Kuhn, a state director of the Walton League; Jerry Smith, one of the original founders of the Sailfish Club; and other speciality fishermen.

FREDRICKS LAND FIVE SAILS

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Fredricks of Ocean Breeze Park were out on the Baishee out of Fort Pierce, and landed five sail fish in a party of four.

HOWDY, PARTNERS—Whal, grab me a lasso and let's herd them vittles down to the bunk house where we can slosh down some coffee and bunkroll... or something? Anyway, this (?) is not an invasion by Texans, but a publicity occasion for the Martin County Commission. New cowboy hats for the commissioners, attorney and engineer were given at Tuesdays meeting to publicize the Troup Circle T Rodeo, in Indiantown. At the rodeo the commissioners might be asked to rope a steer, or ride a bronc, and we are sure they would win, hands down, if they were asked to "throw the ball". Left to right in this dapper array are, Jack Williamson, Jack Saunderson, Frank Wacha, Dean Tucker and Ed Miller. Shore is a good lookin' crop this year.

to the United States for use of the state subsequently formed.

"The sale of these lands is illegal, yet it is being done by the state from day to day," he added.

He specified that swamp land, overflooded land, and Murphy deed lands were not included, but pointed out that the sovereign lands were in an exclusive category.

He cited the recently well-quoted case of the Illinois Central Railroad versus the State of Illinois for background.

The sale of submerged lands in Florida started back in the boom-time days, he said, and even at that time, the State Supreme Court held they were not subject to sale.

"The cases they cite now are those made in the 1920's," he pointed out.

"We don't feel the citizens of the state should be forced to defend each case as it comes up," he said, and pointed the way to blanket cases which could be made to cover wide areas of thought.

"I don't feel turning to the legislature is the answer, the 1963 legislature passed statutes with the intent of cutting off these sales, but the IIF continues to sell them," he added.

He also said that sales by the IIF continue to be made because attorneys try cases on specifics, not on broad cases.

CRASH DISRUPTS WIRE SERVICES

Stock market tickers in Palm Beach, Western Union lines south of Stuart, Florida Highway Patrol teletype circuit from Fort Pierce to West Palm Beach, sheriff's teletype line from Fort Pierce to West Palm Beach, and other services were interrupted by the crash of the twin-engine deHavilland Dove aircraft a quarter mile from Stuart Airport last Thursday.

But Florida Power and Light Co. which had a pole sliced off ten feet above the ground, didn't lose power until it was shut off as a safety precaution for the public.

J. V. Little, FP&L district supervisor who was at the scene of the crash, said the line serviced the fair grounds and county agriculture building south of the scene on A1A.

The main line sagged when the pole was cut, but power continued until Little opened the line as a safety precaution.

Before the plane had been removed, FP&L crews had moved in, removed the old pole, put in a new one, hooked up the wires again, and service was resumed.

The unhappiest utility workman on the scene was E. J. Millard, 29, of 1108 Club Dr., Fort Pierce, wire maintenance man for Western Union.

He arrived at the scene before the flames were extinguished, bawled orders to anyone and everyone who would listen and some who wouldn't, and demanded that the plane be moved off his company's wires.

When he refused to quiet down, he was charged with disorderly conduct by Deputy Sheriff Gerald Brown and hauled off to county jail.

He posted a $50 cash bond and returned to the scene, a little subdued. He continued to work quietly through the afternoon.

"The citizens must be informed that these lands are theirs in an inalienable trust," he emphasized, and referred to Ervin's letter.

"We must end these sales which disturb fishing grounds, fish hatcheries and bird rookeries," he said.

He pointed out that Texas deems these submerged lands worth $370 per acre per year to the state, and added: "The IIF certainly is not getting this price for the lands being sold."

"We've now embarked on a $50 million land acquisition program at the same time we're selling bottomlands illegally," he added.

He asked that the Izaak Walton League and other conservation groups band together to halt these sales.

He answered questions at the close of his talk.

Previously, Mellor conferred with conservation organization representatives from Martin, St. Lucie, Palm Beach, and Indian River Counties.

Roberts is treasurer of the Lee County Conservation group.

Roberts, at that meeting, cited that appeals to state officials and the purchasers of submerged lands on moral grounds often get nowhere, but appeals on the damage such sales does to business is more effective in stopping them.

Both Roberts and Mellor outlined the long, difficult task taken on the Fort Myers association to get the legal background needed for the fight.

"Attorneys have told us we did up to $15,000 worth of research in the 200 to 300 hours our members spent on it," he deliberated.

He said that reading law books, following tips from friendly attorneys who had to remain anonymous because of their positions, and from state officials all the way up the ladder, got results.

"Attorneys are sometimes reluctant to attach their names to tips on the problems because they make their money handling the sales cases," charged Roberts.

He told of "nailing down" the meaning of riparian rights, shoreline, navigable waters, and other misused terms resulting from the studies.

At the afternoon session, it was revealed that big Lawyers Title Insurance Company had backed away from guaranteeing titles on filled lands last May 1st under some conditions.

Agreement to continue a policy of informing the public of official state action was outlined.

MOTEL OWNERS ARE CAUTIONED

Motel owners were urged to be aware of the possibility that they could be the victims of short-stay thieves, after Hickman Motel on US 1, south of Stuart city limits, lost a television set to a couple Friday night.

Harvey Kase, manager of the motel, said a couple registered as Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, giving a Miami address. He said they had a small light blue or green Ford with tag number 1-147312, Florida.

Saturday morning, after they left, it was discovered that a table model Zenith television set was gone from the room.

When Deputy Sheriff Tom Wyatt checked out the tag number and name, it was discovered that the tag belonged to a Dodge at a different address in Miami.

Among the guests to return to Edenlawn for another winter season are Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Klymer, Evanston, Ill.

County Wide Power Out In Freezer

Power failed in two transmission lines Tuesday morning, one at the north county line, and the other between Hobe Sound and the south county line.

John Law, Florida Power and Light manager here, said the heavy lines broke because of the cold weather at 4:25 p. m.

The temperature was 35 at the time, reaching 32 at dawn with winds from the north at four miles per hour.

Power was restored in one area after another starting at 7:35 a. m. and continuing until shortly after 8:00 a. m., when all sections again had light tions again had lights.

Radio Station WSTU operated on emergency power for the three hours, along with the sheriff's department radio and the telephone company.

An early estimate of losses included that of Kenneth Wright's tropical fish farm, where $1,000 worth of fish awaiting shipment died because the power failed on the pump supplying tank air.

Law said the two lines that failed had been re-worked only last summer.

"We thought we were in good shape. It's the first time we've ever lost two at the same time," he said.

Tentative Water Contract Approved By Commissioners

A formerly tentative contract between the City of Stuart and Southern Gulf Utilities was ratified by the city commission by resolution Monday night, and its terms were announced.

Major points under the terms of the contract provide for the payment by the utility company of 22 cents per thousand gallons of water consumed to the city, and an advance by the city to the utility company of $35,671.92, to be repaid in 20 years at four per cent interest for the cost of a 12-inch main from the city limits on Ocean Blvd. to Steele Point.

In addition, terms for the monthly billing of water, maintenance of equipment, and Sewall's Point and Hutchinson Island franchise were included in the contract.

This provides for a meter installation at Steele Point, with the city operating and maintaining it; construction of a half-million gallon minimum capacity reservoir on Sewall's Point, which the utility company has the franchise.

Cost of the mains from the city limits to Steele Point totalled $35,671.92, part of the $71,592.65 contract awarded to Cambron Construction Co., Inc., Dec. 16, which included the mains from the water plant to the city limits, cost of which will be carried by the city, and the main to the high school, which will be paid for by the county school board.

City Manager Joe N. Crowder said last night that inquiries for service on these mains were ready as far east as Steele Point, which is at the west end of St. Lucie Bridge, and along Indiantown Rd. to the high school.

Water supplied outside the city limits has been charged for a 20 per cent premium, with users paying all costs of mains. The policy will be reviewed Monday, but probably will remain the same.

The adoption of the resolution was followed by a unanimous vote of appreciation to Crowder for his work in bringing the project to this point.

Crowder reported, too, that mains were on hand for the Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp. being paid for by the county.

Star Construction Co. of Fort Pierce, Inc., has the contract as low bidder at $29,207.12.

Crowder said that Grumman is building a 200,000 gallon storage reservoir at the airport.

Mains for both projects were unloaded from freight cars and dropped beside the highways last week.

Tax Collections Increased 17.35%

TALLAHASSEE—Director of the Florida Revenue Commission J. Ed Straughn said Thursday that sales and use tax collections for December totaled $18,299,809, an increase of $2,700,835 or 17.35 per cent over last December.

Fiscal year collections totaled $103,486,161, an increase of 17.25 per cent, or $15,226,804, he added.

"This percentage of increase is only slightly below our estimate of what the increase would have to be at this time to meet the annual estimate," Straughn said.

"It indicates further, we are getting better compliance each month, for which we are most grateful.

"Assuming that the present apparent acceleration of business in Florida will continue, the experience of the first six months makes us feel hopeful that the estimates of the legislature will be realized."

Straughn reported that the five per cent wholesale sporting goods tax produced $76,593 in December, which was $5,165, or 7.23 per cent more than was received from November collections. Fiscal year collections total $289,547.

"The five per cent wholesale tax is not producing as it should due to the fact several law suits are under way," he said. "The expected revenue won't be realized until the validity of the law is finally settled."

High School Youth Attacked

Donald Gilliam, a seventeen-year-old sophomore at Martin County High School, was rushed to Martin Memorial Hospital in an unconscious state the evening of January 6th, the victim of a beating by unidentified assailants.

The youth, who lives with his parents at Seminole Inn, had attended the revival services at Dunklin Memorial Baptist Church and had stopped to speak to his parents at the Inn, where they are employed.

Feeling restless, the boy had gone for a walk along Warfield Blvd., (SR 710) northwest of the Inn.

Information he was able to supply to Deputy Sheriff Floyd McAllister indicated the boy thought he had been attacked by a group of Negro youths, but the possibility that he was attacked by a gang of youths from Okeechobee was not discounted locally.

Recently, there has been ill feeling between an Indiantown group of youths and a similar group in Okeechobee, where a embryo gang fight was broken up by Okeechobee police recently.

Gilliam was found on Fox Brown Road, where he had apparently been dropped from a car. The road is about three miles northwest of the Inn and runs north from there to Martin Grade. Gilliam was found near its intersection with SR 710 by Mrs. Virginia Baker, who also had been at the revival ervice.

She lives on Fox Brown Road. he aw Gilliam on the road, drove to the home of Mr. Marion Hill man, who she got to return to the cene with her.

he left Mrs. Hillsman and another woman and went into town to get McAllister and the Indiantown ambulance.

Mrs. Richard Yoder, also on her way home, saw Gilliam and also reported the find to authorities.

The ambulance, driven by Lloyd Smith, with Dickie Tillis assistant drove the unconscious boy to the hospital where he was admitted.

Authorities said he had received a concussion, cuts and bruises, and possible internal injuries.

The cuts were apparently inflicted by a razor, and slashed both arms and his stomach regions.

Sheriff Roy C. Baker said the investigation is continuing.

The beating is not the first reported in the area recently.

The Gilliams lived on Fox Brown Road before moving into the Inn recently.

For a time, the youth lived by himself on the lonely road, but had since moved into town.

His mother said he liked to walk at night and was an avid hunter and woodsman. She could give no reason for the attack, which, injuries indicated, was brutal.

FISHING NEWS

Blues continue to be the b thing in fishing this week, there's running down deep, for the mo part. Bottom fishing in the Cros roads area, Sun Parlor, and bill fishing in and out of the inlet seem to be worthwhile. Tides are run ning from one to five pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schantz caught eight in the surf and Mr and Mrs. Sparrows five, also with 20 weakfish.

Snook fishing has been fair good, with some in the Sout Fork, more in the North Fork a some big ones off the bridges. O. T. Holland got a 29-pounde off the St. Lucie Bridge, and few more were caught there.

Specs have been plentiful C-23, C-24 and St. Lucie Canal

Up the river on the North Fo are lots of jacks for light tackle fun, if not for anything else.

Sea trout are extra good in th Indian River from the Crossroa north to above the Jensen Beac Bridge. Ed Ahrens, nabbed h plug casting.

Offshore fishing weathered o early in the week, but they we plentiful until then.

nited Fund Passes $7,000. Goal In Ten Days As mmunity Responds To Appeal; Victory Dance Feb. 7

S PUNCH--Drive Chairman Al Palmer of the United Fund stands with several area captains during the successful Monday night ctivities and collections of workers in the week long drive. At this point in the drive the total had reached $4,454.55, and ions were on the rise that the first report would exceed all expectations. Monday night the total reached $6,306.00 for a new one week of the goal. Captains above are, left to right, Anita Tilton Wacha Orlena Braun and Mardee St. Clair.

The Jensen Beach-Rio United Fund is over the top. Early Wednesday morning reports from workers pushed the money received over the $7,000 mark, goal of the drive. Officers of the drive were jubilant, and cited the response of the public as "magnificent". It is the first time that the drive has gone over the goal so early.

With the drive starting on January 13th, zone 13 reported the highest return from donations. Rio, zone 13, turned in $862.35 for the highest amount from any zone, and the highest figure given in the seven year history of the drive. Drive co-chairmen Mrs. Charles Hall and Alexander B. Wilson reported that seventeen workers assisted in the house to house canvass.

The success of the drive was indicated early this year, as volunteers reported many homes and businesses having checks waiting for them when they called. A $100 donation from Jensen Beach Bank Wednesday morning helped push the total over the top.

At the Monday night meeting for workers to turn in their money, drive area captains reported their response as being "very gratifying". Al Palmer, Chairman of the drive this year, said, "I am amazed at the cooperation I have received. The workers were wonderful, and the area captains, with few exceptions, gave us all they had. It has been a wonderful experience." Palmer, who operates Palmer's Variety Store on A1A at the Crossroads, has been in business in Jensen Beach just over a year.

Zola Swarthout, president of the drive, said that she was "very, very excited" about the response.

Jensen Beach Plans Pig Roast Picnic And Frank Wacha Day February 16

It will be a big day in Jensen Beach on February 16th, as an old fashioned community picnic will be held, with roasted pigs turning on spits and all the fun of a get-together for the three hour event.

Although the day will also be in appreciation day for Frank Wacha, county commission chairman, the officials of the two organizing groups say that there will be "no speeches and no politics". The local Jensen Beach Chamber was planning a community picnic when they heard of a pig roast being planned by Leslie Wacha. They approached the group planning the roast and the two groups joined forces. Arthur Beechinor is the chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements. Although plans are not yet certain, committees are being set up and working is going on. Already three pigs have been donated all in the 75 pound class. They will be roasted whole on a spit. The menu subject to change was supposed to be corn on the cob, baked beans, potatoe chips and coffee, and for the kids who do not like pork, hot dogs and soft drinks.

Entertainment is planned for the picnic, but nothing has yet finalized to give any details. Since non profit operation, the picnic will try to pay its own cost with donations for tickets being sold by local groups. The only requirement is that persons attending bring their own table service.

Ronnie Nelson Is DSA Award Winner

Ronald Nelson, president of the Stuart Chamber of Commerce, was awarded the Stuart Jaycee Distinguished Service Award for 1964 at the annual DSA-Bosses Night banquet at the Yacht Club Restaurant in Port Salerno on Tuesday. Nelson received the award as being the top young man in Stuart for the year. The announcement of the award was made by state representative Bill Owens.

Guest speaker of the evening was Frank Foster Jr., the national director of the Florida Jaycees.

Rep. William L. Owens has been named by Sen. James Connor of Brooksville, to serve on a committee to study constitutional revision. Connor is chairman of the Legislative Council.

The constitution, basic law of Florida, is 78 years old.

NATIONAL COMMENT ON THE MIRROR

The Jensen Beach Mirror received nationwide coverage again when Ray Erwin, who writes a column for Editor and Publisher, the newspaper trade magazine, included the Mirror's trade slogan, "All the News that Fits in Print".

Variety Show Features Exciting, New Talent

The 1964 edition of the Retarded Children's Variety show promises to be "the most exciting ever", according to officials of the show. It will be presented to the public at the Lyric Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, January 29 and 30. The show will start at 8:00 p. m.

Directing the show this year is Dick Campbell, editor of the Jensen Beach Mirror. Assistant directors are Barbara Britton of WSTU, Laura Stuckey of the Stuart News and Mrs. Clyde Coutant.

New acts and several old timers will be on hand for the two and one half hour show. Some of the new acts include a singing group, "The Jensenettes", a clown, ragtime piano and trumpet duo. The fire dance will be a feature, and ballet and old time dancing will complete the terpsicory.

Something for everyone, according to directors, will be in the show.

As in the past, an early arrival will guarantee a seat, and packed houses are annual fare for the variety shows.

The notoriety he received from the publication didn't impress or actually please Jim. He was then, as he is today, modest and serious, but not without a sense of humor.

He spends much of his time during the winter months writing and keeping in touch with other veterans of the Lost Battalion, now numbering 100, who are scattered throughout the states.

Once in awhile, Jim can be coaxed into giving a talk; he has spoken at many veterans' functions and has appeared on network television. He has tape recordings of many of these talks.

Those fortunate enough to hear any one of them will surely be thrilled by the gripping tales of The Lost Battalion.

Rescue League Needs Funds

The Animal Rescue League of Martin County has to raise money. The members work hard to keep this important and much needed project in constant operation.

Residents of all communities in the county are greatly benefited by the organization, which not only cares for homeless and injured pets, but helps in problems of our wildlife. The League is also a great help to our Sheriff's Dept., when cases concerning animals come up.

A benefit performance of "The Solid Gold Cadillac", by the Riptide Players of Martin County will be given Wednesday night, Feb. 5, at 8:00, at the Riptide Playhouse in the old Methodist Church on Akron Ave. Proceeds will go to the Animal Rescue League.

It is hoped that the clever production will be staged to a full house. Tickets are on sale at the Stuart Police Dept., the Sheriff's Office and Dyers Dry Goods Store.

Jensen Beach residents are known to enjoy good shows, and love animals and wildlife, so this should be a tempting "Package deal" for all of us.

Confirmation Service Held At All Saints

Confirmation services were conducted at All Saints Episcopal Church, Jensen Beach, Sunday afternoon at 4:00 by the Rt. Rev. Henry I. Louttit, D. D., bishop of the Diocese of South Florida, who also delivered the confirmation sermon.

Adult members of the confirmation class were: Homer J. Archambeault, Jr., Ronald Cumpsty, George Staples, Richard Welker, Sharon Welker. Children confirmed were Curtis Martin Coulter, Terry Mark Hostetter and Arnold Davey St. Clair. In addition, three adults were received from the Roman Communion. They were Mrs. Catherine Cumpsty, Mrs. Lillian Staples and Mrs. Irene J. Stewart.

Joe Svec, Wally Hostetter and Trevor Addy served as acolytes, and the organ prelude and the accompaniment for the sermon and processional hymns were played by Miss Mary Ann Winn. This is the second class to receive the rites of confirmation during the rectorate of Fr. Norman B. Feaster.

Following the services, an informal reception was held in the parish hall at which the women of the church served refreshments and members of the parish were afforded an opportunity to meet and talk with Bishop Louttit and welcome members of the confirmation class.

Wednesday of this week, All Saints acted as the host parish at a workshop for women of the deanery. Registration was at 9:30 a. m. with Holy Communion at 10:00. The workshop was a day-long affair, broken only by a pause for refreshments at noon.

Wildlife Food And Planting Material Is Now Available

The Soil Conservation District here has been notified by Robert W. Murray, biologist with the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, of the availability of certain wildlife food planting materials.

Common lespedeza and partridge peas may be purchased for spring plantings. Both seeds provide ideal food and cover areas for quail.

Requests should be made on or before January 31 to Mr. Murray at Quincy, Fla., or by writing P. O. Box 1234, Stuart, or by calling A T 7-3313.

The Florida Forest Service is making deliveries of cypress, pine and cedar trees to individuals who requested them last year.

SNAKES ALIVE- Driving into downtown Jensen Beach from his home in Sewall's Point, Herbert Hiers looked out his window to see a snake coiled around the radio antenna on his car. He stopped at Jensen Hardware for assistance, and begrudgingly posed (not too close) for a man-meet-snake photo. The hitchhiker was then removed from his car.

Local Judges Join In Criticism Of County Jail

County Judge Evans Crary Jr. joined Circuit Court Judge C. Pfeiffer Trowbridge in criticism of the county jail when he spoke before the Womans Club of Stuart at its monthly program meeting.

Judge Crary was joined by Dr. Maxwell C. King, president of Indian River Junior College on the Woman's club program.

Mrs. C. R. Vandeveer, club president, introduced both speakers in the program which was arranged by the Youth Conservation and Education department of the club.

Judge Crary spoke on juvenile court work, noting that he did research in 48 states to get information for the Florida juvenile court act of 1951.

Dr. King spoke of the forces for change which started in 1957 when the Russians sent up Spudnick I. He outlined the many contributing factors resulting in the drive for more and better education throughout the nation.

Dr. King concluded his remarks by stating "Education will be the salvation of this country."

Refreshments were served after the program with Mrs. F. W. Hazelwood, hostess, assisted by Mrs. Paul C. Howe and Mrs. L. W. Barnes.

Mrs. Henneth Griffith and Mrs. Ethel Mitchell poured.

Mrs. Harold O. Wooley opened the program with invocation and Mrs. Andrew Ferrara, chairman of the bazaar, requested members to look at a display of handicraft being made by club members for the bazaar.

ELLIOTT MUSEUM

MUSEUM TREASURES

By Carol Schmidt,
Assistant Director

Unique in the coastal Museum field is the preservation of articles and relics that have been found in the ocean waters.

Almost every material undergoes change when exposed to sea water. Even porcelain and china, while not hindered chemically, will many times be covered with sea growths. These can be removed in a mild acid bath to restore the object to its original appearance.

Wood, bone, leather and some types of native pottery require the greatest care in preservation. These objects may completely disintegrate if exposed to the air without proper treatment.

Metals, too, have to be treated step by step to preserve their shapes. This involves first cleaning coral and other deposits from their surfaces. Then the metal may be boiled in a sodium hydroxide bath and finally coated with plastic or wax.

Other methods have been devised which have proved successful in various locales.

Your Martin County Museums are open 1 - 5 p. m. Tuesdays through Fridays. 9 - 5, Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays. (Closed Mondays)

The Elliott Museum has a small admission charge to visitors. Members of the Martin County Historical Society and properly supervised clubs or groups are admitted free. The House of Refuge Museum is free to all visitors.

Security

Relying on a well-meaning neighbor's advice about social security benefits may prove to be costly if the neighbor is unaware of the most recent amendments to the social security law.

R. C. Gehrken, Jr., social security district manager in West Palm Beach, cited the case of an 81-year-old California rancher, William Washburn, of Bakersfield. The information Mr. Washburn got from a friend cost him several thousand dollars. He did not apply for his social security benefits until the fall of 1962, but he could have begun receiving monthly social security checks in April, 1956, Gehrken said. Since benefits may be paid for no more than 12 months back, the elderly rancher lost five years of payments.

The district manager pointed out that several hundred proposed changes to the social security law are introduced into Congress each session. While only a small number of these proposals become law, those that do may materially affect benefit rights, such things as the amount of covered work a person needs to be eligible for benefits (less now than it used to be) or the amount of money a person can earn while continuing to collect some benefits (more now than it used to be) are affected by the amendments.

Neighbors may try to save a person a trip to the local social security office by giving advice on retirement benefits, disability payments, or cash benefits to surviving widows and children of a deceased wage earner, but the only way to make absolutely sure that the information is up to date is to call or visit the office, Gehrken said.

Many hundreds of dollars have been lost by persons unaware that those 72 years of age or older can earn as much money as they wish and still draw all of their social security monthly checks.

Surveys have also shown that very few persons are aware that social security disability benefits may be paid to a man or woman at any age with sufficient social security coverage, provided that they are unable, because of their illness or disability to do any substantial work.

Each post office has a schedule of visits to be made by field representatives. Interested persons may either call or write the social security office in West Palm Beach or meet one of the field representatives at one of the scheduled places and times.

IRJC Schedule Golf Tennis Matches

Indian River Junior College has extramural golf and tennis games scheduled for the spring semester according to Robert H. Garin Jr., Head of the Physical Education Department.

Two matches have been scheduled with Miami-Dade Junior College and a sports day has been set with Orlando Junior College where bowling, softball, volleyball, badminton and archery will be included in the extramural activities as well as tennis and golf.

Garin noted that extramural activities of this type differ from intercollegiate sports activities in emphasis. Extramurals are informal and are designed to acquaint students with their counterparts on other campuses for fun and experience gained from the sharing of common interests.

Intercollegiate sports are planned for IRJC for the fall of 1964, providing necessary facilities are available.

Tom Lewis Named Division Manager

Tom Lewis, former manager of Jensen Beach Lanes, has been named manager of the Southeastern Division of A. M. F. Proprietor Development, in charge of the sever Southeastern United States. He will begin his new duties on February 1.

The Lewis's will be located in Atlanta.

LESSON ONE--First you scale the fish, and then place the tip of the knife in. . . and a lesson in cleaning a catch gets underway at the fishing pier on Jensen's causeway. Fishermen on the pier payed little attention as they tried to catch their own.

Fishing Tournament Is Postponed

The second annual Rivers fishing tournament of the Stuart Sailfish Club was postponed because of the threat of bad weather over the weekend and will be held on January 25 and 26, it was announced Friday by Don Deitz, tournament chairman.

The first tournament, last year, was held in a two-day downpour, and committee members felt that there was little reason not to wait for better weather this year.

About 90 boats are expected to fish the tourney, which is for one rod anglers seeking fish in five categories: Snook, weakfish, sea trout (spotted), blues, and sheepshead.

The hours and prizes, starting points and checking in points set for the original days will be the same next week, Deitz said.

FIREMEN'S AUXILIARY TO ASSIST IN FRANK WACHA DAY CELEBRATION

The Volunteer Firemen's Auxiliary met at the Firehouse on Monday night, with eleven members present.

The Auxiliary will assist the Fire Department in serving coffee at the Frank Wacha appreciation day picnic to be held on the causeway in February.

Hostess for the meeting was Sarah Jane Wacha. The next meeting will be Feb. 17.

VARIETY SHOW IS ON THIS WEEK

The sixth annual Variety Show for the benefit of the Martin County Association for Retarded Children will be presented at the Lyric Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Dick Campbell, Master of Ceremonies, will open the show at 8:00 p. m., with the song he composed several years ago, and the entire cast will join him in this "opener".

Co-directors with Mr. Campbell are Barbara Britton, Dorothy Coutant and Laura Stuckey.

Many of the 23 acts will be new to local audiences.

Mrs. Marvin Keller is music director; Pete Hand is in charge of lighting and sound; Ira Swigart, Ray Radtke, Ray Johnson and Bob Batterman will assist backstage. Make-up will be done by Nellie Pezzoni and Claire Taibl.

A dress rehearsal for the Variety Show that was termed "one of our best yet" by the directors, was marred last night (Tuesday) as Nancy Johnson fell from the stage of the Lyric Theatre, breaking an arm and receiving bruises on the concrete floor.

While rehearsing the "Can-Can" with members of the Junior Women's Club, Mrs. Johnson, wife of local attorney Mallory Johnson, stepped backward off the end of the stage and fell about four feet. She was taken to Martin Memorial Hospital at 6:00 p. m. and spent the night there.

Forsberg Is Named To Zoning Board

Frank Forsberg, local builder, was named the first district representative on the Martin County Planning and Zoning Board at the Tuesday meeting of the County commission. Commissioner Frank Wacha announced the resignation of Harold Glass of Rio from the planning and zoning board and then appointed Forsberg to the post.

FRANK FORSBERG

Glass has been hired as assistant to Tommy Hellier, building inspector. His efforts on the board were commended by the commission.

Forsberg is the president of the Jensen-Rio Chamber of Commerce and is already serving on the General Contractor's Examining Board of the county.

Other members of the planning and zoning board are Joe Greenlees, Don Ward, Jim Gaughan and Tom Gartland.

Tour New High School February 4

A tour of the new high school will highlight the Martin County High School P. T. A. meeting on Tuesday night, Feb. 4. School board members and teachers will be on hand to explain the new plant to all parents who would like to join the tour.

Rogers To Run

Congressman Paul G. Rogers announced this week that he will be a candidate for re-election to the United States House of Representatives from the Sixth District of Florida.

Won't Buck Rodeo

The St. Lucie Canal bridge at Indiantown will be closed to boat traffic with slight exception, for the Circle T Ranch Rodeo on February 22 and 23, according to County Commissioner Jack Williamson.

The SRD gave permission to the closing on both days from 12:00 to 3:30 p. m. and from 4:30 to 7:30 p. m.

3,700 COPIES OF MAIL-AWAY EDITION ARE ALREADY ORDERED

The Jensen Beach Mirror will publish a mail-away edition in this coming month. Tentative date of the special edition will be February 13, to coincide with the community picnic on the 16th.

The issue will be one of the most colorful yet produced by the Mirror, and will be built around the theme "Jensen Beach and Martin County... a Wonderful Place to Be".

3,700 copies of the edition had been ordered by noon, Wednesday, and publisher Dick Campbell estimated that the Mirror press run will probably be increased by 6,000 to handle demand for the edition.

Advertisers desiring to be represented in the edition, which will feature complete picture and news coverage of this area and the many things we have to sell to future residents and tourists can receive full information by phoning the Mirror office, at AT 7-3126.

Price of the special edition will remain at ten cents, and the Mirror will mail any number at no extra charge if the sender will provide a mailing list that can be clipped for addressing.

Governor Bryant Letter Thanks Frank Wacha

Frank A. Wacha, chairman of the county commission, received a letter of thanks from Gov. Farris Bryant "for the many kind things the board said about our mutual friend", John Monahan, State Road Board member from Fort lauderdale.

The governor had been appraised of the resolution in which the county commission had asked that the proposed new high level bridge over the St. lucie Canal at Indiantown be named "Big John Monahan Bridge".

Gov. Bryant wrote that he would forward the recommendation to John Phillips, chairman of the road board, who must initiate action on naming the bridge.

R.C.Fernon Is TUC President

Tower Universal Corp., with main offices in New York City, recently announced that R. C. Fernon, president of First Mortgage Corp. of Stuart, has been elected president of T.U.C. This was confirmed by Fernon in Stuart late Tuesday.

Tower Universal Corp. is a holding company with assets in excess of $7 million in operation from coast to coast. Fernon stated that because of his faith and confidence in the economic growth of the state of Florida, the company's general offices will be moved to Tampa, the state's fastest growing financial center.

Fernon added that a larger portion of the company's resources would eventually be invested in Florida.

Fernon said that he believed that his new association would offer many advantages to the First Mortgage Corp. of Stuart. A branch office of Tower Universal will be located in Stuart.

FAVORITES--Dot and Bill Weiss bring back the smooth dance style of the Tampa Trot in the Variety Show tonight and Thursday night at the lyric Theatre. The Weiss' are four years veterans of the annual benefit show for Retarded Children.

ttle loved to fish and his ations during his working years spent at fishing resorts in N.J. area. He became uainted with several fishing le dealers throughout the and observed that many of spent their winters on the Florida east coast.

When he made his decision to come to Florida, he started asking questions and found that most of the dealers agreed that our area was the best all round fishing grounds on the coast.

He said, "If those fellows think it is the best spot for them, then that's the place for me."

Bittle has joined the growing number of fishermen that early in the morning may be seen hustling to their favorite fishing spot and later in the day, talking over their results at the local tackle shops and cafes.

It was in 1908 that Bittle, then 14 years old, started working as an office boy at the Mack Truck Corporation, where he was to spend, with consistent promotion, the next fifty-three years. His only leave of absence was taken when World War I was declared. He and four other youths employed at the plant joined the first volunteers and served 17 months with the "Fighting 69th" Division.

Bittle is staying at the Palmetto Apts. for the winter and plans to come again next winter to establish his permanent home here.

THE LONG WAIT--How many have come around the curve into Stuart to see the tell-tale line of cars loading up on US 1 as a loud bell sounds in the distance and the bridge draws up to allow a very slow boat to pass. It is best to relax, for a watched boat never gets through fast.

Gittin' mad is the wind that blows out the lamp of intelligence.

RESTLESS SEA--The Atlantic Ocean strives to eat away the Jensen Beach fill in the background, seemingly trying to get at the 4000 pound steel and concrete bulkhead slabs before they can be installed. County efforts to save the public beach and pavilion at Jensen Beach are seen in these slabs, curing for 12 days before being driven into the sand with pneumatic and water drivers. The new bulkhead will be 200 feet long, and the 18 foot slabs will be driven ten feet down and anchored before being capped.

Sweep Up Chore Given Youths Who Set Fire

Two young boys, ages seven and nine, found that a little fire set in a vacant lot could lead to a lot more trouble than there was fun in the fire. The Jensen Volunteer firemen answered a call to a lot just off the cutoff road to put out a fire last Saturday. After the blaze was put out, the youngsters were taken by their fathers to task, then assigned to Fire Chief Spinney for work details at the fire house for two weeks.

Spinney said that he would have them sweep out the firehouse. One of the youngsters will give his allowance of 50 cents to the firemen's fund to help pay for the trip of the fire truck.

Rains Came And Stayed As Winter Is In The 60's

All of Martin County was mired deep in rain for the past week as tourists grumbled and slickers replaced sun tan oil on the bridges and beaches. The quote of the week was heard downtown as one tourist said, "I don't know why I'm down here with all this rain". His wife turned to him and said, "Well, remember that when it is raining here, it is snowing like the dickens in Ohio."

Temperatures remained in the low seventies and the high sixties for the week, making it comfortable, though damp.

Many septic tanks in the area were reported flooded bythe rain, alternating between a drizzle and a downpour. Some street damage was reported as the sand washed in the rivulets of water.

Construction on the four-laning of U. S. 1 through Stuart was almost at a standstill last week, and expensive fill along the sides of the already prepared roadbeds was washed out and eroded. Other road jobs waited and waited for the rain to cease.

GRAND JURY CALLS WITNESSES

The Grand Jury of Martin County met in the main courtroom of the court house on Monday night, with seventeen of the nineteen members. A discussion was held on the tour it took last month through the county jail.

Subpoenaed witnesses to appear before it included Sheriff Roy C. Baker, Tax Assessor A. Clyde Courson, Tax Collector Alvin N. Andrews and County Judge Evans Crary, Jr.

A fifth witness, not subpoenaed, was County Commission Chairman Frank Wacha.

Assistant State Attorney Philip Nourse said a statement from the session would be forthcoming in a few days.

Women's Assn. Bazaar Saturday

The Jensen Beach Women's Association will hold their annual Bazaar at the clubhouse on February 8 at 9:00 a. m.

Home baked foods, handmade gifts, and white elephant sale will be sold throughout the day, as well as good things to eat.

THE LAST PUFF--A Jensen Beach resident enjoys the last puff on his cigarette while waiting his turn for the free chest x-ray, while the mobile unit was in town Tuesday. 520 local people turned out for this service.

520 Residents Receive X-ray

The X-ray Mobile Unit, which was located on Commercial Street Tuesday, registered 520 people for the free chest x-ray, according to Reg Walker of the Chamber of Commerce.

He said that the operator of the Unit had not expected such a big turnout, since he had handled a great number of Jensen Beach residents at the Kwik-Chek site on Monday.

EVANS CRARY, JR NAMED COUNTY CHAIRMAN OF DICKENSON GROUP

A "Dickinson for Governor" committee, with County Judge Evans Crary, Jr. as chairman, was organized Tuesday night in a dinner meeting at the Pink Pony.

J. H. Bruner, county commissioner, is vice chairman; William R. Scott, FCD board member, is finance officer.

R V. Johnson is on Fred Dickinson's state committee set up.

Steve Bishop To Retire As House Of Refuge Caretaker

The House of Refuge on Hutchinson Island will seem a rather lonely place for quite awhile, when its well-known and respected caretaker, Steve Bishop, leaves for retirement on March 1. He will always remain there in spirit, though for his faithful efforts of the past six and a half years have made a lasting and visible impression in all the projects to be seen there.

Steve will not be lost to this area, however, as he plans to settle nearby, probably in a trailer home.

Stephen Schmidt, director of the Martin County Museums, who made the announcement of Mr. Bishop's retirement plans described him as "A loyal, dedicated worker, a fine friend, and the most well-liked person anyone could ever meet." To many of his associates, Steve Bishop is known as "Mr. House of Refuge".

It was revealed that for over two years, no one knew that Steve used his own funds to provide food for the turtles, when there was no other way. He has left his mark in so many other ways, using his own time beyond his regular duties which were numerous and varied.

Steve loves the sea and all it's creatures. He will be missed in the mornings when everyone listened to the radio for his daily report on beach conditions.

Steve came here from Darby Creek, Pennsylvania. We're glad he'll be staying in this area to enjoy retirement, for it just wouldn't be the same without "Mr. House of Refuge".

To Steve Bishop, we all wish the best of everything!

Canal Zone Lions Have Exciting Meeting

Members of the Jensen Beach Lions Club will probably appreciate the calm and serene atmosphere surrounding their regular meetings at Seymour's when they learn of the excitement and fright experienced by fellow lion members of the Panama Canal Zone club during the recent uprising there.

During the club's weekly meeting at the Tivoli Guest House, C. Z., the night of January 9, the rioting started, with sniper fire directed at the building.

The staff did manage to continue serving the meal, however, in the darkened Pagola Bar, which adjoined the building.

The sniper firing continued throughout the night and next day. It wasn't until 11:30 the following night that the members were able to evacuate.

Since firing against the building had increased, it was too dangerous to stay longer.

Boy Scouts Celebrate

This week, millions of Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers across America are observing Boy Scout Week, as a part of a gigantic Anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

Reaching into almost every community of the land, the character building, program stressing Citizenship, Boy Leadership and physical fitness, has during the past half-century had a tremendous impact on the development of our nation's men and boys.

The Gulf Stream Council, serving members in each community in the counties of Martin, St. Lucie, Palm Beach, Indian, Okeechobee, Hendry and Glades serves the boys of our community and the 1800 volunteer men and women who make possible the operation of 186 Cub Pack, Scout Troop and Explorer Units.

The Council's membership this year totals 5,500 boy members and is expected to reach the 6,000 mark during 1964.

Boys, with the boy-level ideals of Scouting, associating in the program with the dedicated men who serve as leaders, counselors, and committeemen in the Scouting movement, make fine participating citizens under the slogan "I will do my best to BUILD, SERVE AND ACHIEVE."

Happy 53rd Birthday, boys!

New High School May Open Wed.

The new Martin County High School should be home to grades 10, 11 and 12 by Wednesday, if all goes as planned, according to principal James C. Woodall.

Most of the heavier moving was scheduled for Monday, and on Tuesday, the upper classes were to take a tour of the new buildings.

Teachers and pupils in the top three classes were to report to the new school on Wednesday at the usual hours.

While the interior of the school is about complete, the grounds still need the court year plantings and the backboards for the gym.

The base coat of the parking and driveway areas is down and ready for use.

If your insurance claim is still unpaid after six months you'll know — the hard way — The Big Difference between buying insurance directly from a company and through an independent insurance agent.

Will a company salesman stand by you when you have a claim? Doesn't it make better sense to buy through an independent agent who places your interests first?

We are an independent insurance agency. Our job is to see that you get the right policy from companies with good records for paying claims—to handle details, cut red tape and speed payments due you. ensen Beach To Be Included In Study ep. Paul G. Rogers has notified Frank Wacha, chairman of Martin County commission, Jensen Beach will be included in the area to be surveyed for an erosion study. Funds are being made available for the study.

Rep. Rogers quoted Major Gen. Jackson Graham, U. S. A., director of Civil Works in the U. S. Engineers, in saying that $10,000 was already in the Jacksonville District to start the Jupiter Island study "and adjoining shores."

The study will be conducted to determine the best course to pursue in providing some method of control of the erosion which is scouring the beach on Hutchinson, Long and Jupiter Islands.

Thomas H. Gardner, director of the office of emergency planning, was quoted as saying that the appropriation of emergency funds for such a study would depend somewhat on the declaration of emergency by Gov. Bryant.

Your Social Security

By: R. C. Gehrken, Jr.
District Manager
West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. I have a lady working in my home as a domestic. She does not do any of the farm work. Do I report her wages along with my other agricultural employees or do I report her wages separately each quarter?

A. Wages paid to a domestic working in a farm home are reported once a year just like the other agricultural employees. A domestic is governed by the same rules that apply to the farm workers. She must be paid $150 a year in cash wages or work at least part of twenty days during the year with her pay figured on a time basis if she is to be covered by social security.

Q. My wife works for me on my ranch. Can I report wages paid to her for social security?

A. No. Wages paid to a spouse usually cannot be reported for social security purposes. For more information on exceptions to this rule, visit or write to your nearest social security office.

For further information on your social security problems, contact the Social Security office at 701 South Dixie Highway, West Palm Beach (open from 8:30 to 4:00, Monday through Friday), or their Field Representative at the County Welfare Office in Stuart, Mondays only, 9 to 12.

utchinson Island Water Plan Presented To Owners

PPY VALENTINE'S DAY! The day that all women are most beautiful is Valentine's Day, when sbands, boyfriends, sons and all mankind express their love and devotion. The Martin County symbol r this day is the 1964 Beta Sigma Phi Queen of the Valentine Ball, Mrs. Richard Granfield, pictured the left. Southern Gulf Will Start With $150,000

Roland Merrell

Southern Gulf Utilities, who will install the mains to bring water to Sewall's Point, have agreed to temporarily lower the goal sought in Hutchinson Island monetary guarantees set up as a prerequisite last October.

Roland Merrell, vice-president and trust officer of the First National Bank of Stuart, trustee for escrow funds in the proposed Hutchinson Island Water project, said the utility company would start laying water mains to the island as soon as $150,000 was on hand in the escrow account.

Merrell said the cash on hand of $109,304.24, should be up to $125,000 by the end of the week.

All of the major land owners have contributed to the fund in the other areas of the island except two Miami syndicates and one Fort Lauderdale syndicate.

Non-public lands on the island are assessed at $3,561,370. The county has lands assessed at $478,750 and the City of Stuart, land assessed at $3,850.

Chairman Frank A. Wacha of the county commission said Monday no one had approached the county for a contribution to the fund.

It had been intimidated earlier that the county and city might do so, but Wacha did not leave that impression.

He said the county owned about 3,600 feet including Jensen Beach, Elliott Museum and House of Refuge beachlands, about 10 per cent of the total beach involved and valued at roughly 10 percent of the valuation involved.

Under the new plan, the larger owners will be approached to make additional contributions to the fund in the event others hold off.

They would then get ahalf of the future donations, the utility company the other half, until $225,000 had been turned in.

The new move anticipates a speed-up of contributions after the actual laying of mains is started.

Merrell said the amount of $225,000 could still be considered the goal, but the $190,000 a compromise figure for triggering a start.

The plan must be completely wrapped up by March 1, Merrell said, otherwise he would consider it not feasible at this time.

He has been serving as an unpaid trustee, not even receiving expenses, since last October.

The utilities company will start laying Sewall's Point mains within 10 days, it was indicated. The company signed its agreement with the city, and the city signed later, last week.

Bribery Charged At County Meeting

In one of the longest county commission meetings in years on Tuesday, commissioners heard accusations of bribery and favoritism against local building and sanitation inspectors.

The charges, either direct or indirect, were made against two specific inspecting officials, but no immediate substantiation was offered.

A statement by Paul D. Combs touched off one of the wildest sessions of the board in months.

OMMUNITY PICNIC- PPRECIATION SUNDAY

pig roast, with at least eight s cooked on a spit, on the en Beach Causeway, will ng some 1,000 persons out on day afternoon, according to en Chamber of Commerce cials. The community picnic pled with a Frank Wacha preciation Day at the Jensen ch Causeway, should exceed mber estimates, if all indi- ons of public interest are dited.

ver 600 tickets to the pig roast e been sold, said Reg Walker, Chamber manager. In addition, $145 has been donated to the community picnic fund. Eight pigs have been either donated or purchased, all ranging in the 75 pound class dressed. V. V. Wortham, locally recognized for his knowledge of pig roasting on the open spit, will handle most of the cooking.

The tie-up of the Chamber with Wacha Appreciation Day was made when both groups found they were promoting the same type event. The entire project is headed by Vince Bocchino, and is being coordinated by the Chamber of Commerce.

Wacha, when contacted by the Mirror Tuesday, said, "I don't know what is going to happen. I haven't been invited yet."

The community event will be the first of the 1964 season by the Chamber of Commerce, and should turn out (in this election year) most of the area politicians as well as the citizens who would like to meet and talk to their local office holders. Stressed by the Chamber as a "non political" affair, the community picnic will be open to the public. People are requested to bring their own table service. The charge for the afternoon dinner, starting at 3:00 p. m. is 50 cents for adults 25 cents for children.

Sailing Regatta Scheduled For March 15

Nautical minded residents of, and visitors to, the Jensen Beach area will be interested to know that a thrilling sailing regatta is scheduled for March 15 on the Indian River, sanctioned by the Florida State Sailing Club, of which Capt. D. Hart is Commodore, and the Intercoastal Sailing Club.

Announcement of the upcoming event was made by President Frank Fonberg and the board of directors of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce following their meeting Monday night. The Chamber will sponsor the racing meet and provide the trophies. Craft from all over the state are expected to participate, according to Reg Walker, Chamber secretary, with up to fifty boats in as many as ten classes taking part, if previous regattas held here are any indication.

Not directly associated with the regatta, but of interest to the sailing fraternity, was another announcement made by the Chamber... that the Chamber will sponsor a pram for youngsters, which will be set up by Phil Baker. Various civic clubs are also expected to assist.

The chamber will also assist in another project for Jensen Beach's junior citizens; Sponsorship of a Soapbox Derby July 4th. Sponsors have already been found for five entries and the Chamber hopes civic-minded groups or individuals will boost the total to at least 10. Sponsors provide the materials for building the vehicles at a cost of about $50, but the actual construction is done by the youngsters who race them.

Recent expansion of the Chamber building has increased the value of the structure so that $3,000 worth of insurance was taken out with W. B. Tilton, Sr. Residents of Jensen Beach should be interested to know that it was Mr. Tilton who provided the land and original building.

Chamber directors were also informed at the meeting that the State Road Department has given assurance that new signs will be erected on U. S. Highway One, informing the traveling public how to reach Jensen Beach.

The X-ray program held in Martin County last week, resulted in a record 4,380 x-rays in less than 10 days, according to Mrs. Marie McCullough, who was in charge of the program.

COMMUNITY KIDS DAY PLANNED

The Langford-Hall Park Association will hold a "Kid's Day" Thursday, April 3, at the park.

"Kid's Day" has been promised by Merton D. Chase, Chairman, to be a veritable "Fantasy of Fun" for the children of this community.

The entertainment program, Merton said, will be to all, with thrilling high-acts by the aerialists, a youth champion trampoline artist, a high-diving dog and one of the nation's finest elephant acts. Prominent in the elephant group is America's largest, weighing close to 11,000 pounds, and "Jewel", the teen-age elephant that does the Twist. Peanuts, cotton candy and snow cones will lend atmosphere. The Langford-Hall Park Committee will man the hot dog and cold drink stands.

Merchants are now being contacted by representatives of the show for advanced tickets to the show.

There is no admission for Kid's Day at Langford-Hall Park. The afternoon and evening community program, circus acts and all, is free! Something will be going on every minute, for, as an added feature, there will be several miniature children's rides, pony rides and an elephant train.

It Just Ain't So

Rio-Jensen Cutoff Route Is Not Being Pushed By County-Wacha

Newspapers Reports Denied By Commission Chairman

Reports of a new Rio-Jensen Cutoff Road west of the FEC railroad tracks as appearing in the Stuart News of February 13th and the Miami Herald of February 18th were treated with a shrug of the shoulders Tuesday night by Frank Wacha, chairman of the county commission and first district commissioner in whose district such a road would be located. Wacha said, "The commission has not met or talked about such a road. It is just a road that has been proposed for our consideration, and has not been considered."

A front page article in the Stuart News last week reported that the road was "being pushed by (the) board, and that rights of way had already been acquired by the commission. The article further reported that the new road would be two miles long, would cost between $75,000 and $100,000, and that the county "... plans to clear and grade the road as soon as possible."

Wacha said, "I just don't know where they got their information. The commission has not officially taken the matter up, and it is a dormant issue until we do." Wacha added that the news story "probably came from the fact that Phil Baker (sales manager of Sam Rhodes Construction in Jensen Beach) brought a map of a proposed road into the county commission office. It was laying on the table and a reporter saw it and wrote the story".

Baker, who has been active in civic affairs in Jensen Beach and was recently named to the board of directors of the Jensen Beach-Area Chamber of Commerce said that he had acquired promises of rights of way from W. B. Tilton, W. M. Kiplinger and Sam Rhodes, owners of land along the proposed route, and had submitted the plan to the commission for their consideration. He said that he had not been contacted by anyone other than the Mirror on the subject.

The Miami Herald Tuesday reported that the county was "quietly obtaining the right of way to a new cut-off route between Rio and Jensen Beach". The Herald also stated that the county planned to clear and grade the route "as soon as possible".

Wacha said that the county does not own rights of way from the present end of Savanna Road at Warner Creek, and since the board had not yet considered Baker's request for a road, it could not grade or clear the route. "I don't know where they got their information". Wacha repeated.

The Herald and News articles have created a stir in the owners of property along the range line that leads into Martin Boulevard in Rio from Savanna Road. Arthur Ruhnke, owner of Ruhnke Photo Shop, told the Mirror that he was going to make an effort to get all property owners to donate 40 feet of right of way along the line to the county for use as a road. When contacted by the Mirror, Ruhnke said "The road down the range line would open the property of many owners, and would be the most fair route for the county to take. I will give the rights-of-way to the county when we have a number of them lined up, possibly in a week or two. We are now contacting all owners of property along the line."

The proposed road has been in the minds of the people for many years, according to several long-time residents. It has taken many forms. One route would take the road into Rio at Martin Boulevard, or the center of Rio. Another route would bring the road down the range line from Legion Heights to the railroad, and then follow the tracks to meet Route 707, where the grade crossing is, south of Rio.

Feb. 14 Real Valentine For Andersons ; Wed 49 Years

Valentine's Day has a place in the hearts of all romantic-ists, from five to 100, but this is especially true of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson of 218 South Street, Jensen Beach, because it was on February 14, 1915—49 years ago—that they were married in a Methodist Church in Richmond, Va. Mr. Anderson is a native of New Jersey, but the girl he chose as his bride was born in Virginia, not far from Richmond.

Though they have been residents of Jensen Beach for nearly two decades (Mr. Anderson operates a jewelry store and watch repair shop on Commercial Street), they usually spend their summers in the north. Part of their holiday is spent with their son, Dr. H. S. Anderson, his wife and two children—a boy and a girl in Chattanooga, Tenn., where Dr. Anderson is an optometrist. The remainder of the vacation finds them with daughter and her husband, Dr. and Mrs. D. J. De Luke of Schenectady, N. Y., and five grandchildren, four boys and a girl. Dr. De Luke is an oral surgeon.

Although the De Lukes call Schenectady their home, it is at their cottage on Friends Lake in the Adirondacks that they live in the summer. Although he enjoys all types of fishing, Harry Anderson is of that special breed of men who choose to pursue the wiley trout. So ardent a trout fisherman is he that he ties his own flies—in fact has created a few varieties of his own.

The Andersons came to Jensen Beach in 1946 after 26 years in Henderson, N. C. Over the years, in addition to his jewlry and watch repair business, Mr. Anderson has served various railroads such as the Norfolk & Western, Norfolk & Southern, and Atlantic Coast line as watch inspector.

Both are regular communicants of All Saints Episcopal Church and Mr. Anderson has the distinction of having served as treasurer for seven and a half years after All Saints, then a mission, broke away from St. Mary's Episcopal Church of Stuart. In recent years he, now 76, has been content to sit back and let the younger men take over while Mrs. Anderson has continued as an enthusiastic member of All Saints Guild until an injury in a fall early this winter necessitated that she sharply curtail her activities. She has now nearly completely recovered from the effects of her injury, however, and hopes soon to renew her active role in Guild affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson chose to observe their anniversary quietly but Feb. 14 was a happy occasion for them. And 1946, when they chose Jensen Beach as their future home, was a happy day for this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Harl Son Are Now Residing in Lake Park

Mr. and Mrs. Harl Son, formerly of Orion Street in Jensen Beach, have moved to the Lake Shore Apartments in Lake Park, Fla.

They enjoyed their stay in Jensen Beach and plan to return someday.

Mrs. Georgia Brown, Walton, was paid a visit last week by her son, Carl, of Sarasota.

MRS. MARION PLUMMER HAS VISITORS FROM MASS.

Mrs. Marion Plummer, Burlington, Mass., had as guests for two weeks at her winter home on S. Indian River Drive, her sister-in-law, Mrs. M. Connolly and Mrs. Connolly's mother, Mrs. Mary Higgins, both of Randolph, Mass.

Albert F. Plummer will rejoin his wife soon, to spend the rest of their winter vacation. Mr Plummer is now in Boston where he is a water superintendent at Boston Harbor.

ROBERT CAIRNS

Robert Cairns, Indian River Drive, Jensen Beach, died in St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach last Tuesday following a long illness.

A native of Philadelphia, he had lived in this area for the past five years. He was a member of Odd Fellows Lodge in Briston, Pa.

Miles Cregg Cramer

Miles Cregg Cramer, 58, of Elizabeth, N. J. and Sewall's Point Road, died in a boating accident in the St. lucie inlet last week.

Cramer and three friends, in a 21-foot inboard boat powered by a Chrysler marine engine, were attempting to enter the inlet when high surf and an outgoing tide caused the boat to take on water, stalling the engine. Mr. Cramer was thrown overboard by a wave, but his companions were able to get him back aboard. Authorities believe he died of a heart attack at this time.

Cramer is survived by his wife, Ruth B. Cramer, of Elizabeth, and a daughter, Mrs. lorraine Palladino of Roselle, N. J., and two grandchildren. A brother, Ralph L. Cramer, lives in Boca Raton.

Services and burial will be in Elizabeth, N. J. Johns Funeral Home was in charge of local arrangements.

District Manager
West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. I was in an automobile accident a year ago and was permanently paralyzed. I am 27 years old and was told by a friend that I could not get social security disability checks because I am too young. Is this correct?

A. No. Even though you are only 27, you can get disability payments if you worked under social security for at least five out of the ten years before you became disabled, and are so disabled that you cannot do any substantial gainful work.

Q. I know that if I live thirty-odd more years I can begin to get social security benefits. Is this the only protection my social security tax dollar is buying?

A. No. Retirement payments are only one part of the protection you are buying. You also get protection against total disability and your family will receive payments if you die.

For further information on your social security problems, contact the Social Security office at 701 South Dixie Highway, West Palm Beach (open from 8:30 to 4:00, Monday through Friday), or their Field Representative at the County Welfare Office in Stuart, Mondays only, 9 to 12.

St. Joseph School in Stuart will hold their Field Day on Friday, February 28, at 1:00 p. m.

There will be races for all grades of 40, 50, 60 and 75 yards, and a Potatoe Race.

Medals will be awarded by all the Banks in the area.

MUSEUM TREASURES

"Tin Can Rhythm"

Rhythm to music is accomplished in many ways. The Seminole Indians lend rhythm to their ceremonial dancing, not only with body movements, but more audibly with the use of rattles.

In times past, the Seminoles used the box turtle shells, filled with seeds, as a rattle. This was worn on the ankles by participants in the dance to give a certain musical accompaniment to the dance.

At one time, the box turtles of Florida became very rare because of the tourists' interest in obtaining authentic Indian rattles. To satisfy this interest box turtles were captured and killed in great numbers as the rattles were made and sold commercially.

Today, however, the Seminoles have found a satisfactory substitute for the turtle rattle. As a practical conservation measure the Indians now use empty tin cans which have been punctured and filled with seeds.

These new types of rattles are attached to pieces of burlap, and wound around the dancers' legs. Rhythm is established as the legs stomp the ground in the dance ceremonies, and the box turtles are once again re-establishing themselves in their natural habitats.

The Elliott Museum has on display in the Florida History wing an example of both the box turtle rattles and the tin can rattles. These are found in the Seminole Indian exhibit case.

The Elliott Museum and the House of Refuge Museum are open 1:00-5:00, Tuesday through Friday; 9:00-5:00 Saturday, Sunday and holidays. Visit and support your Martin County Museums.

Jensen Beach - Stuart - Martin County - A Wonderful Place To Be

BOATER'S PARADISE—If it is boating you want, Martin County has it. The mile wide St. Lucie and Indian Rivers welcome the propellor and centerboard of yacht, cruiser and sailboat, and the many lakes, streams and rivers beckon the adventurous picnic-fishermen in their craft. The entire Atlantic Ocean is at your doorstep in Martin County, and excellent facilities in Marinas and public boat ramps bring the greatest comfort to the boater.

Martin County "Booms" As Year Around Visitors Discover The Real Florida Mood

The long awaited "boom" has come to Martin County. Throughout the county there is record building of homes, new business and industry as the diamond of the gold coast is discovered, and is polished in its many faceted life.

New families are moving into the many communities, and the communities are solving problems of the influx as fast as they arise. Martin County has learned from the experiences of other areas, and is endeavoring to plan ahead.

Vast areas of palmetto brush and pasture lands are being cleared for homes and business areas as each individual community comes into its own share of this boom of people. New people demand more and more services from the government of the county, and the county commission, and various city commissions in the county are making every effort to meet the expansion.

Two new high schools have been built, and new elementary schools have met the needs of the communities. Future planning of the various boards and commissions is taking the form of the 100,000 people expected in Martin County by 1970.

All in all, the community is meeting the needs of its people. The bright future of Martin County is indicated by the continuous increase in business activity. As an example, sales tax collections in Martin County took the unprecedented rise from $48,487.33 in January, 1963, to a high $60,182.74 in January, 1964.

As an indication of the growth of Martin County, just look at the many new and fine tourist attractions developed in the past five years. The new Elliott Museum, Frances Langford's Outrigger Restaurant, Port St. Lucie Country Club, The Yacht Club Restaurant, 36 holes of new golf course at Port St. Lucie Country Club, and a full eighteen hole Martin County Golf and Country Club course. New bridges to the ocean beaches add to our stature, as well as the developing St. Lucie Training Grounds for thoroughbred horses. Thousands and thousands of acres of citrus planted and the expansion of a major arena for the Circle T Rodeo combine with vast areas of pasture for cattle in the west part of the county. Our parks have moved from the beginning stages to things of beauty, ready for the nature lovers, and the campers.

New businesses have jumped up from vacant lots to offer the latest merchandise at competitive prices, and the older businesses have risen to meet the challenge of the newcomers.

This Is The Place Where Everyone Can Find Real Enjoyment In Living

Martin County might be listed as the most amazing county in the State of Florida, if you were looking at its many sides. To try to describe all of the many facets of this diamond on the gold coast of the Sunshine State would take more space than is available.

The incongruous nature of the county has beauty throughout. From the rolling hills of Jensen Beach to the plains of the western lands, and from the sunshine bleached beaches of the Atlantic Ocean to the grassy, reed-filled waters of the lazy South Fork...all is beauty...all offers complete difference in scene.

Many visitors wonder at the acceptance of the local people of all the many differances of Martin County.

The answer is simple. Martin County is a wonderful place where people come to work, and to live. It is a place where people want to settle down in the quiet countryside to live latter years in contentment. Married folks like to raise their children here, for it is a young county, by all standards, and offers the young the opportunity to build a future.

The county is rich in its heritage, with a long list of founding fathers, and pioneers, reaching back to the civil war days. But just as Brutus did not come to praise Caesar, so this edition of the Jensen Beach Mirror does not delve in the history of the county. We are here to praise the many wonderful things we have, to tell the many stories of today that have been untold for so long, and to bring a touch of the Martin County we all love so much to the people who would someday become a part of it.

The theme of this edition of the Mirror is..."Martin County... a Wonderful place to be!" And it is.

Home builders are ready. The local merchants are friendly and want the business of our newcomers. Our civic and fraternal organizations are offering the companionship and activity that makes newcomers feel at home when they arrive. In other words, Martin County is ready for the future. It has all the wonders that people think of when they come to Florida... the beaches, the rivers, the lakes and streams and all of the scenery that God could pack into this small county without overcrowding it.

As they say in the south... "Y'All Come"... come to Martin County, a Wonderful place to be.

JUST LIVING—People live, and love living in Martin County. Many homes are available in any price range the buyer decides. Martin County builders provide many excellent extras in their homes, offering top value for the dollar spent. Above, a family party at the pool typifies the easy-going life of Jensen Beach, Stuart and Martin County... a wonderful place to be.

SCENIC MARINAS—Just one of many beautiful and scenic marinas in the Jensen Beach—Martin County area is langford Terrace Marina on Sewall's Point. A haven for yachts and small craft, the marina is everything that the yachtsmen desire, with wide slips and accomodations for the largest boats. On the Indian River at Buoy 300 on the Intracoastal Waterway, the marina is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evinrude (Outboard Marine Corporation). At left is the Evinrude yacht, the Chanticleer, and at the right the famed Frances langford's Outrigger Restaurant.

ater on Hutchinson Island in is a certainty", said Roland ell, vice president of First onal Bank of Stuart, and an trustee for funds being ed to get the water program way.

the $150,000 guarantee mum contribution, we have 108.69 on hand, and six de who have offered to make e difference, plus three who told us to count on them for never is needed.

e need an extra $2,000 for l fees, and we'll have that, he added.

errell had said on February 10 he would stick with the ct until March 1, that the ing date was set to give the ractors who are installing ter for the town of Sewall's nt an opportunity to keep on king all the way to the island. uthern Gulf Utilities, Inc. varded Merrell several copies a revised form of agreement ween land owners and the ity company for review by ney Evans Crary, Sr., for owners and by Merrell as porary trustee.

change in the financial setup made when it was found that six per cent assessment based the assessed valuation of the nd land, $3,561,370 was quite "tight".

The change did not affect those who have produced the $150,000 minimum contribution by owners, but will jump the contributions of future contributions from those who failed to help out in the initial effort.

The increase to nine per cent of valuation, is based on the available property left for assessment and the minimum amount of additional contributions necessary to cover part of the initial cost, a rebate to Sewall's Point and interest on advances made by certain property owners giving towards the initial $150,000.

The nine per cent figures is also based on the premise that the Bradshaw property, at the tip of the island, is an initial contributioner, having paid $10,000, and that the balance of the Bradshaw property will be assessed at six per cent.

Future contributions received after the closing deadline will be divided equally between the utility company and persons who have made the initial advances, until the advances are repaid.

The utility company has also asked assurance now that there will be available property at some later date on which to erect storage facilities.

The county has been discussed as the possible donor, with land near the Elliott Museum to be used as a site for a camouflaged million gallon storage tank.

Harry P. Davison, Jr., vice-president of the utility company, has been in touch with Merrell this week ironing out last minute details prior to closing out the initial stages of the push.

His firm will run a 10-inch main from Sewall's Point to the island, then run eight-inch mains north and south from the Indian River Bridge the length of the island, excepting Rand's Seminole Shores and Sailfish Point, at least temporarily.

Mains to the southern tip will await agreement between Rand and Bradshaw interests concerning access through Seminole Shores

The total cost of the initial stages of the water project, that of laying mains and putting in the necessary storage facilities and valves has been estimated at $320,000.

Work on laying the mains to Sewall's Point started on East Ocean Blvd. on Monday.

Merrell said several of the owners on the island had told him they were interested in building high class motels at once, and several other projects have been suggested as "ready to go with the arrival of water."

Martin County's Largest Newspaper Edition Is The Mirror This Week

The largest edition in the history of Martin County newspapering is this week's Jensen Beach Mirror. 10,000 copies of the 1964 Mail Away edition were printed in the Mirror plant at 126 N. W. Sunview Road in Jensen Beach.

It is also the most colorful edition ever produced, with advertising and an original cartoon in color. The cartoon was drawn for the Mirror mail away edition by the famous artist, Zack Mosley, creator of "Smilin' Jack", syndicated by the Chicago Tribune-New York News Syndicate.

The only printing done outside the Mirror printing plant was the four-color pictures of the front page, and the two page, four color advertisement (another first in the county) depicting the new Jensen Beach bridge, which was printed by Martin County's largest printing plant, Southeastern Printing Company.

Pre-issue orders guaranteed a "sellout" of the edition, and only small special orders can be accepted following publication date. The edition was printed with no increase in price, free mailing service to pre-issue orders, and the standard advertising rates.

The staff of the Mirror worked day and night for six weeks to produce this issue. The entire edition was hand folded and hand inserted by local high school students Florence Lambie and Carol Yankovich, and took in excess of 100 hours of folding and inserting.

The Mirror press worked 230 hours to print the edition, printing two pages at a time. Color runs on the press were separate. It took 180,000 sheets of paper to print the 1964 mail away edition. For four days before the edition was released, the Mirror plant operated day and night.

Seek To Organize New Brownie Troop

Jensen Beach has its Boy Scout and Girl Scout organizations, but at present, no Brownie Troop. Most people are adept at avoiding the responsibility that is a part of such movements. Surprisingly, however, two Jensen Beach women have come forward and volunteered to organize a troop and act as its leaders. But they need help in the form of a sponsor who will contribute $25, and they also need a place to meet.

Brownie Troops, for the information of those not versed in such activities, are designed for the guidance and enjoyment of little girls in the 7 and 8 age group, or the second and third grades.

Anyone interested in helping these two civic-minded women are urged to contact them by telephone. Their names and telephone numbers are: Mrs. Louis Tranowski, AT 7-1172, and Mrs. Carl Pauly, AT 7-4494.

Dr. James Grossnickle, after winning the adults table tennis competitions last week at the Stuart Youth Center, also won the men's title in District 5, Florida Recreation Activities Association, at Fort Pierce on Saturday night, according to Jim McMahon, Youth Center director.

A.J. MACE JOINS MIRROR STAFF

A sprightly look added to the Mirror pages and articles is the work of Aaron J. Mace, retired former editor-in-chief of the Oshkosh Daily Northwestern in Wisconsin. Mace lives with his wife, Ruth, at 223 Melba Drive.

The former president of the Wisconsin Managing Editor's Association, Mace has been a newspaperman for many years, and his editorship in Oshkosh was highlighted by his newspaper's nomination for a Pulitzer prize for coverage of a tornado near that town.

Beginning his career early in life, "Jack" Mace gained experience in the Army, and worked on several papers, including the Washington, D. C. Evening Star. He handled page layout for the Oshkosh paper and won the N. W. Ayers national typographer contest for his efforts.

Mace is secretary of the vestry of All Saints Episcopal Church.

ids On Jensen Bridge Slated For Opening March 31

Will Be Modern "Basqule" Type

The moment for which Jensen Beach residents have long waited s come at last . . . announcement by the Florida State Road Department that sealed bids for the construction of a new bridge ossing the Indian River here are to be opened at Tallahassee at 0:30 a.m., Tuesday, March 31.

Listed under the title of Martin County (Bond Funds) State Project o. No. 99530-3603, SR S-707-A, the announcement calls for onstruction of a "bridge over (the) Intercoastal Waterway at nsen Beach."

According to the announcement the work will consist f removing the existing ttered, outworn frame structure, construction of a bridge aving an electrically operated uble-leaf bascule (lift) span concrete piers founded on eel piling, having adjacent ans of concrete, slab deck on eel-beams and approach spans concrete, slab deck on pre-essed concrete on concrete ems all prestressed concrete ble bents."

Fishing Piers Included

The bids are also to include concrete handrail, a treated timber fender system, navigation lights and electrical system; concrete sheet pile bulkhead, fishing piers, light-medium grading, eight-and-a-half inch limerock base with Type 1 asphalt concrete surface, paved shoulders and incidental items." The bridge length will be 0.303 miles.

The announcement provides that minimum wage rates for this project shall be $1.25 an hour.

All work, the announcement declares, is to be done in accordance with the plans, specifications and special provisions of the State Road Department which also reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

The announcement was issued at Tallahassee over the signatures of Chairman John R. Phillips and Ray W. Brown, state highway engineer.

Business interests, Chamber of Commerce officials and Jensen Beach residents in general were jubilant over the announcement. Except for the lift bridge, the causeway between Jensen Beach and Hutchinson Island is completed, following the erection of a similar bridge and causeway between nearby Stuart and the island. What this new project when completed, will mean to Jensen Beach, its people and its economy can only be conjectured but it is obvious that it will mark a great step forward.

Will Be Resort Mecca

With indications that fresh water probably will soon be piped to the island, there is a strong possibility that the nearly isolated strip of land will soon become one of the most desirable resort areas on the Florida east coast. Informed sources report that, once fresh water is assured, high-rise apartments, hotels and motels will be constructed and the economy of Jensen Beach, in fact all Martin County, will be beneficially affected.

The announcement of intent did not reveal the date when work must be begun following the awarding of contracts, nor the date of completion, but indications are that the project will be carried on as rapidly as is feasible and that Jensen Beach will soon have its dream of a new bridge realized.

Leaders Are Pleased Over States Action

Jensen Beach and Martin County leaders were enthusiastic today over the announcement out of Tallahassee that bids on the new Jensen Beach lift bridge are to be opened March 31.

Rep. William Owens of Indiantown, Martin County's representative in the State legislature, was jubilant over the announcement since he has long been an advocate of the project.

"I'm happy," he said, "that the project has reached this stage of development and hope that the bids can be let, and the actual construction carried through to completion at the earliest possible moment. Jensen Beach people deserve such a bridge. They have been patient and, I'm sure will appreciate the new structure when it becomes a reality."

Queried as to the significance of the new bridge and the likelihood that fresh water soon may be piped to Hutchinson Island, Rep. Owens voiced the belief that these two moves could have a vital impact on the economy of both Jensen Beach and Martin County. "It seems reasonable to believe," he said, "that Hutchinson Island can become a major resort area. Certainly growth must come northward; it cannot go south. Martin County is lucky in being blessed with fine climate and so much water front.

"I hope that in time--perhaps in the next decade--Hutchinson Island can become an area similar to Singer Island at North Palm Beach. I do feel that we must move cautiously as to zoning so that only the highest type construction will be built. It would be tragic if we allowed this beautiful and valuable island to become the site of cheap, jerry-built structures."

Commissioner Frank A. Wacha was out of the city and unavailable for comment. Because he has worked continuously in support of the bridge project, however, there can be no doubt as to his reaction to the good news.

Frank Forsberg, president of the Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce, was another who voiced delight over the announcement. "Great progress has been made," he said, "in the development of bridges and causeways from Jensen Beach to Hutchinson Island, and now the final link in the form of the center span seems a reality.

"Congratulations to the people of this community and Martin County, and also to those who are in a position to urge this project. Knowing Jensen Beach people as I do, I am confident they will realize that such projects cannot be completed overnight and will be patient during the period of transition."

"All I can say," declared Reg Walker, executive secretary of the Chamber, "is that this is the best news in a long time."

CUBS BLUE AND GOLD DINNER--Cub Pack 401 held their annual Blue and Gold banquet on Monday night at the Town House Restaurant. Guests of Honor were the Rev. and Mrs. Newton Tweedy, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Senator Bronson Is Amazed By Martin County Potential

Since I was given Martin County in my Senatorial District, it has been my privilege to see and visit all parts of the county. I was utterly amazed to see the possibilities that this county has. Martin County has the best potential beach area left on the East Coast of Florida.

Florida has some thirteen million tourists each year, and I feel sure that Martin County will get its prorate share or more. You have on the East side the finest fishing in the state, and on the West side the finest fresh water fishing and boating. Since the opening of the new bridges it is possible, within a matter of a few minutes to reach the beaches for surf-cast fishing, swimming, sun bathing and recreation to suit the individual's taste, opening up new and better places of fishing for our many tourists and provided many new and lovely homesites on the beautiful and picturesque Indian River and St. Lucie River.

You also have good County and City government. Your County Commissioners are to be congratulated on the fine job they have accomplished on the bridges and roads in this county.

One of the largest obligations in the last ten years has been supplying enough money to support our educational system caused by our outburst of population. Martin County has met it's obligation with an ultra-modern High School, which is proof that the School Board has done a splendid job. They are to be congratulated.

From the agricultural standpoint I think that Martin County is just in its infancy. Although very controversial at times, I humbly believe that the south and Central Florida Flood Control will probably, when finished, do more for Martin County than any other county within the district. Martin County has some of the finest young citrus groves in the state and has the potential for planting many more thousands of acres. This will lead, of course, in the near future, to a canning and concentrate plant which will further help build the economy of the county.

When we have an outburst of population like you will face in Martin County, you will have many problems, and by the time you think you have solved one, there will be two more facing you. I have confidence that the people of Martin County can meet the challenge squarely and honestly, and are capable of solving their varied and many problems brought on by our ever changing economy.

I would like to predict a very bright future for Martin County as it offers a diversified means of opportunities for those who seek them.

Senator Bronson Seeks Re-Election

State Senator Irlo Bronson, of Kissimmee, veteran legislator who represents Martin, Okeechobee and Osceola counties in the Florida Senate, has announced his candidacy for re-election.

He has been a member of the legislature since 1942 – ten years in the House and since 1952 in the Senate, but has represented Martin County only since 1963 when a court approved reapportionment plan became effective. Although a resident of a different area, since taking Martin County under his legislative wing, he has proved by his untiring efforts and attention to detail that he is a vigorous representative of the people of Martin County.

A member of the House for a decade and the Senate for an even longer period, he is considered one of the most knowledgeable members of the legislature, and in 1957 served the Senate as President Pro Tem. At present he is a member of the Legislative Council and is serving on eight interim committees.

He was born in Osceola County in 1900, attended Osceola elementary and high schools and Rollins College. His family includes his wife, the former Flora Belle Bass, and two children.

A member of the Methodist Church, fraternally he is an honorary member of Kiwanis and is affiliated with the Elks, Scottish Rites Mason, is a director of the State Chamber of Commerce and a member of the local Chamber in his home community.

SCHWARZ FILES FOR M.C. JUDGE

Elton H. Schwarz, local attorney, has announced for Democratic nomination for Martin County Judge.

He received his Bachelor of Laws Degree from the University of Florida in January 1954, and opened his office in Stuart at that time. Shortly after entering practice, he promoted establishment of our local Small Claims Court and served as one of the original organizers of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Martin County.

In 1960, after spending two years in Fort Lauderdale, he re-opened his offices in Stuart and has been engaged in the general practice of law here since that time.

Schwarz, who is the father of two sons and four daughters, and his wife, Marie, reside in North River Shores, and attend the Congregational Church in Palm City. Mrs. Schwarz, the former Rose Marie Ludlum, has lived in Palm City virtually all of her life and is the niece of former county commissioner Charles W. Leighton.

Rep. Owens Speaks Out For Martin County 'People'

by Rep. William E. Owens

It is with great pleasure that this article is written for the special edition of the Mirror, for it provides an opportunity for me to speak on behalf of the people of Martin County on the many advantages of living in this area.

It would be easy to sing praise of our wonderful out-of-doors, including the wonderful sailfishing, and other water sports. Or it would be equally enjoyable to laud the entertainment, cultural, and industrial facilities of Martin County, with its museums, famous restaurants, yacht clubs, golf courses, citrus groves, and cattle ranches.

But the most deserving of praise, and the facet of Martin County that the focus of this article will be devoted to, is the people. Martin County appears to have the most civic-minded, friendly people in the state of Florida.

Everyone in Martin County deserves credit for the many things that we have been able to accomplish in the 1963 Legislature, and we have received many benefits. For example, we were able to obtain the Spiny Lobster Research Project at the House of Refuge, the first state project that Martin County has received, and received $8,240 for research. The purpose of this project is to see if we can raise lobster economically and commercially.

In addition, we were able to bring Martin County road funds in the division of Lake Okeechobee among five other counties in the lake division bill. We also introduced a bill to make the striped bass a game fish in Florida during this legislative session, with the cooperation of the Issaac Walton League.

The County Commission, which has done a great deal for Martin County, was given the authority to close a road or right-of-way leading to navigable bodies of water as long as there is a swap of land leading to that body of water by a bill we introduced to the legislature.

As Representative of the people of Martin County, it was also possible for me to get a bill on trash dumps and gun permits, a bill regulating condition of County Child Care Centers and the licensing of such centers, a bill authorizing the county to enforce subdivision lot clearing, and a bill controlling and regulating application for liquor permits going first to the county commission.

All of these bills were accomplished with the support of the people of Martin County. With their continued support, we hope to get larger appropriations for the spiny lobster project, a budget for roads and projects in the county working with the county commission, and other things that the people of Martin County desire in the next session.

Serving on two Interim Committees, the Legislative Investigating Committee of the State of Florida and the Legislative Councils Committee on Constitutional Revision, I hope to give the people of Martin County the kind of representation that they deserve.

Martin County has also received recognition with my serving on the following house Committees: Governmental Organization—Local, Vice Chairman, Agriculture and Citrus, Education—Public Schools; General Legislation, and Salt Water Conservation.

In an effort to continue to bring Martin County effective representation in their legislature, I intend to continue in this capacity by seeking re-election.

Martin County people are active in civic affairs. Accordingly, they should expect their representative to be just as active.

As a resident of the state of Florida for 36 years, I have been able to meet many of the very fine people of this state. But in Martin County is where they are undoubtably the friendliest, and yet the most industrious. They want to make Martin County a wonderful place to live and, in doing so, it is.

Faith In God Important To Folk Of Jensen Beach, Martin County

Community Is Served By All Denominations

Residents of the Jensen Beach area are not saints, but they are religious people who are faithful in their church attendance and not ashamed to voice and demonstrate their faith in God.

"Show me your churches," some wise man once said, "and I will tell you what sort of community you have." If that be true, the Jensen Beach area people have nothing of which to be ashamed. And no matter what denomination there is a house of worship which its adherents may, and do, attend. Not all are pretentious structures. In fact, most are modest in size and design, but all are adequate to meet the purpose for which they were designed.

The newest and largest in the area is the recently constructed Jensen Community Church, which rests atop a hill on Skyline Drive, its white illuminated cross a brilliant beacon against the night sky. The Rev. Newton Tweedy is its pastor.

Among the oldest and most picturesque is All Saints Episcopal Church, which also rests on a hilltop, just off Route 707 between Jensen and Rio. A new parish house has been constructed in recent years, and as the second step in the ten-year building program, the church building was moved last summer to a new site adjacent to the parish hall. The Rev. Norman B. Feaster is rector.

Other churches that are a part of the religious community of the county are: Trinity Methodist, just beyond the arch on the road to Stuart. The pastor is the Rev. Neil M. Gunsalus.

Redeemer Lutheran Church, of which the Rev. Donald K. Schroder is pastor.

Rio Baptist Church, with the Rev. J. Fernandez.

First Presbyterian Church at North River Shores, which has the Rev. Malcolm Harris as their pastor, and the Rev. Sydney A. Lowrie as assistant.

Lutheran Church of St. Andrew at Port St. Lucie, with the Rev. H. C. Sipe as pastor.

St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Stuart, with Fr. Jan. Janusiewskil.

First Church of Christian Scientist, in Stuart.

Martin County Junior High School

DIVERSITY—Martin County has many things to offer in education, but probably most important is its diversity, for it is still another form of education. In addition to Martin County public schools, there is also excellent parochial schools, including St. Joseph's Catholic School

Left, Martin County Junior School is located in Stuart and also provides the high quality administration that is characteristic of the Martin County Public School system. The junior high school is for students in grades seven and eight. After completing the curriculum here, students then are eligible to attend Martin County High School, a brand new facility which opened this month.

F.E.C. VICE-PRES. IS ROTARY GUEST

Florida East Coast railway's vice-president and chief operating officer W. L. Thornton gave his version of the railroad's 13-month old battle with non-operating labor unions last week when he spoke at the weekly meeting of the Stuart Rotary Club.

He said that the strike was begun at the peak of the perishable shipment season when it would do the most damage to railroad and that it came after the union had rejected many offers, holding out only for the national pattern set by negotiations with other railroads.

He charged that the unions were using the laboring man as a pawn, that FEC employees were coerced and afraid of their union chiefs.

BRUSH FIRE—Within five minutes of the first alarm, fire trucks from the Jensen Volunteer Fire Department were on their way to a brush fire on the Jensen Cutoff Road. The fire department is among the best equipped in Martin County, boasting five trucks, four of which are four-wheel-drive with two-way radios, capable of delivering a total of over 3,000 gallons of water. In addition, the department also has facilities to draft water from streams and rivers and special CO_2 fire extinguishers for electrical fires. Organized fifteen years ago with one second-hand truck, the Jensen Volunteers now have a new fire house, built last year, and "has more equipment than any other fire department in Martin County," according to Fire Chief Randolph Spinney. Above, a fireman sprays one area and points to a "hot spot" flame springing up to direct the fire truck to the fire. Right, Fire Chief Spinney heads for the blaze on one of the woods trucks.

Jensen Women Are Active Community Service Group

Founded in 1950 by a progressive group of year-round residents, the Jensen Beach Women's Association provides a gathering place for scheduled entertainment and winter visitors, their guests and themselves.

Sponsored sales, shows and parties provided the necessary funds to buy the clubhouse on Highway 707 north of the Jensen Beach archway, where capacity crowds now attend a steady program of events held by this active and dedicated group of women.

Plans are now under way to build a large addition to the building which will accommodate twice the present capacity.

The association meets twice a month, with a luncheon given followed by an afternoon session of card games.

Numerous other parties, dinners, shows and sales are held by the group at the clubhouse, and often at local well-known dining spots.

Visitors and winter residents are always welcome to attend these events.

Supporting many community drives, the association has a special project of its own: sewing for the patients at the Sunland Hospital for the Retarded, located at Sunland.

Each year many new members join the ranks of the club whose expansion is consistent with a fast growing community.

New officers are elected yearly with all members serving on committees for various events.

Honorary president of the organization is Francis Langford, singing star of stage and screen, who, with her husband Ralph Evinrude, have their estate, marina, and famous Outrigger Restaurant in Jensen beach.

Garden Club Meets

The Jensen Beach Garden Club met for their regular meeting on February 19. Mrs. J. N. Bragan presided in the absence of Mrs. Calvin Wilber, president.

Mrs. Rollin Reynolds presented a horticulture lecture.

Mrs. W. A. Gesner of Stuart, spoke to the club on the history of flower arrangements from the Egyptian and Roman times, down through the ages.

Mrs. Fred Morris and Mrs. Smith Hoyt were welcomed into the club as new members.

Refreshments were served by hostesses, Mrs. LeRoy Heppe and Mrs. Carl Houg.

The club held another of their workshops on February 18, at the home of Mrs. Elmer DeWitt.

The Jensen Beach Garden Club will be in charge of the horticulture section at the Martin County Fair, and ask that all plants be brought to the section in the Agricultural grounds by 9:30 a. m. on March 9. The showing of plants is not limited to club members.

Walton-Eden Surprize Has Charlie Moehle 'Speechless'

SURPRIZE! SURPRISE!—Want to know how to completely surprize someone? It's easy. Just find out where he spends most of his time, then pick the most unlikely time, sprinkle it with a great deal of gusto, and you have a heart-stopping combination. And that is what happened to a "Jolly" Charles Moehle. Cryptic plans, precipitated by his wife and friends, added the ingredients of the unknown, and 125 guests created the atmosphere for a real "shocker". The occasion? Why it was "Charlie Moehle Appreciation Night". And to finish the fracturing job, Mrs. Henry Hambrock of Walton, presented a sockful of money to Charlie, as shown in the picture at left. His reaction afforded his usual composure, when he regained his speech. Below, part of the 125 guests and friends of Charlie who attended the gala event last Wednesday night at the Walton Community Hall.

APPRECIATION PARTY DRAWS 125 TO HONOR CIVIC LEADER

A completely astonished guest-of-honor opened the doors of the Walton Community Hall Wednesday evening to be greeted by 125 friends loudly singing "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow."

It was "Charlie Moehle Appreciation night", a spontaneously conceived program by friends of this genial and generous man.

Hasty plans were made for the party unknown to Moehle, who as custodian of the Walton Hall, has always had advance notice of functions held there.

Mrs. Moehle managed to keep him away from the spot until the appointed time, when a very worried Charlie drove up to find out what was going on.

His usual composure as host and M. C. of events was lost upon finding himself so feted and he said, "I was speechless and thought I might fall right through the floor when I opened that door."

The presentation was made by Frank Chase, Walton, who told of the countless helpful things Moehle has done for his friends and neighbors individually and as a community, during the past 35 years, and his extra effort to help newcomers and widowed residents with their home maintenance problems.

A buffet supper followed and a huge decorated cake cut and served.

Entertainment and games filled out the rest of the evening and who was in charge of the program?—Charlie Moehle, of course!

Fine Library, Another Major Martin County Asset

despread Area len Outstanding tural Service

55 there was no Public in all of Martin County. 1964, a scant nine years the reading needs of the being adequately, help- nd courteously met by an nt setup housed in a fine room building on East Boulevard in Stuart. This miracle was made possible a gift of the property by Mrs. Willard Kiplinger, cost of the building be- anced by contributions to artin County Library As- on, which presented it, mbered, to the County Commissioners for the use of all the people of Martin County.

The Library has books for all age groups, the little tots in the kindergarten, the boys and girls in elementary schools teen-agers, parents and grandparents. There are books to read for pleasure—good fiction, interesting biographies, adventurous travel, books on many subjects to help in the home, in business, on the job and in school. Besides the books that may be withdrawn for home reading, there are reference books of information in special fields of interest.

From a few hundred borrowers the first year, the library's borrowers now number more than 9,000—about half the population of Martin County. Today the library has approximately 27,000 books, subscribes to 37 magazines and eight newspapers and the circulation averages about 10,000 a month.

An up-to-date Bookmobile provides service to residents of Martin County who do not live within reasonable distance from the library. Stops are made at schools that do not have school libraries, and in specified residential areas to meet the reading needs of as many individuals as possible. The Bookmobile covers an area extending from Jensen Beach on the north, to Hobe Sound on the south and Indiantown on the West.

The main library boasts a pleasant reading room for adults and an excellent children's room with picture books, stories, fairy tales and many other interesting books to delight the eyes and minds of Martin County's youngsters. Last summer there were story hours for children.

The library's service does not stop with merely providing books to read. Each year there is a series of world travel films sponsored by the Martin County Library Association and eight times a year the Library offers to the public evenings of "Exploring Books." More than 40 books are reviewed and discussed each season with considerable participation by the audience.

Some special collections found on the library's shelves are important: a fine collection of garden books, another on conservation and one of the best collections on Florida in the entire state. Other collections of special interest are being developed through generous gifts of civic-minded individuals and groups.

Members of the library staff pride themselves on their willingness—even eagerness—to help people to find specific books. "If the book you want is not in," they remind library users, "ask the librarian to reserve it for you. If the library does not have the book you want, it will be borrowed from the State Library in Tallahassee for your use and enjoyment."

The staff consists of Miss Jean C. Roos, acting librarian; Miss Helen Funnell, assistant librarian; two assistants, and a Bookmobile assistant. Members of the Martin County Library Association also provide invaluable assistance, contributing more than 1,000 hours annually on a volunteer basis.

Members of the staff remind readers that the library is designed to provide books for all residents of Martin County. It is open every day from 10 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. and every Tuesday evening from 7 to 9. "The library doors are open," staff members say. "It is free. Come and use it. You will always be welcome."

Indiantown Is Agriculture Center Of Martin County

THERE'S A WESTERN Martin County too, "yonder", and that is where just about everything agricultural is raised, including citrus, cattle, and some mighty big fish. Indiantown is a community with a western air, where life is informal and relaxed, a place where people like to escape out to Lake Okeechobee for an afternoon of rewarding fishing or boating, or amble out to some of the large citrus groves. Minute Maid among them. Above, the Sable Palm, official tree of the state of Florida, blends harmoniously with orange trees to add to the spacious, easy living of western Martin County. There's entertainment, too, at Florida's finest fresh water facility, The Indiantown Marina (left). Right, Jack Robinson, manager of the Indiantown Company, looks to the future of this community. Below, an operator walks the old swing bridge that spans the St. Lucie Canal. It will soon be replaced by a new high-level bridge to be constructed soon, named in honor of State Road Department head John Monahan and will be called, in Western Martin County tradition, "The Big John Monahan Bridge." ORANGES, ANYONE?—Martin County seems to have an abundance of just about everything, but if things were to be counted just one at a time (and during season), it would probably have more oranges than anything else. Located in the famous Indian River Area, Martin County not only is one of the greatest producers of citrus in the state, but has the advantage of an even healthier climate to prod the fruit to perfection. At left is one of many sprawling citrus groves in the western part of the county seen from the air, portraying the carefully manicured young groves that have recently been planted by citrus growers of the area.

WINTER TRAINING headquarters for some of the most famous racing stables in the nation, St. Lucie Training Park is a development of Bessemer Properties, an organization dedicated to making a "New History" of land usage in Martin County in the western area. This aerial view typifies the outstanding growth of Western Martin County, and shows that the land, though beautiful in its natural form, can become even more beautiful through the efforts of developers who keep the people in mind in Martin County. Magnificent Museums Offer Residents And Visitors History And Current Events In Outstanding Presentations

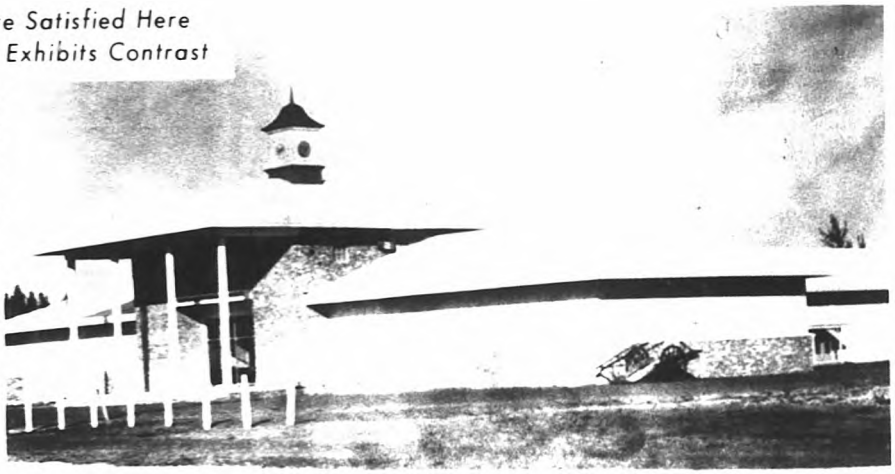
House Of Refuge

Many Interests Are Satisfied Here As Programs And Exhibits Contrast



Elliott Museum

Martin County, of which Jensen Beach is a colorful part, blessed by climate and natural beauty unsurpassed in all Florida, is also rich in culture that makes life more rewarding and interesting. With a population of approximately 20,000 permanent residents the county can and does take justifiable pride in the fact that it has not one, but two outstanding museums.

Offering a wide variety of interests these two museums are located east of Stuart—about a mile apart—on picturesque Hutchinson Island. Totally different in contents and architecture, together these two museums display exhibits of Florida history, art, marine biology, vertebrate evolution, nautical achievements and American antiques. In addition, they also offer a comprehensive set of cultural programs throughout the year.

The oldest of the two, the House of Refuge Museum, has a history as interesting as its contents. Built in 1875, it served as a life saving installation, Coast Guard outpost and a United States Historical Society in 1955. In its earliest [illegible] and was known as the House of Refuge or Humane Institution. Stocked with food, clothing and fuel, it was a haven for those hard pressed who sailed the treacherous seas and had the misfortune to have their ships wrecked off the Hutchinson Island coast.

Now as a museum it continues interesting residents and tourists with outstanding exhibits—a living nature trail, an aquaria as well as historic marine and nautical exhibits. The marine laboratory adjacent to the main building is currently undertaking experiments in raising spiny lobsters and in the conservation of the green sea turtle.

The Elliott Museum, a large and modern structure was built in 1960 and donated to the Historical Society by Harmon P. Elliott. The building with its contents represents an investment of well over a million dollars.

Consisting primarily of three wings—each of which houses exhibits relating to a particular phase of Florida history—it offers something to interest everyone. In one wing is one of the finest collections extant of horse drawn and motor vehicles. Another cleverly designed wing displays America as it existed at the turn of the century. Here may be found authentic replicas of a country general store, a barber shop, jewelery store, Florida pioneer kitchen and parlor and even an old-time drug store—complete even to the marble soda fountain, dear to the hearts of young Americans of that era. Cased exhibits also display a variety of antiques including old-time implements and such choice time implements and such choice items as the colorful banks in which youngsters kept their pennies.

Sailfish Capital Of The World - Grows In Spirit, Wealth

Heart of Stuart Business World

A comfortable, attractive, conveniently-located structure houses the Chamber of Commerce for the City of Stuart. A meeting place for the members, leaders in the community's economic life, it is also the center for the dissemination of information to visitors and prospective residents who seek data concerning this South Florida city.

Chamber Spearheads Projects To Aid Community Development

By: Rosaleen Murray
Manager, Stuart Chamber of Commerce

A few things stand out when you think of Stuart's past... We had some of the real hardy Florida pioneers, and nearly all their families have remained here, making several generations who have continued to like it here

The economy pattern is the same - agriculture and tourism. The space where pineapples once grew has given way to streets, but cut flowers bloom commercially ver, close by. Known even back in the 1880's as the fishing grounds of the President when Grover Cleveland and Warren Harding visited, we still are one of the ten best fishing spots in the world, and entertain royalty, governors, presidential aspirants and high government officials.

We have retained the original charm of the Stuart area, the prime assets which are impossible to create anywhere but where nature established them, our waterways.

Our progress has seemed somewhat slower than our counterpart cities. While we have watched some of them progress rapidly and successfully, others in rapid confusion with errors. The Stuart area has had some major needs in bridges and roads, which would not be filled by any magic, due to the realistic problem of money.

Now it seems most of the apparent major hurdles are crossed or securely in sight: Two new accesses to the beaches with their water supply close, a widened St. Lucie crossing at the city's entrance, a lighted white-way on a wide safe and beautiful U. S. #1, a St. Lucie Canal bridge into Indiantown.

Add to these such new ultra-modern buildings as the Martin County High School and Martin Memorial Hospital, both of which will of course require expansion for pupil and patient space, but have in them the basic and expensive required equipment.

In addition, we have all new Martin County Library and Stuart Woman's Club buildings, medical offices, church plants for worship and religious education elementary and parochial schools, retail and service institutions - some of the best facilities in the state. New commercial buildings and plants have congregated to the south of the city along the railroad to make an industrial park, not formally designated as such, but certainly a desirable set-up, , , all attractive facilities.

Stuart's attitude toward industry is a mixture. Keen interest is shown in obtaining industrial payrolls to keep the population groups balanced and aid the money flow, but a necessary caution prevails toward anything that would disturb the status quo, such as pollution of air or water. The beauty of the waters, the abundance of fishing therein, the pure and moderating breezes are the things that make Stuart attractive to strangers and so special to the home-folks.

Tourism is a "natural" industry and area golf courses rank high in what the visitors come for, look for and appreciate. Parks have been transformed into fabulous gardens under the magic touch of the city's superintendent in this department. Bill Ambler can match any color picture postcard you can produce. These parks are a mecca for photography, drawing or painting. The county's parks at Sandspirit and St. Lucie Locks and the State's Jonathan Dickinson Park at Hobe Sound make A-1 provision for campers.

Florida's main attraction, the great ocean beaches, stretch unspoiled and picturesque across the Indian River from opposite Stuart and Jensen Beach. The two museums there provide fascinating family entertainment as does the rare sight of sea turtles emerging from the water laying eggs on the sand at night during mid-summer - this activity wisely publicized and encouraged by the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce.

Some 38 flower farms combine business and beauty, add distinction and individualism to the community. The hardy and glorious chrysanthemum is in all hues are the number one production with snap-dragons, asters, roses and lilies. Something we've wanted for a long time has now begun under personal attention of the county's genial agriculture agent, L.M. Johnson. , conducted tours of the farms in bloom. A movement is assembling to make the chrysanthemum stand out as the area flower by encouraging home growing and more prominent display. It has unlimited potential, as the tulip to Holland Michigan.

Citrus production, oranges and lemons, in the upwards development is changing the scene in western Martin County, joining the cattle and dairy business there at the hometown of the famed Circle T Rodeo.

The future of Stuart? The superb geographic assets within the county cannot be praised too highly. . . and it's East Coast location, proximity to all the well-known and popular areas between the Cape and the Keys, insures it's future.

It's needs? Completion of the major improvements now in the works should direct more attention to such things as face-lifting of old buildings, more sewers, new parking problems which will develop, traffic patterns, people using correct house numbers. . . and so on. Firms will employ keener methods in competing for the customer dollar, or lose it. More important even than fish, flowers, sand and sun, will be the attributes of sincerity and friendliness hospitality and ethics. Getting along together in the county--not lip service, but genuine efforts, positive publicity--state and nationwide, happy and informed employees who like it here and know why--and so express themselves to strangers. As Florida community competition thickens, these are the things that will weigh heavy in measuring the attractiveness of this area in bidding for tourism, industry or retirees.

Situated on Commercial Street in the heart of the community's business district, this modern and recently-expanded building is the hub of Jensen Beach activity. SLEEK, MOTOR-POWERED CRAFT SPARKLE in the sunlight in the marina of the Anchorage Boatel and Yacht Club on the beautiful St. Lucie River (above), and the club's expert mixologist, Doug McKoan (insert, below) keeps with nautical tradition by offering palate-tickling meals at the club's "Galley" (below). Below: the Anchorage swimming pool overlooking the St. Lucie River and, at the bottom of the page, is the colorful and architecturally appealing entrance to the Anchorage clubhouse.

Anchorage Offers Boater's Paradise

When a denizen of the "frozen north" thinks of Florida he gets a mental picture of sunny skies, blue waters, boating, swimming and lazing under Old Sol's rays with congenial companions and in comfortable surroundings.

That picture can come to life almost anywhere in South Florida but it is particularly true of life in the Jensen Beach area and especially so for the fortunate members of the Anchorage Boatel and Yacht Club, situated in the Rio district on the picturesque St. Lucie River. Owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Wolf and managed by Don Johnson, this private club offers to its members advantages to transform Florida Living from fun into sheer delight.

A modern, well-equipped, expertly operated marina is, of course, a prerequisite of such a club. And the Anchorage has it. An attractive clubhouse where one may dine, talk and have fun in comfortable surroundings with companions of similar tastes is another "must." Again, the Anchorage meets the challenge with plenty to spare. A king-size swimming pool for those who enjoy being in the water as well as on it adds to the pleasure. And comfortable furniture, indoors and out, is at hand for those whose tastes run along less strenuous lines or prefer to loll in leisure after a day on the water.

This year the Anchorage has more to offer to its members than ever before. For years, officers of the organization have worked to improve facilities and make the club more comfortable and to provide additional conveniences. Only recently they have announced that the Anchorage is now a "Pier 66" franchised marina—members of Phillips Petroleum Company's Quality Chain of Marinas.

New dock and basin facilities have been added and expanded parking space has also been provided. The club now offers complete service for boats and cars.

Entirely new Phillips Petroleum storage and dispensing equipment includes filters and Gilbarco Marina Dial-a-Mix pump for outboards, which forever eliminates guesswork on correct oil and gas mixtures.

New "galley" equipment and personnel assure members of even more delicious meals and satisfying service. The menu are designed to delight active outdoor-loving people with Black Angus steaks, direct from Chicago, as a special feature. With "Doug," "expert" mixologist" preparing them, members are assured the finest in beverages.

Whether members want a complete meal or simply a snack, or if they are intent only on boating or prefer to swim, fish, play shuffleboard or simply laze in the sun, they—and that, of course, includes the whole family—can luxuriate in real Florida living at the Anchorage.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE MARTIN COUNTY TAXPAYERS ASSOCIATION

February 20, 1964

As we enter the fifteenth year of our existence our membership has increased beyond 500, a new high for the association.

During the past year your resident directors and your executive secretary worked closely and harmoniously with the county commissioners in the effort of assembling the new budget, which, as finally adopted was set at 9.665 mills for the county as against a levy of 9.39 mills for the previous year, a comparatively small increase of .275 mills.

The budget of the school board, however, was another matter. When we became aware of a proposed large increase in the school board millage, a number of your directors called on each member of the school board in an attempt to persuade them to moderate the proposed increase, or at least spread some of it into next year.

We were unsuccessful and the adopted budget was increased 4.72 mills to 11.9 mills, up from 7.18 mills the previous year – an increase of more than 65.7 per cent. This additional levy, they maintained, was to support a building program.

The only concession we were able to obtain was the promise of the individual members of the present school board that the millage would be reduced next year to approximately what it was in the year before the huge increase.

In view of this extreme rise in the school budget, your directors asked for a survey of the situation by the certified public accountant firm of Ring, Mahony & Arner of Miami at the expense of the association. Mr. Thompson of that firm who made a several days' study of the school board budget found nothing amiss, but criticised the judgment of the board in concentrating a heavy building program in a single year.

We are happy to report that supervisors have been installed to register and keep order in Sandsprit Park, the expense of which is more than defrayed by a per diem charge assessed on all non-county resident users of the park. This is a condition we have urged the county commissioners to employ for several years.

At the annual meeting of the Martin County Farm Bureau held at Indiantown January 21, Mr. J. N. Aycocke, Director of the Assessment Standards Board of the State Comptrollers Board, was the principal speaker.

Among the questions asked him after his talk was, "How can a citizen of this or any other county in Florida protect himself lawfully against almost constant increases in assessments and taxes year after year?"

His answer was, "The best way I know of is to join and support the various taxpayers groups in the community in which you live."

If this politico-professional opinion would appear to answer your question of a similar nature, the Martin County Taxpayers Association asks that you think over this unsolicited endorsement.

Sincerely yours,

MARTIN COUNTY TAXPAYERS ASSOCIATION, INC.

RECREATION FOR YOUNG AND OLD IN FRIENDLY JENSEN-RIO AREA

Jensen Beach folk, like people everywhere, spend a good share of their time working--either at places of business or, if they are retired, in their homes or on their lawns and gardens. But there must be time for fun, too, and Jensen residents throughout the entire age spectrum--5 to 95 or over--attack their recreation with the same zest they display in their working hours.

Fishing, of course, is a universal form of recreation engaged in by almost everybody. But there are others that win equal approval.

One of these is bowling, and Jensen area residents are blessed with the most modern facilities in the Jensen Beach Lanes and the Coral Garden Lanes, south of Stuart. Lanes that are kept in perfect condition, automatic pin-setters and courteous, helpful personnel all make for ideal bowling conditions whether it be for league competition or individual bowling.

For those who like to mix their athletic endeavors with something less strenuous but equally pleasant, both establishments offer spots where one may enjoy entertainment while quaffing his or her favorite beverage, in the Bamboo Lounge at the Jensen Lanes and the Spare Room at Coral Garden Lanes. In addition, the latter also has a complete restaurant with a cuisine both varied and delicious.

The game of shuffleboard also has its adherents, especially among the senior citizens while the youngsters in addition to junior bowling find fun, excitement and exercise in little league baseball and basketball.

So no matter what your age and regardless of whether you like your recreation strenuous or mild, you can find it in the Jensen Beach area, South Florida's garden spot.

Imagination, And Money Produced Local Beauty Spot

By Zola Swarthout

Take the basic ingredients of a river bed, a mud hole and a high sandy hill with a view of two magnificent rivers, mix it with a childhood dream, the love of two people, stir with determination, and you have "Frances langford's Design For living."

From the river bed was dredged sand to make the fill for the exotic Frances langford's Outrigger Restaurant and riverfront villas.

From the mud hole came the tropical gardens, waterfall, pool and the 'man-made Florida swamp' which is located in Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evinrude's private grounds area.

From the high sandy hill came the sweeping terrace, the swimming pool area and the Evinrude's own home, which provides a view of the St. lucie and the Indian Rivers.

Frances langford Evinrude started her "Design For living" before she married Ralph Evinrude in 1955. Her 200-acre property then consisted of the home, a citrus grove, a few rental cottages and a small boat basin.

Her childhood dream is now a reality.

Frances, when just a little girl saw this area, which was then located on U. S. 1. As she rode over the bumpy road with her parents, she said,

"Mama, some day I am going to own all of this."

She never lost sight of her dream, which became her goal.

The dream started to become a reality through the never-ending support and encouragement of Frances' mother, Anne langford. Anne saw in her daughter a dream she had once, that of becoming a great concert pianist.

Frances was born in Citrus County, near Inverness, but lakeland has long claimed her as its native daughter.

Through personal sacrifices, a piano was purchased and Anne taught her daughter to sing. While attending high school in lakeland, Frances entered an American legion talent contest.

Frances won the contest, and thereby won the attention of a radio station in Tampa. She performed her first professional duties and her singing career was launched, when the late Eli Witt sponsored her for the "Hava-Tampa" program.

At this time Frances had a beautiful lyric soprano voice. When she was sixteen she had a tonsilectomy and her voice changed. Her voice was deep and low, and she became a contralto.

Frances and her mother, Anne, went to Miami to audition for Rudy Vallee. He signed her on his talent show and from there she went to New York City.

While singing over radio WOR the late Miss Elsa Maxwell heard her and asked her to sing at a party for Cole Porter. There she met Walter Wanger who offered her a chance to appear in pictures.

Frances appeared first in the Broadway musical, "There Goes The Bride." She signed with MGM and her first film was "Broadway Melody."

Frances starred in more than thirty movies. She also starred in the big radio shows such as "Hollywood Hotel", "Texaco Theater" and the "Bob Hope Show."

Her famous voice also was featured along with her innate acting ability in many TV shows, "The Bickersons," "Star Time," "Frances langford Presents!" and the "Perry Como Show."

More than 15 million Frances langford's records have been sold. Probably the most loved of all are "I'm In the Mood for love," and "Frances langford Sings Old Songs For Old Friends."

Frances has had more awards and more titles bestowed on her than any other star. Bob Hope called her "The Iron Horse," after a gruelling Alaskan trip. "Sweetheart of the AEF," "The Elsie Janis of World War II," "First Most Popular Girl Singer in the Radio Poll," are just a few of her many titles and awards.

Frances langford's war service record is a story that has to be told by itself. It is difficult to separate the girl from her war story or from her "Design For living."

The pattern of her life started with the American legion sponsored talent contest, a pattern which has never changed and has never ended.

She creates beauty and friendship wherever she is and wherever she goes. She is a perfectionist but has the rare talent of believing the best in people. She is deeply emotional and extremely loyal.

Frances personally supervises the langford-Evinrude interests in Jensen Beach. Theirs is a perfect marriage, that of Frances and Ralph Evinrude. Both have deep respect for the other's talents.

So, Frances langford and her husband, Ralph, brilliant, vitalic business man and philanthropist, join hands in planning their future and their "Design For living."

Their "Design For living," not only brings joy to so many and to themselves, but is probably the deep reason for their happy marriage and gives substance for their future.

SLEEK CRAFT NAMED FOR SLEEK GAL--The Fran E, named after the glamorous Frances langford, is part of the modern fleet of charter craft which has the Outrigger Marina as its home port.

WHERE GORGEOUS NATURE AND MODERN ENGINEERING MERGE—Framed by waving native palm trees and in glistening contrast to the azure sky, a 20th century miracle of concrete and steel—the Indian River bridge—spans the intercoastal waterway near Jensen Beach. In the background is Hutchinson's Island, a scenic stretch of land that offers to visitors and area residents alike such attractions as municipal and private beaches, the Elliott Museum and the historic House of Refuge.

STEAMBOAT IS GONE RIVER LURE REMAINS

When Miami Beach was still a snake-infested, mangrove swamp, this community—then known only as Jensen—was, as it is today, a pleasant place in which to live.

In those early days the pineapple was king and the center of the area's economy. It was the era of the picturesque steamboat which plied the blue waters of the Indian River stopping at such ports as Eldred, Ankona, and Jensen. Invariably, the deep-toned melodious whistle of these aquatic transports brought crowds thronging to the docks. The arrival of such a craft—routine though it may have been—was an event of importance.

It is pleasant for old timers to look back on those placid days when life was not so hurried and the carbon monoxide spewing motorcar was in the infancy of its development. Riverboat people, though busy with their labors, still "had time" to talk to the townspeople and their visits gave Jensenites a glimpse of the outside world.

Then, as today, however, the river shone blue and glistening on the sunny days or muttered darkly when black clouds concealed the sun. It was no more beautiful than now, but the hectic, ulcer-ridden era still lay in the future, and people had more time to laze in the Florida sun—and shade. Amusements were largely from the ingenuity of the people themselves.

The modern generation will find it hard to visualize a time when homes were lighted by candles and coal oil lamps; when there were no television or radio programs careening along the air waves. Children walked to school, their bare feet kicking up eddies of sand as they trod the dusty highways. Horse-drawn vehicles were, except for the river, the principal mode of transportation.

Now modern miracles of steel and concrete extend from causeways to span the majestic Indian River, such as that show in the picture above. This one, situated south of Jensen Beach and north of Sewall's Point, is already complete, and daily—and nightly—is a popular spot for hundreds of anglers. A second, also the rendezvous of anglers, is rapidly nearing completion and, with the construction of the lift span, will provide another avenue of travel for motorists going to or coming from Hutchinson's Island.

Present indications are that, before too much time elapses, fresh, palatable water will be piped from the mainland to Hutchinson's Island. What this will do to the island itself as well as the whole area's economy can only be conjectured but authoritative sources believe it may change the entire picture.

Private estates will spring up along the wave-pounded ocean side of this strip of lush countryside and there is always the possibility that hotel and resort interests may find the prospects tempting. Jensen Beach and Stuart both have municipal beaches for bathing and, already, at least one private beach club offers bathing and recreational facilities for its members. With fresh water available, other such properties may appear so that the island will no longer exist in semi-isolation.

The day of the river steamboat has vanished, but the lure and beauty of the river still exist. Now roaring motorboats, many trailing water skiers like tails on a kite, skitter across the blue surface or graceful yachts draw majestically to welcoming marinas. Yes, the steamboat is gone but the Indian River rolls on.

COMMUNITY HEART

Cars line the street in front of the impressive new Jensen Beach Bank which occupies an attractively-landscaped site extending from Commercial Street to Ricou Road. This modern, streamlined structure was designed by Armstrong and Pryor, Architects.

Attractive Jensen Beach Bank Is Asset To Growing Community's Financial Life

Just as a man is known by the company he keeps, the quality and progressiveness of a community are judged by the institutions that serve its people. In this area one of the newest and, without doubt, the most impressive, is the Jensen Beach Bank which, after a brief interval in temporary quarters, threw open the doors of its attractive, modern home in mid-December last year.

A crowd estimated at more than 1,500 visited the bank on the occasion of its "Get Acquainted Party." The interested guests found an interior that matched in beauty the handsome exterior. They found, too, a financial institution equipped to provide the latest in banking service, including two convenient drive-in windows.

More important, they found the bank staffed with courteous, friendly, well-informed and skilled employees eager to provide Jensen Beach area residents with the banking services which have so long been desired by the community.

Heading the bank as Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board of Directors is E. C. Wareheim with a background of more than 50 years in the complex field of finances and a man noted for getting things done. His career began in 1912 with the organization of the Commercial Credit Company. Wareheim was assistant treasurer of the company which then boasted $300,000 capital. When he retired in 1957 after variously serving as treasurer, vice-president, executive vice-president, president and chairman of the board, the capital surplus was in excess of $200 million. In addition, he served as a director of the First National Bank of Baltimore, Utah Savings Bank and the Baltimore Gas and Electric Company as well as being chairman of the Maryland State Fair. One of his most outstanding achievements was as a member of the Planning Council when that body planned urban renewal for 27 acres of downtown Baltimore. When Wareheim retired, he resigned his directorships but his life in sunny Florida has kept him active and busy. He is now a three-year town commissioner of Sewall's Point and mayor for two years and is a director of the Martin County Taxpayers Association.

President of the Jensen Beach Bank is Don J. Palmer, formerly cashier and vice-president of Dade National Bank of Miami. He, too, has a long and distinguished record in banking in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Illinois. Advised to come to Florida because of ill health of a member of his family, he became chief loan officer and vice-president of Miami National in 1958-59 before becoming vice-president and cashier of Dade National Bank of Miami.

That Jensen Beach has a bank to which its people can point with pride was no accident. A Chamber of Commerce committee organized six years ago was instrumental in the project. That committee was headed by W. B. Tilton Sr., and included the late Sam Rhodes Sr., William Porter, and Frank Wacha. This committee contacted Wareheim and, with his guidance, succeeded in bringing the new bank to Jensen Beach, an institution capitalized at $350,000, of which $50,000 is surplus and $50,000 undivided profits. Members of the board include T. T. Oughterson, Stuart lawyer, Leonard J. Smith, contractor; W. B. Tilton Sr., real estate broker; Robert B. Smith, cashier; and Edward Lawrence, general manager of Evinrude properties, with Wareheim as board chairman.

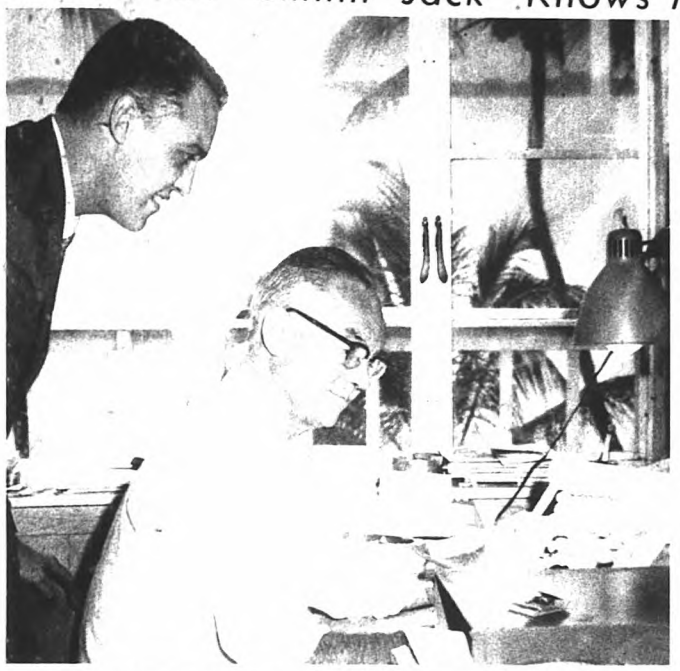
Creator Of "Smilin' Jack" Knows Martin County, Loves It



IS A WONDERFUL HOME, MOSELY

When a man can do the work he loves and be paid handsomely for it, he's really got it made. If, at the same time, he can provide entertainment for literally millions of people daily, that's frosting on the cake. And when he can achieve all these things while breathing sweet Florida air, basking in Florida's famous sunshine, and enjoying the ever-changing panorama on the picturesque St. Lucie River from his comfortable studio at Stuart--that's as near heaven on earth as any mortal can expect.

But that, in a nutshell, is the life of Zack Mosely, internationally famed cartoonist who since 1933 has been creating the equally famous comic strip, "Smilin' Jack", for the Chicago Tribune-New York News Syndicate, Inc.

Of course, like most success stories, it wasn't, and isn't, that easy. A native of Hickory, Okla., Zack, at an early age displayed an interest and talent in the field of art which, at about the time lucky Lindy flew his history making Atlantic flight, led him to Chicago where he studied at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts and the Chicago Art Institute. Like most struggling embryonic artists, Zack had to work for what he got. When he wasn't putting in long hours at the easel and drawing board, he was toiling in various loop restaurants to earn his tuition.

By 1930, however, he was making his skill, his unbounded imagination and his zest for life and adventure pay off. It was then that the aviation comic strip, "On the Wing", won the attention of syndicate editors and the public. It also won for him a six-weeks contract which has burgeoned into a career, now in its 31st year, which has brought him fame and fortune. The lead character in the strip prompted the editor to change the name to "Smilin' Jack", a title that caught and has held the public fancy for more than three decades.

Zack had the skill, the imagination and the enthusiasm but he wanted more than that. Like all true craftsmen, he determined that this work would be as authentic as it was possible to make it. "Smilin' Jack" involved the adventures of a flyer. So Zack studied aviation and became a pilot. Once he had won his private pilot's license, he was ready to roll. As a result, his skill as an artist and his intimate knowledge of flying have treated millions yearly to vicarious thrills and have lured many fans into becoming pilots themselves.

His vast following should know, however, that as much as he loves Florida and his studio at Stuart, Zack is not content to dream up his thrilling sequences while lolling on the banks of the St. Lucie. Probably no comic strip artist devotes more time, energy and expense to gain authenticity than Zack Mosely.

He learned to fly gliders at Elmira; flew on the first passenger Clipper plane from New York to Bermuda; combed Canada for his North Woods data, and covered pre-war cadet training installations. When World War II came, he flew for eighteen months with CAP as a submarine patrol pilot for which he was awarded the Air Medal by President Truman. This in turn led him to fly with the Air Rescue Service to glean new material for his strip.

His unceasing zest for adventure coupled with his demand for authenticity in his strip, has produced stints with forest fire patrols, hurricane hunters and tropical Air Rescue teams. Jets came and Mosely obtained his T-33 training at Williams Air Force Base. He invaded Alaska to learn about rescue service in the frozen north, and then, for contrast, spent three weeks in the Caribbean Islands for a Treasure Island series. There he learned about the new missile range and was invited to accompany USAF planes on firing and test missions.

He has flown the uranium fields of Wyoming and has scoured Panama and South America for background. In recent years he has kept abreast of X-15 flights at Edwards Air Force Base and Cape Kennedy knows him, too, for he was there for the first firing of the Matador. His air adventures should be enough to satisfy anyone, but recently he invaded another field and made a dive in a two-place submarine.

He has owned nine planes, is "chicken colonel" of CAP National Advisory Staff---who knows what will come next? Florida and the people of the Jensen Beach area welcome and enjoy him as "a neighbor" and unanimously voice the hope that he will continue to turn out his thrilling strip for another three decades.

Jensen Offers Gripping Drama-"Mrs. Turtle Lays Her Eggs"

Chamber Of Commerce Sponsors Annual 'Turtle Watch'

Think you know turtles? Man you ain't seen nuthin' inless you have been on Hutchinson's Island between dusk and dawn sometime during May, June, July or August and have witnessed one of Nature's miracles--the egg-laying rites of a monster sea turtle.

During this four-month period, literally hundreds of these behemoths of the deep come ashore nightly to lay their eggs on the sandy beaches of this almost uninhabited coastline. These giants range in size between 250 and 500 pounds for the loggerheads and green turtles and 500 to 2,000 pounds for the giant trunkbacks and humpbacks. Depending on her own size and species, Mrs. Turtle lays between 100 and 300 eggs, which vary in size from ping pong to tennis balls. The eggs are white, have a leathery feeling and can be indented easily with thumb pressure but do not crack like chicken eggs.

Turtle authorities claim that Mama Turtle leaves her spouse about half a mile off shore and when Nature tells her she is aoout to become a mother, comes in on a wave--mostly at high tide so she will not have so far to crawl to reach the bluff of sand where she digs her hole. The marks she leaves in her trail look like deep tractor tracks.

During the egg-laying season when the moon rides high, you can peer down the beach and see her come ashore where she pauses for about five minutes, alert for the sound of man or predators or the sight of a light, either of which will drive her back into the sea.

If no danger impends, she makes her way laboriously up the beach to high ground. Many times the shell and her weight cut deeply into her flippers so that she leaves a bloody trail in the sand. She picks a dry spot which her feminine intuition tells her is high enough to be safe from possible hurricane waves, so that her eggs will not be washed away before hatching about seven weeks later. According to Ray Lorenz, Jensen Beach insurance broker, to whom we are indebted for much of this data, Indian legend has it that if she buries her eggs just above the high tide mark, the area will be safe from hurricanes. But she picks a site high on a bluff or over, watch out!

Mrs. Turtle starts digging with her rear flippers, alternating one and then the other until a hole is dug to the limit of her flippers, about two feet. The hole is neat, sharply round going down and bulbous at the bottom. When this task is completed in from 15 to 20 minutes, she begins laying eggs. The first few come one at a time; then in twos and threes. Just before each batch is laid, she curls up her rear flippers, lifts her head, and emits a mournful sigh. Simultaneously with the egg laying, she begins to weep--tears as big as a teaspoon. Whether the tears are caused by sadness, joy or pain has never been determined, but cry she does, during the entire process. She looks neither to right nor left and is entirely oblivious to flashlights or flash bulbs.

So intent is she on her job that the unwary may think it safe to stick out a hand, in which case he may draw back a bloody stub, because Mamma Turtle has powerful jaws. Parents who wish to photograph their youngsters astride one of these monsters of the deep may do so safely providing they keep a tight grip on the child so he or she does not fall forward and be bitten.

Authorities are agreed that Mamma Turtle has probably swum hundreds of miles to perform her function as a reproducer of hundreds of her species. And once the job is done, she does her utmost to see the eggs have a chance to hatch undisturbed by the forces of nature or predatory enemies. Covering the eggs is an interesting and complex process. She gathers sand from around her and packs it over the eggs. You may watch closely where she lays the eggs, but by the time she is finished piling and packing dirt and moving around she may end up three or four feet from the actual nest.

In a final painful effort, using her front flippers, she hurls sand backward in great clouds. If you have been watching close at hand, you may be covered from head to toe by the sandy deluge.

Then she starts turning around to head back to the sea from whence she came. Her size and weight necessitate tremendous effort in extricating herself from the nesting area, for the trip back to safety in the sea. Or is it safety? If her flippers have bled she may become the target of a shark.

The Conservation Department does its best to see that the eggs are allowed to hatch, and that the tiny turtles are protected until they are able to fend for themselves. Likewise, laws protect the adult turtles. Persons who are apprehended killing turtles for their meat, or filching the eggs from the nest are subject to a fine of $500. But that does not mean that other predators will not end the embryonic turtle's career before it starts. Two raccoons can clean out an entire nest of eggs, finding the warm yolks delicious tidbits.

Even if the eggs hatch, the little turtles face a perilous future. The tiny creatures emerge from the sand and immediately head for the water. Pelicans may stand around the nest and swallow them as they appear, or if they reach the water, swoop down to devour them. Fish, too, find them appetizing and it is estimated that about only one of every nest survives to reproduce at the age of six years.

The egg-laying drama is one worth traveling far to see, and in fact, hundreds of people yearly descend on the Jensen Beach area for that purpose. The Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce is one of the few--if not the only such organization--to declare an official Turtle Watch. Each year on July 4th Chamber officials and interested citizens establish a headquarters on Hutchinson Island to register persons interested in seeing this strange phenomenon. With the assistance of the Conservation Department, lookouts are posted along the beach, and when a giant turtle is sighted approaching shore, the throngs of eager people are led to the scene of the laying.

And to prove that the persons registered have actually taken part in a turtle watch, certificates are issued as printed proof of a strange and interesting experience.

Tourists in this area during the turtle egg-laying season are urged to participate. If you are a tourist and had planned to be elsewhere, you are advised to alter your itinerary. You won't regret it!

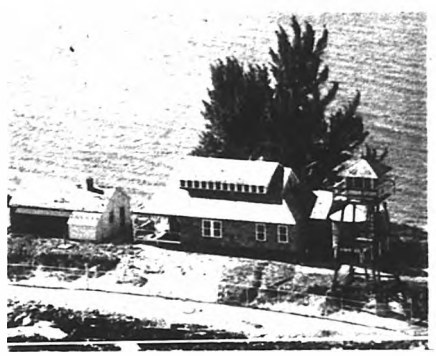
Turtles On Display At House Of Refuge

Persons who have been fortunate enough to participate in one of Jensen Beach's official Turtle Watches--or even those who haven't--should be interested in the turtle displays at the House of Refuge Museum on Hutchinson Island.

The House of Refuge, with its interesting and colorful history, is described in another story in this edition. To turtle enthusiasts, however, the displays of these strange amphibians are of special interest.

One huge tank houses (if houses is the proper term) some of the largest sea turtles ever raised in captivity. Here they may be observed at close range the year round.

But the giant turtles are not the only ones on display. Literally hundreds of tiny specimens at various stages of their development are also shown in other tanks. Visiting groups of school children find the tiny turtles of especial interest, and on occasions have been encouraged, under supervision, to utilize tooth brushes in cleaning the shells of these embryonic sea monsters. These babies, by the way, are raised from eggs until they are about a year old, and then released into local waters.



HOUSE OF REFUGE

Monster Of The Deep Comes Ashore

Interested youngsters gaze in startled wonder at one of Nature's phenomena as a giant sea turtle deposits her eggs in a self-excavated repository on a sandy beach on picturesque Hutchinson's Island. Surprisingly, although these ponderous denizens of the sea are easily frightened away while enroute to their egg-laying site, once there, nothing stops them.

Chamber Head Tells Why He Likes Jensen

[illegible] have been asked to [illegible] like to be in Jensen Beach. The answer readily is made. The community's combination of the qualities—location, friendly and co-operative friendly, courteous people—that we [illegible] and I visualized in [illegible] perfect spot for [illegible]

Back in the winter of 1[illegible] wife, Hazel, and I decided to start a vacation in Florida [illegible] ing [illegible] to locate the ideal our permanent residence in our declining years. A most factor in delay [illegible] ... was our desire to be near [illegible] daughters married and [illegible] ilies established.

Pending the arrival of that date we came each winter to Florida spending our vacations in various parts of the state—east coast, west coast, north and south.

In 1958 we found Jensen Beach. At that time—as it does today—it seemed the ideal spot but we were not in a position to settle completely and [illegible] on and [illegible] ... We chose this community because of its location [illegible] ... and the [illegible] ... ground.

To our friends and [illegible] ... ones and folks throughout the land, at last We've found a [illegible] ... place that meets with our demands.
With all it's [illegible] ... only if it's ever shining sun, it would seem
We could [illegible] ... and that time has just begun.
We [illegible] ... and traverse it's coral strands; we watch
The [illegible] ... bound for foreign lands.
We go bathing, fishing, and hunting, and other sports galore, and we
We go [illegible] ... it's silvery shore;
We would be glad [illegible] ... with us to join the happy throng, to share in all it's [illegible] ... and to sing it's merry songs.
Here the sunshine [illegible] ... sentiments and all nature seems to smile,
Here the dewdrops [illegible] ... kisses as a mother kiss her child.
Hear our hearts [illegible] ... our cup overflows with joy, as we trip
The light fandago [illegible] ... it's the genuine McCoy.
From North or South [illegible] ... or West, it's an easy place to reach; keep Heading south or [illegible] ... you find at Jensen Beach.

Here the rich, the poor, the [illegible] ... brings the low, the lame, the halt, the County Accomplishments

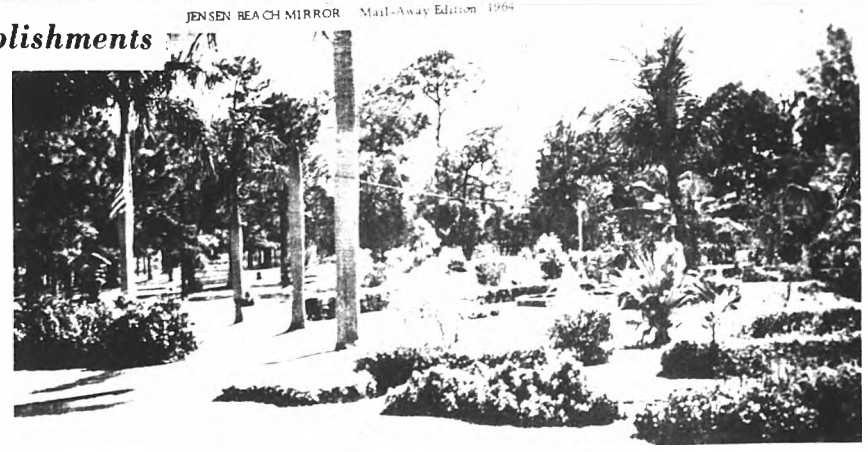
Improved Roads, Parks For Visitors Of Today Tomorrow

By Fran' A. Wacha
Chairman of Martin County
Board of County Commissioners



The fact that Martin County has been endowed by nature with fine ocean beaches, fresh and salt water streams, and a climate made for the enjoyment of these attributes, is a well established fact. During the past three years, as a member of the Board of County Commissioners, it has been my pleasure to participate in the formation of plans to get the most good out of natural gifts.

With the completion of the four-laning of US 1 through Martin County before the end of the year, we can now assure our visitors safe travel on a free four laned facility from Jacksonville to our county seat. In May of 1963, we were able to refinance our bridge bond issue and, in doing so, removed the tolls from our bridges to the ocean. We now have toll free access to miles of free Atlantic Ocean beaches for both resident and visitors alike.

The Board of County Commissioners is aware of the fact that if we are to get our share of visitors, we must make a recreational area development program that has complimented our free ocean beaches. In Jensen Beach we have designed a recreational area for family fun in the sun. This area has picnic tables, playground, fishing pier, boat ramp and miles of the beautiful Indian River for boating, fishing and swimming. In the Port Salerno area, we can boast of having one of the finest overnight camping areas in the State of Florida. The camp, Sandsprit Park, has all that could be asked for by the overnight enthusiast, and is enjoyed by hundreds weekly. Along the banks of the St. Lucie Canal, we have another 71 acres park which in time will develop into the country's best. Through the joint cooperative efforts of the Martin County Golf Association, and the Board of County Commissioners, we can now boast of one of the finer 18 hole golf courses in the area.

In addition to the sunshine and its many waters, Martin County also ranks high in agriculture, with a fine cattle and flower industry. To increase the agricultural stability of the county, we have seen a big development of the citrus industry here. The Board of County Commissioners has encouraged this growth with fine farm-to-market roads.

Through the efforts of our Committee of 100, we have encouraged clean, light industry to our county. The committee has been successful and has given our county the shot in the arm to assure a year 'round stable economy.

The Board of County Commissioners is ever [illegible] mindful of the fact that a high tax structure would, in spite of our natural resources, discourage growth. We have therefore managed our affairs [illegible] in a manner as to keep pace with our growth, without any increase in property taxes for county purposes.

We [illegible] encourage people to come for a visit, for we know that once they get some of our friendly sand in their shoes, they will return to make our progressive community their home.

PUBLIC PARK -- This beautifully landscaped park in Stuart reflects the pride felt by citizens and the efforts of the city park department.

Cootiette Club Plans Rummage Sale February 29

The regular monthly meeting of the Honeycreepers Cootiette Club 540, Martin and St. Lucie counties was held Monday, February 3 at the V. F. W. Post Home in Ft. Pierce. Mrs. Charles Moehle presided.

Plans were discussed and a committee appointed for the annual rummage sale to be held by the club February 29 at 13 Street adjoining the post office substation in Fort Pierce.

A report of the successful benefit social given by the club at Walton Community Center on January 18 was given, with a vote of thanks to all who helped.

The officers for 1964-65 were announced: Mrs. Charles Moehle, president, Mrs. Sarge Campbell Sr. vice-president, Mrs. Ethel Abbott, Jr. vice-president, Mrs. David Gosney, secretary, Mrs. Nellie Smith, treasurer; Mrs. E. R. Ruett, Chaplain; Mrs. A. S. Bryan, 3 year trustee; Mrs. Nina Brown, conductress; Mrs. Elizabeth Addison, guard.

After the business meeting, members enjoyed refreshments at a table decorated with valentines and flowers, and later exchanged "secret pal" gifts and drew names for their 1964 secret pals.

The next regular meeting will be March 2 at the V. F. W. Post Home in Ft. Pierce.

Boat-A-Cade Set For May

The annual cross-state Boat-A-Cade from Stuart to Fort Myers, sponsored by the Okeechobee Waterways Association, has been set for May 15-17. Stuart Chamber of Commerce was informed of the plans by Charles H. Kindred, Vice President of the association, at the February Board of Directors meeting. A survey was made at the close of last year's Labor Day cruise as to the preferred time, and the late spring date is the result. A local planning committee will be appointed to plan the Kick-Off here May 15th.

Clewiston will be the Saturday stop-over and Fort Myers the terminus. The boat-a-cade reverses direction each year.

Ed Hallicy of the Advertising Promotion Committee presented a draft of new Stuart-Martin County visitor brochures and plans for the Chamber's booth at the Martin County Fair outlined by Phil Sameck, booth chairman at Thursday's business session.

William E. Crary reported to the board on the U. S. Chamber of Commerce sponsored Accreditation Program. Crary was asked to make further reports to the board on the program and activities of the local Chamber in relation to the criteria established for accreditation.

The board voted to purchase 10,000 more Martin County Fishing map-brochures for distribution to information bureaus. A previous supply of 5,000 even when carefully "rationed" according to the office staff, lasted less than six months. The 10" by 16" brochure is a fishing invitation to the county and contains capsule descriptions of Jensen Beach, Indiantown, Hobe Sound, Port Salerno and Stuart. Approved also was purchase of pictures of the U. S. #1 Highway signs regarding road conditions for circulation to newspapers and magazines. The Film Committee reported work proceeding on the script.

Mrs. Radie Belle Krueger, board member and chairman of the Civic Improvement Committee, will represent the Stuart Chamber at the organizational meeting of the U. S. #1 beautification group on February 28.

Jensen Beach Is Tourist Mecca, Survey Reveals

Thousands In 35 States Seek Data On "Garden Spot"

Just as tourism is vital to the entire state of Florida, it is playing—and will continue to play—an ever-increasingly important role in the economy of the Jensen Beach area.

That is the opinion of Reg Walker, executive secretary of the Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce, an opinion not based on wild dreams or propaganda but on cold, hard facts.

For instance, in the last year he has received 1,389 letters of inquiry concerning the availability of living accommodations and other details about the community. In the same period, 3,266 persons have visited the office seeking information or help in obtaining motel or other accommodations.

As a guide to prospective visitors, the Chamber collected the data and had paid for the printing of 22,500 copies of the 1963 Fishing Guide. Of this number, 16,428 copies were sent to American Automobile Association clubs, travel agencies and Chambers of Commerce throughout the United States; 3,522 were given to persons who visited the office and 2,549 copies were distributed among Chamber members. Of the total shipped out, 4,200 copies went to the six Florida State Welcoming Stations.

The copies sent to AAA clubs, travel agencies and Chambers went to 35 different states. Some of the states receiving the greatest number were Illinois, 1,100; New York, 1,075; Ohio, 700; District of Columbia, 8,500; and Connecticut, 400. Our neighboring nation to the north, Canada, received 750. Surprisingly, MacDill Air Force Base at Tampa asked for, and received, 1,200. Enclosed with each consignment of Fishing Guides were return post cards. As a result, 154 of these cards were returned asking for more of the Fishing Guides.

Distribution of these Fishing Guides is one of the major—and most expensive—projects carried on by the Chamber. In fact, according to Walker, 85 per cent of the monies collected as dues from Chamber members, is expended on this project.

In addition to distribution of the Fishing Guides, the Chamber mailed, or distributed to visitors, nearly 10,000 Jensen Beach maps and brochures. It is interesting to note, in passing, that 25 per cent of the letters and visitors to the office seek information about living accommodations in Jensen Beach.

The Chamber, among its many activities, maintains a register of all residents and visitors to of all residents and visitors so that they may easily be located for delivery of telegrams, in finding relatives and for truck deliveries. A file is also maintained of all inquiries received concerning the buying of homes, land, rental of homes or hotel or motel accommodations and is available to all members.

As an accommodation to Jensen Beach residents and tourists the Chamber has on hand supplies of informative literature from every Florida community or resort that issues a brochure.

To facilitate the delivery of telegrams, express, truck shipments and the location of individuals, the Chamber took upon itself the assignment of street numbers. This was done with the aid of the Florida State Development Commission which sent an engineer to Jensen Beach for ten days. As part of this project, Martin County paid for the erection of street signs. Unfortunately, Walker estimates, 50 per cent of the people have not put numbers on their homes or businesses, which often leads to complications.

For instance, during the last holiday season, innumerable people in other areas sent gift packages to friends and relatives here, bearing only the Post Office Box number as the address. Since the Post Office Department and Express Company have no connection, those packages might have never been delivered were it not for the files maintained at the Chamber office.

All businessmen in the Jensen Beach—Rio—Sewall's Point area benefit from the activities of the Chamber—but not all are members. If the services provided by the Chamber are to continue and expand, however, Walker points out, the Chamber deserves and must have the support of all businesses and civic-minded individuals. The Chamber roster reveals an excellent representation of the community's business firms but, considering the benefits, it is surprising, he believes, that even greater numbers have not become affiliated with this organization.

Within the last few months the Chamber office has undergone a $2,000 improvement and expansion program. This included an attractive covered porch area, supported by ornamental metal pillars with two comfortable benches on which visitors may sit, should the office be crowded or closed, and a second room—ten feet deep and the width of the building which houses storage space and toilet facilities.

Present officers are: Frank Forsberg, President; E. W. Lawrence, Vice President; R. K. Carroll, Secretary; D. J. Palmer, Treasurer, and Walker as Executive Secretary.

Directors are: George K. McComb, J. Ernest Baker, Donald Wilkie, A. E. Palmer, E. E. Standish, W. B. Tilton Sr., D. M. Collier, William Yurillo, W. W. Fletcher, Louis Tranowski, Fred Escott, Charles Hall, Harry Lentz, Philip M. Baker, John Hardy and Martin O. Wahl.

Stuart Chamber Asks Cooperation

Stuart Chamber of Commerce issued a plea for close co-operation from owners of rental units in the Stuart area last week.

In an effort to keep informed on vacancies and to supply the information to tourists at their office, the chamber has found it difficult to keep up-dated since landlords fail to report anything but vacancies.

Mrs. Rosaleen Murray, chamber manager, said there has been a scarcity of two and three bedroom houses for families eversince last summer, and it is more serious now.

Most eagerly sought are houses which rent for $65 to $85 per month on a year-round basis.

Ray Friel Blooms Into Garden Prexy

Ray N. Friel, Port Sewall, was elected president of the Men's Garden Club in Stuart as nearly 50 men met at the county agricultural building to organize it.

William Ambler, city park superintendent, was elected vice-president; Howard Underwood, Palm City, secretary-treasurer, and George H. Jones, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Guests at the organizing session were Arnold Taylor, president of the Men's Garden Club of Palm Beach, and Joe N. Crowder, city manager of Stuart, who spoke briefly on the image a city creates through its parks, gardens and landscaping.

The next meeting will be held March 3 at the agricultural building.

FIVE PEOPLE INJURED IN THREE CAR COLLISION

A three-car wreck delayed the heavy rodeo traffic at 6:00 p. m. Sunday on SR 76 near the Stuart city limits.

Five people were injured when a wagon owned by General R. F. Fittings, struck a car moving east on Monterey Road. That car was tossed into the third car which was stopped at the intersection, headed west.

A Johns Funeral Home ambulance, enroute to Stuart from duty at the rodeo, stopped and picked up three of the injured and took them to Martin Memorial Hospital.

Three Championship 18 Hole Golf Courses In The Ar

MAKE MARTIN COUNTY REA WONDERFUL FOR PROS - DU

THE SAND TRAP—Challenging courses encourage golfers to test their ability in our area. Three eighteen hole championship courses offer the diversity needed to keep the avid golfers happy here.

The golfer who enjoys variety in his golfing will find three challenging courses within minutes of anywhere in Martin County. Martin County Golf and Country Club features eighteen holes, recently completed, that will test the mettle of the most avid chaser of the little white ball. The championship course is tricky, and will give the type of competitive obstructions any golfer desires.

Also, Port St. Lucie Country Club has two championship eighteen hole courses. Designed for PGA competition, the holes are beautifully landscaped to afford the view of controlled natural environment as golfers pass lakes, streams and the vast St. Lucie River in their quest of a low score. The two courses are called the Saints and the Sinners courses.

Complete golf services are offered by both clubs. Both have pro shops offering the clubs, clothing, balls and other paraphernalia that keep golfers devoted to the sport.

WE GET THE BIG ONES—Sailfishing Capital of the World's not an empty slogan in these parts, mister. We get the big ones. And Martin County has a fishing fleet second to none available for charter to get out there in the Gulfstream to find the sails and bring them in to boat.

Sailfishing Fleet Knows Just Where "They" Are!

Ask anyone, and they will tell you, Stuart is called the Sailfishing Capital of the World because this is where "they" are. Sailfish roam the gulf stream, slipping quietly north just a few miles offshore. Experienced captains command a fleet of charter boats from various marinas on the many, many miles of protected water in the St. Lucie and Indian Rivers.

Every morning of the year the modern sailfishing craft leave the docks and slip down the river and out St. Lucie Inlet to search for and usually find the fighting sailfish. To try to explain the thrill of bringing a sailfish to the boat is impossible. The sail jumps, twists, dances on its tail, and is one of the most exciting catches in the world.

From the moment that the sail rises to follow the bait, excitement reigns supreme. Setting the hook, and then the long, and sometimes fantastic battle of man and fish begins. Most of the time the fish wins, by his very nature a competitor, but the catches are more than worth the losses.

In the interests of encouraging more and more sailfishing, the Stuart Sailfish Club has a sailfish release button, which it awards to any angler releasing a sailfish. And quite a few of these buttons are awarded in the county area, since most anglers realize that there is an abundant supply of the sporting fish within the reach of the many charter boats.

The annual sailfish tournament, now in its tenth season, draws famous fishermen and women to the event each year, and is recognized as a premier big game fishing event. They are there for the catching.

THE BEAUTY OF SURF FISHING—A long cast by a local beauty shows that everyone enjoys of surf fishing for blues, whiting, snook and pompano in the miles and miles of ocean be Martin County. Both commercial and sport fishermen find ample action from the hard hit to guarantee a good time in the sand. And remember, once that sand gets in your shoes, return to live in wonderful Martin County.

Newsman Reports Study Tour

Mrs. William B. Cook, Marguerita Court, recently received an interesting letter and published report from her brother-in-law, Russell W. Frey, former publisher of Rittman, Ohio, now on a Pacific Study Mission with 30 newsmen.

In his report, Frey tells of the plight of the natives of Tahiti who depend upon tourism for their living. Since the DeGaulle administration has taken over there, according to Frey, the visitor encounters a cold shoulder attitude from the officials, while the natives and French hotelkeepers still try to be friendly and helpful to their tourist guests.

He tells of the snub his group suffered along with another American newspaper group visiting the island at the same time.

Frey and his colleagues had made reservations at the largest hotel in Tahiti three months before, and when they arrived they were told that the governor's office had called and commandeered the room the day before making it necessary to shift the newsmen to an outside dining room---just like that!

The French officials ignored and refused to speak with the visiting newsmen of both parties. Later, the local representative of the United Press, who is something of an expert on Tahitian affairs, confirmed the utter futility of being able to talk to the French officials, even though they were in the same room at the same time.

Tahiti, a tourists paradise, the island chosen as the favorite by 62 percent of the Pacific Islands visitors, turned down a chance of running their own affairs in 1958, and chose to remain a French territory. Now, the DeGaulle attitude of thumbing a nose at the world is reflected from their own beautiful land, offending the admiring tourist who has been welcomed and encouraged to visit their land for so many years.

Frey's report of the destruction of tourism by outsiders who gain control of a resort is only one of many instances of that type of economic tragedy suffered by a community that had spent years in building up a steady and lucrative tourist trade; at foreign ports and right here at home!

This sort of thing is unlikely to happen where residents of a resort community take an active interest in their civic affairs, as do the people of our own Jensen Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moehle, Walton, will drive to Tampa to spend next week-end with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hamilton.

A MEAN OLD WORLD--Carl F. "Nick" Barker hasn't had such treatment in his thirteen months, and he let everyone know it. His second haircut was a terrifying experience... and that horrible man with the scissors and comb; well, the indignity of it all. And that ambulance sitting across the street didn't ease Nick's mind, either.

A MEAN OLD WORLD--Carl E. "Nick" Barker hasn't had such treatment in his thirteen months and is let everyone know it. His second haircut was a terrifying experience... and that horrible man with the scissors and comb, well, the indignity of it all. When they finally let him out of the chair, "Nick" held on to father, Carl Barker, of Ingle Heights, for dear life. Virgil the Barber had his hands full of the squirmine customer. And that ambulance sitting across the street didn't ease Nick's mind, either.

Who Put The R For March In Mrs. Murphy's Oyster

March has an "R" in it, and obviously R not in season, if taken from anywhere other than the approved east bank of the Indian River from the St. Lucie county line north to Fort Pierce.

Last Sunday Mrs. Tom Murphy ate raw oysters she acquired from a local boater, and at 3:00 a. m. Monday morning, she was rushed to Martin Memorial Hospital from her home on North Indian River Drive. The oysters were reportedly taken from the east side of the Indian River, south of the causeway, . . . not an approved area.

Local residents are urged to refrain from eating oysters that are taken from any than the approved beds for they could be contaminated.

Frank Wacha For Re-election Cites Cooperation-Achievement

Frank H. Wacha

Frank N. Wacha, 42, has filed for re-election to the Martin County Commission. Presently the chairman of the board, Wacha points to the cooperation of the commissioners, and of other municipal, county and state boards as being the most important achievement of his three years in office.

Wacha filed Tuesday afternoon, and in a statement to the press said, "I am filing for re-election because of the satisfaction I have received during these past three years as commissioner and participating on the growth of Martin County." He cited a major accomplishment in the passing terms, the four-laming of U. S. # 1, rebuilding the Jensen Beach Bridge, removing the tolls from the bridges, assuring action on paving Martin Grade and other improvements in the county "without increasing taxes".

Wacha also mentioned that the achievements were made because the board was able to "make decisions and stick with them". He added "I will continue to work for the betterment of all Martin County, the improvement of our county through planning and zoning, and for the conservation of our water supply and natural resources."

Wacha is a World War II veteran with overseas service, a graduate of the University of Florida, and a local C. P. A. He has been a resident of Jensen Beach for 15 years. Past president of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce and the Stuart Lions Club, Wacha helped form the little league and Pony League in Martin County, and currently manages the Stuart-Jensen Elks little league team.

He is presently serving his fourth year as chairman of the board of county commissioners, is a director in the state association of county commissioners, and is chairman of their revenue and taxation committee and a member of the roads committee. He is now serving on a committee of the county commissioners working with the state legislative finance committee on ways and means of financing county government. He is also a member of the Martin-St. Lucie-Okeechobee Recreational Development.

Live And Love It

By DICK CAMPBELL

Politics 'n Stuff

About this time of year we get into the swing of politics 'n stuff, and the people begin looking to their local newspaper for some sort of leadership in informing them of the various candidates strength and weakness. Some newspapers kinda ride the middle of the fence, for local politics makes deep wounds, and enemies of yesterday (especially in this county's politics) will remain enemies of tomorrow.

This is really a shame, for if we don't have the ability to weigh our feelings in the proper light, then we aren't very mature.

Just to throw a pebble into a quiet pool and watch the ripples, the Mirror is going to try to promote some of the democratism this year. The Mirror will actually evaluate the candidates and try to select the best one the Mirrors feels is in the running.

The theme of this year in the Florida Press Association is "directness". In other words, an honest approach to the people. We intend to bring this to bear in the election this year.

The people have the right to look at our opinion, and evaluate what we have to say, and make their own choices. After all an editor is human, and an editorial is just the opinion of the editor put out to the public.... just as we see it.

The words editorials carry a certain degree of weight in that the editor is in contact with many, many people each week, feels the pulse of the county, and expresses that feeling, or the analysis of that feeling, in his editorials.

Nothing is infallible in the printed decisions of the editor. We have our share of errors in picking and we think a good batting average for picking a will be about normal for the county. This will range more or less than the county is doing today.

Also, the editor will be misled often by politicians who misuse their position to mislead the public and not be sorry.

Then, and only then, we will pick what we consider the right candidate and present our list to the people. We expect that we will agree with about 75 per cent of our respected readers. About that time we will go out and vote.

Newspapers that give endorsements to candidates in fact find that the people use the information that they give to their own best interests, and that newspaper can push a candidate down the throat of the public. People just won't be conned into doing or thinking something that is against their best interests. A case in point is the endorsement of the gigantic Miami Herald of the losing candidate in the last election down there. Mr. Hall won the race following a battle with the Herald that reached a point of rather heated exchanges. The people just didn't buy the Herald's endorsement, which was in good faith. We'll try our best to pick the candidates we feel are the best. Some will think we are right. Others will think we are right. All will vote as they darn well please and either make us look like champions of democracy, or monkeys.

And after it is all over, we will straffen the chin, thrust out our chest and be proud that we have the guts to stand for what we believe in, no matter the cost.

WORLD'S RECORD--A. R. (Dick) Ietteriello proudly displays his record winning Bermuda Chub, which he caught in the Jensen Beach Surf. Dick and his catch are featured in the current catalogue of a large fishing tackle company. A Pennsylvanian, Dick is an armament designer, air brush expert, idea man for TV commercials, and also finds time to compose songs.

Cost Nothing To Smile

About the cheapest--or rather, the least expensive--commodity available to any person serving the public is a smile. But, sadly we must report, smiles---from merchants, sales people, waitresses, garage and gasoline station personnel---are conspicuous by their absence.

Perhaps---although we don't think so---we are particularly susceptible to a smile, but we do know that many a time we have had our days ruined by some sullen, ungracious waitress. The day is sunny and the air smells like wine. We arise feeling that we could whip the world. We enter a restaurant in a happy mood, when, boom! We are greeted by a waitress who appears to be out of war with the world. She slaps the dishes down, glares and generally lets know what we will have. And there goes our happy day.

Unfortunately this is not an isolated instance. It happens time and time again---regrettably even in Jensen Beach. Perhaps these unknowing, disagreeable mortals do not like the public much, they don't like people. Whatever the reason, however obviously they are not fitted to be serving the public.

A smile, a courteous, friendly greeting and, at least, a seeming desire to please the customer can cover a multitude of sins. It can not compensate entirely for poor food, inadequate facilities or even clumsy service but it will go a long way. We have shunned a restaurant or store where the surroundings were pleasing and the food good or the merchandise satisfactory, simply because of ungracious personnel. Individuals who serve the public do not bring the customer a favor. He or she is paying for whatever that particular place has to offer. Here in Jensen Beach, in fact in all Martin County, we hope to benefit from tourism. The least we can do then is to treat our visitors---and ourselves, too---pleasantly. We want visitors to come back. Let's make them want to!

Remember, a smile costs little, but it can accomplish miracles.

Time To Take Stock

With the completion of the Jensen Beach bridge, and causeway, and the piping of fresh water to Hutchinson's Island assured, now appears an excellent time for the people of Martin County to take stock.

That strip of nearly uninhabited land that separates the Indian River from the Atlantic Ocean is even today a valuable asset to this area. It can, and should, become even more valuable, when the two improvements mentioned become realities.

But because it is valuable it is important that the people of the county see to it that their interests and the interests of the public in general are protected.

It is vital to the economy of the area that the island is properly zoned, that no construction be permitted that will turn an area in a few years degenerate into a slum area. Rep. William Owen, at the time of the announcement that funds are to be let on the bridge and that water has been assured for the island, said he hoped that everyone involved would move cautiously that the progress would be real and not something that would later be regretted.

Considering the size of the island, it seems too bad that so little of the ocean front will be accessible to the public. That is something that the taxpayers and their representatives in the legislative halls should consider before it is too late. The land already is available but once rumored construction---high rise apartments, motels and other such projects---is begun, it seems probable that prices will soar. The cost of property which might be devoted to public parks and beaches will then be almost prohibitive. Now, then, is the time to consider that aspect.

Jensen Beach and Stuart both have public beaches and Martin County also owns land. But is that enough? If the taxpayers and their elected representatives are convinced that there is enough public access land, well and good. If not, they had better start thinking about it soon.

In last week's Mirror a story was published announcing the gift to the Martin County Audubon Society of a mile strip of land extending between the Intercoastal Waterway and the ocean at the north end of Jupiter Island. It will be used as a bird sanctuary and park area. That the creation of such an area on Jupiter Island is desirable, should make the public consider the advisability of a similar facility on Hutchinson's Island.

What we are trying to say is that now is the time to study the entire question of Hutchinson's Island---what it is and what we want it to be. Don't let public apathy and disinterest permit any step that will be regretted in later years. It is easy enough to be a Monday Morning Quarterback, to be a second guesser and critic. But NOW is the time to think and act!

To The Editor

To the Editor

May I take this opportunity to say "Congratulations" to you and your entire staff for publishing such an outstanding Mail-Away edition of your Jensen Beach Mirror.

Certainly a paper such as this is a credit not only to the Jensen Beach district but to Martin County. Wishing you the very best in the years ahead.

Your friend,
William E. Owens

To the Editor

Mr. Palmer has sent me a copy of the recent mail-away edition of the Jensen Beach Mirror and I wanted to congratulate you on the fine job you are doing.

It is certainly an outstanding edition, and with the many colorful pictures, does much toward publicizing the attractions of the Jensen Beach area.

Best wishes for many years of continued success.

Sincerely yours,
Paul G. Rogers, M. C.

To the Editor

Mr. Al Palmer was kind enough to send us a copy of your beautiful special edition of February 27.

Congratulations on this wonderful job of promotion for Jensen Beach and Martin County.

Sincerely,
Wendell Jarrard

To the Editor

I wish to commend you for the fine edition that you brought out last week.

The good quality of the paper made it nice to feel, and the beautiful colored and well registered pictures were a pleasure to view.

Also, I am glad that you use the size paper that you do. It is so much easier to handle than the awkward size most newspapers use.

Congratulations!

Sincerely,
H. A. Hien

Elizabeth Thalman Is New Director Of M.C. Library

The board of the Martin County Public Library announces the appointment of Miss Elizabeth Thalman as Director of the Library beginning April 1.

ELIZABETH THALMAN

Miss Thalman returned to her own college, Hobart, and was Head librarian for fifteen years, and is coming to Stuart from the Portsmouth Public Library, Portsmouth Va.

INSURANCE TIPS

Q. What should I expect to pay for insurance on my inboard boat?

A. I write an all perils type policy for $4.00 per hundred with a $25.00 deductible on small boats up to $5,000. For larger units and rigs I have a verible rate that is flexible and can be tailored to your price requirements for various deductible features and lay up warranties.

Q. I have a homeowner's insurance policy and would like to know if it is possible to add coverage for liability on my boat?

A. If your boat is an outboard, most companies do not even charge extra for this coverage, and give the coverage in the amount of $25,000 unless you want higher limits. If your boat is an inboard, the coverage can be added to the policy for an additional premium, since the premium varies with the size and speed of the boat you should check with your agent for the price.

Q. I will be building a new home soon and would like to know if the difference between the rate charged for frame houses and masonry houses is substantial.

A. The rate difference is substantial and possibly you should check with your agent before building to see exactly how much difference there is between the rates for the given amount of insurance that you will need.

County Reveals A Massive $500,000 Road Program

LOOK AT THAT--County Commissioners pour over the reports of half a million dollars in road money announced by commission chairman Frank Wacha at a special meeting Wednesday morning. Left to right are: Fred Bell, county engineer, Wacha; commissioner Jack Saunderson; commissioner Jack Williamson; and commissioner Ed Miller. Not in the picture, but equally as interested was commissioner Herb Bruner.

Pratt-Whitney And Future Planning Are Included In A Fantastic Program

By DICK CAMPBELL

County Commissioner Frank A. Wacha dropped a bombshell in a special meeting of the commission Wednesday morning in what looked like a scene of Christmas in March as he announced that $504,000 was being made available through the State Road Department re-evaluation of the 80% of the fifth, sixth and seventh cents of gasoline tax.

Everyone got something out of the meeting, in which excitement reigned supreme, and the five commissioners received road commitments that had been just dreams in the past.

Top on the list was the construction of the Pratt & Whitney Road, which will cut ten miles off the present route traveled by employees of the plant living in Martin County, and will make Martin County competitive to Palm Beach and Jupiter for Pratt & Whitney workers.

"This is the result of the refinancing of the bond issue to remove the tolls from the bridges", Wacha said. "The refinancing created a surplus greater by almost $100,000 that was at first estimated. By insisting on a fixed annual payment, we did not tie up our fifth and sixth cent gas money until the bond issue was paid off."

Moving quickly to capitalize on the newly found money, the county meets with State Road Board members Monday at Fort Lauderdale. Working closely with road board member John Monahan, the commissioners have set up a priority list for projects to be taken.

They include: $210,000 for construction of the Pratt & Whitney Road from State Road 76 to the south county line; $90,000 for resurfacing State Road 707A (Commercial Street) from the railroad tracks to temporary A1A; State Road 707A (the beach road) from the east span of the Jensen Beach bridge to A1A at the ocean; St. Lucie Road in Port Salerno from A1A to U. S. 1; and Bridge Road in Hobe Sound from A1A to U. S. 1.

Future planning came in for $204,000 of the money. Commission chairman Frank Wacha said that this was a great moment in history, when Martin County had funds available to plan ahead. Set aside for preliminary planning, surveying and purchase of rights of way, the money will be spent on the following projects:

Acquisition of Right of way for SR 714, Martin Grade- $10, 000

Preliminary Planning and right of way for Port Salerno ocean bridge- $50, 000

Fox Brown Rd., SR710 to SR 714-$34, 000; East Ocean Blvd. A1A, Stuart-$30, 000-Indian Ave. U. S. 1 to SR 76-$20, 000; North St. Lucie Canal Rd., 76A to 710-$30, 000; Extension West Farm Rd. to SR 441-$30, 000.

Republicans May Sue On Registration

Mrs. John W. Hussey, Port Sewall, submitted her resignation on Tuesday as president of the Republican Women's Club of Martin County, with the intention of entering the state-wide Republican battle on the side of U. S. Rep. William C. Cramer.

She submitted her resignation at the Martin County court house at the height of a local fray over the qualification of a Republican candidate for county commissioner in District 3.

Martin County Republican leaders were discussing possible court action Tuesday following the latest voter registration upset.

Mrs. Hussey spoke as a member of the county Republican executive committee when she charged that more than one registration taken at Hobe Sound in January would be found un-entered on county records, but possibly lodged in a drawer in the county supervisor of registration's office.

The hassle developed when Ed Murray, chairman of the County Democratic executive committee discovered that Walter Owens, Republican candidate for county commission in District 3, was not a registered voter.

Mrs. Dorothy Pierce called the state attorney-general's office for a ruling.

Mrs. Zola Blakeslee and the clerk in her office said they searched the records three times and failed to turn up any Walter C. Owens as a registered voter.

Owens was carrying a card signed by Mrs. Blakeslee which said that he had registered as a Republican on Jan. 24, 1964, and he had two expert witnesses to prove it; Mrs. Hussey and Mrs. Pierce, both of whom saw it at the time Owens made his first attempt to qualify.

Mrs. Carl Dykes said she had registered about 90 people at Hobe Sound in January, many of them Republicans, and she knew she had registered Owens, she told Mrs. Hussey.

She admitted she had erred in mixing up some of the registration cards, but had told Mrs. Blakeslee all about it in January.

She said many Republicans registered, and when she took the cards to the registrar's office was criticized for registering so many. She offered to take no pay for her work because the cards were not in the best of order.

Republicans were predicting that the Ed Miller registration hassle of two years ago would look like a Sunday School picnic compared to the current one, if 90 people who are supposed to have registered in Hobe Sound are found not to have been registered in fact.

The Martin County High School Band won a "superior" rating in concert work, and "excellent" in sight reading by three judges in the spring ratings of area band.

James C. Woodall, principal of Martin County High School, made the announcement on Tuesday.

Architect To Meet With Committee

The Building Committee of the Jensen Community Church will meet today (Thursday) with the architects to discuss final plans for the Sanctuary which will soon be let for bids.

The March edition of the Florida Community Church magazine features a cover picture of the model of the completed plant of the Jensen Community Church.

Community Kid's Day Is Set For Thursday April 2nd

The big day coming for the children of Jensen Beach is Thursday, April 2, when the Langford Hall Park Association will sponsor Community Kid's Day at Langford Hall Park.

The big attraction will be the Jungleland Safari featuring circus aerialists, performing elephants, ponies, monkeys, a high-diving dog, mechanical rides, and refreshments, clowns and surprises.

The largest elephant in the U. S. will be among the many trained and performing animals. This giant pachyderm, known affectionately as "Blanche", weighs over five tons. She arrived in the United States in 1900 as a youngster of 20 years of age. She now reigns majestically over the herd of three performing elephants in the Jungleland Safari.

"Jewel", a three-ton teen-age elephant, does a twist upon hearing the music "Come on, let's do the Twist".

Children will have an opportunity to ride the elephants, ponies or Safari carts.

"Polly", the high-diving dog, climbs a forty-two foot ladder and dives into a tiny net.

Free admission and tons of fun and things to do will make April 2 in Jensen Beach a tremendous fun day for children of all ages.

Birthday Party

The American legion and Auxiliary are holding a birthday party on Monday, March 23, at 6:30 p. m. for members and families.

Everyone is reminded to bring a covered dish, salad or vegetable.

Boy Scout Pack 402 will entertain.

Qualifications Over

Political Candidates File Up to the Last

It was like the Christmas Rush as political candidates filed right up to the last minute Tuesday at noon in the county courthouse. All were handled with a minimum of Democratic and Republican skirmishing, and Dorothy Pierce, county clerk of court, breathed easier as she rode home free, with no opposition.

District 1 incumbent, Frank A. Wacha, chairman of the commission, has an opponent in his re-election move in Christian Kalb, a Jensen Beach retiree and an active Masonic leader in this county. Both are Democrats.

Martin County's first negro candidate for county-wide office is Lewis B. Preston. Also seeking Democratic nomination: John B. MacArthur, Robert Marchione.

Jack Saunderson is seeking re-election for the county commission in District 3.

W. F. Underhill, Jr., Port Mayaca, filed for the county commission in District 5.

Timer Powers, Indiantown, has filed for the seat being vacated by Jack Williamson, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for State Senate in District 33.

In District 2, Joseph Greenlees filed for the school board seat of Henry Kindred, who is not seeking re-election. Also of District 2, Donna Rowell filed for the school board.

Three candidates qualified for constable to succeed John Holt: Frank Snipes, James F. Higby and David Gale.

In the Justice of the Peace District 2 race, Harvey Piley, John A. Wethington and Kenneth Stimmell.

Tom Wethington will oppose incumbent Ralph Ward in District 2 for the constable's race.

Sam Harless filed for Sheriff.

Mallory Johnson, Dean Tooker and Elton Schwart, three Democratic candidates, are seeking the seat of County Judge.

Mrs. Isabel Evans filed for the supervisor of registration, and will face John W. Keller in the race.

Unopposed officials, all Democrats, are: Alvin Andrews, tax collector; A. C. Cousson, Tax assessor; William A. Oughterson, county prosecutor; Henry Beckman, Florida Inland Navigation district commissioner; Thomas Crook, supt. of schools; Frank DeStefano, District 4 school board; Dorothy Pierce, county clerk; and Rep. William E. Owens, Florida House.

County Road Priority List Established

The Martin County Commission established a priority list for resolutions to the State Road Department Wednesday morning. The list suggests priority of projects preferred by the county, but financed by the SRD.

Primary road projects in order of priority are:

1. Construct Glades cut-off road from the St. lucie county line to SR 710.
2. Paving SR 714 from Allapattah Road westward to junction with SR 710.
3. Construction of extension of SR 7 from Palm Beach County, SR 706 to SR 76, in Martin County (Pratt & Whitney Rd.).
4. Construction of a new bridge and draw-span to the westerly extension of SR 714 across the South Fork of the St. lucie River to junction with SR 76.
5. 4-lane SR 710; new bridge over St. lucie Canal north to Booker Park Rd., Indiantown.

Primary maintenance projects in order of priority are:

1. Resurfacing A1A from Stuart bridges to 707 in Jensen (Sewall's Point Rd.).
2. Resurfacing East Ocean Blvd. from High School to East city limits of Stuart.
3. Resurfacing SR 707A from the east span of the Jensen bridge to A1A on the ocean.
4. Widen and resurface SR 708 from SR 5, approximately five miles west.
5. Widen the Hump-Back bridge on SR 714.
6. Widen SR 714 from U. S. 1 to Monterey Rd.
7. Medium strip on A1A, Hobe Sound in front of Post Office.
8. Widen A1A through Port Salerno to full R/W width.

DeMolay Week

DeMolay Week is being observed through March 22 by the Acacia Chapter, Order of DeMolay, with other chapters throughout the world.

Frank A. Wacha proclaimed the week at Tuesday's meeting at the request of Christian Kalb, master of the Masonic lodge and a DeMolay advisor.

Members of the chapter and their "honorary" titles as public officials for the week are:

County commissioners: Ricky Rhodes, Jan Icyda, Terry Rogers, Charles Sipes and David Chamber; County judge: Barry Hunter; County clerk: Kenneth Moore; Sheriff: Tom Bouse; Tax assessor Orlando Wright.

Tax collector: David DeBerry; County attorney: Fred Jette; Superintendent of parks: John P. Gray; Building inspector, Orville Wright; Superintendent of public instruction: William Martin; and County fire chief, Carroll Vaughn.

1st National Joins 'Scholarship Club

The First National Bank of Stuart has joined the nationwide "Scholarship Club, Inc.", a non-profit corporation which provides a "new" way to send a student to college.

Under this educational co-op plan, financial assistance is given to members who attend college, in a way similar to the Blue Cross assistance to it's hospitalized members.

Members save $10 a month for 180 consecutive months, or, if they choose, may deposit a lump sum of $1,000 and leave it on deposit for 180 months.

The depositor donates the earnings from this account to the trustee of the Scholarship Club Trust Fund to be used exclusively for scholarships for qualified members.

When the time to go to college arrives, the principal on deposit is used for the first year's cost.

Withdrawals from the program, flunk-outs, dropouts, deaths and other incompletions, plus earned interest provides the funds for three more years.

Students must maintain accredited colleges and maintain a grade of C average or better to continue.

Many other questions can be answered at the bank.

Grand Jury Calls Three Witnesses

The grand jury called three witnesses under subpoena Tuesday night, with a fourth appearing at the request of one of those called for by summons.

County Commissioner Ed Miller, Sheriff Roy C. Baker and Deputy Sheriff Tom Wyatt were subpoened and were on hand at the 7:30 meeting.

Stuart Chamber Considers Display

The Stuart Chamber of Commerce considered an outdoor fish display case for the Chamber grounds at its March directors meeting held last week at the Town House Restaurant. A case has been offered by Ed Curry. Mike Greene was appointed to investigate securing of mounted fish and a site for the display.

Don Bowden of the Civic Improvement Committee reported the city was studying the need for dock space for visitors arriving by boat, a need often expressed to the Chamber of Commerce.

Continued appreciation and recognition of the courtesy highway signs was reported as well as use of pictures of the novel set-up by more news publications.

Mrs. Radie Belle Krueger, Civic Improvement Chairman, reported on the Highway Beautification Committee organizational meeting, that several plans are being circulated for public consideration by its chairman, W. E. Ambler.

Registration for the Peanut League, Little League and Pony League will be held at Langford Hall Park Saturday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock. A parent must accompany each boy.

League Asks Study On Land Sale

Members of the St. Lucie-Indian Rivers Restoration League and the Martin County Chapter of the Izaak Walton League have asked the Sewall's Point town council to make further study before approving the sale of 10.33 acres of submerged lands in the Indian River to the upland abutter, Palm Beach Co.

Robert T. Bair, William O. Simpkin and Mrs. Wilbur Forrest represented the conservation groups at the meeting and asked that the sale be deferred for study of ecological factors involved.

The council promised to confer with the owners of the uplands within the next few days before taking further action.

Fishing Is Good In Jensen

THIS ARTICLE WAS PRINTED IN THE MARCH 8th EDITION OF THE NEW YORK TIMES.

By OSCAR GODBOUT

Special to The New York Times

JENSEN BEACH, Fla., March 7—Florida has a well-deserved reputation as a prime angling state—both fresh and salt water. There aren't many places in the Sunshine State where good fishing isn't handy.

One of the areas where nature has contrived its affairs so that a combination of land and water results in better-than-usual fishing is the Jensen Beach-Stuart area about halfway between Miami and Daytona Beach.

The two branches of the St. Lucie River, the north fork and the south fork, join at Route 1 at Stuart. These forks provide much good fishing all year round.

High up largemouth bass, called black bass here, are found with bream. Lower down run snook and tarpon.

The St. Lucie moves past Jensen Beach and Sewalls Point to empty into the Indian River, the intercoastal waterway that lies between the mainland and Hutchinson Island. At that point is the St. Lucie Inlet through which boats may move to the Gulf Stream fishing grounds some seven miles out.

In this vicinity the stream begins to veer northeast. On the offshore reef can be found grouper, red snappers and muttonfish. This is where the sailfish lurk and the area prides itself on its high catches and releases of the glamorous fighters.

There are many other species to be taken from the inside waters, from the surf and offshore. These include bluefish, amberjack, king mackeral, ladyfish, crevalle jack, spotted weakfish and others.

Fishing can be had in just about any form. There are a number of free fishing bridges which are favored spots. Small boats move up and down the bays and inlets. And in the surf, casters can be seen heaving their long lines out into the breaking foam.

Guides are available as well as charter and party boats. The tackle shops of the towns are well-stocked and the operators usually know what is hitting and where.

Due west of Stuart lies that great, curious puddle—Lake Okeechobee. This is prime bass ground, and the heavyweights are found everywhere. There are a number of fishing camps situated around it or the lake is easily reached from the coast.

Cutting down from the lake are the canals that drain it. These canals are fine largemouth bass waters and there are boat launching ramps in most areas.

Visitors will find that ordinary tackle used elsewhere does quite well for most fish here. Naturally, the lighter the tackle, the better the sport. Ladyfish, for instance, are wonderful fighters on an ultra-light spinning outfit. Crevalle jacks are willing battlers and on light rigs make a real contest of it.

No salt-water fishing license is required, although one is needed for fresh-water angling. However, there are limits as to size and number on some salt-water species. Included are snook, sailfish, tarpon, shad, bluefish, pompano, flounder, mackeral, weakfish and redfish.

Properly registered out-of-state boats have a 90-day period of grace before being required to register in Florida.

Q. How does this Educational Co-op work?

A. This Educational Co-op gives financial assistance to its members who attend college very much like the Blue Cross® gives assistance to its members who are hospitalized.

Q. Who may become a member?

A. Any child under age 6.

Q. How much must a member save to participate in this Educational Co-op?

A. A member under 3 years of age must save
- A. $10.00 monthly for 180 consecutive months or
- B. a lump sum of $1,000.00 to remain on deposit for a period of 180 months.

A member under 6 years of age must save
- C. $20.00 monthly for 126 consecutive months or
- D. a lump sum of $1,500.00 to remain on deposit for a period of 126 months.

Q. With whom will the member have this savings account?

A. With an insured bank or savings and loan association of his choice. The member holds his own passbook and has the same privileges with this account as with any other savings account.

Q. What is the difference between a Scholarship Club Savings Account and a regular savings account?

A. None. Except in a Scholarship Club Savings Account the saver donates the earnings from this savings account to the Trustee of the Scholarship Club Trust Fund to be used exclusively for scholarships for qualified members. (The Trustee of this Fund must by State law be a bank having trust powers.)

Q. If a member fails to complete the program or withdraws from it, would he lose his savings?

A. Absolutely not! The principal saved always belongs to the saver and may be withdrawn at any time in the same manner as any other savings account.

Q. May a member borrow against the principal saved in his account?

A. He may borrow against the principal amount as he may borrow against any savings account.

Q. Are the savings protected from loss in any way?

A. Absolutely—your Scholarship Club Savings Account in a participating bank or savings and loan association is insured by an agency of the United States Government.

Q. Can anyone sponsor a child for membership and for scholarship benefits?

A. Certainly any person, club, corporation, or legally constituted body may act as Trustee of Member.

Q. How does a paid-up member qualify for a scholarship?

A. By attending an accredited college and maintaining a scholastic average of grade "C" or better.

Q. Where does the money come from for scholarship grants?

A. From the combined earnings (Interest and Dividends) of each and every member's savings account.

Q. Would a member who qualifies for a scholarship under this Plan have more cash available for college than would be available through a regular savings account?

A. Yes. The most that would be available in a regular savings account would be the amount saved plus accumulated earnings from his own savings account. However, under the Educational Co-op Plan a member who qualifies for a scholarship would have available all the money he has saved plus accumulated earnings from his own savings account, and this amount available for scholarships will be increased each time another member
1. Withdraws from the program.
2. Completes savings program but does not enter college.
3. Enters college but fails to qualify for a scholarship.
4. Qualifies for a scholarship but fails to complete college.
5. Dies before receiving full benefits.

PLUS a share of the earnings from the investment of the Trust Fund itself.

Additionally—there are no expenses deducted from the savings accounts or from the Trust Fund for sales, operation, or management. The entire earnings from these Scholarship Club Savings Accounts must be used only for scholarships for qualified members. The entire expense of operation is provided by an initial enrollment fee of $20.00 (which may be paid in four equal installments) plus annual dues of $5.00.

GRANDPARENTS!

Would you save $10 monthly to assure your grandchildren of a college education? (You get to keep the savings, too!)

Grandparents! If your grandchildren are now under six you can assure them of the opportunity to attend college at very little cost to you. Just join the Scholarship Club. You must save $10 monthly (if they are under three) or $20 monthly (if they are between 3 and six), but you never have to spend a cent of this savings account if you don't want to. You simply donate the earnings to the Scholarship Club. The Scholarship Club, in turn, will pay a large part of your grandchildren's college expenses during their last three years. It will amount to many,many times the earnings you donated.

Give your grandchildren a gift which will really last. We sincerely recommend this program and urge you to see one of our officers soon for complete details. Don't delay for only children under six are eligible.

Ray Mason Is Apppointed Pirate Scout

Ray Mason, longtime Stuart resident, has been appointed scout for the Southeastern Florida area for the Pittsburg Pirates, according to Rex Bowen, chief Pirate Scout.

Mason, a former semi-pro baseball player, retired several years ago in Stuart and agreed to come out of retirement to search for new diamond talent.

Mason said he and the Pirates are interested in promising baseball players as early as their sophomore year of high school. An invitation has been extended to young ball players and coaches who feel they have players with extraordinary talent, to contact him by calling AT 7-3264, or by writing Box 1466, Stuart.

Mason said there are promising athletes all over south Florida, and the Pirates want to give some of these young fellows a chance to realize any aspiring baseball player's fondest dream: a chance to play big league baseball with the Pittsburg Pirates.

Surf Is Slow; Rivers Are Better...

Blues and Mackerel Are Hottest

Last Sunday's fishing was not so good for the in-shore small boats due to rough seas, but the larger boats fared quite well with Spanish Mackerel at the Hole.

Blues were inside the inlet, but rough surf knocked out beach fishing.

Sea trout and weakfish are strong in the Indian River flats, south of the inside reaches of St. Lucie Inlet, and off the Intracoastal Waterway south of the Crossroads.

Snook are becoming more numerous from the Sunparlor to the North Fork and all bridges.

Pompano fishing has been strong around the sand fill islands in the Sunparlor.

The Snook-Nook reported the following catches during the past week. In the surf: Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schnitzer, 25 blues, Walter Kanuth, 2 Pompano, 5 Whiting and 10 blues.

In the Indian River: John Wilbert, 15 trout; Irving Fisher, 7 trout; Jim Behrens, 10 trout; Mr. and Mrs. Red Mayberry, 10 pompano, 5 trout, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dowd, 30 trout; Mrs. Emie Webster, 2 snook; 11-year-old Harry Barbour, eleven pound trout; Mr. and Mrs. Jay Crowley, 6 trout, 10 blues, 1 coraker; Mr. and Mrs. G. Sparrows, 4 blues, 3 trout; Bob Robertson, 10 trout, Charles Mauer and Chick Dee, 4 pompano and 5 trout.

I am a widow and will be 62 a few months. When my husband died two years ago, I was told a lump-sum death payment. They told me then that I could start collecting a regular benefit check each month when I reached 62. What will I need to do to get these benefits started?

You will need to make a claim for your widow's benefits. To be sure your claim is not delayed, bring your marriage certificate with you when you are ready to claim your benefits. If you do not have your marriage certificate, you can get a certified copy of it from the court house where your marriage license was issued. Bring your birth or baptismal certificate if you have one. If you don't, bring other evidence of your age. A record made during your school years (or before), an old family Bible, or other personal papers can be used.

Q. I hired a maid a few months ago to clean up my apartment on Saturdays. I pay her $5 each Saturday for this work. Since she only works one day a week, I haven't asked for her social security number or turned in any thing for her. Is that required in a case of this kind, or is it optional?

A. It's required, not optional. Whenever a household worker is paid $50 or more cash wages in a calendar quarter, these wages must be reported for social security purposes to the Internal Revenue Service. I'm sending you a copy of our leaflet 21. It gives more information on this.

For further information on your social security problems, contact the Social Security office at 701 South Dixie Highway, West Palm Beach (open from 8:30 to 4:00, Monday through Friday), or their Field Representative at the County Welfare Office in Stuart, Mondays only, 9 to 12.

F.E.C. Car Derailed

A Florida East Coast freight car one of an 80-car train bound from Miami to the Cape Kennedy area was partially derailed at 1:05 a. m. last Friday when a steel drop bar dug into ties about a mile south of the St. Lucie railway bridge at the East 7th Street crossing in Stuart.

City Patrolman Harry Barnes, on duty at the time, said he tried to stop the train at the Colorado Avenue crossing when he realized what was happening. The car was near the head of the train, about six gondolas back from the six engines pulling the train.

The bar continued to dig up places in the roadbed. The train came to a halt when the front wheel trucks bounded off the track entirely in the middle of the river span.

City police and officials were in agreement, after investigation, that the accident was a mechanical failure not connected in any way with sabotage. Railroad officials made no comment.

Tuesday Is "B" Day For Jensen Bridge

Five county Commissioners of Martin County attended a meeting in Fort Lauderdale on Monday with John H. Monahan, State Road Board member from this district, and Clarence Davidson, district engineer for the SRD, to set up a time table for the priority list of road projects, as announced by the commission last week.

Making the trip were commissioners Frank Wacha, Jack Saunderson, Jack Williamson, Ed Miller, J. H. Briner and county engineer Fred Bell.

Bids for the new high level Jensen Beach bridge will be opened March 31.

The contract for building the St. Lucie Canal high level bridge at Indiantown will be let in April.

The first phase of paving ten miles of Martin Grade (SR 714) from west of the turnpike to Allapattah Rd. north of Indiantown and connecting with the Glades Cut-off Rd. in St. Lucie County will be let in May.

These projects will be followed by a $50,000 right of way and engineering project for a bridge from Port Salerno to Jupiter Island.

Also in the works for this summer are the St. Lucie Ave. project from Port Salerno to U. S. 1, widening of Bridge Rd. in Hobe Sound from A1A to U. S. 1, the construction of a medium strip on A1A at Hobe Sound and the widening of three blocks of A1A in Port Salerno.

C of C Report on Incorporation Soon

A nearly complete report on the findings of the special Chamber of Commerce committee on incorporation information was shown to Chamber members Monday night at the annual Chamber meeting. The contents were not revealed by Chamber president Frank Forsberg, who said, "We do not feel that this should be released to the public until it has been analyzed by an attorney, for proper presentation."

"It is an encouraging report for those who desire to incorporate and those who do not will be interested in these findings," Forsberg added. He emphasized that the Chamber was not taking a stand for incorporation, but felt that the facts should be gathered and presented to the public.

Membership at the meeting seemed in agreement that the best way to evaluate the report would be to give it to the public and then hold a general meeting to discuss it.

Tick Ridge No More; Era Passes Again

If you want to make any real estate man angry in Jensen Beach just call Tick Ridge "Tick Ridge". Well, you can't anymore, for the county commission has given way to pressure and changed the name.

For years the area was known as Tick Ridge Road. Now, it is Mars Hill. Even the road has been changed from Tick Ridge Road to Savanna Road North.

Another era in a world of passing eras has gone. As one downtown buff quipped, "Next thing you know they'll be changin' the name of corn likker."

Dick Campbell Is Elected Jensen Chamber President

Dick Campbell, publisher of the Jensen Beach Mirror, was elected president of the Jensen Area Chamber of Commerce at the annual meeting Monday night at the Community Center.

Named vice-president was Ed [illegible] of the Outrigger; [illegible] Carroll was elected Secretary, and D. J. Palmer was elected Treasurer.

Three-year directors: E. E. Stanton, George K. McComb, J. Ernest Baker, Philip M. Baker and John Heard.

Two-year directors: A. E. Palmer, Donald Wilkie, Charles Bissell, Martin Wahl, and Harry Davis.

One-year directors: W. B. Tilton, William Yurillo, W. W. Fletcher, Jared Escott, Bob Weisenberger, Victor Johnson and Frank Forsberg.

The installation ceremonies, including a dinner, will be held at a date to be announced.

Chamber president Frank Forsberg reported on the year's activities to the thirty-two members present. Among the items Forsberg mentioned were:

The acquisition of a deed to the Chamber property, previously lost. An excellent July 4th celebration and fireworks display, for which 1964 fireworks chairman Bill Yurillo added that this year the display would be larger and more exciting. The renovation of a storage room and room for the manager of the Chamber; Distribution of 22,500 Fishing Guides to tourists and agencies; Successful opposition to the annexation plans of Port St. Lucie in Martin County.

Cooperation with the Jensen Mirror in staging the district meeting of the Florida Press Association, joining the Okeechobee Waterway Association and assisting in the annual boatacade; Increasing popularity of the turtle watches; New signs for fairs and other display occasions; Community cooperation on the picnic and Wacha appreciation day event at which 1,250 persons were served; Handling of the sailing regatta at which 12 classes of boats with sixty boats participating insured future regattas here.

A new painting donated to the Chamber, depicting the old Jensen Bridge by Jack the Dauber; A letter from the State Road Department stating that the new signs for U. S. 1 leading to Jensen Beach were being made and would soon be installed; Participation in pram sailing plans by the Chamber, with director Phil Baker handling the program; Christmas tree at the Chamber and on the causeway lighted for the Yule season.

A petition to ask the SRD to put lights on the St. Lucie River bridge was made by Johnny Crawford. The Chamber voted to write a letter to the SRD through Representative Bill Owens offering their endorsement of the project, along with a letter stating that the new boat ramp on the south side of the causeway is not deep enough for the larger boats.

Petition Declined By Commissioners

County Commissioners were presented with a petition signed by 39 people, both Democrats and Republicans, requesting the immediate retirement of Mrs. Zola Blakeslee, county supervisor of registration, with full pay and all retirement benefits and privileges.

The commissioners refused to make any move, pointing out that only the Governor has the authority to remove an elected official from office, and most felt that Mrs. Blakeslee should stay in office through the balance of her term, with all the additional help and assistance she may need.

The petition charged "confusion and disarray in the registrar's office, and asked that order be restored with as much speed and accuracy as possible before the coming primaries".

LILIES FOR EASTER--Arthur Johnson poses proudly behind his bed of Easter lilies at his home in Ocean Breeze Park. Johnson planted bulbs in December, following a month long preparation of the soil, so that the lilies would bloom in this month. The display has been timed perfectly for the Holy season.

Purple Passion Pamphlet Is "Tempest In A Sexpot"

Figures cited in the controversial pamphlet "Homosexuality and Citizenship in Florida", which was used as a basis for comparative figures on Martin County, would indicate that there could be between 300 to 600 homosexuals of both sexes here. Some local authorities believe there are more.

Rep. William E. Owens, a member of the Florida Legislative Investigation Committee, stood squarely behind the report, in spite of demands from the Miami Herald editorial writer to urge the resignation of every state official who had a hand in the pamphlet, and an investigation of possible violation of obscenity laws.

Owens said, "I feel that this is not one of the most pleasant reports, but it is a reality and should not be overlooked."

He admitted that the purple abstract painting depicted on the booklet's cover, plus a handful of photographs inside, were used for shock value.

"The Board of Control fought us every inch of the way, and would like no mention of sex at all in connection with the schools and universities in the state," said Owens.

"We conferred with the House UnAmerican Activities Committee, the Senate Interim Security Sub committee, the Senate Internal Security Sub committee and the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, and with policing authorities in Florida, and were advised that we were on the right track. There are some 35 groups similar to our committee throughout the country trying to accomplish the same purpose, and we were advised that a meeting to co-ordinate our efforts would be a good idea," he said.

State Attorney Richard Gerstein, "banned" the booklet from general circulation in Dade County, calling it obscene and pornographic.

Rep. Owens said of this: "General circulation was never intended by the committee. At our January 29 meeting, an open hearing, it was clearly stated that it was for law enforcement officials, members of the legislature, educators and the press. We added that we felt interested groups of P. T. A. officers, city police officials and other officials who should be concerned with the problem."

"We paid Hillsboro Printing Co. in Tampa $720 to print 2,000 copies of it. Had it not had a purple cover and pictures, no one would have paid any attention to it.

"We had another booklet printed recently at Indiantown Printing Co. and put a dull type title on it, and no one has even asked about it," he added.

The most important emphasis in the entire report is on the sad fate of youth at the hands of homosexuals. "This is the serious concern," said a local officer.

It is an admittedly tough job, as many Martin County parents of school children have protested the presence of an undesirable teacher in the school system for at least five years, to no avail.

Community Concert Saturday Night

Temple Beth El of Fort Pierce will present its annual free community concert on Saturday night, March 28, at 8:00, at the Indian River Amphitheatre.

The artistes this year will be Joe and Penny Aronsen in a program of folk songs of many nations, both serious and light-hearted.

The Aronsens met when Joe was Penny's folk-song teacher. Both have had extensive training in music and drama. Their approach to an audience is more as actors than merely musicians, and they project the meaning, drama and humor of their songs.

Joe does the introductions and narrations, and works Penny's musical arrangements into his theatrical concepts.

League Of Women Voters To Meet

There will be an open meeting on April 17 at 8:00 p. m. at the Community Meeting Room at the First National Bank building for the purpose of discussing the formation of a league of Women Voters, said Mrs. Wilbur Forrest and Miss Jean Roos co-chairmen of the exploratory group.

All women of Martin County are invited to attend the open discussion which will be led by Mrs. Myrl Spivey of West Palm Beach, a member of the Board of League of Women Voters of Florida.

The league of Women Voters is a non-partisan organization, established in 1921 to promote active participation of citizens on government.

The April 17 meeting will include discussion of not only the formation of a provisional league here, but will cover the purposes and principals.

A fire was started in a home in Stuart Sunday afternoon when a six year old boy played in cardboard boxes with matches he had found.

Damage was slight, as passersby threw most of the burning material out of the house.

Lighthouse Point Is A Subdivision Dream

By DICK CAMPBELL

Crossing the Roosevelt Bridge into Stuart, motorists see a cleared area across the St. Lucie River. One spiral of smoke rises into the air, and the point of land, formerly called Dver's Point, is showing signs of life. It is to be lighthouse Point, a waterfront community being promoted by R. V. Johnson, owner-developer. In just the development stages, the subdivision is already 25 percent sold out, and in just six weeks of promotion.

"We want to offer the people something special", said Johnson, "and our waterfront prices, both on the river and on the many yacht basins, are priced low enough so that they are creating quite a stir on the real estate market."

Gigantic earth moving machines operated by Dickerson, Inc. have been pushing the face of the earth around to meet the plan of lighthouse Point, and the rough work is set to be completed in a "week or two", according to Johnson. Roads are in, and other access roads to yacht basin sites will be in at the same time.

Grading of the yacht basins is four to one, reaching 65 feet back into large lots. Water in the basins will be deep enough for large pleasure boats to seek haven after a short run to fishing grounds in the ocean, river or winding streams of the forks of the St. Lucie.

Construction of the first homes in lighthouse Point got underway this week, just 60 days after development work started on the all-waterfront community on the St. Lucie River.

First to break ground was George Apostolopoulos, Stuart builder, with two homes that will serve as models. One is a three bedroom two bath home; the other has two bedrooms and one bath.

The third start this week is a home on the river front for Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bruns of Miami which will give the Bruns family the distinction of being lighthouse Point's first residents. The Bruns house is being built by Bill Smith.

Sales of homesites at the yacht club community are proceeding at a brisk pace, according to Don Begg, vice-president of lighthouse Point, Inc. Development is ahead of schedule. The contract calls for completion within 120 working days. The starting date was January 15th, but the Dickerson Construction Company already has much of the property graded and the first roads paved.

Many homes have already been purchased, sight unseen, on the lighthouse Point sales message. With $500,000 going into the preparation of the yacht basin community, you know that it will be an eyestopper.

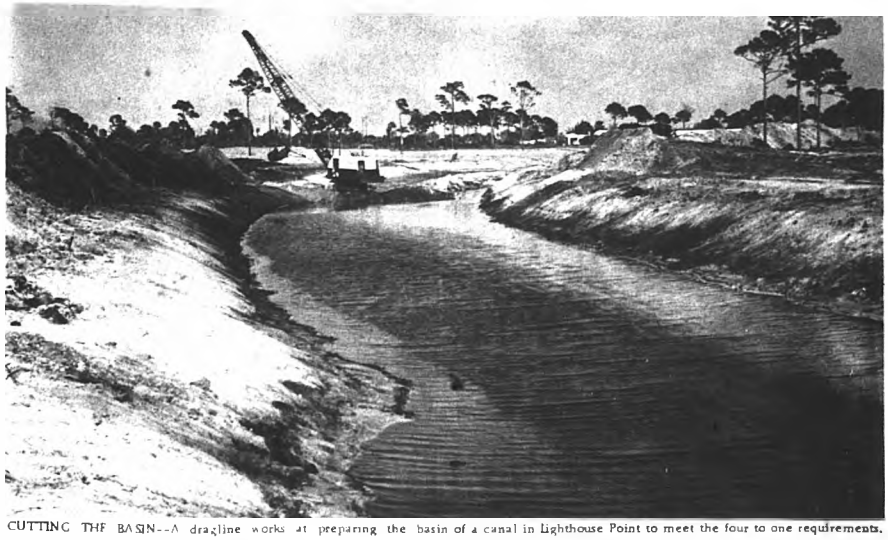
It is worthwhile to just take a drive over. It is four miles by auto across the Palm City bridge and up Murphy Road. Billboards on every access route to the area tell how to get there. Or, it is just a one mile jaunt by boat from downtown Stuart.

Riverfront dwellers will get a panoramic view of the St. Lucie River's South and North Forks meeting at the point, and the view to the north is the St. Lucie as far as the eye can see.

To go on and on about this is a little too much. But the job being done over there is really a credit to the building program of Martin County. R. V. Johnson asked that we take a look at it, and said we might find something to write about. We did, and it is an eyefull of excellent planning.

Architect Dick Pryor did the planning, and did a find job. Dickerson Inc., moved massive machinery onto the site to complete the job of cutting out basins, paving roads and leveling lots of the once mangrove area. Now the first two of eight model homes are under construction.

Soon there will be many homes and many families looking across the St. Lucie River at the autos crossing the Roosevelt Bridge. Theirs will be the more pleasant pastime, for we have looked with envy for many years at the beautiful site, only from the bridge. lighthouse Point is destined to be another in Martin County's model communities of pleasant living.



CUTTING THE BASIN--A dragline works at preparing the basin of a canal in lighthouse Point to meet the four to one requirements.

THE WIDE ST. LUCIE RIVER--Modern paved roads reach out to the point, and the view stretches beyond to as far as the eye can see in the panorama presented at lighthouse Point.

BASEBALL FEVER--Registration for Peanut League, Little League and Pony League at Langford Hall Park last Saturday meant the official arrival of Spring, as far as these boys are concerned. Boys who were not able to register last Saturday may still do so by contacting Frank Wacha, Little League and Peanut Manager, or Harold Salzler, Pony League Manager. Younger boys up to age 8 will be interested to know that Mr. Wacha will select a Peanut Team for those not quite old enough for Little League, and they will play their games on Saturday mornings. The Little League will meet for practice today (Thursday) at Langford Hall Park at 3:30. The Pony League met last Monday for their first practice. It is hoped that Langford Hall Park field and lighting equipment will be ready in time for some of the season's games to be played here, as well as in Stuart and other areas.

Jensen Beach Youth Science Fair Winner

A Jensen Beach young man has captured first honors in the field of archeology, and second place in the over-all competition of the regional Science Fair held last weekend at Indian River Junior College in Fort Pierce. In so doing, he carried off a prize of $25 and the privilege of participating in the statewide competition.

He is Scott Vandiver Feaster, 17, a senior in Martin County High School, and the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Norman B. Feaster of All Saints Episcopal Church.

SCOTT FEASTER

His project, "An Archeological Survey of the House of Refuge Site on Hutchinson Island", was completed after long hours of painstaking research, field work and consultation with authorities in the field of archeology, including Mr. Stephen Schmidt, director of the Martin County Museums and Dr. W. H. Sears, Florida State Museum archeologist. The survey, among other things, appears to prove fairly conclusively that, contrary to a belief held by many, the House of Refuge is not constructed on the site of an Indian burial mound, although Mr. Schmidt is convinced that at least ten accessible, and many unaccessible mounds do exist on the island. It is doubly significant in that it is one of the very few such surveys conducted in this area. That this is true is indicated by the fact that the Florida State Museum and the Martin County Public Library have both asked for copies to be placed in their files.

The purpose of the survey, besides providing information concerning it's possible construction on an Indian burial mound, was to determine just how long the site of the House of Refuge has been occupied.

To do this, four test pits were dug, with the findings scrupulously collected and classified at six-inch levels. Number one was at the southwest corner of the marine exhibit and research laboratory. Number two was under the old observation tower, and Numbers three and four, under the House of Refuge itself. The pits were five by five feet in dimension-Number one to a depth of 42 inches; Number two to 81 inches; Numbers three and four to 46 inches.

Although no complete artifacts were uncovered, young Feaster did find pieces of pottery, glass, bones, utensils which, with the assistance of recognized experts, led him to the conclusion that the site had been occupied by three different cultures. They, and the approximate period of their occupancy, were: Indians, from the time of Christ to 800 A.D.; Spanish, around 1800; and the House of Refuge from 1875 to the present.

He found pieces of Spanish olive jars with the hardness, color, texture, thickness and glazing of which represented the period between 1800 and 1850. Pieces of Spanish glass of the same period were also uncovered. Shells used by early Indians as tools, bits of utensils used by the Indians, as well as bones of fish and animals were among the other findings.

The project in addition to the report of the findings, included acknowledgements of assistance received, maps and photographs presented in an interesting, colorful and easily understandable layout.

The winning of awards in the field of science is no novelty to this young man. For two successive years, while his father was a student at Seabury Western Theological Seminary at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, he captured first place in school, regional and state competition. That would normally be enough to satisfy any young man, but Scott Feaster is also an amateur artist of considerable skill, whose paintings are already finding a ready market. Following his graduation from Martin County High School, he plans to matriculate next fall at Sewanee University.

Your Social Security

By: R. C. Gehrken, Jr.
District Manager
West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. What should I take with me when I go to put in for my social security? I will be 62 in April.

A. When you come in, bring your social security card, some record to prove your age, if handy; and a copy of your 1963 form W-2.

Q. I read that the law lets people get retirement checks for less work under social security. How much time does a woman need to get checks if she will be 62 this year? Also, what about a man who will be 62 next year?

A. A woman reaching 62 this year needs only 13 "credits" (about three and a quarter years of work). A man who will be 62 next year needs 17 "credits", or about four and one fourth years of work. All work under social security, even as far back as 1937, can be used to make up these work credits.

For further information on your social security problems, contact the Social Security office at 701 South Dixie Highway, West Palm Beach (open from 8:30 to 4:00, Monday through Friday), or their Field Representative at the County Welfare Office in Stuart, Mondays only, 9 to 12.

The Martin County Library Association met this week to select the four films to be shown in the 1965 series, "The World Around Us".

The films will be Timeless Turkey, January 28; Afghanistan Journey, February 11; The Legendary Mediterranean, February 25; and Tawan Today, March 11. Possible substitutions would be Greece and the Mysterious Balkans, and Malaysia or The Arab World.

INSURANCE TIPS

By RICK CARROLL

Q. Is there any way in which I can insure the glass sliding doors in my home? They are very large and would cost over $100 apiece and I have four of them.

A. The broad form residence glass endorsement costs you less than three dollars a year when added to your homeowners policy and will cover all the glass attached to your home on an all perils basis to actual cash value. If you have sliding doors, you need it.

Q. Is the glass in my table top covered under my homeowner's policy if I drop an object on it and break it?

A. This is covered only under the form # 5 homeowner's policy and since this form is rarely used, most policies would not afford the coverage.

The chassis is a surplus 4 x 4 weapons carrier.

Southern Gulf Asks Water Main

Southern Gulf Utilities, Inc. of Miami has applied for a permit to install a submarine water main, buried in a trench, at the St. lucie River Bridge between Steele Point and Sewall's Point, according to the Jacksonville office of the U. S. Engineers.

The main would be buried in a trench with its top at least 18 feet below mean low water in the waterway a distance of about 215 feet centered on the center line of the channel. Elsewhere, the main would be attached to the bridge structure.

Protests or comments regarding the application should be submitted to the district engineer in Jacksonville before April 6.

Southern Gulf Utilities is constructing the control station at Steele Point, but all main laying work from that point to Sewall's Point is being delayed, pending receipt of the permit.

JUST RELAX-- Contentment is a great many things to a great many people. In this case a Sunday afternoon sitting in the shade on Jensen Causeway, watching the youngsters splashing in the water, or the waves rippling on the shore, is just the ticket for a local resident . . . sooo peaceful. At a time like this, who cares about the troubles of the world?

C Of C Installs April 22

Scott Construction Wins Bascule Bid

Bridge Bid Is $100,000 Low As Local Sub Is Indicated

Bids on the replacement of the center span of the Jensen Beach Bridge were opened, and Scott Construction of Thomasville, Georgia seemed the low bidder with $765,999.33. The bid was $100,000 short of the amount available for the project.

The second low bidder was Clary's Brothers of West Palm Beach with a bid of $780,488.25.

Bidding with Scott, and apparent sub-contractor on the approaches was Dickerson, Inc., of Stuart.

Frank Wacha, chairman of the county commission, was notified of the bids last Tuesday. Wacha was one of the main movers in making the money available by the refinancing of the Martin County bridge bonds, which also removed the tolls from the bridges.

Wacha told the Mirror, "This final phase of the Jensen Causeway project is a guarantee of economic stability of Jensen Beach, which I feel will open the door to the future growth and progress which belongs to an area with so much natural resource and beauty."

HAMBROCKS RECEIVES WORD FROM DAUGHTER IN ALASKA; ALL IS WELL

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hambrock, Walton, have received word that their daughter, June, who is employed at the Fairbanks, Alaska Air Force Base, is all right after the earthquake last Friday.

Mrs. Hambrock had been very concerned, knowing her daughter did much of her week-end shopping in Anchorage. June was in Anchorage on Good Driday, and was on her way to the J. C. Penney Department Store in downtown Anchorage, but a flat tire on her car kept her from being in the most damaged area when the earthquake occurred. She was quite shaken but uninjured.

Home Damaged

Vandals entered the unoccupied Sewall's Point home, "Hilltop", on Sunday night. The home is the property of Mr. L. F. Knowles of Sewall's Point.

Extensive damage was done, including the breaking of all the windows, china closets, ceilings, an attic balustrade, and even a large hole in the roof.

The Sheriff's office is following up evidence which has given them some ideas as to who the culprits may be.

The handwriting is being checked and traced from notes left behind in the house by the vandals.

Evinrudes Return From Cruise

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evinrude returned on Easter Sunday from a ten-day fishing cruise through the islands of the Bahamas aboard their yacht, "Chanticleer".

With them on the trip were Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Neal of Petersborough, Ontario, Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Evans Crary, Sr. and E. Grouppe.

Mrs. Neal caught a 110 lb. blue Marlin, and Mr. Neal brought in a 75 lb. white Marlin.

The City of Stuart filed their suit against Martin Memorial Hospital in Circuit Court on Tuesday.

The suit has been threatened for some time, in a fight over noise and fumes which have plagued residents of Hildabrad Park, near the hospital.

High School P.T.A. May Be Dropped, Lack Of Interest

The Martin County High School Parent-Teacher Association will issue out the following notice on Friday to all parents of students in the high school and junior high school

Tuesday, April 7, the Martin County High School P. T. A. will meet at the Junior High cafeteria on East Ocean Blvd. at 8:00 p. m. Due to the lack of interest and attendance in the high school P. T. A. this year, these issues will have to be decided:

1. Should there be two Parent-Teacher Associations--A Junior High and a Senior High--now that there are separate schools?
2. Should there be only a Junior High P. T. A. with the Senior High P. T. A. discontinued?
3. Should we discontinue any P. T. A. at high school level?

Your decision to continue the P. T. A. in one or both schools and officers will have to be elected from the floor at this meeting.

By your presence and vote, we will know whether to continue or drop the Martin County Parent-Teacher Association.

Signed

Your Executive Committee

The program for this meeting will be Building Interest In Our Young People.

The presidents of each organization and club in the junior and senior high schools will be present.

MEMORIAL DEDICATION--Ceremonies were held last Saturday for the Dedication of the Flagpole at the Jensen Beach Pavilion, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lorenz in memory of Hood Mills, father of Mrs. Lorenz. Participating in the ceremonies were the World War I Veterans Barracks and American Legion Post.

Guests of the Jack Shomer's in Rio, are Mr. and Mrs. August Koenig from Hendersonville, N. C. Mrs. Koenig is the sister of Mr. Shomer.

The Rio Civic Club will meet Thursday, April 2 for their pot-luck supper and business meeting. Their next card party will be a Dessert-Luncheon on Tuesday, April 7, at 1:00 p. m.

Michigan Couple Arrive Here

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Briggs of Detroit, Michigan, arrived at Ocean Breeze Park on Tuesday afternoon for their first visit to the Jensen Beach area. They have spent the past month in Key West.

The Briggs came into the Mirror office downtown to buy one of the mail-aways issues displayed in the window, so they could learn about this area. In conversation, it was learned that they decided to come to Jensen Beach, where they know no one, after reading the book "The Joys of Trailering", written by a former Ocean Breeze winter resident, the late Howard Findley, of Cripple Creek, Colorado. The Briggs had also heard of Jensen Beach from fellow trailer enthusiasts they have met in their travels.

The Mirror welcomes Mr. and Mrs. Briggs to Jensen Beach and hope they will enjoy their stay enough to return another time.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grantham, of Greensboro, N. C., visited frequently in Jensen Beach during their week of camping in Sandsprit Park recently.

On Easter Sunday, they were dinner guests of the Bob Crowders, after attending the Jensen Community Church with them.

The Granthams are close friends of Mrs. Crowder's parents in Greensboro.

'Bud' Pledges To Uphold Lake Split Bill If Elected

Fred O. "Bud" Dickinson, candidate for governor of Florida, took a stand on the Lake Okeechobee split bill when he said he would "back you (Martin County) 100%" in a speech Monday in Jensen Beach. The Dickinson campaign bus pulled into Jensen Beach at 4:30 p. m. and Dickinson gave a speech on the sidewalk in front of the Jensen Beach Bank.

Only a few voters were on hand for the speech, which was filled with background of Dickinson, and his hopes for the future of Florida. Following his speech Dickinson was introduced to many local residents as a small crowd gathered. It was then that he went back to the microphone on his bus public address system and dropped a blockbuster that brought the crowd to life in enthusiastic applause.

"I told the Palm Beach delegation that I could not take part in trying to defeat the lake bill. I had no part in the resistance to it," Dickinson said. "The law did pass. I will enforce it. I will back you 100 percent."

Dickinson had prefaced his remarks with mention that a 'rumor is being spread by those who do not want Dickinson to be elected governor". He added that the rumor was that if he was elected he would throw out the Lake Okeechobee split, which gave thousands of dollars in road money to Martin and four other counties.

The speech took Dickinson right off the fence with many voters in Martin County. The former West Palm Beach senator is campaigning on a "one united sunshine state" theme.

Accompanying the Dickinson party were local campaign chairman Judge and Mrs. Evans Crary, Jr. R. V. Johnson, Jim Burgess and Frank Wacha.

Dickinson made a whirlwind tour through all parts of Martin County Monday, discussed local issues and spoke optimistically of his campaign as the month-to-mark.

He was greeted by a good-sized and warm crowd at Indiantown, and paid special tribute to James Owens of Indiantown who was a former tax assessor of Palm Beach County, calling him "the man who invented Palm Beach County". His son is Bill Owens, Martin County State Representative.

William R. Scott, campaign treasurer, met the group at Stuart Shopping Center. Sheriff Roy C. Baker and deputies escorted the Dickinson bus and the motorcade from Indiantown through to Jensen Beach.

At Hobe Sound, Dickinson went from store to store meeting people, discussing the campaign.

At Port Salerno, he also moved through a good crowd, shaking hands and talking with the people.

At Stuart, he spoke on various campaign questions, and was specific on a local issue in that he called for a complete re-appraisal of andre-assessment of the entire program of submerged land sales.

He touched briefly on citrus, roads, bridges and other general problems, called for the de-commissioning of the Hotel and Restaurant Commission, and the incorporation of its duties into a new Tourist Commission.

"Florida has tried too long to advertise for tourists and industry in the same breath under the Florida Development Commission. We need a separate division to conduct active advertising for tourists," he said.

P.T.A. Election Is Set For Tuesday

The P. T. A. of the Jensen Beach Elementary School will meet on Tuesday night, April 14, at 8:00 p. m. in the cafeteria

It is important that parents attend this meeting, whether or not they are members of the P. T. A. to meet and receive the new slate of officers for the 1964-65 school year.

The evening's program will concern this school's library facilities and its use in encouraging our children to take an interest in books and reading.

HIGHMAN--A. A. "Whitey" Flttton, in League bowling at Jensen Bowling Lanes last Friday night, rolled the highest game ever recorded in these lanes. With a sore and swollen bowling hand, "Whitey" rolled a spare in the first frame, followed by eleven strikes.

Ambulance Need Drivers

The Jensen Community Ambulance handled twenty-four calls during the month of March. The men serving on these calls were: Jack Lucas, Kirk Stimson, Elwin Comstock, Jerry DeBarge, Francis Walden, Ransom Tilton, John Togneri, Harry Barlow, C. Beattie, and Martin Wahl.

The gas for the month of March was donated by Buck Hendry of the Jensen Gulf Service station; Gas for the month of April will be given by Chick York's Standard Station.

There is a need of wheel chairs, which are very much in demand at present. The Samaritan's seven wheel chairs are all in use, and several requests for chairs have had to be turned down. Donations of chairs would be accepted, or the Samaritans will buy them at a reasonable price. Call 287-0328.

The Samaritans are doing everything in their power to answer calls for the ambulance, and unfortunately at times it is hard to contact help for the ambulance calls. At times, when two calls come at the same time, it creates a problem, but with a little patience, the calls will be taken care of in short order. As this service is twenty-four hours a da. and seven days a week, it creates a need for more civic minded men to help in this public service. Get in touch with Jack Lucas, Kirk Stimson or Martin Wahl, and give this much needed help.

For ambulance service, call 287-2696.

W. R. Kidd Meets With Conservation Officials

Conservation officials of Martin County met last Saturday with William R. Kidd, administrative officer to the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund. Mr. Kidd told the group that he was not optomistic about the establishment of a state park on Long Point in Jupiter Island.

One of the reasons cited was that the Florida Inland Navigation District wants to sell the 276 acres of land, to which the I.I.F. wishes to get the title.

Kidd pointed out that the I I F has a one year lease to the land at $1, and expressed hope that something could be worked out.

After discussion, the group agreed to set a local conference with Michael Phipps, whose Palm Beach company owns the southern tip of Sewall's Point, to discuss a bulkhead fill problem at that location.

The bulkhead line set April 28, 1958, for all of Hutchinson Island in Martin County, was considered by Kidd to be "reasonable, not a bad bulkhead line at all".

Kidd showed much knowledge of the situation here, commenting on growth of marine grasses on the new spoil islands in the Indian River, the bird population on them, and he gave a short course in how to set a bulkhead line and fill without damage to marine life.

COUNTY COMMISSION

Frank A. Wacha

LEADERSHIP

Frank A. Wacha has been able to utilize cooperative efforts of the county commission to get things done. The past three years has seen the rebuilding of the Jensen Beach Bridge, planning of the high level bridge at Indiantown, paving Martin Grade, four laning of U.S. 1, resurfacing of A-1-A from Hobe Sound to Stuart, widening and resurfacing of East Ocean Boulevard in Stuart, and cooperation with St. Lucie County on the completion of A-1-A on the ocean, and the Glades Cutoff Road.

CONSERVATION

Frank A. Wacha has served the recreational interests of Martin County by installing new boat ramps at Jensen Beach and Phippe Park, improvement of Sandspit Park, encouraging park development and working to get state approval of the use of Florida Inland Navigation District lands for recreational purposes.

PLANNING

The recent refunding of bond and toll removal freed enough funds to plan for the future growth of Martin County, and that planning is now under way. Wacha also assisted in the overall zoning planning for the future of Martin County, as well as the employment of a full time County Engineer in charge of that planning.

SPESSARD L. HOLLAND

TO THE UNITED STATES SENATE

... want to express my sincere regret in not being able to travel constantly during this campaign throughout the entire State in behalf of my candidacy for re election as your United States Senator but I feel at this critical period it would not be wise to leave Washington and have Florida not represented in Congress. As your Senior Senator I might point out that the influence and the power of an individual Senator is very largely determined by the SENIORITY he has attained.

Spessard Holland is now serving his 18th year as a member of the United States Senate from Florida and he is 6th in the order of Seniority in the Democratic membership of the Senate.

- SPESSARD L. HOLLAND is a Member of the Senate Appropriations Committee
- Member of the Aeronautical and Space Science Committee.
- Member of the Senate Agriculture and Forestry Committee.
- Member of Joint Committee on reduction of nonessential Federal expenditures.
- Member of the Senate Democratic Steering Committee.

Senator Holland has been actively responsible for the channelling of Hundreds of Millions of Dollars of Federal Funds creating tens of thousands of jobs which in turn benefits the economy of every one in the entire State of Florida.

"Kids Day" At Langford Hall Park Draws Large Crowd

"Kid's Day" at Langford Hall Park last Thursday proved to be a great success. An estimated crowd of 2,500 people (some of them were kids) filled the park all afternoon and into the evening to enjoy the shows, animals, and rides.

The Langford Park Association has reported many compliments on the event for its fine offering of wholesome, clean family entertainment and the possibility of a return engagement next year.

The "Kid's Day" show is through the National Amusements Dept. in Washington, D.C., an organization to help provide fund raising programs for civic groups around the country's communities.

For all the fun provided for the Jensen Beach area, it was a sad day for five folks in the show. If you wondered why you did not get to see the big -diving dog that was advertised, it was because he was run over and killed by a car only the day before the show came to Jensen Beach. In spite of this unexpected tragedy, the entertainers say they like best to "Kid's Day".

JUST FUN-Kid's Day in Jensen Beach drew the largest crowd ever in the park...and as you can see, the kids had fun. Next week the Mirror will spotlight that fun with full picture page coverage of the event.

Fire Department Members Attend Course

Chief R. B. Spinney and President Jack Addy, of the Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department, are attending an 8-week radiological course at the Civil Defense Headquarters in Stuart on Wednesday nights.

Others enrolled in this course are personnel of the Post Office, Coast Guard and the Indiantown Fire Department.

When I Am Old

By Thomas Curtis Clark

When I am old and worn with toil,
A little town will call;
A little town of friendly soil
With room and cheer for all.

It's homes will not be high and proud
It's streets may not be straight, . .
No stressful care, no tumult loud. .
No gossip born of hate.

Perhaps there are no towns like this
With sandy lanes and homes
Made just to live in, bowers of bliss
Perhaps my fancy roams.

Perhaps--and yet I'm hoping still
That age will bring to me
A little house, a little hill,
A garden, and a tree.

The poem above was given to the Mirror by Mrs. Horace Donley, who said, "When I clipped this poem years ago, I had never heard of Jensen Beach. Now, we have our little house, on a hill overlooking the Indian River. Our garden blooms all year 'round, and our tree is a native palm silhouetted against a Florida sunset. One good difference, we don't feel aged and worn with toil!"

Your Social Security

By R. C. Gehrken, Jr.
District Manager
West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. Do earnings from employment not covered by social security affect my getting checks?

A. Earnings from work of any kind, whether or not covered by the social security law, must be counted in figuring the amount of benefits due for a year. However, income from savings, investments, pensions and insurance is excluded.

Q. I returned to work since applying for social security benefits. May I have my benefit refigured because of my additional earnings?

A. Yes. Old-age beneficiaries who go on working after 65 may have their benefit rates refigured to include their recent earnings. This may mean a raise in the benefit rate.

For further information on your social security problems, contact the Social Security office at 701 South Dixie Highway, West Palm Beach (open from 8:30 to 4:00, Monday through Friday), or their Field Representative at the County Welfare Office in Stuart, Mondays only, 9 to 12.

INSURANCE TIPS

By RICK CARROLL

Q. Is there any way to lower the cost of young drivers insurance policies?

A. Yes, definitely. Drivers education counts 10% with many companies and also many companies will write the coverage at reduced rates if the parent's car is in the same company. For instance, the normal charge for liability for a boy unmarried under twenty-five is $151.00. We can write this same coverage for $111.00 if we also insure the parent's car.

Q. The rate is higher for my teenage son to drive my car. How about my teenage daughter? Are the rates higher for her, also?

A. No. The rates are the same at for adults.

Palm Beach Promises Last Mile

At this week's county commission meeting, Chairman Frank Wacha read a letter from Palm Beach county commissioner Lake Lytal, promising the cooperation of Palm Beach County in the construction of a road to match and further the Martin County portion of the so-called Pratt & Whitney access road.

Lytal said in the letter, "I feel quite sure that when your board is ready with the completed plans for this project, if they will request the cooperation of this board, it will be forthcoming.

Directors Hold To Fact: Do Not Endorse or Reject

The Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce approved the release of the special committee report on incorporation at its Board of Director's meeting on Monday night. The directors thanked the fact-finding committee for efforts on the report.

The report is being published in full, with no opinions given, so that the public can obtain the facts as presented by the committee. The Chamber directors emphasized that the report neither endorses incorporation or discouraged it.

Further action on the report was left by the directors to the public response to the report.

The Jensen Beach Mirror plans a series of articles on the various sections of the reports, and editorial comment in the future, at the request of the Chamber of Commerce. In addition, the Mirror encourages public comment on the sections, comments which will be printed in the next few weeks as a part of a public forum in this newspaper. Persons interested in questioning any portion, or commenting on the report should write to "Incorporation Report", care of the Editor, Jensen Beach Mirror, Jensen Beach, Florida.

Report of the Fact-Finding Committee for the Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce, for the possible Incorporation of Jensen Beach, Florida.

This Committee was appointed by the Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce, Jensen Beach, Florida, for the purpose of gathering data concerning the facts necessary to determine the revenue and expenditures of operating a Municipal Government within the limits of an incorporated entity as established herinafter.

Committee Members as appointed by the Chamber of Commerce: Leonard Smith-Chairman, Edwin Haine, Doo Palmer, Ed Snyder, Wallace Fletcher, Frank Forsberg-Ex Officio.

The first meeting was held on October 15, 1963 and continued on a near-weekly basis to this date.

This Committee is grateful to the many individuals and business organizations who have assisted in furnishing information from which the following data is accumulated.

Area Considered For Incorporation

The following map covers a large portion of District # 1 of Martin County. That portion of District # 1 bound on the North by the Martin County-St. Lucie line, on the East by the Atlantic Ocean, on the South by Sewall's Point and the St. Lucie River, and on the West by the Stuart City line and Route # 1. For investigating purposes, this area has been divided into three sections indicated as #1, #2, and #3. As shown on the map, Section # 1 is principally the Northeast portion of the area, having as its center the Jensen Beach business section. Area # 2 is the Northwesterly portion as shown on the map, and is presently in an undeveloped state. Area # 3 is known as Rio and bound on the East by Warner Creek, South by the St. Lucie River, West by the Stuart City line, and North to the railroad. In the event of incorporation, city limits would be established by the will of the people into any or all of the above sections.

Sources Of Revenue

The word "revenue" is indicated here as a word to cover sources of income to be used against the required expenses for the operation of a Municipality. These revenues are derived from a number of sources. A great deal of time has been spent in establishing the most accurate figures possible. The largest individual source is the municipality's share of the cigarette tax, and inasmuch as a careful study has been made, there is still some information to be desired. Therefore, on this particular point, the figure shown below is to be considered a very conservative estimate.

Sources of estimated revenue are listed as follows:

Sources		Budget
Cigarettes	$26,000	Executive Head	$ 6,000.
Electric Co.	10,250	Electric Co.	5,152.
Telephone Co.	600.	Clerk & Tax collector	4,000.
Railroad	1,307.	Fire & Police	15,000.
Road & Bridge (from county)	9,421.	Roads	15,000.
		Civic Center	500.
1.5 Mills	15,750.	Judge & Attorney	2,700.
Occupation Licenses	500.	Incidentals	4,000.
Building Permits	1,600.	Insurance	7,000.
Fines & Forfeitures	2,000.	Travel	1,500.
		Building Fund	2,000.
		Contingencies & Emergencies	4,576.
Totals:	$67,428.		$67,428.

For purposes of description, let's call the Electric Company remittance a Franchise tax. The figure established was arrived at after investigation and cooperation by the Florida Power & Light Company office in Stuart. The number of poles, the wires strung, the property that they own and combination of several such items developed this figure.

The Telephone Company will pay a franchise tax on the service charge which would amount to about $600.00 a year under the present services. There is no income for the municipality from toll charges and other special services.

It should be pointed out that at the moment the railroad tax may not be available due to the strike which has existed since early 1963. However, this is an indebtedness and will be paid after the reestablishment of the road's normal function.

The Road and Bridge figure of $9,421.00 is based on figures received from the County Commission that this is the amount we would receive from the State for the area in question for incorporation. This figure does not include the maintenance of State or Federal highways which are cared for by them.

The 1.5 mills at an established figure of $15,750.00 is based on a $10,000,000.00 assessed valuation of properties within the limits of Section # 1. Presently this tax is levied against the property owner and is collected by the County for county use. In the event of an incorporation of Jensen Beach, this amount would be dropped from the County tax bill, but the like amount would be billed by the municipality. Therefore, the net cost of taxes to the tax payer would remain the same as at present.

Occupational Licenses are to be issued to all forms of business and a survey based on present charges by the County could indicate the $500.00 income.

Building Permits would be issued by the City Clerk and charges would be based on the Southern Building Code's recommendations. Assuming a continued growth of approximately 40 homes per year, plus some commercial work, the figure of $1,600.00 would be fair and not exaggerated.

Fines and Forfeitures are, of course, a difficult subject on which to establish an annual income figure. However, we feel that conservatively $2,000.00 would be a normal figure.

They are housed in a pen at the present time, with a built in swimming pool. The sleek curious, aquatic birds carry an uncanny resemblance to a man in full dress suit. They have no quills on their wings, which are rigid and useless for flight, although they move freely at the shoulder joint. Their weight is supported on their toes alone. Penguins make no nests and lay a single egg, which is tended by both birds and the female takes charge of the young for nearly twelve months. There are about 20 living species and 30 fossils of the bird. The Evinrude's Penguins were flown from Peru as a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Vic Oxtoby of New York City.

1925 Highways In 1964

When Savanna Road was proposed to be extended from Warner Creek to Rio recently, many of the businesses along A1A objected to the extension on the grounds that it would take traffic away from the State Road and there would be loss of revenue from those automobiles. In the meantime, A1A continues to offer driving conditions that might have been excellent in 1925, but are far from adequate in 1964.

Business owners could help their own cause by encouraging the widening and proper drainage of the highway. It might take a death to get it done, however, for everyone in business along the highway seems uninterested in its improvement.

Recently, after much negotiation, the board of county commissioners was able to get the State Road Department to agree to install proper drainage to eliminate the swamp and quick rain ponds on A1A near Riverside Park. The only requirement was an easement to the river. Not a ditch, but just an easement for a drain that would be covered.

County commissioners went begging for the easement, but not one of the property owners would come forth. The swamp still exists across the highway in a rain, and the demands for another route continue to pour in.

This is an isolated case. For if the road is to service the heavy load of traffic it is presently carrying, it must be widened and built up to the traffic requirements. Rights of way are needed to spur the project.

Having A1A and highway 707 four-laned from Warner Creek to the county line would insure the proper business development of this community. If Jensen Beach is to grow in business area east of the Fl. Crailroad tracks, it must come up to date. It must have proper roads for shoppers, and businesses must work together in common interest.

Business will go where it easy to shop. Shoppers will go where it is easy to buy. Modern roads go with modern stores. If the businesses along A1A and 707 keep up to date in stores and roads, there will not be an "old downtown" and a "new downtown" as has happened in many places, including Stuart, Jupiter and Fort Pierce.

What Will We Do Next?

Martin County growth is forever a problem, for as soon as one obstacle is met, another jumps up to take its place. Four years ago, in an editorial, a writer called for unity, following the election of county commissioners. The editorial called for several important projects. Those included four-laning of U. S. 1, the Pratt & Whitney Road, tolls off the bridges, completion of A1A down the beach and paving the Martin Highway.

It took all four years, but the job was done, or at least ready to be done, with a new Jensen Beach Bridge and bascule span to boot.

Now, new problems face this growing county. We hope that the men who are elected to office take the same attitude, and become go-getters for our progress. There are enough "against" in office now.

Primary responsibility for the development of Martin County lies with the county commission and county officers. Before voting, find out what these candidates are for... not what they are against.

To Be Or Not To Be

The report of the committee on incorporation facts of the Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce has done its work. The report of that committee is brief and to the point. There are many items left out. There are many facets of incorporation yet to be explored.

There is, however, a lot of meat in the report. It should be digested in every way by local citizens. Then the citizens should ask questions.

We hope that the report is received in the spirit given, and that it is given full consideration by the public.

Like Politics Is Here

One man said, "I don't think that the state of Florida would be hurt any if anyone of the candidates for governor gets elected."

These are wise words, for all are outstanding men, noted for achievement.

The only problem is that even the governor's race is held on the local level, and the local committee of a governor candidate is really what we are voting for or against. Some would scoff at this, but remember, Martin County will have the ear of the governor through his local committee. The local committee can make or break projects that need the governor's approval.

The local Committee can therefore make or break a candidate. Who is on that committee, and what they believe in, is most important.

Presently in Palm Beach County, Haydon Burns has run into difficulty with newspapers in that area because of his handling of the committee there. This will lose them votes. It will lose them without his knowledge.

Here in Martin County, the local committee has lost many votes through centering its favor for Burns in one newspaper in the county, and through allowing certain persons in the county to actively participate in showing favoritism to certain areas.

This is wrong. The biggest thing about it is that Haydon Burns knows nothing about it.

It is hard enough for a candidate to campaign on a state level with all of the problems in a county that is on the tail end of the population (and therefore voting) list. Votes are hard to gain.

A general rule, on the local level on the state level, the candidates are of equal caliber. They couldn't have problems if they actively have to depend upon people, but, today, people have personalities. They feel strongly about things. Their feelings move into the range of personalities, and soon neighbor hates neighbor and everything said is thought of in nine different directions.

As shown above, the Burns organization has problems. The Dickinson organization has problems, too. With only two men in the county actively supporting him, even Scott Kelly has problems.

Every man and woman of voting age has a right to his or her opinion, but he or she can't vote on his or her candidates. The voters of the political party need not be muddled by ill people injecting personalities and petty grievances into the election. Favoritism should not govern in any case, for it will only hurt.

Erosion Problems Will Be Inspected By State Officials

Randolph Hodges director of the State Board of Conservation, and W. T. Carlton, head of the Board's division of beaches and shores, will be in Martin County next week to make an inspection of emergency erosion problems here, according to County Engineer, Fred L. Bell.

Bell went to Tallahassee Monday to present a resolution adopted by the Martin County commission following the March 24 erosion hearing at Jupiter Island.

The resolution, officially adopted at the April 3 meeting of the commission, was suggested by Bell as a means to get state and federal assistance in the control of erosion.

The Lincoln Park Academy concert choir of Fort Pierce, sang a concert Tuesday night in the Martin County High School gym for the benefit of the Stuart Training School band uniform fund.

Ted Wiegand, at the piano, played numbers from "South Pacific".

Zoning Code Amendments Adopted By Board

The County Planning and Zoning Board, in a special session, has reviewed and amended several sections of the zoning code where minimum floor areas were not specified.

Joseph Greenlees, Donald Ward, Frank Forsberg, with Fred L. Bell, county zoning director, voted after study, to advertise for public hearing, the following changes:

R-1: Single family residential district, minimum size shall be 1,000 square feet, exclusive of carporte, breezeway or utility room.

R-1-A: Single family residential district, minimum size of building shall be 1,000 square feet exclusive of carporte, breezeway or utility room.

All Saints Delegates To Attend Convention

Seven individuals from All Saints Episcopal Church, Jensen Beach, will attend the 42nd annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of South Florida at Daytona Beach April 21 to 23.

Representing the church as delegates will be Henry Doring, John Herrmann, Henry Wylie and the Rev. Norman B. Feaster. Attending as delegates to the women's meetings will be Mrs. Henry Doring, Mrs. John Hermann and Mrs. Henry Wylie.

The Episcopal Church is part of the Anglican Communion of which there are 42 million members. It is organized as a democratic church in which both the clergy and laity have a voice and conventions, such as this one at Daytona Beach, are held to determine the work and program of the church.

The Rt. Rev. Henry I. Louttit, Bishop of the Diocese of South Florida will preside at the convention, the object of the business of which will be the promotion of a capital fund campaign to raise $3,000,000 for work on college campuses, with the aging and mission extention.

All Saints will also be represented by a group of seven or eight people, headed by the Rev. Mr., and Mrs. Norman B. Feaster, at a Congress of the Church, conducted by the American Church Union at Holy Spirit Episcopal Church, West Palm Beach, on April 18. Registration will open at 10:30 and the day's activities will conclude about 4:30 p.m. The gathering will be addressed by such distinguished clerics as Bishop Westall, Bishop of Crediton, the Rev. Jr. J.V. Langmead Casserley, professor of Apologetics at Seabury-Western Seminary, Evanston, Ill., and the Rev. Paul G. Reeves, rector of the church of the Redeemer Sarasota, Florida.

The Brotherhood of the Jensen Community Church will hold their regular monthly meeting on Friday evening, April 17th. All men of the congregation are urged to attend and bring their friends. Dinner will be served by the ladies at 6:30, followed by a business session.

Silver Tea To Be Given April 19

A Silver Tea for the Benefit of the Unity Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry Heritage, N. Indian River Drive, Sunday afternoon, April 19, from 2:00 until 5:00. The Heritage home is one and one-tenth miles north of the Jensen Beach Causeway.

Mrs. Joseph (Birdie) Roberts, Sr. is Worthy Matron, and Joseph Roberts, Sr. is Worthy Patron for 1964.

The Honorees who will pour are Mrs. Oliver (Barbara) Ferson, Mrs. Arnold Taube, both past Worthy Matrons of Unity Chapter, Mrs. William Vaught and Mrs. T. B. (Edith) Setterfield.

Mrs. Warner Tilton will offer a prayer before serving is started. Several Rainbow Girls will be on hand to assist the Hostesses.

Mrs. Samuel Rhodes and Mrs. Harry Heritage are Hostesses of this event, to which the public is most cordially invited.

A musical program featuring Jensen Beach talent has been arranged.

Mr. Harry Heritage invites the men to accompany their wives

Your Social Security

By R. C. Gehrken, Jr.
District Manager
West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. I am a school teacher. Some of the other teachers have said that they applied for social security benefits when they became old enough and that they have received benefits during the summer months ever since. How is this possible when they earn a great deal more than $1200 a year?

A. A beneficiary may receive benefits for any month in which he does not earn over $100 as an employee or render substantial services in a business of his own, no matter how much his total earnings are for the year. Many teachers have contracts which provide for their working for only nine or ten months a year. They are entitled to benefits for those months of the year in which they do not work and have no earnings.

Q. I go to my daughter's house every day to do the housework and take care of my grandchildren while she works. Can I get social security credit for what she pays me?

A. No. Domestic work by a parent in the home of a son or daughter is not covered for social security purposes.

For further information on your social security problems, contact the Social Security office at 701 South Dixie Highway, West Palm Beach (open from 8:30 to 4:00, Monday through Friday), or their Field Representative at the County Welfare Office in Stuart, Mondays only, 9 to 12.

ART AND ARTISTS

Part Two: The Past

Last week I quoted two definitions of "Art" by Mrs. John Sloan and Albert Einstein. To these I now add a third definition: "Art is the making or doing of anything that gives pleasure." This best describes the Art that was used among the early Indians for the decoration of their various articles. These decorations had nothing whatsoever to do with the usefulness of the articles.

The Indians of America have been broadly divided into five regions by Anthropologists. These are the Southwest Area, Californian Indians, the Northwest Coastal Region, the Plains Area, and the Eastern Woodlands. The latter area includes the land east of the Mississippi River in which our Florida Indians and their ancestors resided.

Unfortunately, because of the atmospheric and soil conditions of this area, the perishable arts and crafts of the early Indians are rarely found in good condition. Tiny stone statues have been found, as well as some copper ornaments. The copper came from the Great Lakes Region, and was also used for tools and paints.

One unusual method for decorating their large pottery vessels came from their method of wrapping the pots with a woven fabric to strengthen the walls. When the jars were fired, the weave was permanently printed on the pots.

In the Southern part of the eastern woodlands Region, pottery was made chiefly for burials. A unique decoration pattern of open work design is found in many of these vessels. These decorative cut-out designs inhibited the practical use of the vessels for any other purpose.

One interesting sideline of the artistic and scientific efforts of the Eastern Woodlands Indians concerns the large vessels mentioned above. These very large decorated pots were made with the purpose of evaporating the salt water. After many, many centuries, it is interesting to note that we are still trying to find economical methods of separating the salt from sea water.

Your Martin County Museums on Hutchinson Island are open Tuesday through Friday from 1:00 to 5:00; Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, 9:00 to 5:00. We are closed on Monday. There is a small admission charge to the Elliott Museum; No admission charge to the House of Refuge. Visit and support your Martin County Museums.

INSURANCE TIPS
By RICK CARROLL

Q. When my son got his own car, and wanted insurance on it, the insurance company would not write it and told the agent to put it in the assigned risk plan. Is this normal?

A. Many companies have been severely hit by young drivers and have set blanket rules not to write this classification of risk. However, most companies will write the coverage if the parents are in the same company. I would suggest using another company rather than the assigned risk plan.

Q. Is Drivers Education really worthwhile to young drivers?

A. Absolutely, yes. Even if only for the money it saves on insurance. Generally you save 10% which is $15 to $20 per year. Also, the young driver is more likely to have the insurance placed in a good company if he has drivers education.

Instrumentalists To Meet April 17

Twelve hundred pupils in grades four through six from six county elementary schools filled the bleacher seats of the Martin County High School gym on Tuesday morning to hear a one-hour band concert.

The band was in full uniform and played a complete program plus several solos on the oboe, bassoon, French Horn and the euphonium.

Frank Lodwick, director of instrumental music in the elementary schools, has announced that on April 17 from 7:30 to 9:45 p. m., at the log cabin, all elementary instrumentalists will meet to rehearse and play together for the first time.

The purpose of the session is to give pupils and parents an opportunity to meet Lemoyne Roll, band director, and to get acquainted with each other and the surroundings they will study in HAPPY BIRTHDAY MEIN HERR--County Commission Chairman Frank Wacha holds as Wolfgang Repke, state department interpreter, and Hans Schmitz, assistant chief editor of Neue Ruhr-Neue Rhein, a newspaper in Germany, blow out the candles. On a tour of the United States, Schmitz was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evinrude while in town. The birthday celebration of Schmitz and Repke was a part of a press dinner in honor of the visitor.

$3,300,000 Plan May Change St.Lucie Inlet

County Officials In Jacksonville

A tentative $3,300,000 plan to change St. Lucie Inlet was discussed Tuesday in Jacksonville between Martin County officials and representatives of the U. S. Corps of Engineers.

Local officials were told that local interests would have to raise about $2,475,000, which is 75 per cent of the cost.

Making the trip to Jacksonville were County Commission Chairman Frank Wacha, Commissioners Jack Saunderson and J. H. Bruner, and County Engineer Fred Bell.

"All of this is tentative," Wacha explained, as the plan must be o.k.'d by the Corps' Atlanta office before it goes on to Washington.

The cost-to-benefit ratio estimated under the plan, which would not deepen the water at the reef, was one to 1.2, Wacha said.

As tentatively submitted, the plan would provide a dog-legged breakwater along the present channel across the reef and to the north of it, eastward of the present north jetty.

A cut would be made in the north jetty to permit sand to drift through into an impoundment basin which would be dredged, pumped southward about every two years at county expense.

The Engineers survey said the cut through the reef was at project depth of 10 feet and 100 feet wide when the surveys were made, so the project would entail no deepening of the reef.

Also to be built would be a south jetty parallel to the present north jetty, but inshore from it.

The channel inside the reef would be deepened to the Crossroads of the Intracoastal and Okeechobee Waterways along the lowest cost route.

An alternative plan under which a channel six feet deep and 100 feet wide would be re-aligned from the Crossroads to the reef was also offered.

It would entail no deepending at the reef, and would result in no maintenance costs to local interests after completion.

The cost would be $13,000 to Federal interests and $11,000 locally, and would be finished within two years.

Chamber Installs Officers

The Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce will install officers for the 1964-65 season tonight at Seamour's Inn in Jensen Beach. The cocktail party is set for 6:30 p.m. and dinner will begin at 7:30 p.m.

New president of the Chamber will be Richard E. Campbell, 35, editor and publisher of The Jensen Beach Mirror. Campbell has been a resident of Martin County for 10 years. He is a past president of the Stuart Jaycees, a director in the Florida Press Association and is vice president of the Jensen-Rio United Fund.

Active in sports, Campbell is president of the Jensen-Rio Bowling League and is active in the local softball league. He is a member of the Anchorage Yacht Club, Port St. Lucie and Martin County Golf and Country Clubs, and the American Legion.

He is married to the former Jan Hobstad, and they have one son, Rickey. The Campbells live at 126 N.W. Sunview Road.

Installing the new president will be Karl Fremaux, head of Southern Bell Telephone in this area, a former president of the Fort Pierce Chamber of Commerce.

Also to be installed are Ed Lawrence, vice president, Rick Carroll, secretary, and Don Palmer, treasurer.

Entertainment will be furnished by the Jensen "Beetles" and the "Outriggers".

In charge of the program for the evening are Johnny Crawford, June Rice, Martin Wahl and Phil Baker.

Incorporation Area A Problem

(Editor's note: This is the first in a series of articles on the recent report of the Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce on the facts concerning the incorporation of Jensen Beach.)

By DICK CAMPBELL

It would be difficult to pick any area in the Jensen Beach area and say that this is where the town of Jensen Beach should begin. It would be easier to say where it should not begin.

The committee investigating the incorporation facts gave three areas for incorporation.

The first, and perhaps the most feasible, is the area bounded by the county line on the north, the east side of Savanna Road on the west, to Warner Creek, out to the St. Lucie River and east, jogging down Palmer Road and straight out to the ocean side of Hutchinson Island to the county line.

This area would be the easiest to incorporate, for most of the immediate area of Jensen Beach lies within it. It would also afford a minimum of roads to maintain, as the town would leave all major roads to the State Road Department and the county.

Roads covered by the SRD and the county would include all of A1A and SR 707, Commerci l Street to Savanna Road, Savanna Road, and the Sewall's Point temporary A1A.

Requirements for road maintenance would be small for there are but few roads in the area. New subdivisions would be required to build their own roads, and access roads to them would be offset by added revenue from upgrading the property.

Another area that might be added to the incorporation would be Rio, though this would be very unlikely according to sentiment expressed in that area by members of the Rio Civic Club and other residents of that area. This would include from the north side of the railroad tracks to the Stuart City Line, and south to the river.

The third area includes all the vacant and sparsely settled land west of Savanna Road to U. S. 1 (the east side) from the county line to the Stuart City Limits. This area would be excellent for area in road money and franchise taxes, but would be unwieldly until it was ready for full expansion.

The most important item in the selection of three plans would be the choice of each area involved. Each area should have the opportunity to incorporate or not to incorporate, depending on the "will of the people".

Your Social Security

By: R. C. Cottam, Jr.
District Manager
West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. Is there any way I can find out how much social security will pay me, so I can decide if I can afford to quit working?

A. Your social security office will be glad to check your account for you and tell you what your social security benefit will be. In fact, it's a good idea to talk to a representative while you are just beginning to think about retirement. He can tell you approximately how much your benefit will be at 65, and what it will be if you decide to retire before 65. He can also tell you what proofs you will need when you file your claim. And by checking in advance, you can help your social security office to speed your first check to you.

Q. Friends have been telling me I should file for social security because I'm past 65 years old. I just don't see why I should, because I'm still working and don't plan to quit.

A. You should at least talk to a social security representative, and maybe make an application, even though you are still working. In many cases it is possible to pay some benefits for a year, even though a person works in every month. This is so because of the way in which benefits are withheld because of employment. If you earn $1200 or less for the year, all benefits are paid. For earnings over $1200 and up to $1700, one dollar in benefits is withheld for each $2 you earn. For earnings over $1700, benefits are withheld on a dollar-for-dollar basis. Depending on your monthly benefit amount, and the wages you expect to earn this year, it might be possible to pay for part of the year.

For further information on your social security problems, contact the Social Security office at 701 South Dixie Highway, West Palm Beach (open from 8:30 to 4:00, Monday through Friday), or their Field Representative at the County Welfare Office in Stuart, Mondays only, 9 to 12.

ELLIOTT MUSEUM

MUSEUM TREASURES

By: Carol Schmidt
Assistant Director

Sunday, April 26, is Confederate Memorial Day, a legal holiday in the state of Florida. Florida joins with three other Southern states, Alabama, Mississippi and Georgia, in a special memorium to the brave soldiers who fought for the Southern Cause a century ago.

Florida's role in the War Between the states is perhaps the most unique of all the states who engaged in the Battle. One interesting fact is that portions of the state were claimed by both the North and the South throughout the entire war. Fort Pickens at Pensacola, Fort Taylor at Key West and Fort Jefferson in the Dry Tortugas were held by the Federal Forces during the whole period of the war, while the interior of the state was continually defended by the Confederates and remained in the possession of the state troops.

Another point of interest is the fact that our state capital, Tallahassee, was the only Confederate capital east of the Mississippi to escape occupation during the war. In 1865, home guards and cadets from West Florida Seminary saved Tallahassee from capture by defeating the Federal forces at the Battle of Natural Bridge.

While Florida participated in several major battles, and sent many, many brave men to fight for the Confederate beliefs, her greatest contribution to the War was in supplying salt, beef, bacon, fruits and vegetables to the armies of the Confederacy. Cotton, tobacco and turpentine were also channeled out of Southern states through Florida by blockade runners from the West Indies who hid in Florida's sheltered waters from Federal cruisers.

On Sunday, April 26, your Martin County Museums will pay tribute to all of the men who served in the Confederacy - the farmers and ranchers, as well as the soldiers and blockade runners. There will be a floral display donated by the H & H Lily Farms beside the Confederate flag in the main entrance of the Elliott Museum. Favorite songs of the South will be played on the Society's tape recorder throughout the day. The Museum staff would also like to call the attention of visitors to the exhibit case in the Florida History wing of the Elliott Museum which tells the story of Florida's role in the Civil War.

Your Martin County Museums are located on Hutchinson Island east of Stuart and Jensen Beach. Visiting hours are 1:00 to 5:00, Tuesday through Friday, and from 9:00 to 5:00 Saturday, Sunday and holidays. (Closed Monday)

There is a slight admission fee to the Elliott Museum. The House of Refuge Museum has no admission fee. Visit and support your Martin County Museums.

Also high-lighting the dinner were surprise birthday cakes and Champagne toasts to Schmitz and Repke, both of whom were celebrating birthdays this week.

Guests of the press party were County Commission Chairman Frank Wacha and his wife, who officially represented the County; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hupfel, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Penning; Mrs. Emma Schultrich, who is a native of Germany and conversed fluently with the guests.

Press members included Mr. and Mrs. Richard Campbell, Jensen Beach Mirror; Mrs. Mary Hartman, Palm Beach Post; Gordon Lockwood, Stuart News; and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gluckler, Indiantown Press and Fort Pierce News Tribune.

On Sunday morning, the two visitors, who stayed at the Langford Villas, enjoyed a morning of sunshine and swimming at the pool, before going to the airport in West Palm Beach for their flight to Nashville, Tennessee. In Nashville, they will visit Fisk University, a negro institution, where Schmitz will explore the racial aspects of America.

From there, he will go to New Orleans, Grand Canyon, Dallas, San Francisco, Chicago, then back to Washington and Cologne.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Swarthout received the following letter from Mrs. Nicolet, concerning the visit of Schmitz and Repke:

"Yesterday I received a call from Mr. Schmitz and Mr. Repke. They were both delighted with their stay in Jensen Beach. Mr. Schmitz's voice broke with emotion when he told me how much he enjoyed himself and how impressed he was with the gracious manner in which the Evinrudes received him, and the genuine warmth displayed by all with whom he came in contact. You have certainly won a new friend for the United States.

Please accept my thanks and appreciation for the very fine program arranged for the gentlemen. We would be happy to receive any news clippings of their visit.

The birthday cakes were a big and quite a surprise."

The Jensen Beach Bloopers, made up of local, aging men, defeated the Grumman softball team 7-3 in a nine inning game, played last Sunday afternoon at Langford Hall Park.

The game was sparked by the grunts and groans of windless athletes, accompanied by an occasional creak of a muscle. Frank Wacha, who reported on the game, said he scored the winning run.

The game is a weekly event on Sunday afternoons.

Joyce Bray, Park Road, celebrated her seventh birthday on Monday afternoon at a swimming party.

Guests were Charlene Bright, June Dean, Paula Lewis, Kim Bessemer, Ricky Campbell, Gary Shipes, Vicky Parsons, Joyce Olney, Morgan and Jean Sprott.

DICKINSON WILL DO WHAT OTHERS PROMISE

In May 1961, Senator Dickinson proposed the Florida Council of 100. Members include private citizens representing industry, commerce, the professions, and education who serve voluntarily. The Council has a four-fold purpose promoting industry, tourism, education, and development of the natural resources of all Florida. Proof that Dickinson has the interests of all Florida at heart are the activities and improvements brought about throughout the entire State by the Council of 100 under his leadership.

In 1962 Dickinson personally led the campaign to establish an Engineering College at the University of South Florida in Tampa, a 4-year degree granting institution at Boca Raton, a 4-year degree granting institution near Pensacola and the "Space Age" University in Central Florida.

Dickinson traveled to Europe to promote Florida tourism and addressed 1500 travel agents from all over the world at the World Travel Congress in Cannes. Not one cent of State funds was used for this highly successful effort.

Dickinson worked with the United States Secretary of Agriculture on behalf of Florida's all-important sugar quota. As a result, the quota was maintained at almost the exact level recommended by the Council of 100. Not one cent of cost to Florida.

Over 1600 leading corporations were contacted by Dickinson and the Council of 100 to promote industrial plant construction in Florida. Since RCA established its plant here on May 25, 1961, the Council of 100 has been a factor in every single major industry move to our state. And it didn't cost our State a thing.

Dickinson stimulated renewed Congressional interest in the Florida Cross-State Canal by the Council of 100's continuing efforts to secure appropriation of funds for its construction. No cost to the public.

Dickinson personally initiated the plan to persuade England to drop her high tariffs on Florida citrus products to open up this $6,000,00 citrus market to Florida.

Dickinson, as Chairman of the Council of 100, specified development of Florida's natural resources as one of its objectives. As a result, the Council has played an important role in improving conservation, flood control and agriculture.

(part 2)

TO THE VOTERS OF MARTIN COUNTY MY "ONE MAN FIGHT" TO BREAK UP THE EXISTING POLITICAL MACHINE HAS BEGUN TO SHOW RESULTS. THE VOTERS HAVE AWAKENED TO MY APPEALS. TO ALL THOSE WHO HAVE SENT ME SO MANY LETTERS OF ENCOURAGEMENT TO CONTINUE THEIR FIGHT AGAINST OUR TWO COMMISSIONERS, I THANK YOU FROM THE BOTTOM OF MY HEART.

YOU HAVE WATCHED OUR "ONE MAN RULE" UNDER CHAIRMAN WACHA AND HIS "RUBBER STAMP" COMMISSIONER SAUNDERSON. YOU HAVE ALSO WATCHED MY "ONE MAN FIGHT" AND ALL IT'S FRUSTRATIONS TO BRING YOU, THE VOTERS, INTO THE FRONT LINE SO YOU COULD ALL SEE HOW OUR COUNTY IS RUN FOR THE BENEFIT OF A VERY SELECT FEW. YOU KNOW WHO THEY ARE.

THIS COUNTY IS HAVING SEVERE GROWING PAINS. MY PAYROLL FOR 1963 WAS $230,111.51. THE GREATEST MOTIVATING FORCE BEHIND MY FIGHT TO OUST MR. WACHA AND MR. SAUNDERSON IS TO ESTABLISH BUSINESS-LIKE METHODS AND EXPEDIENT PLANNING, NOT EMPTY PROMISES. WE NO LONGER HAVE ROOM FOR THE OLD ENTRENCHED POLITICAL MACHINE. YOU MUST STILL REMEMBER WHEN THE BESSEY CREEK BRIDGE WAS BURNED BY ARSONISTS. I TOOK THE LIE DETECTOR TEST AT THE SHERIFF'S REQUEST. WHY NOT THE OTHERS? WAS THERE ANYTHING TO HIDE?

ELECTION TIME MAY 5TH IS ALMOST HERE. THE TIME HAS COME FOR ME TO HELP YOU. I HAVE ONLY ONE VOTE AND NEED YOUR CONTINUED SUPPORT.

Chris Kalb of Jensen District One and John B. MacArthur of Salerno and Hobe Sound are the candidates for the county commission. They have come to your homes and have made made known their beliefs and ideals.

Tax Sale List Is Realeased

The notice of tax sale for delinquent taxes in Martin County appears in the Jensen Beach Mirror this week. Certificates will be sold on the first day of June, according to the legal advertisement that takes more than five pages of the Mirror this week.

The tax sale list will be published in the Mirror for four weeks.

The Destiny Of Martin County, Florida And The Nation Goes To Voters Tuesday

The voters of Martin County will be asked to pick a United States Senator, a Governor, and many state and county officers at the polls Tuesday, as democracy takes another giant step forward in the orderly process of government.

In one of the most hotly contested elections in the history of Martin County, very few officials will get through without a very close examination of their records by the voters. A record turnout of voters is expected, and absentee ballots will also reach a new high, according to the political pundits.

In the race for United States Senator, veteran senior Senator Spessard Holland faces Bralley Odham, who once was a candidate for Governor.

Six candidates will be narrowed down to two in the governor race as all sections of Florida are represented by Haydon Burns, Fred "Bud" Dickinson, Robert King High, Fred Karl, Scott Kelly and Jack Matthews. A runoff between the two highest candidates will be held in a month.

Earl Faircloth and incumbent James Kynes square off in the race for attorney general, and Phillip Brewer faces incumbent Ed Mason for public utilities commissioner.

In local races, Senator Irlo Bronson faces opposition for the second time in 22 years as Jack Williamson seeks his seat. Mallory Johnson, Elton Schwarz and Dean Tooker square off in the county judge race. Roy C. Baker faces Sam Harless for Sheriff and Isabel Evans will race John Keller for supervisor of registration.

Three county commissioner districts will be seeking to decide who runs the county, as incumbent Frank Wacha faces Chris Kalb in District One; incumbent Jack Saunderson faces John MacArthur and Lewis Preston in District Three; and Tilmer Powers and W. F. Underhill seek the District Five commission post.

Voters will elect a Justice of the Peace from Harvey Piley, John Wethington and Kenny Stimmell, and a Constable from Ralph Ward and Tom Wethington.

OUTRIGGER WINS AGAIN--Members of the Monday night bowling league at Jensen Beach Lanes pose with trophies and sponsor, Frances Langford. The Outrigger won it, and Vince Bocchino, Pete Robinson, Steve Sabit, Jack Scranton and Buddy Shipes look happy.

M.C. Taxpayers Assoc. Questionnaire

Each general election year, the Martin County Taxpayers Association sends a questionnaire to candidates for the top governing board in the county, the board of county commissioners.

Each year, the commissioner candidate answers are publicized in paid advertising space, and if sufficient added comments are made by the candidates, this added information is supplied to newspapers.

This year, an extraordinary divergance of attitudes was apparent among the candidates on several of the questions.

The following answers are without change or comment

QUESTION: If elected to the board of county commissioners, would you continue to permit the (taxpayers) association to work with you in connection with budget matters as has been done in the past?

All the candidates answered "Yes". Several commented that they believed the association was doing vital work on behalf of the taxpayers. Frank Wacha: "I feel this cooperation has been helpful, I see no need to change." Chris Kalb: "Past performances have proved that the experiences and knowledge of an organization of this type has been of great help to all types of government." Tilmer Powers: "The work of the association is of vital importance in this area." W. F. Underhill: "I think your interest on behalf of the taxpayers is to be commended."

QUESTION: Would you work, if elected, to tighten enforcement of the county's legally adopted building, electrical, plumbing zoning and other codes?

All candidates answered "Yes." Several commented. Underhill said: "If we are to have orderly sensible growth, then we must look far ahead in regard to long term planning and sound policies concerning legally adopted building, etc., codes...we must set standards that are fair and equal for all." Kalb: "Legal codes have a purpose... to protect the citizen from illegal, dangerous, expensive and shoddy methods, whether in building or zoning and planning.

QUESTION: In the past, the association has sponsored and paid for audits of various departments or activities of the county government, and may again ask cooperation of the commission in taking other similar actions. Would you favor either audits by special request of the state auditor or by an outside auditor, paid for by the association? These would be made available to the press and public, and would be made with the intent of informing the public about various activities of the government.

All of the candidates answered "Yes". Some commented.

Lewis B. Preston said: "If it was for the best interest of the voters of Martin County and the wish of the majority," Kalb replied: "An audit of this type would serve to keep our local government clean and corruptless, and would also be a deterrent to abuses in any department." Underhill commented: "I believe the people have a right and duty to know all details about government." Powers: "Keeping the public well informed is winning half of any battle. The board must make sound business decisions based on the needs of the people, and it required a well informed people to separate their true needs from seeing just wants."

QUESTION: If elected, what would be your stand on use of county tax funds on such activities as... the Golf Course? The answers varied. Here they are:

Powers: "I think the golf course facilities are a tremendous asset to the county. I believe such facilities should be self supporting and certainly more favorably be capable of returning revenue to the county. If the course indicates a continual operational loss, I would favor the possibility of leasing the course to assure the county the availability of its assets at a limited cost to the taxpayer."

Underhill: "I understand the facility is ready to become self supporting, or nearly so. While I would like an opportunity to study the situation, I doubt that it should be supported forever."

Wacha: "I feel that is is essential that the county continue to subsidize the golf course until it is able to maintain itself."

Kalb: "If the tax funds used for the golf course were used for the enjoyment of all our citizens and to help the economy through tourism, I'm for it; if it is to be used as a private club, No."

Saunderson: "The golf course will be self supporting in the very near future. It is a definite asset to the county, as our beaches, parks, boat ramps, docks, our library; It is a problem inherited by the present board and cannot be dropped all of a sudden. It can be solved... possibly by lease, lease purchase or outright sale."

Preston: "I feel that enough

New Bridge Construction Begins Soon

The long awaited new bascule span to replace the old wooden bridge, the last piece in the piecemeal construction of the Jensen Beach bridge system across the Indian River will get under way on Thursday, May 7th, according to county commission chairman Frank A. Wacha.

The new bridge and span will be 932 feet long and will take 360 days to complete. Total construction cost will be $765,999.

Fishermen have praised the new structure, which will feature fishing piers four feet above high tide, keeping anglers close to the water for most favorable plug action. There will be one on the southwest side of the bridge and one on the northeast side, extending out into the river.

Cleary Brothers, West Palm Beach, was low bidder on the high level bridge over the St. Lucie Canal at Indiantown, bids for which were opened at Tallahassee Tuesday morning.

Cleary's bid was $989,839.82. Dickerson, Inc., of Stuart, is chief sub-contractor with $350,000 worth of work under the Cleary contract.

Winners will be announced at noon on Saturday, in time for the prizes to be awarded.

Post Office Service Limited

The limited adjustments in postal services ordered in Washington March 10 by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski to save $12,700,000 will begin to take effect in Jensen Beach and other post offices May 4.

There will be no change in the parcel post service in Jensen Beach. Patrons on the star route and city delivery will continue to receive their parcels as usual.

Window service beginning Saturday, May 9, will be limited to some extent. No money orders will be issued on Saturdays. Persons requiring money orders should obtain them during the week. All inquiries and claims should be made on a week day. Stamp purchases may be made on Saturday, but it is suggested that patrons buy their stamps during the week, whenever possible, as there will be only one window clerk on duty on Saturdays. General delivery mail still may be picked up on Saturday mornings as usual.

There will be no "after hours" window service on any day of the week.

It is emphasized that no essential major services are affected under the orders. There will be no change in home delivery or special delivery, for example. Regular business mail deliveries will continue as usual. Letters and other first class mail will be handled with the same priority as ever.

Matthews Is Strong For Conservation

Guberanatorial candidate John E. (Jack) Mathews of Jacksonville took a strong stand in favor of a program of conservation of the state's natural resources in a brief talk on Monday in the First National Bank's Community Room.

Mathews called for a halt in the destruction of natural resources through the indiscriminate sale of bottom lands, poor subdividing and said he felt such problems as water supply and beach erosion should get study and action.

He criticized strongly a move on the part of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District to seek favorable publicity for a plan to finance the $28 million Upper St. John Basin flood control project.

"We must keep faith on the $50 million recreation bond issue approved by the voters last November to acquire recreational facilities and see that the funds are used for the purpose set up in the referendum."

He also called for a master zoning plan for the state.

Other remarks from his speech were, "I've been fighting for Interstate 95 for four years. . the east coast is getting short changed on that deal."

HERE'S HOW FLORIDA'S SENIOR SENATOR
STANDS ON MEDICAL ASSISTANCE
Senator Holland strongly supports medical assistance to Florida's older citizens. Two proposals have been offered. Medicare and the Kerr-Mills approach. Medicare offers only limited hospitalization and is financed by additional Social Security taxes administered by the Government. It covers all old persons rich and poor, but does not cover doctor bills. On the other hand, Kerr-Mills covers both hospital and doctor bills and protects only those who have the need. It is financed and administered by our states with large Federal support. Our entire Florida delegation in Congress voted for the Kerr-Mills approach. Our state legislature approved it for a two year period as did 36 of our states and territories. We are committed as a state and nation to try the Kerr-Mills approach for two years. If changes are necessary, we can make them to assure adequate medical assistance to our older citizens.

BACK JACK!!

Give Martin County It's First

STATE SENATOR

IN THE 33RD DISTRICT

VOTE TUESDAY

An Endorsement

Editorial

Never in the comparatively short life of the Indiantown Press. have we endorsed a candidate for any office.

Local pride and a thorough knowledge of the record made by Jack H. Williamson as a county commissioner, plus some sincere doubts about his opponent, have convinced us that we must speak out in his behalf at this time.

Williamson has made a good, hard working County Commissioner. He set out three and one-half years ago to represent this district as it had never been represented before, and to do it with the interests of all of Martin County at heart in his efforts.

He has succeeded in accomplishing what no commissioner has ever done, and we need not go into detailed inventories to prove this point.

One need only look to well over $6 million in road construction work by and through the State Road Department to indicate what has been done in that direction.

In our own district, where lack of roads and ancient bridges were strangling our potential, he has come up with solutions beyond expectations; with accomplishments not readily imagined three years ago.

This is not to say that his record should stand or fall on his accomplishments in opening our back country to sound development by access roads, or that he managed the reinstatement of Martin Grade as a state road between two county seats, Stuart and Okeechobee; or that he can point to the million dollar St. Lucie Canal bridge now awaiting bids . . . to be opened next Tuesday.

He has been a fair, hard working commissioner for ALL of Martin County . . . in recreation, in conservation, in working for the acquisition of clean industry, in sound financing.

We have no doubts that Williamson as a senator would continue his ways of getting things done for the people he represents.

We, therefore, commend him for his accomplishments and recommend that you vote for him on May 5th.

The incumbent, seeking re-election, has made much of his work on behalf of Martin County in the acquisition of Lake Okeechobee rights.

He ignores the fact that he represented Okeechobee County at the time when Martin's Rep. William R. Scott was trying to get the senate to move out on division of the lake.

If he did anything for Okeechobee County at that time, it escaped our notice and the notice of many others who tried to divide the lake then.

It was only after Martin County was added to his 33rd district and 8,000 Democratic party voters in our county started to look him over that he did anything to help out.

From the day that Sen. Irlo Bronson was made, at no request by the voters, senator for Martin County; until the day he drew Jack Williamson as an opponent in the state senate race, this writer saw him just once, heard from him NOT once.

He evaded Martin County and its voters as though they had the plague, appeared once at a court house meeting to discuss legislation and let it go at that.

In ALL the time he spent doing the work he claims he did for his district, at Tallahassee during the 1963 Legislative session, we heard NOT ONE WORD from him on his activities or deeds, good or bad, and we were hard put to find mention of him in the day-to-day record of the session as published in its own journals.

This, we might add, was during a session which handled a great deal of legislation of interest to Martin County.

We feel now that had he then had the overwhelming interest he claims he has felt for Martin County, he might have kept up contact with the newspapers in this county.

We have yet to find a newspaperman who will say that he knew much more about Bronson's activities than we did at the time, and that was precious little.

This campaign has been difficult to watch, and were it not for the fact that newspapermen generally are realists and seldom lie to each other, even about politics, we might be completely in the dark as to some of the wild claims, pressures, yes . . . mistruths, that have been tossed around with carelessness, particularly OF Williamson, in Okeechobee and Osceola Counties.

For example, a mere 150, by physical count, people who attended a free Bronson barbecue in Stuart were kited to a crowd of 1,500 in Okeechobee County by rumor and to more than that in Osceola County, also by rumor.

When an attempt to embarrass Williamson was made on a Stuart radio, and it failed, the fact that it failed was NOT reported in Osceola and Okeechobee Counties, but the question was repeated many times and outright lies were told about Williamson's reactions.

The truth of the matter was that Williamson had no reason to be embarrassed, answered truthfully and wholly, and won plaudits from Stuart listeners for being straightforward and honest.

We write, of course, of the ill-mannered attempt to tie him to a long dead issue . . . gambling.

If anyone should have been embarrassed on that radio program, it should have been Bronson. He couldn't even answer a question of major interest in one of the three counties in the district he purports to represent, acted as though he didn't even know that there was such a thing as the St. Lucie Inlet when questioned about it.

This could go on for many more lines, and columns, in type; but there appears to be no need for it.

Suffice to say, we believe that, based on the record, Jack H. Williamson will represent Martin, Okeechobee and Osceola Counties, the 33rd district, far better in the State Senate than the incumbent.

We base this estimate on the records of both men . . . Bronson's long, unspectacular one . . . one to which he points with pride . . . and to Williamson's short but meteoric one.

Williamson accomplishes things, and will do it in the Senate. He is, true, a comparatively young man on his way up the ladder.

Bronson may have had his moments in the 22 years he brags of, but no senator who has discussed retirement can ever be effectual again, seniority or no seniority.

We're for the young man on the way, not the old one slowing down.

U. S. Representative William C. Cramer of St. Petersburg, was the speaker at the Republican banquet at the Tradewinds Restaurant on Saturday night, sponsored by the Martin County Republican Committee.

He said that he could see no other Republican candidate for president than Barry Goldwater. He said he had been asked by Goldwater to file a slate of delegates on his behalf, pledged to him, and that he was co-operating.

Rep. Cramer is a candidate for state committee, delegate to the San Francisco convention, as well as U. S. Representative.

Henry Gunn, chairman of the county Republican Committee, and only Republican office holder on the county level here, was master of ceremonies at the Banquet.

M.C. Civil Defense To Conduct 24-Hour In-Shelter Training Test At St. Joseph

The Martin County Civil Defense agency will conduct a 24-hour in-shelter training test exercise May 15 and 16.

The exercise will be conducted in the public shelter area located in the basement of the St. Joseph Academy, Jensen Beach. Some 14 different business firms, hospitals, schools, institutions, state and local government agencies and the public are being invited to participate.

Approximately 150 people will participate in the operation, conducted under the supervision of the St. Joseph Shelter Manager and staff.

The test will include as much realism as possible by simulating probable conditions that would exist in shelters in time of disaster. Members of local press and radio stations are being invited to take part and cover the operation, as well as T. V. stations serving this area.

Entry into the shelter will begin promptly at 2:00 p. m. on Saturday, May 15. The sheltereres will be registered and organized into sections of ten or more. Each section will elect a leader who will represent them to the shelter management staff. Each section will be assigned its own shelter space.

Shelter occupants will be encouraged to participate in group discussions; entertainment committees will be organized, and special entertainment programs will be prepared and presented. An activity schedule will be posted, and all sheltereres will be kept advised as events and conditions develop, by the information and training section.

The test exercise will conclude at 2:00 p. m. Sunday.

Citizens who wish to participate are asked to call the Civil Defense Emergency Operating Center at 287-1652 for additional information and for registration forms.

26 Yachts Stay At Langford Marina

The guest lists in the past week at the Langford Villas and Marina indicate that yachtsmen are stopping here on their trek north, and that Floridians are arriving here for vacations at the Villas.

Of the 30 new arrivals at the Villas last week, 26 were from Florida.

A total of 26 yachts arrived at the Marina for overnight stays or longer. Only seven of that number were Florida based yachts.

City Com. Met Monday

In the Monday night meeting of the Stuart City commission, members of the Indian River Sign Painters Association protested portions of the proposed sign ordinance submitted to the commission by the advisory planning board. A Fort Pierce member protested that the ordinance was not shown to the sign painters before the planning board turned it over to the commission, but a Palm Beach County representative admitted that he had received a copy of the ordinance as soon as it was adopted.

No local sign men registered any protest.

City manager Joe Crowder said he had asked earlier that sign company people submit their complaints in writing, and none had done so.

Action on the matter was deferred for a week to permit the sign painters to get their complaints into writing.

In other business, the commission:

ADOPTED on second reading, Ord. 350, to swap a right-of-way 30 feet for an easement on land owned by Rinker's Materials and Arnold Bauer on the U. S. 1 cut-off road south of the city proper.

HEARD City Attorney T. T. Oughterson report that the county health board had found no menace to health in the rabbit farm owned by Stuart Lund.

VOTED acceptance of a price of 45 cents a square yard submitted by Dickerson, Inc. for topsurface with concrete asphalt of streets in need of maintenance work, and directed Crowder to make first moves to do some of the work under the proposed $155,000 bond issue project.

James Brock, Britt Road, was sent to St. Mary's Hospital for surgery last week, after receiving severe cuts to his right foot when his power lawn mower went out of control when he stopped it to remove an obstacle in its path.

Red Cross Chapter Reaches Goal

The Martin County Chapter of the American Red Cross has received more than the $12,001 goal it set for the annual drive and was the first county chapter on the east coast to reach its quota, according to Mrs. Hugh Willoughby, Jr., chairman of the 1964 drive.

REUNION HOSTS--Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heritage were host and hostess over last week end, at the Port St. Lucie Country Club, to a group of forty-five Masons and Eastern Stars, who are also members of the American Legion Square Post 232 of Chicago. These members now reside in Florida and hold semi-annual get-togethers, this being the eleventh reunion. It was high lighted by a banquet in the club's Terrace Room on Saturday evening. After dinner, the visitors were entertained with the playing of several selections on a musical saw by Vincent Stewart of Stuart, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Stewart. This was followed with songs by Mrs. Robert Crowder, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Roland Woodruff. Group singing was led by Mr. Frank Baker of Fort Pierce.

Fishing News

Snook fishing is excellent in both forks of the St. Lucie, and bridge fishing for them is very good most of the time.

There have been large schools of blues in the surf, mixed with snook, jack and channel bass.

Spanish mackerel continue to be spotty. Tarpon are getting better, mostly up the North Fork. Spotted sea trout are very good in the Indian River and St. Lucie lower estuary.

Good fishing offshore, with Sails excellent.

Boatacade Will Be Launched Here With Big Party

Headquarters for the annual Boat-a-cade of the Okeechobee Waterway Association will be Frances Langford's Outrigger Restaurant, where a Kick-Off Banquet will be held Friday night.

The cocktail hour will be from 6:00 to 7:00 p. m., dinner from 7:00 to 8:30 p. m. There will be live music and dancing from 9:00 p. m. on.

Mr. Dick Campbell has been chosen as Master of Ceremonies, with plans for spot entertainment. Informal dress will be in order, with colorful sports clothes ideal.

Boats of all sizes will start arriving at noon Friday, and all should be in the area by 5:00 p. m.

Committee members, in boats with identification signs, will assign docking space to all boats to various area marinas. The Sheriff's Department boats and Conservation Department boats will patrol to assist with the handling of guest boats, as well as the U. S. Coast Guard.

There will be ample free taxi service from all marinas to the various motels and restaurants. Taxi headquarters will be at the Langford Terrace Marina.

Navigation District Planned For Waterway

THE WINNING CLASS--Ernest Varvill, principal and sixth grade teacher at Jensen Beach Elementary School, proudly accepts the annual PTA membership award from retiring president Mrs. Bob Crowder. The award is made to the classroom having the highest degree of parent participation in PTA meetings. This is the first year the award was made in Jensen Beach.

Petition To State Will Present Plan For New Group

Top Florida waterway, canal and navigation officials will be on hand for a special meeting Friday at 2:00 p.m. in the First National Bank Community room to discuss a proposed navigation district for the area serviced by the Okeechobee Waterway.

Also invited to be present will be top county officials of Martin Palm Beach, Hendry, Glades, and Lee counties, the areas through which the waterway flows.

A petition is planned to be given to the Florida Board of Conservation and the Canal Authority of Florida asking that a "navigation district composed of said five counties, with one member of the district board of directors being appointed from each of said five counties" be formed.

The meeting on Friday is sponsored by the members of the Okeechobee Waterway Association and the Florida Waterways Association.

Explaining objectives of the new group, and answering questions of the people invited to the meeting will be Col Herbert C. Gee, president of FWA, Paul Franklin, president of the OWA, Randolph Hodges, director of the Florida Board of Conservation, Tom Jennings, engineer from the State Road Department, Col. George Kumpe, manager of the West Coast Inland Navigation District and Col. Herman Schull, manager of the Florida Inland Navigation District.

Until Tuesday, the meeting was held to be quietly developing, with only the participants notified. On Tuesday, news releases were sent to the press informing them of the meeting.

Among some of the problems listed by the petition were the improvement of channels, and locks, replacement or modification of many bridges over the waterway to provide "reasonably adequate vertical and horizontal minimum bridge clearances".

The meeting will precede the kickoff of the Okeechobee Waterway boat-a-cade Friday night.

RAINBOW LEADER--Miss Jo Ann Andrews, of Rio, was installed as Worthy Advisor of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls in ceremonies held May 10 in the Masonic Temple in Stuart.

Rand Stand Could Can Island Plan By Bradshaw

The planned development at the southern tip of Hutchinson Island seems to have an uncertain future, depending on the developer's success in obtaining a right of way through the Seminole Shores property of James Rand.

The Martin County Commission heard a report from R. C. Geisinger on Tuesday concerning his attempts to obtain access.

Geisinger, who represents the Bradshaw interests on the end of the island, told the Commission that he had been unable to contact Rand in three trips to Rand's home in the Bahamas. He also stated that the developers have a 90-day lease on the property if a right of way is obtained.

Commissioner H. J. Bruner said that a local representative of the Rand interests reported that a proposal had been made to the Bradshaw interests without answer. According to Geisinger, the proposal was not a reasonable one.

Geisinger asked the county to consider condemning the right of way through Seminole Shores. All commissioners did not agree that it was a county problem, but planned to discuss the situation.

Island A-1-A Funds Are In SRD Budget

Martin County will receive high and unexpected allocations for road construction, according to the tentative budget of the State Road Department revealed at Tuesday's County Commission meeting.

The largest addition to the road budget was almost a million dollars to pave the entire Martin Grade Road, which runs west from Stuart to Okeechobee county.

The long-awaited Pratt & Whitney Road received an increase from $210,000 to $419,000. The State Road Board evidently feels that the Palm Beach County commitment is firm enough to warrant the budget increase.

Other allocations show:

$100,000 for the U. S. 1 bridge across the St. Lucie River.

$40,000 to widen East Ocean Blvd. in Stuart.

$40,000 to repave the east span of the Jensen Beach Bridge.

$750,000 for the Indiantown bridge.

$85,000 to replace the "Hump Back" bridge on Palm City Rd.

$35,000 for St. Lucie Road in Port Salerno, Bridge Road in Hobe Sound and Commercial Street in Jensen Beach.

There was also an allocation of $850,000 for 9.9 miles of A1A in St. Lucie County to open Hutchinson Island to through traffic.

Final approval of the budget is subject to a hearing in Tallahassee. It is for the fiscal year of 1964-65 beginning July 1.

IIF Refuses Bid For Land

Owners of the southern tip of Sewall's Point have received copies of a memo from William R. Kidd, director of the I I F, in behalf of the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund, which indicates a new conservation-minded policy in the sale of bottomlands to upland owners.

The Palm Beach Company, owners of High Point and several islands at the southern tip of Sewall's Point, received a "no" answer to requests that it be permitted to buy 10.33 acres of submerged lands, fill it from surrounding territory in the shallows.

Local conservationists have been discussing the project with the I I F.

Friday's letter was to H. G. Maass, A Palm Beach Attorney for the Palm Beach Company. Kidd told Maass in the letter that the I I F was willing to approve the sale of submerged lands subject to provisions that the dredged fill would come from the right of way of the Intracoastal waterway, and not from the shell fish breeding bottom lands nearby.

Kidd specified that the Palm Beach Company must be willing to modify the bulkhead lines to a more limited margin.

It must be specifically understood that the trustees of the I I F will not now, or later, convey any of the submerged lands on the south end of Sewall's Point." This referred to an area considered a prime spawning ground for the spotted sea trout.

Kidd said his recommendations were based on several considerations, including the "conservation view" regarding the dredging of the area.

Removal of fill from the intracoastal waterway would be much more expensive than sucking it from the breeding bottoms in the immediate vicinity of the fill area, although the right-of-way of the waterway swings comparatively close to the eastern shore of the tip of Sewall's Point.

Sewall's Point Town Manager H.W. Newsome, pointed out that apparent trends in I I F policy lean towards such inovations as automatic reference to ecological surveys, biologists reports, prior to permitting bottom land sales.

It is believed the town council of Sewall's Point is opposed to extending any bulkhead lines, so the possibility of a shrinking line from 150 to 50 feet at the southern tip of the point is bound to be received well there.

There are deed restrictions concerning filling on the St. Lucie River side.

The indications in Kidd's letter are that the 3.42 and 1.40-acre islands at the southern tip of the point will be left as islands in the future, not connected to the mainland.

Ken Foote and Virginia Decker Reign At The Junior-Senior Prom

The rebel flag, magnolias and old South elegance filled the gymnasium of the Martin County High School last Friday night, as the annual Junior-Senior Prom was held in the atmosphere of the South that was.

Young girls in flowing gowns, handsome escorts, and settings of a past era, created the illusion of old grandeur.

King and Queen of the Ball, elected by popular vote of the junior class, were Ken Foote and Virginia Decker.

Following the prom, to continue the mood of the theme, "Gone With the Wind" was run for the students at the Drive-In theatre.

Breakfast at 5:30 Saturday morning at the Elks Lodge completed the traditional all-night event.

Counties Are Receiving Race Track Share

Checks totaling $34,000 have been mailed to each of the 67 counties in Florida as their share of the race track fund, according to State Comptroller Ray Green.

The comptroller said the counties have received a total of $212,000 thus far this year, which is an increase of $19,000 over payments for the same period during the previous fiscal year.

The payments to date also top the total payments of $206,800 received by the counties during 1962-63, which was a record year.

Two more distributions are to be made, Green said. One will be June 5, and the final one will be June 30.

M. C. Mother Of The Year

Mrs. Edwin E. Rollison, jr. of Cabana Point, was named Stuart's Mother of the Year, in a poll taken by radio station WSTU.

Mrs. Rollison is an active leader in Girl Scouting, PTA and church work, and is the mother of five children. Her husband is a tool designer at Pratt & Whitney.

THE NIGHT OF THE PROM--A Junior-Senior Prom calls for an evening to remember, so these students of Martin County High School began their long night of gala celebration with dinner at the Outrigger. The Prom was held "at home" for the first time, in the gymnasium of the new high school.

Lions Defeat Palm City - 5-2

In the first Pony League game of the season last Thursday, the Jensen Lions defeated Palm City 5 to 2.

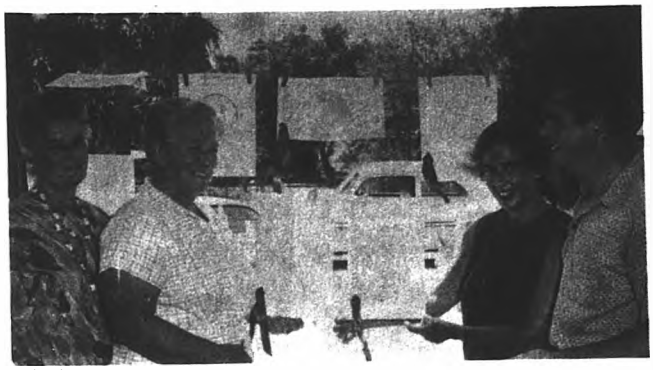
Game time is 7:00 p. m. at Langford Hall Park.



MOTHER'S DAY ART CONTEST--When a child draws a picture of his mother to enter in a contest, the judges might wish to give each one the first prize, but since that can't be done, they chose the portraits drawn by Rhonda Cumpty and Terry Hostetter. Second prize winners were Joyce Fletcher and Bruce Fletcher. The contest was sponsored by the Swinging Door Gift Shop, where entries were displayed last Saturday in a clothesline exhibit in front of the gift shop, and where the judges had to decide. Pictured above, left to right, are Mrs. Setterfield, owner of the Swinging Door, with judges Laura Atmar and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hutchinson. Mrs. Setterfield expressed her appreciation to all the children who submitted their art work, and to the judges, for making the contest a success. The fourth judge for the contest was Dick Campbell.

Miller Removed From Burns Committee

Members of the Burns for Governor committee voted unanimously to remove Ed Miller from the committee. Miller was notified in a letter delivered by Robert F. McRoberts, secretary-treasurer of the committee. Miller refused to accept the letter, but McRoberts left it with him, anyway.

The letter was signed by McRoberts, Roscoe H. Rollins, chairman, and C. W. Leighton, vice-chairman, of the committee.

Copies were sent to Haydon Burns, members of his state headquarters, and to the press.

Its text follows:

Stuart, Florida
May 8, 1964

Mr. Edward Miller
South Federal Highway
Stuart, Florida

Dear Mr. Miller:

This is to advise you that you have been removed from the Martin County Committee For Haydon Burns by unanimous vote of the fourteen members of the Committee. This action was taken at a meeting of the Committee held on Thursday evening, May 7. Ten members were present, two submitted written proxies, and the remaining two voted by telephone.

On Wednesday, May 6, pursuant to the wishes of the majority of the Committee and numerous supporters of Mayor Burns' candidacy for Governor, you were asked to resign from the Committee. Since you did not choose to resign, the Committee has chosen to remove you. The Committee wished to emphasize that this action is not to be interpreted as a vote by the Committee or any individual member of the Committee against you or any principal that you stand for. It is, however, the opinion of the Committee that the controversial role that you are playing in local politics has and will continue to have an adverse effect on the candidacy of Haydon Burns. Since it is the function of the Committee to garner the most possible votes for Haydon Burns, your removal has been dictated.

Very Truly yours,
MARTIN COUNTY COMMITTEE FOR HAYDON BURNS

I Thank You, The Voters,

For Expressing Your Confidence In Me .

I Want You To Know I Respect It

And Will Continue To Conduct My Office To Warrant It.

INSURANCE TIPS

By RICK CARROLL

Q. I recently purchased an inboard boat and noticed that on the policy was stamped "Machinery Exclusion Clause Applicable". What does this mean?

A. Most yacht policies will carry this clause on certain classes of boats. It can best be understood if you consider your machinery (including props and rudders) as covered only for fire perils. In other words, you have no coverage for running aground or stranding as far as the machinery is concerned.

Q. Can the Machinery Exclusion Clause be eliminated?

A. Usually the company will eliminate the exclusion by an increase in rates. Many companies do not use the exclusion at all and it may be to your advantage to have the agent check with other companies.

nlet Aid Is lsked Here

pport for the St. Lucie Inlet ject has been asked of U. S. nators Spessard Holland, George thers and U. S. Rep. Paul G. ver, by William G. Simpkin, sident of the Stuart Sailfish a letter protesting the proposal inlet improvement by the U. S. ps of Engineers, particularly to cost and methods, Simpkin ote. "We need help, urgently, d from all of you."

He said that all local interests re shocked at the $3,300,000 t, of which Martin County uld pay 75 per cent, and the uirement that the county put advance payment of $800,000 fifty years of maintenance.

We believe there is ample idence for Federal support of inlet for strictly Federal ject. Our original presentation years ago showed annual ine losses of $1,500,000. This luded damages to craft, losses commercial and charter fish- boat building, U. S. Wild- loss estimates, coastwise ping and marine safety."

mpkin listed six legitimate deral concerns with the inlet:

A dozen lives lost in four rs, and countless broachings swampings.

Stuart is the eastern termi- of the Okeechobee Waterway, the inlet cannot be used by mmercial and pleasure craft.

The combination of our s-state waterway and an equate inlet offers military transportation advantages national value and concern.

The Federal flood control drainage operations by the S. Engineers have quadrupled run-off intended for this uary and inlet, resulting in ajor siltation and merits remedy.

There is a minimum obli- tion to maintain channel depth eight feet, yet no maintenance ork has been done in years. It three feet and less in many laces.

The arbitrary closing of eck's Lake, for which $300,000 as quickly found, and no hear- held, deprives us of the deep, fe and protected inlet we need. closing has worsened our inlet thout improving beach erosion.

The same amount of money ent to help us might well have stabilized Peck's Lake.

"We are for control of beach osion, of coume," Simpkin ntinued, "but we are vitally concerned with a safe inlet. We annot escape the belief that ere are two jobs here, and that inlet part is a legitimate d urgent Federal concern."

He referred to the $300 millions for the north-state barge canal, the $15 millions a year for Flood Control District, and millions for other harbor, channel and navigation projects; reservoirs and lakes, levees and other activities throughout the country.

New Testing Plant For Evinrude Boats and Motors Is Announced

Ralph Evinrude, chairman of the board of Outboard Marine Corporation of Waukegan, Illinois, announced on Tuesday that O. M. C. will build a research and development testing station for outboard motors and boats on waterfront property in North Stuart. The Corporation filed warranty deeds last Friday for the purchase of 650 feet of frontage near Roosevelt Bridge for $80,000.

Evinrude said the Outboard Marine Corp. plans general improvements on the site costing close to $100,000, and designing the area for outboard motors and boats. Construction is planned to begin in thirty days.

He declined to estimate the number of employees or the size payroll the facility would have, but there will be mostly test engineers and mechanics.

O. M. C. engineers will arrive in June to make plans for the project, which should be ready for operation by early fall.

Evinrude gave credit to the Martin County Committee of 100 for starting the idea, and that the local site was chosen because of the wealth of waterways in the area suitable to testing operations.

This will be the second facility in Florida for O. M. C., the other located in Naples.

HI, UP THERE--Relaxed and unconcerned, these bridge builders stand out against the horizon, welding the walkway plates to the new Roosevelt drawspan. Tense, nervous, and frightened to death, the fearless Mirror photographer crawled up the draw to snap this "men against the skyline" photograph, and then had to figure out how to get down.

Liberty Amendment Will Be Aired Friday Night

Alfred H. Nelson

The controversial Liberty Amendment, designed to "take government out of commercial business, repeal the income tax, and guarantee the protection of the United States against a future world state, all to take place within three years of the passage of the amendment, will be presented and explained to the people of Martin County Friday night at 8:00 p. m. at the First National Bank of Stuart Community Room.

Sponsored by the Halpatiokee Chapter of the D. A. R., the program will feature a film entitled "Freedom is the Issue Today", a documentary sound movie, and a speech by Alfred H. Nelson, President of the Liberty Amendment Committee of Florida.

Six states have thus far adopted the Liberty Amendment. They are Wyoming, Texas, Nevada, Louisiana, Georgia and South Carolina. The amendment failed to pass the Florida Senate in the last legislature, having passed the house of representatives.

The text of the Liberty Amendment, formerly referred to as the "Proposed 23rd Amendment" pending in Congress as H. J. Res. 23, follows:

Section 1. The Government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial, financial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution.

Section 2. The Constitution or laws of any State, or the laws of the United States shall not be subject to the terms of any foreign or domestic agreement which would abrogate this Amendment.

Section 3. The activities of the United States Government which violate the intent and purposes of this Amendment shall, within a period of three years from the date of the ratification of this Amendment, be liquidated and the properties and facilities affected shall be sold.

Section 4. Three years after the ratification of this Amendment the Sixteenth Article of Amendments to the Constitution of the United States shall stand repealed and thereafter Congress shall not levy taxes on personal incomes, estates, and or gifts.

Polls Open Tuesday For Runoff Candidates

When voters go to the polls for the second time this month on Tuesday, May 26, the voting in the race for county judge between Mallory Johnson and Dean Tooker will match the interest expected in the gubernatorial race.

Two other local contests which should help get out the vote, are for Constable in District 4 between David Gale and Frank Snipes, and for Justice of the Peace in District 2 between Harvey Piley and John Wethington.

Haydon Burns and Robert King High will battle for the Democratic nomination for Governor and the chance to face Republican Charles R. Holley next November.

Martin County Republicans are pushing efforts to get out the vote because of the fight between two wings of the state party, each seeking election of a delegation to the national convention.

Heading the "no preference" group is William D. Pawley, as organizing chairman. U. S. Rep. William C. Cramer heads the group pledged to Barry Goldwater.

Cramer and Albert Roberts, on the Goldwater ticket, seek election as national Republican Committeemen. Contesting for the committeewoman's job are Mrs. Helen Morris and Mrs. Frances Salmon.

The Democratic convention slate pledge to President Johnson is headed by Warren M. Goodrich, organizing chairman.

Fourteen candidates seek the one Democratic national committeeman spot. Four will contest for the committeewoman.

Needs Sponsors

A call for sponsors for the 1964 Jensen Soap Box Racers has been made by Al Palmer, chairman of the derby, which is part of the July 4th Chamber activities. Cost of the official soap box racer kit is $20, which includes approved wheels and axels, and directions for making the car.

Thus far, there are four sponsors for the racers. They include Rick Carroll insurance, The Mirror, Palmer Variety and Frank Forsberg, builder.

WE DON'T LIKE IT--County Commission chairman Frank Wacha is pictured above telling the members of the Florida Waterways Association and Okeechobee Waterways Association that he could not see selling the people of this county on a special navigation district to build a bridge in another county. Lack of interest by four of the five county commissioners spelled doom for the navigation district proposal. The meeting was held at the kickoff of the Okeechobee Waterway boat-a-cade last Friday.

Twelve Year Old Ricky Doherty Runs 60 Yard Dash In Record Time

Ricky Doherty, a twelve-year-old fifth grader, who recently moved to Legion Heights from Fort Pierce, may be a budding future Olympic track star.

During a Physical Fitness Field Day held at his former school in Fort Pierce last month, Ricky entered the 60-yard dash, which he ran in five and nine-tenths seconds.

Directors of the event called his feat "astounding" due to the fact that the national standard set by the A. A. U. for twelve-year-olds is nine seconds.

Ricky's mother, Mrs. Edward Bissell, was urged to enter him in Florida summer A. A. U. meets in his age group.

READY TO RUN--Speedster Ricky Doherty, ready to run, grimaces in determination.

A BLUR--Moving so fast that only his shadow is stopped by the 500th of a second camera shutter, Ricky shows his winning form in racing.

The Summer Mixed League met last Thursday and elected the following officers:

President Rick Carroll; Vice-President Roger N well; Secretary, Genevieve Kling; Treasurer Virginia Yankovich.

Fishing News

Snook fishing is reaching its usual early summer fabulous heights all over the St. Lucie Estuary, but you have to give up some sack time, to get them in the early morning or late evening.

There are some jacks in the river, and a few blues.

Sea trout continue active in the Indian River, but lunker reports have slacked off.

Offshore fishing is great, with plenty of sails, some dolphin and king, and plenty of barracuda.

Guests aboard will be Mrs. Evinrude's mother, Mrs. Anne Langford, and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Merrell.

WE BELIEVE...

That If You Will Give It Sober Thought, You Will Agree With Us That ROBERT KING HIGH Is BEST For MARTIN COUNTY

Robert King High is a representative of the PEOPLE, seeking the office of governor of our state... he is not a representative of a monied political crowd.

Robert King High does not have to hide behind a fairy tale in the administration of the city of which he is mayor...it has been a sound, sane, economical administration, and he has not been a ceremonial mayor as his opponents would have you think.

Robert King High has been a friend to education...his county is not in danger of losing accreditation because of refusal to permit sufficient local money to go towards school support...which is the case in Duval County.

Robert King High will be a governor whose life is irrevocably tied to our life in South Florida...and while Martin County is a small county, it is a South Florida county, in the sphere of interest that is South Florida.

Robert King High has a sound program for conservation which so fits the Martin County situation, it might have been written here.

M.C. Goldwater Committee Formed

H. G. Patterson of Sewall's Point has been named county chairman for the Republican pledged state of delegates for Goldwater. This slate has been designated by Goldwater to represent Florida at the Republican convention in July, with U.S. Representative William D. Cramer as organizing chairman.

J. W. Hussey of Port Sewall is the Martin County chairman for Cramer for Republican National Committeeman.

Mrs. Hussey will be co-ordinator of the Goldwater and Cramer committees of Martin County.

Mrs. Hussey said an effort will be made to get out a larger Republican second primary vote, as many registered Republicans believe that only Democrats may vote in Florida primaries. A heavier Republican vote should result from the fact that the May 26 ballot will contain delegates to the party's national convention.

"The May 26 vote may be the most important decision Republicans in Florida have ever been called upon to make," Mrs. Hussey stated.

R.H. Crowder, of Letitia Ave., left by plane on Tuesday morning for Groton, Connecticut to attend a Bureau of Naval Weapons Seminar on Military and Industrial Security.

He will return at the end of the week.

Dairy Council Plans A Active County Program

The Dairy Council of South Florida will be active in Martin, St. Lucie and Indian River counties year round from now on, in a broadening of their activities to include the area.

As part of the program, the council will supply posters, booklets, slides and, upon occasion, speakers dealing with the council's nutritional education goals. Mrs. Audrey Sullivan, dietician with the council, was in the three counties recently conferring with school and other officials.

"Milk is one of the prime sources of calcium", Mrs. Sullivan pointed out. "Not only is milk good for the teeth, but for your health generally. And when you compare its costs and availability with other foods, you know you have a bargain."

She added that she and Mrs. Joanne Jack, executive director of the council, hope various groups will "avail themselves of our services. I want to point out that literature we have also can be obtained without charge by homemakers, and we hope they will write to our Miami office to get it."

The address is 2175 S. W. First Street, Miami. The Dairy Council originally was established in Dade, Broward and Monroe counties 13 years ago, and now includes 10 southeastern counties. It is a voluntary organization of producers and distributors of fluid milk.

PREPAREDNESS--Jensen Beach Elementary School faculty is Civil Defense minded. Principal Ernest Varvil, left, reports that over 50 per cent of the teachers in Jensen School have had formal Civil Defense training. Mr. Varvil completed his training in September, 1963. With him, above, are Miss Joyce Moton and Mrs. Billy Cruse, 1st and 2nd grade teachers, receiving their course completion certificates for six weeks training in shelter management from Al Keaton, director of Martin County Civil Defense. Miss Moton and Mrs. Cruse are now members of the St. Joseph's Academy shelter staff, and spent twenty-four hours in the shelter last week-end with about seventy others, to put into actual practice what they had learned.

sland Water Pact Is igned Here Friday

he contract for installation of ater system to Hutchinson nd was signed last Friday by land Merrell, as trustee for 61 nd property owners, and Harry Davison, Jr. of Miami, vice- sident and attorney for South- Gulf Utilities.

avison said the contract will an water on the island by the of this year.

he contract calls for the instal- ion of six miles of eight-inch ansmission line from the north ity line to the gates of the nd property. Another 3,000 t of main will be installed n junction on Sewall's Point the island. Estimated cost of project is $327, 500.

ccording to Davison, the pro- t is "unique", and of all the tallations in Florida by South- Gulf, nothing compares to project.

s of 10:00 a. m. last Friday, ds to carry out the owner's of the plan totaled $151, 100. ty-one property owners gave percent of the 1963 evaluation their land to raise the money. m now on, additional water ers must pay nine per cent the 1963 evaluation.

ater for Sewall's Point is ex- cted in several months, where 000 feet of transmission mains l be laid from the north town ts to the Bessemer Properties velopment at the southern tip the point.

he Hutchinson Island line is ng sought for Sailfish Point, south of Rand's Seminole Shores, to permit a $20 million develop- ment there. The Bradshaw inter- ests have contributed $10,000 toward the owners' fund to guar- antee entry into the pact should right-of-way problems across the Rand property be solved.

Included in the project will be a million gallon water storage tank, at a location not yet deter- mined. Southern Gulf Utilities would be interested in developing sewage facilities on the island but Davison said that one central plant would be too expensive and not of the best method to serve the needs of the island.

Church Plans For Sanctuary Are Out To Bidders

Burns Is Victorious Over High

Johnson Wins Judge Seat ; Piley Wins As Voters Show Low Tabulation

Haydon Burns won a slim 59 vote lead over Robert King High from Martin County Democrats in the second primary Tuesday. There remained the possibility, however unlikely, that 107 ab- sentee ballots could upset the race in this county if nowhere else.

Democratic voters gave Burns 2443 votes to High's 2384. Burns carried nine of Martin County's fifteen precincts, with High taking the others.

In the two all-negro precincts High came close to winning a total rally.

Mallory Johnson beat Dean Tooker for County Judge with a tally of 3045 votes to Tooker's 2156.

$2 Merchandise If Your Name Is In Classified

Two dollars in merchandise will be awarded to three Jensen-Rio residents each week as part of a new "get acquainted" offer by Palmer's Variety in South Jensen. In cooperation with the Mirror, Albert Palmer announced the program, which will see three names each week placed in the classified pages of the Mirror. Persons finding their name in the classified can choose from the well stocked shelves of Palmer's Variety Store, on Highway 707 at the intersection of A1A.

The "get acquainted" adver- tising campaign will continue for an indefinite period, accord- ing to Palmer. Winners of the $2.00 in merchandise at Palmer's must select their prize before noon on the Wednesday following publication of the Mirror.

Harvey Piley won nomination over election over John A. Weth- ington for Justice of the Peace in district 2, 2004 to 1614. David Gale beat Frank Snipes, 277 to 184, in the constable's race in Indiantown's district 4.

Nancy Evans topped the candi- dates for Democratic national committeewoman with 683 votes here, over 453 for Annette Baker.

Senator Barry Goldwater turned out to be the Republican candi- date most voters wanted here. The slate headed by U. S. Rep. William C. Cramer topped the unpledged slate headed by Wil- liam Pawley, 235 to 157.

Rep. Cramer topped Albert Roberts for Republican national committeeman here, 279 to 119. Helene Morris beat Frances C. Salmon, 209 to 151 for Republi- can national committeewoman.

The total turnout of voters, Democratic and Republican, was 54 per cent, lower than usual in local second primaries, and well off from the usual sound Martin County vote.

Of the winners here, in either the first or second primaries, there are several runoffs in Nov- ember.

Senator Irlo Bronson faces James Watson, Sr. for the 33rd senator- ial seat.

Incumbent Jack Saunderson, commissioner in district 3, faces a Republican political unknown, Walter C. Owens of Hobe Sound.

Museum Treasures

THE SPANISH TREASURE FLEETS

There is much wealth beneath the waters off the Florida Coast, both in archeological artifacts and in Spanish Treasure. The State of Florida, which recently announced its salvage rights to all treasure, will instigate intensive investigation of some of the known wrecks. During the run of the Spanish armadas, from the Caribbean to Spain (1500-1820) it is estimated that over $8,000 million dollars in treasure crossed the Atlantic. About 5% of this treasure was lost and an estimated 2% ($150 million) has never been salvaged.

The House of Refuge Museum lies about equidistant from two well known wrecks: Near the present site of Palm Beach, a hurricane in November, 1554 forced three "naos" of the New Spain armada to wreck against the coast. These ships were of the freighter and transport variety which carried only a few guns and gunners to serve them. In the armada convoy system, the "Naos" were escorted by two or four of the heavily armed galleons.

Nearly all the crewmen were drowned in the tragic Palm Beach wreck, and subsequent salvage operations have covered most of the gold and silver. The remains of the wrecks have now become so overgrown with coral that it could be very costly to salvage the ships for what they are worth. The ships were originally commanded by Angel de Valtatane and Garcia de Escalante.

North of us, off the coast of Vero Beach, lies an interesting Spanish frigate which wrecked in a storm in 1738. There was no treasure on this heavily armed vessel, except the usual money and dining service. Salvage operations have recovered 22 cannons which are dated 1732, as well as canister and grape shot, muskets and hand grenades.

The House of Refuge Museum has on display a collection of materials from other early Spanish wrecks. In the descriptive matter, there is included several pictures of modern day salvage practices. These are found in the main building of the Museum complex.

Both the House of Refuge and the Elliott Museum are open Tuesdays through Fridays from 1:00 to 5:00 p. m., and weekends from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. Closed all day Monday. The House of Refuge is free, the Elliott Museum has a small admission charge.

July 4th Stuart Parade Looks Like Best Ever

Twenty-two persons turned out for the first planning meeting for the annual 4th of July Parade sponsored by Stuart Chamber of Commerce. Plans for an all county event were evident as Port Salerno entered a community section with at least five units. Hobe Sound Boy Scouts were first to sign up and their Chamber of Commerce will back them up with other entries. A wish was expressed from those present to work all of the day's events in the area into one program to obtain maximum publicity and participation.

Something entirely new for the day's activity was volunteered by Mrs. Anita Derek, Mrs. Kathy Foster and others not present, in a patriotic pageant featuring principally children of the community. Quick bright skits and numbers were outlined. The time and place will be worked into the schedule when studied by the committee.

Keen interest was shown in the city's 50th Anniversary observance and original ideas came in thick and fast for emphasizing this observance of the 4th of July.

Mayor Ray Cooke is over-all chairman for the celebration William R. Scott, parade chairman and Jack Hartman, chairman for the 50th Anniversary program.

Present at Wednesday night's meeting were: John Rains, Martin County Civil Defense; Robert O'Hara, Sea Explorer Ship 405; Mrs. Ivy Murton and Mrs. Barbara Lindsey, National Secretaries Association, Charles Eitzen, Harold Johns Post 62 American Legion, Mrs. Eitzen, Anna Miller Circle, B. P. O. Elks, Col. A. H. Davisson, World War I Barracks and Veterans Council; Jack Lucas, American Legion Post 126 and Mrs. Lucas, Mrs. Anita Derek; Mrs. Kathy Foster, W. J. Bauman, U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary; W. F. Murfin, Hobe Sound Chamber of Commerce; Bill Newsome, town manager, Sewall's Point; Vern O. Colvin, Jr., Port Salerno Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Marvin Rowell, U. D. C., Mayor Cooke, City of Stuart; W. R. Scott, Ronny Nelson, Mrs. Rosaleen Murray, Stuart Chamber of Commerce.

John Hughes of the National Guard 1046th Transportation Co. Fort Pierce, telephoned in a parade entry of a Color Guard and 20 vehicles. Navy and Marine units also are expected.

Participants will be notified of another planning meeting early in June. Organizations or firms may enter the parade by telephoning the Chamber of Commerce office.

Holley Was Here, I Think an editorial feature

by Dick Campbell

I think Charles Holley was in Martin County on Monday and Tuesday. I think he was here to meet the press and talk to them. I think he was here for about an hour.

Local rumor has it that a press conference was called to be at the St. Lucie Hotel in the parlor, and it is said that it will be Republican headquarters on the November general election.

Word has it that Holley, who has a much better state public relation committee than he has in Martin County, predicted a Republican win in November, said that erosion was not a federal problem, favored improving navigation in the St. Lucie Inlet, promised establishment of a Department of Natural Resources, was opposed to the F. C. D., pledged no increase in taxes.

"I'll be back here," he promised. Perhaps at that time a Mirror representative will be asked to attend whatever meetings are held so that the Mirror can tell local Republicans who Charles Holley is. We would love to meet him.

Stuart Will Enter District Legion Baseball League

American Legion commander of Harold Johns Post John L. Taylor said Tuesday that Stuart would again have a team in the 12th District Legion Baseball league.

According to Donald Kilpatrick, post athletic director, the first game will be played at Sailfish Park Sunday, with Fort Pierce and Stuart playing a double header starting at 1:00 p. m.

Martin County High School's baseball coach Cliff Rollins will coach the Stuart Club.

Teams from Fort Pierce, Vero Beach, Melbourne, and Satellite Beach, as well as Stuart, will be fielded by the 12th District.

Boys between the ages of 15 and 18, with control date of Sept. 1, 1964, determining eligibility to play, may work for positions on the teams.

Practice at Sailfish Park is at 5:30 p. m.

Shipes And Hawser Win Legion Awards

Jensen Beach Elementary School culminated Friday, May 29, with the presentation of awards to students for their efforts in the 1963-64 school term. F. C. Graham, representing Jensen Beach American Legion Post, presented awards to Skippy Shipes and Kathleen Hawser, both six graders, for the scholarship, leadership, citizenship, and academic achievement for the year 1963-64.

Certificates and silver dollars, presented by Ernest Varvil, JBE Principal, were awarded to 15 students. Twenty-seven students received awards for maintaining a "B+" average (with no C's) at the program Friday.

Asphalt Plant Is IW Okayed

Walter Crowell, vice-president of Dickerson, Inc., and the company's chief operating officer in Florida, Tuesday documented his earlier claims that the firm's new batching plant on the St. Lucie Canal was modern, clean, and would produce no pollution of the air, water or would it cause any undue noise.

At a conference held in the court house, Crowell showed a three man committee from the Martin County Chapter of the Izaak Walton League, County Engineer Fred L. Bell and the press, correspondence dating back to last September with the State Board of Health in connection with testing for new state controls with mix plants around the state, and others dated last Tuesday, (26), the same day that questions regarding the plant were raised in a county commission meeting by Charles Kindred, who is president of the Walton league chapter.

Crowell said his firms' reputation had been damaged by Kindred's questions and subsequent unfavorable publicity in a couple of papers.

"We're ready now to say that as far as we're concerned, Dickerson is not trying to pull anything, we're satisfied with what Dickerson is doing, and with these plans," Kindred said, referring to a set of plans worked out by the State Board of Health and Dickerson to provide a double method of cleaning the big batcher.

Grand Jury Courthouse Planning

Martin County's Grand Jury Monday called the present court house and county jail "vastly inadequate for the present and the future," and recommended that a feasibility survey, including a 20 year projection for the court-house and jail, be made.

In connection with the "alleged burning of the Bessie Creek bridge," the same grand jury found insufficient evidence to justify "indicting anyone of any particular offense at this particular time."

And in the only criminal matter to gain its action, the group returned no true bill against James Lee Chaney, Port Salerno, who had been charged with rape by a Port Salerno woman.

PRESENTING THE TALENTS OF PRE-SCHOOLERS AND NURSERY CHILDREN—Mrs. G. W. Shipes Jr. presented the seventh annual program made up of pre-school age children Sunday, May 28. Response to the presentation was monumental, with adults and chilren alike enjoying, and entertained, by the program.

Kindergarten Presents Annual Play

Mrs. G. W. Shipes Jr. presented the seventh annual Kindergarten and Nursery School Springtime Program last Sunday, May 28, assisted by a cast of five pre-schoolers, and 13 nursery school children.

Opening with The Lord's Prayer and allegiance to the flag voiced by the audience, the children then took over with "God Bless America" followed by Jay Pitchford's presentation of "Hello Mommie, Hello Daddy."

Tami Be[illegible]mer, Bo Means, and Cheri Higbee combined their efforts to sing a "Vegetable Soup Song"; Lisa Richardson, "Donkey Song"; Kim Welker, Goldilocks Poem; Donnie Glass, "Tractor Song"; Tommy Walker, Brenda Grossnickle, Laurie Hall, Michael Totten, Timmy Dargis, Jack St. Clair, Danny Carlock, and Floyd Carlock presented "The Wheels on the Bus."

"The Yak-Yak Bird," done by [illegible] and Colleen Hinsley, was [illegible] received by the audience.

WHO'S FRIEND OF SONG?—Why, "The Vegetable Soup Song" by Tami Biemer, Bo Means and Cheri Higbee presented at the seventh annual Kindergarten and Nursery School Springtime Program conducted by Mrs. G. W. Shipes Jr. Bo got his "carrot" on backwards and of course the girls had to help to get things right.

Counties Receive $8,000 In Taxes

State Comptroller Ray E. Green said Monday that track tax fund checks for $8,000 are being mailed to each of the 67 counties.

Green said each county has received $220,000 from the fund during the current fiscal period, which is an increase of $21,000 over the same period last fiscal year. One more check will be mailed to the counties before the new fiscal year begins.

The payments will set a new record. The highest received by each county since the tax was passed was $206,800, which was paid in fiscal 1962-63.

100 View Memorial Day Cemetery Services

Approximately 100 people attending the afternoon Memorial Day services at All Saints Cemetery in Jensen Beach last Saturday as representatives of all veterans organizations staged graveside memorial services for America's war dead.

Less than 50 persons, most of them relatives of those conducting the services, turned out for the ceremonies held in Stuart.

Father Norman Feaster of All Saints Episcopal Church gave the invocation at Jensen Beach, following the posting of colors on either side of the memorial scene at the entrance to the cemetery.

Commander Clifton Bounds of the Jensen Legion post welcomed the visitors and Reverend Newton Tweedy, pastor of the Jensen Community Church, addressed the throng on the meaning of Memorial Day.

Bounds read the roll of deceased veterans of Jensen Beach. They included:

Thomas J. DeSteuben Sr., Thomas J. DeSteuben Jr., Joseph E. Smith, Joseph A. Auwart, Elmer L. Ricou, Mrs. John Hilton, Cleveland A. Marshall, H. E. Jones, John T. Gideon, Oliver Cope, George Hendrickson, Mabel Nelcorkey, Forrest K. Ferguson, Maurice Langberg, Ernest Ricou.

T. J. F. Kennedy, Dr. H. Hipson, Edwin Dixon, Amy Robertson, Helen Ness, Lloyd Mills, Lester Keith, Fred Gladwish, Otto Kubin, E. J. Price, John Deigendorf, William J. Frazier, Warner B. Tilton Jr., William Robbins, Sidney Mead, David Blues, Clifford Webber, Edward Earle, Fred Fleury, Frank Rausch, Robert Escott, and Joseph Perlberger.

Following a 30 second silence, the firing squad fired three rounds, followed by taps played by Tom Redinger.

The simple ceremony was befitting the day, a tribute to the veterans who have answered the muster of the final authority.

Rio Civic Club will have a business meeting and covered dish supper June 4 at 6 p. m. Members are asked to bring their own table set.

Larry Horton To Head Pioneer Occupational Center

Larry Horton, general manager and vice-president of General RF Fittings Company, a Port Salerno electronics parts firm, was elected president of the newly organized Pioneer Occupational Center for the Handicapped.

His secretary, Mrs. Annette Kowalski, was elected secretary; Walter Kuck, a retired Detroit attorney, was elected first vice-president; and Robert Krause, local electrical contractor, was elected second vice-president.

Stuart Youth Center director Jim McMahon was named treasurer and Mrs. C. R. Vanderveer, president of the Stuart Woman's Club, was elected corresponding secretary.

Ray Radke, director of the center, which uses the old Port Salerno school, and Robert Batterman, president of the Martin County Association for Retarded Children, which sponsored the center, told of the progress made in the first year at the election meeting.

Atty. Mallory L. Johnson is setting up the organization as a non-profit corporation.

Batterman explained that the center is an outgrowth of the sponsoring association, but will be a separate corporation when established.

Batterman also said that the Florida Council for the Blind has approved the center and has assigned five blind persons to be taught a trade.

Acceptance by the State Division of Rehabilitation is expected after a full year of operation.

Radke, who came here from Detroit, asked for co-operation and was assured it from a group of other people in addition to those elected to official position.

They included John U. Mennanger, Don Bowden, Levi M. Johnson, Irvin Kanarek, Ross Philbrick, Mrs. Ralph W. Hartman Sr., Dr. Neil Miller, Miss Marion Tsonischeck, Phil Sameck and Ed Miller.

Low Bid $92,139

Netto Is Low Bidder On Church Sanctuary

Netto Construction of Fort Pierce was low bidder, and was awarded the contract to build the Jensen Beach Community Church last Monday night at a special meeting of the official board of the church. The low bid for the sanctuary, covered walkways and sidewalks was $92,139.

The bids were opened in the presence of all bidders and the members of the building committee by James M. Hartley, A. I. A., of Hollywood, architect for the new building. The award culminated four years of planning by the members of the Community Church.

Leonard Smith, chairman of the building committee, praised the bidding contractors, for the bids ringed closely around the $100,000 mark. It had been estimated that construction of the final phase of the new church plant would cost about $100,000.

Bidders in order of the opening were: Ray Lein Construction, $104,298; Misik and Lester Construction, $97,877; John Gosset, $103,852; Howard Cook, $101,972 and George Apostolopoulos, $109,549.

Members of the building committee were Smith, Ransom Tilton, Chris Kalb and Dick Campbell.

Phil Baker Will Head July 4th Festivities

Philip M. Baker was named coordinating chairman of the July 4th celebration in Jensen Beach Monday night by Jensen Chamber president Dick Campbell. The appointment was made at the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce.

Events to fall under the coordinating plan will be pram racing, soap box derby, community picnic, fireworks and social events. Baker will also be available to countywide groups seeking activity coordination for the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce.

In the discussion of the Independence Day events, committee chairmen of the various areas of the celebration reported progress in planning. Bill Yurillo, chairman of the fireworks section, and head of the community fireworks committee, reported that the committee would need $220. He also asked that the Chamber of Commerce donate $50 to the fund. The donation was made in a unanimous vote of the board.

Albert Palmer, head of the soap box race, reported that eight racers were sponsored by local merchants. In addition, one racer in the "modified class" (built locally without specifications for previous races) had been entered. Other racers are expected as the youngsters enter them upon their completion of rejuvenation from a year in "mothballs". Palmer said. The course will be changed from last year to permit more parking facilities, and is planned for the top of Sandra Drive at Skyline Drive. Palmer said the soap box race is open to all youngsters from 13 to 15 years in the Martin County-St. Lucie County area.

A pram race is expected for the 4th of July by members of the Martin County High School sailing classes, presently using the prams in their recreation program for the summer.

A community picnic will be held, using the newly installed barbeque pit at the county pavilion. The Jensen Beach Volunteer Firemen are expected to put on the barbeque.

In other business of the Chamber meeting, Bob Weisenberger, the owner of Poor Bob's Restaurant, was named the head of the merchant's committee of the Jensen Chamber.

Hamfest Picnic Planned Sunday

The Martin County Amateur Radio Club is holding a "Hamfest" picnic, and "ham" radio operators from all over Florida have been invited to attend. The picnic event will be at the Jensen Causeway Sunday and will start at 10:00 a.m.

The local club hopes this will become an annual event.

John Siegel Quits GD Job

John Siegel, general manager of the east coast properties of General Development Corp., resigned last week "for personal reasons." William Les Sarde newly named sales manager of Port St. Lucie, has been named to temporarily replace Siegel.

Siegel is mayor of Port St. Lucie and is chairman of the Area Development Council of St. Lucie County.

Test Piling Is Driven For Bridge

Four test reinforced concrete piles have been driven in the Indian Riversite of the new Jensen Beach high level causeway bridge, and two more were to go in the construction in the next few days.

Scott Construction Co., Thomasville, Ga., which has the contract to build the $766,000 bridge has started pre-construction test work.

The four test piles driven were each 70 feet long and were driven to the "refusal" point on 200-test, according to County Commission Chairman Frank Wacha.

The refusal point left 20 feet of the piling above water, ten feet in water, and 40 feet in the bottom of the river.

All four piles went to about the same depth, a contractor's representative said on the job.

Scott Construction has 360 days to build the 932 foot structure which will replace the old wooden bridge.

In other county bridge work, contractors were nearing completion of the four-laning US 1 bridge over the St. Lucie River, starting initial construction, and clearing of the high level bridge over the St. Lucie Canal at Indiantown.

Cleary Bros., West Palm Beach, has 240 days for the Indiantown bridge. R. H. Wright Co. of Fort Lauderdale has the US 1 bridge.

County Lease Five Years On Langford-Hall Park

New life and activity, as well as improvement of Langford Hall Park in Jensen Beach, were on the way this week as the Martin County Commission agreed to lease the park for five years at one dollar a year, with a five year option. The county immediately went to work to put the park in a condition to serve the people of Martin County.

Frank Wacha, commission chairman, reported to the Mirror that repairs are under way to make the park both safe and functional. He said that the grandstand, partially destroyed over a year ago by fire, would be rebuilt for the protection of spectators, and that a new screen and dugouts for little league, pony league and slow pitch teams would be installed. The different size diamonds to accomodate 60' infield and 75' infield surfaces for little and pony league players will necessitate the resurfacing of the infield of the park's diamond.

Wacha added that the grass infield installed by the park association would be kept up, and that a two inch pump to water the field, and a small pump house which will also be used for storage, will be built. The fire of a year ago destroyed the park storage area.

Final July 4th Plans To Be Made

A planning meeting for the 4th of July observance in Stuart will be held next Wednesday, June 17 7:30 p.m. at the newly air conditioned Chamber of Commerce building on West Ocean Blvd. according to Ray Cooke, general chairman.

All local organizations are asked to be represented and those who have not entered the parade are urged to do so at the time. Attractive trophies for five categories are now being engraved and will be on display next week by the firms contributing them. Awards will go to the most beautiful, best patriotic, most original, best on 50th Anniversary theme and best entered by a youth organization.

A final schedule of a full day's events will also be approved

RETIREES FROM BRITAIN--Mr. and Mrs. John Addy of Sheffield, England, are in Jensen Beach to make their home with their son and daughter-in-law, Jack and Dorothy Addy, on Ridge Road. Jack and son, Trevor, drove to New York to meet Mr. and Mrs. Addy as they arrived June 2 aboard the Queen Elizabeth. A tour of the World's Fair preceded their motor trip to Florida.

WHAT DRAW--A dragline removed old piling from the Jensen Beach bridge as preparations get underway to build the new bascule span that will complete the Jensen bridge system. The sign would halt fishing from the draw... but the removal of the old bridge kinda slows that down.

Florida Played Host To Over Eleven Million Tourists

Of the 11,782,756 tourists who came to Florida in 1963 by car, plane, bus, 589 said that Stuart was their destination. The exact number who actually reached Stuart, however, probably differed a great deal from that figure.

Two million toured and gave no specific destination of the 11 million polled.

Fort Pierce was on target for 41,718 tourists in cars and Vero Beach was listed by 44,361 tourists as their destination in the poll conducted by the Florida Development Commission in its 1963 tourist study.

Each month during the year, a predetermined number of tourists entering the state by all modes of transportation were asked to complete a questionnaire.

Automobile tourists completed their's at the nine Welcome Stations maintained at the state border on arterial highways.

Plane, train and bus tourists filled their's out while en route.

Complicated by all manner of controls, the process had to discount trucks, people who merely stopped over as a transport layover, out of state military personnel, and others.

The FDC maintains that it develops more valid information on tourism than any other state in the U. S. A.

It claims that tourism in the state was up 1,200,000 last year over 1962, with 14,208,279 visitors here during the year.

There are odds and ends among the statistics somewhat more interesting than the basic facts are themselves.

The new Marina Welcome Station at Fernandina Beach hosted over 750 southbound boats and 2,800 southbound people, for example. Over one million people came into the state in each of nine months.

The peak month was August, and not in mid-winter as is often expected.

The lagging months were September, October and November.

December, with 1,334,012 was the highest winter month; January was the lowest.

Of the total, 82.9 per cent came by car, 11.6 by plane, 2.7 by train and 2.8 by bus.

US 1 was the most traveled of highways, at the border stations, with US 17 second.

July was heaviest traveled month for the bus carriers with December second. Trains did their worst in January, followed by February, while planes were best in February and March.

The tourists spent about $2.5 billion, an average of $177.53 per person per stay.

The average stay was 11.3 days with each spending an average of $14.80 per day.

Summer visitors average to get by on less ($13.20 per day) than winter visitors ($15.10) and they stay only an average of eight days compared to 13.5 for winter tourists.

Lodging takes the biggest share of the total spent, with 23.88 per cent, food and drink, including restaurants, night clubs and taverns get 18.26 per cent of the total.

Year-round first timers account for 30.5 per cent of the total, while repeaters take up the balance.

New York and Illinois are tied as suppliers, with nine per cent of the year's traffic coming from them. From single states, Michigan follows in third place.

Of the 13 things "looked forward to and enjoyed by tourists," the Stuart-Martin County area has seven without question, probably lags in the other six.

In order of the preference, the county has beaches and swimming (first on all lists), fishing and hunting (5th), Historical places and/or Art museums (6th), boating (7th), sports to participate in (11th), state parks (12th) and picnicking (13th).

If any conclusion can be drawn to the fact that the county turned up at the bottom of the destination by car list (60th out of 72) with over half of the desired features its needed.

SRD To Open Bids On Local Projects

Construction bids of 6.011 miles of Martin Grade from SR 76-A (Loop Road) west will be received by the State Road Department June 25 at 10:30 a. m., a notice to contractors received last week indicated. The bids include some extra heavy grading.

Other bids will also be opened on about 40 other projects in the state as the SRD's fiscal year nears a close.

Specifications call for bidding on SR A-1-A construction from a point approximately five miles north of the Martin County line north for about five miles.

Three bridges will be included in the project, which will also include extra heavy grading and will be paid from primary funds.

The Martin Grade project will link the end of the present pavement west of Palm City with the Glades-Cutoff Road and Allapattah road, which drops south from the Martin Grade intersection nine miles into Indiantown.

Eventual extension of Martin Grade to the Okeechobee County line is expected in the next fiscal budget of the SRD.

Hutchinson Island's project will leave a missing link of only five miles on A-1-A from the Martin County line to Fort Pierce Beach.

School To Be Re-named

County School Board Appoints Teachers

The Martin County school board indicated Monday night Carver Students High School would be re-named Murray High School to honor family which has spent 93 years teaching in the county.

Osborne Murray, 15 years.

The change probably will not be made until the construction contract has been completed.

Board Changes Zoning On Commercial Street

Martin County Zoning and Planning Board approved a plat of 60 acres owned by Ed Miller called Palm Spring Isles Monday night in a special session. The area reaches from C-23 canal to the St. Lucie County line.

Three members of the board were present. These included Joe Greenlees, Donald Ward and Frank Forsberg.

The board also changed the zoning of Commercial Street in Jensen Beach from the railroad tracks west to the intersection of Jensen Beach Cut-off Road to commercial.

The board also adopted a plan to require a minimum bond of $1,000 up, on houses being moved from one lot to another to guarantee that all county codes, including building, electrical and plumbing, be complied with when the house is put on the new lot.

Chambers Dog Bugs Burglars Into Running

Noise made by their barking dog awakened Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Chambers, Hobe Sound, early Tuesday morning, which resulted in enough noise to apparently drive away two would-be burglars who managed to get nothing at the office of Dr. William G. Myers at Hobe Sound.

Sheriff Roy C. Baker said Mrs. Chambers called Jupiter Island police. They responded as did Deputy Sheriffs Morgan Sprott and Jack Curry.

Sheriff Baker said two men had gained entry, but apparently fled in a few minutes. They broke a window to gain entry.

Sea Turtles Out And Laying

Giant sea turtles are once again crawling from the ocean onto the beaches at Hutchinson Island to lay their eggs. The laying season, which officially starts in May by the calendar, got off to a comparatively slow start this season, but in recent days has speeded up, with a big jump in laying mothers showing traces of having reached the island's shores.

For visitors unfamiliar with the sea turtles and their habits, the House of Refuge Museum has prepared a pamphlet entitled "In Defense of the Turtle", and is also making available a traveling exhibit case with pertinent facts and pictures of the sea turtles.

The exhibit case, "Sea Turtles of Florida," was first exhibited at the 1964 Martin County Fair, and is now scheduled for showing at the following locations through this summer:

From now until June 28, Seminole Shores. June 30 through August 15, Jensen Beach Bank. August 18 through 29, Martin County Public Library.

Over 800 turtle eggs are now "resting" in artificial nests on the museum's grounds, including 128 rare trunkback eggs.

The eggs have been collected under special permit by the museum staff working in close cooperation with the State Board of Conservation.

Eggs will hatch between 50 and 75 days, depending on the species of turtle.

Predicable are huge supplies of baby turtles in the museum's tanks and ponds in July and August of this year.

Stephen Schmidt museum's director, said a second traveling museum case on turtles is under preparation and will be available this fall for county-wide exhibition.

Dyers' Purchase Raskin Property

Almost a square mile of land in three parcels owned by Julian L. and Irene Raskin, New York City, has been sold to Gene T. and Evelyn M. Dyer, formerly of Sewall's Point, now of Palm Beach, according to deed and mortgages filed at the court house.

The land is in the vicinity of the intersection of Martin Grade and Fox Brown Rd., in northwestern Martin County.

Price for the entire transaction was $144,000.

Mortgage notes totaling $62,637.53 were signed by the buyers to Martin County Investment Corporation.

In another large transaction, William H. and Marke K. Melvin of Palm Beach obtained a $90,000 loan mortgaging seven parcels of land at the north end of Jupiter and Long Islands.

Tradewinds Sold To Humberstone

Raymond Weston has sold his interest in the Tradewinds Restaurant to Fred A. Humberstone, according to a bill of sale filed at the court house last Thursday.

Humberstone has been operating the restaurant on Oceanway in the Broadway Section for quite some time.

No title to land or building was involved, apparently, but notes for restaurant equipment signed originally by Charlie Byers and A. P. Krueger, owner of the building, were assumed by the buyer.

Weston bought out Charlie Byers over a year ago.

Balances due to Palm Beach Restaurant Equipment, Inc., of $7,676.46 principal, $682.35 interest, and a $2,500 note to Ralph Evinrude, with $1,500 in interest, were involved in the sale.

The right to continue use of the name "Tradewinds Restaurant" was included in the sale.

Sheriff's Office Receives Praise

Director of the Fruit Protection Division of Florida Citrus Mutual F. Leslie Bessenger has written Sheriff Roy C. Baker to compliment him and two Martin County deputies for their work in the central intelligence bureau of FCM.

Deputy Sheriffs Rom Wyatt and James Holt were assigned by the sheriff to the unit headed by Bessenger.

The unit covers 32 producing citrus counties, where Bessenger said fruit losses by growers had been cut in half in the first year of operation of the intelligence unit.

$3,000 Blaze Brings Blast; Fire Fighters 'Fast'-Shomer

Rio Assistant Fire Chief Jack L. Shomer Tuesday flatly denied a statement made by Ken Raymond in connection with a house fire that occurred last Friday afternoon and resulted in an estimated loss of $3,000. Raymond, a neighbor of the owners of the house, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hood, said he called the Rio Fire Department, received an acknowledgment, and then called the Stuart Fire Dept. since there was such a long delay in answer to the call.

Raymond estimated that between 20 and 25 minutes elapsed between the time of his call to Rio and the arrival of one truck.

Shomer, in a telephone conversation last Tuesday, said that Raymond got "no acknowledgment at all" from the Rio Department, and that the first call that he had received came from the civil defense.

Shomer also said that there was no delay in the dispatch of the fire truck after they had received the call.

"The civil defense called and said, 'There's a fire out on Baker Road,' and that was about 20 minutes after two."

He said that the truck had taken "no longer than seven minutes" to get to the site of the fire once they had got the call.

Neighbors said the small crew and Asst. Chief Shomer found the house engulfed in flames when they arrived.

A live wire kept them from fighting the fire for some minutes after they arrived, during which time, neighbors said, they wet down some chickens and a chicken house near the house.

Shomer explained that the house "was beyond saving" by that time, and added that other property was entitled to protection, too.

He said that the house was entirely gutted by the fire, and that he had called the civil defense and told them the "roof was burned through" and that the fire was under control.

He objected to previous reports of the fire, saying that they took "one man's word for it and that's all." He added that no one had bothered to call to hear the fire department's side of the story.

Raymond said the fire could have been stopped in the first few minutes after his call to the Rio department.

The fire house is about a mile from the Hood place.

Mrs. Hood said she and her husband had made the last payment on the house and lot about two months ago. She said they had been paying on it for over five years.

Clark Shepard

Funeral services will be held at 11:30 a. m. Thursday for William Clark Shepard, 66, of Hutchinson Island, who died at Good Samaritan Hospital in West Palm Beach Tuesday, after a short illness.

Services will be held at St. Mary's Episcopal Church with the Reverend Norman B. Feaster, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church in Jensen Beach officiating.

Burial will be in Cleveland next Saturday.

Shepard was a member of an old Cleveland family, serving as a public official there and in Washington, retiring to this area in 1955.

Site of his family's winter home was given to the City of Stuart as a park many years ago and remains as a memorial to him in Shepard Park, flanking Frazier Creek.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anne Young Shepherd, and a sister, Mrs. H. B. Hawgood of Ohio.

He was a director in the Martin County Historical Society, active in Civil Defense, and a member of St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Friends may send in lieu of [illegible] St. Mary's.

Miller Files Suit Against Stimmell

County Commissioner Ed Miller filed a $750,000 libel suit in Martin County circuit court against Kenneth S. Stimmell, over a letter Stimmell sent to the newspapers, radio and county commission after the returns were in on first primary day, May 5.

The suit claims that Stimmell "wrote, published, circulated, distributed and... set up the libel."

The writer "intended to injure the plaintiff, deprive him of the respect, confidence and esteem peculiarly essential to the plaintiff's office," and "intended to deprive the plaintiff of his good name, reputation and the esteem of his constituants, and fellow county commissioner and to bring him into... disrepute before his friends, neighbors, fellow county commissioners and the public in general."

The suit was filed by two Fort Pierce law firms for Miller. They were Willes, Bittan and Griffin, and O'Laughlin and O'Laughlin.

Miller also asked court costs.

The letter was regarded at the time as the first of the repercussions predicted as an aftermath to the bitter county commission campaign in the county.

Sailing Classes Offered Youngsters

Sailing classes are being conducted on the Jensen Beach causeway under the direction of Robert Kikuska, Martin County junior High School teacher.

Featuring classes each Wednesday and Friday, weather permitting, the program has two sessions during the day, one from 9 to 12 a. m., and the other from 1 to 3 p. m.

Prerequisites include proven swimming ability and strap-on life jackets for each child.

Developed by Phil Baker of Jensen Beach, the program provides recreation for youngsters by utilizing Martin County's rivers. John Keller of Stuart, former custodian of prams built by St. Lucie River Yacht Club, assisted in the organization of the program.

A motor boat has been provided by Al Pitchford of Jensen Beach, to assist youngsters who might experience difficulty in sailing.

Court Apportionment Rule 'A Mess' - Says Bill Owens

Representative William E. Owens of Martin County called the ruling of the U. S. Supreme Court on apportionment of state legislators as to population, rather than population and area, "A mess." He pointed out that the re-apportionment referendum question on the November ballot was now outlawed, and that if a special session of the legislature were held it would have to be done at once in order to permit new first and second primaries in new districts prior to the November general elections.

"Giving the state into the control of five big counties would wreck the small counties financially," he said.

He pointed out the gas tax and race track distributions alone would be lost by the small counties, and if the counties were to make up the loss in ad valorem taxes, "they'd go broke."

He raised a question as to "weighted voting," giving the larger counties the same number of representatives and senators as at present, but giving their votes the votes of five or ten men.

"If we did this, the lobbyists would have a field day; if we don't we'll need to build a convention hall to accomodate all the legislators they think we should have," he said.

He also raised the possibility that the old Martin—St. Lucie-Indian River senatorial district might be revived to give the district a better population base.

Governor Farris Bryant will speak at a joint meeting of service clubs here Thursday. Rep. Owens said he hoped the governor would have something to say about the problem.

OMC Officials Arrive To Plan Test Plant

Twelve officials of the Outboard Marine Corporation will arrive in Jensen Beach Wednesday (today) to begin a two day series of meetings concerning the new OMC testing facility planned for this area.

Arriving from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and Waukegan, Illinois, will be top officials of the board of the firm, called to a meeting by Ralph Evinrude, chairman of the board of OMC. They will look over the site and discuss the development of the new testing station for OMC products, which include Evinrude Motors and the new OMC boats.

Evinrude announced May 21 that OMC would build a research and development testing station on waterfront property in North Stuart. General improvements to the site, which is 650 feet of frontage just north of the Roosevelt Bridge, will amount to $100,000.

The plant is expected to be in operation by "early fall", according to an OMC news release, and construction is expected to start this month.

A Night At A Pony League Game In Excitement And Thrills

SHARP FOUL—Mike Tucker, swift first baseman for the Jensen Lions, foul tips a ball as Tri Southern catcher Ernie Douglas reaches. The umpire, unidentified, calls the strike on the batter. On the next pitch, Tucker cracked a single into right field off the end of the bat.

OUNDING THIRD— Clifford Jones, hard hitting pitcher and third aseman of the Jensen Lions, rounds third base and holds as he was dvanced by an overthrow to second by Tri Southern catcher Ernie ouglas. T S third baseman Jim Humphery watches.

by Dick Campbell

I had been hearing so much about the exciting pony league games, and the successes of our local boys in the baseball teams in the baseball arena, I decided to make the trip down to Jupiter to see two of the top teams in the league play. The game was between Tri Southern of Hobe Sound and the Jensen Beach Lions, both tied with the Flower Growers team for first place in Martin County's Pony league.

Though the game ended on a lop sided 10-4 score against the Jensen team there was much to be praised in the playing, the handling and the overall spirit of the boys and parents who were there.

The Lions were without their manager, Harold Salzler, who had taken his wife to the hospital after his car had been hit by another on the way to the game. Mrs. Salzler was reported okay when the manager arrived at the game in the fifth inning.

Ten errors don't quite make a tight fought game, but the Lions were a little shook about the accident, and their playing showed it. The errors did add a lot of excitement to the game however, and Tri Southern tossed in a couple too.

A last ditch, seventh inning stand by the Lions added two runs, and reduced the defeat margin, but they could not come through for the needed eight runs to tie the victory bound Tri Southern team.

David Heaton weakened in the sixth inning and was replaced by pitcher Clifford Jones, who put out Tri Southern uprising. Tom Wyatt caught the game for the Lions. The batteries for Tri Southern were Worley and Douglas.

COMING IN—Leo Fauncher, Tri Southern shortstop, heads for the plate with another run in the 10-4 rout of Jensen's Lions, the second defeat of the season for the lions, who are tied for first place in the league. Picture below.

WELCOME— Tri Southern catcher Ernie Douglas, bat in hand, stands back as another T S run came to the plate. Tom Wyatt watches the game action, unable to make the play on the incoming runner.

I CALLED IT—Unpopular though it may seem, this umpire above calls 'em as he sees em', and stands unruffled as young pony leaguers look in awe at that third strike, as they have done since Abner Doubleday started the whole thing.

U-SOUTHERN SCORE— Catcher Tom Wyatt watches a ball go o center field as speedy Leo Fauncher, Tri Southern shortstop, comes to score the ninth of ten runs in the pony league game last week Jupiter.

LION SCORE—Second baseman Phil Festermaker beats the throw into home as he scores from third in the seventh inning try for a rally by the Jensen Lions. Going out for the throw is Tri Southern catcher Ernie Douglas.

Museum Treasures

This past Sunday, June 14, was Flag Day. We hope all residents in Martin County joined with the Martin County Museums in displaying our Nation's colors at home or places of business.

We would like to point out to our visitors to the Elliott Museum the variety of flags that are exhibited above the display cases in the Florida History Wing. There are only a few of the flags that once were raised over Florida territory during our history of settlement.

Most recognized, of course, are the United States of America flag, the flag of the Confederacy, and the flags of England, France and Spain. These last three nations were foremost in the settlement and development of Florida during her earliest day of history.

However, did you know that a portion of Florida was once claimed to be Mexican territory in 1817? Amelia Island, near Fernandina Beach, was once annexed to Mexico for a very brief period by Luis Aury who was eventually evicted (without bloodshed) by American troops.

Another interesting flag features the Minute Man. This was raised in the northeastern part of the state by a group of patriots attempting to set up a separate republic in 1812.

These two flags are also reproduced in small drawings and briefly described in one of the exhibit cases in the Florida History Wing.

Your Martin County Museums are open 1 - 5 p. m., Tuesday through Friday. There is a small admission charge to the Elliott Museum. The House of Refuge is free.

Visit and support your Martin County museums.

Sue Fredricksen And David Hershberger Exchange Vows

Mr. and Mrs. David Hershberger

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Sue Estelle Fredricksen and David Allan Hershberger in a candlelight service performed by Rev. W. T. Abrams, Stuart, on June 11 at 7:30 p. m. at the Rio Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Sophia Fredricksen of Jensen Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hershberger of Lower Burrell, Pa.

The altar was decorated with white gladioli, chrysanthemums, and fern.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of silk organza over taffeta, featuring a fitted waist, scalloped neckline and point-to-hand sleeves, bodice and skirt appliqued with re-embroidered lace chapel train. A finger tip veil of silk illusion fell from crown of lace and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible with carnations, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Margaret Brendel, maid of honor, wore a lavender sheath brocade dress with an organza overskirt. Her bouquet was of pink carnations, centered with an orchid.

Birdesmaids were Mrs. Linda Weltzbarker, Miss Nancy Gilson, Miss Cathy Hoke and Miss Marlene Stith of West Palm Beach.

They wore lavender brocade sheath dresses with silk organza overskirts.

Robert Thomas served as best man. Ushers were Edwin Fredricksen, brother of the bride; Phillip Hershberger, brother of the groom; Fred Smith; and Wayne Weltzbarker.

Miss Carol Yoder of Indiantown, organist, played traditional music. Mrs. Hugh Tyndall, W. Palm Beach, sang two solos, "I Love You Truly" and "Always."

Diane Fernandez, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Fernandez, was flower girl. She wore a lavender, pink and green dress and carried yellow rose petals.

Mrs. Fredricksen chose for her daughter's wedding a beige lace dress with blue accessories.

Mrs. Hershberger, mother of the groom, wore a blue lace sheath dress with blue accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church. Miss Marcia Whiteside was in charge of the Bride's book. The table was decorated with a miniature bride and groom. Miss Alice Heaton and Miss April Willeke served punch, and cake was served by Mrs. Robert Dickensheets and Mrs. Jim Dailey.

The bride is a graduate of Martin County High School and the Florida Beauty Academy, West Palm Beach. Until her marriage she was affiliated with Brendels Hair Styling Salon in Jensen Beach.

The groom is also a graduate of MCHS and is currently on the U. S. S. Procyon in San Francisco.

They left immediately for California. For her traveling outfit she chose a powder blue sheath dress with white accessories. Hairstyles were by Lance Wall of Carter's.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Lambie of Massapeque, L. I., N. Y., have announced the birth of a daughter, Suzanne Heather.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Lambie of 319 Hickory Ridge Rd., Jensen Beach, are the proud grandparents of the new arrival.

Delta Airlines has asked the CAB to okay a plan which would allow American Express credit card holders to charge travel with Delta on an extended payment basis.

SR-76 Is Sodded By Dumped Truck

An estimated 20,000 square feet of sod was dumped on SR 76 at the intersection of Locks Rd., just west of the turnpike, Tuesday morning, when a flat-bed trailer truck swerved sharply to avoid a pickup truck entering the main highway from Locks Rd.

Joe E. Woodard, Belle Glade, was driver of the truck hauling 42,000 square feet of the sod from Belle Glade to Melbourne.

Deputy Sheriff Ray Heisler said about half the load was dumped, and he said he couldn't see how the driver managed to keep from completely overturning.

Driver of the pickup truck had not been identified, as yet.

The sod dropped was valued at an estimate $600.

The driver and his employer said it was not practicable to attempt to re-claim it, and it was offered to the City of Stuart Park Department for use in the US 1 beautification project and was accepted.

Recreation Snagged In Committee

Request for two boat locks and a change of alignment of the north-east shore levee in lake Okeechobee made by the Martin-Okeechobee—St. Lucie Recreation Committee was tabled by the board of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District at its meeting last Friday as "too premature."

One of the two boat locks requested was in Martin County, at Chancy Bay; the other at Taylor Creek, in Okeechobee County.

The request, according to Don Dela, a member of the three-county recreation committee, was made to set up a plan under which residents would have better boat access to the lake.

The committee also requested that the proposed levee be located 450 feet from the highway right-of-way of US 441, the lakeshore road.

G. E. Dail Jr., FCD executive director, said that plans for the northeastern section of the diking project have not been received from the U. S. Corps of Engineers.

He said that present plans call for the use of the present hurricane gate at Taylor Creek as one end of a proposed boat lock in that area. He said he felt it was too early to talk about the Chancy Bay area. The entire question was put on file for consideration after the Corps presents the plan of construction.

At the same meeting, the Recreation and Engineering departments of FCD were given a go-ahead to proceed by the fastest method to develop at least ten new boat launching sites in the district.

Three of them are in this vicinity: One at Phipps Park, at the mouth of Roebuck Creek, under the high level turnpike bridge over the St. Lucie Canal just north of the locks; one at Leighton's Park, at the west end of the Palm City Bridge, in Palm City; the third on C-23 canal northwest of Stuart.

Submerged Land Is Under Consideration

Consideration was given four different parcels of local submerged land under purchase applications by the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund at Tallahassee last Tuesday in a meeting held at 10 a. m. in the governor's office.

Applicants included Russell M. Wright, John A. Crawford, Norman G. Decker, and Ernest C. McGinness.

Wright seeks 2.56 acres of submerged land in the St. Lucie off the site of the former Lighthouse Restaurant on U. S. 1 north of Roosevelt bridge. Decker, who seeks to buy 1.73 acres of submerged land, mentioned the property at Jensen Beach in the Indian River. Crawford seeks to buy three contiguous parcels of Indian River bottom containing 1.91 acres at his place in Jensen Beach. McGinness wants to buy .72 acres off his property in the Indian River at Jensen Beach.

Charles F. McAdam of Fort Pierce represents Crawford and McGinness. Crary, Crary and Crary Stuart, represents Decker and Wright.

Your Social Security

By R. C. Gerarken Jr.
District Manager
West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. From the experience of the Social Security Administration, which type of disease has made more workers disabled?

A. The largest group of workers has been found disabled due to heart and circulatory disorders. This group accounts for 31 per cent. The next largest group, 18 per cent, is that of the diseases of the nervous system and the sense organs. Respiratory diseases, including turberculosis, comprise 15 per cent, with mental disorders amounting to ten per cent of the total.

Q. My maid says that she does not want social security tax withheld, since she is already drawing old-age payments. Should I withhold social security taxes out of her wages?

A. Yes. As long as your maid has earnings that are covered by the law she must continue to pay her share of the social security tax. This is true regardless of her age and even though she may be drawing social security benefit checks. The law is very specific on this point. You as the employer are responsible for making the reports and forwarding the tax to the Internal Revenue Service when it is due.

For further information on your social security problems, contact the Social Security office at 701 South Dixie Highway, West Palm Beach (open from 8:30 to 1:00, Monday through Friday) or their Field Representative at the County Welfare Office in Stuart, Mondays only, 9 to 12.

Happy Anniversary...

ANNIVERSARY HONEYMOON—Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gabler, Chicago, pose with their three children, Karen, 3 1/2, Dory, 8, and Martin, 9, as they celebrate their tenth anniversary at the Anchorage Yacht Club. Ten years ago the Gablers came to Jensen Beach to spend their honeymoon at the Anchorage, and this is the first time they have been back. Many changes have taken place, as is noticed in the Gabler family. Mr. Gabler said that in the old days, ten years ago, there was no clubhouse, no pool, and just cottages down on the small basin.

IRJC To Offer Survival Swimming Course

Indian River Junior College's physical education program includes a course in survival swimming, requiring satisfactory skill in drownproofing for graduation, since the college is located in an area where water sports and activities are part of the daily lives of its citizens, it was learned last Thursday at the meeting of college presidents in Port St. Lucie Country Club.

Drownproofing is an advanced form of floating, deemed necessary by the administration and faculty in view of the hazards that have occurred in water activities in the four-county area.

With this technique, a person can survive in water under a stress situation for an average of five and one-half hours without too much difficulty.

Not requiring proficiency in coordination, this technique can be learned by everyone, whether or not they can swim.

Miss Adella Grove, physical education instructor at IRJC, explained the drownproofing program to college presidents' their wives and children at the Port St. Lucie Country Club Pool last Thursday. Miss Marci Roth of Stuart demonstrated the method and practice of drownproofing in the pool.

Miss Roth is a student at Indian River Junior College and a Red Cross Water Safety instructor.

Wacha Wails "Hold The Line" As Requests Reach $244,000

Martin County Commission Chairman Frank A. Wacha said Tuesday that budget increases had been received from department heads and other sources totaling about $244,000.

"There probably will be no increase in the county's tax levies in the coming year," he said, however.

He admitted the increases did not reflect any action as suggested by the grand jury toward adding to county court house or jail facilities, or building new ones.

He said the increases, by budget departments, were the General Fund, $59,000; mosquito control, $19,000; fine and forefeiture, $53,000, road and bridge $111,000; and that the capital outlay was not yet prepared.

He said no public meetings had been set for budget discussions.

The annual sitting of the commission as a board of equalization will not be held until July 13, instead of July 6, because legal advertising was not prepared.

In another tax matter, Wacha reported on the tax collector's errors and insolvencies report.

Early tax payment discounts accounted for $74,479, errors and insolvencies totalled $23,615.29, of which $15,460.22 was for boat taxes that had been tallied prior to the state order to remove from the tangible tax rolls.

Florida East Coast failed to pay $16,020.62 in 1963 taxes, helping reach the $148,443.91 total, he pointed out.

The intangible account had a total of $4,913.21, including early discounts, he said.

Boys Decide To "Walk" From Runaway Pram

Two youngsters learning how to sail prams from the Jensen Beach Causeway had an unexpectedly long sail for themselves when a chase boat ran out of gas last Wednesday morning.

They ended up jumping overboard.

One of the boys was John Pryor, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pryor of Detroit Ave., Stuart; the other boy was unidentified.

Pram sailing classes are one of the summer school activities of the Martin County school department and are under the direction of Richard Mikuska, a high school teacher.

Parents at the causeway said the two youngsters drifted in a northeasterly direction for about an hour while someone procured gas for the borrowed chase boat which was manned by David Keller.

Just before the rescue boat got to the scene, the boys, with life jackets on, jumped overboard and waded for shore.

Sidewalks Get Boost From Waterfronters

Owners of waterfront property gave a Mirror sponsored project of sidewalks a boost this week. Ransom Tilton wrote the Mirror that he would donate, free of charge, a 65 foot strip of property from Commercial Street on State Road 707 north if other property owners do the same. A spot check by the Mirror of other property owners along the road from Commercial Street to the Jensen Bridge brought affirmative answers from Bob Weisenberger, owner of Poor Bob's Restaurant, and Johnny Crawford, owner of the Snook Nook.

County Commissioner Frank Wacha said that Fred Bell, county engineer, would be available to answer questions of property owners, and that Bell would meet with the property owners at any time.

The dangerous road has been the scene of many near accidents, and many accidents in which one man was killed. Many pedestrians use the scenic roadway along the river.

Wacha said that the walk would be on the river side, adding to the beauty of the drive and the scenic walk, if property 65 feet from the centerline of the road from the centerline of the road could be acquired by donation.

400 Green Stamps With Subscription In Mirror Drive

This week the Jensen Beach Mirror will begin a subscription drive that will offer a bonus of 400 S & H Green Stamps to each new subscriber. Renewals will earn 100 S & H stamps.

The drive, which will end on the fourth anniversary of the Mirror, in September, will give local newsboys, civic clubs and individuals an opportunity to earn prizes, or apply stamps to community drive activities. Bonus stamps can be won by persons or groups selling four subscriptions. With every four subscriptions sold, 400 additional stamps will be given.

Full details on the subscription drive are available in the Mirror this week.

Fishing Licenses Are Available

New 1964-65 fishing licenses are available at the offices of all County Judges and their authorized sub-agents, according to A. D. Aldrich, director of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Florida fresh water fishermen are being urged to avoid the rush and buy their fishing licenses now. Although new licenses are not required until midnight June 30. Buying the license now will prevent many fishermen from embarrassment at a later date when they decide on a sudden fishing trip and find they have no license.

Aldrich said the new licenses are presently being honored by wildlife officers.

License fees are $3.00 for resident annual, $8.00 for non-resident annual, $3.25 for non-resident 14-day continuous fishing, and $2.25 for non-resident 5-day continuous fishing.

County Squashed Free Skeeter Juice

Martin County mosquito control department will not be giving away any more spray or fogging materials, according to an edict made by County Engineer Fred L. Bell and confirmed by the county commission last week.

Bell said he ordered the halt on the basis of information he got in a report on Martin County mosquito operations by a state entomologist.

Bell once spoke as a private citizen and complained about the mosquitoes at Jensen Beach.

The discussion ended in agreement not to sell the materials any more and to discuss the whole problem in a work session, including an increase of $19,000 asked by Witham for next year's budget.

Donates $340 To Hospital

The third in a continuing series of gifts from the Junior Woman's Club of Stuart was given to the Martin Memorial Hospital pediatric unit at the end of last week.

Items totaling $340.22 were turned over to Evans Crary Jr., chairman of the hospital board, by Mrs. Frank Zorn of the Junior Woman's Club.

They included a child size esophagoscope, laryngoscopes, esophagoscope, laryngoscopes, and a clinic scale.

The pediatrics unit had received $1,000 in an earlier gift, which was followed by a second gift of material.

NEW FLAGPOLE READY—Anticipating Independence Day, the American Legion, and the county, unveiled a new flagpole at the county causeway park in Jensen Beach at the pavilion. The Legion donated flag was raised by County Commission Chairman Frank A. Wacha, assisted by Legion Commander Gene Grimm on Wednesday, immediately following the county commission meeting. Also attending was commissioner Jack Saunderson of Salerno. The base of the pole contains planters that the Veterans of World War One will fill with plants. The Legion has indicated that it will raise the flag each day until the new bridge is completed and a bridge tender can assume the honor. There is an area in the base for a plaques to honor Martin County war dead.

Feasters' Plan Trip

The Rev. Norman B. Feaster, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, Jensen Beach, Mrs. Feaster, their son Scott, and daughter Patty, will leave Tuesday to spend the month of July and the first week of August at North Bellmore, N. Y.

Although on a holiday, Rev. Feaster will serve as supply priest at two missions, at the Church of St. James the Just, Franklin Square, Long Island, and Trinity Church at Elmont, Long Island, conducting one service at each church each Sunday.

The northern holiday is in reality a graduation gift to Scott Feaster who this spring completed his work at Martin County High School. This will give the young man, who is interested in dramatics and an artist of considerable ability, an opportunity to see the New York theatrical productions and visit the many art museums. The Feasters will also have an opportunity to see the World's Fair and to visit their elder son and brother, Norman, who is a counselor at an Episcopal Church camp in Connecticut.

During Rev. Feaster's absence, All Saints will be served by the Rev. Duane V. Fifer, who at present is assisting at the Episcopal church in Melbourne. Rev. Fifer has theatrical organ music as his hobby and outside interest, is unmarried, and will live at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Houg on his weekend visits to Jensen Beach.

Tourists Tip Harry Hoke Fifty Cents

Harry Hoke, one of the more prominent members of the Jensen Beach area, honorary chairman of the board of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Martin County, and mayor of Ocean Breeze Park, got a fifty cent tip last week.

It was Sunday morning and Hoke, as per his usual schedule, was waiting for Alex Milan to open his restaurant at 5:30 a. m. for breakfast. When the short order cook and the waitress didn't show up for work, Alex took over the cooking chores and Harry pitched in, serving water and coffee to customers.

A large fishing party of men came in and Harry waited on them. When they left, a big fifty cent tip was left on the counter.

The thing that is worrying Alex Milan now is the Florida statute which requires all waitresses to wear a hair-net.

Directors Attend Opening

Members of the board of directors of the Anchorage Yacht Club attended the opening ceremonies of the new Pirates' Den Lounge at the Buccaneer Yacht Club in Riviera Beach last Friday.

Mrs. Edna Wolf, owner of the Anchorage, was among those to be interviewed and filmed on the WEAT, TV, "Night Life on the Gold Coast" program, emceed by sports caster Ward Wilson.

Fifty-fvie members of the Fort Pierce Power Squadron celebrated Father's Day at the Anchorage Yacht Club, with a picnic on the pool grounds.

Fishing News

Tarpon remained on the North Fork, with some in the South Fork, last week. Snook preferred to move down the river to the long stretches of the St. Lucie River between Bay Tree Lodge and Roosevelt Bridge.

Some tarpon came in close to shore, some as near as a half-mile, moving both north and south with some snook for company.

Spotted sea trout continue hot in the Indian River, from the big bridge south and north of Jensen Beach.

Sailfish continue to be caught offshore, bonita are plentiful, and dolphin are spasmodic, over wide areas in spots, but have been caught. Barracuda, kings and some jacks are still plentiful.

Entire St. Lucie area good for bottom fishing, as is Sun Parlor, and off the ocean pier.

Summer fishing is at is usual now . . . excellent!

Helicopter Gives Rides From FNB Lot

A helicopter flew into First National Bank of Stuart's parking lot and gave officers of the bank a ride last week. Owned by H. H. "Buster" Christopher of Okeechobee, the helicopter is used for crop dusting.

After taking local people for rides over the Stuart and Jensen Beach areas, Christopher returned to Okeechobee. Local autos received their first challenge from the air travel method of the future.

Starkweather Arrested For Arson

Facing trial for arson in circuit court Monday, R. H. Starkweather, 78, of Rio, was arrested and charged with arson in the third degree last week in connection with a woods and brush fire that swept from Baker Road to U. S. 1.

Starkweather was arrested last February 2 in connection with a fire that destroyed a trailer near his home.

He has been out on $5,000 bail in connection with the case, which comes to trial Monday.

According to Sheriff Roy C. Baker, the elderly man was seen coming from the woods in the area where the fire started a short time before the blaze became apparent.

Fire apparatus from Rio, Jensen Beach, the county department and crews attached to the trucks, fought the blaze for two days.

HOLD HIM DADDY!—A 16 1/2 pound tarpon is a pretty good size fish for anyone to catch, but it is especially trying when its done by an 8-year old girl. Caught by Cynthia Shelton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Shelton of Burlington, N. C., the fish caused young Miss Shelton to balk when it came time to hold him for a picture. So Daddy assisted. The Sheltons are down on a week's vacation at Jensen Cottages.

Independence Day Celebration Outstanding Weekend In County

There will be marching bands, fireworks exhibitions, speeches on Americanism, watermelon, a barbeque, soap box racing, sailing races, picnics, and even an old fashioned fire company hose drill and water fight in the Independence Day festival planned throughout Martin County on Saturday, July 4th.

At 10 a. m. the Martin County Independence Day Parade will begin in Stuart, with floats, colorful bands, marching military units and boys and girls from various organizations.

The parade will travel down East Ocean Boulevard to the circle, down Osceola, back up Flagler and disperse at the ball park.

Immediately following the parade, official ceremonies marking the 50th anniversary of Stuart will be held, and a watermelon feast will put an ice cold cap on the morning event.

The Elks will serve their barbecue from noon till dark.

Jensen Beach events will get under way at 1 p. m. with the annual Jensen Chamber of Commerce Soap Box Derby. The site has been moved to Skyline Drive and Sandra, with parking in the new Community Church parking lot. This year there are seven new entries, all being made according to the national soap box racer standards.

At the same time, in Stuart, there will be a double header baseball game featuring Stuart American Legion and Satellite Beach at Sailfish Park. The first game starts at 1 p. m.

At 2 p. m. a color film of "Song of a Nation" will be shown at Elliott Museum until 4 p. m.

Meanwhile, back at Jensen Beach, a community picnic will be under way at Jensen Beach Causeway. The volunteer firemen and auxiliary will begin serving a barbeque, with chicken, hamburgers, hot dogs, french fries, baked beans and coffee available from 2 p. m. until late in the evening, following the fireworks.

At 3 p. m. the firemen will hold a hose drill (which will end up in an old fashioned hose fight) and at 3:30 p. m. pram races will start.

Picnicking will follow for the rest of the afternoon on the causeway, and at 7 p. m. there will be a patriotic program. County commission chairman Frank A. Wacha will emcee the program, and the speaker will be State Representative Bill Owens.

Back in Stuart at 7 p. m. a 50th anniversary skit will be put on at the Stuart Youth Center.

The Jensen Beach Causeway and the St. Lucie River will be sites of fireworks by Jensen and Stuart at 8 p. m. Last year autos lined both areas and plans call for an even greater display this year.

Ground Breaking To Be Sunday

Jensen Beach Community Church will break ground next Sunday at 3 p. m. for a new sanctuary. Participating will be Reverend A. Sydney Lowrie and Rev. Malcolm Harris, pastors of the First Presbyterian Church of Stuart; Rev. A. Arnold Weitstein, Vero Beach Community Church pastor, Rev. Loys Frink; Mr. Netto of Netto Construction Co., builder, Ransom Tilton, chairman of the official board Chris Kalb, vice-chairman of the building committee; and Rev. Newton Tweedy, pastor of the church.

Harris is president of the Martin County Ministerial Association. Lowrie and Frink have often been supply ministers of the Church.

Council Cites Poux-Mosser

Two Martin County teen-agers have been cited by the Dairy Council of South Florida in its continuing program to honor the achievements of school age children here.

Gordon Poux, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Poux of Sewall's Point, has been chosen to receive a merit award for his activities in connection with a Civil Defense shelter test.

Wayne Mosser, 13, Indiantown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Clark, was chosen for the merit award because he won the good citizenship award at Warfield school and for his high scholastic achievements and extra curricular activities.

KING OF A KING MACKEREL—Ernest Deshamais, 81st St., Jackson Heights, N. Y., managed this 59-inch king mackerel from the boat Fran L, captained by Pete Robertson last week. The fish beat by 3 1/2 pounds the present record of the Sailfish tournament, tipping the scales at 51 pounds.

Businessmen Win FD Praise

The Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department gave high praise to local businessmen last week. Chief Randolph Spinney said that local builder Frank Forsberg has offered to pay the difference in wages for time lost when volunteer firemen answer calls, and Sam Rhodes, another builder, has offered his men to answer at any time.

Billy Banks, a lieutenant on the company force, and V. V. Wortham, assistant fire chief, are employed by Forsberg and Rhodes.

Spinney also said that Gene Poux and Jack Hall answer calls from their jobs. The problem of getting men during the daytime is answered by these men, according to Spinney, who said that the night crew is well manned by full crews.

Last Thursday the firemen put out a short circuit blaze in Frank Wacha's house, caused in the utility room. A $500 loss was reported.

Spinney also asked the Mirror to report to the people that rumors of dissension between the Rio and Jensen Fire Departments as reported in another newspaper were false; that Rio and Jensen work closely together, and that they often trade equipment when it is needed.

Operating through the central Martin County telephone for fires, Spinney asked that the local people phone AT 7-5755 to report a fire in any area of the county. Messages will be relayed to the proper department.

Your Social Security

By R. C. Gehrken Jr.,
District Manager
West Palm Beach Social Security Office.

Q. I operate a small business and pay my wife a salary for the time she spends working for me. Am I supposed to pay social security tax on these wages?

A. No. Work done by a wife for her husband, or by a husband for his wife, is not covered by social security.

Q. I am a mechanic and recently made some major repairs on a friend's car. In return, he painted my shop for me. No money passed hands either way. Do we pay social security taxes on the value of these services rendered?

A. No. With a few exceptions, only cash wages paid are subject to social security taxes.

For further information on your social security problems, contact the Social Security office at 701 South Dixie Highway, West Palm Beach (open from 8:30 to 4:00, Monday through Friday) or their Field Representative at the County Welfare Office in Stuart, Mondays only, 9 to 12.

it Filed Against Board Public Instruction

uit was filed in Martin County Circuit Court last Friday against ridual members of the Martin County Board of Public Instruction, bonding companies and prime contractor on the school project ance Smith by Governor Farris Bryant and E. L. Watkins, a sub-ractor on a portion of the Port Salerno school project. Board bers named in the suit and bonding companies are y G. Kindred, Fidelity and sit Co., Maryland; Frank efano, Glens Falls Insurance and Mrs. Jeanette Odom, T. R. Chambers and Henry Gunn, Hartford Accident and ity Co.

tkins alleges that he has not paid $775 owed to him for shing labor and equipment mith in the performance of b-contract in the suit.

ontract attached to the suit, tates that Watkins earned at least part of a contract by Smith with the school l to move two portable class-s at Salerno School.

ler the terms of the contract een the school board and h, the contractor was sup-d to do the job for $1, 322. 20. e job was done, and the school board paid Smith. But Smith did not pay Watkins, a West Palm Beach building mover, nor did the board or any member obtain a release, according to Attorney Elton Schwarz, who filed the suit on behalf of Watkins.

Schwarz said the school board apparently didn't know the job was sub-contracted.

The govern. or was named plaintiff because the bonds on school board individual members are in his behalf.

The suit alleges that since the school board did not carry out the public trust in that they did not ascertain whether or not all sub-contractors were paid prior to release of Smith's performance bond, and that in fact, not all sub-contractors were paid.

The suit argues that the acts and conduct of the board members individually constitute a violation and breach of their bonds and asks payment from their bonding firms or by themselves.

Each member is bonded to $2, 000 for the benefit of others than themselves. If the bonding companies paid the $775 (plus interest) claim, they would probably seek reimbursement from the individual members.

Schwarz said he had tried to get information from the school board concerning the situation but that mail had been unanswered.

STRETCHING A POINT—The White American Egret, long-legged and long-necked wader, can turn his head in a 360 degree circle and plunge his sharp beak 36 to 48 inches underwater to catch his prey.

Normally, the egret cannot see underwater, as can the osprey or fish hawk and is seen in ponds, lakes and rivers throughout South Florida.

William's Hearing Re-scheduled

A hearing on the petition by Edward Williams, 24, convicted rape slayer of Miss Lucy Ann Wethington of Hobe Sound has been re-scheduled for August 3, at 1:30 p. m.

A conflict with a jury trial by one of the parties to the hearing caused the re-scheduling, court attaches said.

The petition for a new trial was filed last week by County Judge Theron A. Yawn Jr. of Bradford County.

The trial was set for June 29 originally.

Tucker Plead. Guilty To Charge

Ray Tucker, 46, who levelled a rifle at Sheriff Roy C. Baker's head Sunday afternoon at the Palm City home of C. W. Clayton, 85, pleaded guilty to the reckless display of firearms in county court before Judge Evans Crary Jr. last week.

Sentence was deferred to the August term.

Before Justice of the Peace Harvey Piley Wednesday night, no action was taken on a charge of aggravated assault levied by warrant obtained by Clayton.

The case was continued until July 1.

There were 98 cases in county court, the lowest total on a plea day since last fall.

2,500 Attend Stuart Parade

Residents Shirk Rain, Celebrate 4th In Style

Residents of Martin County turned out in force to celebrate on Independence Day and the 50th anniversary of Stuart's incorporation as a municipality last Saturday, despite a brief rain that threatened to dampen the day's activities. Beginning with Stuart's annual independence Day six-division parade, the day featured fireworks, both at Stuart and Jensen Beach, ball games, free watermelon, barbeques, a patriotic musical revue, soap box derby, pram racing, good old fashioned patriotic speeches, and a firemen's hose fight.

Jensen activities included a soap box derby in the afternoon, with pram racing following on the Jensen Beach Causeway.

Frank Wacha, chairman of the county commission, emceed a patriotic program at the causeway, with Representative Bill Owens as guest speaker.

Both the Elliott Museum and the House of Refuge featured special programs through the day, with patriotic exhibits of the Revolutionary days through WW II.

An estimated 2,500 people were on hand to cheer for the Stuart parade, especially when Fred Bentell and his twin sister, Mrs. Freida Rowell, traveled by in a red convertible. The twins won the Stuart Chamber contest which sought the person born in Stuart nearest the birthday of the city, incorporated May 7, 1914. The twins were born June 24, 1914.

Mrs. Patricia W. Gluckler, Mrs. Lucille Nelson and George Apostolopoulous judged the float contests for the parade, results as follows:

Most beautiful, Port Salerno Firemen's Auxiliary; second, Soroptimist Club, third, Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce.

Originality, Rowell Furniture Co.; second, Animal Rescue League; third, Pioneer Occupational class.

Best on "Americana" theme, first, John Birch Society; second, Women's Republican Club of Martin County; third, Riptide Players.

Youth division, best, New Farmers of America; second, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, and Air Explorers, collectively.

Best on Stuart's anniversary, first, Stuart Jaycee's; second, National Secretaries Ass'n.

After the parade, ceremonies honoring the city's incorporation were held at the Stuart Youth Center.

Frank DeStefano, Mayor Ray Cooke, City Commissioner Jack M. Hartman and Rep. William E. Owens participated in the program.

Fireworks followed in both Jensen Beach and Stuart at night.

Jensen Chamber president Dick Campbell got an unexpected dunking at the causeway festivities.

Estimated Cost $24,000

Corps Promises Inlet Deepening Project

County Commission Chairman Frank A. Wacha said last week that he had received word from U. S. Senators Spessard Holland and George A. Smathers and U. S. Representative Paul G. Rogers that they had been notified by the U. S. Corps of Engineers that necessary funds would be made available to dredge a channel six feet deep and 100 feet wide from the Crossroads of the Intracoastal waterway and the Okeechobee Waterway to the St. Lucie Inlet government project.

Wacha was notified that the project will be at federal expense and will guarantee federal maintenance.

Estimated cost of the initial project was set at $24,000, including federal and local participation on a near-split basis.

The plan is known as the "alternative" plan offered by the Engineers when initial announcement of the $3.3 million inlet project was made.

Wacha received the information by telegram, signed by the three congressmen.

Rep. Rogers told Wacha in a telephone conversation shortly afterwards that he and the senators would continue their efforts to have the existing inlet project brought to project depth of ten feet through a federal maintenance project.

The county commissioner had sent photographs and fathometer log readings to Rep. Rogers a short time before, demonstrating the fact that not only was the government cut not at project depth, but also that the rocks could be seen out of the water at very low tides.

FIRST WINNER—Charlene Bright, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Bright, 411 Hickory, Jensen Beach, won the $1.00 prize in the first Jensen Mirror Coloring Contest. Charlene studies music, and is taking piano lessons now. She is entering the third grade at Jensen Beach Elementary School in the fall. The Coloring Contest is a feature of the Mirror that appears each week on the comics page.

Indian River Is Clean

A two year effort to stop pollution of the west side of the Indian River in Jensen Beach looked brighter this week as the Health Department reported to Martin County Commissioner Frank A. Wacha that the river was in good shape.

From a sampling of eight points along the Indian River from the county line on the north to Ferguson Laundry on the south, the Health Department reported that the pollution in the river was so low that the water was pure enough to harvest shellfish. This was excellent news to the commissioner who had worked for pollution control for three years.

The tests took in an area from the shoreline to 500 feet off the shoreline on the west side of the Indian River. Shellfish harvesting is a more critical rating than water for recreation is given. Recreational water is allowed 100 parts, whereas shellfish harvesting is allowed only 75 parts.

Wacha said that he was proud that the residents along the Indian River had taken steps to eliminate river pollution, and added that it was a voluntary effort of citizens working in the interests of their county, rather than by lawsuit.

Seymour Gideon Is In Hospital

Seymour Gideon, Jensen Beach, is now under extensive care at St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach, suffering from complications involving an inflamed artery.

Gideon was first taken to Martin Memorial Hospital in Stuart Sunday and, after examination, immediately transferred to the West Palm Beach hospital.

Some Boaters Will Be In Hot Water

Tax Collector Alvin N. Andrews said Tuesday sales of motor boat licenses are anything but brisk, in spite of the fact that they are due on or before July 15, a date extended to permit late purchasers to get in under the wire.

"Last year we had about 1,300 boats licensed in Martin County," Andrews said. "So far, only 300 or so have been licensed for the new fiscal year," he said.

He said that applicants were drifting in slowly, but predicted, "no where near 1,300 sales by the middle of the month."

Some of the delay he attributed to the fact that many of the boat owners are up North enjoying the hot weather, and won't be back until fall, when they will get their licenses.

But he admitted that there are plenty of people operating boats now who will be in trouble with the law July 15.

Pat Lewis Is The Winner Of 1964 Soap Box Races

Pat Lewis, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Lewis of 1414 Hickory Avenue in Jensen Beach, captured the crown in the 1964 Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce Soap Box Derby last Saturday. With a time of 14.9 seconds, Lewis, driving the entry of B'Tween Waters Mobile Home Park, shot across the finish line in a final heat, besting his opponent by one-tenth of one second.

The win brought Pat Lewis a $25 bond, presented by Poor Bob's Restaurant. He also won dinner for his mother and father and himself at the Outrigger Restaurant, and a silver dollar from E. C. Wareheim, president of the Jensen Beach Bank.

The silver dollar turned out to be a winner also, for it is 1894 dated, and is worth $17 on the open market for coin collectors.

In second place was 13-year-old Peter Johnson, driving the entry sponsored by Palmer's Variety Store. Johnson won a check for $10 from the Outrigger, and a silver dollar from Wareheim.

In third place was Eugene Wood, driving the Jensen Beach Mirror entry, followed by Jeffery Arthur, driving for Banks, and Arnold St. Clair, representing Rick Carroll Insurance.

All of the boys built their own cars and underwent a stringent checkoff list for safety by judges at the race.

Lewis suffered a broken drive shaft at the beginning of the races, and competed with a large "C" clamp holding the steering mechanism in place. Al Palmer, chairman of the race, said that all the entries were "sportsmen of the highest calibre", and added that the races next year will be much greater. He told the Mirror that he hoped that the winner would be able to compete in a statewide meet if it is possible.

Two stopwatches timed each and every heat, and the contest wasn't decided until the last one between Lewis and Johnson.

E WINNER — Pat Lewis crossed the finish line with a 14.9 second me to win the 1964 soap box race. Note the clamp holding a oken steering column.

STRUCTIONS — Arnold St. Clair and E. C. Wood get last minute instructions as they vie for honors in the soap box race.

GET READY — Bent over their steering wheels, Pat Lewis and Peter Johnson get ready to race down the hill. Lewis eventually won with a 14.9 seconds trip.

HEY'RE OFF — Jeffery Arthur, left, and Arnold St. Clair start down the ramp as the crowd watches.

Civil Rights Demonstrators Quiet In Martin County

Martin County had only one short incident of expected civil rights demonstrations last week.

At about 3 p. m. Sunday, a group of about 25 white boys and young men, met a group of about 25 Negro boys and young men on the beach between the Jensen Beach pavilion and the new pavilion immediately south of the former, recently built.

Although Negroes have used Jensen Beach on previous occasions, as well as Stuart beach, the civil rights act loomed large on the Fourth, probably led to the incident.

Deputy Sheriff Ray Heisley, at the scene almost as it started, told the two groups each could use the beach as desired and that he was having no part of stopping such use, adding:

"Anyone getting in a fight here goes to jail, and that's that," according to Sheriff Roy C. Baker.

Both sides drifted off after the statement was made.

Deputies Tom Wyatt, Gerald Brown, James Holt and Henry Herbert, with Sheriff Baker, arrived as the incident melted away without actually becoming one.

Attendance at the Negro beach was almost nil, as members of the community mourned the loss of three neighbors in the rooming house fire.

June Sales Tax Exceeds $43,000

Martin County collected $43,280.56 in sales tax for the month of June, 1964, according to J. Ed Straughn, director of Florida Revenue Commission.

The figure represented an increase over the same month last year of $6,188.41.

Driver Escapes Uninjured

A flat-bed trailer owned by Big Chief Construction Co., of Indiantown, was smashed at a railroad crossing six miles west of Indiantown in a collision with Seaboard Airline Railroad's passenger train, the Miami-bound Silver Meteor last week.

Engineer T. V. Perry of Micanopy suffered a knee injury in the collision, the only injury.

Damages to the train and tracks totaled an estimated $15,500.

The trailer was pulled clear of the truck, resulting in an estimated $2,000 damage.

John T. Shipes, Indiantown, driver of the truck, said he was moving a pump into the Sunset Groves area across an unmarked crossing when the tractor portion of the truck became stuck on the tracks.

The train was traveling an estimated 85 miles an hour when it hit the trailer.

Florida Highway Patrolman Sam Jones, Indiantown, was in charge of the investigation, assisted by Deputy Sheriff Floyd McAllister.

Groundbreaking Was Held Sunday For Sanctuary

The Jensen Beach Community Church came one step closer to the completion of the church plant as officials broke ground on Sunday for the new $125,000 sanctuary.

Rev. Newton Tweedy, who delayed a vacation trip for the ceremonies, officiated.

Taking part in the services were Rev. Loys Frink, Rev. Malcolm Wettstein, of the Florida Fellowship of Community Churches, Rev. Sydney Lowrie, and E. B. Netto, who will build the church.

The actual groundbreaking was highlighted by the use of the golden shovel used just a few years ago to break ground on the site for the fellowship hall. Rev. Sydney Lowrie turned a shovel of earth in memory of Dr. A. B. Himes, who recently passed away. Himes had been one of the most active members of the church in efforts to get the new plant.

Ransom Tilton, chairman of the official board, Mrs. Wilda Daily, secretary, and John W. Miner, treasurer, led the procession of members of the church turning shovels of earth in the service.

a fire chief," Carol said, "and I woke everybody up in the morning."

"Tax assessor," Susan volunteered, "and a very good one. We didn't collect any taxes."

Governor Farris Bryant addressed the group, stressing the importance of today's government and its reliance on youth.

Secretary of State Tom Adams explained the duties of his office, its structure, to the 264 aspiring citizens in the House of Representatives.

The two Jensenites also told of the legislation that was passed by the girls during the week.

"We passed a bill that everyone 60 years of age would be required to take a drivers' examination every two years," Carol said.

Other bills that came up during the legislative session included one on obscene literature and another on illegitimate children, Susan added.

Girls' State Governor-elect was Donna Welsch, of Lakeland, and was enthusiastically received by the group, according to Susan.

"She was an excellent and marvelous speaker, elected by popular vote by the Federalist party," Susan said.

The Federalist party is one of two parties at Girls' State, the girls explained, patterned after our two party system. The losing party was called the Nationalist.

Traditionally, the house abolishes the senate, and the senate abolishes the house before the legislative session is over at Girls' State. And as with any lawmakers, time is in essence, for the last bill was "passed in five minutes."

Since "no boys were allowed there," there might have been some other reason for the hasty adjournment.

Winter Park Boaters Here

Members of the Winter Park Boating association came in force with ten boats and fifty members to spend July 3rd and 4th in Jensen Beach at the Anchorage Yacht Club, according to Ed Rich, club publicity manager. The boat-a-cade was here for the Independence Day celebration.

Rich also reported that several members of the local yacht club are on a ten day cruise of the Bahama Islands aboard the Suntanner.

YOU DON'T SAY?—The county commission shows its thought for the citizens of Martin County with this new sign on the Jensen Beach Causeway explaining the closed bridge. In the background, a crane peeks over the sign, busy at work on the coffer dams for the new bridge.

Indiantown Post Office First Class

Indiantown's post office became a first class post office as of today and the second one of its class in Martin County.

Postmaster George E. Jordan said that the annual receipts last year were $79,210.61, or over 25 times as great in his first year.

Stuart is the only other first class post office in the county. Jensen Beach and Hobe Sound are second class offices and Port Salerno is a third class office.

In the next several weeks, dedication exercises for the new building near the Seaboard Airline railroad depot will be held, giving Indiantown not only a first class post office business, but a first class post office facility.

Your Social Security

By R. C. Gehrken Jr.
District Manager, West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. My 70-year-old father receives railroad retirement but never had any social security coverage. I operate an open air fruit market and need a night watchman. Can I hire my father for this job and pay social security taxes on his wages to help him get coverage?

A. Yes. Work done by a parent in the son's or daughter's trade or business is covered by social security. This represents a change made in the law effective with 1961. Work performed by a parent in the private home of a son or daughter is still not covered, however.

Q. I hire a maid one day a week at $5 per day. Rather than bother with deducting 3-5/8 per cent of this money weekly, can I just pay the full 7-1/4 per cent of the total wages myself at the end of the quarter when the report is due?

A. Yes. You are only responsible for sending in the full amount of these social security taxes. If you desire to pay it all yourself, that is your privilege.

For further information on your social security problems, contact the Social Security office at 701 South Dixie Highway, West Palm Beach (open from 8:30 to 4:00, Monday through Friday) or their Field Representative at the County Welfare Office in Stuart, Mondays only, 9 to 12.

PROUDLY IT WAVES— The Jensen Beach American Legion has the honor of raising and lowering the flag on the Jensen Beach Causeway, having accepted the responsibility until a full time bridge tender takes it over next year. Long may it wave.

Tax Roll Is Up $203,854

As a result of the four-laning of US 1, the City of Stuart lost $99,050 in assessable real estate, according to City Assessor Bud Pfeiffer who made his report to the city's equalization board last week. Pfeiffer pointed out that the city managed to show an increase in total assessment rolls of $203,854 in spite of the improvement loss, with the overall assessment of real estate dropping from $9,285,550 in 1963 to $9,186,500 this year.

The board adopted Resolution 779 approving and certifying the roll at last week's meeting, with no complaints.

Building assessments went up $298,344 from $15,083,956 to $15,382,300, and personal went up from $3,061,030 to $3,182,520, an increase of $121,490.

Gross roll totals for 1964 were $27,751,320, but loses $90,000 in widow and disability exemptions (180).

Homestead exemptions (882), reduced the roll $4,155,440, for a net operating roll of $23,505,880, compared to $23,302,026 of last year.

City Manager Joe N. Crowder said he would prepare a budget for early presentation, and it "would probably show no increase in taxes."

Crowder said he looked for a huge increase in total value of the 1965 roll because of the tremendous amount of building either underway or planned for early starts on the new four-laned US 1, which will be completed in early fall.

Women Meet July 15 For Sack Lunch

Buoys'n' Bells Hop Set By Anchorage

The Anchorage Yacht Club entertained the Winter Park Boat Club Association of Winter Park last weekend. They arrived in ten boats from Winter Park.

Also on hand for the weekend were boats from Orlando, Fort Lauderdale and Vero Beach.

The groups watched the Jensen fireworks display, commenting favorably.

Coming events for the club are a Buoys and Bells Hop for Junior High School club members, July 18 at 4:00 p. m., and a yacht club picnic boatacade to Buccaneer Yacht Club in Riviera Beach, date and time to be announced, according to Commodore Sam Rhodes.

He said a board meeting will be held Wednesday, at 6:30 p. m., to plan the excursion.

Stuart Road Bonds Get Fast Service

Only eight minutes were required to complete a $180,000 City of Stuart bond validation suit in circuit court before Judge C. Pfeiffer Trowbridge last Friday afternoon. The issue will be used for street construction and maintenance and has the backing of the city's franchise tax paid by Florida Power and Light Company.

City Manager Joe N. Crowder, under questioning by City Atty. T. T. Oughterson, testified that the tax return nets over $20,000 a year and will increase in the future.

No ad valorem taxes are involved in the backing of the bond issue, which has already been assigned to Leedy, Wheeler and Aleman, Orlando bond house, at 3 1/2 per cent interest maturing in 15 years.

The matter will rest for 20 days pending any possible appeal and then the bonds will be issued.

The Orlando bonding firm offered a purchase program in April offering to take the entire issue when validated.

Yield will be $970 per $1,000 bond, with interest at 3 3/4 per cent for the first ten years and 4 1/4 per cent for the last five years ending in 1979.

The funds are to be used for maintenance topping of existing city streets, some of which have already been done, plus an assessment street building project to cost over $100,000.

Dickerson, Inc., was low bidder on the entire project.

Maurice Powers, local builder and co-owner of Jensen Beach lanes, was reportedly stricken with a heart attack on Tuesday morning.

He was in critical condition at Martin Memorial Hospital Tuesday evening.

after 10:30 p. m. last Monday night, Wacha and four other commissioners were trying to get Sheriff Roy C. Baker to cut $12,754 from his budget to bring it to $201,101, $20,000 higher than it was last year.

Baker said he wanted to add full time deputies to the south county border areas and a third deputy in Indiantown, and he said he couldn't see how he could do it with any cut in the $213,764 budget he presented.

The commission, by law, can urge the sheriff to cut, but cannot do the cutting. Baker promised to review the budget before the next meeting.

There were some surprises in the session.

The Committee of 100, which had been promised $10,000 for each of three years, and then received nothing, was given $7,500 after Lester M. Combs, newly named president of the committee, told the commission that the committee was a bulwark against smoking stacks in that it was screening industry here.

The Martin County Golf and Country Club prevailed on the board to give it $17,000, a cut of $4,000 from previous budgets when Ed Higbee said no more requests would be made after this year.

Requests for increases in the museums budget got no where, will remain as last year; the same happened in the public library budget, in spite of an appeal requested by Richard Hupfel. "We won't get state funds this year," he said. Wacha reminded Hupfel that his board agreed last year to grow with the county and accept a .26 mill return each year. Hupfel agreed to take it that way.

An attempt made by Juvenile Judge Evans Crary Jr. to get a part time assistant apparently failed. Other parts of the judge's budget remained relatively close to the 1963 figures.

A request for $2,500 for the public defender, an increase of $1,000 over last year's share by this county, was referred to the state legislature.

County Agent Levi M. Johnson was given a $400 raise to bring his pay in line with other county department heads. It will be $5,200 in the future.

School Board Sets Budget At 4.7 Mills

Martin County's school board adopted a tentative budget last Monday night which will decrease the millage levy of the board by four mills, or .7 of a mill less than the decrease the board promised last year.

Working at a budget session in the court room at the same time the school board was meeting, county commissioners expressed alarm that the school board did not keep a promise made last year to reduce the exact amount increased, which came to 4.7 mills.

As adopted by the board, the school department tentative budget for support and maintenance was at $2,394,136; for interest and sinking funds, $9,423.46; and bond construction, $137,725.57.

An additional .05 mill was adopted as the Taxing District No. 3 levy. District 3 covers most of the southeaster part of the county.

In other business the board:

ACCEPTED an offer made by Charles Kindred on behalf of seven civic or governmental groups to improve the pond in front of Stuart Junior High.

The Garden Club of Stuart, the Martin County Audubon Society, Izaak Walton League chapter, Junior Conservation Club, U. S. Soil Conservation Service, city, county and the St. Lucie—Indian Rivers Restoration League, made the offer to install ten-inch barra cotta pipe to control draining water, to dig a well, to maintain a water level at from three to four feet in the pond and to stabilize the banks by plantings of fern, wedalia and bahia grass.

The pond will be stocked with bream in October and black bass next April under the program.

No Reason Given

Inlet Access Shut Off By Seminole Shores

The big iron gates at Seminole Shores belonging to James Rand-Tuscbay Properties, Inc., Falmouth, Ltd., are again closed.

Previously, they were closed and locked only at night, allowing people to pass during the day.

They were closed and locked July 3, and they are being opened only to members of the cabana club near the Rand Ocean Pier.

No one is being admitted to the "members only" posted area.

Whether the property owners are fearing an easement to their property, or are just being that way for reasons of their own, is not known.

The locking of the gates came at a time when the county commission was making an effort to obtain access across the Rand land to Sailfish Point, where the Charles H. Bradshaw interests want to build a $20,000,000 housing, yacht, and golf club development.

Richard C. Gesner of Fort Lauderdale who is representing the Bradshaw lands, asked the commission in May if it would intercede to permit the project to proceed.

At that time, the iron gates were being locked only at night-time hours. During daylight, the general public was permitted to go through the gates on payment of a private toll levied by multi-millionaire Rand.

Fees ran from a dime for a pedestrian to a quarter for a car and two occupants, with extra rates for added passengers.

Most of those who paid the levy wanted to fish from the Sun Parlor wall at the west extremity of the deserted marina development, from the ocean pier, or wanted to walk approximately a mile to the St. Lucie jetty to fish.

Usual spokesmen for Rand interests here could not be reached for official comment. Manager Clifton Perry is on vacation and out of town.

The locked gates also keep another taxpayer from reaching his beach property, Warner B. Tilton Sr, who owns a pie-shaped piece of beach and shore property south of Rand's development.

The Seminole Shores gates have been in the news for years.

The county lost a right-of-way suit to Tuscbay Properties, Inc., for instance, and Falmouth Ltd., of which Rand calls himself the "adviser," in U. S. Federal district court in Miami and also lost an appeal to the decision in New Orleans U. S. Court of Appeals the next year.

The gates were an issue. Judge Emett C. Choate refused to hear the case because Martin County did not pay cash for the right-of-way to the tip of Hutchinson Island.

His ruling was given in about a minute in a four minute hearing. He dismissed the case with prejudice.

Edward O. Denison of Fort Pierce represented the county, both at Miami and at New Orleans. Denison said most of the right-of-way in Florida in the early days was not paid for.

The Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund forced Tuscbay to remove transvers (cross bracing) on the Rand Ocean pier because they barred access of the public to the beach.

The IIF filed suit in 1961 and asked that it be dismissed in October of that year, when Richard W. Ervin, then attorney general, called the modifications made at the pelr sufficient to permit beach traffic to move north and south along the beach.

Concrete block walls the width of the island bar access by land, except at the high iron gates.

But access has not been possible to the south part of the island under the pier.

Cross members were removed to far into the ocean, and sand filled in under the shore-end of the pier.

As of last week, it was impossible to move a vehicle under the pier in either direction.

Cooking School Plans Moving Ahead Rapidly

Plans for the Jensen Beach Mirror Cooking School moved along at a rapid rate this week, as officials of the planned two-day session conferred with Dick Campbell, editor of the Mirror and sponsor of the school.

Dick Prince, Swift and Company executive, of Tampa, began outlining the meat cutting demonstration, which will take half of the two hour program planned for July 30 and 31 at the Community Center in Jensen Beach.

At the same time, Betty Stewart, Florida Power and Light home service representative, was setting up the activities for the cooking half of the show.

Many prizes and gifts will be given to the ladies attending the cooking school. Groceries, meats and cooking utinsels, irons and other household appliances are being donated by local and area merchants to the prize list.

The prize list, as well as full details of the cooking show will be in the Mirror next week, and a grand door prize will be announced at that time.

Seven Ton Gift Package
House Of Refuge Receives Navy Department Gift

Approximately seven tons of U. S. Navy material arrived last week for the House of Refuge Museum as a gift of the Navy Department.

Selected almost two years ago by Stephen Schmidt, director of the county's museums, the long awaited shipment included two 1,000 pound anchors, chain heavy enough to anchor the House of Refuge to Hutchinson Island, the cast iron picket gate to some "National Cemetery" and many other hard-to-get and very hard to place items, even for a museum.

Capt. W. P. Laughon, USN (Ret), who now lives in Sewall's Point, met with Schmidt to arrange the gift.

This was before the Cuban crisis.

"We walked up and down bins in the Naval Gun Factory at Washington and I tagged items I thought we could display here," Schmidt said.

He added that he hadn't tagged a set of battleship signal flags that arrived in the shipment.

"We could wrap the House in each flag," he explained.

THE Cuban crisis delayed delivery, which was to be at the convenience of the Navy.

There are sextants and other navigation instrumends and tools, six boxes of history books that cover U. S. Navy, U. S. Marine Corps and U. S. Army history for over a century.

"We are sorting things out now," Schmidt said. "We'll certainly set up special displays of various categories, including the navigation instruments, telescopes and binoculors," he said.

Asked to what use the heavy anchor chain would be put, the director replied, "Well, there's this tremendous flag, yellow with a red cross on it..."

"That's the signal flag for the letter R, Roger," he was told.

"That's it," he replied. Roger and out."

Steve Bishop, who retired from his position as caretaker of the House of Refuge to get married, returned to substitute for Bill Alloway, the new caretaker.

Bishop is spending his honeymoon at the House. He and his new wife are sorting out anchor chains and signal flags and sextants and history books and heavy hemp line and small anchors and...

The spiked cast iron gate on which the letters in cast iron state "National Cemetery," does not need any sorting. There's only one gate.

Don Johnson Honored With Surprise Birthday Party

Anchorage Yacht Club members held a surprise Birthday Party for Don Johnson, manager of the Yacht Club marina, on Saturday evening last week in the club dining room.

Master of ceremonies Dick Campbell assisted Don in opening some gifts before some 50 club members and their guests.

Stuart Commission Program Praised

The Stuart City Commission was the subject of praise from the Stuart Chamber of Commerce last week.

In a letter from Chamber president M. R. (Ronny) Nelson sent to the city commission, the board cited the removal of the parking meters and new street lights downtown, the rapidly moving U. S. 1 highway beautification and the street paving accomplished in various areas.

"All of these things are of prime importance in making our community a better place in which to live and make a living," Nelson said in his letter.

Nelson stated that the board of directors of the Chamber had "voted unanimously to commend the commission" adding that the Chamber "sincerely appreciate your active program."

Oliver Sweetman Is Praised By Grateful Neighbors

Oliver B. Sweetman was the subject of praise for providing a community service last week.

A letter to the Mirror indicated that the residents of Sharp Road wanted "to thank Oliver b. sweetman for his unselfish and unrewarded job of covering Sharp Road with crushed shell."

According to the neighbors, Ollie carried shells in his jeep and shoveled them into holes in the road day after day, sometimes covering the entire road. They said that it "effected a tremendous saving in house cleaning for us and preservation of furniture and drapes."

The grateful neighbors were Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Bussert, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Fitten, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. William Klim, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Palmer.

BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF MARTIN COUNTY, FLORIDA

By Frank A. Wacha, Chairman

ATTEST:

Dorothy Pierce, Clerk

County Commission

Fair Association Will Build New Display Building

The Martin County commission agreed to deed 11 lots in the old Golden Gate subdivision to the Martin County Fair Association to permit them to obtain matching funds with which to construct another newbuilding at the fair grounds.

The lots lie along the railroad track inside the fenced fair grounds.

Recently, the fair directors voted to seek from the Department of Agriculture $10,000 to match association funds, to build the fifth new permanent building in about five years.

Commissioner J. H. Bruner made the motion, seconded by Commissioner Jack Saunderson, to approve the transaction, which will contain a reversionary clause.

Commissioner Jack Williamson reported that the privately financed bridge to cross C-23 canal and the county line between St. Lucie and Martin Counties, at Allapattah Road, known as Glades Cut off Road in St. Lucie County, were available and that construction would go ahead soon.

The bridge, plans showed, will be 176 feet, 2 inches long, 25 feet, 8 inches wide, and will span the water at a height of about ten feet.

The bridge will cost an estimated $33,000. The commission granted permission necessary prior to building the bridge, as asked by the Area Development Council of St. Lucie County.

In other business, the commission:

HEARD a discussion of motor vehicle speeding in Palm City, heard Bell report that a SRD study is being made of traffic problems on SR 714.

HEARD a report for the SRD District 4 engineer, Clarence E. Davidson, that the SRD is making extensive repairs on Palm City bridge, will make an engineering study of a future new bridge location at some indefinite date in the future.

NAMED Capt. W. R. Laughon, Sewall's Point, to replace the late Clark Shepard on the museum commission.

HEARD a brief argument over the ommission of a $4,800 wall charge from the county's suit against Hideaway Isles in which Miller claimed the amount should be included and Tooker said it should not, as uncollectible.

AGREED to construct county road markers or monuments with legend MC-R/W to place on newly surveyed county rights-of-way, at suggestion by Williamson, who pointed to SRD-R/W markers used by state as example.

AGREED to re-advertise for leveling course surfacing for court house parking lot in absence of any bids as sought for this meeting.

HEARD Williamson introduce Timer Powers, commissioner designate, District 5.

HEARD Wacha report on sad news that former County Commissioner Seymour Gideon had died.

WELCOMED a group of Jensen Beach Girl Scouts, in uniform, to meeting.

DIRECTED the county attorney to look into possibility of recovering $195.30, state auditor recommended county collect from Ralph Ward, in recent audit.

Fishing Is Good All Around County

Big bonita, medium sized kings and a lot of cobia are hanging around the St. Lucie Inlet jetty and the sea buoy. They run from there on out into the Gulf stream.

Kings, dolphin, amberjack and bonita seem to like the six mile reef and so do the sails, from there again to the Gulfstream, which has been staying about nine and ten miles out.

Sails were jumping at six miles offshore on the weekend, but the takers were at the edge of the stream, where the water is making a change in temperature.

Spanish mackerel schools were in and out of the inlet on odd tides lately, and blues in the same areas, but they have been sort of unpredictable.

Snook, blues, channel bass and their companions can be found in the surf, the snook and channel bass, plus sea trout in the Indian River, all over the Crossroads area, and in the Hole in the Wall. These sea trout have been running up the Indian River too, and snook are particularly good in the area between Bay Tree Lodge and the marker north of the St. Lucie Bridge.

Fishing is good again this week, particularly fun for the smaller craft offshore on calm days.

Tentative School Budget Down 4.35 Mills For '65

Martin County school board members and Superintendent of Schools Thomas L. Crook were making estimates (with fingers crossed) that the school's mill-age levy would drop almost as much this year as it increased last year as final budget-time in the school department neared last week.

At a budget session Friday afternoon, Crook came up with a tentative estimate of 7.5 mills for the 1964-65 levy, compared to the 1963-64 levy of 11.85 mills.

Last year's budget increased 4.7 mills over the 1962-63 budget due to the heavy construction program, and board members said flatly that it was a one-year jump which would be dropped this year.

Crook's figures, as given to the board Friday, actually show a cut of 4.35 mills, but adjustments may be made before the tentative budget is published.

The roll, on which levy estimates were based, has not yet been "equalized and accepted," by the county commission, so the exact value of a mill is not yet known.

There may be further adjustments in the actual budgeted figures, too, according to Crook.

Henry G. Kindred, chairman of the board, said Friday he was satisfied the board had carried out its promise to cut the millage back to near the previous levy after the one year jump.

Frank DeStefano said he felt more should be budgeted for new sites, in the new budget, and the figure yet may be changed. In so far, is $30,000.

The entire capital outlay account totaled $324,347, a drop of over $400,000 from last year's budgeted figure.

Included in this year's budget are funds to complete Carver Gardens Junior-Senior High, at a cost of about $70,000, plus $10,865 for adjustments on last year's Port Salerno elementary project.

Landscaping and site improvement at Martin County High School in the budget was set at $10,000, new buses, $12,000, and a tractor and truck, $5,000.

Also budgeted are funds for 11 new classrooms, including three at Port Salerno, three at Dunbar, two at Booker Park and three at Warfield, plus an administrative suite.

Total budgeted for new classrooms was $145,000.

There were adjustments, both up and down, throughout the budget. Total administrative costs increased from $50,672 to $57,227 from last year to the new, tentative budget.

Instruction costs increased. The new staff will include 183 teachers, six principals, two supervisors, and 11 others, including librarians, for a total of 202.

The instruction budget will increase $124,454 over that paid out last year, but $159,228 over that budgeted last year, with an expected budget figure of $1,227,383 in 1964-65.

State participation will increase as well, Crook pointed out. Reported for the new year was $981,000.

This included $611,000 for instruction, $32,000 for transportation and $23,000 for capital outlay, $44,000 for current expenses and $50,340 withholding for SBE bonds.

Racetrack funds budgeted for the year will go up, from $87,500 to $95,000; textbook funds from the state from $11,900 to $15,400; state sales tax distributions from $94,500 to $102,000, and boat tax, new this coming year, $3,000.

The school maintenance budget will increase, from $66,510.32 spent to $70,000 budgeted. Last year, $50,000 was budgeted.

Pupil transportation budgeted last year was $85,000; $94,182.08 was spent, but for the coming year, $90,000 was budgeted. Fewer bus purposes account for the difference.

The carry over of funds from last year's budget amounted to about $459,000, Crook said, with $211,000 of it obligated already, for a net carry over of $248,000.

The board will have another session on the budget at its Monday night regular meeting

INSURANCE TIPS

BY RICK CARROLL

Recently I went shopping and parked my car unattended. When I returned from shopping, the seat of my car was smouldering. When we put the fire out we found the remains of a cigarette in the hole. I do not smoke so assume that someone maliciously tossed the cigarette on the seat. Does my auto insurance policy cover this?

If you carry comprehensive coverage on your auto it will cover this as either vandalism or fire and there is generally no deductible on comprehensive coverage.

Recently I had a pool party at my house and one of the guests tripped and scratched his leg on the edge of the pool. Is he covered under my homeowner's policy?

Most homeowner's policies will pay for the medical payments to treat the guest up to $500. If you are liable for the damages the insurance company will pay up to $25,000 in judgments plus all court costs.

Lobsters And Marine Life Are Discovered Invading Upper Reaches Of Indian River

Ross Witham Terms Evidence Changes Concept Of Habitat

By Dick Campbell

The article below is the result of a casual conversation between Mirror editor Dick Campbell and V.V.Wortham, well known and long time resident of Jensen Beach. Wortham mentioned that fishermen from Salerno and Jensen Beach were finding lobster and shellfish in greater numbers up the Indian River and the St. Lucie River than there have been in years. Also, according to Wortham, fishermen have been seeing the migration of salt water fish and shellfish as signs of a rebirth of the Indian and St. Lucie Rivers. Oldtimers look back to the days before the deluge from the Okeechobee Waterway, when the rivers had grassy bottoms filled with fish of all kinds ready for the catching off the old Jensen Beach bridge, and fishermen could look down into bright and clear waters and see their quarry.

I ran into Ross Witham in the bank, and asked him if I might accompany him on an expedition. I explained the nature of my quest, to see if the past two years of drought in South Florida had allowed the flushing tide of the Atlantic Ocean to clean out some of the silt deposited during rainy seasons by the runoff of water from Lake Okeechobee through the St. Lucie Canal.

Witham explained that he had known that some of the shellfish and salt water fish had been moving more into the river, and he added that he had found small lobster as far north as Joe's Point in the Indian River. The point is between the two causeways.

The scientist also said that some oysters were being found at low tide in the canals in North River Shores.

For many years, it has been unheard of to find the shellfish and salt-water marine life up those two rivers, for the discharge of the St. Lucie Canal of fresh water had cut the salinity of the water down to a point that it was impossible for the particular marine life to exist in that environment. But for the past two years there has been little or no discharge of fresh water through the canal, and the salinity of the water has risen to a comfortable level for the marine life and the shellfish, as well as some of the salt water fish.

Ross Witham picked me up at the Jensen Beach Causeway pier, and we were soon off on our way. The 20 foot runabout, with a 90 horsepower Evinrude outboard motor, whispered quietly through the early afternoon ripples on the Indian River. We went first to a point a quarter mile north of the Jensen Causeway, where Ross nosed the boat into the shallows, near a mangrove grouping of roots in the water.

Throwing out an anchor, Witham took a three-foot square net over the side of the boat, and waded to the roots of the mangrove. Lifting up the root, he broke off sections and brought the mass back to the boat.

Halfway back to the boat, Witham said, "Here's one here. This is something." He was as excited as any scientist can get who has made an important discovery. We had planned to go to various points along the lower part of the river, but those plans changed immediately. Witham decided to check further along the river.

The first netting produced two small lobster, about three inches long, several small stone crabs, sea squirts attached to the root, bryazoa (a sea-fan looking animal), tube worms, small shrimp and a hermit crab. It was exciting to see Witham breaking open the groupings of sea squirts to find the various forms of sea marine life in the midst of the root. A small lobster backed out of a root held by Witham and scampered off across the net, only to be caught by Witham and plopped into a container with sea water and formal-by Witham and plopped into a container with sea water and formaldehyde. All the other specimins from the net went into the same container, along with some of the root and any grasses attached, for later inspection.

Witham then tested the salinity of the water, and found a reading of 33.5 parts per thousand of salt. The temperature was recorded at 31 degrees centigrade, or 84 degrees Farenheit.

"This is the first time that we have found the lobster north of the Jensen Causeway" he said as we pulled anchor. "Let's go up north of here and see if they have moved on up the river."

We headed to a point just south of Nettles Island, or two miles north of the causeway. Witham got out of the boat and again tried getting specimins of the marine life. He came back empty-handed this time, and asked me to ease the boat along the shoreline in a north direction until some likely roots were seen.

"Pull in here." Inosed the boat into the cove under the point of Nettles Island and cut the engine as we moved up to a mangrove root cluster. Ross hopped out of the boat and waded with his net to the root. Putting it on the river bottom, he reached over and pulled the root in'o the net, breaking off some of the root, and then moved on to the next root.

"There is another." he said, and I knew that we had really found something important. He came back to the boat and removed most of the specimins and put them in a bottle. Two lobster, each larger than the previous ones made Witham exclaim, "The large ones are up the river. That is interesting. We haven't found any of the small, transparent ones up here."

When asked the meaning of the large young lobster that far up the river, Ross explained that the lobsters must be able to control its migration as it becomes larger. He estimated that the ones we had found were about one year old.

"I found a lot of the small, transparent ones at the inlet this morning. We still don't know if they grow here, or if they just spend their early life here and migrate to sea and other places.

"This discovery proves that the lobster are throughout the Indian River, and they must be all the way up to Fort Pierce," Witham said.

It has always been the conception that lobster is a sea dwelling shellfish that stayed in the ocean, but the studies being carried on by Witham through the Public Health Foundation, a private group, are proving otherwise.

Ross said that he would re-

LOBSTER'S DISCOVERED-- A small lobster, true. It doesn't even look like too much, but marine scientist Ross Witham became very excited over the migration of lobsters and marine life back up the Indian River when he discovered them north of the Jensen Beach Causeway.

Gulf Plans Island Cable

Southern Gulf Utilities, Inc. of Miami, now installing the water system on Sewall's Point, has applied to the U.S. Corps of Engineers for a permit to place a 12-inch submarine water main in and across the Intracoastal Waterway channel in the Indian River between Sewall's Point and Hutchinson Island.

The main would be buried in a trench at a minimum depth of 18-feet below mean low water at the channel for a distance of about 218 feet. Elsewhere, the main would be attached to the bridge across the waterway.

Protests or comments regarding the application should be submitted to the Engineers at Jacksonville in time to be received on or before August 4, according to Col. H.R. Parfitt, district engineer.

Locally, it is believed there is no likelihood of protest.

...ounty Moves To Close Deeds
...n Rio-Jensen Access Road

The Martin County Commission moved this week to begin the signing of deeds for rights-of-way along the two and one-half mile "Rio-Jensen Access Road." Tommy Hellier, who has been assigned to assist county engineer Fred Bell with acquisition of rights-of-way, will handle the personal contact with property owners along the route.

Looking up from a desk piled with maps, charts, deeds, letters, and 101 other bits of information relating to many local projects in the works by the county, Hellier told the Mirror that the road was "progressing well", and added that the county could not proceed with the road until the deeds were signed.

Designed to relieve some of the congestion on A-1-A—707 in Jensen Beach and Rio, and to open the entire area west of the Florida East Coast Railroad tracks to development in the county, the road satisfies proponents of two routes.

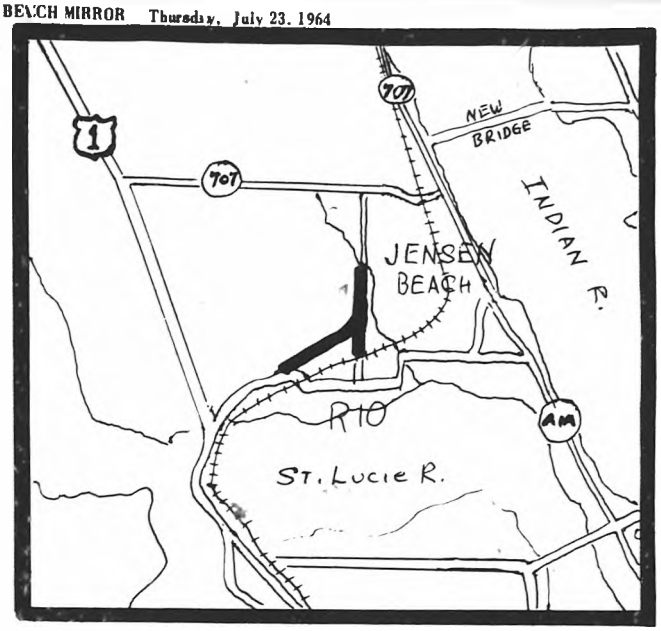
Savanna Road, heading south off the Jensen Cutoff Road (Commercial Street) presently ends at Warner Creek. The new road would extend that to Rio. A bridge will be built to cross the creek and the road would follow the section line to a point 500 feet from the tracks.

At that point, the road would veer to the west, and a junction would be established, with one road set due south to cross the F. E. C. tracks and connect with Martin Boulevard in Rio, and the other road continuing to curve west to connect with 707 at the point where a road to Northwood Subdivision comes into the highway, thus avoiding a crossing of the tracks.

If all deeds are signed, Hellier stated that the clearing for the road could be done within a year.

When asked if any contact had been made for the 50-foot right-of-way for sidewalks along Indian River Drive from Commmercial Street to the bridges at Jensen Causeway, Hellier, who owns property along the route, said that the rights-of-way for that project would have to follow several projects lying on his desk at this time. He said that he would "get on it right away... as soon as I get some of this done."

The exasperated Tommy Hellier looked back at the desk, still piled high with work. Commissioner Jack Williamson walked up and said, "Now Tommy, about the rights-of-way for Fox Brown Road..."



NEW ROAD—The extension of Savanna Road, called Rio—Jensen Access Road, is shown above in heavy black line. The new link in travel will be 2 1/4 miles long.

FISHING FOR A LIVING—One of many trawlers operating around the Martin County area demonstrates vividly the reason so many people who like to fish come to Jensen Beach and the Martin County area. Fish are prevalent, even to pay for commercial operations, in these areas.

Waterway Is Up In Tonnage

Waterborne commerce on the Okeechobee Waterway increased in 1963 for the second year in a row, according to a report issued by the U.S. Army Engineer District at Jacksonville.

The waterway carried 404,555 short tons of commerce in 1963 calendar year, the report said, compared to 351,947 short tons in 1962.

Last year's statistics showed tonnage in 1961 was 304,391 short tons. Last year's figures credited 123,166 tons as intrawaterway, indicating use of both the East Coast and West Coast intracoastal waterways in trips involved.

Inbound traffic totaled 230,830 tons; outbound, 38,731; north or east-bound, 2,675 and south or west-bound, 9,153 tons.

The intracoastal waterway to Miami from Jacksonville which meets the Okeechobee Waterway at the Crossroads of the St. Lucie and Indian Rivers, carried 692, 197 short tons, also an increase over 1962, when 612,904 tons were listed.

The Okeechobee Waterway was fourth among the waterways of the state, but improved its position in relation to the top route, in that the Atlantic Intracoastal waterway from Fernandina Harbor and the St. Johns River, which carried 881,602 tons in 1962, dropped to 686,252 tons in 1963.

St. Lucie Inlet, among the listed ports, showed a decrease in commercial tonnage compared to 1962.

Jacksonville harbor was second with 8,220,899, also lower than in 1963, while Port Everglade was third. Palm Beach harbor was well down the list, but showed a substantial increase of 1962 tonnage.

Fort Pierce, with 115,181 for 1963, showed an increase over 1962, when it was credited with 76,991 tons.

Of the smaller inlets, only Cedar Keys, with 933; Eau Gallie, with 105 and Melbourne, with 102, carried less commerce than St. Lucie Inlet.

Petroleum products accounted for the bulk of the tonnages in all harbors and waterways except for Tampa and Charlotte Harbor, where fertilizer chemicals and phosphate rock added to the totals considerably.

port his findings to the director of research at the State Board of Conservation. He added that they are planning a preliminary research report to be published soon.

As the boat returned to the Jensen Beach Causeway, Witham kept repeating, "This is a very important discovery". He said that the higher degree of salinity would send the tarpon and fresh water fish further up the St. Lucie River, and that soon local fishermen would be able to find the fishing of the "old days" right back in their rivers.

"But what if the rains come, and we have another flood from the St. Lucie Canal," I asked Witham reported that the South Florida Flood Control had already taken care of that, and heavy rains would be diverted through canals into the gigantic storage areas in Broward and Dade Counties, west and northwest of Miami.

Fishermen have a bright future insured through the efforts of men like Ross Witham, dedicated to scientific research to help our economy and our sport fishing.

Real Estate Title Facts

TITLE FACTS

THAT EVERYONE KNOWS—

- Real estate title risks multiply by the transactions added to the record each passing generation and the modern day value of land and cost of improvements have put a formidable price tag on the self-insurance of these hazards.
- Informed investors and lenders recognize and insist on Title Insurance as the only effective protection against these risks inherent in Real Estate Titles.
- The insured title is the only sure title as distinguished from reliance on self-insurance based on an opinion of the condition of the title.
- Title Security Company is a full-time Title Insurance Agency representing Lawyers Title Insurance Corporation of Richmond, Virginia and maintaining its own Martin County Title record plant.
- Lawyers Title Insurance Corporation of Richmond, Virginia with some $32,000,000 in assets is one of the largest insurance companies specializing in the coverage of real estate title risks.
- Public Records are the basis of abstract and, of course, are permanent and can be copied at any future time that an insured should find some unusual need for an abstract.
- Quicker closing of real estate transactions mean sooner realization of proceeds to sellers or borrowers, a sooner interest earning status for Mortgage lenders, and a quicker in-the-pocket realization by brokers of their earned commission.

TITLE FACTS

THAT YOU SHOULD INVESTIGATE BEFORE YOU DEAL

- The modern full-time title insurance agency maintains its own complete title record plant and does not require in each case a copying of Public Records into the old fashioned abstract for purposes of determining title and insurability.
- Only the underwriter agency for title insurance, who maintains no title plant facilities, requires and must be furnished the traditional "abstract or its equivalent" as a basis for title policy issue.
- Title insurability can be determined by Title Security Company in most cases within two to four working days so that the parties to a transaction and their counsel then know where they stand title-wise and can proceed to an early closing on the basis of a firm title insurance binder.

Beachcomber's Club Formed At Museum

The newly formed Family Beachcombers Club met last Saturday, July 18, at the House of Refuge museum and hiked south along the beach to collect a great variety of interesting items. Participating in the first outing were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heagy, Mrs. L.C. Rights and three children, Mrs. Philip, Mr. Elmer Goebel, Mr. H.W. Newsome, and museum director Stephen Schmidt.

On display in the Marine Biology hall at the House of Refuge museum is an exhibit of some of the collections which includes shells, conglomerate rocks, a variety of seaweeds and shore plants, iron spikes from wrecks, turtle shells and bones. Discussions about the turtle nesting and the limestone reef and beach construction were informative especially on location.

The next meeting of the family Beachcombers Club will take place at the Elliott Museum on Saturday, July 25, at 9:00 a.m. The group will hike south along the shore to the House of Refuge. Everyone is welcome to join the club. There are no dues to pay, however each individual should bring along his own collection pail or net. The club is open to all ages, with the one restriction that all children under 12 should be accompanied by an adult.

1,196 Students In Summer School

In the summer school of the Martin County school system's program which ended last Friday, students spent 57,475 hours in classrooms, or at play in outdoor activities.

Enrollment in all classes totaled 1,515, with 1,196 individuals actually participating.

479 students took courses in reading and arithmetic; Instrumental music drew 130 students; 111 students took part in the hiking-camping program; 89 students spent 8,636 hours in the academic program which included chemistry, biology, algebra I and II, general math, general and physical science, physics, english and world history. Typing drew 45 students.

Jack Smouse, general co-ordinator of the project, said thanks were due to the Red Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Schrock of Sunrise Inn for the use of the swimming pool, Mrs. D. Artz of Rio for a boat and man to patrol the sailing activities one day a week, and the U.S. Coast Guard lifeboat station crew at Fort Pierce, which patrolled for the sailboat courses on another day of the classes each week.

Legion Post Plans Air-Conditioner

Several new projects were endorsed by the Jensen Beach American Legion Post 126, at their meeting Monday, July 13. It was decided to purchase an air-conditioner for the new recreation building. This installation will be of the reverse cycle type.

Jack Smouse, the committee chairman, reported on obtaining and installing a sign marking the Legion Post location which can be seen from Rt. 707A.

A committee was appointed to see what could be done about clearing and landscaping grounds around the Post Home. Another project of community service by the Post members, that of raising and lowering the American flag on the Jensen Beach Causeway, was begun on June 23, and has continued through the efforts of Ed Snyder, Jack Lucas, Jack Smouse, Wm. St. Clair and Gene Grimm. More of the post members are volunteering their services for this project as they return from their vacations.

The next meeting of the Legion Post will be Monday, July 27, at 8:00 p.m.

$5,000 Cut

Sheriff Baker Reduces Budget As County Plans 1964-65

Sheriff Roy C. Baker, in an effort to cooperate with the county commission and other departments in county government trying to hold millage at or lower than last year's levy, has voluntarily cut his budget by $5,000.

Baker had asked approval of a $213,764 budget which called for two new deputies, one for the south county line area and one for Indiantown and western Martin County.

County commission chairman Frank Wacha, fighting to hold the millage line, asked Baker to cut $12,754 from the total, saying other cuts could be found which would result in a levy by the commission the same as last year.

Baker said he had eliminated special training courses for deputies, as well as the hope of a boat to use on the newly acquired Lake Okeechobee lakefront, by cutting $5,000 in his budget.

The commission has no direct control over the sheriff and can only ask or suggest.

In the event the commission felt that the sheriff was illegally out of line in asking a high budget, the board could appeal to Tallahassee to order a cut. Such a move in the current budget setting period is not likely. It was felt that the school board severely weakened the tactical position of the commission in that it promised to the public and the commission that it would have one year of extremely high increase, to be followed by a cut back to the limit of the increase.

The board failed to carry out its promise, increased 4.7 mills last year, but cut back only 4 mills this year in the budget advertised.

The failure to cut, in effect, discounts the normal growth factor in the value of a mill and adds another $85,000 to the budget, over and above the county's normal growth factor.

A favorable, but not offsetting factor, is the expected cut of a quarter-mill in the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District budget.

Baker, in discussing the cut in his budget, said the commission had guaranteed him that in the event of emergency, it would see that he got the funds needed to take whatever measures necessary at the time.

Other areas in which a cut might be made prior to final adoption of the budget early next month include some or all of the $7,500 earmarked for the Committee of 100; some or all of the $25,000 tentatively budgeted for jail addition and some or all of the $30,000 tentatively included for additional court house construction.

Two of the five members of the commission are completely opposed to giving the Committee of 100 any more funds.

The board promised to give $10,000 a year for three years, did just that, then was asked to give another year, although at a lesser rate, $8,000.

Over the strong objections of Commissioner Jack Saunderson and Ed Miller, the donation was set at $7,500.

The golf and country club was given $17,000 when Ed Higbee said there would be no more requests after this year.

An unusual harpsichcord has been added to the musical collection of the Stephen Foster Memorial. The instrument was built in Ohio

Islands Made Available To Public

All spoil islands created by the deepening and widening of the Intracoastal Waterway channel in Martin County from the Crossroads of the Indian and St. Lucie rivers north to the St. Lucie county line have been made available for the exclusive use by the public for recreation and protection of wildlife, according to an announcement by County Engineer Fred Bell.

Bell made the announcement after receiving an answer to his letter to Herman Schull, Jr., general manager of the Florida Inland Navigation District, asking that the islands be made available to the public.

Schull said neither FIND or the U.S. Corps of Engineers had any objection to use of the islands by the public subject to the easements held by both entities.

In the event use of the islands for further disposal of dredged material, Schull said, the county would have to remove any improvements which might interfere with disposal operations, and at its own cost. The plan is subject to approval by the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund.

One of the islands has been made into a South Sea Island type recreation area by the Rotary Club of Stuart. A thatched roof hut and other facilities have been erected.

Similar developments of a low cost nature are in the planning stage for more of the islands, which are also a natural refuge area for the least tern.

SUNLIGHT BENEFICIAL, BUT . . .

The sun has a stimulating and beneficial effect on the human body. The tissues of person exposed to plenty of outdoor sunlight appear in better condition than do those on whom the ultraviolet rays of the sun seldom fall. Sunlight also seems to have good effect on the tone and vigor of the muscles, including the muscles of the intestinal tract and the heart.

The powerful invigorating property of the sun, although it is 93 million miles away, has a tone effect on the entire human body, giving a feeling of well-being and buoyancy. Following pleasant sunbaths, the nervous system is more at ease and even the mind seems stimulated. Sunlight produces many wholesome responses in the human organism. Proper exposure to the sun may increase the general metabolism, improve sleep and appetite, raise resistance to bacterial infections and "tone up" the blood.

As with many other good things, too much sun can do much harm. Overexposure to sunlight can cause painful and serious injury to the skin.

...00 Days To Complete

...A1A Contract Is Awarded For Four Miles

...L STARS--Selected to represent the Stuart-Jensen Elks on the All Star team playing little league ...m Sprague, first base, E.G. Wood, catcher and Steve Means, second base. In the center is Elks ...ager, Frank Wacha.

Plans to complete the St. Lucie County end of A1A, the seacoast route, got a boost this week as the contract to construct the first four mile extension was given to Hendry Corporation, a Gulf Coast contractor, for the sum of $536,000. The contractor has 200 days to complete the four mile stretch south of Fort Pierce.

Hopes for the completion of the road were boosted as SRD division engineer Clarence Davidson announced that the final portion of six miles to connect in Jensen Beach would be awarded in September. He estimated that the second portion would be completed by late summer of 1965.

With plans already under way to complete the Jensen Beach Bridge across to Hutchinson Island in summer of 1965, prospects for an end to travel problems on the major state roads serving our area looked even brighter.

Work on the first project, the four mile stretch south, will begin "shortly" according to a spokesman for the SRD. The firm has 16 days before work has to be begun.

Plans for the last six miles of road are still on the drawing boards, but John Monahan, state road board member, has repeatedly said that the road would be under contract before his term in office is past this fall.

W.B. Tilton, Sr., Jensen Beach realtor who represents some of the larger property owners in the area to be passed by the road, said it was wonderful. In the quest for the development of the island, Tilton said, this will be one of the best moves we have had. Now we can get to work.

Frank A. Wacha, chairman of the Martin County Commission, and one of the advocates of the completion of the road, said, "We are certainly proud that our sister county, St. Lucie County, has pushed ahead with this project. Cooperation between our counties will continue to help us grow."

Publix Construction To Start Soon

Bids on a $250,000 Publix super market building were opened at Palm Beach last week.

The market building will be built in the Stuart Shopping Center area, at the intersection of Palm City Road and U.S. 1.

Specifications call for immediate start on a building 132 by 138 feet, with a parking lot of 100,000 square feet.

Firebrand Gasoline of Palm Beach, of which Daniel Udell is the principal, owns the Stuart Shopping Center buildings.

Bell Bugged; Slams Skeeters

A new, full scale crash program to fog mosquitoes out of Martin County was announced by county engineer Fred Bell at the county commission meeting this week.

The new fogging machine just purchased by the county will be augmented by a rental machine to be delivered this week.

For wider coverage, two machines which have been used on one jeep for some time, will be split and placed on two jeeps.

Under the crash program, which is just getting underway, two machines capable of fogging 120 gallons of spray per minute will be used in the urban areas and northeastern parts of the county.

One machine will cover from St. Lucie River north to the county line, plus Sewall's Point, and the second 120-gallon machine will cover from Stuart south to Port Salerno areas.

One of the smaller machines, a 30-gallon capacity fogger, will cover the areas south of there to the county line, while the other will be used in the Indiantown area.

School Gets $2,401,114 In Budget

The Martin County School Board amended and adjusted figures within its advertised budget at a hearing last Friday.

Adopted was an amended total budget of $2,401,114, up $6,978 net over the tentative budget.

Supt. of Schools Thomas L. Crook said state source money increased $8,603 and county raised funds were decreased $1,625 to provide the net increase.

Millages as adopted were 5.85 mills for county support and maintenance; 2 mills for district No. 1, current fund, a county-wide district, and .05 mill for special tax school district No. 3, a special district in the southeastern part of Martin County.

Board Chairman Henry Kindred remarked that the 1963-64 tax collection received by the school department was $7,600 below the anticipated 95 percent of the total amount levied, due in part, he said, to the failure of the Florida East Coast Railway to pay its taxes.

The new rate is 4 mills low-

Latest Methods In Learning Are Utilized

Recently the Florida Press Association held its summer meeting for the first and second districts in Boca Raton at the invitation of Jim Jesse, Boca Raton News publisher, and Dr. Kenneth R. Williams, president of Florida Atlantic University. The tour of the new FAU facilities featured many first in education, and was an enlightening look into education of today.

FAU is the newest in the state system of higher education and is scheduled to admits its first class in September, 1964.

It is the first University in the nation to forego a freshman and sophomore class of its own. Florida Atlantic University will offer only the junior and senior years of the undergraduate program and graduate studies in selected areas.

Organizationally, FAU is made up of the Colleges of Business Administration, Education, Humanities, Science and Social Science, and the Department of Ocean Engineering, projected in long range plans of the University.

Five buildings valued at $5,300,000 have been completed and an additional $8,600,000 was approved for FAU construction through financing approved by the voters last November. Included will be a social science-administration building, additional laboratories for science, and a humanities-auditorium building.

Cafeteria facilities will be ready by the fall of 1965, as will the first dormitory, which will be financed by a loan from the Community Facilities Division of the HHFA.

Florida Atlantic University is committed to explore new methods of teaching and learning to meet the crisis in education which stems from the rapidly increasing college-age population, from the explosion of knowledge, and from the upgrading of skills demanded by modern business and industry.

A Division of Learning Resources at FAU includes a computer-based library, educational television and learning laboratories, encompassing the newest in electronic teaching aids. Purpose is to free the professor from the routine tasks of teaching and to make possible more time with students in the creative aspects of the learning situation. For the student, the new media is designed to break the lock-step time-serving characteristics of conventional education and permit each student to progress at a rate commensurate with his abilities.

New study stations feature tv, tape units, dial-courses.

NO DEFROSTING EVER AGAIN!

FOODS FOR ALL THE FAMILY – This new refrigerator-freezer holds a week's family fare and plenty to spare for friends who come to dinner.

Cool Hostess Cooks Today For Tomorrow

Having a patio party in the midst of a heat wave? Then look to your refrigerator-freezer for help, says Mrs. Jeanne Owen, director of the Wine and Food Society of New York and noted cookbook author.

Mrs Owen, a native of France who is thoroughly versed in fine French wines and the exquisite French cuisine, advises American homemakers to avoid elaborate menus that will keep them in the kitchen at party time.

"Plan a simple menu, do all your shopping and basic food preparation before the day of the party. If you have one of the roomy new electric refrigerator-freezers, you can trust it to keep everything at top quality," she advises.

BUTTER SPREADS

Butter kept in the special butter conditioner of a new electric refrigerator-freezer stays at spreading softness.

USE THIS CHART

to select the correct refrigerator and freezer capacity for your family. You have the choice of buying the capacity you need in two ways: (1) combined in one appliance—a refrigerator-freezer—or (2) in two separate appliances — an upright or chest freezer and a separate all-refrigerator (one without freezer space).

The capacities in the chart are the medians of those recommended in a survey of home economists. Thus, at least half of the experts suggested higher capacities. The trend is definitely to larger capacities. New shopping habits and new foods demand them.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture says: "6 cubic feet of freezer space per person will meet the general needs of most families." Other experts use this rule-of-thumb for freezer space: 3 to 4 cubic feet per person in urban areas, and 5 to 6 cubic feet per person in rural areas.

Refrigerators and Freezers Give You a Private 'Store'

"It's just like a supermarket in the home" is what women say about the freezing space in their 1964 refrigerator-freezers or separate freezers. That's because modern freezing space gives today's homemakers undreamed of convenience, nutritional value, flexibility and economy in meal preparation.

Take the important matter of nutrition. Modern freezing space is without a rival, because (according to the Journal of the American Medical Association) "Frozen foods are fresher than fresh." Or, as the nutritionist puts it, "Freezing preserves almost indefinitely the quality, taste and vitamin content of food."

Most families use frozen foods and like their convenience, flavor and taste. If a homemaker does have a complaint, it's likely to be that she doesn't have enough space to store as much frozen food as she would like to have on hand.

This explains the recent trend to larger electric refrigerator-freezers. A 14-cubic-foot unit is now the minimum size recommended for the average family. For large families and those who entertain frequently, much greater capacity is called for.

Refrigerator-freezer manufacturers have come up with improvements that give more fresh and frozen food storage space without a corresponding increase in the exterior size of the unit. Some of the new big-family units, for example, take up just about the same floor space that an old 10-cubic-foot model occupied.

With more frozen food storage space, homemakers can take full advantage of the wealth of frozen foods now available.

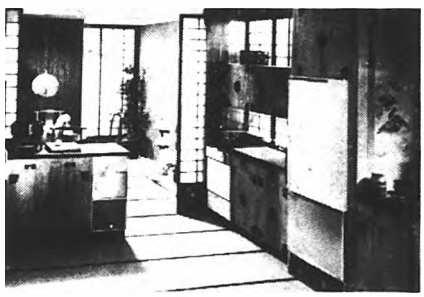
Blend With Every Decor

New Refrigerator-Freezers Suit Any Kind of Kitchen



MODERN REFRIGERATOR FREEZER blends perfectly with ancient Japanese motif of this new kitchen.

A good kitchen is not just a showplace, although it can be that, too. No matter what the decor—quaint, cute, austere or oriental—a kitchen needs to be carefully planned and well equipped if it is to function as an efficient control center of family life.

The kitchen shown in the photo above is both efficient and attractive. It has been planned to make "homework" easier for the housewife. It is also a room guests will gather in because it's so handsome.

One feature that makes this a good working kitchen is the large electric refrigerator-freezer, situated near both the cooking center (far left) and the clean-up area (just left of refrigerator-freezer).

With its straight, clean lines and uncluttered design, a new refrigerator - freezer like this blends well with any decor. Here it complements an oriental motif. And, although it has a large capacity for both fresh and frozen foods, it does not dominate the kitchen. It does contribute considerably, however, to the kitchen's efficiency.

'No-Frost' Really Means No Frost, And No Kidding

By R. D. SMITH
Executive Secretary
Consumer Products Division
National Electrical Manufacturers Association

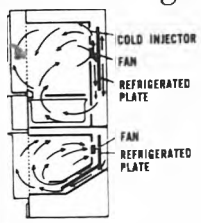
Three out of five refrigerators sold today are 13 cubic feet or over, and three out of five of these are no-frost models. Yet, despite this great change to no-frost refrigerator freezers, a great number of people are confused as to what "no-frost" means.

What it means is exactly what it says: no frost ever builds up in either the freezer section or the refrigerator section. You never—repeat, never—have to defrost either section.

All electric refrigerator freezer manufacturers make no-frost models, in many models and sizes. To be sure you are getting the real thing, look for either the descriptive words no-frost, frostless, non-defrosting or the individual manufacturer's copyrighted phrase meaning completely without frost.

Some of the more important advantages of this revolutionary new improvement in home refrigeration include the following:



NO-FROST system of refrigerator/freezer works on principle shown by cut-away, side-view Westinghouse diagram. Frost can't form in food sections because refrigerated plates are located outside.

1. No defrosting ever again. If you have anything but a no-frost unit, you have to undergo the labor and mess of defrosting anywhere from once every couple of months to as often as every week, depending on how often the door is opened, the type of freezer, and how much is freezer space and other factors. That irritating, thankless job is now and forever eliminated.

2. Food flavor and nutrition are protected. By not having to take food out of the freezer when manually defrosting, there's no chance of partial defrosting and possible spoiling of the food.

3. No-frost models have separate zero-degree freezers which keep frozen food safely for longer periods of time, with less spoilage and less loss of moisture and taste.

4. Packaged frozen foods keep dry, so they don't stick to each other or to the freezer itself. The labels are easy to read.

5. Ice cubes can be stored in containers, won't melt or stick together . . . a great temper-saver when you're playing host or hostess.

6. Frost is a form of insulation and no-frosts keep foods colder, with less work by the refrigerator/freezer.

7. More usable space in the freezer section. With no frost build-up, foods fit flush against the walls and corners of the compartment. The door always shuts tight and keeps the cold in.

AMANA refrigerator/freezer has clean-back design to permit placing close to wall.

Ice Cubes Now Made Easy Way

Ice cubes have been both the blessing and bane of mechanical refrigerators since they were invented. A blessing because they supplied a welcome, if limited, quantity of ice for drinks and other purposes. And a bane because of the icy tenacity with which they stuck to their trays and because of the loud family discussions that occurred when someone forgot to refill the trays.

All that can be ended now, since no-frost refrigerator freezers can be obtained with industrious little ice-making machines which never forget and which knock themselves out replenishing ice cubes automatically as fast as they can be used.

If ice cubes aren't that important in your scheme of life, one manufacturer offers a variation. A king-size tray is hinged to flip over and deposit its cubes in a container. The tray can be refilled from a pitcher, thus ending those balancing stunts between refrigerator and sink.

Other manufacturers ease the ice cube problem by providing ejector-equipped storage bins over which the trays fit for easy, no-soak shucking.

No-frost refrigerator/freezers eliminate a main nuisance of ice cube freezing—the accumulation of frost on the trays that had to be scraped or washed away. The no-frost action also prevents cubes from sticking together in storage bins.

ICE MACHINE in no-frost RCA Whirlpool combination replenishes cubes automatically.

In addition to their traditional role of beverage cooling, ice cubes now work hard at pepping up foods for the table and adding zest and charm to hot weather dishes of all kinds. Cold, sparkling ice cubes can be used to put extra crisp life into salad vegetables such as celery sticks, cucumber chips, carrot curls, cauliflowerettes and radish roses. About an hour before serving, prepare the relishes and drop them in a bowl of ice water to crisp and curl.

KEEP IT COOL

Warm climates and summer weather demand refrigerator space for bread and other foods subject to molding.

Values in No-Frost Refrigerator/Freezers

By FRAN TROESCH

Most of us consciously think of value in terms of a fair return for our money. There is an important dimension to this concept which—subconsciously—we call to our assistance when making individual judgments of value. We consider quality, attractiveness, durability, usefulness, or satisfaction — in terms of our own needs. Then we consider price, which although vital, is but one of the factors involved in major purchases.

Fran Troesch

The marketers who study our buying habits, and the sociologic patterns which affect these habits, often figuratively scratch their heads trying to uncover the satisfaction-factor that causes us to do what we do. They know that millions of automobiles will be replaced every two or three years. Many will be driven an average of 10,000 miles annually or 28 miles daily, about an hour at an average speed of 30 miles-per-hour.

These same marketing experts also know that 20 million families are using refrigerators more than ten years old, which are too small, lack space for frozen foods and must be defrosted manually. What puzzles them is why families seek automatic and convenience features in their automobiles but ignore comparable improvements in major appliances.

The question is: What is the hidden satisfaction which determines the time and convenience values for these millions of decision makers?

Down $17

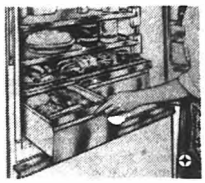
Price doesn't seem to be the answer in this market puzzle. The cold fact is: The average price of a refrigerator was $17 less in 1963 than it was in 1962, according to the authoritative trade magazine, Electrical Merchandising Week. And the 1964 refrigerator is almost invariably larger, sturdier, more efficient, more economical, more compact, more reliable, more durable, more automatic and more convenient.

FROZEN JUICE cans are always visible and handy in door rack of Frigidaire freezer.

Electronic computers have been rolling out cross-indexed projections of hair-raising totals in frozen and pre-packaged food consumption. Buffeted on all sides by graphs and tabulations, the manufacturer rolls his eyes toward the wide, brave horizon and asks himself: Where will people put this food?

Mothers of small children cannot go to market every day. Is the working wife to shop every night on her way home? Wouldn't it save time and money to shop once a week, taking advantage of sales and having a versatile food supply on hand? Everyone entertains in his home . . . more now, on the average, than in the previous decade. Does the consumer realize the convenience and economy of adequate refrigerator freezer capacity?

The appliance manufacturer recommends less freezer space than does the U.S. Department of Agriculture which says, "6 cubic feet of freezer space per person will meet the general needs of most families." Other experts use this rule-of-thumb for freezer space: 3 to 4 cubic feet per person in urban areas, and 5 to 6 cubic feet per person in rural areas. One person living alone needs 3 to 5 cubic feet.



MEAT CHEST of General Electric no-frost combination controls temperature, humidity.

For refrigerator space, the rule is: Never consider less than 8 cubic feet, unless you live alone. Figure 4 cubic feet for two adults, plus 2 cubic feet for each additional member of the family. Add 2 cubic feet for entertaining needs.

If you haven't shopped for a refrigerator or freezer in several years, you may be amazed at the features you will see. Some conventional single-door refrigerators defrost automatically; others must be defrosted manually.

No-Frost Refrigerator/Freezer Geared to New Life

Inside and Outside It Makes News

Even if your refrigerator has the modern squared-off look, it may be hopelessly out-of-date by 1964 standards. More things have happened inside and outside refrigerators in the past five years than in all their previous history.

Manufacturers, utilities, retailers and U.S. Steel have joined in a promotion to show women all the new wonders in home food preservation. That's why you will see the greatest variety and values in refrigeration ever during June under banners proclaiming "No defrosting ever" with a new no-frost refrigerator freezer. These terms, no defrosting ever, and refrigerator freezer are the keys to the 1964 concept of home food preservation.

The refrigerator freezer represents a triumph of engineering that has combined two distinct functions in one appliance with demonstrable advantages over the previous separate appliances. Moreover, this has been accomplished in the same floor space formerly occupied by a refrigerator alone. Even more amazing is the fact that the greatly improved appliance actually sells for less than the refrigerator alone formerly did. And not only is the consumer saved the cost of two appliances, but the operating cost is also lower.

No Hack, No Mop

No defrosting ever means exactly what it says. Your 1964 refrigerator freezer with this feature requires no attention on your part. Never again will you unload the frozen food and start the messy, distasteful task of hacking away at the frost and mopping up the drip.

No defrosting has other benefits. Frozen food packages and ice cubes won't stick together. The forced circulation of air used in most no-defrost models keeps food chilled to a perfect temperature even with many door openings and the addition of sizeable amounts of warm food.

The outside story of no-frost refrigerator freezers is as exciting as the inside one. In addition to a choice between top or bottom freezer, homemakers can now choose models with a full-length vertical freezer beside the refrigerator or a glamorous type with an illuminated counter top between an eye-level refrigerator and a bottom freezer.

Steel's Role Important

Inside and out, steel plays an important role in the durability and reliability of no-frost refrigerator freezers. Strong steel inner linings are porcelain enameled for stain resistance and easy cleaning.

Mauni Ahi Is Icy Volcano

Here's a refreshing appetizer or dessert suggestion from Frigidaire, called Mauni Ahi, Hawaiian for mountain afire. It's simple to make if you have a 1964 no-frost refrigerator freezer to supply lots of ice cubes and generous freezing space.

This is how you make Mauni Ahi. Select a tall cone-shaped mold. Cover top of a coffee-warmer candle with waxed paper and place wick end down in bottom of mold. Crush 2 to 3 trays of ice cubes to fill mold. Cover top with saran or foil and store in freezer overnight.

When ready to use, invert mold on serving plate and let stand about 10 minutes to loosen. Uncover candle and insert wooden picks with frozen pineapple cubes, whole frozen strawberries or whole frozen boysenberries into the sides of the ice mountain. Return to freezer until ready to serve.

Rogers Supports Legisl. Regarding Obscene Mail

Congressman Paul Rogers voted in support of legislation aimed at combatting the flow of obscene mail.

Before the passage of H.R. 319, Congressman Rogers said, "In the 86th Congress I co-sponsored legislation which became Law and also attacked this problem, and which has greatly aided the Post Office Department in their efforts to stop this type mail from reaching the young people of America. However, the purveyors of trash have undertaken new methods which require this new action on the part of the Congress. The new legislation allows any person who has received any unsolicited offensive matter to return it with a request to the Postmaster General to direct the sender to discontinue such mailing. If the order is violated, a court order commanding compliance with the notice can be sought."

Hospital Noise Suit Delayed

The Stuart City Commission was told at Monday night's meeting by City Attorney T.T.Oughterson, that the city's suit against Martin Memorial Hospital over alleged violations of the city's nuisance laws was being held in abeyance for two months to permit corrections of noise problems at the hospital.

The delay in pressing the suit was brought about after conversations between hospital officials and members of the Hildabrad Park Assoc., led to agreement by the hospital to make several changes which would reduce the noise and vibration apparently caused by machinery in the boiler room to tolerable levels.

A screen which would reduce the noise from the exhaust fans of the air conditioning units was included in the suggested changes.

The screen suggested was of a simple solid block wall construction and felt to be relatively inexpensive.

Also to be installed, under the plan, were noise inhibiting pads under the machinery in the boiler room.

Evinrude Home Break In Laid To Local Youths

Larry Mattox, 19, and Ronald Mattox, 17, brothers, were taken in custody by police in Tavares, Lake County this week, and were to be picked up by Deputy Sheriffs Tom Wyatt and Morgan Sprott.

Sheriff Roy C. Baker said the two brothers and a juvenile were being held for Martin County authorities as a result of a break at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evinrude, Rio.

The Evinrude home was ransacked Sunday night, Baker said. Taken were cameras, clothing, liquors, shoes, and about everything moveable, according to Baker.

The Mattox brothers and the juvenile are all believed to be from Ohio, Baker said, and were probably en route there when apprehended.

The Evinruder are in New York.

Snook And Trout Are In The Rivers

Fishing news received from the Snook Nook shows that Snook are being taken on the St. Lucie bridge, Trout are in the St. Lucie and Indian Rivers, and Whiting in the surf.

Among the reported catches were: Millard S. Grubb, a 20 lb. Snook;Harlow Sutter,25 lb.Snook; Walter Adrian, 30 lb. Snook; Steve Stephens and Chuck Schulty, 30 Trout; Pop Dailey, 35 Trout; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barren, 25 trout and 3 Snook; W.B.Baird, 15 Trout; and Helen Richards, 6 Whiting.

Tarpon of huge sizes are in large numbers on the St. Lucie from Marker 25 to the Palm City bridge. They are thick offshore near the House of Refuge, and some all along the beaches

---

In another break, three Port Salerno juveniles were jailed after they were picked up by Deputy Sheriff Henry Herbert for stealing $17.00 from a Port Salerno preacher, Reverend Whitman Sipley.

Baker said one of the boys was staying with the clergyman, the others were his friends.

Baker said the boys got a young girl drunk as an aftermath of the incident.

Zoning Fued Continues

Opposition to an amendment from R-1 to R-2 zoning on a block on East Ocean Blvd. delayed action by the city commission on the request for the change, for two weeks, as the commission spent most of its time at Monday night's meeting on zoning matters.

A petition was presented by Boutwell Hudgins, containing 37 names said to represent 90 per cent of residents within three blocks of the area in question, in opposition to the change.

the advisory planning board after study and no objections, had recommended to the commission that the change be made. Owner of land requesting the change was Mrs. Aura Fike Jones who had no representatives at the hearing.

the planning board was asked to make the change to permit construction of a professional building on the site.

The motion to table was made by commissioner Jack Hartman, to permit further study and action at the next commission meeting.

City manager, Joe Crowder, read a request to re-zone another R-1 area in the same neighborhood.

Donald Armstrong and Harry Preston asked that an area off Palm Beach Rd. and south of the hospital pond be changed.

The request was referred to the advisory planning board for its study and recommendation.

Crowder said there was reason to believe that R-2 areas on both E. Ocean Blvd. and Palm Beach Rd. would be necessary in the future because neither would see residential building.

The commission voted to start legal proceedings on the overall zoning changes recommended by the advisory planning board for U.S. 1 from Roosevelt bridge south to the south city limits plus a small area in North Stuart.

City attorney T.T.Oughterson was asked to draw necessary resolutions to set up a hearing on the overall plan.

The commission also postponed action on the school board's request to close Lake St., which divides school land at Stuart Training School.

Felix Williams, who said he was to be principal of the school this fall, asked the commission to close the street.

Beachcombers To Meet Saturday

The club is sponsored by the Martin County Museums and is open to the public. Children under 12 should be accompanied by an adult. All should bring their own collection pails.

There is a display at the House of Refuge of the past weeks' collection.

Ticket numbers are 445629, 445613, 445665, 445646, 445666, 445819, 445644, 445673, 445679, 445660, 445519, and 445595.

Fishing Is Where You Find 'Them'

Fishing has been slow last week, according to Johnny Crawford at the Snook Nook. He remarked that a few trout were being taken during the night, some snook at the bridges and, a bright note, plenty of tarpon just about everywhere, but very good at the North Fork and in the St. Lucie River.

Other sources say that there're plenty of kings up to three miles out on the offshore scene, with sails mostly in close, but wandering. Cobia are also prevalent, dolphin too, if you care to go into the Gulf stream.

Artic bonito are being taken.

In the Indian River, sea trout continue plentiful and willing on the flats, where there are also some snook and a few blues.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Behres said the trout were plentiful, managed to catch 35. Harlow Sutter nabbed three snook, and Jim Daily, seven trout, ten mullet.

Crawford said black drum and mangrove snappers, as well as croakers could be nabbed at the bridges.

St. Lucie down stream has big, spotting tarpon, which are also fairly active in the surf to about 100 yards out with a few whiting, mullet and pompano.

Hobe Sound reports good snapper fishing at the wreck buoy.

Surf fishing has been generally slow, according to Crawford.

Selling? Kaspers, No Caspers, Si

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kasper, who live on the east end of Sunview Road in Jensen Beach really aren't selling their home. It is the George Caspers of the west end of Sunview Road that are interested in selling.

The mixup is very simple to unwind. You see, the Kaspers who live on the east end of Sunview are really spelling the name Kasper with a 'K', and not a 'C', as the Caspers who live on the west end of Sunview Road spell their name.

Some people might just be confused about the C and the K in the Caspers (and/or Kaspers) but, as you can see, we are not, for we know that the Wests who live on the Kasper end of the street aren't really the Easts who live west of...no, we mean... well, anyway, if you are interested in buying a house, GO WEST, WILL YOU, AND 'C' the Caspers.

Labor Day Marathon Boat Race Heads Chamber Causeway Event

COLORING CONTEST WINNER Mirror Coloring Contest winner for this week is Marty Morrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Caudle, of Heritages Duplex on Indian River Drive, Jensen Beach. Marty is a student at Jensen Beach Elementary School and is 7 years old. He anticipates great things for the $1.00 Mirror prize money.

Randy Tilton Plans Powerboat Show As Family Day Is Set

What is hoped to become an annual powerboat marathon race was discussed in glowing terms at the Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce meeting of the board of directors last Monday night. Chamber president Dick Campbell outlined a schedule to be coordinated by the Chamber of Commerce for the Jensen Beach Causeway.

An impressive outline of activities included races, including kids races, pram races, powerboat races, and an inner-tube race, a pram race featuring some of the "worst sailors in the entire world" (local businessmen), a barbeque, a teen age dance in the evening, and the possibility of a water ski show.

Randy Tilton, 19, accepted the chairmanship of a committee to set up the powerboat race. It is reported that he plans seven classes of boats in the races, with racing boats coming from as far south as Miami, and as far north as Vero Beach, to participate.

Tilton plans entry blanks for the race to be in the mail before the weekend. Hsaid that he would set up sub-committees on the rules, registration, prizes, course and safety.

An avid racer himself, Tilton finished fourth in the recent race from Palm Beach to Fort Pierce.

Committee chairmen for the various events include Phil Baker on prams, Jensen Volunteer Firemen on the barbeque, Rick Carroll on the inner tube race, and Tilton on powerboat race. Efforts are being made to get sponsoring clubs to handle the kids races and the water ski exhibition. The teen dance will be chairmaned by Mrs. Ruth Bauman.

All planning for the Labor Day event is in the formulative stage at present.

The new corporation has an authorized stock of 100 shares common at $10.00 per share, he said, and filed for its charter July 28.

Laron H. Cain, Mary Esther Cain, W. R. Scott, all of Stuart, were listed as the incorporators of the new corporation dealing in the newspaper and publishing business. Attorney William R. Scott, 528 Colorado Ave., Stuart, filed for the charter.

The Jensen Beach Mirror announces that due to the popularity of the Mirror Coloring Contest, two divisions will be featured, with prizes of $1.00 each being awarded each week to the winners of each division.

The previous age group of 4 to 7 remains the same. A new group has been added for ages 8 to 11.

August Brustat Will Lecture

Dr. August W. Brustat will give an illustrated lecture on Biblical archaeology next Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at Redeemer Lutheran Church, East Ocean Blvd., in Stuart.

Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church of Scarsdale, N. Y., Dr. Brustat is a noted lecturer and scholar and has been active for many years in combatting the atheistic Communist infiltration into American institutions.

He recently returned from an extensive tour of Europe, Egypt and the Middle East, visiting archaeological sites and observing the political climate.

Chamber Asks Owens Name Bridge

A resolution from the Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce is being sent to Representative Bill Owens asking that the new bascule span bridge at Jensen Beach be named Frank A. Wacha Bridge. Copies of the resolution are being sent to the Martin County Commission asking that action be taken by the commission in line with the resolution.

Under state law the naming of a bridge takes action of the state legislature.

Growers Win 12-11; Are Pony League Champions

The Martin County Flower Growers pony league team won the pennant in a four-hour playoff game with the Jensen Lions last Tuesday night, 12 to 11, in ten innings.

Dallas Luce, who accepted the trophy for the Flower Growers, credited both teams with "great effort and sportsmanship" when he was presented the trophy by John Minshew, league president, following the game at Sailfish Park in Stuart.

"The games usually last only seven innings," Luce said, "but the youngsters played neck and neck through 11 innings, with the Flower Growers finally winning after four hours."

Hunting Looks Good For '64-'65

The outlook for a successful 1964-65 hunting season is good. The status of Florida's game birds and animals at mid-summer may be classified as healthy and robust, however, nature holds the key that will determine if Florida wildlife passes a complete physical.

According to A. D. Aldrich, director of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, it is difficult to make an accurate forecast at this time as much wildlife data remains to be gathered and many unforeseen factors may slip into the game. With favorable weather and suitable habitat, wildlife will generally replenish its own and the hunter may look for a good harvest.

Here is a rundown on what's in store for hunters next year:

Deer: More numerous than ever and apparently thriving throughout the State. Several areas report that deer are becoming a problem, and other previously closed ares will be open to deer hunting for the first time.

Turkey: A good hatch in most sections and if the young poults are not damaged by adverse weather, the wild turkey will again be a prime target for the sportsmen.

Quail: Generally plentiful with successfuly early and mid-summer hatches. Success of late hatches will probably make the difference between a high or average harvest.

Principal Attends Biology Course

Recently completing a week's course in field biology and conservation at the Audobon Camp of Connecticut in Greenwich, Conn., were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Max Thomas of Indiantown.

They were two of 34 special students enrolled at the Connecticut camp during the past week and one of more than 600 teachers and adult conservation leaders who are taking the famous nature course at four such institutions this summer.

Thomas is principal of Warfield School, Mrs. Thomas is a teacher in the same school.

Their studies included birds, plants, insects and pond life. Special emphasis was given to provide techniques teaching natural history and conservation to children.

Commission Bans State Trucking 'Discrimination

The Florida Public Utilities Commission released an order last Thursday to put a stop to "discrimination" in state regulated trucking requiring truckers to paint their trucks a special color, and print advertising messages on the vehicles without paying extra for the service.

The Commission issued a rule outlawing the practice and defining the few exceptions that will be allowed.

Chairman Edwin L. Mason said that some shippers have required truck operators to paint trucks a special color without any compensation, and the commission decided that "these extra services amount to discrimination," and ordered the practice halted.

State, federal and charitable agency signs and decals may be exhibited, Mason said the Commission ruled, and some truckers may display the insignia of carriers with which they have an agency relationship.

In their efforts against discrimination, the Commission also said it is "all right for advertising to be carried if it is placed by an ad agency, and if a truck is hired exclusively by a shipper he may display temporarily a removable sign or banner advertising the shipper," Mason said.

Mrs. Wright Visits Sister Here

Returning to her home in Glendale, Calif., after attending a reunion of five sisters in Glendale and Los Angeles early in July was Mrs. Don C. Wright, who has been visiting here with her sister, Mrs. John W. Stokes of St. Lucie Blvd.

Mrs. Wright was entertained at a luncheon by Mrs. C. Earl Evans and at dinners in the homes of Mrs. M. Todt Heckler and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Dassori.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Schumacher gave a cocktail party in her honor.

Other dinner parties were given by Mrs. Lettie Sue Dugan, at the Outrigger; by Mr. and Mrs. Michael G. Littman, at the Manatee Yacht Club; and by Mrs. J. M. Helpenstell, also at the Outrigger. Mrs. Wright was also entertained at the Cabana Club on Hutchinson Island, and at Port St. Lucie Country Club.

Assisting at the door were the members of the Jensen Beach 4-H Club.

Dick Prince, of Swift and Company, who handled the first half of the cooking show, is pictured with his favorite cow (or is it a steer) which kept losing air. Prince was a top flight part of the show, and kept the audience in the palm of his hand all the way through his one hour presentation.

Winners of the prizes that were present at the second night drawing pose for the Mirror camera. Below are two pictures of the crowds that attended the show on opening night.

Below, at right, is Miss Betty Stewart, Florida Power and Light home service representative, who handled the second half of the show on cooking. The mirror above the head of Miss Stewart gave the audience the opportunity to see the table, and the preparation of the foods. Miss Stewart was an able representative of Florida Power and Light.

Island Tract Sold For $135,000

A tract of Hutchinson Island property consisting of 450 feet ocean to river, was sold last week for a price of $135,000. The cash deal was handled by A.R. Tilton Real Estate and Hartman Real Estate.

R. A. Gilmore, of Somerset, Pennsylvania, active owner of businesses and an industrial plant there, was the buyer. Bessemer Properties, Inc. of Palm Beach and Martin County were the sellers.

Working on the sale was Ransom Tilton and Ralph Hartman, Jr. According to Tilton, Gilmore plans to utilize the property for an apartment building for his employees, and for a marine manufacturing testing and sales area. New fiberglass boats and marine accessories will be tested.

The teamwork of Tilton and Hartman on the sale is interesting as another climax of the years of friendship between the two who have been close since their boyhood in Martin County.

Attending Martin County High School, Tilton and Hartman played for the MCHS Tigers for four years. Tilton was left end on the team and Hartman played right next to him at left tackle.

Hartman married the former Kathleen Ricou, first cousin of Tilton. Both of pioneer Martin County families, Hartman's father was postmaster of Stuart for over 30 years, Ransom Tilton's father has been the head of Tilton Real Estate since 1921.

Both Tilton and Hartman were in the Marine Corps during World War Two. Ralph is past president and Ransom is president of the Stuart Board of Realtors.

Old memories and associations were recalled when the two met to close the $135,000 sale in Palm Beach, at the offices of Ally, Moss and Lindsley, the attorneys for Bessemer Properties of Royal Palm Plaza.

Juveniles Attempt To Start Fire

Four juveniles, two of them 12, two 11, were picked up at 2 a.m. last week in connection with an attempt to set fire to furniture on the second floor of the Jensen Beach post office building. Last Monday by Deputy Sheriff James Mills.

Sheriff Roy C. Baker said the boys were found at the Kwik Check supermarket in Stuart at that hour.

They told authorities they were starting a Stuart model.

Baker said their attempts at setting the fire were abortive.

NASA Opens School For Boys

The National Air Space Academy is a $1-1/2 million secondary boarding school for boys in grades 7 through 12, plus one year of post-graduate work. The school has been founded on the 150-acre site of a resort hotel on Lake Lotela, midway between Avon Park and Sebring in central Florida.

The purpose of the school is to prepare young men on the secondary level for careers in the aero-space age. NASA will offer a curriculum similar to that offered by the U.S. Air Force at its preparatory school in Colorado, though it has no official connection with the Federal Government. Emphasis on the military will be secondary to academic training in the fundamental sciences which will enable NASA graduates to more successfully matriculate in colleges and universities or the armed services academies.

The academy's military program is supervised by the Civil Air Patrol, an auxiliary of the U.S. Air Force, and all students will become cadets in the C.A.P. Flight training, with 8 hours of dual instruction, will be available to cadets with parental consent and able to meet F.A.A. age and physical requirements.

Major Rex Damron is Dean of Admissions. Details are available from the Dean of Admissions, NASA, Box 100, Avon Park, Florida.

If you ever see an editor who pleases everybody, he will be neither sitting nor standing, and there will be a lot of flowers around him.

New Boat Has Small Inlet Draft

Charles Bachelier of Port Salerno, a member of the board of directors of the Martin County Audubon Society, has built a racing garvey only 12-feet long, with a four-foot beam, with which to patrol the shallow waters of the Joseph V. Conner Wood Wilderness Sanctuary.

The racing garvey, which society officials suggested Bachelier build, combines seaworthiness, speed and economy and shallow draft, all in one compact boat.

Bachelier powers the craft with a nine and one-half horsepower outboard motor.

The Indian Sound City, with the 120-acre beach tract on the IRS, last March. The tract includes bird and wildlife and includes some of the finest virgin conservancy on the atlantic coast south of New Jersey.

The Martin County chapter of IAS was designated custodian of the area, with Bachelier as the Audubon Warden.

The public has not been barred from the sanctuary, but has been asked to treat it with the loving care naturalists give it.

Australian pines, Florida holly bushes and rooted coconut palms have been planted by the Society in a move led by H.W. Newsome of Sewall's Point, in a sand erosion prevention program.

Bachelier will continue to make regular patrols of the sanctuary, using the tiny new craft to poke into places only a swimmer could reach to protect nature from the ravages of man.

Inlet Will Be Deepened to Six Feet In $30,000 Project

A GOOD SIZE KITTY — Nabbing this 11 pound catfish last Saturday at Lovorn Pond by the railroad track in Rio with just a hand line might prove to be a good trick. But John Wollard, Waveland Ave., Jensen Beach, and Alan Maxwell, who stays with Mrs. Sally Peters, Rio, proved their fishing skill by pulling this cat out of its favorite habitat. The fish was 30 inches long.

Martin County Commission resolved an agreement with the U. S. Corps of Engineers last Tuesday in action resulting in the implementation of a project to deepen the St. Lucie Inlet channel from the Indian River — St. Lucie River Crossroads to be Federally financed.

The inlet will be increased in depth by six feet, and widened to an overall 100 feet, with the cost estimated at $30,000.

Initially known as "alternate number one", the project was proposed at $3.3 million, most of the cost to be borne by Martin County taxpayers.

Although the paper work has yet to be untangled, the project is being undertaken under Section 3 of the 1945 Rivers and Harbors Act, which permits the U. S. Corps of Engineers to do unauthorized (emergency) projects, such as removing snags, straightening channels and related tasks when done in the interest of navigation.

County Engineer Fred L. Bell, accompanied by Commissioner Jack Saunderson, went to Jacksonville which resulted in the action.

While a telegram received here July 1 from Sens. Spessard L. Holland, George Smathers and Rep. Paul G. Rogers specified work only between the Federal bar channel and the intracoastal waterway, Bell assured the commission Tuesday that the Corps intended to clean the clogged inlet channel to a depth of seven feet.

The board resolved to provide spoil areas, if needed; any necessary rights-of-way, without cost; to hold the United States free from damages; and to maintain the channel after construction at a meeting headed by Saunderson, who is chairman of the commission in the absence of Frank A. Wacha, who is on vacation.

Bell also said the latter agreement would apply until such time as the constructed channel may become a part of a specifically authorized project.

He said, there is substantial reason to believe such a move will follow before any maintenance work becomes necessary.

Authorization by the board for Bell and Wacha to meet with Rep. Rogers and Engineer officials in Washington in the near future quickly followed.

The county was asked to provide legal citation concerning the legal status of the proposed project and a financial statement, and agreed.

All commissioners voted for the resolution of the project.

Speeding Development

Engineers Advocate Road Re-alignment

Martin County Engineer Fred L. Bell said last week that the U. S. Corps of Engineers' district office at Jacksonville had approved the re-alignment of the road that now borders St. Lucie Canal between Loop and Locks Roads in the industrially-zoned area of the county. Bell said that development in the area would increase as a result of the move. He said the Engineers would put the action in a matter of a few days.

Bell went to Jacksonville last Thursday with chairman of the county zoning and planning board Joe Greenlees to take up the problem with Joseph J. Koperski, chief of the engineering division of the district office.

Greenlees is an interested party in ownership of much of the industrially owned land at the canal complex.

Bell said there would be no opposition to the change on the part of the county, that the road would be re-aligned to permit further development of waterfront property off the government reservation but using the canal facilities.

The county has maintained the road, which becomes muddy in wet seasons, for many years. It links Loop Rd. and the St. Lucie Canal Locks.

The new alignment will place the road east of its present route, and also east of all of the industrial plants in the area, present and planned.

Among developments expected as a result of the agreements by the U. S. Corps of Engineers are the construction of a barge basin at the Dickerson, Inc., site, place location to permit delivery of aggregates needed for the operation there by water; probable development of the Trans-State Dredging Company yard announced last July, which was held up pending a 75-foot easement for an access road, now apparently possible.

Trans-State planned to build 50 x 200-foot basins with an office building, service building and storage and maintenance vessel, an operation similar to the run by The Arundel Corp., at the Loop Rd. end of the industrial area.

Trans-State president Henry Morgan has plans to build barges at the location as well.

Community Church Praises Fredrickson

Cheney Fredricksen of Jensen Beach was the subject of much praise in a letter representing the Official Board of the Jensen Beach Community Church by the secretary of the board Wilda J. Dailey.

The letter, dated August 6, cited the use of the Fredricksen Building during the past four years, rent free, for the operation of the Church's Thrift Shop.

The letter reads:

"I am writing you at the request of the Official Board of the Jensen Beach Community Church to extend to you, and by copy of this letter to your brother and sister, our most sincere thanks and gratitude for the free use during the past four years, of a portion of the Fredricksen Building located on Commercial Street.

"Because of your kindness, the Thrift Shop has been able to earn approximately $4,000 per year, which has gone into our building fund. We are now in the final stage of our building program with the Sanctuary and covered walkways under construction by the Netto Construction Company of Vero Beach.

"I am sure you are proud to have helped to make this possible; I am sure God will bless you for this fine contribution, and the people of the community, as well as the members and guests of the Jensen Beach Community Church want you to know that we appreciate it."

SR 714 Project Start This Week

A $378,744 project to widen a six-mile segment of State Road 714 in Martin County is expected to be started this week, the State Road Department announced last week.

District Four Road Board member John H. Monahan said the project extends from SR S-76-A west approximately six miles to a point west of the Sunshine State Parkway near Stuart.

Work on the project includes widening the existing road to provide two ten-foot traffic lanes.

Dickerson, Inc., of Stuart, has been awarded the contract and will have 175 working days to complete the project.

Fishing In The Area

Fishing is reportedly fair in Jensen Beach, but with such a report from avid fisherman and counsel Johnny Crawford usually means that it's pretty good by other measurements.

There's a few trout and snook on the bridges, Crawford said, with more snook and tarpon at the North Fork of the St. Lucie River. Bottom fishing is fair in all estuaries.

Tarpon continue active, with lunkers predominating, up the North Fork including Tarpon Bay, the sloughs and also in the main Estuary off Sturat, up the South Fork, and in the surf, with a few snook to keep them company.

George Mill of Pahokee found two snook at the St. Lucie Bridge, and Joe Fountain two trout, both running about 8 pounds.

Sea trout are plentiful in lower estuary and in the Indian River, down the Intracoastal Waterway, where there are snook.

Ollie Sweetman nabbed three snook in the surf, and Steve Stevens, Chuck Schucht, eight trout and four weakfish. Pete Peterson proved that bottom fishing is on again, catching a good mess of bottomfish in the Indian River.

Offshore, dolphin can be found from four miles out to the Gulf stream, albacore all over the ocean, but not schooled up.

Kings have been wandering in from the surf out to six miles, plentiful, but not in schools.

Sailfish catches are high, so the fishing again looks good...er Mr. Crawford, "fair."

Tweedys Return From Vacation

Rev. and Mrs. Newton Tweedy, 527 Skyline Drive, Jensen Beach, came home to find their home repainted by the Jensen Beach Community Church members, after traveling through 11 states with their family.

The Tweedys arrived home last week with their seven children having visited Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Tennessee, Ohio, Kentucky, Missouri and several other states.

They visited a brother of the Reverend that they had not seen in 16 years and the children found particular excitement with the St. Louis Zoo.

Leaving with their seven children, David, 14; Joy 13; Gay, 11; Warren, 8; Bonnie, 5; Dayton, 3; and Dana, 1 1/2, they traveled a distance of over five thousand miles.

First prize winner was Mrs. Helen Winoweckl, who won a ladies Timex watch. Second prize was won by Dixie Prentice who won a Lykes ham.

Third prize was a basket of groceries, whic was won by Earl Van Epp. A month's supply of Dandee bread was the door prize, worn by Stan Milt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith of Jensen Beach.

Science Feature Begins This Week

This week, on the editorial page of the Mirror, a new feature of interest to all citizens begins. Entitled "Science and Our Future", the feature is the text of a speech given by Dr. Donald Andrews, distinguished professor of chemistry, Florida Atlantic University, to a summer meeting of the Florida Press Association.

The series will last ten weeks, and puts the definition of our society in relation to the atomic world in such simple terms we thought that the ten installment article would be of great interest to our readers.

This series is another public service "bonus feature" of The Jensen Beach Mirror.

Tooker Starts Action Against Junk Yard

Martin County Attorney Dean Tooker said last week he was readying an injunctive action against both John N. Mann, Stuart, and C. L. Ramey, Palm City, because of their failure to eliminate an auto junk yard in Palm City.

Tooker said that he and County Engineer Fred L. Bell, who is also county zoning director, had visited Ramey after a warning to "clean up the junk yard," had been given by the county commission.

"He promised us that he would remove all the junk, plant a hedge to hide other parts of the operation, and policed to violations by other people," Tooker said.

Tooker admitted that nothing had been done by Ramey to improve the situation. Ramey leases the varied business from Mann.

Holley To Attend Goldwater Meeting

Republican candidate for governor Charles R. Holley left for Hershey, Pa., at 9:15 a. m. last Tuesday to attend a meeting called by Republican Presidential candidate Senator Barry Goldwater.

Holley said he has already pledged the full cooperation of the Holley for governor organization in support of the Goldwater-Miller ticket in a statement released from his campaign headquarters in St. Petersburg, and that he welcomes this opportunity to discuss plans with Sen. Goldwater personally.

"I am confident Sen. Goldwater will campaign extensively in Florida. This will add to the rising tide of conservative sentiment and insure a smashing victory for constitutional government in November," Holley said.

Utilities Commission Starts Study Of Power Rates

Florida's five investor-owned electric power companies will have their rates that they charge rural cooperatives and municipal power systems studied, the Commission's Executive Director and General Counsel Lewis W. Petteway announced last week. The Commission ordered the probe, Petteway said, to find out what effect these wholesale sales may have on the rates charged retail customers.

The study is strictly an investigation designed to provide that information not now readily available," Petteway said, "and is not intended to reflect in any way on the rates charged under present contracts."

The investigation will deal entirely with the private power companies since the commission does not regulate either cooperative or municipal power systems and the purpose is just to see if some benefit can be passed on to the consumer.

Cooperatives generally don't generate their power as do some of the larger municipal systems but buy it all from private companies for resale to member-customers. The investor-owned companies are regulated by the PSC and have been asked for full reports on their sales to the unregulated power operations as far back as 1959.

Petteway, who is special designate and examiner in charge of the investigation said that the commission is doing the study in the interest of "the public it represents."

He is to report his recommendations to the PSC's board.

James Lentz Receives Degree

Lentz was to receive a Bachelor in Industrial Engineering.

Also listed as candidates for degrees were 120 students in the College of Arts and Sciences, 333 in the Graduate School, with 150 going to graduate students in the College of Education.

Lentz and other graduating students will be honored at annual commencement ceremonies in April, 1965.

Smiths' Entertain Relatives

T Sgt. and Mrs. Stanley M. Milt, of Grand Forks, N. D., and four children, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Smith of Sewall's Point.

They plan to stay through the month of August. Mrs. Milt is the daughter of the Smiths. Milt is attached to the USAF Strategic Air Command at Grand Forks.

BEAT THE HEAT IN ST. PETE — The cue for Susan Warner's pretty stable, Floridians by the thousands are planning to converge on this Gulf Coast City for a final fling before the old school bell rings at the end of the long Labor Day weekend.

Candidate Speaks:

'Will Attack Problems, Not Symptoms,' Says Holley

Reporting on candidate for governor Charles R. Holley said he intends to attack the causes of Florida's problems rather than just the symptoms. In a speech to the Women's Republican Club of St. Petersburg last Thursday, Holley cited the development of new industry as an example of a problem that has produced a lot of talk and the spending of large sums of money, while the causes of the problem are overlooked.

He said further that he would initiate action that will attack the causes.

"The principle cause for the primary reason why many new industries are afraid to locate in Florida," Holley said in his speech, he added that "the cause of such fear will attract industry into this state is the corporate income tax is repealed."

Holley said fairness such as "development of new industry and improvement of the tax cli-

IRJC Building Plans Approved

Final approval for all Indian River Junior College's building plans has been received. This includes completion of the library, student center and fine arts buildings.

Advertising for bids will be September 1. It is hoped the construction will be under way by mid-September.

The buildings are being constructed out of funds received from the recent state bond election which called for the sale of $75,000,000 for the entire state.

IRJC will receive $485,000 from this amount.

Entries In Sailfish Tournament

New entries in the Stuart Sailfish tournament were announced last Friday.

Irvin Wagner entered a 22 pound barracuda nabbed from the boat Mary Bob III, Captain Bob Scrimsher.

Tripletail, 32 pounds, 8 ounces, was caught by Collin Braim of Daytona Beach, Captain Frank McClasky on the boat "Jackie."

IRJC Orientation Will Be Aug 13th

Orientation for Freshman students has been announced for Thursday, August 13, by Indian River Junior College's Dean of Student Personnel Charles W. Sample.

All new Freshmen who have not taken their placement tests are to be present at the Science Lecture Hall at 8:00 a. m. next Tuesday, August 11. These tests are not entrance tests, but are given to assist the faculty in academic advising each student.

Students will meet with their faculty advisors as a group next Thursday, Sample said, and then meet individually Friday to plan their program and arrange their schedules.

Formal registration of previous students will be August 19, and for Freshmen August 20. Classes for the fall session begin Monday, August 24, for both day and evening college credit classes.

Dean Sample urged prospective students who have not filled the necessary application papers to do so immediately in order to complete the requirements prior to the registration dates.

NSA Plans Workshop

Stuart's Chapter of National Secretaries Association (International) is planning a fun work shop to be held September 26 at the Woman's Club Building on East Ocean Blvd.

It will be an all day session, Mrs. Joseph Wiler, chairman of the affair, announced last week.

Registration deadline is Sept. 19, and is necessary to participate in the program. Prices of tickets are available from Mrs. Sherman Veazey, 705 Osceola Ave., Stuart. Commercial instructors and students registration will be $1.50, others are $3.00.

Anyone who wishes to offer a door prize as a means of advertising may contact Mrs. Midee Tracy, P. O. Box 1215, or phone after 5:30 p. m., 287-5847.

Visiting secretaries from all parts of the state are expected at the all-day function.

Getting there is half the fun.....As these Boat-a-caders discovered

Taking the trip abooard the 30 foot cruiser owned by Ken Plock were these local Jensen Beach people. Above, left, are Dr. and Mrs. Richard Penick, Mary Tilton, Osa Campbell, Bill and Lillian Gass and Plock. At the right, Jack Addy, and wife Dorothy, shove off from the dock. Above, center, a trio is formed by Dick Campbell on trumpet, Penick on drums and Ransom Tilton on gut-bucket bass. Upper right, a sailboat, the "Hellsbells" passes on a cruise. At left, Mr. and Mrs. Tilton and Mrs. Gass sit in the cabin of the boat, and at right Plock steers the boat with unerring accuracy toward the Buccaneer. Below, left, Bill Gass takes a turn at the wheel, and below, the "DD" passes, with Mr. and Mrs. David Gale and Mr. and Mrs. Art Miller enroute to the Buccaneer. The trio was a smash as the band played on, entering the yacht basin.

These were among 818 calves auctioned off, weighing a total of 18,400 pounds, or an average of 484 pounds each. Goldie Been Nibbling?

Rogers Urges Ban on Dangerous Piranha Fish

If you've cultivated an avid desire to have tropical fish around your house, you might tie Fie Goldie and end up with a mangled finger. At least there's a possibility of such occurring, according to those people who know about such things. The real danger, however, is that the liberal sale of the dangerous South American Piranha fish in Northern cities might result in the infestation of Florida waters.

Consequently, Con. Paul G. Rogers urged the Secretary of the Interior to ban any further importation of the fish.

While at present there is a Florida Statute which forbids the importation into the State of those fish, Con. Rogers pointed out, they have never been as easily obtainable as they are now. In view of this fact, Rogers urged the Secretary of the Interior to exercise his power he already possesses and declare a ban on any further importation of these dangerous fish.

Authorities differ in their views as to whether Piranha could readily establish themselves in South Florida waters, but all seem to agree that there is a possibility.

"So long as this possibility exists and the power to ban their importation exists, that power should be exercise for the benefit of the residents of South Florida," Rogers concluded.

She is survived by her husband, Harry C. Orchard and a sister, Mrs. Irene Marshall of San Francisco, California.

services were held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Yates Jensen Beach Chapel with the Reverend Newton Tweedy officiating.

MCHS Yearbook Unveiled at Tuesday Signing Party'

Martin County High School's senior class yearbook MACOSH was unveiled at the high school hall Tuesday night in a "signing" party sponsored by the yearbook staff.

The issue marks the second year in which the yearbook staff has delayed until August delivery of the book in order to cover spring activities up to and including graduation exercises.

Miss Betty Higbee, editor of the 1964 yearbook, said Monday that the books were due to arrive for the entire class at the Tuesday confab.

Receipts from pre-payments were considered as admission tickets, those without them having to pay to get in.

Mrs. Ronny Nelson, advisor to the yearbook staff, and MCHS principal James C. Woodall were on hand Tuesday night to autograph books as requested.

GREEN TURTLES SWIM — Getting ready to move out to the ocean, these green turtles, hatched and raised at the House of Refuge on Hutchinson Island, are getting larger and larger. As they begin to overcrowd the tank, the turtles are released into the ocean. Steve Bishop, (left insert) turtle watcher at the House of Refuge Museum, isn't tickling the stomach of this 12 pound green turtle. He is just holding it up to show the size. The turtles get as large as about 500 pounds.

Invitations To Jensen Beach Marathon Labor Day Race Sent To Competitors

NEW OFFICERS — Floyd Stevens was elected president of the newly formed Friday night scratch league at Jensen Beach Lanes. Stevens stands at left with Joe Roberts Sr., secretary-treasurer of the league, and Pete Robertson, vice-president.

Invitations to over 400 outboard racing drivers were mailed this week to begin the driver for participation in the first annual Jensen Beach Outboard Marathon Races to be held on Labor Day, September 7, at the Jensen Beach Causeway.

The four mile course will keep boats in view of the mile long causeway at all times, and the event should attract thousands to the Labor Day picnic on the Causeway. Sponsored by the Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce, the race will start at 1 p. m. and include eight classes of boats, according to Randy Tilton, chairman of the race.

The boat classes will include 0 to 22 h. p., 23 to 40 h. p., 41 to 50 h. p., 51 to 75 h. p., 75.1 to 100 h. p., 0 to 45 cu. in., 45.1 and up cu. in., and unlimited. The last three classes will include any boats or motors with racing equipment.

Trophies are planned for the first three places in each class, and an overall first, second and third place trophy will be given.

The race will be preceded by a driver's meeting at noon on the fishing pier at the Jensen Beach Causeway. At that time the final course will be explained, along with the rules for the event.

The course as presently lined up would start the boats at the west end of the causeway, move one mile east, and then north one mile to a marker. Then a 90 degree turn west to a marker and a southwest course back to the starting point.

The most exciting turn on the course will be in view of the greatest number of spectators. An approximate 130 degree turn will offer much excitement at that point, and will test the most experienced driver's skill.

The race will end at 2 p. m., and all drivers on a lap at that time will finish their lap and return to the causeway. Trophies will be awarded that afternoon at the causeway in ceremonies planned for 4:00 p. m.

Other events of the afternoon will include races for youngsters, a barbeque, pram races, a tube race and a teen-age hop at the pavilion.

The foot races will include the 100 yard dash, 50 yard dash, 50 yard wheelbarrow, three legged and bag race. There will be two pram races, one for the young sailors who took part in summer Martin County High School courses in sailing, and one for old-timers who have never sailed before.

The tube race will be another first for the Causeway Family Day. Thus far 50 inner tubes have been received for the races, and anyone can participate in the race, which will be from a point at the edge of the causeway to the fishing pier.

The barbeque, to be prepared by the Jensen Beach Volunteer Firemen, will be served all afternoon, starting at 1 p. m. Dancing for older persons will be from 5:30 to 7 p. m.

WINNERS — The winners of the coloring contest this week are Ricky Christensen, 10, of Skyline Drive in Jensen Beach, and Kathy Wheeler, 6, of Sunview Road in Jensen Beach. The two colored the cartoons carefully and used great imagination for their two age groups in finishing them. They won $1 each for their efforts. The cartoon for this week and every week is on the Mirror comics page.

One Third Right-Of-Way Procured For Rio Road

County Engineer Fred L. Bell lauded the efforts of Tommy Hellier, county right-of-way acquirer, saying that excellent progress is being made in acquiring property on a half-dozen fronts.

Hellier said he had no idea about the value of acquisitions so far, but he praised co-operative land owners in areas which he said "really count."

A new Jensen Beach - Rio road, cutting from Jensen Cut-off Road to a point on the road to Rio at Baker Road, has the rights-of-way procured for about one third or agreed to be deeded to the county, with more progress being made daily, he said.

The road will have 100 feet of right-of-way, 5- feet each side of the centerline.

Locks Rd., from SR 76 to the St. Lucie Locks had been laid out without the benefit of deeds, he said, but maintained by the county and therefore considered a county road.

Good co-operation has been received from property owners from Port Salerno to Great Pocket on the intracoastal waterway on the Cove Road project.

Also straightened out was Fox Brown Rd. in Western Martin County, which will have 116 feet of right-of-way, using 66 feet previously acquired in much of the west side of the center line and 50 feet on the east side.

Hellier will go to work ironing out difficulties with the Hutchinson Island road from the Elliott Musuem south to Seminole Shores next week.

Not all of Martin County roads have been established by what might be considered the best of methods in the past, and the present commission, the county engineer and Hellier have been trying to correct deficiencies as rapidly as possible.

Sails Are All Over

Sails are all over the place this week, according to a variety of sources. The six mile reef is reportedly one of the best areas.

False albacore going out to the three mile reef, dolphin trying the area from there out to the Gulf, and barracuda in the three mile reef area.

Kings and Spanish mackerel are along the beaches, from there out to the three mile reef (a lot of fish hanging out around there), with concentration on the Hole area off Peck's Lake on northern Jupiter Island.

St. Lucie Inlet has blues, which are also inside the inlet on some strong tides, and in the surf.

Snook living fine in the surf, the inlet, at the Crossroads, up both the Indian and St. Lucie all the way up to the North Fork, down to the South Fork, and just about every bridge. However, there are some medium size lunkers, if you care for those things with all those snook.

Tarpon thick in the North Fork, some are hanging around the South Fork... lower estuary.

CHURCH PROGRESS — The walls are going up on the new Jensen Beach Community Church sanctuary, as is shown in the photo above. Progress is being made by the workmen, heading for a completion date to have the sanctuary ready for the next winter season.

Triple Play League First

A triple play in slow pitch softball? Will wonders never cease. The Jensen Pros made a triple play Tuesday night as they defeated the Bandy team 10-9 in the rushed up season of Jensen Beach Slow Pitch Softball.

It was a line drive to third-baseman Dennis Rinaldi with men on first and second that set up the triple play. Rinaldi threw to Fletcher at second, who threw to the firstbaseman to make the play. Rinaldi's trap of the ball made the difference, for both base runners were caught flat-footed on their bags.

The triple play was the first in the history of slow pitch in Jensen Beach.

Constitutional Amendment

Editor's note: The following information on the 1964 amendments to the Florida Constitution has been submitted to the Mirror by Senator Irlo Bronson, who has asked that the amendments be made public for an enlightened vote in November. Senator Bronson stated that this is a preliminary draft of the amendments, and that a final draft will follow. We feel that both drafts should be published for public information.

Twelve resolutions proposing amendments to the Florida Constitution were adopted by the 1963 regular session. A 13th amendment adopted by the special session in February, 1963, and providing for legislative apportionment of 43 senators and 112 members of the House of Representatives, apparently will not appear on the ballot, since the federal decree approving it has been reversed.

Education

Five of the amendments to be submitted to the electorate at the general election of November, 1964, deal with the field of education. Three of these are of statewide interest, while two are of local concern.

SJR 267 - Higher Education, Board:

At present Article XVI, Section 7, of the Florida Constitution provides that the legislature shall not create any office for a term longer than four years and this is the term presently prescribed for members of the seven-man Board of Control. Upon recommendation of its Committee on Higher Education, the Florida Legislative Council proposed to the 1963 session that thecterms of the members of the board which governs the state universities be made longer. This proposal was introduced as SJR 267 and was given favorable action by the legislature. It leaves the present wording of Article XVI, Section 7, unchanged but adds an exception for members of the board charged with responsibility for colleges and universities (not including junior colleges), whose terms may be extended by the legislature to not more than nine years.

An implementing law was enacted subject to becoming effective upon approval of this amendment. This law establishes a nine-member Board of Regents to replace the Board of Control as the governing board of higher education in the State. The members of the Board are to be appointed from geographic areas of the state for nine-year staggered terms. The appointments are to be made by the Governor with the concurrence of the State Board of Education and confirmed by the Senate. The Board shall elect a chairman every four years and an executive secretary. It may also elect an executive officer who shall act as an advisor to the Board on all educational problems. In other respects the statute prescribing the powers, duties and functions of the new board is similar to the present Chapter 240, F. S. Like the Board of Control, this new board will be subject to the policies and supervision of the State Board of Education (SB 265, Chapter 63-204). (A provision exempting the new board from the control of the State Budget Commission was nullified by SB 1407, Chapter 63-558).

Zoning Changes

Mobile Home Subdivision Zoning Might Be Changed

Action of the Martin County Zoning and Planning Board to produce a new (R-T) mobile home subdivision section for the county zoning code may result in wide modification of other zoning classifications, particularly in the water supply and sewage disposal, it was indicated last week at a work session of the board.

Such a trend was noticeable as much of the new R-T code was written before the session ended, as mobile home lots would be dropped to 3,000 square feet minimum.

But lots of that size would be permitted only if each lot were to be connected to an approved central water supply and central sewage system.

Exceptions under the requirement, and added exceptions for larger lots, require engineering studies of percolation (filtration), water tables, fill requirements and other limiting factors it was indicated.

The board reasoned that if the water and sewage plant requirements were to be imposed on mobile home subdivisions, then the same requirements should apply to all small lot subdivisions.

While the board only can recommend to the county commission, the commission has asked the planning and zoning board to suspend all action on R-T zoning until a new code is readied.

Many of the new R-T classifications were ironed out, using a combination of the code as set up in Manatee County for similar uses, plus recommendations for changes made by Zoning Director Fred L. Bell.

The R-T mobile home subdivision district is intended to apply to areas to be used primarily for placement of mobile homes for residential occupancy as living quarters on a permanent basis upon lots owned by the resident.

As the code is being set up now, uses permitted would include one residence per lot, public recreation areas and facilities of fiver per cent of the gross land area; piers, docks, boat-launching areas, accesory uses and structures customarily associated with mobile home residences.

Also, golf, country, yach and fraternal clubs; civic or community centers, churches, child care centers, nursing and rest homes, public utilities and public buildings, historical museums and landmarks, and botanical gardens.

Buffer zones would be set up surrounding the subdivisions with strips of at least 25 feet required.

Minimum size for subdivisions would be ten acres, the same as commercial trailer parks.

Chairman Joe Greenless, Donald Ward, Frank Forsberg, County Attorney Dean Tooker, participated in the discussion.

Results of last week's meeting will probably be adopted as a R-T section in the zoning code next Thursday night and presented to the county commission following.

Slange Animals Which Live In The Sea

By Carol Schmidt

Some of the most interesting animals which exist today in ocean waters do not swim at all. These strange, and ofttimes beautifully colored creatures, belong to a large group in the animal kingdom called invertabrates.

Perhaps the most spectacular are the sea anemones. These delicate, flowerlike animals are found in the warm shallow waters and tidal pools all along our Florida coasts. The numerous tenacles which seem to wave in the currents gather food for the animal. When distrubed, or exposed to the air at low tide, the tenacles rOtract leaving a lumpy looking stump.

Anemones usually attach themselves frimly to suitable objects, such as rocks or the backs of large crabs and shells. However, they are capable of creeping about very slowly on their flat bases. Visitors to the House of Refuge Museum can observe some of these colorful animals in the salt water aquaria found in the Marine Biology Hall. These species were collected from our local waters and transplanted to their present display tanks where they thrive in their beauty.

The House of Refuge Museum and the Elliott Museum are open from 1-5 p. m. Tuesday though Friday; from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays. There is no admission fee to the House of Refuge Museum, however a small admission charg is in effect at the Elliott Museums.

Committe Of 100 Announces County Picture Display

A "bird's eye view" of Martin County is now available to everyone at the W. Ocean Blvd. offices of the Martin County Committee of 100, according to Chairman Les Combs.

Big photo murals eight by four feet in size have been mounted for display and study. The scale is one inche to 400 feet, and the area covered is Martin County lying between the Sunshine State Parkway and the Atlantic Ocean, with an additional area including Indiantown and the surrounding built up region.

Because of the large scale, individual houses are easily discernible. The Committee of 100 bought the aerial photos, which were made in December of 1963, for the use of prospective investors, businessmen, real estate developers and for general planning use. Individual property owners may be interested in seeing hoq the area surrounding their homes looks from the air.

Several of the big murals will soon be on display at various banks and other public buildings in Martin County, Combs said.

Mrs. Miller is president of the Soroptimist Club of Stuart and will represent the Stuart Club at the convention.

FDC Assigns Man To Finish Stuart's Planning Work 'In Short Order'

Florida Development Commission Community Planner Richard Dodge told the Stuart advisory planning board last week that he had been assigned by the commission at the insistance of Atlanta Federal officials to "finish up Stuart's planning work in short order." He said the joint State — Federal contract with Stuart had 12 principal parts that needed two weeks of concentrated effort. Four areas of the contract that would receive his immediate attention included the completion of the general land use plan, completion and updating of the major street plan, completion and updating of a recommended zoning ordinance with revisions, and completion of a "neighborhood plan," he said.

Contract between the FDC and the city would be completed by September, he said, with the four previously mentioned areas finished before the end of August.

Stuart contracted with the FDC in 1959 for $1,200, while the county contracted with them for $5,000 local cost, for a city — county project, one of the first such joint agreements in the state.

The FDC named a long-forgotten planner to get the twin job under way, but he failed to do anything substantial.

In about 1960, J. E. Bartl, former Boston attorney, took the job of planner and lasted until the end of 1962, followed by a Miami free-lance planner Stanley Goldberg, who was given work to do on a contract basis by the FDC.

Several others have made what was considered brief promises, none of which made the impression of Dodge when he said he had the strictest of orders from both Federal and State authorities to "finish the job."

Dodge spent over two hours discussing aspects and problems of the project with the city board, and planned to work with City Building — Zoning Inspector William Wheeler and others this week.

Another planner will be supplied to complete the county's projects, Dodge said, but he did not name him.

Stuart Chamber Endorses State-long Scenic Route

A proposal to promote coastal travel along A-1-A was presented to the Stuart Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors by Chamber Manager Mrs. Rosaleen Murray at the August meeting.

Originating with the Fernandina Beach Chamber of Commerce and discussed by Chamber representatives at Melbourne on Aug. 3rd, the idea precipitated from the Daytona — Fernandina Buccaneer Trail.

As proposed, the trail would run along A-1-A except for necessary cross-overs to US 1 where waterways without bridges interfere. It was suggested that state line welcome stations could make the trail well known to travelers wanting to see all of Florida.

Chamber executives at the Melbourne meeting were asked to take the matter up with their Boards and get their feelings on requesting designation of the entire coastal route as Buccaneer Trail and the forming of a promotional organization.

Stuart's Board voted to endorse the idea of the state-long route but declined to commit themselves to join an association until further facts are at hand.

Involved are 39 Chambers, all of which are invited to meet again in Cocoa Beach Sept. 21 to discuss the matter.

IRJC Enrollment For Fall Term Exceeds 700

Indian River Junior College President Dr. Maxwell C. King said that pre-registration of new students and returnees to the college indicates a total college credit enrollment this fall exceeding 700 students.

King further stated that this high enrollment will "tax to the limit" the present facilities of the college, reflecting on the many new faces the orientation program last week brought to IRJC campus.

"The vast majority of the students are from the college's four-county community," King stated in a news release, adding that there were a few out-of-state and foreign students that would be included in the fall enrollment figures.

Classes will necessarily be larger this year than any previous year, he said. New classrooms, the library, and the student center will be under construction shortly, but are not expected for use during the present college year.

MCHS Yearbook Presented To Stuart Chamber

A personalized gold-imprinted copy of the new Martin County High School yearbook was presented to the Stuart Chamber of Commerce Board last week.

The annual will be used for reference with the many prospective teachers and new residents who seek information on the school system at the Chamber's information center, and was "received with appreciation," Chamber officials said.

Your Social Security

By: R.C. Gehrken, Jr.
District Manager
West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. I am getting benefits on my husband's social security record, although we are not living together. If I divorce him, do I have to report it, and will that affect my monthly benefit checks?

A. Yes, you must report the divorce to the Social Security Administration. The final decree of divorce ends your status as wife, and your benefits stop with the month before the month the divorce becomes effective.

Q. My daughter is just a little past 16 years old and is planning to be married soon. I'm getting social security benefits for her use. Will her benefits continue until she is 18, and should she notify you when she gets married?

A. Since you are the one who is receiving the benefits for your daughter, you should notify the Social Security Administration as soon as you know the exact date of her marriage. Her social security benefits will stop with the month before the month in which she marries.

Boys Derail FEC Auto

Four young boys who put a piece of metal on a Florida East Coast Railway track effected the derailment of a small motor car used for track maintenance at Rio Monday afternoon.

Serious injuries were inflicted no one of the men riding the car with minor injuries to the other.

Al Scott of Fort Pierce received minor scratches on his arm, but Robert Fernatt, also of Fort Pierce, was thrown from the car when it struck the metal object, landing on his head in road bed rocks, receiving head, arm and elbow cuts requiring several sutures to close them.

D. C. Glover, railroad detective who called on Deputy Sheriff James Mills for assistance in finding the cause of the wreck, credited Mills with good work in locating the four boys involved, and their parents.

Scott and Fernatt were on their way back to Fort Pierce yards at about 3:40 p. m. when the effect occured.

The metal object was a rail anchor used by the railroad to hold rails, Glover said. He further stated that the wedge shaped object would have been probably tossed aside by a locomotive or high rail car.

About $25 in damages was done to the car, he said.

Fish, Fish All Over

Spanish mackerel are rarely as thick as they are now, not in August. Takers up to a hundred pound on small white feathers during the past several days has not been unusual, especially off the St. Lucie Inlet.

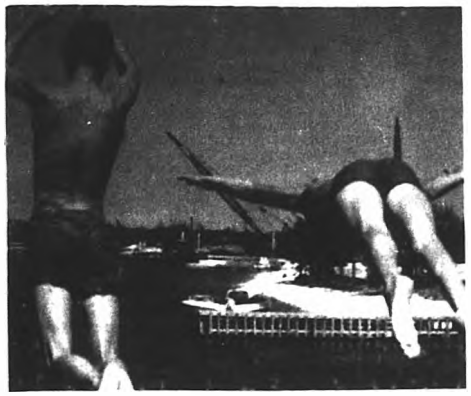
Blues are socializing with the mackerel, but are not equal in numbers.

Mullet, snook, tarpon, blues, jacks, sea trout, and some channel bass are beginning to move in the south, starting what usually becomes a wild period of late summer fishing. It's just about time for them, intensifying in the next couple of weeks.

Offshore the fishing is good as it has ever been. Bonita, dolphin, kings, barracuda, a few sailfish, sails, some blue martin, are all over the ocean.

St. Lucie's North Fork is busy with big tarpon, lots of snook, but like the South Fork. Just west and east of Roosevelt Bridge is also loaded with fish, plus numerous snook, tarpon, jacks, and few blues and pompano.

Indian River has sea trout, too. Prices may go down, but the fish look like they're going to keep on biting.



NOT IN DEFIANCE, BUT IN HOPE — The two young lads engrossed in one of Jensen's favorite sports aren't topping off the summer with suicide, they're just making certain that they utilize every bit of the summer that's left before going back to classes next week. Well, you can't hardly blame them, with the water being as nice as it is.

Wacha Woos Corps, Wins Inlet Dowry

A St. Lucie Inlet channel resotod to project depth and width and maintained with Federal funds was assured by the U. S. Corps of Engineers as a result of a visit to Washington by County Commission Chairman Frank A. Wacha and County Engineer Fred L. Bell.

Both Bell and Wacha returned from Washington last week.

They met with Representative Paul G. Rogers on several occasions, and two hours after their arrival at Washington last Tuesday, were discussing the inlet problem with Colonel Crawford Young and civilian attaches of the Engineers office.

The inlet project was designed for a ten-foot depth, 200 feet wide. Depthometer recordings taken to Washington by Wacha and Bell showed uniform readings at two and three feet the entire width of the inlet.

The Corps would advertise for bids on the entire inlet project, from the Crossroads of the Intracoastal Waterway and the Okeechobee Waterway eastward through and including the original government cut, barring any unforseen difficulties, in October, Wacha said.

"There will be a letting in November and dredging will start prior to February, including the inner channel work and the cut through the bar reef, which has been our main concern," Wacha said.

There are two separate projects. The first has immediate effect, with the county accepting maintenance of the inlet while the $25,000 county-participation project is completed. The second project would do the same work, but since it will be done by the first project, the only effect will be the acceptance of the inlet for maintenance by the engineers.

People in the county have been confused, trying to tie both projects together as the same one, which they aren't, according to Wacha. It is a shuffling of projects, two distinct projects, that will achieve what the county needs... the work done fast and the eventual acceptance of maintenance by the Corps of Engineers.

"The acceptance makes it a Federal project in which Federal maintenance becomes a re-stated obligation," Wacha added.

Wacha said Co. H. R. Parfitt, district engineer at Jacksonville, will set up a public meeting here at an early date (not yet known) at which he will go over the entire project.

The chairman said the Corps is aware that it has suffered severe criticism from this area and intend to make amends, both in a public relations meeting and through corrective measures.

Wacha said that another meeting was being planned, as well.

"When the work is done, the Corps plans to call together all local boatmen to review the project. There will be new channel markings, and they will be reviewed at that meeting, as will data that only boatmen constantly using the inlet can provide," he said.

Sunday an Engineers survey party staked out the course of the new channel with markers intended to provide bid information as well as range markers for the dredging project.

The markers extended from the Crossroads to the Federal bar cut.

Jensen School Sets Rules For Session

Jensen Beach School will have registration Friday, Aug. 28, for new students. Other students can be registered and fees collected if parents desire, according to Principal Ernest Varvil.

Fees will be collected for books and supplies not furnished by the state, he said, and will cost the parents of children in the first three grades $3.50, and the last three grades (4-6), $3.00.

Class schedules for Jensen Beach Elementary will be the same as last year, with classes starting at 8:30, letting out at 3 p. m.

First grade students will not be dismissed at noon as in the past, he said. First and second grade students will be dismissed at 2:30 p. m. throughout the year.

Parents of first and second grade students must pick up their children at 2:30 p. m. so that teachers of the two grades will have time to plan their next day's schedule, he said.

On the eating angle, Varvil said school lunches will cost $1.50 per week or 30 cents per day, and students will be able to buy lunch tickets by the day or by the week.

The money will be given to the school secretary in the cafeteria as they come for lunch in line, rather than be given to the home room teacher, as in the past.

Kindergartens Are Needed - Says Hall

Florida Education Association President Dr. Joe Hall called for studies concerning the needs for kindergartens in Florida school systems, a library for every 500 school children, one reading specialist for every 40 teaching units in the elementary schools, and a re-examination of studies of the U. S. Declaration of Independence and the pledge of allegiance to the flag, as District 11-A, of the FFA, met at Stuart last Tuesday.

GED Tests Scheduled At MCHS On Sept. 14

The 21st series of General Educational Development tests will be given Sept. 14 through 18 at Martin County High School, it was announced last week by E. B. Horton, coordinator of adult education.

There are five parts to the test and one section will be given each night until completion. The tests will be given at about 7 p. m. each night.

Those planning to take the tests should contact E. B. Horton at once to make arrangements and to file an application for the test now. His phone number is 287-2107 or 287-0291.

All applications must be completed and returned to Horton's office by Sept. 14.

Thanks A Lot You Buggers

Ocean Breeze Mayor Harry Hoke congratulated the county commission and the mosquito control for efforts to control the "skeeters" in the incorporated mobile home community. A letter from Hoke was read at the meeting this week. The mosquito control fogger is a leased truck operated on District A taxes, in the district. Hoke said the fogging had reduced the "skeeters" to a minimum.

Roy Niebling Receives Promotion In Navy

Roy F. Niebling, machinist's mate third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Niebling of Jensen Beach, was recently promoted aboard the destroyer USS English, operating out of Norfolk, Va.

His promotion was based on time in service and rate, military appearance, performance of duties and passing the Navy-wide test for promotion.

Resolution To Name New Bridge

Martin County Commission voted Tuesday to send a resolution to Representative William E. Owens asking that the new bascule span in the Jensen Beach bridge system be named The Frank A. Wacha Bridge. The action came at the request of, and in support of, a like resolution adopted by the Jensen Area Chamber of Commerce.

The resolution of the Chamber was presented by president Richard Campbell. It cited Wacha as an "active community booster, ... deserving of... the praise of his constituents for his major role in achieving the present network of bridges in Jensen Beach..."

Campbell also read a letter in support of the move from state road board member John Monahan, who offered the "full cooperation of the State Road Department."

Over Wacha's protests, the members of the commission voted to send the resolution to Owens. Wacha is ending his first term as county commissioner from the first district, which includes Jensen Beach. He was recently re-elected to his second term in office. He presently is county commission chairman, a post he has held for four years.

Pelosi Family Makes A Career Of Shells Of The Ocean

By Dick Campbell

"I wiped away the weeds and foam,
I fetched my seaborne treasures home;
But the poor, unsightly, noisome things
Had left their beauty on the shore,
With the sun and the sand and the wild uproar."
Ralph Waldo Emerson

The collection of shell art on display this month at the House of hure Museum is a thing of inanimate beauty to tourists who come to w the magnificent museums of Martin County.

The display was the life, the beauty, and the human element of a mily dedicated to bringing the beauty of the sea to the people of the orld.

Frank and Marjorie Pelosi are the family who display at the museum s month, and theirs is a story of love of the sea and dedication to art its purist form.

Thousands have found the joy creating exciting forms from a shells in this story of the elosi family, for theirs is a ory with a beginning in the sea d no ending in sight.

Their entire existence is preciation of the sea, from the agnificent seascapes paintedby ank Marjorie Pelosi to the hellcraft they teach and have ught over the years.

Three books on the art of hellcrafting are credited to the elosi family. The first, "The omplete Shellcrafter", is in its th printing, and some 66,000 ve been sold since the first inting in 1955. The second ok, "Modern Trends in Shell- aft", was selling in the thou- nds when the latest effort, first blished in 1959, began a best- lling role to shellcrafters. alled "The Book of Shellcraft structions", the first printing of 00 copies went so fast the econd printing was raised to ,000 in four months.

Frank, 58, met his wife to be St. Petersburg (Fla.) in the econd world war, when Frank as, quite naturally, attached to e Coast Guard. Their interests the sea brought their pioneer- g seaweed farming business. sports from the Orient forced em to abandon their farming stinct and move to shells.

In 1948 the Pelosis bought the ell Shop on Hutchinson Island ow the Sandpiper), a restaurant d shell shop. By 1952 the busi- ess grew to such a point they oved to Commercial Street in ensen Beach.

A mail order business was built rough the efforts of the Pelosis the point that they counted ustomers (and friends) all the y to Australia and New aland. Their designs and ef- rts to create new forms from e shells of the sea brought them ationwide recognition in the field creative art.

Scouring the sea for such forms baby cup shells, pectin, cowry, trombus and garscale, names own only to the initiated, the elosis have built a successful siness from the sea shells.

Various kits include directions how to make earrings, dolls, owers, pins, tile plaques, neck- ces, seascapes, Christmas eas, baskets, handbags, ash- ays and countless other items, cluding paintings and seascapes ing the vari-colored shells.

The sample kit for a shell- after includes various shells, structions, tweezers, a work ass, a razor blade, tooth picks, xtion and transparent cement.

Out of this kit can come the ost exciting and beautiful ideas at persons with time can cre- te... all in forms that can seldom duplicated due to the very ature of the many colored shells.

The kits are still being sold the tourists who pass by, the eople who are taught by the now tionally famous Pelosi family, d to the many who order rough the mails from the three books published by the Pelosis.

If finding enjoyment in one's work, and establishing a nation-wide shell business on the basis of love of the sea is success, the Pelosi family has one of the most successful businesses in the world today. To think that the sea shell, washed to smoothness by the ever rolling tides of the Atlantic Ocean, can become a commercial business that brings enjoyment to artistic people throughout the nation, and in for-eign countries, is a sign of the initiative and enterprise of the American people.

Frank and Marjorie Pelosi changed the words of the poem by Emerson, and brought the beauty of the treasures of the sea home with them, to bring beauty to the world.

THE HARBOR OF CREATIVITY — Frank Pelosi stands in front of the business that grew from a hobby, and a keen interest in the natural beauty found in sea shells. Together with his wife, Marjorie, he has managed to achieve great success in marketing artistic shell products. The House of Refuge Museum is currently showing an exhibit of the Pelosis shellcraft.

HOW MANY? — Frank Pelosi stands at the shell counter, where jars of shells, sorted and sized, stand for customers to choose their sets.

PUT IT THERE — Marjorie Pelosi assists her daughter, Mary, 17, in making a decorative design that will later be framed to be hung on a wall. At lower right is a completed picture for framing. Mrs. Pelosi also teaches at St. Joseph Parochial School in Stuart.

County Zoning Moves Into New Phase

Two changes in the Martin County zoning code will come up for public hearing Sept. 17 as a result of action taken by the county zoning and planning board last week.

The board voted to advertise amendment one to the county subdivision regulations in connection with required utilities.

In addition, it also agreed to advertise the newly written subsection covering R-T mobile home subdivision districts.

The board also agreed to go into the hearing stage on the R-T section calling for 5,000 square-foot lots with some chances and a continuing argument, with board member Donald Ward supplying the disagreement.

Chairman Joe Greenlees and members Frank Forsberg and Howard Hald tentatively agreed to the 5,000 figure but agreed to consider dropping the requirement to 3,000 sq.-ft.

Recreation areas, side and rear yard setbacks and utility requirements were discussed by the board and by several of the public present at the meeting.

The entire section will be advertised heard at the hearing, when more discussion will be sure, and the board will pass on to the county commission its results and recommendations.

The amendment to the subdivision regulations concerns not only mobile home subdivisions, but all subdivisions.

Providing for the use of wells and septic tanks where ground water tables can be maintained at not less than three feet below the finish grade where fill is acceptable and where water analysis shows safe water, the amendment essentially calls for the installation of central water and/or sewage disposal systems, licenses for their operation, and agreements for use of septic tanks and wells until the subdivisions reach the point at which the central systems become necessary.

In other business the board:

HEARD a plea from property owners in a subdivision north of Stuart for an increase in house area size from 800 square feet to 1,000 square feet although the lots contain only 7,500 square feet.

The R-2 zone, said petitioners led by Mrs. Frank Zlemba, warrants upgrading.

Board members tabled the request pending study by County Attorney Dean Tooker and County Zoning Director Fred L. Bell.

Economy Up Over '63

Florida's economy showed a decided streng.hening during the first six months of this year compared with the same period in 1963, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported in its weekly business review released last Sunday.

"Over-all business activity, guaged by gross sales, was up nine per cent and bank debits were ten per cent over last year. Total bank deposits increased by eight per cent," the report said.

The total personal income of Floridians was running 1' per cent higher than in 1963 and cash farm sales were about one-third more, it reported. Savings and Loan Association shares had increased about six per cent by mid-year.

Employment in non-farm establishments was reportedly up five per cent over 1963. Gasoline sales, the report stated, showed a six per cent increase.

"New business incorporations did not show up so well as they were up a mere three per cent over 1963," the State Chamber reported.

The State Chamber attributed a small part of the gain as a result of low figures in 1963, but said that most of the increase is "very real and... Florida gains stand out well ahead of national averages."

Stuart Secretaries Met Last Monday

Stuart's Chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International) held their monthly meeting at the Martin County Committee of 100 office, 203 W. Ocean Boulevard, Stuart last Monday.

Martin County Librarian Miss Elizabeth Thalman was featured at the event, and discussed the use of reference materials and procedures used in the library.

Electrical Storms Create Tornado

Two massive electrical storms met over Eastern Martin County late Wednesday afternoon for a half-hour producing lightning and thunder and created a small tornado, according to the official weather reporting station here.

One lightning bolt set fire to the home of Mrs. Margaret Newman of Palm City, resulting in a total loss to the home.

Observers stated that the storm moved down the North Fork of the St. Lucie River, and an equally potent storm came in from the southwest at the same time.

SHELTER CHECKING STATION--Billy Banks, Jensen Beach, and Mrs. Betty Harrell of Palm City, both volunteer Civil Defense workers, check Mrs. Della Mae Smith into the Civil Defense Shelter at St. Joseph Novitiate the eve of Hurricane Cleo. The scene was typical of the calm of the people of Martin County during the human drama that was Hurricane Cleo. This is the story, this week in the Mirror, of Hurricane Cleo, Martin County, August 27,1964.

Cleo Clobbers Martin County

Mirror Reports Throughout Storm To Keep Public Informed Of Damage

By Dick Campbell

Hurricane Cleo threw all she had at Martin County, and the press car of the Mirror. She pushed, shoved, blew and broke all she could. Only the constant vigil, and an informed public, kept this from being one of the most disastrous hurricanes of all time.

The wind was only five miles an hour as we began delivering the regular weekly edition of the Mirror last Wednesday afternoon. Hurricane Cleo, then a distant something that was happening to Cuba, and was out over the Florida Straits going somewhere else, was causing some comment.

It was 1:00 p.m. when I walked into Mac's Market, delivering papers. "It won't come here", I said. "I predicted Ginny last year when everyone thought it would come here, and I haven't missed yet." Ray McKenzie chewed on his pipe and said, "Well, we had better get ready anyhow."

At 3:00 I was delivering papers at Hobe Sound. A Miami radio station was broadcasting hurricane preparedness warnings. The coastline of Florida from Key West to West Palm Beach was under a Hurricane Warning. Irving McNayr, Metro manager, was broadcasting appeals to the public for hurricane preparedness.

It was then that I began to worry about the little lady called Cleo. I kept the radio tuned to Miami's WGBS, and headed south. With our newspaper out, the Lake Park Sun, close friends of the Mirror, might need some help. When I arrived they had already finished the edition, and headed back up the highway. It was 5:00 p.m. Reports of thousands of boats clogging the waterways of Miami came over the radio station. Cleo was coming. My Tempest began to move out under an impatient accellerator. Hundreds of cars filled the highways of West Palm Beach north to Jupiter. Then the traffic eased and I drove into Martin County.

Behind me a heavy grey line crossed the sky. Radio reports told of rain already reaching Miami, the leading edge of the hurricane. It would reach West Palm Beach by 6:00 or 7:00. I knew then that the hurricane was on its way.

Houses Shuttered

When I returned to Jensen Beach we set right in to shutter the old house on the hill. This was quite a chore for a big two-story building. Several shutters had warped out of shape in the years since Donna, and needed a little help with a hammer before they could be forced into the window fronts.

It was 9:00 p.m. when we finished with the house. The Mirror office was boarded up also, having only one window. Then I began to patrol the streets to check local preparations.

The wind had begun to rise, and I went down Commercial Street, picking up newsstands to keep them from blowing away. Poor Bob's Restaurant had found all the stands out, and helped Les put them away.

Cruising around, I drove into the Jensen Beach Elementary School. Martin Wahl was on duty, and we had a cup of coffee. Few persons were in the shelter at the time. Others began arriving when the 11:00 p.m. bulletin reported Cleo hitting full force Miami and on the way up the coast.

It was almost 2:00 a.m. when I drove into the St. Joseph Novitiate shelter. Several Civil Defense men were standing around a car, smoking cigarettes, waiting a break, but ready for it.

Inside the shelter, which wasn't air conditioned, the dank smell of sweat clung to the walls and hung in the air, smarting at the eyes. Some persons were sleeping in one room. Children played at games, for most were too upset by the oncoming hurricane Cleo to sleep.

It was about 4:00 a.m. when I staggered into bed. The wind had picked up a little, but there was not much yet.

Morning Becomes Hurricane Cleo

At 8:00 a.m. I awoke, took a shower to get the sleep away, and turned on the tub, filling it with water. Rain was pouring down, and we could tell that the 'cane was coming in fast.

A report of a tree being down on A1A sent me scurrying down the road, and from then on, it was hurricane madness.

A power pole strained at its wires, bent over to a 50 degree angle by Cleo. The awning at Jensen 5 & 10 blew away. Signs up and down Commercial Street came off and blew away. Another awning at Jensen 5 & 10 blew off and landed across the street.

Large plate windows at Lil General and the empty store next door blew in, and a downed sign at Warren's Cleaners took the plate glass window with it. The iron brace, two feet long, tied to the building by a guy wire, flailed about, smashing jalousies in the door to Warren's.

All needed attention and all were taken care of as they occurred. Ransom Tilton was out through the entire storm, making fast loosening connections and awnings.

Power lines began falling on Indian River Drive. Snapped off by the high winds, the lines lay flat on the road.

It was at about 1:00 p.m., in the height of the storm, that I drove into Ocean Breeze Park. The mobile homes were firm, but flimsy awnings were torn loose from their moorings and blocked some of the streets. One large sheet sailed across in front of the car. I got out of there fast.

Every road was covered with palmetto fronds, palm fronds and twigs, branches and entire pine trees. In Langford Park there were trees snapped off like matchsticks.

I watched a cabana top peel off like an orange, in sections, in Riverside Trailer Park, helpless to do anything about it.

Pine trees were down, blocking the road into the Evinrude estate. In the Langford Marina the tug "Dottie" huddled against its moorings, looking like a frightened child against the proud "Lazy Girl", which rode the storm with a staunch air of strength.

An Australian pine fell across the road as I came up Palmer Road. I ducked around the side of it and saw boards fallen from Milan's Restaurant window on the hurricane windward side. I rushed back down Palmer Road, got Alex Milan, and we both put the boards back.

Boats Moored Tight Hold

Suddenly it was after 2:00 p.m. The wind was still high. At the Anchorage Yacht Club a concrete block wall at the entrance was blown down and trees blocked the road. At the yacht basin, Don Johnson patrolled back and forth, checking lines with Herb Kranitz. Al Dreyer stood watching a line which had just broken, hesitant about going on the bobbing boat. I jumped on board, took a line and threw it to Johnson, who had just walked up. He tied it up.

While there was a rough water in the marina, all boats seemed safe and secure in their slips. Only one broke loose in the storm, but it was retied with only the loss of a little paint on the side.

The kitchen of the Anchorage was a welcome harbor for drowned rats, and I must have looked like one when I stepped in for a cup of coffee. Taking the coffee out to the car, I returned to my vigil.

The sign at the Rod and Reel Motel went down, and it looked like the sign had been snapped off at the ground line. The Outrigger Restaurant sign had broken plastic in it, but stood the wind.

Sewall's Point Road was in good condition, though littered with debris. South of the bridges the road was under water in several places, but was passable.

It was 4:00 p.m. as I headed home to check on the family. I slowed as three men jumped across the road a few hundred yards ahead. It was a good omen. They wore Civil Defense bands and were clearing the road of limbs from trees.

The eye had passed Jensen Beach and Martin County. The mess that was left was superficial. All could be repaired or replaced. I thanked God for no loss of human life.

There was no light but that of a lantern in the Campbell home that night. I dragged myself to the couch after cleaning up.

It was 10:00 p.m. A horn honked outside our building. Ives and Dora Cary arrived from Sebring, and in their car they brought a generator.

"I thought you might need this to get to work on your paper this week," Cary said.

I looked at this friend, who had driven a hundred miles to help a friend in need. I thought of Martin County, and guessed that we are all a lot like that. We survived this hurricane with teamwork, an enlightened public, and friends, who helped a lot.

Rogers -Parfitt Will Meet In Stuart On Inlet

Rep. Paul G. Rogers and Col. H. A. Parfitt, district engineer of the Jacksonville District office of the U.S. Corps of Engineers, will conduct a meeting and on-site inspection tour in connection with St. Lucie Inlet dredging problems, it was announced Tuesday by Frank A. Wacha, chairman of the county commission.

TOAST IS ON--Friday morning was a time of adjustment for all. With a borrowed generator providing power for the typesetting machines of the Mirror editor Dick Campbell found a way to get toast for breakfast. Just plug the toaster into the generator. Of course, it took about an hour to heat the water for coffee, so the toast ended up cold anyhow. You never miss the electricity until the hurricane goes through.

Wacha said he had received a telegram from Rep. Rogers in which a court house meeting place at 10:00 a.m. Saturday was requested, and an inspection tour mentioned.

Later, Wacha talked with the Congressman by telephone, announced then that the officials would like to be taken to the inlet by boat to see for themselves what conditions were there.

Wacha said all boating interests in the county were to be welcomed at the meeting, which probably will be held in the county commission meeting room.

The meeting had been mentioned following Wacha's return from Washington, where he and County Engineer Fred Bell had arranged for St. Lucie Inlet maintenance work, but the speed with which the meeting was set up startled county officials.

Wacha emphasized that all boatmen using the inlet and those particularly who are familiar with conditions there, should attend the Saturday meeting.

He said that he had already received offers of several boats to take the inspection party to the inlet, including one from Ross Philbrick, executive director of the Committee of 100.

Hurricane Cleo Packed 100 Mile an Hour Winds Through Jensen

BOAT BREAKUP--Smashing against the pilings of the Palm City Bridge, a small outboard boat which had broken its moorings beats against the bridge as the wind begins a slow process that eventually destroyed the craft.

Cleo Smashed All That She Could

Mirror Photos Taken At Height of The Hurricane

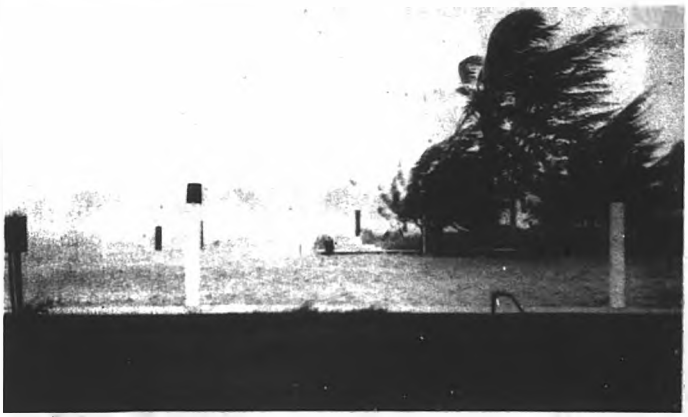
WINDOW OUT--This window at Lil General on A1A was blown out in the storm.

LEANING POLE--Over 100 mile per hour winds forced this pole to a greater than 45 degree angle on Sunview Road.

BOATS TOSS--Weathering the storm are these boats tossing in the Anchorage Marina. A night and day vigil kept lines taut, and only one boat broke loose, but was immediately secured.

FORCE OF THE WIND--A pine tree was blown across Highway 707 at the Woman's Club, forcing cars to detour on the grass.

DEMOLISHED FLORIDA ROOM--A Florida room on a mobile home lost its roof to Cleo and then was crushed under the blow. A TV set and furniture got a drenching.



DIRECT BLAST--Coming right off the St. Lucie River, Hurricane Cleo brought high tides and blowing rain to Rio.

Boats, Buildings, Walls and Trees Were No Match For Cleo Wrath

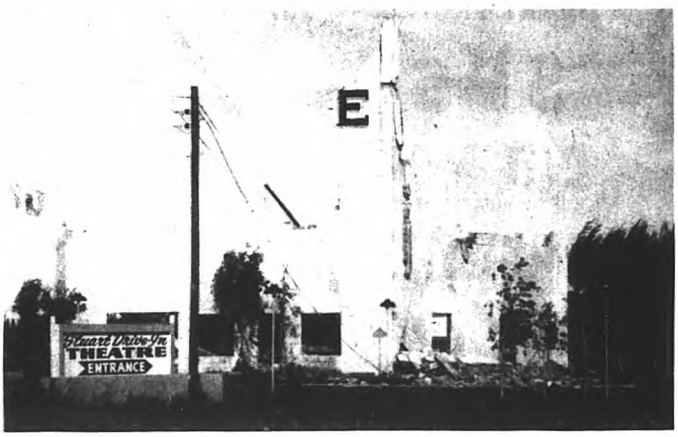
LIKE MATCHSTICKS--Trees in Langford Park were snapped off like matchsticks during the storm. Newly installed light poles stood the storm's fury (background).

SWAMPED BOAT--Lying on its side, swamped by the wind and water of Hurricane Cleo, this cabin cruiser waits its owner in the Indian River.

A LAUNCHING RAMP--Cleo decided that this boat launching ramp needed filling, and dumped over four feet of sand into the block lined ramp. Debris lies about, waiting to be cleared.

...AT I COME IN?--This giant palm tree was uprooted and smashed into the home above, laying across the roof.

Martin County Reeled Under Force Of First Hurricane In 15 Years



DRIVE-IN SMASHED--The concrete block drive-in theatre on US 1 was crumbled under the hand of Hurricane Cleo. Little remains of the triangular building, thought to be braced for any wind.

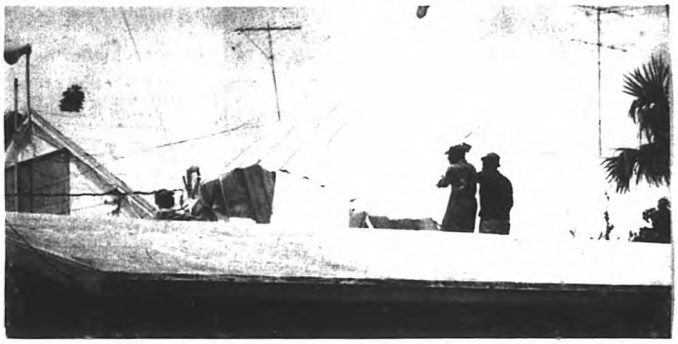
...DS WAS A WALL--A concrete block wall was no match for the ...th of Cleo. The marina sign was bent on its cast iron pole.

LISTING BADLY--This cabin cruiser shows the damage of Hurricane Cleo as it was buffeted by the wind and rain.

There Was Plenty To Do After Cleo's Wind and Rain Left Jensen

HURRICANE WATCH--Showing the effects of 36 hours of Hurricane Cleo, Bill Britton, WSTU announcer, continues the vigil that brought praise from all corners of the county. The entire staff of the radio station broadcast through the night, bringing information, reports of conditions throughout the county, and music to home and shelter stranded citizens.

DEBRIS CLOGGED--Damage to the riverfront of the Anchorage Marina is surveyed by manager Don Johnson. Rubber tires were tossed about like leaves, poles were downed and a launching ramp filled.

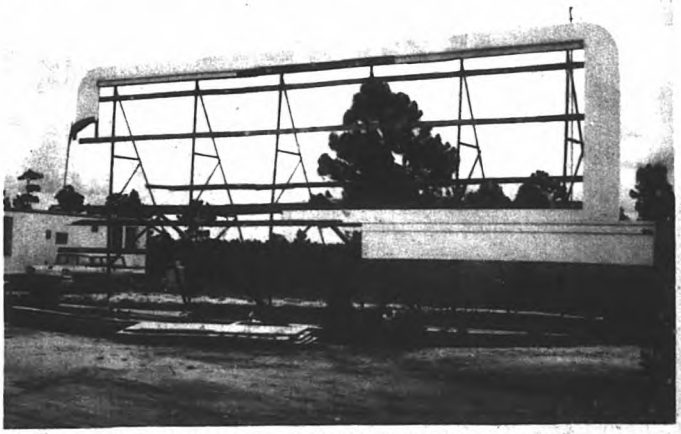


AWNING IS UP--Workmen remove an aluminum awning from the roof of the community building of Ocean Breeze Park. The awning was blown to the roof and tangled in the wiring by the hurricane, which did little damage to mobile homes, but smashed flimsy awnings.

Enormous Clean Up Task Faces County

FPL HEROS--Working through the clock, and in the teeth of the highest winds of Hurricane Cleo, the linemen of Florida Power and Light gave the most outstanding service recorded in a Hurricane, having most service back in operation within 24 hours of the passing of the storm.

BLOWING IN THE WIND--A canvas awning, which has withstood many a wind, was no competitor for Cleo. Blowing wildly in the photo, taken at the height of the storm, the awning was ripped to shreds.



SIGN GONE--The interior of the large sign of Tilton Real Estate on US 1 leading to Jensen Beach was demolished by the high winds of Cleo.

Asks Bulkhead Line For Inlet Property

A solution to the problem of access to Sailfish Point on Hutchinson Island appeared to be in the making this week.

Clifton Perry, associated with Public Health Foundation for Cancer and Blood Pressure Research and the owners of Seminole Shores, admitted that negotiations were underway with Richard Geisinger, attorney for the Bradshaw Trust.

County Commissioner J. H. Bruner obtained agreement that no action be taken in the county's move to institute condemnation proceedings through Seminole Shores.

The suit had been voted several weeks ago.

Bradshaw Trustees want to build a $20 million housing, yacht and golf club development on the point but have been stopped by lack of road access to their lands which encompass the land south of Seminole Shores less a small parcel owned by Warner B. Tilton, who also lacks right of way access.

James Brock, of the local engineering firm of Stafford and Brock, last week asked the commission to set hearings establishing a new bulkhead line from the west point of Bradshaw ownership on Sailfish Point, to the west end of the north jetty.

The commission agreed to advertise the hearing, which probably will be held Sept. 22.

The line would re-establish eroded government lot lines in most places, but would add an estimated 13 acres to the point.

Brock said the area would be filled and bulkheaded to preserve it from further erosion.

The line would be as much as 500 feet into the water area known as the Sun Parlor, Brock said.

The line follows a pre-established development line shown on Bradshaw plans for the point to the commission several months ago, indicating optimism for the development.

Martin County School Enrollment Up

Enrollment in Martin County schools increased over both the opening and closing days last year, as 4,119 pupils started a new year Monday.

Mrs. Lillian Dassort said first grade enrollments in J. D. Parker, Palm City, Jensen Beach and Warfield schools were heavy and would require additional staff members.

Last August 26, 3,760 pupils started school here, 1,452 of them in the secondary grades, 2,302 in elementary grades.

Monday there were 4,119 pupils but the figures hadn't been broken down by grades.

Jaycees Labor Day Beauty Pageant Set

The 1964 annual Stuart Jaycee Beauty Pageant will be held in the air-conditioned gym of the new Martin County High School at 7:30 p.m. Labor Day evening. A small admission charge will apply to all persons over 12 years of age.

Gordon Walsh, of WSTU, will be master of ceremonies.

There will be a panel of three out-of-town judges, who will select Miss Martin County from the senior division, and Miss Jaycee from the junior division. Contestants will be judged on the basis of beauty, poise and personality.

Contestants must be between the ages of 15 and 17 1/2 for the junior contest, and from 17 1/2 to 25 (18 before May 31, 1965) for the senior division... and single in both cases.

199 Attend First Day Of School

Enrollment at the Jensen Beach Elementary School on opening day, August 31, was 199 pupils, according to Ernest Varvil, Principal.

This is an increase of ten pupils over the first day of school last year.

Anchorage Plans Bulkhead And Enlarged Boat Basin

John R. Wolf, Anchorage Boat Basin, has applied for a modification of a permit issued July 18,1951 and modified July 22, 1955, to maintain channel markers, mooring piles inside the boat basin and an approach channel and to construct a bulkhead and piers in St. Lucie River, one and a half miles east of US 1 in Rio.

It is proposed to redredge the basin and channel, increase the dimensions of the spoil area which will be enclosed by a proposed bulkhead west of the basin. Also, it is proposed to construct a bulkhead to connect with the existing bulkhead surrounding a boat ramp and the spoil area located east of the basin.

A 135-foot long pier would also be constructed at the westerly end of the new bulkhead.

Protests or comments regarding the application should be submitted to the U.S.Corps of Engineers, District office at Jacksonville, in time to be received on or before Sept. 24.

INDIAN RIVER DRIVE --During the storm Indian River Drive was a mass of water and wind.

Damage Is A Million Following 'Cane Cleo

An unofficial early estimate of "a million dollars in damages," was probably quite close to the actual loss in Martin County due to that fickle female hurricane Cleo.

Levi Johnson said acricultural losses probably were at a half-million dollars, on present and future prospects.

The hurricane was not a big one, and barely made hurricane status in wind velocity in some parts of the county, but damages were widespread.

Joe Finley, insurance man with C.B. Arbogast Co. of Stuart, said there were few large claims, a number in the $100 to $500 figure, and that most losses were less than $100 per house.

Insurance adjusters who reached here Friday stopped but briefly in most cases, then went south to Palm Beach, Broward and Dade Counties, where losses are high.

Jack Minor, also of the Arbogast firm, said papers were being processed by local insurance men to be ready for claims adjustors who would return Monday.

John Law, Stuart district manager for Florida Power and Light Co., said up to 60 linemen were at work on the company's facilities through Monday night, and that with few isolated exceptions everything would be in order by midnight.

At Indiantown, a crew of six FP&L men working on a high line project at the site of the high level St. Lucie Canal bridge, went to work on all troubles in the area and succeeded in getting power back all over the community by early Friday.

Law said damages in Eastern Martin County probably would not reach $100,000 for the utility company. "Only 20 poles had to be replaced, two of these were new ones," he said.

City and county officials were strong in their praise of the FP&L company in keeping service open in wide areas.

Southern Bell Telephone had up to 1,000 phones out at one time or another, and Indiantown Telephone Co. had many phones out Thursday, but service in both areas was largely restored by Saturday. Some areas of Stuart had telephone service through the entire period.

County Engineer Fred Heilman said all damages to county facilities and equipment would probably not total as much as $30,000.

Washouts on Sunset Trail, West Murphy Rd., and at Jensen Beach Causeway West relief bridge were included in the cost estimates.

Tree damage was high over the county and so was sign and billboard damage. Television antenna poles took a beating.

Airplane damage in the Indiantown area hardest hit at Stuart. A piper cub owned by Hershel and Ballard Bowlan was completely destroyed, with loss estimated at $3,000. Planes owned by Jack Norris and G.C. Tromp received minor damages, and one owned by Elmer Powers received rudder damage.

House damage in Booker Park was high and widespread. Florida Soil Builders, Inc. plant at Indiantown was destroyed and a truck and other module equipment inside, as well as a stock of fertilizer, were damaged.

Trailer damage throughout the county was high. Patio and awning damage accounted for much of the loss, but overturned and exploded trailer damage was also heavy.

Indiantown Marina produced the firmest figures on wind velocity in the county. The Marina is an official government weather reporting station.

Capt. John Mancha said winds in the top half of the hurricane were sustained at 100 miles per hour, gusted at 110 miles per hour for short periods.

Cleo's eye encompassed the Indiantown area for about an hour and 15 minutes, during which time the sky brightened, winds dropped to 10 miles an hour, according to Capt. Mancha.

The lowest official barometer reading in the county was at the marina, where the low was recorded at 28.09 at noon Thursday. Rainfall there was recorded at an official 2.5 inches.

Water damage along the riverfronts was not high, but citrus areas along West Farm Rd. in Indiantown suffered from slow drainage. Part of the 1100 acre Howard Groves was up to four feet deep in water in an 180-acre section.

Fifty per cent of the county's grapefruit crop was lost, but the county is not a large grapefruit grower, so the figure was lost in meaning.

Orange losses were estimated at from 15 to 20 per cent among early varieties, but only two per cent to Valencias by Johnson.

Ruby Reds and Pink grapefruit, due for picking in four to six weeks suffered heaviest.

Tre damage was negligible, particularly among young trees, although some groves were troubled by leaning trees in soft ground.

Flower growers experienced varied damages, from none at all to heavy flooding and cloth damage. Flowers in bloom were lost to wind and sand. Propagation beds came through well, however, so no delay in the production of flowers is expected. Nurseries were hard hit and will probably need help.

Johnson said pasture lands are suffering from excess water and probably will turn up with mould and sour grass later on.

Damage to road construction projects varied with location and the per centage of completion of the job.

While no figures wee available, it was believed that contractors would suffer losses on US 1 four laning, damage to rip rap under the new span of the Roosevelt bridge, north shore of the St. Lucie River, and in delays due to heavy sand coverage on unfinished portions of the highway.

Constitutional Amendment

Editor's note: The following information on the 1964 amendments to the Florida Constitution has been submitted to the Mirror by Senator Irlo Bronson, who has asked that the amendments be made public for an enlightened vote in November. Senator Bronson stated that this is a preliminary draft of the amendments, and that a final draft will follow. We feel that both drafts should be published for public information.

Twelve resolutions proposing amendments to the Florida Constitution were adopted by the 1963 regular session. A 13th amendment adopted by the special session in February, 1963, and providing for legislative apportionment of 43 senators and 112 members of the House of Representatives, apparently will not appear on the ballot, since the federal decree approving it has been reversed.

Appointive County Superintendents

Article XII, Sections 2A and 2B authorize the county superintendent of public instruction to be appointed by the county school board, instead of being elected, in nineteen counties (Alachua, Baker, Brevard, Broward, Charlotte, Collier, Dade, Duval, Hendry, Hillsborough, Indian River, Lee, Leon, Manatee, Monroe, Orange, Pinellas, St. Lucie, and Sarasota). These two amendments propose to add similar provisions for eight additional counties — in Escambia, Lake, Martin, Okeechobee, Palm Beach, Putnam and Seminole counties by HJR 1045, and in Taylor County by HJR 2194. The change must be approved by local vote in each county before it goes into effect there.

Constitutional Revision

The first problem met whenever a revision of the Constitution is attempted is that there presently are provisions on the same subject in various articles. An amendment of the provisions appearing in one article may require a corresponding amendment of a provision on the same subject in another article. This cannot be done at present in a single amendment because Article XVII, Section 1, provides that no amendment shall consist of more than one revised article. When the legislature attempted to revise the Constitution by making the effectiveness of each article's revision dependent upon the approval of all the revised articles by a so-called "daisy chain" arrangement, the Supreme Court declared it invalid and ordered the revision struck from the ballot.

HJR 368 proposes to remove this impediment to constitutional revision by authorizing an additional method of revising the entire Constitution, or of revising or amending any portion of it, by proposing such revision or amendment in a single resolution, to be adopted by vote of 3/5 of the members elected to each House, with the votes entered in the respective journals. The revision shall be submitted to the electorate at the next general election held more than 70 days after the resolution's adoption unless the legislature provides, by vote of 3/4 of the members elected to each House, for earlier submission at a special election. Notice of the proposed revision and of the date of the election must be published by the Secretary of State. If voted on at a general election and approved, the revision takes effect at noon on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of the January following; if voted on in a special election it takes effect on the 60th day thereafter; in either case if an effective date is designated in the resolution, it takes effect on that date

Spoil Island On The Waterway Open To Public

Spoil islands in the intracoastal waterway from the Crossroads to the St. Lucie county line, have been officially dedicated to public recreation and wildlife protective areas by the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund, according to County Engineer Fred Hall of Martin County.

The use of the islands will be under the supervision of the trustees commission. Only one of the islands is now in use by the Rotary Club of Stuart. They have erected a Polynesian type shelter.

Under the terms of the agreement, the Florida Inland Navigation District abrogated, temporarily, its rights to use the islands in their spoil bank system, but may use them if and when necessary.

No improvements made on the tiny islets may be charged up to the IF or FIND, if there is a need to take them over for spoil work. They must be made available on demand as spoil bank area.

In the meantime, tentative plans indicate they will be developed as picnic and day camping purposes.

Q. I have been getting social security benefits for two years, but plan to go back to work this year. When should I report this to social security?

A. When you return to work and find that your earnings will be over $1200 in the year, you should immediately report this to the social security office.

Q. I am a widow and have been receiving social security benefits on my late husband's earnings. I am planning to remarry. Do I have to notify you, and if I get married, will that affect my retired husband's social security checks?

A. You should report to the nearest social security office as soon as you know the exact date of your marriage. Your benefits will end with the month before the month you remarry. Be sure at the time you notify the social security office to check into the possibility of your continuing to draw benefits if your new husband is also a social security beneficiary.

Real Estate Title Facts

TITLE FACTS
THAT EVERYONE KNOWS—

- Real estate title risks multiply by the transactions added to the record each passing generation and the modern day value of land and cost of improvements have put a formidable price tag on the self-insurance of these hazards.
- Informed investors and lenders recognize and insist on Title Insurance as the only effective protection against these risks inherent in Real Estate Titles.
- The insured title is the only sure title as distinguished from reliance on self-insurance based on an opinion of the condition of the title.
- Title Security Company is a full-time Title Insurance Agency representing Lawyers Title Insurance Corporation of Richmond, Virginia and maintaining its own Martin County Title record plant.
- Lawyers Title Insurance Corporation of Richmond, Virginia with some $32,000,000 in assets is one of the largest insurance companies specializing in the coverage of real estate title risks.
- Public Records are the basis of abstract and, of course, are permanent and can be copied at any future time that an insured should find some unusual need for an abstract.
- Quicker closing of real estate transactions mean sooner realization of proceeds to sellers or borrowers, a sooner interest earning status for Mortgage lenders, and a quicker in-the-pocket realization by brokers of their earned commission.

TITLE FACTS
THAT YOU SHOULD INVESTIGATE BEFORE YOU DEAL

- The modern full-time title insurance agency maintains its own complete title record plant and does not require in each case a copying of Public Records into the old fashioned abstract for purposes of determining title and insurability.
- Only the underwriter agency for title insurance, who maintains no title plant facilities, requires and must be furnished the traditional "abstract or its equivalent" as a basis for title policy issue.
- Title insurability can be determined by Title Security Company in most cases within two to four working days so that the parties to a transaction and their counsel then know where they stand title-wise and can proceed to an early closing on the basis of a firm title insurance binder.

Gary Blass Wins First J.B. Outboard Marathon

Blustering Weather Greets Florida's Best Drivers

Gary Blass of Fort Lauderdale was the winner in the first annual Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce one-hour controlled course race on Labor Day, in a 15 foot catamaran powered by two 100 h.p. outboards.

Second in the overall tally was Robert Lurch of Lake Worth in another 15 foot catamaran powered by two 100 h.p. outboards, and third was Ronnie Russell, Miami, in a 15 foot, 6 inch catamaran powered by one 100 h.p. engine.

The race was moved from the north side of the Jensen Beach causeway to the south side to avoid choppy water whipped up by a northeast wind. Squalls at the beginning of the race brought even stiffer winds and made a wild and wet race out of the initial run.

Forty-nine boats entered the run, one failed to start, and about half of the 48 starts ended the race.

Leonard Wolf, well up in the crowd, was thrown from his twin engined cat at the start of the last four mile lap and received leg injuries. His boat ran wild, left the course, ran through the bridge channel to the north, then turned and ran south through it, hitting the pilings before it stalled.

A press boat pulled Wolf from the water. His boat was corraled by Jim Pearce, Salt Water Conservation office of West Palm Beach.

Wolf was taken to Martin Memorial Hospital by the Jensen Samaritans ambulance where he was x-rayed, treated and released. His boat was badly smashed at its port bow, but appeared sound otherwise.

Wolff's boat was in the calmest spot on the course at the time, but it hit a wake, flipped, threw Wolff out and kept going.

Two-foot waves at the south end of the course caused disabilities among both drivers and boats.

Ben Fulton, Jr. picked up one boatman who was thrown when his boat ran wild, hit a spoil island bank, and ended up in the middle of it. Fulton dropped the driver off at the side of the island and went on to take third place in his class.

Another driver was thrown and put back on his boat, while another lost control and rode his craft onto the shore beside Indian River Drive, hard against a wall.

Dick Campbell, president of the Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce, in a ski barge, lost his engine cover and was forced out. Harmon Reitz, leading in Class 5 with two and a half minutes go go, lost a steering rig bolt and lost out.

A dozen craft had to be towed in, one with an exploded engine.

Prizewinners by classes were: Class 8, Blass, Lurch; Class 7, no entries; Class 6, Charles Cundiff of Fort Pierce; Class 5, Russell, Martin Douglas of Orlando, Ronald Cherry of Riviera Beach; Class 4, Dave Coston of West Palm Beach, Sid Blake of Stuart and Ben Fulton of Stuart.

Class 3, Gene Lanham of Miami, Joe Miller of West Palm Beach, Carl Sauvage, Stuart; Class 2, Mike Fogt of Stuart, Thomas Philbrick of Stuart, John Morris of Fort Pierce; Class 1, Doug Cliphant, Mark Hauptner, Jimmy Todd, all of West Palm

NEW QUEEN--Jill Rambert, Miss Martin County for 1965, beams her pleasure as M.C. Gordon Walsh presents her to the audience, after her selection by the judges of the Stuart Jaycee Beauty Pageant.

STM Wins 3 Out Of 7

Stuart Tackle and Marine, Inc. of Stuart entered seven boats in the Jensen Beach Outboard Marathon Race when manager-owner Herman Reitz heard there was a shortage of boats. As it turned out, 49 boats entered, much higher than anticipated!

Three STM boats finished in prize winner categories.

Mike Fogt, son of Dr. C. M. Fogt, driving a thirteen foot, two inch Whaler with a 40 h.p. Evinrude took a first place in his division.

Sid Blake, driving an 18 foot, 2 inch Fabuglas with a 75 h.p. Evinrude motor, took second place in his division.

Benny Fulton, driving an 18 foot, 2 inch Fabuglass with a 75 h.p. Evinrude motor, took third place in his division.

Herman Reitz, leading his division, driving a Fabuglass 18 foot 2 inch, with a 90 h.p. Evinrude, with four minutes to go, and one lap to finish, broke a steering cable and dropped out.

WINNERS--Overall winners at the Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce Outboard Marathon, a controlled course powerboat race, held Labor Day, were, left to right, Ronnie Russell, Miami, third; Robert Lurch, Lake Worth, second; and Gary Blass, Fort Lauderdale, first. At right is Randy Tilton, race committee chairman. (Photo by Ed Gluckler)

Dora Dances North of Us

The little lady, Miss Dora, who packed 125 mile per hour winds, headed straight for the Jensen Beach area, with a bead on Cape Canaveral last Tuesday night.

With the power loss of Hurricane Cleo still in mind, the Mirror staff worked all night Tuesday to get the edition of this week printed in time.

The Mirror is out early, and Dora is on her way north of us. We are glad she missed us, and are proud of the way the Mirror staff worked, just in case fickle Dora turned our way.

THIS WEEK IN THE JENSEN MIRROR! Complete race news.

49 Boats Entered Marathon Race

SLEEK AND READY--One of the many entries in the Labor Day race that thrilled spectators.

BOY' LOOK AT THIS ONE--All the boats brought from all over south Florida to enter Monday's race were eagerly looked over by the many spectators on hand.

DID ANYONE SEE A STRAY ENGINE COVER??--Dick Campbell, being towed in from Monday's race after throwing his engine cover, seems to be looking, sure that it's around somewhere.

Judge Crary To Resign

Judge Evans Crary, Jr.

Judge Evans Crary, Jr., Martin County court judge, has submitted a letter of resignation to Gov. Farris Bryant, to be effective October 1.

Judge Crary said he desired to devote his full time to the private practice of law, and he now deems to in the best interest of all concerned to offer his resignation as of October 1, because it begins a new fiscal year and becomes the most convenient time for a transfer of responsibilities, licenses and finances concerned with the office.

He suggested that Mallory Johnson, Democratic nominee for the office without Republican opposition in the November election, be named to the unexpired term, to permit him to conduct the affairs of the office from the beginning of the fiscal year, and also give him adequate time to become acclimated to his duties during the November trial term.

Judge Crary thanked the Governor and members of his staff for past courtesies and cooperation given to him in office.

Judge Crary has been mentioned as a likely candidate for state representative in 1965, but no definite decision apparently has been made, pending ironing out the reapportionment problem.

IRJC Enrollment Up

Registration of students in the College Credit Program at Indian River Junior College was completed last Friday, showing a final enrollment figure of 877 full and part time students. Full time student registration jumped 23.6 per cent over the 1963 registration period, according to College President, Dr. Maxwell King.

A breakdown by counties show an enrollment of 379 from St. Lucie; 81 from Martin; 147 from Indian River; 50 from Okeechobee; 6 from other Florida counties; 8 out-of-state; and 6 foreign students.

South Rises Again As MCHS Flies Rebel Flag

A gallant banner waved proudly over Stuart Junior High School all day last Thursday, until someone realized that it was all a mistake.

In the confusion of getting a new school year underway, no remembered for several days to fly the flag of the United States of America, and under it, the flag of the State of Florida.

Thursday, two students were delegated to fly the flags, and they were handed two flags found in storage where they had been put last spring.

So, up went the Flag of the Confederacy to fly in all its glory.

No one, it seems, can explain how a full-sized Confederate flag happened to go into storage. The two students who did their duty, and school officials, would like to know the answer.

Mr. Sam Marino, father of Mrs. Noel Bussert, has come to this area for retirement after 38 years with the National Steel Casting Co. of Melrose Park, Illinois. He has purchased a home in Rio on Oaklane Drive.

NEW YEAR, NEW GROUP--Every year the Mirror camera catches the school bus on opening day, ready to take the children home from their first day of school. This year again, the camera peeks, but it is new faces on the bus, and the same old excitement. Motorists had better beware. Passing a school bus when it is stopped is breaking a state law. Cars moving in both directions must stop for a school bus until it moves again, and the Stop sign on the side of the bus is withdrawn. Watch out for the kids, too.

Mrs. Nathan McClure, of Caracas, Venezuela, spent four days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Will Bowman on Jeanette Avenue.

She left Tuesday for a visit to Laredo, California and Alaska before returning home.

Volunteer Sewing Group To Meet On Thursdays

A handful of workers came out to the first meeting of the Volunteer Sewing Group on Thursday of last week, held at the Legion Hall, according to leader Mrs. William Vaught. But she reports, an amazing amount of work was accomplished. Those helping were Mrs. Jack Kuhn, Mrs. Pearl Gay, Mrs. Nelle Jackson, and Miss Peggy Ingram.

The next meeting will be on September 17th, and every other Thursday thereafter. Anyone having spare time and wanting to help on this Red Cross work is invited to come out. Bring a sandwich. Beverage is provided.

Fishing Is Very Good

Offshore fishing fleets have stayed close to their harbors due to fringe benefits of remnants of hurricanes, but those who would venture out enjoyed great success with plenty of sailfish, bonita, baracudda, dolphin and kings.

The inlet is producing limits in limited numbers on the flood tides. Some spanish mackerel are there, too. Excellent bottom fishing in the Sun Parlor Hole in the Wall areas. Snook seem plentiful up the Indian River, as well as trout.

The surf has been pretty rough to handle, but alive with bluefish, jacks, some mackerel, snook and tarpon.

The North Fork of the St. Lucie and the Bay Tree Lodge areas have been heavy in snook and channel bass.

Johnny Crawford reports from the Snook Nook that snook and big snappers are very active in the rivers.

The $80,000 needed to complete the $220,00 survey of Martin County's agricultural irrigation and water control plan, has been approved by all necessary committees and both houses of Congress, and was on President Lyndon Johnson's desk for his signature last week.

The $80,000 was needed to complete a survey which was first estimated to cost $230,000.

Flag Honors The Late Fred Peterkin

The flag flying over the causeway at Jensen Beach on Labor Day was a donation by Mrs. Fred Peterkin of the town of Ocean Breeze.

The flag, presented to Mrs. Peterkin by the Veterans Administration at the death of her husband, was in turn presented to the Jensen Beach American Legion Post 126 by Mrs. Peterkin to be flown over the causeway in memory of her husband. The flag will be flown as long as it remains serviceable.

The Jensen Beach Legion Post has undertaken to supply and raise and lower the flag on the causeway as a part of their community service projects. They will continue to do so until the Jensen Beach Bridge is completed sometime in 1965. Post members volunteer their services and time for this project.

County Commission

P.W Route Is Revised

The Martin County commission voted Tuesday to change the north end route of the Pratt & Whitney access road, to give it intersection with SR 76 and SR 76-A (Loop Road) instead of at SR 76 and Locks Road.

The action was postponed two weeks to permit opinions from interested parties, and was taken on the recommendation of county engineer Fred Bell, who said it made more sense to provide access to western and central Martin County from the south county areas on two state designated highways than at a junction "too close to the turnpike, and going nowhere on Locks Road."

R.V. Johnson, who represents the owner of all the right-of-way on the abandoned stretch, and the owner of about half the right-of-way on the new route, agreed to take back the former and give the latter. However, the county will not abandon a part of the old route, Kansas Avenue.

In other business, the board:

AWARDED contracts on low bids to Dickerson, Inc., two street leveling rojects, one at Ocean View Circle in Jensen Beach, and the other on Venus, West Coconut and Kerin roads.

ADOPTED by resolution, general contractors' code which Bell said was needed to get contractors the right to make reciprocal agreements for licensing in other counties.

VOTED to go ahead with right of way swap to straighten curves in Indian Ave., west of U.S. 1.

SET up a hearing on right-of-way swap on SR 76 between Levi Johnson and H.L. Thomas, and the county, to be held Oct. 13.

DIRECTED Bell and Tooker to prepare recommendations on clarification of plat acceptance routines and to report on it at the next meeting.

SET hearing September 22 on four amendment additions to county electrical code. They are: to require 60 amp service entrances on trailers; to require drawings on commercial work prior to issuance of licenses; to require working electricians to carry master, journeyman or apprentice cards, and to make a reciprocal agreement with Ft. Pierce.

RE-ADOPTED resolution with small change to eliminate a hold-harmless paragraph in agreement on maintenance with U.S. Corps of Engineers over inlet project.

In the 50 yard race for girls, Kathy Pitchford of Jensen Beach won first place, followed by Jacque Penick, also of Jensen.

In the bag race for boys, it was Steve Means, 13, of 78 SW Roberts Ave., Jensen Beach, in first place, followed by Larry Debarry of Stuart. In the girls division, Kathy Pitchford took first, followed by LuAnn Dilley.

In the wheelbarrow race, it was Helen K. Smith and Karen Dailey teaming to take first place, as Kathy Pitchford and Jaque Penick eased into second place. In the boys division, Calvin Corley and Bruce Lamble came in first.

SPECTATORS VIEWPOINT--All eyes are intently watching the progress of the Outboard Marathon Race as drivers bounce over the choppy water.

INJURED RACE DRIVER--Aid is given to Leonard Wolf, above and below, after he was shot out of his boat by the wave action on the 65mph catamaran. Leading his field when the mishap occurred, Wolf was feared to have a broken leg, but hospital reports showed him as having a twisted muscle, with no bones broken.

House Adopts Rogers Amendment

The House of Representatives has adopted an amendment sponsored by Congressman Paul Rogers of Florida's 6th Congressional District halting surplus U.S. food being sent to foreign countries allowing their ships to go to the island of Cuba, Congressman Rogers said. By selling this subsidized food to a country shipping to Cuba, the U.S. taxpayer simply comforts one of Castro's friends, and no friend of Castro's is a friend of ours."

The Florida Congressman then listed countries receiving surplus foods from the U.S. government and allowing ships to call at Castro's island at the same time. Communist Yugoslavia is high on the list.

Enforcement Of Fishing Law

Roland C. (Boots) Byrd, salt water conservation agent here, has announced a step up in the enforcement of Chapter 1118, act of 1925, which prohibits net and trap fishing in the fresh and salt water canals in St. Lucie and Martin Counties.

Chapter 1118, Byrd said, was put on the law books when parts of Martin County were in St. Lucie county, but the law was made applicable to Martin County when it was formed.

He said recent complaints that many fishing boats, both private and commercial, were without lights that could be seen for two miles, led to the crackdown.

Riptide Players Plan Season

The Riptide Players of Martin County, at a September 3 meeting, approved the 1964-65 calendar of events.

There will be a Mardi Gras Ball to start theseason. With the theme "Evening in Paris", it will be a costume affair open to the public.

"Mr. Roberts" is the first play to be produced in December. Mrs. Madeline Shaw will direct.

"Ten Little Indians", "My Three Angels", and "Goodbye, My Fancy" are the three that will complete the season.

The Riptide Players' next meeting will be Thursday, September 17, at 8:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre, and will be an open house for prospective members. There is always room for anyone interested in little theatre work.

The largest building permit issued in Martin County during August was to Adams Enterprises, C. K. Adams, for a trailer park utility room and recreation house at Port Salerno, where he is developing a large tack between A1A and Manatee Pocket.

The permit was for $20,000, part of the $230,000 in permits issued in August.

Hearing Sept. 21 On School Board Members Suit

September 21 nas been set as the date for the hearing on a suit filed in circuit against five members of the Martin County school board.

At 10:00 a.m. on that date, Judge C. Pfeiffer Trowbridge will hold a hearing on motions and pleas as asked by Elton Schwarz, attorney for E. L. Wilkins, who claimed that R. Vance Smith, prime contractor on a school project failed to pay him $775 for the work for which Vance was paid $1,322.20.

Smith and two bonding companies were also named in the suit, a party to which is Gov. Farris Bryant named as a co-plaintiff because of a bond technicality.

School board attorney Michael G. Littman was named to represent all defendents. They include Henry G. Kindred, Frank DeStefano, Mrs. Jeanette Odom, Mrs. T. R. Chambers, Henry W. Gunn, Hartford Accident and Indemnity Co., Maryland Fidelity and Deposit Co., and Glen Falls Insurance Co., as well as Smith.

Smith has been declared in default for failure to answer to the suit by the July 28 deadline.

Watkins dictated an affadavit, which is on file, swearing that he was never paid any of the due monies.

Supt. of Schools Thomas Crook and school disbursing officer Mrs. Eloise Caster have filed affadavits saying that Smith swore on August 22, 1963 that there were no sub-contractors involved. At that time, he sought and got payment for the job.

Judge Trowbridge, on August 12, denied a motion for dismissal made by Littman for the defendents, and a motion for a summary judgement asked by Schwarz was also denied.

By August 24, Littman had asked for a jury trial and had also filed some affirmative defenses, charging contributary negligence by the plaintiff and he also filed cross claims and a shift of liability to Smith, and away from the other defendents.

August 26, Schwarz pointed out in a filing that as a matter of law, the plaintiff is entitled to his money and that there had been no denials of material facts: that Watkins had not been paid for doing the job he said he had done.

MARTIN COUNTY JAIL DAMAGED BY FIRE

A fire in the maximum security section of the Martin County jail last Wednesday night, did smoke damage, burned floor tiles, caused some plaster to fall and destroyed a foam rubber mattress.

The fire was started by one of three prisoners in the same cell. Each blamed the other for touching a match to lighter fluid poured on the mattress.

Date Set For 1965 High School Golf Tournament

Jensen Beach Gets New Post Office, To Be Located At Ricou And Palmetto

A new post office is set for Jensen Beach, according to a telegram received Monday morning from Congressman Paul Rogers to the Mirror.

The new building will be located at the southeast corner of Ricou Road and Palmetto Avenue, and will cost in the neighborhood of $55,000.

Postmaster Allan Kendall had not yet received word of the confirmation of the new post office, but confirmed that the post office had been in the works for some time. Selection of the site, owned by Tilton, Inc., was made Monday.

The post office will look, when completed, like the new one just completed in Hobe Sound. It will be larger, about 500 square feet in the building and 2,500 square feet in the entire plan.

It will be built on a lot 153' by 115' deep. The post office will tentatively have 4,612' of operation space, including platform and ramp, and will have a total of 17,595' of area.

The front of the post office will face Ricou Road, according to some, the finest and widest street in Jensen Beach. There will be 3,526' of postal patron parking, with a sidewalk dividing the patron parking from 7,408' of parking and maneuvering area on the side of the building at Palmetto Avenue.

There will be four entrances to the parking area, two on each street. All parking area will be paved.

Rep. Paul Rogers

The square building will be 84' long and 50' wide, with a 24' by 13' platform and a ramp for loading.

One feature to be welcomed will be sidewalks all around the post office lot area, and a wide sidewalk down the front of the building.

A sixteen foot drain field area will run the length of the building, across the back, protected by a curbing.

Located just in back of the location of the present post office, the Ricou Building on Commercial Street, the new post office will be 15' away, across the present alleyway behind the building.

The completion of the building is tentatively set for around the first of the year, and contractors will have approximately 90 days to finish the building and grounds.

The post office has been in its present site since 1908, when the building was built. There was a brief period during the depression that the post office was moved to the old bank building which was torn down, then to a site near Pitchford's Camp, and then back to the Ricou building in 1946.

An interesting sidelight to the old Ricou Building was the reason for its being built. Back in the days of the turn of the century, R.R. Ricou, one of the pioneers of Jensen Beach, made a deal with Henry Flagler, railroad tycoon and builder of the Florida East Coast Railroad. The deal was that if Flagler built a first class railroad station in Jensen Beach, Ricou, who operated a gigantic fish business, with outlets from Titusville to Key West, and who shipped most of his fish by railroad, would build the big Ricou Building to house the Masonic Lodge (now located in Stuart) and a community meeting room on the second floor. On the main floor was the post office, a market and a sundries store. Flagler then built one of the finest stations on the east coast of Florida here in Jensen Beach.

W. B. Tilton, Sr. said the Mirror that there were no future plans for the building at present. He said that the future of the building would be decided at a later date.

Ocean Breeze Leads The Way

Action of Ocean Breeze Park in setting up an ordinance to control the quality and installation of awnings, carportes, screen porches and Florida rooms came quickly after the Mirror called for strong zoning last week.

The Hoke family has long been a leader in giving the park, and the town, the finest in beautification, facilities and recreational activities. Now they have again led the way in safety for the residents of the town.

We salute the Town of Ocean Breeze Park for recognizing the need, and not hesitating to do something about it.

Jensen Beach School News

Editor's Note: This is the first in a weekly series of news columns from Jensen Beach Elementary School . The Mirror Correspondent for this column is Steve Bohner, sixth grade. All grades should submit their school news items to Steve.

The sixth grade had a discussion today about smoking. Some people try to make excuses like smoking gives you something to do with your hands. It was emphasized that you can get lung cancer, mouth and throat cancers, emphysema, ulcers of the stomach, and other serious diseases.

Our class has selected a motto for this year of "I am Third", which means God is first, others are second and we are third.

Several dogs have tried to come to school to get an education, but were sent home.

Mr. Varvil has just appointed Chuckie Yankovich and Ricky Christenson to help Mrs. Daily put out the road signs. He also appointed Luther Yates and Gary Cooper to raise and lower the flags.

There has been an increase in bikes ridden to school this year.

Mrs. McCue is the new lunch room manager.

The third annual Kiwanis Radio Auction will be held Oct. 19 and 20, according to William A. Oughtorson, secretary of the Stuart club.

The auction will be held over WSTU, and will again be two hours long on the nights it is held. Eight telephones will be installed to handle the bidding. Proceeds from the auction will go to the Kiwanis youth activities and underprivileged children.

'Uncle' Benny Is Going To The Fair

SENIOR TOM SAWYER--"Uncle Benny" Williams, in his 16-foot aluminum boat, visited Langford Marina last week, on his way to the World's Fair. Since last May he has covered 4800 miles by water, 1800 of those miles using only a paddle. With all the adventures on this trip, he says he has never learned to swim.

Benny Williamson, a 14-year veteran of the U.S. Merchant Marine and over 3 years in the U.S. Army, came through the Stuart-Jensen Beach area last week on an unusual boat trip begun last May from Calico Rock, Arkansas.

With two Buick hoods welded together, and a paddle, Benny headed down the White River. At Georgetown, he made additions to his boat by welding on five 55-gallon oil drums he had found.

In June, Benny lost his unusual craft when it capsized and he made his way to shore. From there he made his way to Little Rock and Ouachita. The Ouachita Marine and Industrial Corp. gave him an aluminum 16-foot boat, which brought him through this area.

Benny hopes to make it to the New York World's Fair by the middle of October.

Mallory Johnson Is Appointed Judge

MALLORY L. JOHNSON County Judge

Mallory Johnson was notified Friday that his appointment as Martin County Judge would become effective October 1, 1964.

The announcement came in the form of a letter from Governor Farris Bryant.

Showing great confidence in Johnson, Gov. Bryant said, "It is my pleasure to announce your appointment, effective October 1, 1964. I am confident that your service in this position will reflect credit not only on you but also on the citizens of Martin County.

Judge Evans Crary, Jr., submitted a letter of resignation to Gov. Farris Bryant saying that he desired to devote his full time to the private paractice of law.

He suggested that Johnson, Democratic nominee for the office without Republican opposition in the November election, be named to the unexpired term, to permit him to conduct the affairs of the office from the beginning of the fiscal year, and also give him adequate time to become acclimated to his duties during the November trial term.

Your Social Security

By: R.C.Gehrken, Jr., District Manager, West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. I have a friend who gets disability payments from another federal agency. Does this mean he will qualify for social security disability payments too?

A. Not necessarily. To get social security disability payments he must be too disabled to do any work. Some programs only require that you be too disabled to do your regular job.

Q. I am receiving a railroad retirement annuity and next month I will qualify for an old-age benefit under the Social Security Act. Are there any restrictions against my receiving both benefits?

A. You can receive both benefits. If your annuity was computed under a special guaranty, however, it will be adjusted when you qualify for the social security benefit. Under no circumstances will it be reduced below the amount payable under the regular formulas for computing railroad retirement annuities.

From A Rowboat To The Queen Mary

By Dick Campbell

"My father handed me a pair of oars before my mother gave me a bottle of milk." The man was sitting on a couch in one of Pitchford's cottages, toward the back of the camp. He was George Sahlberg, a 61 year old former resident of Jensen Beach.

Sahlberg is now a pilot on New York's teeming harbor. He brings boats like the Queen Mary, and Elizabeth and other giant liners into their berths. He is a real professional at it, and is about to retire at the age of 61. When he retires he will return to Jensen Beach.

"I'm getting too old to climb up those ladders on the boats", he said. "The tug moves alongside the liner doing about 20 knots, and you have to climb up the ladder, then up three or four flights of stairs to get to the bridge.

"Each year the climb gets harder. Now it takes me a few minutes to get my breath."

Sahlberg looks like he could climb the highest mountain in New York with no trouble at all, even at 61 years. His head seems to disappear into his shoulders, with no neck at all, and muscles of hard work bulge out, showing a line of force across his shoulders. The tatoos of a seaman are on his forearms and shoulders. He is stocky and carries himself with light balance of a man who can take care of himself.

Coming to Jensen Beach in 1908, George Sahlberg was four years old. "I love this river. Everywhere I go, I think about the Indian River, and all the beauty that is here." Sahlberg began recalling the old days, when he and the Pitchford boys Duke Merwin of Edenlawn and Freddie Reynolds, now of Fort Pierce, were friends.

"I left here in 1917, and have been returning on vacation for a long time. Now it is about time I get a piece of land and settle down to retire.

"I went to school in a little red schoolhouse, one room, in Eden. I remember my teacher's name was Mrs. Scofield. We used to have to bring in water from a "crick"...two buckets at a time. That was quite a place.

"When I was in Jensen Beach School, I got kicked out of the sixth grade. I remember I was pulling on the skirt tie of a girl who was reciting when they booted me out. My father said I had had enough of that school business, and put me to work. My teacher was a Mrs. Daniels.

"Back then, the fishing was great around here. And the pineapples were still being shipped out of here from the pineapple farms.

"I got a job on the pineapple farms making pineapple crates."

He looked at his hands, and rubbed them from memory. "I got either 1/4 or 1/2 cents for each box I completed. There was a trick to that. I made about 15 cents a day doing that, and then that was pretty good money. I would take the hammer and tap the nail in and then whap it a good one. Two nails in a side and then I'd take the other side. That was in 1910, and we did pretty good. I worked for Mr. McCormick and Mrs. Robinson."

Sahlberg looked up and said, "Do you know how to find a really good and sweet pineapple/ Well, you just walk along the row and look for a pineapple that hadn't been chewed on by a rabbit. That was a sweet one."

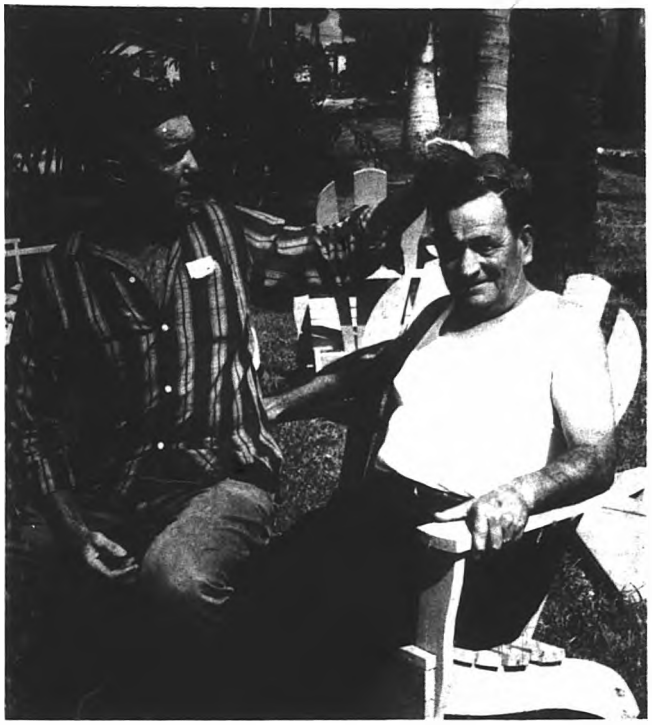
The fun of the old days was recalled when Sahlberg said, "On the river we used to sail or row...we didn't have motors back then. We would take a boat out, swipe some of my old man's tobacco, get some yellow paper and matches and a spear, and we would be off for Nettles Island.

"We could stay there for three or four days. I would spear fish, and we would cook them over a fire. Good mullet, now there was fine eating. And we would cut the heart out of a cabbage palm. We could really live off the land then. I wonder why people don't do that now?"

George Sahlberg is back in New York now, jockeying the liners into their berths, still climbing up the ladders. He returned after a three week visit here.

"I'll be back to settle down and enjoy myself" Sahlberg said. "I love this river. I can't get it out of my mind."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Hall, Hilltop Court, will leave Cadillac, Michigan this week, to return to their home in Jensen Beach on Hilltop Court.



GEORGE AND FRIENDS--George Sahlberg, New York Harbor pilot, and his friend, Herb Pitchford, sit with Cleo II, the pet squirrel.

Sugar Cane In The Making

Four hundred acres of sugar cane will be planted in muck land about two miles north of Port Mayaca on U.S. 441.

According to county tax records, the land is owned by the famed Arleta interests, which include Puerto Rican rum production, Martin County cattle, and other sugar interests including part of the Osceola Sugar Mill.

The Arrietas will lease the land for planting to a grower as yet unrevealed, a holder of mill interests.

Levi Johnson, Martin County agent, in confirming the new sugar project, called it a sizeable first planting. He said the land is now being prepared for the planting, and it appeared that there were no acreage quota difficulties involved.

Sugar cane is planted in well fertilized furrows turned on four-foot centers, short, four-eye. Cuttings of the best available cane are laid in the furrows so that the end of each cutting overlaps the next, to prevent "gappy" fields.

A cane crop matures in from one year to sixteen months in this area, depending on the land used, and cuttings may be made year round.

At the new field, water control works directly on the lake will probably be used for irrigation and drainage.

Mrs. Joseph Wilson of Kissimee, and Mrs. Howard Elam of West Palm Beach, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson, South Street.

Pines Mobile Village Changes Hands

Pines Mobile Village, south of Stuart on U.S. 1, has been sold to Pierce and Blanch Brown by Anthony and Isabel Motta of Stuart, and Julia and Irene Nobrega of Massachusetts.

The price, as indicated by state transfer stamps, was $65,000 and included both land and the usual items incidental to a trailer park. A $45,000 mortgage was included in the transaction.

Sales Tax Collection Is Up

Sales and use tax collections for August, based on July's business, produced $19,449,858, according to J. Ed Straughn, director of the Florida Revenue Commission.

Straughn said the increase over the same month last year was 18.71 per cent, or $3,066,434. He further stated that collections for the first two months of the fiscal period total $40,664,289, which is an increase of $8,168,136 or 25.21 per cent over the same period last year. He said collections are meeting the predicted estimate thus far.

Collections from the five per cent wholesale sporting goods tax produced $90,384, an increase of $56,797 over the same month last year, or 169.10 per cent.

County Takes Steps To Control Awnings

County engineer Fred Bell made his move last week in the growing drive to stop cheap awning installation in Martin County when he began a search for sample ordinances and zoning requirements throughout South Florida.

Aiming at the source of the supply of the aluminum products, Bell told the Mirror in an exclusive interview that as soon as the information is compiled he will take it to the building inspector for a review and will ask the county contractor board to review it. Then he will take the regulations in finished form to the county commission for action. Commissioners favor strong rules to govern the installation of the awnings, screen porches, patios and Florida rooms.

Bell said that the Southern Building Code, which the county operates under, provides for the control of installation, but does not provide for a constant quality of the awnings. He said he is particularly interested in the amendments to the Southern Building Code as passed by Manatee County after Hurricane Donna passed.

The amendment changes the design standards of the manufacturers. It specifies a minimum thickness of aluminum to be installed and requires to withstanding both wind load and rain load.

Blowing rain gives heavy pressure on the roof and the hurricane force wind has a pulling or lifting power. Thus, both are considered by the amendment.

The amendment to the building code would make it mandatory for manufactureres to have engineering of their products to prove they can withstand the wind and rain of a hurricane.

The Mirror called for strict ordinance or zoning two weeks ago, and asked that the local governmental agencies take immediate steps to avoid the loss of property and danger to life of an improper installation and low quality product. Both the county and the Town of Ocean Breeze Park have moved to strengthen laws relating to the cheap awnings.

Registration Closes On October 3rd

Prospective voters have been urged by both local parties to register to vote in the November 3 election. The registrar's books will close October 3, just ten days from now.

To register, or check present registration, citizens must go to the Martin County Court House Annex, to the office of the registrar, to sign the books of the county.

Indian River Gets Clean Bill From Health Board

The Martin County Commission heard a report from the Martin County Health Department unit this week which showed water in the Indian River 500 feet from the west shore to be more than pure enough for swimming and recreational use. Thirty-two samples were taken from the county line southward at eight stations. In almost every sample, the degree of purity was plus several hundred of units more pure than demanded even for shellfish consumption requirements, which are more rigid under the State Board of Health rules than recreational requirements.

In other county business, the commission:

NOTED that an over inquisitive question on general contractor's license applications in connection with financial responsibility would be removed and other changes in the application made. In order to eliminate possibility of discrimination charges.

VOTED to compensate the retiring county judge, Evans Crary, Jr., $3,022.96 in unpaid salary due him for the years 1962 through 1964, but refused to pay unpaid portions of the years 1960 through 1962. Wacha said the payments were being made on advice of the attorney general and state auditor and resulted from failure to pay him his full salary each year for both county judge's and juvenile judge's positions.

ADOPTED four amendments to the county electrical code as noted in previous meetings. No opposition appeared at the meeting.

APPROVED, upon proff of legal advertising, new bulkhead line on southern end of Hutchinson Island, when no opposition to new line appeared at meeting. Question will go to the Internal Improvement Fund trustees for approval. The change had been widely discussed at a previous meeting.

AGREED to give Maggie Johnson a palmists occupational license, but followed suggestion made by sheriff's department that Doris McGill, daughter of licensee, be licensed, as well. The board refused to ask fingerprints as also suggested by the sheriff's department.

INSTRUCTED Mrs. Dorothy Pierce, county clerk, to see that school trustee elimination referendum question as authorized by the school board be placed on the November 3 general election ballot.

ORDERED a 10 day moratorium on the issuance of aluminum building permits on cabanas, awnings and other similar uses, pending study by the county engineer and those in the trade of more demanding requirements, a move made in the wake of two hurricanes.

AGREED to advertise for hearings on new R-T trailer subdivision code, and new revisions in subdivision code requiring central water and sewage disposal plants, both hearings to be held October 13 at 9:30 a.m. Both moves have been approved by the planning and zoning board.

RECEIVED "doctors" degrees from Sunshine University, St. Petersburg. Awards were made by Wacha for the university. They had "something to do with the county commission convention", it was said.

A1A Bid Opening Is Hailed Here

The opening of bids last Tuesday in Tallahassee for the completion of the last leg of St. Lucie County's end of Highway A1A along the Atlantic Ocean received considerable comment and high praise locally.

The road down Hutchinson Island had just 5.2 miles left to go after the recent letting of the contract for 4.5 miles, or about half the distance from the completed road in Fort Pierce to the dead-end road at the Martin County line.

Real estate men and land speculators hold high hopes that a combination of water being moved to the island, completion of the new Jensen Beach bridge, and the completion of the long awaited A1A down the beach would fully open the island to development.

County commission chairman Frank A. Wacha said, "I am happy over the fact that the project has been let. The completion of A1A, along with the completion of the Jensen Beach bridge will, I believe, be helpful to the economy of the Jensen Beach area. The fact that the project has been let is an example of the fine cooperation between the St. Lucie County Commission and our own board."

Inlet Plan Wins Foot

A third revision of the plan for the St. Lucie Inlet dredging has been announced by Frank A. Wacha, county commission chairman.

The original plan was to dredge a six-foot channel 100 feet wide from the crossroads to the Federal cut south of the north jetty. A later amendment included cleaning out the cut to a depth of ten feet, plus one over allowance to eleven feet.

The third revision calls for dredging to six feet plus one foot allowance in depth, the funnel shaped connection for the 350 feet between the inner channel and the Federal cut, said to be the real danger point in the inlet.

Wacha said the U.S. Corps of Engineers had found sand bottom at twelve feet in the danger area, in spite of the present rocky floor. The rocks are believed to have been rolled into the area by storm tides, and will be removed.

Bids will be opened October 13 and work will begin in November.

WRITERS CONVENTION PLANNED--Plans for the 1966 convention of the Outdoor Writers Association of America convention at the Port St. Lucie Hotel and Country Club are already being made. Elgin White, left, sports editor of the Florida Development Commission and president of the Florida Outdoor Writers Association, met with St. Lucie and Martin County sportsmen here Wednesday, September 16 to inaugurate preliminary planning. At right is Perry Bonard, Director of Sales at the country club, who was named general chairman of the national convention. More than 200 newspaper and magazine writers and broadcasters are expected to attend the week-long gathering.

Ed Gluckler Provides Documented Photographer's Coverage Of 'Zoom-Zoom' Campbell's Racing

Letter To The Editor

Dear Zoom Zoom Campbell:

Enclosed are three photographs taken by this photog while covering the Labor Day Marathon Race. They belie your claim that photographers avoided you like you had the plague.

These saw no previous light of day only because this cameraman was on assignment to take pics of 1.) Winners, 2) Exciting events.

Photos of an old man sitting upright in a barge boat going "Whoooom, whoomp" on waves too big for little boats and too small for big boats, charging around the course at half speed, don't exactly come under the second category.

And you didn't even have sense enough to turn the slow thing over in front of either cameramen or spectators.

It was your decision to crawl off in some remote corner of the course to do your disablement bit. I fail to see how you can blame your friends for that dodge.

And I'm sure that you didn't win anything, except maybe a tow from a poor, hardworking Port Salerno fisherman who took time out from his work to tow you the length of the course, bless him.

I did have the decency to look the other way when you were brought to shore ignominiously at the far end of a tow rope.

I will say that I kept my camera trained on you on each turn you made around the course, at least, when you were in range.

I was, of course, hoping against hope that you would do something photo-worthy, like tipping over, skipping out of the water on the tip of a wave or colliding with a sunken palm tree stump.

After a while, I stopped even focusing on you and your craft, since you obviously were out to enjoy a nice afternoon boat ride, and that was all.

I, of course, will send a bill for the three photos enclosed.

MCHS Gym Is Damaged By Rain Seepage

Martin County High School suffered further damage from rain water in a rainstorm last Sunday morning, according to Supt. of Schools Thomas L. Crook.

Holes in the roof, made by repair men attempting to fix hurricane damages, allowed water to enter, which ruined the parquet floor of the stage, flooded the band rooms, and badly damaged a piano and other fixtures in the stage area.

Hurricane Cleo did about $20,000 damages to the roof and gym floor, which buckled after being flooded as a result of the roof damages.

...Rogers Hits Cuba-Bahama ...Air Link

Congressman Paul Rogers of Florida's 6th District called Castro's attempts to install airline routes between Cuba and the British territory of the Bahamas "highly offensive to the people of Florida and the United States".

Rogers said, "The Bahamas and Florida share a great interest - American tourists. There is no doubt that should this deal go through and Castro get his landing permit, a drop in U.S. visitors to the Bahamas will result.

"Just last year over 450,000 Americans spent over $40 million in the Bahamas. The popularity of these islands will suffer among American tourists if the Cuban Communists move their 'man in Havana' to Nassau."

The Florida Congressman then said that although Castro is trying to establish Havana-to-Nassau air service through an aviation agreement giving Cuba and Britain reciprocal landing rights, the agreement was signed in pre-Castro days, and that adequate grounds now exist to prevent the deal.

Rogers also noted that the U.S. and Britain have a treaty to mutually defend the Bahamas in case they are ever attacked, and that it would be difficult for Americans to continue respect for a territory having close ties with communist Cuba.

A fashion show will be held in March for the unit's benefit.

Couple Arrested For Robbery

A Riviera Beach couple were arrested and held in Martin County Jail Saturday after a cooperative investigation involving authorities in four counties.

Deputy Sheriff H.P. Ball of Dade County reported to the Martin County Sheriff's department, the loss of three guns from the glove compartment of his car while it was parked on Hutchinson Island last Wednesday.

Deputy Sheriff James Holt read the report and was able to supply the tag number of the suspected car, having noted the number on a suspicious car at Jupiter Island earlier the same day.

Palm Beach Deputy Buddy Blunt was called into the case and his investigation led to a call to Hillsborough County Sheriff's office, where deputies made a check of pawn shops and located Ball's guns.

Coordinating investigator was Deputy Sheriff Tom Wyatt of Martin County.

Your Social Security

By: R.C.Gehrken, Jr.
District Manager, West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. My husband died last year, and I am now drawing widow's annuity under the Railroad Retirement Act. Next month I can qualify for my own $40 old-age benefit under the Social Security Act. Will I be permitted to receive both benefits?

A. Yes. A survivor annuity under the Railroad Retirement Act may be paid even though the beneficiary is simultaneously entitled to a benefit under the Social Security Act. However, the amount of the survivor annuity will be affected if it was computed under the special guaranty.

Q. Just to settle an argument, could you tell me when social security first went into effect?

A. It depends on what you mean by going into effect. The original social security bill was signed into law on August 14, 1935. However, it was not until January 1, 1937 that earnings covered by the program were subject to the social security tax. Monthly benefit payments began in 1940.

Sen. Goldwater Visits Florida

The Florida trend to Barry M. Goldwater for president is gathering momentum every day that will sweep him to a record plurality on November 3.

That is the opinion and prediction of Florida Republican Chairman Tom Fairfield Brown, who heads up the GOP drive in the state to elect Goldwater and 244 Florida Republicans to offices from the county court house to the state and national capitals.

"The greatest Republican victory in the history of Florida is in the making," Brown said.

"We are confident that Senator Goldwater will carry Florida by the largest plurality ever given a presidential candidate by the state.

"We are also confident that the largest number of Republican nominees in the state's history will be elected to office this year."

Brown said that Goldwater's visit to Central and West Coast Florida last week was "greeted by the most enthusiastic crowds I have ever seen at political gatherings."

Senator Goldwater made short talks in Orlando and Tampa and a major address in St. Petersburg where an estimated 15,000 crowd punctuated his speech thirty-four times with their cheers and applause.

An 18-year-old Stuart youth was charged by Deputy James Mills with shooting up a telephone company booth at the House of Refuge on Hutchinson Island.

School Trustee Question On Ballot

A special session of the Martin County School Board was held last Friday, in which a resolution was formally adopted, placing the school trustee question on the November 3 election ballot.

The move had been initiated by the Martin County Taxpayers Association, and was approved by the board in a 4-1 vote. Friday's session brought the necessary action to put the question to the voters.

If the question could not be put on the November ballot, it would be on the next election ballot, but not in a separate election, according to Supt. of Schools, Thomas Crook.

Frank A. Wagha said the county commission would expedite its part in getting the question on the ballot. Tommy Hellier, in charge of getting election ballots printed for the voting machines, was directed to hold off until after commission action was taken.

Supt. Crook discussed the abolishment with the trustees, who agreed that there was little reason for their offices, if the school board could carry out the duties which had been theirs.

Mirror Scholarship Winner Attends UF

Former Jensen Beach Mirror Scholarship Recipient Frank H. Cofer, Jr. is now in Gainesville studying at the University of Florida's School of Journalism and Communications, according to word received here Tuesday. Cofer was formerly a reporter for the Mirror, joining the newspaper's staff in June, 1963, as part of the scholarship program.

The scholarship consisted of free registration for each term spent studying at Indian River Junior College in Fort Pierce. A bonus feature of the scholarship program included a summer job at the Mirror, a position where Cofer worked as a staff writer, copy cutter and finally as a reporter.

Cofer served as editor-in-chief of Indian River Junior College's newspaper, Pioneer Post, which recently captured first place awards in the inaugural better newspaper contest of the Florida Junior College Press Association (FlaJuCo). Cofer won individual awards of "Best Editorial", "Best Feature" and "Best News Story", placing second in photography.

He received appointment to the position of editor of the student publication after working during the summer of 1963 at the Mirror. In a letter to the editor, Dick Campbell, before his departure, Cofer said:

"I feel that the beneficial training received from the Mirror and the advice and consultation of its editor...enabled the Post to receive as many awards as it did in the FlaJuCo contest.

"Your constant emphasis on solution of a problem as well as its analysis was probably the determining factor in deciding on the Post for 'Best Community Service' and 'Best Editorial'."

The Mirror's program was established to assist budding journalists and as part of a community service, Campbell said. Cofer was selected as a recipient of the scholarship on the basis of grade averages and field of major study, he added.

In addition to his association with the college newspaper, Cofer also was president of IRJC's debate team for two years, and was elected "Mr. IRJC" in 1964. He received an Associates in Arts degree from the junior college last May.

CD Weather Report Facility

Martin County Civil Defense Emergency Operations Center has put into effect a weather reporting facility at the Flagler Street facility.

After discussions over a long period of time with Len Pardue, assistant at the Miami Weather Bureau, an anaroid barometer, an anamometer, rain guage and other weather reporting instruments are being installed.

Among the instruments is a wind guage that measures up to 120 miles an hour force. The cost, which was borne by the local C D budget, was $460. Assisting in the installation of instruments were Brian Sherman, deputy communications officer of the CD staff, and John Pilanowski, county fire chief.

With round the clock watches in effect, the CD center receives all Weather Bureau reports on severe weather on a direct line. The center has, for some time, been receiving on the NAWAS line, an alert warning service on a national basis.

Al Keaton, CD director, said that eventually, CD zone centers would be equipped at Palm City, Indiantown, Jensen Beach, and Port Salerno.

Three Arrested In Bolita Raid By Sheriff

A move to wipe out bolita operations in Martin County resulted in three arrests by the Sheriff's department Friday night.

In a raid on the night house throw at the Log Cabin in Hobe Sound, Rebecca and Lorain Hammond were arrested, held and bailed, for possession of lottery tickets.

A "night house throw", said Sheriff Roy Baker, is a local bolita operation in which numbers are pulled in a "throw", usually every night.

Assisting in the raid were Deputies Tom Wyatt, Gerald Brown, Morgan Sprott, James Holt and Henry Herbert.

In a separate raid in Port Salerno, Penny Hall was charged with possession of lottery tickets. There appeared to be no business connection between the Hobe Sound and Port Salerno operations.

Constitutional Amendment

Editor's note: The following information on the 1964 amendments to the Florida Constitution has been submitted to the Mirror by Senator Irlo Bronson, who has asked that the amendments be made public for an enlightened vote in November. Senator Bronson stated that this is a preliminary draft of the amendments, and that a final draft will follow. We feel that both drafts should be published for public information.

Twelve resolutions proposing amendments to the Florida Constitution were adopted by the 1963 regular session. A 13th amendment adopted by the special session in February, 1963, and providing for legislative apportionment of 43 senators and 112 members of the House of Representatives, apparently will not appear on the ballot, since the federal decree approving it has been reversed.

Homestead Exemption, Sarasota County

The Florida homestead exemption, adopted in 1934, provides for the exemption of homestead from taxation up to an assessed value of $5,000. In a proposal previously approved by the boters of Sarasota County, taxes for school purposes only in Sarasota County will be applied to the first $2,000 of valuation and the exemption will apply to the next $5,000 of valuation for school purposes only. The amendment of Article X, Section 7, to make this change is proposed by HJR 1030.

Judicial Circuits. Increase

At present, the Constitution provides that the legislature may establish not more than 16 judicial circuits, each to consist of not less than 50,000 population with the circuits to be constructed along county lines. Monroe County is a circuit by itself. HJR 59 proposes to increase the maximum number of circuits by providing that the legislature may establish not more than 20 judicial circuits. The other portions of the present provision are retained and a provision is added to prevent a reduction in the number of circuit judges when a circuit is created or changed.

Contingent upon the approval of this amendment, HB 58, Chapter 63-470 was passed by the 1963 Legislature. This bill divides the 15th Judicial Circuit, presently composed of Broward and Palm Beach Counties. If this amendment is approved, the bill becomes effective December 1, 1964, and thereafter the 15th Circuit will be composed of Palm Beach County and the 17th Judicial Circuit, created by the act, will be composed of Broward County. The amendment will permit the creation by the legislature of three additional circuits in similar manner.

Dade County, Civil Trials

This resolution proposes to add a provision to the Florida Constitution authorizing civil trials to be held in branch courthouses in any municipality within Dade County. The county officials concerned with such trials are authorized to maintain such offices and records as may be necessary to accomplish this purpose. In earlier years similar provisons, limited to jury trials, have been adopted for Brevard, Highlands, Pasco, Pinellas, and Volusia counties.

Club Members To Attend Meet

Mrs. C. R. Vanderveer, president of the Womans Club of Stuart, and Mrs. Guy Cromwell, president of the Junior Womans Club, will go to Cocoa Beach on September 24,25 and 26 for the 70th annual State Board meeting of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs.

Workshops will be conducted, dealing with preliminary law, home life, conservation, fine arts, public affairs and education, and international affairs.

The delegates will be taken on a tour of Cape Kennedy as guests of officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Guest speakers at the meeting will be Dr. Kurt H. DeBus, head of the NASA Launch Operations Center and U.S. Rep. D.R. Matthews.

alm Beach Code Will Be Basis Of New Law

By Dick Campbell

were forty men at the Monday night at Ocean Park. They represented ase of the mobile home awning industry. They were there to begin discussing a new code of Martin County, a code to protect property owners from the flying metal and smashed mobile home attachments that followed the path of Hurricane Cleo through the county last month.

Fred Bell, county engineer, and Harold Glass, county building inspector, were on hand to run the meeting.

Bell announced that the meeting was hoped to develop a set of standards for people to live in mobile homes without fear of their failing apart in a hurricane. He said, "I hope that we are of the same mind to assure owners that additions are of a kind and type that will withstand the tropical storms we must face.

When not one of the mobile homes sales, manufacturer, or installation men offered a suggestion to begin the meeting, Bell read the code of Palm Beach County, adopted and revised following the passing of several hurricanes near and through that county to the south of Martin.

Then Bell announced, "This will be submitted to the Martin County Commission for approval, with minor changes."

Named to a committee to iron out portions of the Palm Beach County code, which probably will be used as a model for the new Martin code, were Don Cartledge, Bel Air Products; Harry Wells, Nu Vue products, Miami; and Harry Munro, Crown Awnings, Stuart, all manufacturers representatives; Harry Hoke, representing the mobile home parks; Ray Weston of Harts Mobile Homes, representing the sales end of the business; and Bob Wiley, also Harts, the installers and Bell with William Wheeler, Stuart building inspector, representing the county and municipalities.

The group set a meeting for Wednesday at 1:00 p.m. in the court house.

Responsibility for removal of portable parts or the proper securing of them prior to storms would be assigned equally to mobile home owners and park operators under the proposed code.

A jail sentence or fine up to 90 days or $200 were discussed as possible punishment for failure to secure properly, demountable aluminum awnings in a period before a hurricane was among the topics discussed as Martin County and its municipalities discussed a new building code concerned with patios, awnings and other similar portable or semi-portable structures.

Some of the 40 people present thought the Palm Beach code too restrictive, but Bell pointed out that the man half way down the block who is hit with a flying sheet of aluminum wouldn't be among those who felt that way.

He indicated an extension of the present 10-day moratorium on issuance of building permits would be asked of the county commission unless the code is readied at once.

The Mirror is reprinting the Palm Beach County code in this issue as a service to interested parties.

ARE INTENT--Members of the mobile home aluminum products in Martin County listened intently as County Engineer Fred ad the Palm Beach County Code, proposed for this county to control the installation of their products here. At left is Harold Glass, county building inspector. Forty men from sales, installation and manufacturing met to discuss a code for Ocean Breeze and the county.

ks--Dorothy and Jack Addy, left, not only were winners of t original "Roaring 20's" costumes, it was also a celebration k's birthday. With them, presenting their prizes, is Mrs. olk. The party was an Anchorage Yacht Club function.

Governor Arrives Monday To Dedicate U.S. 1

BEAMS GO UP--The beams of the new Community Church in Jensen Beach were bolted in place last Saturday as the sanctuary took another step toward completion.

The dedication of the completion of four-laning of U.S. 1 through Martin County, also the last link in the four-lane highway through Florida, will be held Monday, October 5, in Stuart. Governor Farris Bryant and members of the State Road Department will be on hand to do the honors, along with a crew of some forty members of the state press corps.

The governor will arrive at noon at Witham Field, and following a welcome by local officials, will be taken by bus, with his entourage, to the Outrigger Restaurant in Jensen Beach. Following a luncheon, the party will leave for the site of the dedication, which will be held at 2:30 p.m.

A ribbon cutting ceremony will be held, the school band will play, and the citizens of Martin County will cheer the official opening of the four-laning from a specially set aside area just south of the Roosevelt Bridge on the west side of the road.

Many local and state dignataries will be on hand, and all approaches to the roads to be used by the Governor's party have been cleaned up by the road department crews.

Dickerson, Inc. has been working shifts to endeavor to have the roadway as much complete as possible before the dedication day, and the road through Stuart should be sparkling with new paint and polish on the big day.

Owens Withdraws

Walter C. Owens, Republican candidate for county commission from District 3, has withdrawn from the race against incumbent commissioner Jack Saunderson. The local Republican committee has indicated it plans a write-in vote for Dr. William G. Myers, Hobe Sound, as a candidate to replace Owens, and are presently contacting the Attorney General concerning the legality of the write-in.

The Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department will observe Fire Prevention Week, October 4th to October 10th. Among the planned observances will be a fire drill at the Jensen Beach Elementary School Wednesday.

1. They shall be constructed in sections not more than six feet in width and fastened in such a manner that they are readily demountable. These sections shall be covered with screen only. No solid panels or windows shall be allowed. Provisions shall be made to stack the screen panels on the patio slabs and cable them thereto.

2. The Awnings, Canopies or Canopy-Shutters under which such screen enclosure is proposed shall be of a type approved by the Building Department, for which a permit was obtained, and erected in accordance with the approved plans, or for which a permit is currently being applied for.

3. Proof of demountability shall be by demonstration and plans of sufficient detail to ascertain such demountability. If the Building Department shall determine the plans sufficient proof, demonstration may be waived.

4. The combined average time for the demounting and storing of the screen room and the folding flat and locking of the awning to the mobile home to which it is attached, shall not exceed the 2-hour period allowed for such awnings and screen rooms.

5. Permits shall be required prior to each installation and all installations shall be subject to inspection. Permittee shall notify the issuing department for the need of such inspection after installation has been completed and prior to occupancy.

k. All applications for permits within rental parks shall be cosigned by the Park Owner, or his agent having Power of Attorney, and the Mobile Home Owner and each shall be jointly responsible for the removal of screen enclosures and awnings under the conditions as set forth in Section 9 above.

l. Demountable Screen Enclosures shall be required to meet the previously established setbacks for construction on said Mobile Home Parking Sites.

11. Nonconforming, Demountable Awnings and Aluminum Structures:

a. All nonconforming, demountable awnings and aluminum structures shall be dismounted and stored either within the mobile home or a permanent building within a two hour time period after the posting of an official U.S. Weather Bureau Hurricane Watch for the Palm Beach County area, or in the event that the mobile home is unattended for any period of forty-eight (48) hours or more from June 15th to November 15th inclusive. Failure to dismantle and store the structure as set forth above shall constitute a violation of this code and shall be punishable as a misdemeanor under Florida law and upon conviction, shall be subject to a fine not to exceed $200.00 or imprisonment not to exceed ninety (90) days. The responsibility of this action rests with both the mobile home owner and the park owner.

b. Any nonconforming, demountable awning or aluminum structure damaged or destroyed in excess of fifty percent (50%) of its value, shall not be allowed to be reconstructed or replaced except with a code approved awning or structure.

Dairy Council Representative Visits

Mrs. Joanne Jack, Executive Director of the Dairy Council of South Florida, visited Jensen Beach this week, bringing with her materials on health education, information and reference booklets which had been requested by teachers, doctors and community health leaders.

This is a new service in Martin County, recently added to the Dairy Council's territory. 466 schools in the ten South Florida counties in which the Dairy Council now operates, have received thousands of pamphlets.

Mrs. Jack is on an 8-county tour, meeting personally with educators and others.

The Dairy Council of South Florida says a quart of milk a day provides most of a child's daily requirement of vitamins and minerals. Like this: Calcium, 82 per cent; phosphorus, 63 per cent; proein, 40 percent; riboflavin, 83 percent; Vitamin A, 30 percent; thiamine, 22 percent; Vitamin D, 100 percent.

Scholarship Applications Available

Applications for the nursing or teaching scholarship examinations, available under the sponsorship of the State Board of Public Instruction, will be given October 20, according to Mrs. Marie Huening, guidance director at Martin County High School.

The examination requires 70 minutes net testing time and will be given between 9:00 and 11:00 a.m. in the office of the county superintendent.

Seniors will compete for the scholarships, to become effective with the beginning of the 1965-66 school term. Applicants will be notified in February, 1965, whether or not they will receive a state scholarship loan.

The College Entrance Examination Board's Admissions Testing Program includes the Scholastic Aptitude Test and Achievement Tests in various subjects and the Writing Sample, as explained Monday by Mrs. Marie Huening, Martin County High School guidance counselor.

Over 600 colleges require these tests as part of their admissions process, and students planning to go to college should take the tests.

Dates for the Tests are: December 5, January 9, March 6, May 1 and July 14.

The Scholastic Aptitude Test is a three-hour examination, given in the morning of each date. It is designed to provide reliable indications of a student's ability to do college work.

Additional Flood Control Work Now Underway

W. R. Scott of Stuart, member of the Governing Board of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District, has announced construction of additional flood control works is now underway in Martin County.

A large dragline and barge with a long arm conveyor system recently started work in southwestern Martin County to enlarge the Herbert Hoover Dike on the shore of Lake Okeechobee.

The work is being done by subcontractor Reynolds & Smith, Inc. of Lake Placid. It is part of a $2,746,000 contract awarded in November 1962 to raise and improve the dike on the east shore of Lake Okeechobee. It is expected that construction will be completed in May 1965.

Meanwhile, Scott noted, the Flood Control District and the Army Corps of Engineers are finalizing plans for construction of Levee 47, the big dike to be built on the northeast shore of the lake between Taylor Creek and the St. Lucie Canal. When L-47 is finished, probably some time in the next three or four years, it will complete the encirclement of the lake with levees.

The construction now underway south of Port Mayaca, Scott said, may give Martin Countians an idea of the type of future construction planned for the county's western shoreline.

The Rio Civic Club will hold a business meeting Thursday, October 1, at 7:30 p.m.

Dessert - Card parties have been scheduled for October 6 and October 20, at 1:00 p.m.

FIND Fire Flourishes

Wacha Brands gency Wasteful

Frank A. Wacha, Martin County ommission chairman, charged lorida Inland Navigation Dist- ct commissioners with out- rageous dissipation of public nds, wasting of funds, and called r an immediate return to the ree counties in the district of ections carried out now by IND in their behalf.

At a conference at the court ouse, Wacha said a study of e last 14 audit reports made the state auditor of FIND counts, revealed a total de- arture from the prime respon- sibility given FIND in the first ce, that of providing lands the right-of-way of the chan- l of the Intracoastal Waterway d lands for disposal of dredged terials.

"FIND has spent $784,371.56 14 years, only $46,485.02 of it as for right-of-way costs." cha said. "Of over three arters of a million dollars nt, $61,897 went for personal rvices and expenses of the ND commissioners."

He noted such items as a ashington representative of ND, whose retained and ex- nses totaled $85,661.83 in 14 rs.

Wacha, a certified public ac- ountant, said he would turn over findings to William Kidd, ad- inistrator of the state's Internal provement Fund.

Commissioner Jack Saunder- said, "Now we know why FIND ed and instead of leving taxes.

If FIND levied a tax, it would have to submit a budget to each of the counties. They submit no budget to anyone. They are selling our lands to finance their little bureaucracy."

Wacha said the last purchase of Martin County land by FIND was in 1941 or 1942, when it bought two parcels of Long Point of Jupiter Island, and this is the land FIND wants to sell back to the people for $200,000 to continue its own little deal. This is the land Martin County commissioners feel should be made into a state park for all the people."

Owens Offers Abolishment

Rep. William E. Owens stated on Friday that, if asked by the Martin County Commission, he would "most certainly take the Legislative moves to abolish Florida Inland Navigation District.

FIND has been criticized by several of its sponsoring counties along the east coast of Florida, as a result of an attitude described by county officials as "insolent, and sometimes indolent".

Palm Beach county has moved out against FIND, and Martin County commissioners appeared ready to move at its last regular meeting, irked at FIND's refusal to permit the establishment of a state park on the northern reaches of Long Point, the St. Lucie Inlet end of Jupiter Island.

Rep. Owens said he would be in a mood to move for the termination of FIND, as was at least one Palm Beach legislator to whom the commission there had suggested abolishment.

"If it was a creature of the Legislature, it can be eliminated by the Legislature," said Owens. It was established by the Legislature in 1927.

If the St. Lucie County board votes to favor FIND, it will be an about-face of the stand taken earlier this year, when the board in Fort Pierce was even more critical of FIND than Martin County commissioners were at the time.

Developments in Stuart indicated a tough time for FIND.

Zola Swarthout And Mrs Clear Return

Mrs. Zola Swarthout and her mother, Mrs. Val Clear, returned recently to their home in Jensen Beach after a vacation in North Webster, Indiana, where Mrs. Clear has a summer home. Mrs. Clear's son, Charles Val Clear, also spending some time there, will return to Jensen Beach within a short time.

Mrs. Swarthout said their summer beside a lake was most enjoyable, with cool weather making it necessary to use their fireplace on most mornings. Coming home to Jensen Beach is always enjoyable, too, Mrs. Swarthout added.

ANNIVERSARY--Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Burnett, right, celebrated their 31st wedding anniversary at the Anchorage Yacht Club last week-end, with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wiggin, left.

Mrs Charles Walker Returned From North

Mrs. Charles Walker, Walton, has just returned from a northern trip where she visited Nova Scotia, St. John, New Brunswick, Bowdoinham, Maine, and Newberry Port, Massachusetts.

On her return trip, Mrs. Walker stopped in New York for a few days to visit her son. While there, she spent a day at the World's Fair.

Kiwanis Kids Day In Wild West Tradition

Over 300 youngsters had a rip-roaring time Saturday morning in Stuart, enjoying Kiwanis Kids Day.

In the area in front of the Stuart Youth Center, a western town was set up, complete with the Red Dog Saloon, General Store and Jail.

The Saloon served free cokes while the General Store passed out free ice cream.

A raid was instigated by some Indians named Floyd Smith, Bill Oughterson and H.H.Hipson, but they were heroically repulsed by Tin Badge Sheriff Ed Godlewski and hundreds of yelling kids.

Following that excitement, most of the kids headed for the Opry House (Lyric) for movies.

The Jensen Beach Square Club and Wimodausis will hold a joint meeting Friday, October 9, at 8:00 p.m. in the Community Center on Commercial Street.

Academic Freedom In Florida

By Governor Farris Bryant

Within recent weeks there has been considerable public discussion relative to our system of higher education in Florida. One of the matters which has been injected into these discussions is that of academic freedom.

"This matter goes to the very heart of learning. It addresses itself to the purposes of our state universities and the climate in which they operate. It involves equally the responsibilities of our universities and of those who teach our young people. And it goes also to the right of the people to raise questions about how our universities are operated.

Two years ago the Board of Control with the assistance of representatives from the state universities wrote a policy statement on Academic Freedom and Responsibilities which has served as a model for governing boards of the nation.

The Board has been concerned that this freedom, consistent with responsibility, exist upon our campuses in line with the objectives which the Board set forth in its policy statement, and that a wholesome atmosphere exists at all times. I share that concern, and some time ago at a news conference, I had this to say:

"I have spent a great deal of time trying to define for myself academic freedom. It is, of course, a part of freedom.

"It doesn't rise to any higher levels or sink to any lower depths than other elements of freedom.

"It is like freedom of the press--it is bound by certain limitations. It is necessary that it carry certain privileges, and certain responsibilities. The thing that I have been striving in my own mind to achieve, is first, a distinction between academic freedom and academic license. And secondly, a framework for the proper enforcement of whatever restrictions are appropriate.

"Obviously, unless each man is to be a law unto himself, there must be someone to say what the law is relative to that man, and I have not been able to arrive at a broadly acceptable conclusion of that particular problem. I am concerned, on the one hand, that we do nothing to limit a proper exercise of academic freedom. On the other hand, I am equally concerned that we do nothing to restrict the power of the people to express themselves in all areas of government. And there is no area excluded.

"The people have a right to restrict the governor--they do so. They have a right to restrict the courts--I think, historically, they do so. They have a right to restrict the Legislature, and they do so. Therefore, I don't want to see us get ourselves into a situation where we set one group aside and say: 'But you are a law unto yourselves.' I don't think it is enough to say: 'Well, we are gentlemen and we are patriots and we are intellectuals, and therefore, we do not need to be restrained at all, because in an ordered society there must be restraints on everyone, or else there is no law, and if there is no law, there is nothing to protect academic freedom, or any other freedom.

"Now I think that the legislative bodies frequently go off on improper tangents, but I don't want to create a climate or an order in which legislative bodies can't investigate the governor. Any governor ought to be subject to investigation. I think that is a power that history and the constitution places in legislative bodies. If we get ourselves in a situation where we question that legislative right, we tear down the structure of freedom itself.

"It is not just enough, I think, to hold up academic freedom as the end-all and the be-all, and say nothing must restrain it. We must, rather, turn our mind to creating the mechanics, or a framework, in which academic freedom can be properly exercised

Clean Up Campaign Proposed For Jensen Beach Chamber Plans Program To Cover Entire Area

National Contest

By Dick Campbell

The Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce is planning an aggressive Clean Up Campaign. Designed to last several months, the campaign will be kicked off at the general membership meeting of the Chamber on October 26th.

Hopes to enter the efforts of the town in a national contest were expressed by the Chamber.

The National Clean Up Bureau conducts a "National Cleanest Town Achievement Award" for towns in various population groups. Jensen Beach would fall into one of the lower categories of the contest.

Seven division chairmen are now being selected by Chamber president Dick Campbell. The divisions include beautification, slum prevention, health and safety, juvenile decency, fire prevention, civic pride and new business development.

Civic Clubs and citizens will be asked to help the Chamber on the project, and the crash program, which must be ended by December 15th, will see many phases completed on various levels by many different groups.

The first phase, an investigation and listing of eye-sores, or conditions that need improvement in the community, gets under way this week. The Chamber is asking that local residents send a lits of projects in to the Chamber office, offering an opportunity to discover as many small needs of the community as possible so that a work list could be made up.

As a public service, the Jensen Beach Mirror is publishing a form this week so that residents can list anything that needs cleaning up. The list can include road problems, buildings needing painting, trash and rubbish removal, rodent infestation in areas lots that need clearing, road work that needs to be done, or any other problem that might be solved.

Some suggestions already received include clearing of rights of way of road signs that hinder triver vision when pulling into ighways. The Chamber needs a list of such sites for submission to the county.

County commission chairman Frank A. Wacha has offered his support to the project.

County Engineers Plan Monthly Meetings

County Engineer Fred Bell met with county engineers from four other surrounding counties last week, in a joint session which Bell described as helpful to all the counties. It was decided to meet regularly the first Thursday of each month, rotating from county to county.

Engineers from the counties include Ed Schmucker of Indian River county; George Frost of Palm Beach county; Richard Cunningham of St. Lucie county; and Bell of Martin County.

A DOLLAR FOR BUBBLE GUM-- Alice Roberts is well in a position to replenish her supply of bubble gum after winning the Mirror Coloring Contest this week. Alice is the daughter of Mr.and Mrs. Joseph Roberts, Jr. and attends the Jensen Beach Elementary School.

V.V.Wortham was bitten by a Moray Eel last Sunday at Sebastian, leaving two fang marks in his toe. Allergic to penicillan and tetanus vaccine, he is under observation.

The painful injury caused by the Moray Eel has been known to kill a man.

ALL SMILES-- Jamie Walker, son of Mrs. Roberta Walker, is all smiles after winning this week's coloring contest. Jamie is nine years old and in the fourth grade at Jensen Beach Elementary school.

Barbecue For Rogers Is Postponed

A barbecue ,planned in honor of Rep. Paul Rogers October 9, has had to be cancelled, due to an extra long session of Congress.

Earlier plans had included attendance at the Palm Beach football game with the MCHS Tigers at Long Field.

The Palm City home of Mrs. Millie Voltz was destroyed by fire Monday morning.

Firemen fought to save other buildings in the area, and aided in keeping the flames from spreading to the nearby woods.

Fire Prevention Week Brings Local Action

The Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department's observance of Fire Prevention Week has included many activities to bring fire prevention to the attention of Jensen Beach school children.

They have announced their Essay Contest, and after the fire drill at the school Wednesday morning, Chief Spinney and his men gave the children a fire hose demonstration.

The essays are for all grades. The first and second grades will have fifty-word essays, the third and fourth, seventy-five word; and the fifth and sixth grades will have 100-word essays to write. Prizes will be awarded to the winning essay writers at the annual Halloween school festival. There will be $3.00 and $2.00 prizes awarded the winners.

On Toursday, students from the Catholic School will visit the firehouse and will be shown the operations. On Friday, the students of Mrs. G.W. Shipes will also be given a tour of the firehouse. On both occasions the volunteer firemen will serve refreshments to the children.

Chief Spinney, Jack Hall and Jack Thum are attending an 8 week course in Emergency Operations. The course began Oct. 5 at the Civil Defense Headquarters in Stuart.

Local volunteer firemen took action to stress the need for caution in handling materials for fires. The volunteers set up special drills and have the children in Jensen Beach Elementary School participating by writing essays on fire prevention week.

M.C. Seniors Are Praised

Two Martin County High School Seniors have been commended for their high performance on the National Merit Scholarship qualifying tests given last spring.

Miss Elizabeth A. Nourse and Lynn A. Williams received letters of commendation from John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corp. The letters are awarded to 38,000 students throughout the country in recognition of their outstanding performance on the tests.

Donations In Memory May Be Sent To Cancer Fund

The Martin County Cancer Society has received numerous calls in the past week asking how they may donate to the Cancer Fund in memory of Mrs. Lucy Palmer of Jensen Beach, who passed away September 28.

Mallory Johnson, President of the Martin County Cancer Society, informed the Mirror that donations should be sent to the Treasurer of the Cancer Society, Mr. Jack Hampton, 614 Colorado Avenue, Stuart, Florida.

A card is sent to the family of the deceased stating that a friend donated to the Fund as a memoriam. The amount of the donation is not revealed. Also, a receipt is sent to the donor for the amount of the donation.

Dr. Myers Will Run Against Jack Saunderson

Dr. William G. Myers of Hobe Sound will go on the Martin County ballot for county commissioner from District 3, opposing County Commissioner Jack Saunderson.

Myers will succeed Walter C. Owens who resigned as a candidate for that office due to the press of business. Dr. Myers was certified Friday by the Republican Executive Committee when a ruling from Secretary of State Adams was received that there was not time to hold a special primary to elect Owens' successor.

Myers came from Pittsburg to Hobe Sound, and has practiced medicine in this area for almost three years. He was active in Young Republican affairs in Pennsylvania, and is president of the recently formed Young Republican Club of Martin County. He is married, father of five children, and a member of the Hobe Sound Presbyterian Church.

Your Social Security

By: R.C.Gehrken, Jr.
District Manager, West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. Does a farm operator who contracts to have all of his farm work done through farm labor crew leaders have to report anything on Form 943?

A. Yes. The farm operator must report the name, address, and employer's federal identification number of the crew leaders who provide him with workers for the performance of agricultural labor.

Q. I follow the harvest and work for a good number of farmers during the season. How do I keep a check on my farm employers' reports of my earnings for social security?

A. Every farm employer reports the wages he paid during the past year each January. These reports are posted to the employees' individual records by October. Ask your social security office to check your social security account for you in October. In the meantime, you should be sure to ask each farmer you work for to give you a Form SS-14, showing your name, social security number, the amount of wages that he withheld from your wages. This will give you your own record and may help you to get your social security account corrected if any error should be found.

If you cannot come to West Palm Beach, a Social Security Representative will be in Stuart every Tuesday, from 9:00-12:00, at the County Welfare office.

Wells Hively

Wells Hively Appointed Organist For All Saints Episcopal Church

All Saints Episcopal Church in Jensen Beach has announced the appointment of Mr. Wells Hively, as organist for the Parish.

Mr. Hively, a distinguished composed-pianist, was formerly head of the Music Department of the Graham - Eckes School in Palm Beach from 1940 to 1952. He was pianist in concert with Lily Pons from 1954 to 1960, with whom he alternated winter concert tours for the U.S. in Spain, Portugal, France and Belgium. He recently acquired a home on the Indian River in Jensen Beach, where he is devoting himself to writing and to music composition.

Father Feaster said this is the culmination of an extensive effort by the parish to secure an organist, with correspondence as far away as New York state. As Mr. Hively shares his semi-retirement with All Saints, he brings a wealth of experience with which to improve the musical program of the parish. Father Feaster said he was enthusiastically received this past Sunday as he joined them, through his music in the worship of Almighty God.

Mr. Hively's son, Wells Hively, II, a Doctor of Philosophy from Harvard University, is a director of contemporary programmed education in Minneapolis, Minn. and with his family will be visiting his father at his Indian River home during the winter.

Changing Your Body

Science And Our Future

By Donald H. Andrews
Distinguished Professor Of Chemistry
Florida Atlantic University

For a number of years, scientists in the field of the life sciences have recognized phenomena which suggested an interaction of parts that emphasized significant aspects of wholes over and above the parts. The thinking in the newly developing field of cybernetics dealing with feedback phenomena also points in this direction. One of the most astonishing facts about the life process is the retention of stable form while the parts are constantly being replaced. Studies with radioactive tracer atoms show that there is a vast turnover in the atomic content of the body as the life process goes forward. The evidence is still fragmentary but it seems fair to say that there is a chance that practically all the atoms in the entire human body are replaced on the average of about every five years. Yet through this vast transformation, somehow the interaction of the five octillion atoms comprising the body still is coherent and the bodily form is maintained relatively invariant. Compared with the person that you were five years ago, you may today be said to be brand new. Yet you have pretty much the same old personality, the same looks and the same way of behaving. So it is natural to ask what has maintained your coherence and identity? It is widely recognized in theoretical physics today that invariance under transformation is one of the principle hallmarks of significance. In the invariant aspect of life as it proceeds through these unimaginably complex transformations, there is a suggestion of a significant reality that transcends the particulate and temporal.

Turning now from the very small to the very large, we find in cosmology that there is evidence that we must change profoundly our basic ways of thinking. The theory of relativity has demonstrated beyond any shadow of doubt that we must be prepared to accept the idea of curved space. To many of us, this is as difficult a change in our habits of thought as it was for our ancestors hundreds of years ago to give up the idea that the earth was flat and accept the concept of a spherical planet. It is too early to be completely sure whether the curvature of space results in a finite universe, but the preliminary indications are that there is some significance in talking about the diameter of the universe. At any rate, it is interesting that the dimensions of the human body, say six feet long, stand in proportion just about midway between the largest significant length, this estimated diameter of the universe, and the smallest significant length, the diameter of the smallest particle that appears to play a part in the nuclear ensemble.

Floridas Spanish Treasure

By Governor Farris Bryant

In July, 1715, eleven Spanish galleons, richly laden with gold, silver and other precious articles, were caught up in the fury of a hurricane in the Atlantic off of what is now Fort Pierce. Ten of the ships were destroyed, and took their treasure to the ocean floor.

Much of that treasure, and that from many other vessels, still rests on the ocean bottom today, but a private concern working under a lease from the State of Florida is systematically carrying on salvage operations on this fleet. One-fourth of their find goes to the State.

This is how Florida manages treasure hunting off her shores. Salvage leases are granted by the State Cabinet serving as Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund to single individuals, firms or corporations. They first take out an exploratory lease to search for off-shore wrecks. When a wreck is located an exclusive lease is granted giving the holder the sole right to salvage at the particular site designated.

Florida's share of the fabulous treasure recovered off of Fort Pierce to date was recently displayed in Tallahassee.

It included ornate gold necklaces of intricately woven design. Much of the treasure trove is in gold coins called escudos. Eight escudo pieces, worth about sixteen dollars at the time they were lost 250 years ago, are much more valuable on today's rare coin market. It is feared by some that the large find of old pieces might depress the market value of these coins, but Florida is going to do its part to prevent that by preserving its share as historical artifacts and not sell them.

Some of the treasure, like a nine pound disc of silver that was recovered, is not minted, but most had been formed into coins.

Artifacts brought up from the underwater site include many objects of archaeological value. Many metal objects are thickly stance.

The wooded Spanish vessels carried smooth ballast stones which frequently mark wreck sites in Florida coastal waters and could -- and sometimes do -- lead skin divers to more sunken treasure when they are discovered.

Florida's treasure hunters, I'm glad to say, are very cooperative. They are interested in the treasure, which is of course important to them, but also they are interested in history. Some have traveled to Spain to check historic records for the names of vessels, their cargo, and the size of their crews.

Searchers are exploring the floor off the Gulf of Mexico as well as in the Atlantic. Most of the treasure has come from Spanish ships, believed victim of hurricanes of the early 1700's, but some U.S. gold from a Confederate vessel has also been salvaged.

I have heard estimates that nearly $400 million worth of gold and silver sank with doomed Spanish ships en route from the New World to Spain. We are almost certain to see an increase in treasure hunting. There will be adventure, and perhaps profit for some, but to Florida this search will turn up lost pages in our early history, and provide a wealth of artifacts to supply our state museums for all to see and enjoy.

County Calls For Public Meeting On Awning Code

A new code for the construction, installation and control of aluminum awnings and patios, screen porches and carports will be aired at a meeting November 10 in the county court house at 9:30 a.m., according to action by the Martin County Commission Tuesday.

In naming the date, the commission also removed the ban on installation of awnings, etc. in the county as long as the installation conforms to the Southern Building Code.

The new code is available to interested persons at the office of the county engineer.

Based upon the Palm Beach Code, the new Martin County Code will strengthen the requirements for installation of the additions to mobile homes. The town of Ocean Breeze Park is watching the action of the county closely, and might, if the code pleases the aldermen, adopt a similar code for the mobile home town.

Mayor Harry Hoke of the Town of Ocean Breeze Park, told the Mirror Tuesday that he was waiting to see what happens with the county code. He added that a temporary installation program instituted by the town after Hurricane Cleo passed through the area was holding up very well, and was doing a good job of requiring the proper installations.

Requirements of the town are more stringent than those in the new code for installation of the aluminum products.

Hoke added that the town aldermen had met and discussed a new code, but it was "still in the talking stage".

Criticism from several salesmen, a mobile home park owner and a manufacturer was prepared for the commission meeting Tuesday, but failed to come up when the county asked for a public meeting.

Southern Gulf Asks Island Water Permit

Southern Gulf Utilities, the firm that pioneered water to Jewell's Point and has contracted to bring water to Hutchinson Island, has asked the county to apply for a permit to the State Road Department to allow a water main to cross the Indian River.

The action came when the Company found that the SRD would not negotiate with a Company, and requested a political subdivision make the appeal.

Southern Gulf will build a water distribution plant on the island that will distribute water to bring greater development to the area.

Long thought of as the one great stumbling block to the development of Hutchinson Island, the water main will bring the development closer. Several high rise apartments and a large development of high priced homes and a golf course is indicated in the future of the island.

Helen Mast Fatally Injured

Helen K. Mast, 61, was instantly killed Tuesday at about 6:40 p.m. on Route 707 in front of Ocean Breeze Park in Jensen Beach, by a car driven by Wayne Kendall, 19, of 924 Elizabeth Avenue, Jensen Beach.

Deputy Sheriff Ray Heisley, investigating officer, said the accident was probably unavoidable. It was raining at the time and Kendall said he didn't see the woman until she came to rest on the hood of his car. Mrs. Mast had been walking her dog on the highway when the northbound car struck her.

Dr. R.Q. Penick arrived quickly and the Jensen Beach Ambulance was called.

Mrs. Mast was born in Barberton, Ohio and had lived in Ocean Breeze Park for the past twelve years. She served in the WAC for seven years in Germany and Japan. She formerly worked in the Goodrich Rubber Co. office and a brokerage office in Akron, Ohio. This past spring she was employed in the Langford Marina office, and was currently employed at Bryan's Pharmacy in Jensen Beach.

Survivors are a sister, Mrs. Geneva Deisz, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Mabel Mast, both of Ocean Breeze Park.

Friends may call from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. Thursday at the Yates Jensen Beach Chapel.

Services will be at the Yates Chapel at 2:00 p.m. Friday, with the Rev. Newton Tweedy, pastor of the Jensen Community Church, officiating. Cremation will follow.

Knowland Speaks At Fort Pierce

Former Senator William F. Knowland, manager of the campaign for Senator Goldwater in California, will be guest of honor and featured speaker at a Goldwater Rally Sunday, October 18, in the amphitheatre at Fort Pierce at 1:30 p.m.

The rally is for the tri-county area, and is being billed as a rally for conservative Americans.

Local and state Republican candidates are expected to be on hand for the meeting, including gubernatorial candidate Charles Holly.

Clean Up Begins Here

Local citizens are beginning to get excited about the oncoming Jensen Chamber of Commerce Clean Up Campaign. Lot clearing and mowing, painting and cleaning of homes, and businesses in the area heralds the beginning of a real "wing-ding campaign", according to Chamber manager Reg Walker.

A list is being published for local citizens to register requests for clean up of areas. Persons can complete the list in this issue of the Mirror and submit it to the Mirror office or the Chamber of Commerce office.

At 1:00 p.m. the cars will parade through Stuart to the Elliott Museum.

Rick Carroll, of Jensen Beach, will be the local chairman and co-ordinator of the event. Carroll, a long-time fan of antique cars, will drive his own 1923 Jewett Touring Car.

Trailer S/D Code Is Passed

A trailer subdivision code, as an amendment to the county's zoning code, was adopted by the Martin County Commission at their meeting Tuesday.

The new zoning subdivision classification will require complete water supply and sewage disposal plants in trailer subdivisions using lot sizes from 3,000 to 5,000 square feet.

Those will all lots of 5,000 square feet and up may use central water supply systems with septic tanks, if the State Board of Health and local regulations tests are favorable. All must be on subdivision lots of ten acres or more.

In the subdivision with the smaller lot sizes, frontages of 40 feet or more will be permitted. The minimum will be 50 feet in the larger lot sizes.

Called R-T zoning, the code has been considered for the past two months.

Live And Love

BY DICK CAMPBELL

Our Fourth Year

I have often wondered how I would start this column on our beginning the fourth year of publication of the Jensen Beach Mirror. It could be begun with high sounding phrases of the dedication of journalists to their trade, or it could be a bitter denunciation of certain low ethical standards maintained by some in the ever increasing competitive standard of the newspaper business in Martin County.

The Mirror has come a long way. From the hurried beginning of twelve pages, with unjustified lines of type, hand set headlines, and a staff of three, the Mirror has grown. The office has expanded from a building 10 by 20 feet, to a modern plant in a building 20 by 30 feet. The staff now numbers six persons, who, in 1964 will take a payroll of over $26,000 into the economy of Martin County.

But perhaps the greatest accomplishment of the Mirror has been its dedication to truth in news, and standards of ethics in a professional sense of journalism.

The Mirror has been criticized for taking editorial stands on things other than motherhood and the American Flag.

We believe that in order to be a NEWS-PAPER, and in order to be proud of our profession, we must take a stand on all issues vital to our community. As one person put it, "I agree with most of your editorials, but I'm against several that you have written."

We can't be on both sides of the fence at the same time. It is like the man coming home to find another man in his closet. He said, "What are you doing here?" The other man said, "Well, everybody's got to be somewhere."

In our first issue, we established the policy of the Mirror, based on the "Journalists's Creed". In that policy we said, "The journalism which succeeds best, and best deserves success, fears God and honors Man; is stoutly independent, unmoved by pride of opinion or greed of power, constructive, tolerant, but never careless; self controlled, patient, always respectful of its readers, but always is unafraid, is quickly indignant at injustice; is unswayed by the appeal of privilege or the clamor of the mob ... is profoundly patriotic, is a journalism of humanity, of and for today's world."

We hope that we have lived up to that creed. We will continue to make every effort to help our town grow and prosper as we record its history each and every week.

And we will fight, with every weapon at hand, those who would relegate Jensen Beach to a second class status, subservient to any other town in the county.

This we pledge to our people, the readers of the Jensen Beach Mirror.

Tigers Lose To Palm Beach 14-0

The Martin County "Tigers" held host Palm Beach for the first half of their football game in Stuart last Friday night, but Palm Beach finally wore down the undermanned Tigers in the second half for a 14-0 victory.

With Vero Beach apparently eliminated, the Suncoast Conference football race belongs to schools in the Palm Beaches.

The Indians, co-champions with Belle Glade last year, suffered their second loss last Friday, 20-6 at Forest Hill. The Falcons and Palm Beach currently share the lead with four victories each. Palm Beach has the opportunity to take a half-game lead in the chase this week. The Wildcats, however, have a tough assignment with third place Seacrest (1-0-1) in West Palm Beach Friday night.

Forest Hill plays its non-conference game Saturday night against intra-city rival Cardinal Newman at Cooley Stadium in West Palm Beach.

The conference schedule opens Thursday night when Lake Worth travels to Vero Beach. Other conference games Friday are Stuart at Fort Pierce and Riviera Beach at Pahokee. Belle Glade plays non-conference rival Clewiston at home.

Seacrest has had two weeks to get ready for the Wildcats. The Seahawks played a coreless tie with Riviera Beach in their opener and beat Stuart 13-0 on October 2. This will be their first meeting with some of the conference elite.

Forest Hill again used the strong arms and legs of quarterback Ricky Rhodes in beating Vero Beach. Rhodes broke a 6-6 halftime tie with a 30-yard scoring pass to Bob Bridges in the third quarter and ran 19 yards for an insurance touchdown in the fourth period.

In other conference games, Belle Glade trimmed Riviera Beach 20-7 and Lake Worth shut out Pahokee 12-0. Fort Pierce traveled to Melbourne and suffered a severe 40-6 thrashing.

The victory for Belle Glade was the first in four games this season. Riviera Beach has yet to win, but gets another chance this week against Pahokee, winless in four starts.

Rhodes and Palm Beach's Buddy Vaughn continue to share the conference scoring lead with 30 points apiece. Each made a touchdown last Friday. Vero's Johnny Langfit is third with 24 points while four others have 18 each.

A WINNER!--Sue Ann Mosley, of Arch Street in Jensen Beach, is one of the Mirror's Coloring Contest Winners and only four years old. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mosley.

YOUNG ARTIST, Arleene Clarke, 10 years old, and in the fifth grade at Jensen School, is another of our coloring contest winners. She is the daughter of Mrs. Isabel Clark, Rio. Arleene and her mother came here only two weeks ago from Sandy Island, Ontario, Canada, where Mrs. Clarke runs a tourist camp. Arleene enjoys swimming and boating, and helps run the boats on the lake by their camp in Canada. This will be her 4th winter in Jensen Beach.

Sailfish Tournament Dates Set

The 11th annual light tackle Sailfish tournament of the Stuart Sailfish Club will be held Dec. 10,11,12 and 12, according to William O. Simpkin, president of the organization.

Tournament headquarters will be at Sunrise Inn, where a pre-tournament get together will be held Dec. 9 at 6:00 p.m. A post-tournament award dinner will also be held there Dec. 13.

The do-it-yourself rules tried for the first time last year will be used again this year.

This means that when a sail is hooked, the boat's engines must be thrown out of gear, there will be no backing down on the fish and no maneuvering [illegible] or the fish and no maneuvering except that which is required to head the boat in a reasonable direction to fight fish.

The only change in the rules concerns the release act. When the angler has brought the sail to the boat and the mate has assumed firm control of the leader, the angler will receive credit for an official "catch".

To release a fish, mate must then either remove the hook or cut the leader not further than three feet down from the hook. Jerking out of hook disqualifies the fish.

Fishing Is Good

Fishing around the Jensen Beach area has been good on the bridges at night, especially the St. Lucie bridge.

Familiar names still shine on the reported catches: Jim Dailey, 50 Trout; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barrons, 15 Trout,10 Drum and 3 Snook; Mr. and Mrs. Clint Webb, 18 Trout, 3 Drum and 6 Snook; Rick Litteriolo, 4 Trout; Steve Stevens and Chuck Schucht, 25 Snook (12 released); Mr. and Mrs. Geisler, 2 Snook, 12 Croakers; Robert Pelosi and Marvin Hill 35 Trout.

Offshore fishing was good for those who didn't mind rocking around in sloppy weather. Sails, dolphin, kings, baracudda were all over the ocean.

There is still con- ...able argument among cos- ...ists about the significance ...red-shift, the change in ...lor of the light that comes ...from the farthest stars. ...argue with considerable force that there once was a kind of initial event, a kind of beginning of time and space and matter and energy that might properly be called the creation of the universe. Naturally, this concept of the beginning of time is somewhat difficult to grasp. The legend is that someone once asked St. Augustine what the Lord was doing before he created the universe and the Saint replied that He was creating a special kind of Hell for persons who asked such questions.

I believe that the importance of all this speculation in the field of cosmology lies in the fact that it shows us that we must be prepared to change our basic ways of thinking about time and space in just the same way that the new evidence from atomic studies shows us that we must change our basic thinking about the nature of matter. It is conceivable that just as we recognize the law of cause and effect, the deterministic principle, as only a limited law applying under special circumstances, we may recognize that the relationships in the universe that lead us to the concepts of time and space are only a small part of the totality of relationships and that these concepts give us only a limited perspective. The Spanish philosopher, Ortega y Gassett once remarked that time and space are the stupid aspects of the universe.

At least, I believe that this new knowledge shows us that we must be hesitant about applying principles like the laws of mechanics and the limited concepts of time and space in the domain of the life sciences and particularly in the broader domain of human values and the humanities. Thoughtless extrapolation of this sort has contributed to the dichotomy of the two cultures.

Thus, there is hope that the ice-flows of the rigid patterns of thinking in the classical physical approach to the nature of the universe are breaking up. Of course, in this time of changing thinking there is just as much reason to beware of loose thinking about our universe and ourselves as there ever has been in the past. To say that the universe is music and not matter can open the door to the kind of speculation that is the domain of the charlatan rather than of the scientist and philosopher. Nevertheless, this danger should not make us timid.

Mercury Vapor Lights Planned At Ocean Breeze

The Town of Ocean Breeze Park will light up the sky with new mercury vapor lights along AIA through the town, according to Harry Hoke, Mayor. Negotiations are now under way to replace the present lighting with the concrete poles and mercury vapor lights, similar to those installed in Stuart. Florida Power and Light will handle the installation, Hoke said.

The new lights will brighten up the walk along the Indian River, one of the most pleasant walks in Martin County.

CUTE COLORING CONTESTANT Pattie Johnson, is one of the Mirror Coloring contest winners this week. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W.Johnson of 11 Sharpe Road in Jensen Beach. Pattie, who is 8 years old, is in the third grade at Jensen Elementary School, and enjoys bike riding and swimming.

Clean Up Drive Kickoff Will Be Monday At Annual Fall Meeting Of Jensen Chamber

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN KICKOFF--Campaign materials for the kickoff of the Jensen Beach Area Clean-Up Campaign are displayed above by Chamber of Commerce President Dick Campbell and James A. Garvey, Executive Vice President of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Martin County. The materials, valued at more than $50.00, were donated to the Chamber of Commerce of Jensen Beach by First Federal. The kickoff of the clean-up campaign will be held Monday night at the Community Center in Jensen Beach, at the fall meeting of the Chamber.

The kick-off of a massive campaign for clean up of the Jensen Beach area will be Monday night at the annual fall meeting of the Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce, according to Chamber president Richard Campbell. Committee chairmen and campaign materials will be distributed at that time.

All citizens of the Jensen area are invited to the meeting, of the past six months activity of the Chamber will be made, and the Clean-Up Drive will begin.

Posters, stickers, auto bumper strips and other clean up publicity materials, donated by First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Martin County, will be handed out to workers.

Many projects are already underway, according to Campbell.

Right-of-Way Granted On Island

Clifton S. Perry, assistant vice-president and general manager of Public Health Foundation, announced October 20 that "Negotiations having been completed between Public Health Foundation and Bradshaw Trust, a mutual agreement was reached by both parties and a right-of-way on Hutchinson Island has been granted to Bradshaw Trust by Public Health Foundation. The development of both the Foundation and Bradshaw properties will be called Sailfish Point."

Art Ruhnke To Show Ruhnke Art At Elliott

Art Ruhnke, prominent local photographer, has had extensive and varied experience in his chosen field. He has worked at commercial illustrating. For two years, he was a photographer for the New York Mirror. He was, he believes, the first photographer assigned to the Lindberg baby kidnapping story.

Ruhnke did all the publicity photos for Mike Jacobs fight, Promoter of the Max Baer heavyweight fight,held in Miami Beach in 1934.

He worked for three seasons taking publicity photos for Hialeah Park. During that time he assisted in the development of the Photo finish camera. For two years he followed the horses with the Jones Photo Finish Outfit, traveling from Hialeah to the Maryland tracks, New York tracks, New England tracks and then working back south.

In 1938 he went back to publicity photography, alternating between two of the finest hotels in the country - The Greenbriar Hotel at White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia and the Miami Biltmore.

When war came, he joined the Embry Riddle School of Aviation, soon transferring to the Miami Air Depot, where he was made Chief of the Base Photo Lab. He had a staff at times of 27 people, including G.I.s and prisoners of war.

The Ruhnke family moved to Stuart in March, 1948 when he purchased the Photo Shop that now bears his name. He has been active in community affairs and served one term on the Stuart City Commission. He has been Chairman of the Disaster Relief City Committee, of the American Red Cross, for Martin County.

He has been a Staff Photographer of the Miami Herald for 12 years. His photographs published in the newspapers, magazines and promotion literature, have played a roll in helping this area grow.

Mirror Editor Is Named To FOI Group

Richard E. Campbell, editor and publisher of the Jensen Beach Mirror, has been appointed to serve on the Freedom of Information Committee of the National Editorial Association. The appointment to the committee came in a letter from NEA executive vice-president, Theodore A. Serrill.

Service on the committee, which is designed to protect the free speech and press section of the United States Constitution from erosion, if for the 1964-65 year of the NEA, which is based in Washington, D.C.

In the past few years, the committee on Freedom of Information has helped to establish and finance the FOI Center at the University of Missouri School of Journalism. It also has been active in the promotion of a bill to enlarge on the responsibility of governmental agencies to provide access to public information to newsmen, an outgrowth of the recent "managed news" scandals.

BOY ARTIST OF THE WEEK Mark Sandell, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.L.Sandell, is one of the winners this week in the Mirror coloring contest.

WSTU Calls Firemen

When the newly divised central fire call number did not answer during Hurricane Isbell, an alert reporter called radio station WSTU to report the fire at Stoner's TV. Fire Chief Randy Spinney was listening to the radio and immediately went into action.

Spinney said that if the firemen had heard about the fire sooner they might have been able to save some of the totally destroyed building. He also gave credit to the sheriff's department for quick action in traffic control and reporting the fire.

Sidewalks Get Boost

Sidewalks along the Indian River were-the subject of a meeting held last Monday morning at the club house in the Town of Ocean Breeze Park. Necessary right of way through the town was guaranteed by Mayor Harry Hoke.

Attending the meeting were Hoke, his sons Gene and Dick, county commission chairman Frank A. Wacha, county engineer Fred Bell, board of realtors president Ransom Tilton and Chamber president Dick Campbell.

The meeting followed the death last week of Miss Helen Mast, a resident of Ocean Breeze Park.

Negotiations with the county were started recently by the Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce for a sidewalk on the narrow road. The sidewalks, long a wanted item on the agenda of the Chamber, were proposed to reach from the Crossroads of AIA and State Road 707 to the Jensen Beach Causeway.

Wacha asked that the first leg of the sidewalks, from the Jensen Beach Elementary School to Commercial Street, be handled with priority, due to the heavy traffic of youngsters going to school and the older people who use the side of the road to reach downtown Jensen Beach.

"We can get enough money for the first step, and I hope we can make this section the first for safety sake," Wacha said.

A five-foot walk was planned, and the county would require the walk to be twenty-five feet from the center line of the road so that the fifteen foot roadway be cleared and the walk more safe. Also, the meeting heard discussion of a six to eight inch height for the sidewalks.

Eventually the walk will be completed the length of the road from the bridge to the Crossroads.

The committee heard Campbell and Tilton report on a visual survey of obstructions to the sidewalks, and very few were evident.

Bell reported that the cost of a five-foot sidewalk would be in the neighborhood of $3.50 per foot,and the project would cost about $1,600 from the school to Commercial Street.

Wacha said that the sidewalk could be advertised at the next county commission meeting if the commissioners approved.

Hoke said that two homes would have to be moved to make room for the sidewalks, plus many shrubs and quite a few trees, and added that he was willing to start "today....what are we waiting for?"

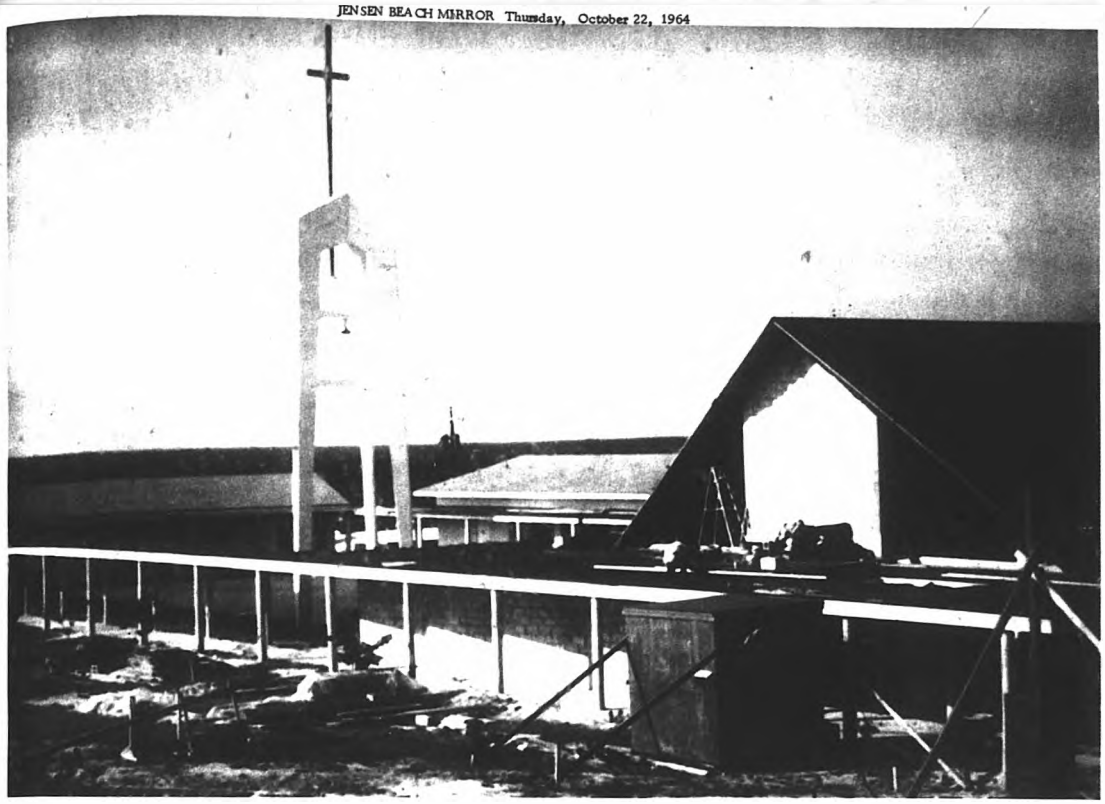
Paul Rogers Day Is Saturday

The "home-folks" style of Jensen Beach will be in full display this Saturday as Representative Paul Rogers is honored at a Paul Rogers Day celebration on the Jensen Beach Causeway. There will be a fish fry and a day of speeches and the usual causeway-type fun that is evident at all community parties.

Rogers comes to Jensen Beach riding the crest of a wave of popularity, following his immediate action on the federal aid for St. Lucie Inlet and the disaster relief program for our beaches.

Arrangements for the community picnic are being chairmaned by Frank A. Wacha, county commission chairman. The Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department is in charge of the fish fry, and Chef V.V.Wortham will be doing the cooking.

Rogers, who is campaigning for reelection, and this week was endorsed by the Mirror for his office, will arrive in Jensen Beach at 4:30 p.m., and the fishfry will be held from 5:00 p.m.



NEW CHURCH PROGRESSES--Work on the sanctuary of Jensen Beach Community Church is progressing according to schedule, according to Rev. Newton Tweedy, Pastor. Tweedy said that the congregation could expect to get into the new sanctuary for services by Christmas.

Burning Requires Permit

Local residents who burn trash must have a permit, or they can be cited for breaking the law, according to Fire Chief Randolph Spinney.

Spinney reported to the Mirror that the fire department was called out three times last week-end on fire calls of persons burning trash without a fire department permit.

"This ties up expensive equipment, and costs us money", Spinney said.

The volunteer fire department issues permits to burn trash and citizens who desire to burn must get their permit from the fire department office. A call to the department can be sufficient. Phone AT 7-2221 anytime between 8:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.

Local Firms Ask Permit Applications

Two local firms have submitted permit applications to the U.S.Corps of Engineers.

Florida Power and Light Co. is seeking permission to construct an aerial electric transmission line across the St. Lucie Canal about 3.5 miles east of Port Malaca. Minimum vertical clearance would be 75 feet above mean high water.

Stuart Tackle and Marine,Inc. is asking permission to maintain an existing pier with T-head and catwalk in Frazier Creek, and also, to construct a new wharf and five catwalks. The new wharf would be four feet wide, one hundred feet long, and would be along the westerly side of U.S. 1.

Comments on both projects should be made in time to be received in Jacksonville before the first week in November.

First National Bank Pays Third Quarter Interest-Dividends

First National Bank of Stuart has paid out in interest in the third quarter of the year, a total of $75,136.76, and dividends to stockholders in the amount of $12,000, according to Dale Hudson, vice president of the Bank.

Total interest this year since January 1 was $224,723.43 and dividends for the same period totaled over $36,000.

Hudson commented that it "Could be one of the reasons why we're the fifth fastest growing county in Florida and the 36th fastest growing county in the country".

Burglars entered the Jensen Beach home of A.F. Hudson, 17 Flamingo Drive, sometime last Tuesday, according to Sheriff Roy Baker. Entry was through a screen on the south side of the house. Missing were a transistor radio, camera, whiskey and cigarettes.

Inlet Work Is Delayed Lack Of Bids

Delay in the start of emergency dredging in St. Lucie Inlet for at least another month, is due to the lack of interest on the part of dredge concerns, according to Engineer John Kaperski of the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

The only bid received so far was too high for consideration, Kaperski said. He said that bids would be re-advertised at once, possibly on a day-to-day cost basis instead of a cubic yard volume basis.

He felt that dredge concerns were probably avoiding the job because some of it is in an area where exposure of equipment to northeast storms could be costly.

Firemen Auxiliary Met Last Monday

The Volunteer Firemen Auxiliary held their regular meeting at the firehouse Monday, Oct. 19. Members voted to change their meeting night from the third Monday of each month to the first Monday of the month, with their next meeting according to the new date, November 2.

Committees were formed to help serve at the school Halloween Carnival, and members voted to prepare food for the Fish Fry honoring Paul Rogers, to be held on the causeway October 24.

Presbyterian Men Will Hold Annual Dinner Oct. 26

The Mens' Brotherhood of the First Presbyterian Church of Stuart, located on Pine Lake Drive in North River Shores, will have their annual Oyster Stew Supper on Monday, Oct. 26 at 6:30 p.m.

The United Presbyterian Women will have a reception for women who have recently united with the church, on Tuesday, October 27, at 3:30 p.m. All women of the church are invited.

BRIDGE GOING UP--The new Jensen Beach Bridge is underway, and exciting new signs of the progress are beginning to show. At right, the form for a concrete base across the top of the pilings is evident. The beginnings of another are evident on the next set. The cranes in the background are continuously working. It looks good.

SRD To Accept Bids On Highway Work

The State Road Department will receive bids on five projects in Martin County on November 17, in a move to finish all planned highway work possible by the end of the year.

The announcement was made by county commissioner Jack Saunderson after he had talked with Clarence Davidson, SRD District engineer at Fort Lauderdale. He said all five projects would be let as one job to invite volume savings in the overall cost.

To be advertised are: An estimated $40,000 road project on SR 707-A from the east span of the Jensen Bridge to SR A1A on Hutchinson Island, a distace of .9 miles.

An estimated $10,000 project on Bridge Road in Hobe Sound, from U.S.1 to A1A, .4 miles.

An estimated $20,000 job on St. Lucie Blvd. from U.S.1 to A1A at Port Salerno, .9 mile.

An estimated $5,000 project on Commercial Street in Jensen Beach from the railroad tracks to temporary A1A, .2 mile.

An estimated $10,000 project on A1A in Hobe Sound, on traffic islands.

Albert McConnell of Jupiter Island has asked for layout prints on the latter because the Jupiter Island Garden Club has offered to pay for the landscaping. The island project will be paid for from the county's share of secondary gas tax and will include work from Venus to Olympus Ave.

Saunderson said the Nov. 17 bidding on all projects would call for work starts by mid-December.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bickford have returned to their home in Walton after spending the summer at Eken Mills, Vermont.

New Mobile Home Park Is Planned

A change of zoning was granted W.J. Leonard by the county zoning and planning board, to permit establishment of a mobile home subdivision between A1A and U.S. 1, north of Gomez and south of Fruita.

The board took the action at a regular meeting, and on an unadvertised re-hearing of an old application. The board was advised by County Attorney that it could be criticized for the action.

The board voted, technically, to rezone from interim zoning to the new RT classification adopted by the county commission at its last meeting after a long moratorium, during which period no trailer subdivision permits were issued.

In other action, the board:

TABLED action on adoption of the Hobe Sound zoning map to permit further viewing of it by Hobe Sound people who objected that they had not had ample opportunity to see it. Action will be taken Nov. 19.

APPROVED and recommended to the county commission a new paragraph in the general zoning provisions of the county which would require lots fronting on more than one street to have front yard conformance of the zoning district in which it is located, on each street.

VIEWED preliminary plans for a church school proposed by the Hobe Sound Bible Institute on First Ave., Hobe Sound, indicated they might be approved, but took no action.

VOTED to advertise a public hearing to A-1, A-2 and A-3 zoning Nov. 19 on an amendment to agricultural zoning requirements which would permit one trailer per 50 acres, with such trailers or trailers no closer than 600 feet to the nearest property line or public road and screened by natural screening, 75 percent opaque.

VOTED to hold a public hearing November 19 on a change in setbacks required in C-1 zoning area.

ASKED Bell to investigate complaints that the Banks family off Jensen Cutoff Road is accumulating junk on its property.

Redeemer Lutheran Church To Present Film "Martin Luther"

"Martin Luther", the internationally acclaimed motion picture of the famed reformer, will be shown at Redeemer Lutheran Church, East Ocean Boulevard, Stuart, this Sunday evening, October 25, beginning at 7:00 p.m. This film will begin a week-long observance of the Reformation in the local Church which will climax on the following Sunday afternoon with a Rally Service at Trinity Lutheran Church in Fort Pierce.

The motion picture, "Martin Luther", was produced over ten years ago by the Lutheran Film Productions under the direction of Lothar Wolf. At that time, it was shown throughout the nation and in Canada in thousands of theatres. Since that time it has been shown in congregations and churches around the world. It has been conservatively estimated that more than 25,000,000 persons have seen this outstanding film on the life of the Great Reformer.

If you have seen this film before you will want to see it again. If you have not seen it, this is your opportunity to see it right in your own community. The public is cordially invited.

Pray to God with the knowledge that everything depends on Him-And work as if everything depended on you.

Motorcade Planned For Demo Candidates

On Saturday, October 24, a motorcade for all Democratic candidates will tour Martin County reminding the voters of the names and qualifications of the Democrats running for office in the November 3rd election by the displays and decorations on the cars and the distribution of literature. All candidates and friends of candidates wishing to enter the Motorcade are invited to meet on the Jensen cut-off road between 12:00 and 12:30 on that day to receive literature for their candidates and assistance in decorating their cars, if they have not already done so.

Since there was such interested and intelligent activity on the part of the students of the Martin County High School in their recent election, the Democratic Committee has invited all students to participate, with or without cars. If they wish they may pass out literature in the various communities and will be given special hats and pins.

The Motorcade will travel from Jensen Beach to Indiantown, and from there to the south county line to pick up Congressman Paul Rogers and his friends. It will then travel north through the rest of the county and come to an end on the Jensen Beach Causeway, where the Chamber of Commerce-sponsored free Fish Fry, celebrating Paul Rogers Day, will be in progress.

Evinrudes Return Aboard Chanticleer

The "Chanticleer" arrived at her home port at Langford Marina October 18 with her famous owners, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evinrude, after spending the summer at the Outboard Marine Corporation's World Fair Marina.

Guests aboard the Chanticleer included Mr. and Mrs. Evans Crary, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Al Harvey of Milwaukee, Wisc.

They were at Sea Island, Ga. when Hurricane Isbell hit our area. "A lot of rain", said Mr. Evinrude, "but winds were comparatively mild".

A large crowd was on hand to see the 188-ft. yacht come in. The Evinrude's arrival via their yacht always calls for "open house" for friends, relatives and just plain home folks who are happy to see this area's most distinguished residents come home again.

A Time Of Bereavement

By Zola Swarthout

Bereavement seems harder to bear when it drops upon us suddenly, like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky, but it does mean freedom from lingering illness, pain and suffering.

Only the consolation of Heaven is adequate for such an hour as this.

The hour on October 13 when Helen Mast was killed, and the hour on October 15 when Jewell Yaverline died as the result of a sudden heart attact.

Words are inadequate when it comes to trying to say what is in ones heart, the grief and desolation of losing two such wonderful friends and two such fine and dedicated women in our community.

Neither would want adulation. And yet, the loss of Helen and Jewell to everyone who knew them is so great, that all of us who loved them died a little bit too.

They gave of themselves to all that was good and constructive in Jensen Beach. There was never a time that it either was called upon for service to the community, for help to the sick, that Helen and Jewell failed to respond.

They gave. Jensen Beach is a better place to live because of their deeds.

In death, Helen and Jewell have also given us all much. For us, the living, their lives will always be a shining example of the true nobility of man.

Rev. Newton Tweedy, who conducted both services for Helen and Jewell, expressed our admiration and love for Helen and Jewell with this poem "Into The Sunset"....

"Let me die working,
Still tackling plans unfinished, tasks undone
Clean to its end, swift may my race be run.
No laggard steps, no faltering, no shirking;let me die working."

Your Social Security

By: R.C. Gehrken, Jr.
District Manager, West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. I have two social security account numbers; which one should I use?

A. If you have worked under both numbers, see your nearest social security district office so that the earnings record set up under each number can be combined into a single record. If you do use more than one number, all your earnings would not be credited to one account, and you or your family might lose some rights to benefits.

Q. My bank has asked for my social security number. Why must I have a number if I don't work?

A. A social security number is also needed by persons who have income which is reported to the Internal Revenue Service. It is used by Internal Revenue as a taxpayer identification number.

ELCOME TO OUR TOWN-- Representative and Mrs. Paul Rogers, honored guests at the Democratic ally held last Saturday on the Jensen Causeway, are welcomed and introduced to an enthusiastic crowd Frank A. Wacha, Chairman of the Rally and Martin County Campaign Chairman for Lyndon Johnson.

Voters Go To Polls Tuesday In Hotly Contested Election

In one of the most hotly contested elections in years, Martin County voters will go to the polls to decide the fate of a President, Vice President, Senator, Representative and many local and state offices. Predicted to bring out better than the average 80% of the vote, the election of government officials will probably be weighed by a few, rather than a great margin of votes.

Polls throughout the state predict a close battle for Florida's electoral vote between the Johnson-Humphrey team and the Goldwater-Miller. Some give Goldwater 51%, and others call it a 50-50 toss up.

Senator Spessard Holland and Rep. Paul Rogers are predicted to easily carry their own offices, as is Haydon Burns. The only worry about the office is the margin of victory, according to pollsters.

The battle on the local level is between incumbent Senator Irlo Bronson and challenger James H. Watson. Joseph Greenlees will meet Donna V. Rowell for school board member. Jack Saunderson faces William G. Myers for county commission, and Isabel Evans will compete with Gladys Almegord for supervisor of registration.

In all other areas of the long ballot the Democratic candidates have no opposition.

Voters will choose to pass or reject thirteen amendments to the Florida Constitution, and will decide if they want to vote on the abolishment of the school trustees in Martin County.

Clean Up Campaign Underway As Chamber Spearheads Drive

The Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce 1964 Clean Up Campaign got underway last Monday night at the annual fall meeting of the Chamber. Thirty-three members of the Chamber heard a report and discussed various projects planned to add impetus to the drive.

Chamber President Dick Campbell told of action already being taken by various residents and groups, and outlined a program that will be directed on five fronts in the community.

Heading up slum prevention, health and safety, and coordination with the county is Fred Bell, county engineer, who offered the full support of the county in the campaign. Bell said that the full facility of the county equipment would be used to help in the drive to clean up the Jensen Beach area.

The Jensen Beach Volunteer Firemen are heading the fire prevention section, and will be available to assist residents in burning off lots where the burning will also aid in fire department training for fire control.

A school and church program will be headed by Rev. Newton Tweedy, Community Church pastor, assisted by Jensen Elementary School principal Ernest Varvil.

Plans for a civic pride section of the drive will be handled by Al Palmer.

The Chamber meeting also heard a report on the first six months of present Chamber officers. Projects mentioned included the revision of the 1965 resort and fishing guide, the boat-a-cade, July 4th Independence Day activities, speaker system for local use, pram program, a meeting of the Florida Press Association, a mailing of inquiry lists, painting of the Chamber office, a past president picture campaign and the outboard marathon race in Jensen on Labor Day.

Yacha Asks "Why Barry"?

LETTER To The Editor

It was with surprise that I read your endorsement of Mr. Goldwater as President. Yet after reading the full editorial, I did not find it damaging to the cause of President Johnson. In fact, your statement, "We cannot say that Johnson has been a bad President. He has made many good moves in the office." is most encouraging. It is more affirmative for President Johnson than anything you say for Mr. Goldwater in your entire editorial. You said nothing of Mr. Goldwater's background and qualifications for the office. Although he was a member of the Senate for the past ten years, you do not mention his record of accomplishments. What is his record as a Senator? Has he ever submitted a piece of legislation to straighten out the pitiful situation he says our country is in? Does any piece of legislation bear his name? A research of the record will find words, but for action, there is a big "No" and a "Nothing".

You speak of the decaying morals of the American people as if we here in this community are falling apart fast. If this is the case, it is rather cruel to put the blame on one man, the President, rather than all of us. As for the bad apples among President Johnson's acquaintances it should be remembered that these same men are considered friends of members of both sides of the aisle, also remember, Walter Jenkins is still a Colonel in Mr. Goldwater's reserve squadron in Washington. Personally I would rather vote on the positive side. This administration did vote the largest tax cut in history. This tax cut will and has meant extra spending money for all of us. Although Fidel Castro and his Red Cuba came into power during the Republican Administration, it was the Democrats who took the first firm steps to stop the Russian build-up and in fact turn the Russians back to their home ports. The record shows that divident income is up 11% over the first six months of 1963. The record shows that there are four million more employed now than there were in January 1961. The record also shows that the average factory worker earns $14.00 more per week than he did in 1961, and his paycheck will buy 9% more than he could have purchased on January 1, 1961...As for the situation in Viet Nam, it was with us before 1961, but it was President Johnson who first struck back at the bases in North Viet Nam in the Gulf of Tonkin incident. The fall of Stalin and the rise and fall of Kruschev must be interpreted as being in favor of our foreign policy and that our foreign policy is working and remember for the record the first use of troops in civil rights matters was at Little Rock as ordered by a Republican President and it was a Republican President who appointed Earl Warren to the Supreme Court.

We all know that it is easy to be a do nothing, and to sit on the sideline and criticize, but I hope the people of Martin County and also of the rest of the nation will look at the positive. I hope they will look at each candidate on what he has done, not on what he says he will do. Each candidate has been in office long enough for us to look at the record, and look at the record is what I hope each of us will do, for in our hearts we know that we have more than our ancestors ever dreamed of having...Vote for President Johnson.

Wacha Asks "Why Barry"?

LETTER To The Editor

It was with surprise that I read your endorsement of Mr. Goldwater as President. Yet after reading the full editorial, I did not find it damaging to the cause of President Johnson. In fact, your statement, "We cannot say that Johnson has been a bad President. He has made many good moves in the office." is most encouraging. It is more affirmative for President Johnson than anything you say for Mr. Goldwater in your entire editorial. You said nothing of Mr. Goldwater's background and qualifications for the office. Although he was a member of the Senate for the past ten years, you do not mention his record of accomplishments. What is his record as a Senator? Has he ever submitted a piece of legislation to straighten out the sinful situation he says our country is in? Does any piece of legislation bear his name? A search of the record will find words, but for action, there is a big "No" and a "Nothing".

You speak of the decaying morals of the American people as if we here in this community are failing apart fast. If this is the case, it is rather cruel to put the blame on one man, the President, rather than all of us. Ad for the bad apples among the President Johnson's acquaintances it should be remembered that these same men are considered friends of members of both sides of the aisle, also remember, Walter Jenkins is still a Colonel in Mr. Goldwater's reserve squadron in Washington. Personally I would rather vote for the positive side. This administration did vote the largest tax cut in history. This tax cut will and has meant extra spending money for all of us. Although Fidel Castro and his Red Cuba came into power during the Republican Administration, it was the Democrats who took the first firm steps to stop the Russian build-up and in fact turn the Russians back to their home ports. The record shows that divident income is up 11% over the first six months of 1963. The record shows that there are four million more employed now than there were in January 1961. The record also shows that the average factory worker earns $14.00 more per week than he did in 1961, and his paycheck will buy 9% more than he could have purchased on January 1, 1961...As for the situation in Viet Nam, it was with us before 1951, but it was President Johnson who first struck back at the bases in North Viet Nam in the Gulf of Tonkin incident. The fall of Stalin and the rise and fall of Kruschev must be interpreted as being in favor of our foreign policy and that our foreign policy is working and remember for the record the first use of troops in civil rights matters was at Little Rock as ordered by a Republican President and it was a Republican President who appointed Earl Warren to the Supreme Court.

We all know that it is easy to be a do nothing, and to sit on the sideline and criticize, but I hope the people of Martin County and also of the rest of the nation will look at the positive. I hope they will look at each candidate on what he has done, not on what he says he will do. Each candidate has been in office long enough for us to look at the record, and look at the record is what I hope each of us will do, for in our hearts we know that we have more than our ancestors ever dreamed of having...Vote for President Johnson.

Deadline For Absentee Ballots Is Oct. 29

Secretary of State Tom Adams is reminding Florida voters that the deadline for applying for absentee ballots for the November 3 general election is Thursday, October 29, at 5:00 p.m.

Florida law requires that county supervisors of registration receive applications for absentee ballots by 5:00 p.m. on the fifth day preceding the election, he pointed out.

Requests for absentee ballot applications may be made in person or by letter to the supervisor of registration.

Persons voting by absentee ballot must have their ballots in the hands of their supervisor no later than 5:00 p.m. on November 2, Adams explained.

According to Florida's election statutes, no application received after the October 29 deadline can be honored, and no absentee ballot received after 5:00 p.m. on November 2 can be counted, the Secretary of State said.

Absentee ballots may be used by anyone who will be out of his home county on election day or who is physically unable to attend the polls.

All Saints Church To Hold 'Festival Of Title' Sunday

Next Sunday, November 1, is All Saints Day and because the Jensen Beach Episcopal parish derives its name from this Holy Day, a special observance, a "Festival of Title", has been planned.

There will be Holy Communion at all three services, 7:30,9:00 and 11:00 a.m., and the 11:00 o'clock service will feature special music selected by Wells Hively, organist, and played by him with Jeff Luce, guest trumpet soloist. The hymns, "Methinks I Hear The Heavens Resound", Timothy Swan (1758-1842), played as the processional; "Blow Ye The Trumpet, Blow" by Supply Belcher (1751-1836), the recessional, are from a collection of early American hymns that have come down to us from church composers of colonial New England.

Jeff Luce, guest trumpet soloist, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D.N.Luce, St. Lucie Blvd., Stuart. He is 15 years old, a ninth grader in Martin County Junior High School, studies music with LeMoyne Roll at the school and performs in all the school band and concert activities.

Because of the special significance of the day to All Saints Episcopal Church, a day which commemorates the saints who have died, the rector, the Rev. Norman B. Feaster, has prepared a special sermon appropriate to the occasion, "What We Believe About Eternal Life".

All Souls Day will be observed Monday at All Saints Church, with a service at 10:00 a.m.

Crash Injures Four At U.S. 1

A two-car crash at the intersection of U.S. 1 and Jensen Cutoff Road Thursday afternoon, resulted in the hospitalization of four people at Martin Memorial Hospital.

The injured, all of Vero Beach, were Mrs. Fannie Murray, Tabi Murray, Mary Sowers and Emma Pensch.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Waldmeier, of Ocean Breeze Park, were shaken up but uninjured.

Deputy Sheriff Gerald Brown, who investigated, said that Waldmeier, traveling south on U.S.1 turned into the cutoff road, ran into the Murray car which was proceeding north on U.S. 1.

Damages to the Murray car was approximately $1,000, to the other, a total loss.

Firemen Will Repair Toys For Christmas

Chief R. B. Spinney, of the Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department, met with other Fire Chiefs of Martin County at a meeting in Palm City to hear State Deputy Fire Marshall Stevens, of West Palm Beach, lecture on "Arson and How To Detect It".

Chief Spinney represented the local fire department at the Institute on Patient Evacuation, held last Friday at the Stuart Woman's Club.

Jensen firemen will be fixing up toys again this year to be given at Christmas. Anyone who has toys to donate, may call the firehouse or bring them there.

The collection of battery operated toys of the late Seymour Gideon has been donated to the Fire Department to be given to needy children at Christmas. The donation was made by Mrs. Seymour Gideon.

City Denies Persecution

The Stuart City Commission denied persecuting William Ambler, park superintendent, as was alleged in news and editorial matter published by The Stuart News.

Mayor Ray M. Cooke pointed out in a short announcement that: The City Commission did not criticize Ambler, but commended him on a job well done; The three palms planted on U.S. 1 outside the city limits will remain there as originally planned by the committee on beautification for the north entrance to the city of Stuart; and that it will be necessary for the city to confine future beautification projects to the City of Stuart, but authorized Ambler to cooperate with civic clubs and the county on beautification of U.S. 1.

"This was the true and correct action taken by the city commission at its last regular meeting, the meeting at which it was alleged Ambler was criticized", Cooke pointed out.

MEDICAL ASSISTANCE FOR OUR SENIOR CITIZENS

HOLLAND

strongly supported medical assistance to Florida's senior citizens through the KERR-MILLS BILL, which covers both hospital and doctor bills. It protects those who have the need and is financed by our states with Federal support.

Medicare, the other proposal, offers only limited hospitalization, financed by an increase in Social Security taxes. It covers all senior citizens, rich or poor, but it does not cover doctor bills.

Florida's entire delegation in Congress voted for the Kerr-Mills approach. Our state legislature approved it for a two-year trial period, as did 36 states and territories.

'Hi, Daddy!'

Frank A. Wacha, chairman of LBJ's Martin County campaign, was riding in the parade motorcade for Paul Rogers, sitting with the Congressman, when the parade hit the intersection in front of Goldwater headquarters.

Out of the door of the headquarters came Wacha's young son, Warner, with a large sign, "This house is sold on Goldwater".

"Hi, Daddy," yelled the boy. Wacha could be heard to say, "Oh, No!" and was seen to clasp his hands over his face and slink down in the car.

A little later, Ricky Campbell, son of Mirror editor Dick Campbell, who last week endorsed the candidacy of Barry Goldwater, was running around the causeway giving out Johnson campaign literature.

When his father asked why he was for President Johnson, Ricky said, "Because he is our President, and I love him." Campbell said, "That is fine, son," and walked away.

Students See Film Of Toledo Zoo

Two names were omitted by mistake from the 3rd grade Honor Roll last week. They are Dean Sartain and David Pollard.

School pictures were taken on October 22. Everyone wore smiles.

A film requested by Mrs. Thomas of the 3rd grade, was shown to all the classes on Thursday. It was entitled "The Toledo, Ohio Zoo" and was a behind the scenes story of Zoo operation, and was enjoyed by all.

We're looking forward to the P.T.A. Carnival this Saturday. A King and Queen have been selected by the children from each room.

Write In For High Is Being Planned

Martin County supporters of Robert King High for Governor may seek a protest write-in vote to call attention to High's candidacy in the May primaries and his hopes for the future, it was learned this week, although official plans have not been announced.

High made the Democratic primary runoff against Haydon Burns, but was badly beaten in the second primary.

Florida Adult Education

BY: Governor Farris Bryant

Twenty years ago man marveled at a fast fighter plane which could strike and return from a target a few hundred miles away. Today, man is probing outer space. But then, as even now, there are millions who miss the tragedy and the magnificance of these accomplishments because they cannot read a newspaper.

The 1960 federal census tells us there are no less than a quarter of a million adults in Florida who are functionally illiterate. In 30 of Florida's counties more than fifteen percent of the people are in this category. Of Florida's illiterates, 49 percent are white, 51 percent are non-white.

In our education-conscious society these figures are astonishing, but what is being done to alleviate the problem of illiteracy?

The solution is entrusted to the Adult Education Program supported by your tax dollar, and the initiative of the illiterate and under-educated to better himself.

Florida has made giant strides in adult education.

Illiteracy has dropped considerably since the advent of "Operation Alphabet". Through a series of 100 half-hour telecasts on five educational television stations and four commercial television stations in Florida, and this covers nearly every area of the state, thousands have been taught the basic skills of reading and writing.

At least 7,000 people have "registered" for this television course and received workbooks and the services of volunteer teachers to help with the television lectures. Thousands more have learned by merely watching the "Operation Alphabet" telecasts.

Aside from the television plan, thousands more are learning these skills in the public schools.

But adult education is not only for the illiterate. Industries in 51 of Florida's 67 counties report a need for additional technical training for their present employees. Florida will need 65 percent more technicians in the next two years merely to fulfill the needs of present industry not taking into account new industries that will move into Florida.

Then, in order to attract new industry there must be a reservoir of trained people from which to draw. Many of these will be people whose old jobs have become obsolete through technical advancement. They must be retrained to handle other technical vocations.

Courses available for night school also include typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping for anyone with or without a high school diploma.

High school dropouts, in Florida and any state, is a major cause of unemployment and it places a burden on the taxpayer for payment of unemployment compensation.

Anyone, any age, who has dropped out of high school owes it to himself to take night courses and earn his diploma. Most people who return to school are surprised to find how few subjects they must take to acquire a High school Equivalency Diploma.

Last year 6,027 adults went back to school in Florida to finish their high school education at night. Better than one in ten of all the diplomas issued last year went to adults.

Then too, there are courses available to prepare the citizen to vote. We must all be capable of sensibly carrying out our constitutional right of Democratic election. Along these lines, courses include: Current Affairs, political science, economics, and Americanism Vs. Communism, law for the layman, problems of Democracy, American and Florida History and government.

District Manager, West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. My wife has her own social security record and will soon be 62. I'm still working and making a good salary. Will my earnings keep her from drawing social security checks from her own record?
A. No, not if your wife draws from her own record.
Q. My daughter's husband has deserted her, and my wife and I now help support her children. Since I draw social security checks, I wonder if I can draw anything for these children?
A. Sorry, but only your own, or adopted, or step children are covered by your social security record.
Q. I haven't worked under social security for the last 10 years. Are the credits I earned back then still good?
A. Yes. They're still on your record and will stay there.

P.T.A. Hears Talk On "Our American Heritage" By Adams

"Our American Heritage" was the subject of the talk by Capt. Francis A. Adams to the P.T.A. of Jensen Beach Elementary School on Monday night.

He reviewed salient points in American history, including the government, implored all those present to vote, and noted that "Here, this evening, October 19, 1964, we have exercised some of our most cherished rights under our American heritage. We are free to be here in peaceable assemblage; free to discuss our views on public affairs; free to vote or express our choice on matters affecting our daily life. Let us all say: God bless America, the land of the free and the home of the brave."

Capt. Adams, a resident of Stuart, is director general of the Minute Men of America, Inc.

E. Ocean Blvd. Widened

Bids for the contract to widen East Ocean Boulevard in Stuart will be advertised November 17 for a December letting, according to J.H. Bruner, county commissioner.

Bruner said the District 4 office of the SRD at Fort Lauderdale had been presented with right-of-way data and that the agreement to advertise for bids was made during a visit to the district office by County Engineer Fred Bell and City Manager Joe Crowder.

The project will entail some widening, perhaps up to 4 feet, to fit the right-of-way as acquired so far, and re-surfacing. Bruner has made the project Number one on his priority list during the past year.

Real Estate Title Facts

TITLE FACTS
WHAT EVERYONE KNOWS—

- Real estate title risks multiply by the transactions added to the record each passing generation and the modern day value of land and cost of improvements have put a formidable price tag on the self-insurance of these hazards.
- Informed investors and lenders recognize and insist on Title Insurance as the only effective protection against these risks inherent in Real Estate Titles.
- The insured title is the only sure title as distinguished from reliance on self-insurance based on an opinion of the condition of the title.
- Title Security Company is a full-time Title Insurance Agency representing Lawyers Title Insurance Corporation of Richmond, Virginia and maintaining its own Martin County Title record plant.
- Lawyers Title Insurance Corporation of Richmond, Virginia with some $32,000,000 in assets is one of the largest insurance companies specializing in the coverage of real estate title risks.
- Public Records are the basis of abstract and, of course, are permanent and can be copied at any future time that an insured should find some unusual need for an abstract.
- Quicker closing of real estate transactions mean sooner realization of proceeds to sellers or borrowers, a sooner interest earning status for Mortgage lenders, and a quicker in-the-pocket realization by brokers of their earned commission.

TITLE FACTS
THAT YOU SHOULD INVESTIGATE BEFORE YOU DEAL

- The modern full-time title insurance agency maintains its own complete title record plant and does not require in each case a copying of Public Records into the old fashioned abstract for purposes of determining title and insurability.
- Only the underwriter agency for title insurance, who maintains so title plant facilities, requires and must be furnished the traditional "abstract or its equivalent" as a basis for title policy issue.
- Title insurability can be determined by Title Security Company in most cases within two to four working days so that the parties to a transaction and their counsel then know where they stand title-wise and can proceed to an early closing on the basis of a firm title insurance binder.

School Accreditation Is Explained Here

By Ernest Varvil
Principal, Jensen Beach Elementary School

It is hoped that the following information will help the people interested in Jensen Beach Elementary School to understand the recent accreditation rating issued by the Florida State Department of Education in Tallahassee.

Jensen Beach Elementary School is an accredited school just as it has been over the past years. It has always been true that improvements have been desired and efforts have been put forth to make the school better. We will never reach the level in our public schools that will allow us to sit back and say "We finally made it, there is nothing better to strive for".

As in most institutions, organizations and agencies, we are constantly meeting new requirements and raising our goals. We do not expect this to change nor do we want it to.

We received our accreditation, but we were warned to make certain corrections as follows:

1. Write a letter to the Accreditation Department fully explaining that we provide transportation, and inservice program and training. This was done immediately upon request.
2. Provide a full time school secretary. This had already been done, but not in time to show up on our last year's report.
3. Last year, the 6th grade class exceeded the recommended number. This year, this situation does not exist.
4. No full time Art teacher. Our teachers are trained in art work and although there is no specific art teacher, art wrk is carried on in all classes.
5. No Resource Room for itinerant teacher, ie, band instructor, public school music instructor, physical education instructors, foreign language, speech therapist, etc. Space is available to carry on each program, ie. the cafeteria which is used for music instruction, the band using the library. In order to meet accreditation standards, individual rooms would be necessary for these programs.
6. No full time librarian. We had excellent library help, but they were not certified and were not full time. I would at this point like to make known that Mrs. Dorli Holly, at the end of school year 1962-63, received a Certificate of Merit for outstanding voluntary work in our school library over a period of several years. Mrs. Ann Burdge received a Certificate of Appreciation for her voluntary library work during the 1963-64 school year and for a previous time.

This year the Board of Public Instruction has furnished us a certified librarian on a part time basis. I have never seen a better set of records kept on a public school library.

7. Library was too small as related to floor area. We have a good library as the Martin County Board of Public Instruction and Parent Teacher Association have done an excellent job of helping us build up and properly stock our library. The enviable stock of Audio-Visual equipment easily available and often used is excellent and continually expanding such as our new Bell & Howell self-threading projector acquired this year.

This is the first time our school information has been submitted on I.B.M. cards, and therefore, it was not possible to make explanations in some areas where desirable. With the machine you either meet the requirements fully or you get no credit at all. In many instances this gives an erroneous picture.

In some areas where 98% standards were required, we came to the 98% in one area, but fell to 94.79% in the other category.

In another level of evaluation where only 40% was required, we rated 85% and 58.38% which was well above the desired.

We have a good staff of well trained teachers, fully certified by the State Department of Education.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Ernest Baker, 200 Skyline Drive, returned to Jensen Beach recently from their summer home at Strathmere, New Jersey.

Demos Whomp Home To Clean Sweep Here

By Dick Campbell

Traditionally Democratic Martin County gave the county to Goldwater while the national vote went to President Johnson. It then backed gubernatorial candidate Charles Holley as the state went for Jacksonville Mayor Haydon Burns.

From there on, the again traditional Democratic Martin County came back to the fold and voted Democrat right down the line to bring the straight ticket back into being.

Local pundits can say "Wow", for the vote breaks every law of the ballot box. But then, this was the election that broke laws.

Representative Paul Rogers was re-elected to his office in the U.S.Congress, and Senator Spessard Holland came back in a landslide. Veteran Senator Irlo Bronson won re-election handily over an unknown, and four year veteran county commissioner Jack Saunderson won over another virtual unknown, Dr. William G. Myers of Hobe Sound.

Joe Greenlees won over Donna Rowell for the school board and Isabel Evans swamped Gladys Almegord.

The pros call it a "nutty election"...and it was in line with the nation as voters crossed party lines in nineteen different directions to elect their candidates.

Goldwater carried Martin 4109 to 3495 to Johnson. The victory was short lived as Florida went to the incumbent.

Haydon Burns elected Governor

HONORED AT COFFEE--County Commissioner Jack Saunderson visited Jensen Beach last Friday for a Coffee Hour held at the Ocean Breeze Park Community Hall. Saunderson is the apparent winner in the race for Commissioner, District 3.

President Johnson Re-elected

Isabel Evans even outpulled the veteran Paul Rogers as she absolutely left no doubt that she was the victor 4,878 to 2,165 for her opponent. Rogers polled a 4,675 to 1,999 vote over his opponent, winning his congressional seat easily.

An upset in Martin County came from Haydon Burns as he lost the county to Charles Holley, 3,621 to 3,385.

State Senator Irlo Bronson plied up a commanding lead in Osceola County, followed that with a more than two to one lead in Okeechobee County and carried Martin County by 380 votes to insure himself another four years in the Florida State Senate by humbling James B. Watson, his opponent.

Joe Greenlees eased into a win from Donna Rowell, 3,657 to 3,103.

In Jensen Beach, the vote went to Goldwater, Holland, Rogers and Holley, two Democrats and two Republicans.

There are 342 write-in votes, but few races are in doubt in the county.

No Pleas For State Park Received By Cabinet

Word from Tallahassee has indicated that the State Cabinet has not yet received any pleas for cooperation in supporting the establishment of a state park near the St. Lucie Inlet from any Martin County conservation group, chambers of commerce or other groups or individuals.

County Commission Chairman Frank A. Wacha had asked for such supporting letters last week, believing that such support could come with encouragement from sources close to the IIF.

Application Submitted For Subdivision

Palm Beach Co. has applied for a permit from the U.S.Corps of Engineers to build bulkheads, to dredge and fill, and to construct a bridge in the Indian River at the applicant's property in the High Point subdivision at the southern tip of Sewall's point.

It is proposed to fill in an irregular shaped area which would be enclosed by a bulkhead about 400 to 450 feet wide and 1,400 feet long between the Martin County bulkhead line and a point abut 100 feet of shore from the applicant's high water shoreline. Dredging would be to a depth of six feet along the easterly, westerly and southerly sides of the fill area. Dredged material would be deposited inside the bulkhead area and on the applicant's shoreline.

A small bridge would be constructed along the northwest end of the fill area to connect to the mainland on the applicant's property.

Comments or protests should be submitted to the district engineer at Jacksonville in time to be received on or before November 26.

Time seemed to have moved backwards Sunday at noon in the parking lot adjoining Milan's Restaurant and Jensen Bowling Lanes with the congregation of well preserved automobiles from the Vintage Automobile Club of the Palm Beaches.

The members of the club drove up from Palm Beach for their annual tour to the Elliott Museum on Hutchinson Island.

Local arrangements were made by Rick Carroll of Jensen Beach, who joined the tour with his 1923 Jewett touring car.

After a luncheon at Milan's restaurant, the procession re-assembled at the Stuart City Hall for the trip to the Museum.

Those making the tour included the following:

ormer Cuban Prisoner Advises

Our Liberties Should Never Be Taken For Granted

By Caryl Crowder

"[illegible] Was Castro's Prisoner" [illegible] the subject of a talk by [illegible]r. Gustavo do los Reyes to a [illegible]roup of interested citizens on [illegible]nday night at the First National [illegible]ank in Stuart.

Mr. Reyes, former president [illegible] the Cattlemen's Association [illegible] Cuba, was arrested by [illegible]astro's regime and imprisoned [illegible]r over four years as a political [illegible]ender.

While in prison in Cuba, Mr. [illegible]eyes was put before a fake [illegible]ing squad, was left for interm-[illegible]able days in total darkness of [illegible] cramped cell, losing all track [illegible]f time; and for two years in one [illegible]rison, he did not once sit on a [illegible]air or lie on a bed. Many [illegible]risoners were together in one [illegible]ell with only the floor to rest [illegible]on and no sanitary facilities of [illegible]y kind. "The stench of human [illegible]ings," said Mr. Reyes, "was [illegible]ore than even the guards could [illegible]ithstand." Women were called [illegible]ogether, regardless of class. [illegible]rostitutes and homosexuals [illegible]ere mixed with innocent young [illegible]omen and respectable matrons. "Those of us who have come [illegible]t of those prisons, know that [illegible]r survival depended on our [illegible]piritual strength and our faith [illegible]n God," Mr. Reyes said.

Cuba was conquered by sub-[illegible]version, not force, according to [illegible]r. Reyes. In 1958, 98 percent [illegible]f the Cuban people were highly [illegible]orable to the Castro govern-[illegible]ent. No one was happy with [illegible]atista, and Castro had been [illegible]ecognized by other govern-[illegible]ents, including the U.S., as "Progressive Liberal". Today [illegible]ut 15 percent of the people [illegible]re in favor with Castro, but that is enough to keep 85 percent of the people under control.

One of the first big changes undertaken in Cuba was the destruction of the family and the church. Children have been taken from their homes and put into special "Boarding Schools". Mothers who objected have been sent to detention homes. Adults are allowed to go to the churches but not the children.

Mr. Reyes revealed that the promised agrarian reform has never taken place. The proposal to break up big organizations into smaller units was not done, but were taken over and are being operated by the Communists. He related how 80% of the Soviet Communist budget for external help goes to Cuba.

To travel in Cuba, people must apply for a permit at least a week in advance, so that their reasons for wanting to make a trip can be investigated. The people are not encouraged to circulate far from their home area.

One of the questions asked on Sunday night was, "Could Castro's army every revolt?" The answer was "Never". There is a large Russian army in Cuba. They wear no uniforms and do not mingle with the people. They might use a plan known as the "Judas Operation", a fake revolt which would reveal unsympathetic Cuban soldiers.

Another listener asked, "Why do the Cubans continue to work under Castro with their incentive destroyed?" Mr. Reyes' answer was plain, "Fear".

Mr. Reyes felt that there are no "good" or "bad" Communists. Any human being who possesses even a little good, owes it to some trace of moral principle. Communists are not allowed the luxury of morals.

As for there being no more Russians sent to Cuba, Mr. Reyes' brother-in-law learned at the British Embassy of a Soviet freighter which ran aground off Sweden. When they were assisted by that country, 350 Russians enroute to Cuba were discovered in the hold of the cargo ship.

Mr. Reyes ended the lengthy question and answer period with this advice: "Don't ever take for granted the privileges and the liberties that are so commonplace to you now. You'll never know how precious they are until you lose them, as we did."

Your Social Security

By: R.C.Gehrken, Jr.
District Manager, West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. I am over 65 and have operated a motel in Michigan for over 15 years. Each winter my wife and I go to Florida, since we do not operate the motel in the winter. Since I earn over $4800 each year, I have never tried to collect social security benefits. My friends say I can. Are they right?

A. Your friends are correct. Since there are months in which you do no work in your business, you can be paid social security benefits for these months, no matter how much you earn in other parts of the year. Although you did not mention your wife's age, she may also be entitled to receive monthly benefits if she is 62 years old. You should call at the nearest Social Security office without delay.

Q. My wife and I are separated, and I don't want her to know where I am. Last week I put in for social security, and you asked for her address. Will she learn where I live?

A. No. We will not tell her your address. We asked for her address, because she may be entitled to a social security payment as your wife. When she makes her claim, she will learn no more that that you are alive and getting a payment; not where you live or any other facts about you.

RECEIVES AWARD--Timothy Harper, a newcomer to Jensen Beach, has received a merit award from the Dairy Council of South Florida. Timothy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harper, 200 Hickory Ridge Road, was one of the boys who jumped into a community project and took part in the two-mile run through Stuart to raise funds for the U.S.Olympic committee, representing the Jaycees. He is 18 years old and a senior at Martin County High School. Timothy formerly attended school in Long Island, N.Y.

Togetherness

Martin County newspapermen were together. Last Thursday night, at the first session of Stuart High Steppers, photographers were present to take pictures of the colorful Halloween costume party.

Larry Cain, Martin County Sun, took a picture. Art Ruhnke, a member of the High Steppers and Miami Herald photographer, needed a flash to take his picture. He borrowed Cain's electronic flash to take his.

Mirror editor Dick Campbell then entered, with a broken flash cord. Ruhnke stepped forward with his, and the day was saved for pictures all around.

Elementary Open House November 16

The Jensen Beach Elementary School has entered into both Book Week and Education Week wholeheartedly. The bulletin board in the library is decorated with book covers depicting some of the many new books available, while the large bulletin board in the cafeteria has been attractively decorated by Mrs. Billy Cruse with the children's contributions of cut-out drawings of book characters.

The P.T.A. will also be entering into the spirit by attending Open House on November 16, at 7:00 p.m. Notices are being sent out advising the parents of the date and the fact that the regular monthly meeting is in honor of American Education Week. During Open House, the library will also be open and displaying some of the new books.

County Starts Sealing Jensen Beach Roads

Trout Fishing Reported Very Good On River Bridges

According to the Snook-Nook, Trout and bottom fish are good at the bridges, and Snook in the rivers. The following reports were received:

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Bladgett, 7 trout, 2 snook; Mr. and Mrs. Hank Fonde, 200 bottom fish; Harold Dowd, 50 trout; Billy Boyce, 20 trout; Wally Laugerhausen, 20 trout; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bates, 25 bottom fish, 3 Pompano; Pete Peterson, 65 bottom fish; Jim Dailey, 10 trout; Mr. and Mrs. Clint Webb, 15 sheepshead,10 trout; and John Cidlowski, 10 pompano, 20 drum.

Martin County road crews were in Jensen Beach the beginning of this week, and will be in Jensen for two weeks to seal as many roads as can be done, according to Fred Bell, county engineer.

On Tuesday, the crew was completing Palmer Road in South Jensen Beach.

Bell said that the truck will pour a tar base seal on the top of the roads, and will be followed by county trucks with sand to cover the seal.

The seal will keep water out of the roads and insure a longer life for them. The work must be done in good weather.

The four county dump trucks are being kept busy on the project, hauling sand to cover the tar truck, which moves about five miles per hour, according to Bell.

WE MOVED--Chick York, Jimmy Dean and Lou Hensel may be missed in South Jensen, but they are still serving Jensen Beach at their new location on the corner of Skyline Drive and Commercial Street. The Grand Opening of their new and larger Standard Station will be held Saturday, Nov. 14th, with gifts and refreshments.

LADIES...PLEEZE--The feminine grace of a ballet dancer could not compare with these lovely ladies out for an evening of poise and manner...the Powderpuff Football game between the Junior and Senior girls of Martin County High School last Saturday night.

Tigers Lose To Vero 14-7

Vero Beach defeated the Martin County Tigers last Friday night at Long Field as Dick Concilio made all the Vero team's points in the second half, to win 14-7.

High scoring Palm Beach and well-rested Forest Hill resume their battle for Suncoast Conference football supremacy next Friday night against teams in the lower half of the standings.

At Delray Beach last Friday, Ken Johnson scored three TDs as Seacrest overwhelmed Pahokee 39-6. Quarterback Ron Hawk ran for one touchdown and passed for another as Lake Worth edged Riviera Beach 14-13.

If Palm Beach and Forest Hill are still unbeaten by the Thanksgiving championship match at the Falcon's field, the meeting could draw 10,000 fans.

The Pahokee game is Palm Beach's last against a Suncoast opponent. The Wildcats play non-conference Cardinal Newman Nov. 19. Forest Hill faces dangerous Seacrest that night.

FLAT OUT--Junior quarterback Tish Taylor takes a tackle with a laugh, as she is stretched out in the Junior-Senior Powderpuff Football game last Saturday night at Long Field in Stuart.

SET a hearing date of December 8 on request by Ronny Nelson, made on behalf of M. P.Nelson, Hoyt Murphy and Mrs. Florence Barnes, of oceanside road at their property on Hutchinson Island. County attorney was asked to searvh records for data on alleged swap of land for right-of-way of A1A made in 1957, and hearing was set because of access to water by public.

TABLED until next meeting Nov. 24, hearing on rigid awnings because County Engineer has obtained more data from Dade County.

VOTED to clear lots in Sea View Terrace, Westwood and Coral Gardens.

RESOLVED declaration of Veterans Day.

ADOPTED policy of clearing lots in county subdivisions only once a year, after county attorney said some people are taking advantage of a good thing, in that they are using county as a gardening service.

HEARD John Murchison, Jr. point out that the county was ordering lots cleared and was in fact, making dumping grounds out of its own property, referring specifically to the mosquito control yard and fair grounds.

ADOPTED a resolution making the months of November and December clean-up months in Jensen Beach and environs.

F.I.N.D. Action Is Delayed

Action on the Florida Inland Navigation District was postponed by the Martin County Commission at Tuesday's meeting, due to the absence of Commissioner J.H. Bruner from the meeting. Action was tabled for November 24.

A letter was read by the chairman of the Committee for Parks of the Martin County Izaak Walton League, Martin Heuvelmans, censuring FIND for its stand on the St. Lucie spoil bank islands. He was critical of the taxing methods of FIND, which he described as narrow, impractical and unrealistic.

A letter was read from Rep. William Owens in which he told of a letter to him from former Sen. Randolph Hodges which said: "I feel that the division of waterways development could very easily carry out the same duties that are now being performed by the FIND."

He enclosed a copy of a portion of Ch 61-231, which indicated clear legal authority for the department to take over the duties of the FIND.

Yacht Damaged By $25,000 Fire

A fifty-foot yacht enroute to Miami from Cedarhurst, N.Y. was damaged in a $25,000 fire last Sunday on the Indian River between Fort Pierce and Jensen Beach.

Capt. Tom Williamson was at the wheel when the fire was discovered about 2:30 p.m. He turned the wheel over to his wife, headed the boat toward the shallows in the west side of the river, and went below to fight the electrical blaze with CO-2.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Hennesy of Indian River Drive, went to the aid of the craft in their 19-foot outboard. Two U.S. Coast Guard boats were sent with fire fighting equipment and personnel by the Fort Pierce station.

The fire was extinguished after four hours. Both engines were ruined, the main salon was gutted and the bulkhead was destroyed.

The Coast Guard towed the boat into Langford Marina, where Capt. Williamson contacted the owner and Spencer Boat Yard in West Palm Beach. Spencer's was to send a two craft and a pump to the marina.

ll Booths Needed

e recent election, and the one to two hour wait by voters to their ballots in it, brought out the need for more polling booths precincts.

r example, in Jensen Beach, the voting lines were long and g.

t when the voters consider the long ballot, and only three hines, they got through pretty fast. Each voter is allowed minutes in the booth. With over 1400 registered voters, the allowed should come to 39 hours of voting on each machine. the polls are open only twelve hours, it is easy to see that all s could not vote in the time allotted.

w many voters walked away from the long wait cannot be nated. There were many.

ly 1,050 voters cast their ballots in the first precinct of Jensen h. There are over 1,400 registered. In an election that was ned to bring out about 90% of the vote, this was a mighty poor ing.

all voters took only two minutes, and that is a mighty short to vote, considering the many amendments on the ballot, it d take fifteen hours on each machine to get all voters through. e county is certain to take steps to get more voting machines, he growth of our county demands it.

e Mirror is sure that county officials will recognize the need, meet the challenge of growth in the voting department.

reat Newspapers

his is the weekend of challenge. It is the week that the Jensen h Mirror will learn what kind of newspaper it is putting out. e Florida Press Association is holding its 85th anniversary vention in Silver Springs this weekend. At that time the annual rds luncheon of the Association will be held.

lmost 200 weekly newspapers in the state of Florida will compete top honors in 21 different classifications of producing a newspaper. closeness of the contest was shown last year when three spapers tied for top honors in the state. On a special extra point rd, The Stuart News beat out its rival for the best weekly award. he Mirror, which had entered the contest for the first time last , was proud of its two honorable mention awards.

he contest is judged by out-of-state newspapers, most of them national award-winning newspapers. In this way there is no ce of pressure from local sources for prizes.

he judging is brutal, for the out-of-state editors make no bones eir criticism of the entrants. This is the true test of a newspaper.. judged by fellow publishers.

e hope to do well, for we have tried, in the past year, to produce best newspaper we know how. But after all, it is only our second in the Association, so we cannot hope for too much.

the Mirror publisher doesn't speak to too many people next week, se don't say anything about it...you'll know why.

elcome Back, Folks is November, and the Snowbirds have returned to Jensen Beach the season. The visitors, as we call them, live here about six nths of the year, or longer.

is interesting to note how many of them are becoming year around idents of the area, and as they become established they learn re and more to love this area.

f the people are not quite ready for the year around visitor us, we have patience. We know they will make up their minds soon. We welcome all our winter visitors, and wish them a good season. We are certain that the people of Jensen Beach will join us in king all our winter visitors at home---with a pleasant smile, riendly hello and a well-shaken hand.

o More Fire Warnings

ire Chief Randolph Spinney has issued a warning that violation uets with fines attached will be issued in the future to persons ning trash without a permit.

There have been many flagrant violations of the permit law in past. All is takes is a call to the fire house or to the home of ef Spinney for clearance to burn.

The danger is great. Fines, depending on conditions existing at the e of burning, can be from $20 to $200.

All it takes is a phone call to the fire house. It saves money, l property.

ions Club "Turkey hoot" Sunday

A "Turkey Shoot", sponsored the Lions Club of Jensen uch, will be held Sunday afternoon, November 15, across from e Jensen Post Office from 00 to 4:00 p.m.

Clean Your Lot - But Get A Permit

Live and Love It.... BY DICK CAMPBELL

Murray Should Resign

With the election past, it is time that we begin again trying to get some sense into the ineffective Democratic Party leadership.

Whether the old-timers of the party want to realize it or not, there is now a two party system in Martin County. The Republicans of Martin County won a moral victory in the last election. They won through hard work and the apathy of the Democrats.

All of this goes back to the head of the Democratic Committee in Martin County, Ed Murray.

When elected the chairman of the party, the Mirror asked that the people give the controversial Murray a chance to pull the party together, giving it leadership to move ahead to face the challenge of an arising Republicanism.

Just before the primaries in May, the Mirror asked that the committee consider naming the chairman of the Governor candidate's local drive to head the Democratic committee in Martin County upon the election of the candidate.

Since all political favor, all appointments and all traffic in regards to the Governor's office comes through that committee during the tenure of office of that Governor, the executive committee of the Democratic party is useless.

From the time of the primary, Ed Murray, as chairman of the Democratic party, has alienated more Democrats than one can shake a stick at. Under his leadership, Martin County was one of the few counties in the state that did not carry for Hayden Burns. Under his leadership, the county went for Barry Goldwater, while the state and nation went for President Johnson.

The ward politics of New Jersey do not fit in the political complexion of Martin County. Nor does the swaggering style of Ed Murray.

Rather than begin an uproar before the election, and in deference to the many good Democrats running for office, the Mirror did not mention this during the campaign, though it was evident in every candidate's race.

The Democratic Executive Committee of Martin County need not deny the people of the county having a voice in the office of Governor through false loyalty. They can, and must, replace Ed Murray with someone who can work with the Burns committee here, or with one of the committees itself. In that way, the various precincts of the county will at least have a voice in the political appointments and political favors. (If there could be any after this vote) of the Governor's office.

We feel that Murray has been given his chance.

LETTERS To The Editor

To the Editor:

I deeply appreciate your endorsement of my candidacy for the office of Supervisor of Registration of Martin County in the November 3 General Election, as well as in the May Democratic Primary.

I will do every thing in my power to justify your faith in me. I also want to commend you for your policy in endorsing political candidates. I am sure that your unbiased endorsements must have assisted many voters.

Sincerely,
Isabel Evans

To the Editor:

The election on November 3 proved that the Democrats and the Republicans split their ballots more than they had ever done before. There were many Democrats for Goldwater, and many Republicans for Johnson. What this really means is that the people believed in the ideology of each man and not the name of the party.

Governor Nelson Rockefeller and Senator Clifford Case seem to think that the Republican party "should pick up the pieces", change the Republican philosophy and go out and win the next election for the Republican party. It seems that Governor Rockefeller, Senator Case, Governor Romney, Governor Scranton, and many other Republicans have the same ideology that President Johnson has. They call themselves the liberal or moderate Republicans.

The ideology of the Johnson Democrats and moderate or liberal Republicans appears to be this:

a.) The United States last on foreign policy issues.

b.) Little or no states rights.

c.) "Big Brother" federal government.

d.) The U.S.Constitution is out of date.

e.) Appeasement.

An appropriate name for this group would be the "Socialistic Facilists".

To the Editor:

The Provisional League of Women Voters of Martin County wish to express their appreciation for the coverage your paper gave our Registration and Vote Drives these past weeks. In reality, it is citizen interest which makes the League's work effective.

Our sincerest thanks,
Anne P. Hudson
President

To the Editor:

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for the unbiased and excellent handling of the recent general election.

I will look forward to working with your newspaper when I take office.

Your suggestions on how I can best serve Martin County as Supervisor of Registration will be deeply appreciated.

I will be spending my time (after a brief vacation) from now until I take office, by visiting various Supervisor of Registration offices in Florida to determine the best methods which would be applicable to use in the Martin County office.

I also invite suggestions from residents, who may write me at 217 West Ocean Blvd., Stuart, Florida. Most sincerely,

Isabel Evans
Supervisor of Registration, Elect.

To the Editor:

The ideology of the Goldwater Republicans appears to be this:

a.) The United States first on all issues.

b.) States rights.

c.) Government by the people at the local, state and federal levels with no "Big Brother" federal government.

d.) Abide by the Constitution.

e.) No appeasement.

An appropriate name for this policy would be the "Loyalists".

The names chosen for the two ideologies are not important, but the ideologies are. There was one news reporter who said that he "would rather get down on his knees and be 'Red' than dead." The election proved that there are more than twenty-six million of us who would rather be dead than "Red".

Art Pitman

Now I Am Seventy-Nine

I think I've had my share of life
The world has been most kind
I hope I did my share of giving
'Ere I was seventy-nine.

For now I'm really getting old
Although I'm feeling fine,
There's not very much man can do
When he is seventy-nine.

My camp-hunting pals for many years,
Five good sports in kind,
Alas, all five of them are gone
While I'm left at seventy-nine.

There was Jones, Baker, Mitchell and Bevill,
Besides a brother of mine.
I have many pleasant memories of them
Now at seventy-nine.

Tis strange that I'd be single out
To be the last in line,
But I'm very thankful to still be here,
At three score ten and nine.

Yacht Damaged By $25,000 Fire

A fifty-foot yacht enroute to Miami from Cedarhurst, N.Y. was damaged in a $25,000 fire last Sunday on the Indian River between Fort Pierce and Jensen Beach.

Capt. Tom Williamson was at the wheel when the fire was discovered about 2:30 p.m. He turned the wheel over to his wife, headed the boat toward the shallows in the west side of the river, and went below to fight the electrical blaze with CO-2.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Hennesy of Indian River Drive, went to the aid of the craft in their 19-foot outboard. Two U.S. Coast Guard boats were sent with fire fighting equipment and personnel by the Fort Pierce station.

The fire was extinguished after four hours. Both engines were ruined, the main salon was gutted and the bulkhead was destroyed.

The Coast Guard towed the boat into Langford Marina, where Capt. Williamson contacted the owner and Spencer Boat Yard in West Palm Beach. Spencer's was to send a two craft and a pump to the marina.

Cross Florida Barge Canal

By Governor Farris Bryant

Almost a century and a half ago, in 1820, the Army Corps of Engineers made a formal study of an idea to cut a man-made canal through the Florida Peninsula linking the Gulf to the Atlantic. Such a canal was envisioned as a boon to waterway commerce.

Only this year, no less than 28 proposed routes later, was there a firm decision made to complete a Cross Florida Barge Canal, and construction actually begun.

President Johnson broke ground on February 27, and dredging began at each end of the 100 mile canal.

Work was started on the Gulf Coast near Yankeetown at the mouth of the Withlacoochee River. At the other end -- dredging began at the St. Johns Locks site near Palatka.

When the canal is completed, waterborne traffic will travel from Jacksonville on the Atlantic, down the St. Johns River to Palatka, then southwest in the dredged canal to the Gulf of Mexico at Yankeetown.

This concept was approved by Congress in 1942, but before construction could begin, a re-study had to be conducted. In 1961 this administration, and Florida's Congressional Delegation persuaded Congress to allocate $195,000 for that study.

We received another $205,000 in 1962 for pre-construction planning.

Then, I went to Washington to confer with President Kennedy in an effort to obtain the first actual construction funds for the Cross Florida Barge Canal. I acted as Chairman of the Florida State Board of Conservation in asking for $1 million.

In January, 1963, President Kennedy, in his budgetary request, asked for and secured this money that led to our ground-breaking this year.

We are now dredging with an additional $4 million from the 1964-65 fiscal federal budget, and just recently, in September, I made the presentation before the Bureau of the Budget for funds covering fiscal year 1965-66.

The Barge Canal will provide a shipping shortcut that will affect the economy nationally. It will interconnect the industrial complexes of the eastern seaboard and those along the Gulf Coast -- Texas, Louisiana and Alabama -- and those of the mid-continental U.S. along the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers.

There are more than 28 thousand miles of intra-connected inland waterways east of the Rocky mountains, and the Barge Canal will enable Florida to transport her goods at rates that will put her into competition with many northern producers heretofore not considered to be competition.

The canal will bring to Florida: Oil, coal, minerals, chemicals, grains, building materials, and other bulk materials. These are commodities particularly suited for transportation on waterways. These are commodities needed for the industrial development of Florida.

Dredging the Cross Florida Barge Canal will make some of the finest hunting lands in the state easily accessible to the outdoorsman and provide miles of new water for pleasure boating and fishing.

A key to Florida's industrial future is economical transportation. Barge transportation is a part of the answer to this requirement. Industry goes where there is a balanced network of transportation -- including rail, highway freight, air and water. All these transportation mediums are essential to an industrial complex and mutually supporting.

If everything remains on schedule the Cross Florida Barge Canal, for which so many have worked so hard, will be completed in about seven years.

All but $13-1/2 million of the $158 million the Canal is expected to cost will be supplied by the Federal Government. From every viewpoint, this is a small price to pay for a "wonderway" of this magnitude.

Shop And Eat At Community Church Fair

Plans are almost complete for the Annual Fair to be held this Saturday, November 14, at the Jensen Community Church on Skyline Drive. All proceeds from the Fair, which begins at 9:00 a.m., will go toward the completion of the Sanctuary.

Lunch will be served all day and a Pancake and Sausage supper will begin at 4:30.

Things for sale include many items that may be desired as Christmas gifts or for personal use, as well as baked goods and Christmas decorations, and an art demonstration. Blood Pressure will be taken and there will be a Fortune Teller.

Damaged Sanctuary Toured

A tour of the Joseph V. Reed Wilderness Beach Sanctuary was made last week by State and local officials of the Audubon Society to view damages caused by a Palm Beach County engineering firm doing work on an erosion study for the U. S. Corps of Engineers.

A survey party did serious damage to an Indian mound, cut trees and brush and bulldozed a 10-foot roadway the length of the preserve on the weekend of October 17-18.

K. C. Mock, owner of the firm doing the erosion study, accompanied the inspection party and admitted that his firm had obtained no permission to damage of otherwise use the property, and that the damage was done by a crew sent out by his firm.

No future course was indicated by any of the inspecting party.

Q. I have been working under Civil Service for the Federal Government and do not have enough credits in my social security record to draw anything at 65. Some people say I can pay up my social security record and start drawing benefit checks. Is this true?

A. No. The only way in which you can get social security benefits

A. No. The only way in which you can get social security credits is to work in employment or self-employment covered by social security.

Q. I am receiving social security retirement payments. My wife will be 62 next January and wants to sign up now, but does not have a birth certificate. We do have a family Bible record and some old insurance policies which show her age. Will these do, or do I have to get a birth certificate for her?

A. The family Bible and insurance policy will probably be fine. She should bring them in when she comes to apply for her social security.

Florida Press Official Wins Weekend In Jensen

A "Honeymoon Weekend In Jensen Beach", one of the prizes in the Florida Press Association convention at Silver Springs last week-end was won by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dudley, publishers of the Havana Herald. Mr. Dudley is past president of the Florida Press Association, past chairman of the Florida Press Service and legislative chairman of F.P.A.

Representing various merchants in the Jensen Beach area, the "Honeymoon Weekend" was set for the second year. The visiting couple will have two nights and days at Frances Langford's Villas, two dinners for two nights at Frances Langford's Seafarer Restaurant, luncheon for both days at Milan's Restaurant, 10 gallons of gas from Joe Roberts' Texaco Station, fishing rod, reel, line and plugs from Palmer's Variety Store, life and accident travel policy for the round trip to Jensen Beach from the Rick Carroll Agency, and a set of Thermal glasses from the Anchorage Yacht Club.

Chamber Dues Set Record

Receipts of dues for the 1965 year are setting a record for the Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce, according to Reg Walker, secretary-manager of the organization.

Dues bills were mailed out on November 2, Walker told the Mirror, and already 54 members have paid heir 1965 dues. Monday night Walker told a special meeting of the Civic Pride Committee of the Chamber that he was pleased with the response of the membership.

The 1964, or present, membership totals 144 business members. Approximately one-third of the members have paid dues for 1965.

Clean Up Parade Is Saturday As Chamber Plans Area Tour

Sirens will blow, horns will blow, and all the citizens of the Jensen Beach-Rio area will be aware that the Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce is having a Clean Up Drive as the 1964 campaign parade gets under way Saturday at 2:00 p.m.

Automobiles, fire engines and trucks will assemble on Ricou Road, one block west of Commercial Street in Jensen Beach at 1:30 p.m. The parade will get under at about 2:00 p.m.

Organizations and clubs in the area, local officials and the general public are being invited to take part in the parade. The Chamber of Commerce is asking that interested people and clubs call the Chamber for information and details on the parade.

The route of the parade will cover most of the Jensen Beach-Rio area. Leaving Ricou Road, the parade moves on to Commercial Street and west to West Jensen, then to North Jensen and down Indian River Drive to Ocean Breeze Park; through Ocean Breeze Park, the parade moves to South Jensen and on to Rio. Then the parade route heads back to Jensen Beach, covers the Legion Heights area, and more of West Jensen Beach, and then disbands on Ricou upon return.

Chairman of the Civic Pride Committee, Al Palmer, told the Mirror that the parade was designed to build further interest in the already successful clean up drive.

Parade Marshall Reg Walker has asked that all vehicles and persons interested in being in the parade be on time. Persons desiring to follow the parade may pick up at the end of the parade line, said Walker.

Mirror Wins FPA Awards

The Jensen Beach Mirror was one of eight newspapers in Florida to take more than one first place award in the 1964 Better Newspapers Contest of the Florida Press Association, held last weekend at Silver Springs.

Attending the convention from the Mirror were Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Campbell and Mrs. Mary Tilton.

Fifteen out of the 144 member newspapers in the state association of weekly newspapers won first place trophies. The Mirror joined the group of eight winning two or more.

THINGS

Things you may never have known if you hadn't read this column:

The Jensen Bridge:

Having used 115 working days out of 360 (as per contract) the new Jensen bridge is on schedule for completion about the latter part of October, 1965.

The old wooden bridge is gone and the old wood is being placed on an island just north of the bridge, and what a bonfire that will be!

It's a long wait till October, but it will be worth waiting for.

What is this young generation coming to:

Davey Heaton breaks his ankle playing football at St. Anastasia School.

Gene Waxler breaks his leg in two places at the Jensen School and he is coming along o.k.

Jimmy Dean gets blood poisoning in his thumb, which was no handicap in the opening of Chick York's new service station.

Then, Sam Rhodes, the working contractor, falls and breaks his arm.

Methinks, that Sam should set in his office and let younger fellows like Phil Baker climb around the scaffolds.

Most likely these fellows will appreciate old age, when they can sit down, do nothing but try to stay out of trouble.

M.E.W.

The Martin County Audubon Society will give a dinner honoring Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Verner Reed of Jupiter Island, for their gift of a mile of beach, "The Reed Wilderness Seashore" to the Florida Audubon Society.

ARTHRITIS-RHEUMATISM

Do claims and double talk make you doubt you can get any relief from arthritic and rheumatic pains? Get the STANBACK tablets of 3 in STANBACK powders use as directed. If you do not get relief, return the unused part and your purchase price will be refunded. Stanback Company, Salisbury, N. C.

Candidates Report Campaign Expenses

Financial statements for fall campaigns of Martin County candidates indicate that most of the candidates, in general, have spent their own funds for campaigning expenses. The reports were filed as of November 2, the first Monday, as required by law.

Totals and the larger contributions are listed as follows:

Commissioner Jack Saunderson, $300, $275 of which was by himself and his wife; $25 from Roland Lueder.

Dr. William G. Myers, who ran against Saunderson, spent $337.85. Of the total, the largest sum came from contributions of $207.84 by William Murfin, Mrs. Isabel Evans, successful candidate for Supervisor of Registration, was her only source of contributions, $150, according to her report.

Mrs. Gladys Almegord listed $125 in contributions, $50 from the Woman's Republican Club; $50 from her own funds and $25 from Mrs. Margaret Burggraff.

Joe Greenlees, elected to the District 2 school board seat, received contributions of $180.73 from the state and county Democratic committees; $130 from William Leonard of Hobe Sound; and raised the balance himself. Total was $394.73.

Mrs. Donna Rowell received $50 from the Woman's Republican Club; $75 from Republican county committee; $75 from Jean Murfin and $42.54 from Hobe Sound Prescription.

The Democratic County committee has filed a report of its spring activities, but not of the recent finances.

In May, according to the report, the committee spend $211.45 for headquarters expenses; $365 for radio, and $908.11 for a "rally".

No Republican county committee financial report is on file. State Senatorial candidate James B. Watson, Sr., defeated, spent $1,000 of his own money, added $155 from state and county Republican committees.

Flower Growers Sponsor Golf And Speeches

The Martin County Flower Growers' Association will sponsor the eleventh annual short course, in cooperation with the Agricultural Extension Service for the University of Florida, December 5, 6, 7 and 8, according to D.S. Luce, president of the Association.

The course will be held at Port St. Lucie Country Club and will feature a golf tournament as well as serious speeches by experts in the flower growing field. The golf tournament will be December 6. On the same date, there will be a buffet dinner, dancing and entertainment. Special activities for the ladies have been planned for two of the days, including a tour of the Evinrude estate and a fashion show-luncheon at the Outrigger Restaurant.

New School Librarian Introduced At PTA Meet

An excellent turnout for the combined P.T.A. meeting and American Education Week 'Open House' on Monday, November 16, did both parents and teachers of Jensen Beach school proud. An attendance for both the meeting and inspection of each room was well over 100, and lasted between 8:00 and 9:45 p.m. with a good exchange of helpful conversation between the parents and individual teachers. Such cooperation between parents and teachers is encouraging to both.

Mrs. Mary Smith, the new school librarian, was introduced and the Library was open for browzing.

The sixth grade homeroom mothers were in charge of the refreshments.

Myers Will Lead Fight For Trailer Subdivision Zoning

A zoning amendment adopted by the county commission, which affects the Hobe Sound area, will be heard Thursday by the county zoning board.

The measure, expected to be fought by Hobe Sound residents, is the issue of permitting trailer subdivisions to be built without central sewage disposal and water supply. The issue has been high on the agenda of every zoning board meeting for the past several months. On November 24 the change in zoning will be up for a county commission hearing.

Dr. William G. Myers, local civic leader and President of the Hobe Sound Chamber of Commerce, predicted Monday night that the people of Hobe Sound will fight the move to permit the establishment of a large trailer subdivision that will be allowed to use septic tanks for sewage disposal. "I know of what I speak," said the Doctor, "when I say we will plead our cause in the name of the health and welfare of the community."

The subdivision land is owned by William J. Leonard of Hobe Sound, who has been before the zoning board several times in an effort to get a subdivision code which would permit trailers on small lots without central sewage disposal. Trailer subdivision zoning was completely stopped when the county commission asked a moratorium to permit studies into a code more strict than are now on county books.

The zoning board eventually adopted a code which required central water and sewage plants in subdivisions containing lots of all sizes, but the county commission adopted it with an amendment which permits septic tanks in subdivisions of lots of from 5,000 square feet or over.

Dr. Myers said, "Our point is that we were asked to recommend zoning we felt was for our own best ends, and the county zoning board permitted the establishment of a trailer subdivision before we reached conclusions in discussion with the county board.

"We asked that Leonard be required, for our own health reasons, to install central sewage, and the county commission overruled that. We will fight for what we believe is right, both in the new Hobe Sound area of the county zoning code, and in the zoning change sought by Leonard, which will be heard November 24."

Agriculture Is Subject For Grades

A film with animation was shown to the 4th, 5th and 6th grades this week, which traced the progress of agriculture from prehistoric times through modern American farming. Other films shown at different times during the week were the ABC of Internal Combustion which ties in with the science studies of the 6th grade, and another shown to the 4th and 5th grades of the American Frontier which depicted an industrial adventure of opening a new era in America in the northwest. The first and second grades are shown an animated, instructional film each Friday.

The 4th grade has been working on a model village of "Hastings Mills", the town depicted in their reading book which ties in art work with the curriculum, since the children are doing the model construction supervised by their teacher.

QUIET: HEART AT WORK

You don't hear it, but your "motor" is running. We are referring to the heart. Day after day, all day and night, 365 days a year for about 70 years on the average, the heart does its job. During this lifetime of the heart it pumps approximately 250,000 tons of blood, resting only a fraction of a second between beats.

There are sounds made by the heart when the valves open and close as the blood passes through them. Interest in heart sounds became widespread following the invention of the stethoscope in 1819 by the French physician, Rene Laenec. Doctors examining the heart listen by means of this instrument which amplifies the heart sounds.

Normal heart sounds are strikingly similar in all persons. Abnormal sounds, called murmurs, may indicate a heart disorder or perhaps just a peculiar way in which blood eddies through one of the heart chambers. Rate, regularity, and quality of sounds are checked by the physician while the patient is at rest in body and mind. The tests are then repeated after the patient has taken a measured amount of exercise, and these tests are continued to determine how long it takes the heart to return from the rate during activity to its resting rate.

Some heart sounds are described as churning, clicking or splashing. A severely disordered heart may make sounds like a dove cooing or a sea-gull's raucous cry.

ostmaster Urges Early ians For Holiday Mailing

ensen Beach Postmaster Ken- has advised that a little nning during the Thanksgiving iday can help avoid the hristmas Rush". He offers following tips which will not p put Zip into Christmas mail- but help local postal em- ees move the record aking mountain of mail that expected this Christmas ason:

. Find last year's Christmas iling list, or make one.
. Check addresses.
3. Use Zip Code when possible.
4. Determine your list of gifts to be mailed, shop early and stock up on mailing materials in advance.

The postmaster emphasized that poorly wrapped and loosely packed cartons are the major cause of parcel post damage. He also suggested that the address be written on only one side of the exterior wrapping and that a duplicate address be included inside the carton, in case the outer covering is not secure and comes off.

Mr. Kendall said the Post Office Department in Washington is predicting that a record seven billion pieces of mail will move through the postal system during the peak rush just before Christmas. "The cooperation of all mailers is vital for us to deliver each holiday card, letter and package before Christmas Day. A little planning will make the Christmas rush less hectic for everyone." he said.

Cases in County Court before Judge Mallory L. Johnson, included four DWI charges, one defendent charged with hunting with an improperly plugged gun, and one charge of control of a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Inlet Divvy Is Told

Chairman Frank Wacha read statistics as given to him by Col. H.R. Parfitt of the U.S. Army Engineers. Col. Parfitt asked for the board's views on the Federal improvement of the St. Lucie inlet as outlined last spring and summer, and wholly apart from the emergency dredging planned for this winter.

Cost for the comprehensive plan, which would provide for a breakwater at the bar cut, channel maintenance, jetty-weir arrangement for the transfer of littoral drift and a south jetty, Col. Parfitt estimated at $3.2 million with $75,000 annual maintenance costs.

"Non-Federal share of the cost would depend upon the degree of public ownership and use of the four-mile south beach expected to benefit from the comprehensive project," the Colonel emphasized. "Cost sharing for the comprehensive project under different assumptions as to beach usage," he summarized as follows:

If there were a mile of public park (beach) ,75 public use, and 2.25 public use, both in mileage Federal participation in the comprehensive project would be one $2.2 million.

The November meeting of the Indian River Drive Association will be held November 19, as the last Thursday is Thanksgiving.

The regular covered dish supper and program will be at 6:30 p.m. in the Walton Community Center. For the program, a film "Diseases of the Heart" will be shown by Mrs. Samual O. Shumaker. She will be accompanied by a local doctor to answer any questions from the group.

He offers ... following tips which will not ... put Zip into Christmas mail... ... help local postal em... yees move the record ... aking mountain of mail that ... expected this Christmas ... son:

1. Find last year's Christmas ... iling list, or make one.
2. Check addresses.
3. Use Zip Code when possible.
4. Determine your list of gifts to be mailed, shop early and stock up on mailing materials in advance.

The postmaster emphasized that poorly wrapped and loosely packed cartons are the major cause of parcel post damage. He also suggested that the address be written on only one side of the exterior wrapping and that a duplicate address be included inside the carton, in case the outer covering is not secure and comes off.

Mr. Kendall said the Post Office Department in Washington is predicting that a record seven billion pieces of mail will move through the postal system during the peak rush just before Christmas. "The cooperation of all mailers is vital for us to deliver each holiday card, letter and package before Christmas Day. A little planning will make the Christmas rush less hectic for everyone," he said.

Cases in County Court before Judge Mallory L. Johnson, included four DWI charges, one defendent charged with hunting with an improperly plugged gun, and one charge of control of a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Inlet Divvy Is Told

Chairman Frank Wacha read statistics as given to him by Col. H.R. Parfitt of the U.S. Army Engineers. Col. Parfitt asked for the board's views on the Federal improvement of the St. Lucie inlet as outlined last spring and summer, and wholly apart from the emergency dredging planned for this winter.

Cost for the comprehensive plan, which would provide for a breakwater at the bar cut, channel maintenance, jetty-weir arrangement for the transfer of littoral drift and a south jetty, Col. Parfitt estimated at $3.2 million with $75,000 annual maintenance costs.

"Non-Federal share of the cost would depend upon the degree of public ownership and use of the four-mile south beach expected to benefit from the comprehensive project," the Colonel emphasized. "Cost sharing for the comprehensive project under different assumptions as to beach usage," he summarized as follows:

If there were a mile of public park (beach) .75 public use, and 2.25 public use, both in mileage Federal participation in the comprehensive project would be one $2.2 million.

Aluminum Awning Code Passes As Commissioners Uphold Rules

Engineers Must Approve Specification Of Awnings Sold And Installed Here

Protection of residents of mobile homes got a boost last Tuesday as the Martin County Commission adopted intact the new code to govern installation of rigid awnings, metal patio covers and canopies as an addition to its building code.

Promotion of the new code was given editorial support of the Mirror since the first hurricane, Cleo, hit Martin County this summer.

The Mirror campaigned for a stiff code, patterned on the Palm Beach and Miami-Dade codes, while some awning manufacturers and sales representatives asked a lax code.

The code finally passed without change Tuesday.

Nelson Cunningham, North Stuart aluminum fabricator, and owner of Cunningham Engineering, asked removal of a section requiring permission from trailer park owners prior to issuance of permits, but the action was left in on final adoption. Cunningham charged that the section could lead to requests for kickbacks by park owners.

Commissioner Jack Williamson said he saw the point, and County Engineer Fred Bell agreed to omitting it, but the board left it in when Richard Campbell, Jensen Beach newspaper publisher, charged the board was intimating that park owners were not honest. He said the lause was put in the code to permit hard pressed building inspectors to catch infractions which would not otherwise be called to their attention.

Cunningham repeated a charge he made at Monday night's city commission meeting, that 80 per cent of the aluminum construction going up, both in the city and the county, was being erected without building permits.

Chairman Frank A. Wacha pointed out that the county had not had controls prior to the moratorium of several months ago, but that the new code should provide enforcement teeth.

Cunningham also criticized the new contractors' licensing law which he said required revelation of private information, but Bell said the requirements had been altered to include a credit report only and that it would be kept confidential.

$$ Found In Shoe

A "moderate" amount of money was found in a shoe at the Jensen Beach Community Church Thrift Shop last Monday. The find was turned over to the Jensen Beach Bank in the custody of E.C. Waechelin, President.

"There is no way of knowing how long the shoe has been there," said Ransom Tilton, chairman of the Church Board. "We are very anxious to find the rightful owner."

The owner, in order to claim the money, must identify certain objects found with the money in the shoe.

Hobe Sound Residents Complain

Wacha Asks Incorporation Or County-wide Utilities

Frank A. Wacha, County Commissioner, made a public plea at Tuesday's meeting of the board for the incorporation of presently unincorporated sections of Martin County.

"If some sections of the county do not incorporate soon, the county must go into the utility business," said Wacha.

His comments were made during a long discussion by Hobe Sound people who sought to get the commission to agree to require central water and sewage systems in mobile home subdivisions with lot sizes larger ing code. In October the commission adopted a new R-T category for use in county zoning regulations. The category covers mobile home subdivisions.

The commission had changed a recommendation made by the county engineer and the zoning board, an advisory board, from a minimum lot size on which these subdivisions should have central systems. The criteria, as adopted, permitted septic tanks on lots of 5,000 square feet or over, but central water systems on all lots.

William Murfin, Hobe Sound pharmacist, pleaded for the sake of health, that the board permit no septic tanks on lots of less than 7,500 sq. feet.

Lots under that size would have septic tanks only if passing specified state board of health and county percolation tests. He referred to so-called "Florida sores", which he said were caused by bacteria in human feces and the prevalence of infection of ordinary insect bites as all part of the problem of health created by human waste.

The application for a change from R-2 (holding, interim zoning) to R-T zoning, sought by William J. Leonard, was not granted by the commission at the Tuesday hearing when County Attorney Tooker agreed with Attorney T.T. Oughterson in his allegation that the zoning board passed the question to the commission illegally.

The Hobe Sound delegation sat quietly through the discussion, but exploded into action when Wacha opened the meeting for public comments. It was during the discussion that Wacha made his comments on incorporation.

While two communities have considered such a move within the past couple of years, no new incorporations have been made since Ocean Breeze Park became a town. Indiantown studied it and refused to make the move, as did Jensen Beach.

Wacha said, "Each community in the county should incorporate. It is unfair for any community to assume that one commissioner should be sole judge of what goes in or not, whether it be septic tanks or anything else.

"The city of Stuart takes care of its own people and problems. I think you should either elect full time office holders, on the county level, or get smaller areas of responsibility, such as incorporated communities."

Ocean Breeze Ambulance Is Planned

A new ambulance for the Town of Ocean Breeze Park has been approved and will be purchased and in service by the first of January, according to officials of the town. Service will be free to town residents.

A co-operative effort of all the residents of Ocean Breeze in which each home will be assessed one dollar a month for twelve months achieved approval this week. Money advanced by the Hoke family, owners of most of the park, will be used to purchase a 1965 Dodge Ambulance. Totaling $4,500, the money will be repaid to the Hokes when it is collected at the end of the year.

A non-profit corporation is planned to run the service. The park already allocated $400 a year for ambulance service. That will be set aside for maintenance of the vehicle.

The control of the ambulance corporation will be in the hands of residents, not in the hands of the Hokes, most of whom are officials of the town. The new corporation will be called Ocean Breeze Ambulance Service, Inc.

Schools Will Present Christmas Concert

A Christmas concert will be presented at the new high school auditorium December 17 by the Bands of the High School and the Junior High School and the Choral groups of both schools, according to Lemoyne Roll, band director.

The High School Band, which won a rating of "superior" in the District 8 marching band contest for Class B schools, will be in the December 12 parade at Jupiter. Both bands will play in the Stuart Christmas parade on December 5.

Miller Asks CC To Dump Ward

Donald Ward, veteran member of the Martin County Zoning and Planning Board, was asked in a note from county commissioner Ed Miller, to resign.

Ward was named to the Zoning Board by Charles Leighton, who was defeated by Miller in the 1962 election.

Miller had asked Ward to resign when he first took the seat, but Ward refused and has been one of the most active members of the board.

Miller made another move to oust Ward at the County Commission meeting Tuesday, but his motion died for lack of a second.

ANOTHER WINNER --- Joyce Fletcher, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Fletcher, is one of the coloring contest winners this week. Joyce attends the Jensen Beach school, likes horses.

Traffic Signals Set For SR 76-Monterey

Traffic signals will be installed at the intersection of Indiantown Road and Monterey Road, as a result of a request by County Commissioner Ed Miller that some control device was needed at the busy intersection.

Since the new high school was built on Indiantown Road, traffic has increased at that intersection.

FCD Will Hear Fishermen Gripe

A discussion of levees and boat locks will be presented to members of the Central and South Florida Flood Control District at the December 1 meeting in Okeechobee.

They will hear complaints from irate Martin County anglers who are being barred from driving their cars on the roadway which flank FCD's $3 million C-23 canal, which forms 20 miles of the border between Martin and St. Lucie Counties.

Dickerson Wins Bid

Dickerson, Inc. was the sole bidder on a Port Sewall highway widening project. The bid, opened by the county commission on Tuesday, was $11,994.96 to widen St. Lucie Avenue four feet on the east side from Easy Ocean Boulevard, 1.7 miles.

County Commission Chairman Frank A. Wacha complimented Walter Crowell, vice president of Dickerson, Inc. for doing a good job for Martin County.

Questions

Information on incorporation for Jensen Beach will be collected and printed by the Jensen Beach Mirror. Any questions submitted by residents of the Jensen Beach area will be answered each week on the editorial page of the Mirror.

In this way, the public will become better informed on the necessity and cost of incorporation.

COLORING TOPS--Joyce Bray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bray of Jensen Beach, was selected as this week's winner in the Mirror Coloring Contest. Joyce is in the second grade and is a member of Brownie Troop # 126.

CHEER UP--A little rain dampened these MCHS cheerleaders before the Homecoming parade last Friday afternoon, but not their spirit, which they displayed at the football game Friday night.

JUNIOR HIGH BAND--Marching along in Friday afternoon's Homecoming Parade for Martin County High School, is the Stuart Junior High School Band and Majorettes.

"Without Val Clear, we would not have the House of Refuge Museum or the Elliott Museum", said J. Brian Frazier, first president of the Martin County Historical Society, at a reunion of the Soroptimist Club held Nov. 19 at the Elks Club.

Following an interesting resume of this area's rich history and the role the Soroptimist Club played in preserving its history through the Historical Society and the Museums, Clear recommended the following proposed projects for the club's consideration:

1. Erect a statue of Jonathan Dickinson at the intersection of U.S. 1 and SR 707, just north of Stuart, because of the Dickinson's rich historical and religious contribution to the area.

2. Complete a "Who Knows What" survey and file so that community resources of people's knowledge and skills are known and used.

3. Extend that data and sponsor a "Community Workshop" for retirees and handicaps, a workshop of production and service.

4. "This is the most important project of all, and the most needed", said Clear, the building of an auditorium adjacent to the Elliott Museum.

The festivities ended with the song "God Be With You 'til We Meet Again". Invocation was given by Mrs. Zella Adams, of the Palm Beaches.

The committee in charge was composed of Mrs. Swarthout, chairman, and members Mrs. Mae Walton, Mrs. Charlotte Henderson, Mrs. Marion Kelleher, Mrs. Clara Fulton, Mrs. Dassori, Mrs. Hansen, Mrs. Marjorie Lynch.

FCD To Discuss Plans For Levees

A public meeting to discuss plans for new levees to be built on the northeast shore of Lake Okeechobee will be conducted by the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District at 9:30 a.m., Tuesday, December 1st, in the County Commission Chambers, Okeechobee Court House.

Riley S. Miles, chairman of the FCD Governing Board, said the proposed alignment of the new levee, between Taylor Creek and the St. Lucie Canal, and questions of boat access to Lake Okeechobee will be discussed.

Ed Dail, Executive Director, will conduct the meeting.

Present plans call for a start of construction of the northeast shore levee in the first half of 1965, Dail said.

It is expected that the works will be completed in the next three to four years. Then Lake Okeechobee will be fully encircled with levees. This in turn will make possible an increase in water storage capacity of the big, 730 square mile Lake.

Boaters Warned Of Conditions On Kissimmee River

Sandbars and shoals caused by low water conditions in the Kissimmee River are creating navigation difficulties at several locations, and boaters should use caution in planning trips between Lake Okeechobee and Lake Kissimmee.

The Flood Control District caution to boaters, concerning use of unimproved sections of the Kissimmee River, follows a recent incident in which a family with a good-sized boat was stranded overnight on a sandbar near U.S. Highway 98.

Until river dredging is completed, only substantial amounts of rainfall will improve navigation in uncompleted reaches of the waterway.

The Church Aid Circle of the Jensen Beach Community Church will meet Friday, November 27, at 1:30 p.m. Instead of their regular day, Wednesday, the 25th.

Football Season Has Come To An End

In Suncoast Conference games last week, Stuart scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to tie Lake Worth 19-19. A pass from Buck Mauldin to Ralph Kramer for the extra point after the third touchdown, gave Stuart its tie, the third deadlock in the conference this year.

Forest Hill escaped Delray Beach with a last-second 18-13 victory over Seacrest. Palm Beach tuned up for the game Wednesday by easily disposing of Cardinal Newman 32-0.

Last Friday, Forest Hill looked beat when Seacrest, leading 13-12, got possession of the ball with a minute to go on a pass interception by Dennis Hutcheson but Seacrest lost the ball moments later on a fumble. Rhodes threw one incomplete, but hit Knapp on a screen pass at the 50 and the big fullback ran behind good blocking to score with six seconds remaining.

Intra-city rivals Palm Beach and Forest Hill meet Wednesday night at the Falcon's field. Each has won nine games in a row over the same eight conference opponents and another West Palm team, Cardinal Newman. It's the game of the year in Suncoast 1964.

Comparing scores against the same nine opponents, Palm Beach rates the edge. The Wildcats have tallied 198 points, giving up only 16. Forest Hill has scored 165, allowed 44.

The conference scoring lead will also be decided Wednesday. Swift Ron Massey of Palm Beach is the current leader with 48 points, but Steve Knapp and Ricky Rhodes of Forest Hill are close behind with 43 and 42, respectively. If the game should be decided by extra points, the nod may go to Palm Beach again. The Wildcats' Dave Barnhart has kicked a conference record 22 this year. Knapp of the Falcons has booted 10 and ran for three more.

This is Forest Hill's fifth year in the conference, the second for Palm Beach. Win, lose or draw, the conference championship is all that matters.

Fishing Fair Last Week

Offshore fishing is better than it has been for months, with sails all over the ocean, as well as arctic bonito, false albacore, kings, baracudda and dolphin.

Blues are getting more numerous in the surf. Big schools of spanish mackerel are around the inlet, but rather rough water for the small boats.

Snook are taking spoons in the North and South Forks of the St. Lucie river. There is busy trout fishing at most bridges, and small jacks everywhere.

The fishing report from the Snook-Nook indicates interesting activity: Hal Dowd, 40 trout; Basil Vincent, one 16lb. snook, 1 trout; Paul Ness, Dr. Walter and Fred Norris, 22 trout; O.C. and Anna Bacon, 17 trout, one 14 lb. snook; Wally Lagerhousen, 45 trout; Walter Nova, 8 trout; George Donovan, 8 blues; Gus Leonard, 7 trout; Marvin Hill, 13 trout; Mr. Kennedy, one 19-1/4 lb. snook; Pete Peterson, 50 sheepshead.

The Florida Industrial Commission

By Governor Farris Bryant

The Florida Industrial Commission is made up of three principal divisions -- The Florida State Employment Service, the Unemployment Compensation Division, and the Workmen's Compensation Division. Overall responsibility of the functions of these divisions is the Chairman and two Commission members. The Chairman, representing the public, is the fulltime Director of the Commission. Of the other two members, one represents industry and the other represents labor. The State Employment Service, and the Unemployment Compensation Division, form a combination which administers what is known as the Employment Security Program in Florida.

Florida's 35 local State Employment Service offices set an all-time record during the twelve month period ending June 30 this year by placing close to half a million people in non-farm and farm jobs. In 1960, the year prior to the establishment by this administration of the Operation Space program, 20 per cent fewer people were placed by the service. The main objective of Operation Space is to find more jobs for workers by developing new areas of cooperation with employers.

In order to be sure that job seekers are well qualified for the jobs that businessmen want to fill, the Employment Service maintains testing and counseling facilities. It has programs for the employment of older people, older workers, and in 1963 it placed more than 10,000 handicapped workers in jobs.

The Industrial Commission's administration of the Florida Child Labor Law has three objectives. It encourages young people to get all the education they possibly can; and at the same time, to obtain as much valuable non-hazardous work experience as is consistent with good health principles.

All activities of the Florida Industrial Commission graphically portray the phenomenal growth of Florida business and industry in recent years. This is clearly shown in the growth of the other half of the Employment Security Program, the Unemployment Compensation Division.

In 1950, for instance, there were only about 12,000 firms in Florida with enough employees to come under the program. Today approximately 50,000 businesses in the State are covered by Unemployment Compensation, with more than a million workers on their payroll.

The Unemployment Compensation Program provides the worker who loses his job through no fault of his own with something to tide him and his family over until he finds a new job. The rules are strict. He must be available and willing to work. He must be registered for work at a Florida State Employment Service office, and he must be conducting a job search on his own in order to receive Unemployment Compensation benefit payments.

Last year more than thirteen hundred claimants were disqualified from receipt of their benefits for periods up to one year for violation of the Florida Unemployment Compensation Law. Eighty-one cases were referred for State prosecution and two to the U.S. Department of Justice.

Another broad purpose of the Unemployment Compensation program is to bolster the State and community economy during business slumps, thus acting as an effective brake on a downspiralling economy.

The Florida Unemployment Compensation System has been called one of the most solvent in the fifty states. It is an insurance system paid for by a tax on the payrolls of all employers with four or more employees.

Those employers with good employment records pay a slightly lower tax than those whose records for steady employment of their workers is not good. Last year $29-1 2 million was paid out of the State Unemployment Compensation Funds --- almost $3-1 2 million less than the year before.

The Workmen's Compensation Division is divided into several departments, all with the common purpose of relieving the injured worker and his family of the cost of his injury.

Tax Collections Increase Show

County sales tax collections increased, released by J. Ed Straughn, Director of the Florida Revenue Commission, show that October, 1964 collections for Martin County amounted to $40,659.58, an increase of $1,943.52 over the September, 1964 figure of $38,717.06. This is an increase of $4,109.69 over the October, 1963 figure of $36,548.89.

In the Commission's comparative statement of 7¢ gasoline tax collections gave Martin County $44,586.71 for October, 1964, and September, 1964 showing $47,230.68 and 636,953 gallons of gasoline sold. The October, 1964 gasoline tax collections were an increase of $6,315.61 over the same period a year ago, when the amount was $38,271.10.

Everything's Just Ducky

Well, everything was just ducky until "Donald Duck" took this pretty Miss by surprise. The Miss is Lana Sloniger, who recently won the title of "Miss Donald Duck for 1965" at Sunken Gardens, Florida. She was quietly tending to her garden at the attraction when the "Real Donald Duck" walked up unexpectedly.

Plans are being made for a night of "Variety Entertainment" to be held at the Community Church on Saturday, December 5, to raise funds for the Building Fund. A committee consisting of Tom Cook, Chairman, Rev. Tweedy, Martin Wahl, Milton Melhorn and Otto Lange, is in charge of preparations.

Your Social Security

By R.C.Gehrken, Jr.
District Manager, West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. Should a person with only a short period of work under social security apply for benefits at 65?
A. Unless you are absolutely sure that you are not entitled to monthly social security benefits, you should apply for benefits or check with your social security office. Many people in their seventies have qualified for social security benefits with as little as 18 months of work covered by social security.
Q. I expect to move in the near future. How can I make sure that my social security check will get to me at my new address?
A. You should report your new address to the Social Security Administration as early as possible. If your change of address is received early enough in the month, there should be no delay in the delivery of your next check. You should also notify your post office of your change of address.

Lions Pour Flapjacks

The Jensen Beach Lions Club "Pancake Day," held last Sunday, attracted large crowds all day long in the Jensen Community Center from 7:00 in the morning until the cooks literally ran out of food in the late afternoon.

Lion President Ed Schmidt was Chairman of the first "Pancake Day" held by the Jensen club, and was assisted by Lionesses Hazel Heritage, as "Aunt Jemima", Doris Wilson, Marie Miller and Ivy Wahl.

Door prizes were awarded every hour on the hour, and continuous entertainment was offered throughout the day.

Lion President Schmidt and his committee expressed their thanks to all Lions for their help, to the entertainers and to Fort Pierce Lions Sample, Lamb, and their quartet who came down to entertain.

The door prizes, food and dairy products for the event were all donated. All proceeds from "Pancake Day" will benefit the Lions' work in sight conservation.

Citizen Survey

Jensen Residents Are Apathetic On Community Incorporation

A Jensen Beach Mirror survey of the reaction of local people to the incorporation of Jensen Beach as a town has shown complete apathy on the part of the citizens. This was evident in the attitude of all interviews, with few exceptions.

In previous years, the mention of incorporation brought an immediate choosing of sides, with proponents and opponents wading into the battle with no holds barred. This is not the case in 1964, according to the Mirror survey.

All of those interviewed did not wish to have their names used. The Mirror survey covered residents in North Jensen Beach, South Jensen Beach and in the West Jensen areas.

One person, in West Jensen, said, "I don't know if I am for it or against it. I don't think I care." Another, in South Jensen Beach, said, "I think it is the only answer to our growth. Don't use my name, but I am for incorporation. But I am also in business, so I don't want to say anything for the record."

Others brought out the business angle, most fearing economic retaliation as was the case in previous incorporation battles.

A long time resident who had figured in one of the incorporation struggles years past, said, "I am for it, but I wouldn't lift a finger to help it. I've had enough."

Several South Jensen Beach residents were opposed. One said that the taxes would be too high. Another said that a town could not be operated without graft, and somebody was bound to be in on it, and he was therefore against it.

But for the most part, a cross section of the residents of Jensen Beach were just apathetic. They did not want to discuss the subject. They were not for it, nor against it. They just did not want to discuss it.

One local resident in downtown Jensen Beach changed the subject three times before he finally said, "I would prefer not to talk about incorporation."

EDITORIAL
Sticks And Stones And Election Rules

The Jensen Beach Mirror has, in the past three years, tried to operate a business, a public service and a historical fact sheet. We have made no effort to wash dirty linen before the public.

Last Sunday, in a free circulation publication published in Stuart, the Mirror publisher was accused of trying to "scare Stuart candidates", and that publication said the "scare" flopped.

The letter sent to four candidates for office in the Stuart election simply stated...."based upon what is considered to be a violation of..." the statutes. The letter was needed as a matter of clarification of the law, for, according to Stuart municipal law, what is not provided for will be taken care of by Florida statutes.

The Mirror did not question the integrity of the Stuart publication. Certainly not.

The Jensen Beach Mirror did ask the Secretary of State, Tom Adams, in a letter sent on Monday, November 2, 1964, to take action on the illegal political advertising published in the Martin County Free Press on November 1, 1964 in which two candidates for county office, Dr. William Myers and James B. Watson advertised for their respective offices.

Secretary of State Adams advised the Mirror that he did not have the power to enforce the law, and that an interested citizen, or the courts themselves would have to stop the illegal political advertising.

The Mirror, at that time, did not want to start a newspaper battle in which the only loser is the newspaper industry, for respectable citizens place faith in publications which maintain ethical standards above a common street brawl.

We publicly apologize to the Stuart candidates for their moment of worry. In accordance with an opinion received from the office of the Attorney General, their advertising is legal. We also publicly apologize to the Martin County Free Press for thinking that they might have accepted illegal political advertising.

CAKES AND SAUSAGE--Lions Al Walker and Virgil Wilson are caught in the act by the Mirror camera as they prepare hotcakes and sausage for the Lions Pancake day last Sunday at the Community Center.

Two Pages Missing From Paper Strike

Due to a shortage of newsprint, the Mirror edition is two pages smaller this week, and bowling scores had to be omitted. The scores will be continued next week on the regular sports page.

Who would think that a paper mill strike in Oregon and Washington would affect the newspaper in Jensen Beach? It did.

SRD Requests Bridge Permit

The State Road Department has applied to the U.S.Corps of Engineers for a permit to build a bridge on SR 714, also known as Palm City Road, over Poppleton Creek. The bridge would be about 111 feet long and would consist of three spans. The bridge would provide a horizontal clearance of 33 feet between bents and a vertical clearance of about 6.5 feet above mean high water.

Comments should be made to the Corps at Jacksonville on or before December 24.

Plans indicate there will be some deepening of the creek when the new structure is built, as navigable water and a possible small boat harbor.

THINGS

Things you may never have known if you hadn't read this column:

Since the formation of the Samaritans in 1958, there were 875 cases handled by volunteer drivers. In the 6 years that this community from Rio to the Walton line has had this free service, the Jensen ambulance traveled 13,322 miles on these many calls. The 875 cases were handled by many drivers and helpers, and with careful handling of the ambulance, not one accident has happened and many lives have been saved with the quick response of these helpers 24 hours a day. The first ambulance was a new one and with the increase of calls, the small Volkswagon was quickly changed to a larger one. All [illegible] transactions were with the [illegible] of the directors and [illegible]. There was no turning [illegible] of any case, whether it [illegible] in the incorporated districts [illegible], and there were no restrictions with race, color or creed.

Not being able to make any charges for services rendered, the Samaritans have been able to get along on an appropriation from the Jensen-Rio United Fund and any donations that were received from those using the ambulance.

If you are not as close to God as you used to be - Guess who it was who moved?

Did you know that in 1900, Johann Huslinger walked 871 miles on his hands?

Mrs. Swarthout added that the al of $7,000 was held for the t two years, but that she icipated an increase to ,500.

$20,000,000 Development On Hutchinson Island Soon

BUSIEST MAN IN TOWN--Santa Claus and his Helper had fun with a steady stream of young admirers after last Saturday's Christmas Parade in Stuart. The little girl on the left seems to be wondering if she could have forgotten anything when she told Santa what she wants for Christmas.

Development of a $20,000,000 oceanfront community, Sailfish Point, at the southern end of Hutchinson Island is expected to get underway in the near future, following the signing of contracts Monday by Charles P. Martyn and Charles N. Bradshaw, trustee for the property owners, for the purchase of 280 acres at the extreme southern end of the island, north of St. Lucie Inlet.

Martyn is the developer who created Jupiter Inlet Colony, the Hunt Club development in north Palm Beach County, and Tequesta.

Sailfish Point will have a gatehouse entrance, complete yacht club facilities, the present Rand ocean pier and cabana club and restaurant, and an executive par three golf course. Martyn said all roads within the gatehouse area will be private, although statements by a county commissioner last month indicated that access to the jetty and St. Lucie Inlet would be guaranteed.

Martyn said he felt this will be the first and last opportunity to create a private residential community on the ocean at a navigable inlet in Florida. Because of the high cost of the property and extensive bulkheaded island, the lot prices will probably range from $12,000 to $40,000. There will be 450 waterfront and fairway lots in the "Estuary" section, Martyn said.

Chamber Thanks Residents For Response To Clean Up

Local property owners and businessmen who have taken part in the clean up campaign sponsored by the Jensen Beach Area Chamber of Commerce, were given high praise at the Chamber Director's meeting on Monday night.

A vote of appreciation was taken by the directors for those who have cleaned up and fixed up homes, lots and businesses in the area.

Chamber manager Reg Walker reported that 77 members had paid their dues for 1965, and said, "This is a much better response than we have had in years."

Walker also said that there was a great increase in visitors to the Chamber office for information and literature on the area. He said that the new Chamber mailing list of inquiries had produced results for many of the subscribers.

$600 Found & Returned By Les Walker

One lucky woman in Jensen Beach is very grateful for honest people such as Les Walker of Poor Bob's Restaurant.

Island Road Swap Is Delayed

The County Commission, at Tuesday's meeting, tabled for two weeks a move to consumate a swap of beach road for the right-of-way on which A1A was built on Hutchinson in the late 1950's, as sought by M.P. and Ronny Nelson, Stuart realtors, on behalf of Mrs. Florence M. Barnes of Chicago. It became apparent that legal opinions were needed to solve problems of time, moral obligation and state statute.

The hearing was set up at the request of the Nelsons, to seek abandonment by the county of a portion of the old beach road on the island about three-quarters of a mile south of the Jensen pavilion.

Dickerson, Inc., Tuesday was awarded the contract as low and only bidder to lay a leveling course on Sewall's Point Road, 3 miles north of the north town limits. Bid price was $6,134.12.

Anchorage Bulkhead Line Is Approved By County

In a hearing before the County Commission, owners of the Anchorage Yacht Club marina in Rio asked re-establishment of a shore line and setting of a one-foot bulkhead line out into the St. Lucie river from that line.

The request met with success as Fred Stafford, engineer in the firm of Stafford and Brock, testified that erosion had eaten out almost 250 feet from the shore line since the plat of record was filed in 1928.

Don Johnson, manager of the Anchorage marina, agreed to have culverts laid to permit free flow of water, eliminating dead water pockets, and to Casa Rio to guarantee that te channel into its boat basin would not be violated.

Robert Bair, appearing for the bulkhead committee of the Izaak Walton League, said it had not received sufficient information to decide whether or not to oppose the proposal, but pointed out that the county's one-foot bulkhead line should remain inviolated.

Charles Kindred, state president of the Walton League, asked about the effects of the land accretion on neighboring locations and asked if the county planned to fill up the river returning to old shore lines. Chairman Wacha said such was not intended, and said that no other plats or record were in the area.

Johnson said the U.C. Corps of Engineers has approved, as has the Flood Control District, and that the petitioner needed county approval before the Internal Improvement Fund would approve.

Tourist Club Holds First Meet

Twenty-two states and Canada were represented at the first meeting of the Stuart Tourist Club for the season, in an attendance of 211 people.

Mayor Ray Cooke welcomed the members back to the Stuart area for another winter season. Entertainment was by Ed Clay, Mrs. Ruth Hall, Mrs. Joan Platt and a quartet made up of Mrs. Hall, May Swope, Clarence Snook and Russell Spec. A Christmas meeting is planned for Dec. 21.

New officers of the club are John Patterson, President, and Mrs. C.C. Webber, Secretary.

Music Of Resident Composer Played At All Saints

Parishioners of All Saints Episcopal Church of Jensen Beach are finding new and added enjoyment and interest in the services and music, both selection and presentation, of the organist, Wells Hively. Mr. Hively, a pianist of national renown, was for many years associated with the famous Graham Eches School of Music of Palm Beach.

Because of his love for, and vast knowledge of music, Mr. Hively, a perfectionist, takes great care and pride in the musical compositions he presents, both for their beauty and appropriateness.

This is Advent season and as the Offertory selection for three Sundays, starting December 6, he chose compositions by Oliver Corcoran Binney, "Silouette I", "Silhouette III", and "Silhouette IV".

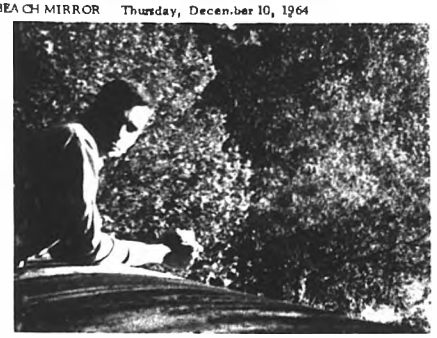
In so doing, he is introducing to Jensen Beach people the musical genius of Mr. Binney, a comparatively new composer, who divides his time between his home on the St. Lucie River at Sewall's Point, and in Washington, D. C., where, besides attending to property interests in Virginia, he is completing work for his Master's Degree in Music Composition.

The son of George A.Binney of Palm Beach and Gstaad, Switzerland, much of his life has been spent in Palm Beach. It was there that he became a pupil of Mr. Hively and a friend of the latter's son, Wells Hively II, an educator now living in Minneapolis who is a portrait painter of considerable skill. In fact, a portrait by him of Oliver Binney hangs on the wall of the older Mr. Hively's Indian River home.

Although still a young man, Mr. Binney's music has won considerable recognition. As an example, the Washington Chamber orchestra performed his "Quintet for Flute and Strings" on its series of summer concerts recently, and his "Sinfonia Concertante", a large orchestral work dedicated to the memory of his mother, Anne Rea Binney, will have a first performance in Washington early next spring with the George Washington University orchestra conducted by George Steiner.

Mr. Hively chose Binney's work for presentation during the Advent season at All Saints as part of his selection of music that is reflective, meditative and objective, particularly appropriate to the Advent season.

"All Saints," Mr. Hively commented, "welcomes the opportunity to incorporate this music into its worship and to introduce to the community the music of a resident composer."



LOCAL COMPOSER--Oliver Corcoran Binney, American composer now living on Sewall's Point, gazes reflectively over the expanses of the River Seine during a period when he was studying music in Paris.

Robert Thum

Robert Thum, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Thum of Jensen Beach, has received a merit award from the Dairy Council of South Florida for his work in Civil Defense and his membership in the Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department.

Robert is a senior in Martin County High School.

Volunteers Paint Center For Christmas Party

The recreational room of the Pioneer Occupational Center at Port Salerno was painted in readiness for the Center's Christmas Party, by volunteers who are employees of General R & F Fitting, Inc. The volunteers were Eunice Love, Johnny Gunter, John Finn, Worley Carrier, Wesley Arrance and Jack Fields.

In appreciation of their efforts, refreshments were served by Mrs. Ray Radtke and Mrs. Robert Batterman.

Samaritans Gas For Dec. Supplied By Crawfords

The Jensen Community Ambulance handled 17 calls during the month of November. During these calls, 3 tanks of oxygen were used. The number of calls was about normal for this time of the year. Many were falls causing broken limbs, requiring crutches and walkers from the loan closet.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Crawford of the Snook Nook are supplying the ambulance gas for the month of December. These donations of gas are greatly appreciated by the Jensen Area Samaritans. The telephone numbers to call in case of the need for the ambulance, are: 287-2696; -0328; -7016.

Church Aid Circle Plans Party

A Christmas Party and Pot Luck Supper will be held Friday, December 18, for the Church Aid Circle, the Men's Brotherhood and heir wives.

On Saturday, December 19, Rev. Tweedy will perform his magic tricks at the Stuart Youth Center as part of an entertainment program for children whose parents are shopping.

The Church Aid Circle of the Jensen Community Church met Friday, November 27, with 33 members. Guests were Mrs. A. Gabriel, Mrs. L. Stoice and Mrs. E.C. Cook.

Mrs. W.B. Tilton, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following slate of officers: President, Mrs. Mack Costello; 1st vice president, Mrs. Horace Hurst; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Carlisle Luther; Secretary, Mrs. Luther Guise; Treasurer, Mrs. Robert Stiles; Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. Grace Buell.

Memorial donations were made to the new sanctuary by Mrs. Grace Alderman and Mrs. Jack Kuhn, and Mrs. Sue Guise.

Mrs. Mack Costello and her committee will be in charge of a dinner in the Fellowship Hall December 15 for the installation ceremonies of the World War I Veterans and Auxiliary. The dinner will be served by the Men's Brotherhood.

Levee Construction Planned For Lake Okeechobee

Detailed plans for a major levee to be built on the northeast shore of Lake Okeechobee were unveiled Tuesday by the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District.

Riley S. Miles of Kissimmee, chairman of the FCD governing board, told a standing-room-only crown in the Okeechobee County courthouse that construction will get underway within the next six months.

The $13 million program involves construction of a 17-1/2 mile dike along the lakeshore, two pumping stations, two boat locks, a 21-mile interceptor levee and canal located from one to two miles east of the Lake, plus a series of spillways and water control stuctures.

Your Social Security

By R.C.Gehrken, Jr.
District Manager, West Palm Beach Social Secuurity Office

Q. I get my old-age social security check every month and have a part-time job. Why does my boss still take out social security tax from my wages?

A. The law says this tax must be paid as long as you work in a job covered by social security.

Q. I draw a disability check from social security. How much can I earn and still get my payment each month?

A. You are allowed a trial work period for nine months regardless of your earnings. If you are able to do substantial gainful work after that time, your disability check will be stopped.

Q. I'm 70 years old and draw social security. Now I am totally disabled, am I supposed to get more money?

A. No. There is no extra payment from social security when a person already getting retirement checks becomes disabled.

Jensen Well Represented In Christmas Parade

The Stuart Junior Woman's Club Christmas Parade saw three Jensen Beach entries that caused much comment from the sidewalk viewers.

The annual float of the Jensen Beach Women's Association on retarded children brought much comment. Also, the float of the Chamber of Commerce, with a church scene brought applause.

The only representation of a fire department in Martin County was the Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department, according to Chief Randolph Spinney, which had one truck in the parade.

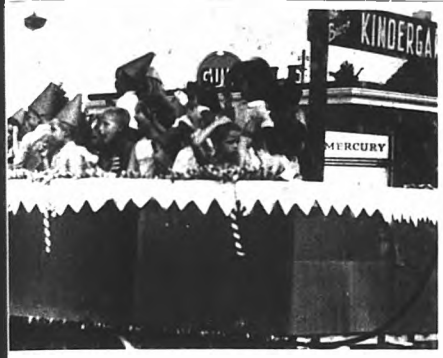
The parade was, according to all comments, one of the most outstanding ever put on by the Junior Women's Club.

Winners of the various trophies were as follows:

Best Christmas theme - first place, Martin County 4-H Clubs; second place, Martin County Fair Association; third place, Jack and Jill Kindergarten.

The award for the best Commercial Float went to the Martin Memorial Hospital.

Judges were County Judge Mallory Johnson, County Commissioner Jack Williamson, and Mrs. Forrest Watkins.



LITTLE ELVES--Youngsters from the Jensen Beach Kindergarten are a happy group as they ride in their Christmas Parade Float.

JENSEN BEACH WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION--Their float, dedicated to retarded children, reflects the interest of the Association in their projects for retarded children.

Sailfish Tournament December 10 Through 14

The Stuart Sailfish Club's 11th annual sports fishing tournament will be fished December 10 through December 14. Headquarters of the tournament will be at the Sunrise Inn, Port Sewall, as in previous years.

William O. Simpkin, president of the club and tournament committee chairman, said over thirty boats and 40 anglers have been registered to date, and that more local anglers are hoped for.

Four local people have entered so far. Philo Danley and Walter McGuire will fish from the Trident III; Fred F.Schock,Jr. will fish from the Gannett II and Mrs. H.W.Van Horne from the Caribee.

The Sailfish Club will host newspaper and television sports writers next week.

As usual, a hundred people will gather at Sunrise Inn each afternoon during the contest to count the red pennants flying from the halyards of the boats returning to dock after a day at sea.

Red pennants are flown for Sails caught and released; white ones for Sails caught and kept. Those caught and kept in this tournament must be over 7 feet, 0 inches long. There is a prize for the angler catching the largest over that length.

Most of the points in this tournament will be tallied for releases. There are trophies for high point scorers all four days; second and third in the four days; and for the high man and high woman each day. The Captains of the craft which make up the tournament fleet also come in for prizes in the overall scoring.

The "Do It Yourself" rules, tried last year, will be used again this year: When a fish is hooked, the skipper throws the boat's engines out of gear, he may not back down on the fish, nor maneuver in any way except to keep the boat headed in a reasonably sound direction to keep the stern toward the fish. The angler does all the fishing this way. When the mate is holding the leader to release the fish, the boat may be maneuvered in any manner calculated to aid in his job and to remove danger of injury to the mate.

Contestants, captains, mates, committee members and club members will be briefed on the rules and other data at a cocktail party December 9 at the Sunrise Inn at 6:00 p.m. The annual awards dinner will be held December 13 at Sunrise Inn.

Other tournament committee members are: Rules, Von Jourdan, John Crawford and Johnson Whittcar; Prizes, Pat Patterson, William P. Todt and Ray Young; Protests, John Crawford, Bob Scrimsher and Bill Bradley; Observers, Simpkin.

Chamber Urges Shopping With Local Merchants

A dual purpose program to acquaint customers with clerks and remind them to "Shop Stuart First" has been adopted by the Stuart Chamber of Commerce.

Attractive little badges in Christmas colors have been distributed to stores. The top has space for the name of the wearer while the rest bears the message, "Say Merry Christmas with Gifts Bought in Stuart."

The Chamber of Commerce urges residents to try their local merchants, who are neighbors, first. Some of the hazards of out of town shopping include extra expense of gas and oil, meals and refreshments away from home, possible traffic and parking difficulties, and loss of time. The Chamber points out that local stores are large and have a good variety of specialty shops with a pleasing selection of gifts. Many firms are open nightly until Christmas Eve, and the Chamber expects all to start evening hours by December 14.

REFLECTIONS OF THE PAST--Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bauer, Port Sewall, use a mirror to bring back the reflections of fifty years of marriage. The couple celebrated their half-century of wedded bliss last week.

Stuart Meets Okeechobee Home Game

In Suncoast Conference basketball this week, Stuart is scheduled Tuesday night to play at Lake Worth, and at Belle Glade on Friday night. Stuart's first home game on Saturday night will be against Okeechobee, a non-conference rival.

Impressive in its basketball opener last Friday, McCarty High will have its chance this week to prove how tough it intends to be this season. The Eagles overpowered a weak Melbourne club in a school record 102-71 performance. McCarty will meet Forest Hill and Palm Beach this week.

Last Friday when McCarty cracked the century point mark it was the first time ever for an Eagle squad. Bobby Snyder scored 36 points, 18 in the third quarter, and Brian Tague added 21, 17 of which came in a 36 point first period.

Local Anglers Report Catches Are Plentiful

Sailfish are giving plenty of action offshore, according to the reports from all boats fishing out there recently. This is the time of year when sailfishing is best.

Arctic bonito and falso albacore are also excellent, along with plenty of Kings and Dolphin. Big Jacks in the 20 to 30 lb. class are giving anglers a tough fight.

Inshore, Spanish Mackerel is heavy, especially south of the inlet. More than the average number of snook are being reported for this time of year. C-23 canal, North Fork and areas of the Indian River have snook up to 15 lbs.

Sea trout and channel bass are steady fishing in the Indian River, but not heavy. Pompano are in the surf.

Johnny Crawford of the Snook Nook reported the following catches during the past week: Harold Dowd, 10 trout; Irving Fisher, 15 trout and channel bass; Bob Robinson, 8 trout and 2 snook; Russell Bolton, 6 snook and 2 jacks; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Leonard, 10 trout; Ray Gray, 25 trout; Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Webster, 4 snook, 3 trout; Dick Angus, 2 pompano; Mr. and Mrs. Burke Fania, pompano; Clint Thayer, 4 croakers, 3 sheepshead.

Ebb Tide Court Has New Owners

The Ebb Tide Court on Indian River Drive in Jensen Beach has been sold to John P. and Mary Hughes of Jefferson City, Missouri. They are expected to take over the operations of the court sometime in December.

Frank and Alvina Kuper, who have owned the Ebb Tide for the past eight years, expressed their gratitude to the people of this area for the business they have sent to the Ebb Tide in their years of operations, and hope the new owners will receive the same kindness. The Kupers plan to remain in this area for awhile and relax.

No Injuries In Bus-Car Collision

A school bus and a car collided Friday morning in Jensen Beach at the intersection of Indian River Drive and County Line Road, with no injuries resulting. Deputy Sheriff Morgan Spratt, who investigated, said the bus was hard of paint and dented almost the full length on its left side. No charges were placed.

Stuart May Be Baseball Club Site

The old Miami Marlins training ball park in Stuart was inspected last week by Bill Adair, manager of the Atlanta baseball club which has been bought by the Milwaukee Braves, in a search for a home for the new ball club.

Conducting the tour of the park's facilities were City Manager Joe Crowder and Mayor Ray Cooke.

Adair has looked at facilities in West Palm Beach and Lake Worth, as well as in Stuart. Crowder said a decision was expected within a week to ten days, and indicated that reaction was extremely favorable through late Thursday.

MCHS To Be Studied For Accredation

Martin County High School will receive an accreditation study Wednesday by the evaluation committee of the Southeastern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, headed by Dr. Wilbur Marshall.

The local evaluation study is the first in six years and school authorities consider it of great importance. The study, due here last year, was postponed because of the school's preparations to move to the new building on Indiantown Road.

The three day study will take into consideration the school plant, the curriculum, special courses in detail, teaching staff, number of dropouts, and number of graduates from starters.

The committee will make a preliminary oral report on the third day at a public meeting.

Southeastern Association evaluation and accreditation is a nationally accepted criteria for high school standards.

Christmas Party December 14th

Jensen Beach American Legion Post # 126 and Auxiliary will have its annual Christmas Dinner on Monday evening, December 14 at 6:00 p.m. Dinner will be served at the Post Home for all members of the Post and Auxiliary and their families. The Auxiliary members will bring a vegetable or salad, and two gifts for a lady and a gentleman. Santa Claus will be present to exchange gifts.

Mrs. Emma McCue is the chairman, assisted by Juniors who will serve the dinner.

Mrs. F. Tweedy, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, will arrive in Jensen Beach on December 12 to spend the holidays with her son and his family, Rev. Newton Tweedy, Pastor of the Jensen Beach Community Church.

Ocean Breeze Shines In Shuffleboard Tournament

The shuffleboard season is now in full swing in this area, according to reports from the Central East Coast District.

Six teams from Jensen Beach, Ocean Breeze Park, Fort Pierce, Port St. Lucie and Vero Beach started play on Wednesday, December 2nd.

Ocean Breeze Park held its annual Men's Open Singles Tournament on November 24. M. Schuman took first place in the experienced class, with Vic Sackett taking second place. In the novice class, C. Olsen placed first, M. Sage second.

On December 3, the Central East Coast District Doubles Tournament was played with 40 teams participating. L. Tuma and Bun Miller of Ocean Breeze Park placed first; C. Gadde and H. Thomas of Vero Beach were second; and J. Wall and H. Barker of Ocean Breeze Park were third in the straight flight. In the consolation flight, L. Rauwald and F.P. Rauwald, of Stuart, won first place, with second going to R. Loebouts and R.S. Stone of Vero Beach.

Bob (Robbie) Robinson managed the above events with the aid of Dave Sturrock, Tournament Director, and Harry Bonne, Director of Referees and Score Keepers.

At Ocean Breeze Park, much interest and attendance is shown in the weekly "Round Robins", a beginners class taught by Willard Pitts on Tuesday mornings.

Mail Early Avoid Rush

Postmaster A.F. Kendall of the Jensen Beach Post Office reports that the Post Office Department is confidently predicting a record high in the volume of mail during this year's Christmas rush. In December, about ten percent of the year's mail will be moving in less than three weeks.

"Without the assistance of the public, we'd be in a jam," said Kendall, "People who shop early and get their cards and parcels into the mails early make it possible for the holiday mail to be delivered on time. Imagine what it would be like if we were to get all the holiday mail the last week before Christmas."

There are seven postal employees working night and day in the Jensen Beach Post Office to assure citizens a Merry Christmas. By following the advice of Postmaster Kendall, a more relaxed holiday can result for all.

Square Club, Wimodausis Christmas Party Friday

The Jensen Beach Square Club and Wimodausis will have a Christmas Party at the Jensen Community Center on Friday evening, December 11, at 8:00. Santa will be on hand to distribute the 50¢ "Gag" gifts that members will bring, marked for a man or woman.

Members may bring guests if they wish.

Stuart May Be Baseball Club Site

The old Miami Marlins training ball park in Stuart was inspected last week by Bill Adair, manager of the Atlanta baseball club which has been bought by the Milwaukee Braves, in a search for a home for the new ball club.

Conducting the tour of the park's facilities were City Manager Joe Crowder and Mayor Ray Cooke.

Adair has looked at facilities in West Palm Beach and Lake Worth, as well as in Stuart. Crowder said a decision was expected within a week to ten days, and indicated that reaction was extremely favorable through late Thursday.

Ebb Tide Court Has New Owners

The Ebb Tide Court on Indian River Drive in Jensen Beach has been sold to John P. and Mary Hughes of Jefferson City, Missouri. They are expected to take over the operations of the court sometime in December.

Frank and Alvina Kuper, who have owned the Ebb Tide for the past eight years, expressed their gratitude to the people of this area for the business they have sent to the Ebb Tide in their two establishments, and hope the new owners will receive the same kindness. The Kupers plan to remain in this area for awhile and relax.

No Injuries In Bus-Car Collision

A school bus and a car collided Friday morning in Jensen Beach at the intersection of Indian River Drive and County Line Road, with no injuries resulting. Deputy Sheriff Morgan Scott, who investigated, said the bus was scarred of paint and dented almost the full length of its left side. No charges were placed.

Pictured above are, left to right, front row, Chester Boyd, junior vice commander, Charles Diffendal, incoming commander, Phil Kirsch, retiring commander and incoming chaplain and Jimmy Clark, senior vice commander. United Fund Election To Be Held Thursday

The Jensen Beach-Rio United Fund Association, Inc., will vote on proposed changes in its charter and an amendment to its bylaws at the annual general membership meeting to be held Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Jensen Beach Community Center.

The proposed charter changes for the most part, will widen the scope and add additional officers. The executive Board has already approved the changes.

During the past seven years, (since the UF was organized in 1958), the offices of treasurer, recording and corresponding secretary, was held by Martin Wahl.

The executive board proposes that there shall be separate offices, thus increasing the executive board. The proposed amendment to the by-laws will limit the term of office of all officers to two years.

Following the appearance of all designated representatives of each agency which desires to participate in the 1965 drive, with requests for specified allocations, election of officers and directors will be held.

After the elections are held, the drive chairman will be named, committee appointments announced.

All directors are automatically area drive chairmen or co-chairmen.

Chairman of the nominating committee is Mrs. Anita Wacha and members are Alex Wilson, Mrs. Frankie Silas and Miss Marion Tschischeck.

Agencies participating in the 1964 United Fund Drive included the Martin County Red Cross, Martin County Association for Mental Health, Martin County Crippled Children and Adults, Martin County Animal Rescue League, Martin County Retarded Children's Association, Jensen Beach Samaritans (free community ambulance), Jensen Beach Community Center, Langford Park Association, Jensen Beach Boy, Girl, and Cub Scouts. The UF will also set a sum for the Emergency Account.

Trustees Will Be Abolished By Schools

The Martin County school board met Monday night and agreed to abolish the school trustees, following a dictate by the county voters in the Nov. 3rd general election.

The Attorney General James Kymes' opinion called attention to the state statutes which say that if the special election results in implementation of the constitutional amendment abolishing the office of school district trustees, the office should terminate forthwith and the trustees should be relieved of their duties immediately, or as soon thereafter as it would be possible from a practical standpoint for them to turn over necessary records or equipment to the county board of public instruction.

The board voted thanks to the trustees, but delayed in setting a termination date when Al Walker, chairman of the trustee board, said he thought the trustees should have a meeting to terminate its business and turn over to the board its records.

Inlet Dredging Confirmed

Word was received here today confirming that the contract to dredge St. Lucie Inlet has been awarded.

The $34,800. contract was awarded to J.B. Fraser & Sons, Inc., of Fort Lauderdale for lease of a 12-inch dredge and operating personnel to deepen the entrance channel for the inlet.

The contract calls for dredging the oceanend of the channel which now restricts vessel traffic through the inlet.

Existing depths across the shoal are four to five feet. The oceanward end of the channel will be dredged to 200 feet wide and 10 feet deep over a distance of 600 feet and the entrance will be six feet deep by 100 feet wide over the remaining 400-ft length of the shoal.

Inner sections of the channel beyond the 1,000 feet are deep enough to permit boat traffic without additional dredging, Army Engineers said.

Your Social Security

By: R.C.Gehrken, Jr.
District Manager, West Palm Beach Social Security Office

Q. My son, 16 years old, has a chance to work after school from now until Christmas. He will sell greeting cards on a consignment basis. Does he need a social security number?
A. No. It is very unlikely that he will make more than $400 net profit from that work, which is classified as self-employment. If he should, then he would need an account number for reporting purposes.
Q. I own and operate a retail candy store and want my 17 year old son to help in the shop during the 1964 holiday season. Must he get a social security card for this employment?
A. No. The work performed by a minor child for his parent is not covered by social security.

A SMALL CATCH--When it comes to the art of angling, good looks don't count one bit to the fish, as pretty Judy Roman of St. Petersburg's Sunken Gardens in Florida discovered when she hauled in her catch. Judy's fishing outfit of a straw hat on her blonde head, colorful short blouse and abbreviated jeans didn't attract any more than the tiny piscatorial speciman shown on the end of her line.

Blessing Of Yule Creche At All Saints Sunday

Observance of the Christmas season will start at All Saints Episcopal Church, Jensen Beach, next Sunday, December 20th, the fourth Sunday of Advent, when at the 9 a.m. family service the children of the parish will come forward and present their gifts to the Christ Child. These gifts will be marked for a boy or girl and their age, or non-perishable food - all of which will be distributed to needy families. The service will also be marked by the blessing of the Christmas Creche which, traditionally, is part of the Christmas decorations.

Wednesday evening, December 23rd, will also be an important and enjoyable date on the Yuletide calendar because at that time parishioners gather for the "hanging of the greens", traditional in Old England and early American history. A covered-dish supper will be served at 6:30 after which everyone will join in making wreaths, the singing of carols and the hanging of the wreaths in the church.

Mrs Art Runke Hosts Christmas Party

Mrs. Arthur Runke was the hostess to 25 members and guests of the Business and Professional Woman's Club of Stuart for its annual Christmas party.

Gifts were exchanged and a collection was taken for the Christmas fund for the Ocala Girl's School, one of the club's interests.

Blessing Of Yule Creche At All Saints Sunday

Observance of the Christmas season will start at All Saints Episcopal Church, Jensen Beach, next Sunday, December 20th, the fourth Sunday of Advent, when at the 9 a.m. family service the children of the parish will come forward and present their gifts to the Christ Child. These gifts will be marked for a boy or girl and their age, or non-perishable food - all of which will be distributed to needy families. The service will also be marked by the blessing of the Christmas Creche which, traditionally, is part of the Christmas decorations.

Wednesday evening, December 23rd, will also be an important and enjoyable date on the Yuletide calendar because at that time parishioners gather for the "hanging of the greens", traditional in Old England and early American history. A covered-dish supper will be served at 6:30 after which everyone will join in making wreaths, the singing of carols and the hanging of the wreaths in the church.

The Publ'c Is Asked To Contribute To Christmas Seal Fund

Your Martin County T B & Health Association hopes residents will share-in the-Health on this day by responding to their Christmas Seal letters with contributions to fight tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases.

Christmas Seal funds support the Association's year-round activities designed to combat long term respiratory diseases, including TB, which now affect millions of Americans.

Jupiter Dentist Wins Sailfish Tournament

Dr. Rudolph Steinhauser, Tequesta Drive in Jupiter came through on the last Sunday of the 11th annual light tackles sailfish tournament of the Stuart Sailfish club to take the top prize with four sails and six releases.

Dr. Steinhauser, a dentist, beat some of the top sport fishing anglers in Florida to win. His boat was one of the smallest in a fleet of 37 was skippered by Mr Schize, also of Jupiter and is a buyer for the Radio Corporation of America.

Second place was Richard Talbot, Fort Lauderdale and Teaneck, N.J., who whipped four sails on the first day to take the prize on basis of earliest catches.

Talbot is head of Garcia Corp., a fishing reel manufacturer.

Third, also on the basis of time of his releases, was Norman Armour, Boca Raton and New York. Armour whipped three on the first day, and on on the last day.

Out of the top prize winners, but also with four releases were Gregory McIntosh, Fort Lauderdale; Fred F.Schock, Jr., Stuart and Spring Lake, N.J. and Charles Huttig, St. Louis, Mo. and Palm Beach.

Top woman angler for the first day was Mrs. Robert Painge, Pompano Beach and the second day, Mrs. Hayne Ellis, Fort Lauderdale.

Top man first day was Talbot, the second day, Dr.Steinhauser.

Top captain was Hall, second, Capt. George Seeman, skipper of the Mitchell I, Talbot's boat.

Second day fishing produced 31 sail releases.

Public Will Be Barred From Sailfish Point

Papers filed last Wednesday at the courthouse to set up the roads necessary for access to the Bradshaw Trust portion of Sailfish Point, show that the public will not be able to reach the jetty or St. Lucie Inlet through the closed-gate development on Hutchinson Island.

The county's easement, the papers specify, is for ingress and egress to the jetty for the sole purpose of maintenance and upkeep of the jetty and inlet.

The easements swapped in the instrument filing, show that maintenance and upkeep of the roads and right-of-way shall be the joint obligation of both parties. No mention is made of a third owner surrounded by Bradshaw and Rand, W.B.Tiltoe, who said he still owns a triangular shaped plot on the point's ocean side.

Inlcuded in the papers filed was a warranty deed from Bradshaw to Public Health for a consideration of $17,000, state transfer stamps indicate; a warranty deed from Public Health to Bradshaw, the consideration being $30,000; a warranty deep from Public Health to Bradshaw of a 60-foot right of way involving a price indicated at $32,300 and the easement instrument.

One bright spot in the public's outlook was pointed out by Frank A. Wacha, County Commission Chairman, who said, "Sooner or later, the developers get out of these deals and the public living in the areas ask the county to take over the roads."

Wacha RequestsTax

Frank A. Wacha, chairman of the Revenue and Tax Committee of the State Association of County Commissioners, has requested that committee to consider asking the State to give the counties the same tax collection rights over railroads that they have with the general population of taxpayers.

Wacha pointed out that the county's hands are completely tied in their dealings with the railroads, including the Florida East Coast. F.E.C. owes tax bills going back through 1962 of over $84 thousand, plus interest, and also owes the bill of Stuart taxes for the same years of almost $3,000.

Wacha added that the county is not permitted to assess the company's facilities here, since the state railroad assessment board does that, and that F.E.C. is violating its franchise in that it sends no passenger trains along the rails, but the county can make no move against them as a delinquent taxpayer.

He said that he felt the Legislature's hands were almost as badly tied under the present setup, since the State Utilities Board answers to no one.

"However, we felt that since the Legislature created the Board, it could correct, alter or abolish it, too," he said.

Schools Present Christmas Program

The musical organizations of both the Stuart Junior High School and the Martin County High School will present a Christmas program tonight, Thursday, as the high school gymnatorium. The public is invited to attend at no admission fee.

The eighth grade girls; chorus, ninth grade mixed chorus, under the direction of Miss Barbara Morris, will participate.

The senior high school chorus under the direction of Mrs. Lucille Nelson, will sing.

Lemoyne Roll, junior senior high school band director, will lead both bands plus a beginners' group and a mixture of carols, newer Christmas songs.

Farm Bureau Directors To Meet With Rogers

The Directors of the Martin County Farm Bureau as well as directors of other Farm Bureaus in the sixth Congressional District will meet with U.S. Rep. Paul G. Rogers at Clewiston December 18th to discuss policies as adopted at the state convention and under discussion now on a national level.

The Florida Farm Bureau recommended 29 policy stands to the American Farm Bureau Federation, now in convention.

These which meet national approval will be discussed with Rep. Rogers, according to Albert Krueger, president of the bureau here.

Live and Love It.... By DICK CAMPBELL

It Only Hurts When I Laugh

There was this printing salesman who came into the office this week. He sells newsprint and other items.

This man has an excellent product. He told me so, but I buy newsprint from another outfit.

In the magic rite of all great salesmen, he wet the newsprint I had with his tongue. Then he looked at it. He then wet the newsprint he sells, and again, looked mysteriously at it.

Aha, he said. Are you sure you aren't getting a lot of lint from this? I said, no, I'm not.

Let's put it to the acid test, said he. The acid in the newsprint makes it turn yellow when exposed to the elements. We will put one sheet of your newsprint against my sheet and pin it to the wall. Next week when I come, I will take it down and you'll see the difference in the newsprint. One will be more yellow than the other.

So I tacked it to the wall on the garage door.

One week later the man came back. We took down the sheets. Look how yellow that one is next to the other, he said.

Sure enough, it was his sheet. As yellow as can be.

And then there was this ink salesman. He came in the door with a can of ink in his hand. Try this ink he said. I said, okay. This ink will run better. It is smoother. It will take the tack out of your rollers. I said okay.

We opened the can of ink. He stood there proudly.

The poor guy. It seems that he had brought an old can of ink that had dried compl... It lay there in the can, ... and hard.

LETTERS
To The Editor

To The Editor,

We were so pleased to see your coverage in the Jensen Beach Mirror of the annual Christmas Parade sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club of Stuart. We certainly appreciate such good publicity.

High School Accreditation "All Clear"

Martin County High School has been given an "all clear" by the Southern Ass'n. of Colleges and Schools, Commission on Secondary Schools, Florida Committee insofar as re-accreditation is concerned, according to James C. Woodall, principal of the High School.

A letter from Herman Frick, of the School of Education, Fla. State Univ., chairman of the committee noted that at the "recent meeting of the association in Louisville, your school was re-accredited for the school year 1964-65."

Schools are accredited as either "all clear," "advised," or "warned," he noted, depending upon the nature and extent of the deficiencies apparent in the report.

The association will re-study MCHS early in April for a new five year period, which includes yearly reports by the principal after the study is completed.

SCHOOL PROGRAM--A western showdown was part of a program on safety with guns presented by Bill Elliott and Dick Campbell at Jensen Beach Elementary School last Friday morning. In the scene Elliott is being shot off the school roof as his introduction to the school assembly. The program featured handling of gun safety and several western-style gunfights.

Woman's Club Christmas Program

A Christmas program was presented on December 16th by the music division of the fine arts department of the Woman's Club of Stuart at the clubhouse.

The choral group presented "Christmas in Many Lands" with Mrs. W.Ira Williams as narrator, according to Mrs. H.W. Newsome and Mrs. Hugh L. Gawn, directors.

Guest soloists were Mrs. John Sadler and Mrs. Clyde Coutant.

The violin ensemble, with Mrs. Von K. Jourdan, Mrs. Ran... Spinney, Mrs. R.O. Youn... Mueller and George ... accompanied by Mrs. J.F. ... were played.

Models dressed in the costu... of a different country were ... companied by the choral ... of Christmas songs of the ... tries.

The background stage ... sations were done by Mrs. ... Pezzoni, who planned a ... theme.

Holy Tree Blooms Every Christmas

Every Christmas, the phenomenon of the blossoming Holy Thorn Tree occurs in England and Washington, D.C.

Faithfully on December 25th, a tree called the Holy Thorn or Glastonbury Thorn blooms in the ancient English town of Glastonbury. Sometime during the same month, an off-shoot off the same tree bursts into bloom in Washington's Cathedral of the Close.

According to legend, two days before Christmas 63 years after the birth of Christ, St. Joseph of Arimathea neared Glastonbury, carrying with him the Holy Grail used at the Last Supper.

While pausing to rest at the top of a hill overlooking the town, he drove his staff in the ground, where it immediately took root. The next day, Christmas Eve, it had turned into a thorn tree covered with blossoms.

Warning Flags Ignored

Two Rescued From Surf

R. P. Smith, 63, of Ocean Breeze Park and Arthur Parker, 62, of Rio Trailer Park, Rio, were rescued Sunday afternoon from the surf on Hutchinson Island by two county life guards.

The men were in the surf in spite of the fact a red warning flag, warning to stay out of the water or that swimmers go in at their own risk, was flying.

Ed Rehnberg, 22, of Palm City, first life guard to go in, got Parker and brought him to shore using a torpedo buoy in the rescue. While Rehnberg was bringing in Parker, Robert Cammack, 34, the other life guard, went in to assist Smith.

Both men were given emergency first aid treatment on the beach and Parker, who recovered quickly, was released.

Smith was taken to Martin Memorial Hospital for further treatment in a Johns Funeral Home ambulance.

The Surf was heavy, whipped up by Saturday's 20-knot easterly winds, and both lifeguards reported the strong undertow, got both men in trouble at about the same time.

Both guards were commended by witnesses, who said both rescues were done efficiently and quickly.

Scenic Parkway Included In Road Program

At least part of the new scenic parkway from Lake Okeechobee to the Atlantic Ocean will be included in the new Federal scenic road program.

The road would include improved stretches of about 16 miles of existing two-lane roads and an addition 20 miles of new, comparatively lightly build two land surfaces on a 200-foot right-of way.

County Engineer Fred L. Bell has submitted a rough layout for the scenic route to William V. Kidd, former aide to Governor Farris Bryant and former administrator of the Internal Improvement Fund, presently a member of a private engineering firm in Ocala.

Kidd told Bell he had been retained by the U.S. Department

Bell conferred by telephone from Tallahassee with County Commission Chairman Frank A. Wacha, and the first entry from South Florida was outlined on the drawing boards.

Bell estimated the route could be build at between $60,000 and $70,000 a mile in new sections, plus the cost of two bridges, one across the S. Lucie Canal between St. Lucie Locks and Arundel Bridge, on the present Locks Road, the other across the Intracoastal Waterway to reach Jupiter Island from Port Salerno.

"The route has everything a South Florida scenic parkway could ask," said Bell.

Ladies Aid Plans Christmas Party

The Ladies Church Aid Circle will hold their Christmas meeting December 23rd, at 1:00 p.m. at the church. The Youth Choir will entertain by singing Christmas carols.

Christmas Eve Communion Services will be held at 7:00 p.m. and the Christmas Morning Worship Service at Ocean Breeze Park at 7:00 a.m. with the Rev. Newton Tweedy.

In South Pacific

For Fiji Islanders, Christmas starts at 2 a.m., when carolers wake the villagers with serenades. At dawn, when everyone is awake and assembled, some attend church while others take care of preparing the feast.

ementary School Christmas Pageant Was Excellent

The Jensen Beach Elementary School Christmas program was received by a standing-room-only group of very appreciative parents last week as a chorus of over 100 children acted Christmas card scenes in a frame stage.

The acting. . . wonderful. The singing . . excellent.

PARTY TIME--Members of the Anchorage Mobile Home Park gathered at the yacht club for their annual Christmas party on Monday, December 14. Each brought a present for needy children and an appitite for covered dish dinners and punch

Christmas Proclamation

Mayor Ray Cooke was asked by both the senior and junior Woman's clubs to proclaim a "safe and enjoyable Christmas season, 1964". Their request, which was granted, was more than an appeal to have a good time.

"Whereas December death tolls amounted to 9,500 in this country in 1963, 500 more than the 1962 death totals, and 1,100 more than the monthly average," is the way the proclamation started, giving a clue as to its grim contents and reason for being.

The document called attention to accidents caused by fast driving, bad weather and drinking mised with driving, and appealed "to every man woman and child to join wholeheartedly in this effort for greater safety."

Christmas is the time for joy and happiness, let us spare ourselves and our loved ones the horror of tragedy..let us make this Holiday season truly a time of Peace on Earth; Goodwill to Men", is the way the proclamation closed.

SIGHTING ROBINS

Popular motif on early Christmas cards was the English robin — possibly because English postmen, who delivered the cards, in those days wore red uniforms and were often called "Robin"

The F.E.C. Is Right

t is right that the people along Florida's east coast should want ssenger service returned by the Florida East Coast Railroad. ryone knows that the lack of the service has worked a hard- on our towns. All agree that we are losing business by the of train passenger service.

The Mirror would join all in demanding the resumption of ser-. But we cannot.

Miami Mayor Robert King High would like to personally take responsibility for any deaths of passengers blown sky high by dious strikers dynamiting tracks, even then we would not long with the danger of resumed service.

is folly to believe that strikers, who would sabotage rails trains, would stop at passenger trains. The Miami mayor, his sights set on a race for governor in 1966, will grasp at popular cause, without regard to the rational practicality of move.

hat the sister cities along the coast would go along in the de- d of politically motivated High is a shame.

f course we want resumed passenger service. But we do not it at the expense of human life...nor even at the danger of an life.

ehalds of the Florida East Coast Railroad should be for re- ed freight service, for Jensen Beach and Stuart has indeed ered from this economic block to our growth. We need our lway Express office open, and hurt from the far away service ort Pierce.

assenger service? No. Not when people may die at the hands rresponsible dynamiters. We agree with the F.E.C.

the strike is settled, we, and the F.E.C., we believe, will be esumed passenger service, and only then if dissident strikers emoved as a danger.

First Worship Services Sunday At Community Church Sanctuary

By Dick Campbell

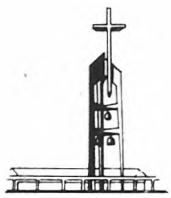
A giant step forward in the religious development of Jensen Beach will be taken this Sunday as the first worship services are held in the new, $100,000 sanctuary of the Jensen Beach Community Church. Though not completely finished, the interior will be used for all future worship services of the interdenominational church.

"More Than Duty" will be the theme of Rev. Newton Tweedy's sermon, and in it, Tweedy will ask three questions; What is different about Christmas, What is the greatest thing God does for us, and Beside the benefits of his work, what other contribution does a truly great man make to society.

The two choirs, in full robed grandeur, will sing. The youth choir will sing at the first service, 9:30 A.M., "In God's House" The adult choir will sing at the 11 A.M. service, "Just One Day at a Time", directed by Claire Taibl. Mrs. Roland Woodruff will play the organ for both services.

With the move into the new sanctuary on Sunday, it will be the fourth move of the church, and its fifth home. Begun as a Sunday School by H. C. Hibbert in 1894, first services were held in the El Frisco Hotel. Then, when the town hall was built on Commercial Street, the services moved there. In 1912, worship services were moved to the old church site when the building was constructed. It is interesting to note that the furnishings for the church were donated by Henry Flagler, famous railroad tycoon. Also interesting is the fact that R. R. Ricou, father of Mrs. Warner B. Tilton, Sr., and a Jensen Beach pioneer, donated the first organ to the church. The Tiltons are strong supporters of the church and the third generation, Ransom R. Tilton, is chairman of the official board.

From the old location, the worship services moved to the fellowship hall in the present site. The site for the new church plant was donated by Tilton, his wife, Anita, and W. H. Kiplinger and his wife.



As voices ring out in the sanctuary that has taken 70 years to build from a small Sunday School, the Jensen Beach Community Church will begin the blessing of a church project, living and worshiping in a new home.

MOVING DAY- A symbolic carrying of the cross, the flag of the church, and the Holy Bible is shown above as Kay Spells, Gay Tweedy and Rev. Newton Tweedy move the symbols of God's Work into the new sanctuary for this Sunday's service.

al Clear Criticizes Divers ho Seek Sea's Treasures; sks County Legal Action

ne of the earliest of searchers wrecked ships off the Mar- County coast Monday icized gold seeking treasure rs, the state's method handling the treasure- very projects, and asked the ty commission to protest ance of a lease to a Vero h-Ford Pierce outfit off ter Island.

al Clear, first director of the e of Refuge, now of Miami visiting his mother, Mrs. Hat- C. Clear of Jensen Beach, he felt the county commis- should have asked the Trus- of the Internal Improvement d not to issue the lease nted The Perdido Corp. to rch an area of ocean bottom n the beach to the three limit, from a half-mile south St. Lucie Inlet to a point w Peck's Lake.

rank A. Wacha said the com sion didn't know the lease been granted by the IIF the news appeared in the rs.

vestigation of Clear's com- ts, however, revealed the fact the Martin County Historical ety, which holds a lease of wn off the beaches, has been eged by offers of co- ative efforts in ocean bottom ring by many of the treasure rs with and without permits eir own.

ear, who applied for and got riginal House of Refuge per- to search wrecks off that um on Hutchinson Island, he felt artifacts, museum es, historical items, similar les were the most important cts of the hunts and that rning found should belong e state and displayed in eums.

e House of Refuge permit the IIF, which gave rights earch an area included in mations two miles south of House, two miles north of d one mile into the ocean ssued first in 1955 for five s, expired in 1960, was re- d Oct. 28, 1960 as lease er 1687 to the Martin y Historical Society, but not d by Gov. Farris Bryant Dec. 29, 1961. It is good for 10 years.

"We became the first museum in the United States, the first non-profit organization, to obtain a permit to dive for its own artifacts," said Clear.

Clear directed divers who went down and found dozens of articles now in the House of Refuge Museum.

He said there are many wrecks in the House of Refuge area, dating from early times to World War II, but he did not know whether any of them were treasure galleons of the 1715 Spanish Plate Fleet.

Clear was particularly upset over the Perdido Corp. lease because of the possibility the "Reformation," Jonathan Dickinson's small ship, might have moved across the ocean bottom to a position in the search area.

"That's certainly no treasure ship. It belongs to historians, not treasure hunters," he said.

There is evidence the officers of the historical society feel the same way.

Requests made by the treasure hunters have been turned over to Judge Mallory L. Johnson for study and legal advice.

Johnson said Monday he was studying the requests, but felt the society was more interested in artifacts, museum pieces and information of historical value than in sweeping the ocean bottom with pumping equipment in a hunt for gold.

Island Beaches Draw Surfboard Fans

Approximately six miles of ocean beach on Hutchinson Island is experiencing a boom in surfing unheard of todate.

Martin County does not bar surfers and requests only that they practice their sport whereby bathers will not be injured by bobbing boards.

Surfers hope it will stay that way, although they point out their water acrobatics frequently draw crowds, which in turn produce bathers...and the surfers move on.

A year ago in this whole county, perhaps two or three devotees of the sport donned baggies, became grammies, took a beach bunney in tow and tried to hang ten only to wipe out.

Now there are some real hot doggers, a few wahinis, and while there will always be wipe outs, at least there are fewer hodads.

Translated on Stuart Beach by knowing teen-agers, the above two paragraphs mean this:

A year ago, in this whole county, perhaps two or three devotees of the sport donned the oversized boxer-surfing trunks worn by surfers. As grammies, that is, young, poor surfers, they took their beach bunnies, that is, non-surfing but surfer-admiring girls, to the beaches, tried to hang-ten, walk to the front of the board and hang on by their toes, only to wipe out, and up in the water.

Hot doggers are highly proficient trick surfers, wahinis are girl surfers, and hodads are beachers, unable to surf.

Now, it is a common sight to see 25 surfers off the breaker line at a time. They are mainly local teen-agers, but those driven from the beaches in Broward, Palm Beach and other coastal counties, where surfing has been barred, show up for several days at a time.

Non surfers are trying to learn the language of the beach.

MCHS-Jupiter Rivalry Is Assured In Suncoast Games

Jupiter will become Stuart's traditional Thanksgiving football rival under the new league division, according to Coach Bob Collins of the Martin County High School.

The move was popular in Jupiter and had a great deal of support in Martin County.

Jupiter is a north Palm Beach county community bordering on Martin county and South Martin County children attend Jupiter schools.

According to Collins the MCHS would play all of the teams in the new small-school division of the Suncoast League, including Belle Glade, Pahokee, Clewiston, Okeechobee, Boca Raton and Jupiter.

The 1965 season would be rounded out to ten games with contests with Lake Worth and Riviera Beach, if possible.

Palm Beach, Forest Hill and Seac ast of Delray Beach, will not be on the schedule for MCHS, which, Collins pointed out, was probably just as well.

Men Fry Fish To Beautify

Ray Friel, President of the Men's Garden Club of Martin County is announcing a Fish Dinner sponsored by the Club on Friday, January 15th from 4 to 7 P.M. at the Recreation Center on Flagler Ave. in Stuart. The meal will consist of fish, hush puppies, slaw and beverage at the low price of $1.00 per person. Tickets can be secured through Ernest Hait, Rio, Phone AT 7-3102.

The purpose of the dinner is to raise money to further beautify Highway #1 in Stuart and specifically to install a fountain in the Median Strip at the point where Palm City Road exits from Highway 1.

Many enthusiastic comments and letters have been received on the outstanding job Bill Ambler has done thus far in the Highway beautification program.

It is the desire of this civic group, Friel said, organized in the Fall of 1963 and now consisting of 55 active members to make Stuart a more inviting place to live, a more beautiful place to visit and a unique experience for tourists passing through.

Beach Erosion Is Costly

According to Major George L. Harman, acting district engineer for the U.S. Corps of Engineers, restoration of the some six of the county's beaches would cost approximately $6,000,000. A preliminary report on the $30,000 erosion control study being done here was sent to the county commission.

The report, received Thursday, was in the nature of a letter to Chairman Frank A. Wacha, asking for letter of intent from the county by January 5th.

Maj. Harman asked the county to express its position and willingness and ability to sponsor two erosion projects if and when Congress authorized them.

WMCF Debuts Christmas Eve

Under a program test permit issued by the Federal Communications Commission, radio station WMCF-FM-Stereo, the high fidelity twin sister to WSTU, went on the air for the first time at 6 p.m. Christmas Eve.

The 3,000 watt station broadcasting at 92.7 megacycles is the only stereo station between Palm Beach and Cape Canaveral, according to Lester M. Combs, head and chief owner of Blue Water Broadcasting Co., Inc., owner of the radio facilities.

WMCF will broadcast some programs of its own origination, some in conjunction with WSTU, according to Combs.

"Our goal is completely separated operation," he said.

The two stations will be on the air from 6:30 a.m. until 11:15p.m. daily.

The expected area of coverage is from Sebastian to Lake Worth and west to Lake Okeechobee.

According to a survey made in February, Combs said, about 33 per cent of Martin County homes had FM receivers, but not all used them and there were very few stereo sets.

"Radio people say this is the coming thing in radio and that eventually it will replace AM low frequency broadcasting," said Combs.

FM sets will receive the stereo broadcasts, but not with stereo fidelity.

Burning Timbers Startle Residents

JENSEN BEACH - Residents of this area thought a major catastrophe was in the making Wednesday morning when a high tower of black smoke reached skyward from the west end of the eastern causeway across the River.

Some old planking and a pile of memories went up in smoke, but the fire was intentional.

The crew working on the high level bridge under construction burned a pile of the timbers of the roadway of the old Jensen Beach Bridge.

Only two short stretches of the once-river wide bridge remain, and in some near future day, they, too, will go up in black smoke to remind people for miles around of progress.

Sammy Spry, A Story Of Christmas

(Editor's note: Before her death, Lucy Palmer wrote many articles, short stories, and features. She was an avid student of journalism, and wrote from her heart. Her death from cancer recently was one of the great losses that Jensen Beach suffered. As her devoted husband, Al Palmer, went through her collection of short stories, this one seemed a perfect tribute to her memory.)

Sammy Spry lives right here in this town, but I don't believe you have ever seen him. You may have felt him at times. Did you ever feel that someone had pinched your nose? That may have been Sammy Spry. Have you ever felt a tickling on the back of your neck? You thought it was a hair, but probably Sammy Spry was having a little fun with you. Did you ever put your hat down on a chair and then not be able to find it? Sammy Spry probably pulled it off the chair and hid it underneath.

The reason you may never have seen Sammy Spry is because he is a tiny Elf. Not only is he so small that you would hardly notice him, but his clothes change color to match anything he is on. If he is in a tree, his clothes turn green like the leaves in summer, or brown like the branches in winter. If he is in the snow, they turn white. He has a brown little face and brown tiny hands and he hides his face and hands if he thinks anyone is looking at him.

Why do you suppose he is so shy? Well, suppose you did see him. You'd say, "Oh, look at that darling little Elf. I'm going to take him home and put him in a cage so I can keep him." Sammy Spry wouldn't like living in a cage.

Until two years ago, Sammy Spry was a naughty little Elf. On winter days he'd watch for someone coming along the street loaded down with budnles. He'd hurry and find a piece of ice and slip it quickly under her foot and then when she fell down and all her bundles scattered all over the sidewalk, he'd laugh and laugh. Sometimes he'd call on the wind to help him push over trash cans and scatter garbage all over the street, or they'd twist sheets and pillow cases all around the line so they wouldn't dry. Sometimes Sammy Spry pulled out the clothespins and let the clean wet clothes fall on the dirty ground. Or he'd chew on the clothesline until it broke. The more trouble he could cause people, the more fun he had.

But everything changed two years ago when he met Santa Claus. It happened this way. That Christmas Eve, he had hopped and climbed until he reached the top of a roof where he knew Santa would land, and waited for him. Soon Santa came along and Sammy Spry jumped on his bag and went down the chimney with Santa. Santa was so busy that night he didn't notice. After Santa had trimmed the tree and turned on the tree lights, he started filling the stockings. The lights started blinking. Santa leaned over to see what the trouble was, and he caught Sammy Spry in the act of bending the wire to cause it to break.

"Say there, young man," said Santa, "what are you up to?"

"Oh, just having fun," replied Sammy Spry. "I'm breaking this wire so it will cause a short circuit and maybe catch fire and burn down the house."

"Why, you bad little Elf! Why do you want to cause suffering and misery?"

"What else is there to do?" asked the Elf. "I get so lonesome I have to keep busy some way."

"There are better ways of keeping busy than doing mean things," said Santa. "And if you will mend your ways and do good things for a change, I'll let you be my helper."

"What good things?" Sammy Spry wanted to know.

And Santa told him a lot of kind and thoughtful things he could do. "Sammy Spry," said Santa, "I can promise you if something kind to do and you keep on looking for more kind things to do, you will never be sad and lonely."

"If you're sure of that, Santa Claus, I'll try," promised Sammy Spry. "But how can I do the things you say when I'm so small and can't get around very fast?"

"We'll fix that," said Santa. "Come up to the roof with me." When they arrived on the roof, Santa whistled. Suddenly a beautiful red Cardinal swooped down on the chimney. "Prince," said Santa, "this is Sammy Spry. He wants to learn how to become my helper, but he has to do at least ten kind acts before next Christmas Eve. Now, he is very little. He can climb and he can hop quite a long distance, but he can't fly. How about you being his airplane and flying him around on his duties?"

"Surely, Santa Claus, I'll be glad to," replied Prince.

Then Santa said, "Now I must hurry along. Be sure and keep a list of all your good deeds to show me next year. If you do as I suggested, you may help me trim trees and fill stockings next Christmas Eve. I wish you deserved to help me now. I could use a good little Elf." And with these words, Santa jumped into his sleigh, called out "Merry Christmas" and was on his way to another house.

"Hop on my back, Sammy Spry, and tuck your toes under my wings," instructed Prince, "and let's take a spin around the town. Where do you sleep?"

"Oh, I crawl in any spot I can find that's fairly warm," replied Sammy Spry. "Sometimes I nearly freeze."

"How would you like to have a home of your own?" asked Prince.

"That would be wonderful," cried Sammy Spry.

"On a house top, cuddled right against a chimney that is always warm is a bird's nest. The bird didn't like the location, so never used this nest. I can take you there and you can sleep comfortably and warm. Would you like that?"

"Yes, indeed, I would," replied Sammy Spry. "Why are you so kind to me? Nobody ever was before."

"That's because you were never kind to anyone," said Prince.

They flew to the house top and found the nest. "Oh, what a lovely home this will be for me. Thank you, Prince."

The next day their program for doing good began. They flew around the houses, up and down the streets and finally noticed a little old woman who was just about to cross a street. Prince and Sammy Spry saw that a car was about to turn at that corner and would surely hit the woman. Prince flew low and Sammy Spry shouted, "Look out!"

The woman stopped, turned around to see who had spoken. At that moment the car rushed past her. She jumped back, startled. "That's odd," she said, "I thought someone said 'Look out', but there is no one in sight. If I hadn't stopped, though, I surely would have been hit by that car."

And so, on through the year, Sammy Spry and Prince did one kind act after another. At last the long year was almost over and the day before Christmas had come around again. But Sammy Spry was in serious trouble. No matter how many times he counted his list over, it always came out nine. For the last month he hadn't seen anyone in need of help. It had been very cold and people hadn't been on the streets any more than they could help and Sammy Spry had hugged close to his warm chimney.

"Prince," he called and soon the red bird appeared. "This is terrible. I thought I was all ready for Santa, but I find I must do one more deed before tonight."

"Oh, no," cried Prince. Surely you've counted wrong. Read your list over."

"Well," began Sammy Spry, "I pulled a pin out of a baby's hand just as he was trying to get it in his mouth. Then I told an old woman not to cross the street because a car was coming around the corner. Next a man was beating his horse and I bit his hand so he dropped the whip. He thought a bee had stung him."

Sammy Spry continued reading his list until the end, but even Prince had to admit there were only nine good deeds.

"You've done very well," commented Prince, "but do you realize that all these good deeds were accidental? You just happened to be on hand when these things occurred. It seems to me you will have to go out and look for your next good deed. Just sitting here in your cozy home and moaning over your trouble is not accomplishing anything. You'll have to get busy in a hurry if you want to help Santa tonight."

"I do, I do," cried Sammy Spry. "Let's fly down and look at windows. Maybe we'll find a job."

It was about lunch time of the day before Christmas. Prince flew from house to house. Everywhere he and Sammy Spry saw busy happy people. Mothers were wrapping lots of gifts, baking pies and cookies and trimming their houses with holly and pine. Children were wrapping gifts for their mothers and dads, and were being as good as gold so Santa would leave them a filled stocking. Christmas trees rested against back doors of each house waiting for Santa to take them in and trim them.

For two hours they flew around before they finally came to a house that didn't look Christmasy. Prince lighted on a windowsill and Sammy Spry peeped in. This was different from all the other houses. No gifts could be seen, no cookies and pies, no trimmings and no tree in the back yard. They flew to all the windows in the house. Through one window they saw a man in bed and a woman putting a wet cloth on his head. The house was so poorly built they could hear the people talking.

The wife said, "If only we could afford a doctor. We have so many debts now, I don't like to add to them unless it is necessary."

"Oh, I'll get better soon. I always do, you know," said the man.

"Yes," she sighed, "but each time it takes longer to get well and you suffer more."

"I know," said the man, "and I feel terrible that this should happen just before Christmas. I had planned to get a little present for you and each of the children, but I'm not getting paid when I lie here in bed, so we won't even have a decent meal. Whatever are we going to do?"

Sammy Spry sat on the sill and wept. "How can I help them? That's too big a job for me."

"No, it isn't," scolded Prince. "Nothing is too big a job if you set your mind to it. Let's think it out a minute."

They flew back to Sammy Spry's home, cuddled close to the warm chimney and thought. "I have it," suddenly cried Sammy Spry and he explained his idea to Prince.

The bird nodded his head. "Yes," he said, "I think it can be done, but it's going to be very hard work for you."

"That's all right," said Sammy Spry. "Let's go."

Sammy Spry hopped on Prince's back, tucked his toes under his wings and they flew away. They came to a big department store. There, getting out of a big car were a man and woman. The woman was warmly wrapped in a rich fur coat. The man's clothes looked expensive, too.

"There's your party," said Prince. He flew close to the woman and Sammy Spry hopped from the bird's back to the shoulder of the woman and nestled in the fur.

The woman jumped back, startled. "Why that cardinal almost hit me," she exclaimed.

The man laughed. "I guess that's an omen," he said. Now, an omen is a sign of something good or bad that is going to happen. "I hope it's a good one," the woman said.

They entered the store with Sammy Spry riding on the woman's shoulder. "Oh, look at this darling doll," cried the woman. "Carol would love it, but she has so many dolls I really shouldn't get any more." Slowly she laid the doll back on the counter.

"Buy it," whispered Sammy Spry.

"What did you say?" the woman asked her husband.

"I didn't say a word," he replied, "but if you want to get the doll, go ahead." And the woman bought the doll. At every counter she hesitated, Sammy Spry kept whispering, "Buy it." She bought story books, mittens, marbles, games, sleds and many other children's things.

Finally the shopping spree was over and the man and his wife went back to the street. Their car and chauffeur were waiting for them. They were so loaded down with bundles there was hardly enough room in the car for them.

Sammy Spry took a nap on the woman's shoulder. The first step in his plan had worked. The man and woman had bought far more things than their two children could ever use. When the car came to a stop, Sammy Spry awoke. He had to get busy again.

The man and woman got out of the car and entered a beautiful big home. How different this was from the house he and Prince had been peeping in a few hours earlier.

When the man and woman began going over all the presents they had bought for just two children, the man exclaimed, "My goodness, there are enough presents here for a dozen children."

Sammy Spry whispered, "It's a shame some of these couldn't go to a poor family."

The woman seemed to be thinking hard. "You know," she said, "It's a shame some of these couldn't go to a poor family."

"What poor family?" asked the man.

"There must be some poor family that won't have much of a Christmas," she replied. The man looked at her in surprise. "What made you think of that?"

"I don't know," she said, puzzled. "It just occurred to me."

"Well," laughed the man, "this is a fine time for it to occur to you. It's six o'clock Christmas Eve. We couldn't find anyone to hep at this late hour."

"No," said the woman slowly, "I suppose not."

"Oh, yes you can," whispered Sammy Spry.

"What did you say?" the woman asked.

"I didn't say a word. What's the matter with you? Are you hearing things?"

"It would seem so. I thought you said 'Oh yes you can'," replied the woman.

"I didn't say that, but I suppose we could find someone to help if we went out and 'cooked,'" said the man.

"I don't know where we'd look," said the woman.

"I'll show you," whispered Sammy Spry.

The woman turned suddenly but could see that her husband hadn't said a word, so instead of speaking to her husband, she said to Sammy Spry - although she didn't know it was Sammy Spry, she thought it must be her conscience - "Very well, let's get started."

"First," said the woman, "lets just ride around until we come to a poor looking house and see if any preparations are being made for Christmas."

"You can't go peeping into windows," warned the man.

"Maybe we can tell from the outside," suggested the woman.

"We car try," said the man. "I'll drive; there's no need to call the chauffeur."

Sammy Spry jumped up into the woman's hair when the man held her coat for her. The woman felt it pull and almost said something, but changed her mind.

They got in the car and started driving around.

"Where do you suggest we go?" asked the man.

"Turn left at the next corner," whispered Sammy Spry.

"Turn left at the next corner," repeated the woman and she didn't know why she said that.

In this manner, Sammy Spry continued giving directions and the woman repeated them until they discovered a poor unpainted house that had only a kerosene lamp light in it. The curtains were up and the man and woman could see right in the house. There was the mother with her five children at the kitchen table. The children were eating bread and jelly. They were thin, tired-looking little children and their clothes were shabby. The mother picked up a candle and went into another room. The man and woman quickly got out of their car and hurried around the side of the house and there they saw the sick man.

"My dear," whispered the man, "I don't know what put this idea in your head, but it's a good thing something did. When I think of all the good things in life we have - Come, we must get busy."

Sammy Spry could have left them now, for he knew the poor family would be taken car of, but he wanted to enjoy the whole thing, so he went along with the man and woman.

They returned to their big beautiful house. First they telephoned a doctor and told him to hurry to the poor family and take care of the sick man. They gathered armloads of gifts of all kinds. "This," they said, "will be nice for the big boy, this for the little girl, that for the baby." until they had enough toys and warm clothes for all the five children. Then they gathered coats, suits, dresses, overcoats, shoes and many other things for the mother and father so they would have a nice Christmas, too. Also, they took a few wool blankets out of drawers and added them to the pile.

"Now for some food," said the woman. "Would you mind eating Christmas dinner in a restaurant?"

"Of course not," replied the man. "I'd rather that poor family had the food even if I had to go hungry."

The already-roasted turkey, the pies, cakes, cookies and bread, potatoes, onions, nuts, fruits and canned goods were put in big cartons. At last, all was ready. It was now ten o'clock at night.

"How about a Christmas tree?" whispered Sammy Spry.

The woman repeated his question. They found a very pretty small tree at a lot which had been selling trees. That reminded them of ornaments and they had to return home to get some.

At last, they came to the house of the poor family again. A doctor's car stood in front. The doctor was standing on the steps talking to the mother. "He'll be all right now and can get up for Christmas dinner tomorrow. Tell him to come in and see me when he is around again."

"Oh, thank you, doctor," cried the mother as tears streamed down her face. "Some good Elf must have sent you."

Sammy Spry heard that and wished he had thought to get the doctor, but of course, it was through his hard work that the doctor found out about the sick man.

The man and woman drove on without speaking to the doctor and circled around the block. By the time they were in front of the home again, there were no cars and no people in sight. Working very quietly, they carried the tree and all the packages on the porch. When the car was empty and the porch was full, they looked in the window. The children had gone to bed and the mother sat at the kitchen table with a smile on her face. Sammy Spry heard her say, "Thank you, God, for sending the doctor. I know the medecine will make him better. That was the best Christmas present the family could have. We won't mind being hungry and we won't mind having no other presents. Even the smallest child will be happy that Daddy is better."

Just at this moment there was a knock at the door. The woman, surprised, got to her feet. She thought maybe the doctor was coming back. By the time she got to the door, there was no one in sight. When she saw all the wonderful things on her porch, great happiness spread over her face.

Sammy Spry whistled for Prince. When he arrived, they flew to Sammy Spry's home and added the new good deed to the list and then they were off to find Santa and hear him say, "Well done, my good little Elf helper."

Sammy Spry, A Story Of Christmas

(Editor's note: Before her death, Lucy Palmer wrote many articles, short stories, and features. She was an avid student of journalism, and wrote from her heart. Her death from cancer recently was one of the great losses that Jensen Beach suffered. As her devoted husband, Al Palmer, went through her collection of short stories, this one seemed a perfect tribute to her memory.)

Sammy Spry lives right here in this town, but I don't believe you have ever seen him. You may have felt him at times. Did you ever feel that someone had pinched your nose? That may have been Sammy Spry. Have you ever felt a tickling on the back of your neck? You thought it was a hair, but probably Sammy Spry was having a little fun with you. Did you ever put your hat down on a chair and then not be able to find it? Sammy Spry probably pulled it off the chair and hid it underneath.

The reason you may never have seen Sammy Spry is because he is a tiny Elf. Not only is he so small that you would hardly notice him, but his clothes change color to match anything he is on. If he is in a tree, his clothes turn green like the leaves in summer, or brown like the branches in winter. If he is in the snow, they turn white. He has a brown little face and brown tiny hands and he hides his face and hands if he thinks anyone is looking at him.

Why do you suppose he is so shy? Well, suppose you did see him. You'd say, "Oh, look at that darling little Elf. I'm going to take him home and put him in a cage so I can keep him." Sammy Spry wouldn't like living in a cage.

Until two years ago, Sammy Spry was a naughty little Elf. On winter days he'd watch for someone coming along the street loaded down with bundles. He'd hurry and find a piece of ice and slip it quickly under her foot and then when she fell down and all her bundles scattered all over the sidewalk, he'd laugh and laugh. Sometimes he'd call on the wind to help him push over trash cans and scatter garbage all over the street, or they'd twist sheets and pillow cases all around the line so they wouldn't dry. Sometimes Sammy Spry pulled out the clothespins and let the clean wet clothes fall on the dirty ground. Or he'd chew on the clothesline until it broke. The more trouble he could cause people, the more fun he had.

But everything changed two years ago when he met Santa Claus. It happened this way. That Christmas Eve, he had hopped and climbed until he reached the top of a roof where he knew Santa would land, and waited for him. Soon Santa came along and Sammy Spry jumped on his bag and went down the chimney with Santa. Santa was so busy that night he didn't notice. After Santa had trimmed the tree and turned on the tree lights, he started filling the stockings. The lights started blinking. Santa leaned over to see what the trouble was, and he caught Sammy Spry in the act of bending the wire to cause it to break.

"Say there, young man," said Santa, "what are you up to?"

"Oh, just having fun," replied Sammy Spry. "I'm breaking this wire so it will cause a short circuit and maybe catch fire and burn down the house."

"Why, you bad little Elf! Why do you want to cause suffering and misery?"

"What else is there to do?" asked the Elf. "I get so lonesome I have to keep busy some way."

"There are better ways of keeping busy than doing mean things," said Santa. "And if you will mend your ways and do good things for a change, I'll let you be my helper."

"What good things?" Sammy Spry wanted to know.

And Santa told him a lot of kind and thoughtful things he could do. "Sammy Spry," said Santa, "I can promise you if something kind to do and you keep on looking for more kind things to do, you will never be sad and lonely."

"If you're sure of that, Santa Claus, I'll try," promised Sammy Spry. "But how can I do the things you say when I'm so small and can't get around very fast?"

"We'll fix that," said Santa. "Come up to the roof with me." When they arrived on the roof, Santa whistled. Suddenly a beautiful red Cardinal swooped down on the chimney. "Prince," said Santa, "this is Sammy Spry. He wants to learn how to become my helper, but he has to do at least ten kind acts before next Christmas Eve. Now, he is very little. He can climb and he can hop quite a long distance, but he can't fly. How about you being his airplane and flying him around on his duties?"

"Surely, Santa Claus, I'll be glad to," replied Prince.

Then Santa said, "Now I must hurry along. Be sure and keep a list of all your good deeds to show me next year. If you do as I suggested, you may help me trim trees and fill stockings next Christmas Eve. I wish you deserved to help me now. I could use a good little Elf." And with these words, Santa jumped into his sleigh, called out "Merry Christmas" and was on his way to another house.

"Hop on my back, Sammy Spry, and tuck your toes under my wings," instructed Prince, "and let's take a spin around the town. Where do you sleep?"

"Oh, I crawl in any spot I can find that's fairly warm," replied Sammy Spry. "Sometimes I nearly freeze."

"How would you like to have a home of your own?" asked Prince.

"That would be wonderful," cried Sammy Spry.

"On a house top, cuddled right against a chimney that is always warm is a bird's nest. The bird didn't like the location, so never used this nest. I can take you there and you can sleep comfortably and warm. Would you like that?"

"Yes, indeed, I would," replied Sammy Spry. "Why are you so kind to me? Nobody ever was before."

"That's because you were never kind to anyone," said Prince.

They flew to the house top and found the nest. "Oh, what a lovely home this will be for me. Thank you, Prince."

The next day their program for doing good began. They flew around the houses, up and down the streets and finally noticed a little old woman who was just about to cross a street. Prince and Sammy Spry saw that a car was about to turn at that corner and would surely hit the woman. Prince flew low and Sammy Spry shouted, "Look out!"

The woman stopped, turned around to see who had spoken. At that moment the car rushed past her. She jumped back, startled. "That's odd," she said, "I thought someone said 'Look out', but there is no one in sight. If I hadn't stopped, though, I surely would have been hit by that car."

And so, on through the year, Sammy Spry and Prince did one kind act after another. At last the long year was almost over and the day before Christmas had come around again. But Sammy Spry was in serious trouble. No matter how many times he counted his list over, it always came out nine. For the last month he hadn't seen anyone in need of help. It had been very cold and people hadn't been on the streets any more than they could help and Sammy Spry had hugged close to his warm chimney.

"Prince," he called and soon the red bird appeared. "This is terrible. I thought I was all ready for Santa, but I find I must do one more deed before tonight."

"Oh, no," cried Prince. Surely you've counted wrong. Read your list over."

"Well," began Sammy Spry, "I pulled a pin out of a baby's hand just as he was trying to get it in his mouth. Then I told an old woman not to cross the street because a car was coming around the corner. Next a man was beating his horse and I hit his hand so he dropped the whip. He thought a bee had stung him."

Sammy Spry continued reading his list until the end, but even Prince had to admit there were only nine good deeds.

"You've done very well," commented Prince, "but do you realize that all these good deeds were accidents? You just happened to be on hand when these things occurred. It seems to me you will have to go out and look for your next good deed. Just sitting here in your cozy home and moaning over your trouble is not accomplishing anything. You'll have to get busy in a hurry if you want to help Santa tonight."

"I do, I do," cried Sammy Spry. "Let's fly down and look at windows. Maybe we'll find a job."

It was about lunch time of the day before Christmas. Prince flew from house to house. Everywhere he and Sammy Spry saw busy happy people. Mothers were wrapping lots of gifts, baking pies and cookies and trimming their houses with holly and pine. Children were wrapping gifts for their mothers and dads, and were being as good as gold so Santa would leave them a filled stocking. Sammy Spry sat on the sill and wept. "How can I help them? That's too big a job for me."

"No, it isn't," scolded Prince. "Nothing is too big a job if you set your mind to it. Let's think it out a minute."

They flew back to Sammy Spry's home, cuddled close to the warm chimney and thought. "I have it," suddenly cried Sammy Spry and he explained his idea to Prince.

The bird nodded his head. "Yes," he said, "I think it can be done, but it's going to be very hard work for you."

Sammy Spry hopped on Prince's back, tucked his toes under his wings and they flew away. They came to a big department store. There, getting out of a big car were a man and woman. The woman was warmly wrapped in a rich fur coat. The man's clothes looked expensive, too.

Fishing News

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dowd caught 30 Trout and Pompano, Dick Fisher, 25 Trout; Ervin Fisher, 40 Trout; Mr. and Mrs. Vanslow, 15 Whiting and 4 Margate, 1 Pompano; The Pathia Family, 200 Bottom Fish; Bob Robinson and Grandson, Brent, 40 Trout; Gus Leonard, 20 trout, 1 Pompano, George Hattauer and Joe Atselbeck, 12 Sheepshead, 2 Drum; Bob Pelosi and Marvin Hill, 6 Trout, 6 Weak Fish, 20 Jacks, 5 Lady Fish; John Kell and sons, Bob, Lowery and John, 9 Whiting, 2 Croakers; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bates, 5 Pompano, 25 Whiting.

Sailfishing is excellent and they're all over the ocean. Boats report day-to-day eight and nine fish up, half dozen hung, several in or released.

Dolphin fishing is good, as is kingfishing, although the latter is spotty and not in consistent areas.

Spanish mackerel are plentiful from the North Jetty at St. Lucie Inlet to the Jupiter Inlet. Days when small craft can go out with safety, scores of them reap the harvest.

Blues are still not too common. They are in the surf in spotty numbers, and the boats get some, but nothing like the runs of the past few years has yet developed, although as this is being written, the wind is in the northeast and may be productive.

House Of Refuge Now Insured

The House of Refuge on Hutchinson Island has been insured for $20,000 under the county's blanket policy.

Uninsured for many years, the coverage was placed early this month after a ruling made by the state attorney general held that the county could legally make the move.

The building had been insured for $8,400 for some years and will continue to have such coverage.
